ROBINSON ADVISES TAX OVERSIGHTS TO STOP UNCERTAINTY

Original "Share-the-Wealth" Advocate, Huey Long Challenges President's Sincerity in Senate Speech

Washington, June 22.—To avoid putting business under a cloud of "uncertainty" for the long interim between this and the next session of Congress, Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, today advocated enactment of President Roosevelt's new tax-the-rich proposals now, even though it prolonged the season indefinitely.

Other Leaders Wait Emphasizing his own views and that they had not reached a final agreement, he added:

"It is my personal impression that the best matter for the president's message should be treated separately from the pending tax resolution, but I'm disposed to take it up during the present session and dispose of it."

Earlier, Democratic leaders had announced they stood with President Roosevelt to inform them, when he returns from New England next week, whether he would accept tax proposals put through before adjournment.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the Senate committee which drafted the tax program would go over the bill next session. He said the modification resolution extending for one year from June 30 about $500,000,000 of nuisance and excise levies would be called up in the Senate next session.

What effect Robinson's stand would have on the tax program, LaFollette (Prog-Wis) to lack his inheritance and corporation tax bills.

Court Orders Trial For Mrs. Waley On Kidnaping Charge

TACOMA, Wash., June 22.—Judge Edward Everett Cushman, who today refused to accept a guilty plea from Mrs. Margaret Thulin Waley, accused Weyerhaeuser kidnaping participant in known here as a "strict" judge.

He is generally regarded as being on the bench and follows the letter of the law. The judge, while firm on the bench, is regarded by attorneys as always being willing to go along with the way to see that justice, as he interprets it, is done.

She ascended to the bench in 1908 as a federal judge for Alaska. He has held that position here for 28 years.

YOUNG FLYER SAVES PASSENGERS' LIVES

REVERSHIDE, Cal., June 22.—The courage and resourcefulness of a young army flying cadet in the face of a fatal disaster today saved the lives of his superior officer as his plane burst into flames 3000 feet in the air, crashed to earth and exploded.

With his companions asleep on the side of the hurtling torch, McCurdy released the stick, and only 200 feet above the earth, he made a belated leap for his own life and was saved as his chute opened about 75 feet from the ground.

Two Men Killed In Monoplane's Crash

GARDEN CITY, L. I., June 22.—Two men were killed today when their monoplane crashed into a vacant lot off Nassau boulevard.

Washington, June 22.—Although there are no "G-women" in the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Director J. Edgar Hoover today announced that he had ordered the present field force of 600 investigators "ever" expanded to 1,500 by the end of the year.

Canadian Mounties Rout Strikers With Tear Gas

SCORES were injured, including eight policemen, when 200 striking longshoremen and 800 sympathizers charged the Ballantyne pier in Vancouver, British Columbia. Tear gas and clubs were used in breaking up the scrum. Strikers are shown fleeing from tear gas.

TWO KILLED IN CAR WRECK NEAR RUPERT

RUPERT, June 22.—Mrs. Edith Wolfe, 36, Litchfield, Nebraska, was instantly killed, her 5-year-old daughter Eunice succumbed a few minutes after being brought to the hospital here, and a son, George, 11, in critical condition as result of an auto accident on highway No. 80, eight miles east of Rupert, at 6 o'clock this morning.

Leonard Wolfe, husband of the accident victim, while escaping with minor injuries, is suffering from severe shock. Two other children, Luella, 14 years, and Jeannene, 18, receiving treatment at Rupert general hospital.

The car from South Dakota was returning east after a trip through the west. The driver, Sheriff J. D. Pace of Cassia county, in which the accident occurred, said he thought that all of the children were asleep when the crash occurred.

CRASH PREVENTS FLIGHT TO ROME

NEW YORK, June 22.—George and Alfred De Monteverde wrecked their monoplane when they crashed today in an attempt to take off on a non-stop flight to Rome.

Alfred, 25, who was at the controls, crashed into a ditch, but his brother George, 27, was completely calm. Neither had so much as a scratch.

Alfred apparently had turned off the ignition when the ship failed to rise the height of the runway and there was no fire.

Long Walk On Weather The brothers, sons of the late Alfred De Monteverde, first secretary of the Portuguese embassy in Rome and the late Frances Boylan De Monteverde of Baltimore, had been waiting a month and a half for favorable weather to start their flight.

At last came that conditions were right over the 4,500 mile track which has seen a dozen firms to their doom. They had to wait several hours, however, for the wind to shift so that their heavy plane, with 600 gallons of gasoline and 30 of oil aboard, could head into it down the runway.

Planes To Search New Mexico For Missing Tourists

BOCORRO, N. M., June 22.—Army airplanes will sweep over thousands of acres of swamp and desert lands in the search for four missing Illinois tourists.

Before he took personal command of the national guardmen and volunteers who made up the posse, he said New Mexico was jealous of its reputation for protecting its guests and he would not be satisfied until he had located the fate of Mr. and Mrs. George Lorus and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer of East St. Louis, Ill.

Illinois Man Admits Brutal Cemetery Murder of 19-Year-Old Girl

FEORINA, Ill., June 22.—State Attorney J. H. Chamblin tonight said he would seek quick trial and death penalty for Gerald Thompson, 25, who confessed to police the brutal cemetery slaying of Mildred Hallmark, 19, pretty and popular case here.

Thompson, arrested last night on suspicion but without any evidence that he was implicated in the ravishing and slaying of the young woman last Sunday night, fended all queries at first but finally confessed.

His diary, they added, recorded 10 other such slayings, all chosen because they would not prosecute for fear of publicity.

Left Body in Ditch In the confession, made public by Nussbaum and T. P. Sullivan of the Illinois police, Thompson, a meek, thin, tractor-plant man, asserted he was driving home from a date with Miss Hallmark, a sighted Miss Hallmark waiting for a street car. He "picked her up," drove toward Springfield—country—where he met resistance with a blow on the chin, the confession said after assaulting her, he left her body in a ditch.

Police said that during the investigation into the slaying of Thompson, which first led to the arrest of Miss Hallmark's father at the tractor plant, signed a plea of guilty to her death.

Police were holding Julian Exler, 24, an amateur photographer they said was a friend of Thompson. In addition to careful plans to search for the body, Thompson carried scissors to cut his victim's clothing and in some instances took photographs of the scene.

Thompson, a mild-mannered man, here used his direct appeal to his grandmother who had a good reputation among his neighbors and friends. Suspicion was first directed toward him when he failed to report at the plant the day after the slaying.

Uprising Threatened In Democratic Ranks

WASHINGTON, June 22.—New signs of undercover dissatisfaction with several new Democratic measures arose today, leading some congressional chiefs privately to express fears of a major uprising in Democratic ranks unless the session ends soon or different tactics are adopted.

Evidence of discontent in the Democratic ranks was disclosed by the fact that the House Ways and Means committee today expressed "disapproval" of the president's advocacy of the tax-the-rich program.

Disclosure that an actual majority of house members had opposed the Wagner labor dispute bill, which was passed without a roll call.

The fact that members of the House Ways and Means committee were openly expressing doubts of the constitutionality of the Cuffey coal bill, which is on the president's desk.

A private poll in the house indicated a substantial majority against abolition of all "unessential" utilities holding companies, despite presidential pressure to avoid things the other way.

Because of the share-the-wealth taxes petition, senate leaders weighed their previous decision to put the measure without considering the new levies. They decided to put the question directly to the president.

It took the most extreme efforts by new deal chiefs to prevent a roll call on that bill which, they said privately today, would have defeated the measure.

LABOR NEEDED IN IDAHO PEAFIELDS

BOISE, June 22.—From 800 to 1,000 pickers are needed in the pea fields in the Payette and Parma farm districts, John Williams, Idaho director of the National Acreage Administration, said today.

He admitted tonight that closing down of relief projects has not provided the needed extra help in the harvest fields.

"The trouble is," he explained, "that many of the persons on relief who are not equipped with transportation, camp equipment or other things necessary for following the harvest work."

Furthermore, pea picking requires the worker to kneel. Many husky men can pitch hay all day without kneeling, "can't take it" in the pea fields.

Police said that during the investigation into the slaying of Thompson, which first led to the arrest of Miss Hallmark's father at the tractor plant, signed a plea of guilty to her death.

Radio Guides Big Plane to Airport

Clipper Completes Fourth Flight Between Hawaii and California

ALAMEDA, Cal., June 27.—(AP)—Completing its fourth night between Hawaii and California, the Pan American Airways' pioneering clipper airplane came in "blind" here today to end an arduous quest of headwinds and clouds over a 2,400 mile stretch of the Pacific.

The big four-motored craft, returning this time from an experimental flight which had taken it half way across the ocean to tiny Midway Island, admitted gracefully to San Francisco Bay at 11:15 p. m. (Eastern standard time).

Despite the headwinds and dense cloud banks, the plane made the 2,400 mile flight in the fast time of 18 hours and 39 minutes. The record time of 18 hours and 30 minutes was set in 1934 by Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith.

No Record Sought by the Clipper plane because it was purposely headed into the winds and clouds as part of the experimental flight of the California Clipper and its crew of five airmen.

The skipper of the 10-ton craft and his aides stepped out of the plane, quick and spry in their neat blue uniforms, to be greeted by a small crowd at the Alameda airport.

Their compartment covered by a "blind" flying hood when 150 miles out, they headed the plane directly into the clouds, the exploratory work radio direction signals to guide them.

Pan American officials said the end of the flight marked another step toward the development of a preparatory to establishing regular air service between California and the Orient.

Chambermen Plan Third Rock Haul

With approximately 550 tons of rock already hauled to the site of Twin Falls municipal swimming pool at Harmon park, Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce will start out from the Preston Service store this morning at 8:30 o'clock in an effort to haul the additional 275 tons required.

Excellent cooperation on rock hauling excursions has been manifested in the past and hope for a record turnout today was voiced last night by Claude Detweiler, chairman of the pool committee. Rock surfacing of the deep section of the pool was virtually complete yesterday and the pool has taken on a definite shape.

With 30 workmen engaged in construction, completion last night said that the pool should be completed within a month.

Male' Ostrich Gives Birth to 'Man' Sized Egg

Andy isn't Andy any more. So goes another ostrich story that came out yesterday after a male believed to be Idaho's only native born specimen, showed his "feminine" qualifications by laying an egg in honor of his fourth birthday anniversary.

Andy, surviving member of the Amor and Andy duo hatched at the Hayes Hi-Grade Hatchery some four years ago, laid the egg at the Hayes ostrich farm on Blue Sakes boulevard. The egg weighed two pounds, according to H. O. Hayes, owner of the bird and was accidentally broken.

It measured six and one-half inches in length and five inches in diameter.

So long as the 250-pound Andy isn't Andy any more, Mr. Hayes is open to suggestions for a new name.

BANKER, PAROLED, HUNTS FOR WORK

Aged Colorado Man Walks Streets in Effort to Rebuild Life

ATLANTA, June 22 (AP)—Seeking a job "by which his own support should be secured," 65-year-old former president of a mining town bank in Colorado who was recently paroled from the federal penitentiary, walked the streets tonight in an as yet vain quest for work.

Wagoner served half of the 10-year sentence imposed upon him by a federal judge in New York for his attempt to dup a Manhattan bank of half a million dollars in what he described as an attempt to save his own institution in Telluride, Colo., from failure.

Since his release May 3, Wagoner and his wife, who came to Atlanta to be with her husband, have been living on the $200 he earned working in the prison shops.

Unusual sympathy marked the one-time banker's departure from the prison.

It was learned, however, he had been promised a job paying $15 weekly as clerk for a local company shortly before he was paroled.

The Constitution—Battleground Again

1. Stormy Debates Nearly Split Philadelphia Convention Of 1787

The supreme court's decision killing the NRA has made the constitution a battleground again. Shall the constitution stand, with the NRA repealed, or shall some of the "new deal" hopes be changed again? Rewritten? These are some of the questions being debated by those interested in government. This article is the first of three presenting the history of the constitution and discussing how that document has affected American life.

By WILLIAM W. WHITE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The 148-year-old American constitution stands today as a bar to much of the centrist line of federal authority proposed by the "new deal," a product of compromise wrought from the stormy differences of the country's best minds.

Moreover, it was in a sense an unexpected document. Delegates to the Philadelphia convention of 1787 went there primarily for the purpose of reviving and strengthening the articles of the old confederation—and ending the framing of a political document without parallel in the world.

The debate raged fully as hot as the tiny late colonial gathering in a century and a half since, and when the end came on September 17, 1787, three of the most prominent delegates still were recalcitrant and would not sign. Edmund Randolph and George Mason of Virginia and Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts held out to the last for another meeting to rethink and revise what had been done.

Franklin Fears Split
Fears that the convention would split without accomplishing anything final were recurring and so greatly disturbed the aged Benjamin Franklin, a great composer of compromise when at last the constitution was signed, he told his friends: "At length I have the happiness to know it is a rising and not a setting sun."
Even in assembling the delegates, the country had trouble. Many citizens declined the invitation to attend. Patrick Henry, faced with his refusal, replied tersely that he had "smelt powder." But a select company nevertheless was gathered—such

Insistent On Secrecy
Sessions were held in absolute secrecy, with General Washington presiding, and it was years after it all was over before the country had any clear idea as to what debate went on. So insistent was Washington that the public not learn what was going on inside the council chambers that he once sharply rebuked a delegate who had carelessly dropped an important paper where

NINE BILLION GOLD DOLLARS

With a further gain of one hundred million in gold during a single week, the monetary gold in the United States, held by the federal treasury and the banks, at the middle of June was more than nine billion. Even allowing for the increase in the number of dollars caused by devaluation, it is immensely more gold than any country in the world ever possessed before.

We have today considerable more than half of the world's supply of this precious metal. And in spite of the efforts of other nations to hold onto their gold, it still drains steadily into the United States Treasury and our Federal Reserve Banks, making a vast pool of basic money at the disposal of government and business.

Although we are technically off the gold basis, it serves nevertheless as the actual foundation of our outstanding currency, and provides a solid backing for a great expansion of new currency and credit if such expansion becomes necessary. Properly used, it should support a monetary structure supplying all the legitimate needs of business recovery.

TOO MUCH

It may be that the principle is to be commended but the action of Bishop Lowe of Portland in asking the women of the church to refrain from reading the works of Pearl S. Buck, novelist, betrays a singular lack of understanding of human nature in general and the feminine character in particular.

Mrs. Buck ranks among the leading literary lights of America. Her novel "The Good Earth" at the time of its publication a year or two ago was hailed by students and critics as one of the greatest of all exhibitions of the Chinese character. Her later writings, founded upon her own experiences during years of residence in the Flowery Kingdom, follow the same general lines and all are high in literary values and in the qualities of entertainment which, in the long run, constitute the element which causes books to sell.

Mrs. Buck recently obtained a divorce in Reno and a few hours later was married to a New York publisher, who has himself obtained a divorce a few days previously. There is nothing either inspiring or ennobling in such a spectacle but it is almost too much to expect men or women either to go to the length of refusing to buy and read Mrs. Buck's books in support of a principle so far removed from the suggested remedy.

Many admirers of her work will be disappointed in her sense of moral values but how many will register their disapproval by depriving themselves of the enjoyment of her writings?

LET GABLE'S FANS CHOOSE

Just why the women and pastor of Hopevale, Ohio, have picked out—or picked on—Clark Gable for salvation and conversion to an evangelistic career is hard to say. He was born in a neighboring town, but he has been away from it for some years, following his career as a movie actor. The folks back home may be proud of the fact that he was once one of them, but it is curious they should think he will be better in a Billy Sunday role than in those he plays for the screen.

Perhaps it is a publicity stunt—for Gable or for the preacher. Perhaps the preacher's purpose is thoroughly sincere. So far the film actor seems to go about his business of picture-making without paying much attention to his Hopevale admirers. If ever he shows signs of changing from the screen to the pulpit, other and more numerous admirers will be heard from. Movie fans like their screen favorites to keep on entertaining in the familiar ways. A poll of all his fans—those in Hopevale and the others—may be the only way to end this strange struggle.

AS OTHER EDITORS SEE IT

Excerpts from press comment by Western newspapers upon the subject of President Roosevelt's proposal for increased capital levies as a means of adding to Federal income.

THE SALT LAKE TRIBUNE—President Roosevelt's share the wealth tax project is much too big a problem for the age end of a congressional session. It assumes the dignity of a measured endeavor to redistribute national wealth through federal tax process. Congress will have to remain in session for the rest of the summer. The tax measure, nevertheless, emphasized what the public is prone to forget, that, ultimately, we must pay our way out of the depression.

SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE—Coming at this time, after the President's defeat before the supreme court on his unconstitutional NRA program, the action has the ugly look of a reprisal, by a man checked in his course but determined to have his way. President Roosevelt has taken his longest step to the left.

SPOKANE SPOKESMAN—Review—President Roosevelt's message Wednesday was a puzzling but smart speech from the politician's point of view. It suggested that the President had several things in mind.

1.—To cause a slump in the stock market and other markets, thereby striking at business men.

2.—To out-booby Huey Long and take the spotlight from the Louisiana Kingfish for purely political effect.

PORTLAND OREGONIAN—He calls upon Congress in effect, to "back the dick" *** he has struck a popular note. This is but a beginning. Nothing is said about making other people pay. But that will come later. We are all going to pay—pay till it hurts.

There would be justified no complaint by any of us were the prospect accompanied by assurance from the administration of shrewd and consistent efforts to balance the national budget.

RENO EVENING GAZETTE—That additional taxes are needed to pay government expenses is not to be denied. For more than two years the President has proceeded without a balanced budget and with an increasing public debt. As both expenses and the debt are increasing the emergency nuisance tax levied, which expires very soon, must be renewed and other revenues found. *** the truth seems to be that after spending almost inconceivable sums on his experiments, the collector is at the door.

MUTUAL ROBBERY

(Helena Independent) War, according to Prof. Jacob C. Meyer of Western Reserve University, is a question of population trying to burglarize each other.

"In 1914," he says, "all the heathen had been robbed for materials, and Christians began to rob each other. The longer they fought, the less they had and the more they robbed."

That statement certainly debunks war. What are we going to do about it? The way, says Newton D. Baker, secretary of War in the great free-for-all, is neither to grab other nations' property nor pay up wads of paper money for raw materials to play fair and build up an expedition of peace.

That, he thinks, is mostly a job for the young people. Addressing a high school audience, he says: "The world belongs to you boys and girls. If there is a menace of war, it is a menace to you. Sound action can come only from sound thinking and sound feeling. Try to understand the difficulties of other nations, and always be sympathetic."

BREAKFAST FOOD

No Good When the pipe band of a certain regiment of Scots played for the first time on Church Square, Pretoria, a南非 listening to the band was asked what he thought of it. After a few seconds consideration he replied: "Fifteen no good, boss. No beginning, no middle, no finish. All one like."

A California man was telling an Eastern man all about hunting—and of course he was bragging. He explained that in California a hunter was liable to meet a grizzly bear face to face any time. "But I like sport!" has some danger attached to it," he said to the Easterner.

Corsican Bandit Strolls Casually To the Guillotine

ANDRE SPADA, onetime tough king of the Corsican brush and multiple murderer, strolled casually to the guillotine yesterday—wearing the world that "catastrophe will follow my death."

The 36-year-old, 110-pound "last of the brigands" whose reign of terror in the hills-strewn Franco to send an army of 2000 men after him in 1931, faced the loss of his head with stoic indifference.

"It was never courage I lacked," he said, as they awakened him on his last morning of life.

Religious fanaticism, developing Spada's curious mind in the last years of his bandit reign, led to his capture, and religious fanaticism marked his last days.

"I am killed only as an agent of heaven," he told his jailers. "If heaven had not ordered me to surrender, hundreds more would have died."

Smiling wryly, Spada refused the customary cigarette and rum—preferred those about to die.

All through the night the doomed man, his eyes to President Albert Lebrun of France refused, played cards. Once his game was interrupted, and he himself started, when lights went off and alarms sounded. Guards told him Cochin was a murderer, being drilled against air attacks. When the lights came on he resumed his game.

Rescue at Sea Brings Fortune To Boat Captain

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22 (AP)—A tale of rescue at sea that will bring him $45,000 and a 20,000-acre copra plantation at Tahiti was told here today by James Wood, 35, San Francisco yacht captain.

Wood said he has been notified by the government of the late George Williams, Tahiti planter and trader, that the cash and the plantation, now owned by him and will be turned over to him within three weeks.

Wood said he saved the wealthy planter's life two years ago off the coast of Panama. Williams, a passenger on a liner, lost his balance while leaning over a rail and fell overboard. Wood leaped into the water from a nearby yacht and rescued Williams just as he was being sucked close to the liner's thrashing propellers, the yacht captain related.

The San Francisco plans to go to Tahiti to inspect the plantation and then embark upon a round-the-world cruise.

Mechanical 'Ghost' Stirs Consul's Ire

MARTINEZ, Calif., June 22 (AP)—Revelation yesterday that a mechanical "ghost" of his asserted victim elicited a reported confession of murder from Anastasio Torres, accused slayer, evoked official wrath of the Mexican consulate in San Francisco today and declaration by District Attorney Francis P. Healey that "the evidence would be used anyway."

An attaché of the Mexican consul's office went into conference with Sheriff John A. Miller, asserting to protest the "third degree" method employed.

A loudspeaker with the "voice" of the district man, Arce Gabero, dropped continuously for 48 hours in Torreal before he allegedly broke down and confessed.

District Attorney Healey said "the device defeated its own purpose because I shall not use the 'confession' at the trial. The law prohibits confessions obtained by duress—and that's what this was."

HERRING FOR APPLES

Coogan Defendant In Suits Seeking $500,000 Damages

LOS ANGELES, June 22 (AP)—Two damage suits aggregating $500,000 were filed yesterday against Jackie Coogan, film actor, in connection with the automobile accident in the San Gabriel mountains May 4. Four persons were killed in the accident, Coogan being the sole survivor.

The suits, filed by Anna V. Hornum, mother of Robert J. Hornum, playwright, one of the victims, and by Grace Durkin, guardian of Trent Junior Durkin, actor, and also a victim of the accident.

Charge Excessive Speed

The plaintiffs charge that John H. Coogan, Jackie's father, was driving the auto "at an excessive speed while under the influence of liquor." The elder Coogan and Charles Jones, foreman of the Coogan ranch near San Diego, also were victims of the accident.

In each suit damages of $250,000 was asked. The plaintiffs say the auto was driven at from 50 to 75 miles an hour, that it skidded and crashed through a guard rail, and overturned 37 feet from the highway.

In the suits the plaintiffs contended that Coogan was liable in that he failed to renege with his father for driving the car at an excessive rate of speed.

REIMBURSEMENT OF DEPOSITORS URGED

Sentiment Mobilized Bank Of Measures Sponsored By Pope and Clark

BOISE, June 27.—A "united action on the part of depositors" committee and receivers of insolvent banks throughout the country will be made "to secure the passage of the Pope-Clark bill and the McLeod bill, providing for the relief and reimbursement of depositors of insolvent banks before the adjournment of congress." Leslie J. Aker of Boise, secretary of the National Association of Bank Depositors, declared today.

He said he had received "reports to that effect from nearly every state in the union" and urged the depositors to communicate their views to Senator James P. Pope of Congress and the World Club Idaho legislators, who are authors of the two bills.

The Pope-Clark bill provides for the refunding and statement of all federal taxes assessed against and collected from insolvent banks since January 1, 1918, which the estimated would mean the payment of an average of about 25 per cent of the outstanding liabilities due to depositors on such insolvent banks, he explained.

Calls for RFD Advance

The McLeod bill requires the reconstruction finance corporation to advance to the depositors of insolvent banks moneys equal to the amount appropriated against the assets thereof, the taking over of such assets by the RFD, and the liquidation of the same within a period of 10 years to prevent undue sacrifice of "frozen" assets, such as real estate, investments and other property.

The present liabilities to depositors of insolvent banks in Idaho, both state and national, amount to over $10,000,000, a large part of which could be paid to depositors under the terms of these bills.

Voices From Horse And Wagon Days

COMPILED BY BYRON DEFENBACH

The recent plaintive protest of the President of the United States against the Constitution as interpreted by the supreme court opens a new chapter in our history. A unique position. There is nothing like it in all the public expressions of all the statesmen whose names and views are recorded in the history of our past.

President Franklin Roosevelt asks for greater concentration of power in the federal government. For a federal system more like that of foreign countries; For more or less abrogation of hitherto-recognized powers of the several states in domestic, economic and governmental affairs.

It should be of interest to our citizens to compare the expressed views of our President with those of distinguished statesmen of our past. The following synopsis of public statements, compiled from original sources, centered in the hope that it may be helpful.

"I hope... for the sake of our country that we shall act bravely and unanimously in recommending this Constitution wherever our influence may extend, and turn our future thoughts and endeavors to the means of making it well administered."
—Benjamin Franklin, in Constitutional convention, 1787.

"This Constitution squints toward monarchy... your President may easily become king."
—Patrick Henry, Virginia Ratification convention, 1788.

"The Constitution which at any time exists, till changed by an explicit and authentic act of the whole people is sacredly obligatory upon all... The spirit of encroachment tends to consolidate the powers of all the departments in one, and thus to create, whatever the form of government, a real despotism."
—George Washington, first inaugural address, 1789.

"The laws of the United States are supreme as to all their proper constitutional objects; the laws of the states are supreme in the same way."
—Alexander Hamilton, New York Ratification convention, 1788.

"A wise and frugal government which shall restrain men from injuring one another, and shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement... this is the sum of good government."
—Thomas Jefferson, first inaugural address, 1801.

"I know that some honest men fear that this government is not strong enough... But would the world be free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement... this is the sum of good government."
—Thomas Jefferson, same as above.

"I shall continue to exert all my faculties to maintain the just powers of the Constitution... it will be my aim to inculcate by my official acts the necessity of extending by the general government those powers which are granted to it by the states."
—Andrew Jackson, second inaugural address, 1829.

"The federal Constitution has succeeded beyond the proudest hopes of those who framed it. Every quarter of this widely extended nation has its blessings and shared in the general prosperity produced by its adoption."
—Andrew Jackson, farewell address, 1837.

"Who, then, are the enemies of the Union? Those who are in favor of consolidation. They are constant and they are powerful. They are a speaking power from the states and additional strength to the federal government; who, assuming an unassailable jurisdiction over the states and the people, undertake to regulate the whole industry and capital of the country."
—Robert Hayne, debate with Webster, 1830.

"I claim no powers for the government by force or unjust compulsion. I admit that it is a government of strictly limited powers of enumerated, specified and particular powers, and that whatever is not granted (to the states) is withheld."
—U. S. Senator Daniel Webster, debate with Hayne, 1830.

"Except an enormous fabric of executive power for himself, the president has built up nothing, and will leave no enduring monument of his administration... It seems to be his greatest ambition to efface and obliterate every trace of the wisdom of his predecessors."
—Henry Clay, attack on Jackson, 1834.

"I take the official oath today with no mental reservation, and with no purpose to construe the Constitution or laws by any hypercritical rules... I suggest that it will be much safer for all to conform to and abide by all those acts which stand unopposed, than to violate any of them, trusting to find impunity in having them held to be unconstitutional... Whenever they (the people) shall grow weary of the existing government they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it, or their revolutionary right to dismember or overthrow it... the executive, as such, has nothing to do with its duty as to administer the present government as it came to his hands and to transmit it, unimpaired by him, to his successor."
—Abraham Lincoln, first inaugural address, 1861.

"On this auspicious occasion we may well remember the pledge of our devotion to the Constitution, which, launched by the founders of the republic... has for almost a century borne the hopes and the aspirations of a great people... In the discharge of my official duty I shall endeavor to be guided by a just and unstrained construction of the Constitution... a careful observance of the distinction between the powers granted to the federal government and those reserved to the states or to the people, and by a cautious appreciation of those functions which by the Constitution and laws have been especially assigned to the executive branch of the government."
—Grover Cleveland, first inaugural address, 1885.

"Upon the success of our experiment, the world will be the cause of free self-government."

BEET GROWERS GET

$5,000,000 MORE

Agreement Reached on Additional Benefit Payments on 1934 Crop.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—SUGAR BEET farmers of the nation will be about $5,000,000 richer within the next two months as a result of a reported agreement reached on additional benefit payments for the 1934 crop.

Initial payments on the 1934 production have been made on a dollar a ton basis and with the additional $5,000,000 to be paid in the near future. Benefit payments for last year's crop will total approximately $20,000,000.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said today that he would be glad to see the farm administration sugar division that "final payment of government benefit payments for the 1934 crop may be expected within the next two months."

Continuing Efforts

The senator had participated in conferences between sugar officials and Charles M. Keene, president of the National Beet Growers' association, and other representatives of leading growers' organizations.

"When the payments are cleared through the comptroller's office—no may be expected in the comparatively near future," he said.

Distribution of approximately $20,000,000 to beet farmers of the United States or five million dollars more in the near future, the department indicated," said O'Mahoney.

Official announcement of the amount of the additional 1934 crop payments was lacking today but it was understood it was to be made on a basis of about 75 cents a ton.

TENDENCY TOWARD FORTY-HOUR WEEK

NRA and Federal Trade Commission Mapping Cooperation

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—A 40-hour work-week, with time and a half pay for overtime, emerged today as a possible standard for voluntary codes under the new NRA.

Despite the fact organized labor demands a 30-hour week, the longer period apparently was gathering support as NRA and Federal Trade Commission officials continued their studies of how jointly to prepare voluntary agreements.

One important official, who declined to be quoted, evened it for the 30-hour goal of the American Federation of Labor—provided that practical economic conditions would be impossible of attainment on a strictly voluntary basis. Business groups have opposed it both at NRA and before congressional committees in hearings on 30-hour work legislation.

Definite Step Forward

The same spokesman contended that the 40-hour week, with time and a half pay for overtime, emerged today as a possible standard for voluntary codes under the new NRA.

Methods of cooperation between the commission and NRA were expected to be fairly well worked out by early next week. The commission's experience in handling fair trade practice agreements probably will give them a dominant share of this responsibility, while NRA would be mainly concerned with labor problems. Trade division of responsibility, however, remained to be worked out.

At NRA, definite progress was being made in reorganization. The division of review, which is the economic section, has completed its set-up and expected to be functioning fully in another week. Leon Marshall, division head, already has started special studies.

METHODISTS SCORE MUNITIONS MAKERS

Conference Committee Calls For Protests Against Japan, Italy

MOSCOW, Idaho, June 22.—Munitions makers were called "traitors in slaughter, merchants of devastation and death, and conscienceless profit-makers who practice bribery among corrupt military and naval officers," by a committee of the northwest conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today.

The social service committee of the conference turned in its report at the business session of the conference.

The committee expressed the belief that a statement by the government on the terms on which it would be willing to join the League of Nations, ratification of the world court protocols, international control of the manufacture and trade in arms, would be effective aids to prevent war.

The committee also recommended that the United States government take the lead among the nations in a move to reduce armaments, maintain its army and navy on a peace-time basis, create a department of peace headed by a cabinet officer, with appropriations for its operation equal to 5 per cent of the appropriation for war to be used in education for peace.

The government also was urged to "declare the encroachment of Japan on the sovereignty and integrity of China," and described the "marital movement of the Mussolini government against Ethiopia as unchristian."

The committee also would have the government take the lead in an effort to settle international disputes.

The committee also recommended the government denounce communism.

The conference approved the social report, as well as the report of the memorial committee, likewise a plan was approved to attempt to pick a city for the "permanent" seat of conference meetings. Seattle was chosen for next year's meeting.

The memorial report included a resolution by the Spokane Methodist Franchise association asking that north Idaho be kept in the northwest conference. It has been suggested that the northern part of the state be placed in the Idaho conference. The resolution also asked the general council to return Bishop Thus Love to the Portland conference.

PROMINENT BURLEY GROCER SUMMONED

Charles Poole Mayhugh, 62, Dies Enroute From Soda Springs Hospital

BURLEY, June 22.—Charles Poole Mayhugh, 62, prominent Burley merchant, died at 11:30 a. m. today, while enroute in an ambulance from Soda Springs to Burley. He had been taken Sunday to a Soda Springs hospital for special treatment, following a long illness, from which for several weeks past, he has been confined to his bed.

Mr. Mayhugh was born at Moretown, Butler county, Kentucky, October 7, 1872, to John and Mariah Mayhugh. He received his college education at Barren City, Kansas, and for several years thereafter taught school in Kentucky. After teaching he took up salaried work and traveled in this capacity throughout the southern states for several years. The west later lured him and he went first to California; thence to Utah and Nevada, and came to Idaho in 1911 and took up a homestead near Idaho, 40 miles east of here.

He was married March 3, 1916, to Bertha Freymler at Idaho, after which they moved to Palmetto, Florida, and engaged in the mercantile business. They returned to Burley in 1922 and opened a store, later moving back to Idaho, where he operated a store, and again in 1927 returned to Burley, where he has since operated Mayhugh's grocery.

He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Rebecca Lodges and the Methodist church. The body is at Johnson's mortuary pending funeral arrangements.

BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSES WITH PROGRAM AT BUHL

BUHL, June 22.—The daily vacation Bible school, which has been in session for the past two weeks in Buhl, closed on Friday evening with a program and the handwork of the pupils on display at the Methodist church. There were 250 pupils enrolled for the two weeks and Mrs. Elmer Van Houten as the superintendent. She had a group of twenty workers helping her with the class, and several of the ministers taught Bible study.

The program, which represented much of the regular daily routine, was as follows: Flag salutes; call to worship; text and song; prayer; Rev. G. G. Goldswale; prayer; song, by the group; "Some Folks Do," "Smile, Smile, Smile," by the group; "I Will Try to Be Someone Happy today," by the intermediate group; character talks, Rev. Brooks Moore and Rev. E. R. Berg; "Purge Me Not Song," by junior group; "Follow Jesus," primary group; vacation school theme with text, Ten Commandments; song, "Books of the Bible," by juniors and intermediates; song, "Smile Awhile," by the group; "Has Any One Seen Jack," by juniors and intermediates.

Vacation school songs with text, "Each One Win One," "Keep Singing," by the group; rhythm band, from the beginners and primary groups; dramatization, "The Child Samuel," by juniors; "Nasman's Maid," by juniors; "The Child Moses," by intermediates; "The Lad With Lost Leaves and Fishes," by primary group; "Christ Loves

 Although Stewart-Warner claims to consume less current than any other make, the results of this contest do not necessarily reveal the amount of current that would be consumed in the home through actual use. Several things determine the amount of current consumed. The Stewart-Warner test had the door closed but it must also be considered that the surrounding temperature was quite high as it was placed within a foot of a plate glass window through which the afternoon sun increased the normal temperature of the outside cabinet, considerably. Our recording instruments and meters enable us to accurately determine and prove that Stewart-Warner runs less and costs less. Ohio State Wins Second Place
When Owens Scores 40 Points

Limber-Legged Star Takes Four Firsts At Berkeley

By RUSSELL T. NEWLAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
EDWARDS STADIUM, BERKELEY, Cal., June 22 (AP)—University of Southern California's powerful track and field team won the 1936 National Collegiate A. A. team championship today by Jesse Owens, high jumper, Negro youth from Ohio State, won the thunderous applause of 18,000 fans.

In the most amazing list of individual performances ever witnessed in the far west, Owens took first places in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the 220 yard low hurdles and the broad jump. His efforts alone accounted for 40 of the 40 1/2 points scored by Ohio State to take second place to Southern California's 73 1/2 points.

Surprising members of 23-man team, after yesterday's trials, accounted largely for U. S. C. total through surprising strength. The Trojans only won two first places. Ken Carpenter taking the discus with 137 feet, 1 1/2 inches and 2 Charlie Meadows took Bill Stebbins trying for pole vault laurels at 16 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

While Southern California was adding the N. C. A. A. title to its previously won Intercollegiate A. A. A. honors of a few weeks ago, limber-legged Owens was streaking down the cinder path, skipping the hurdles, keeping an eye on the broad jump rivals, an event in which he clinched top position in yesterday's trials.

Falls to Approach Records
This human antelope, who learned to run on the sidewalks of Cleveland and to vault over the fence in his earlier world-record-bettering performances, but the assembled thousands of spectators were watching him on the broad jump record, the through playmate for Owens.

The two sprinters, headed as they were by the 220 yarder, stepped into a one-man affair for the first place. Owens won the hundred in 16 seconds and the 220 in 31.8, unseating when compared to his recent world record trying dash of 3.4 for the former and his 16.2 for the latter in the 100.

In the short sprint he beat Eugene Peacock of Temple with George Anderson of California coming third in the 220 he breeched the 100 in 16.2 seconds, while Herman Neugebauer of Tulane finishing in third place. Each time Owens led from the start.

Owens Finals-Hardin
Owens' biggest test today came in the 220 yard dash, in which he faced the defending champion, Glenn Hardin of Louisiana State. It turned out to be a romp for the Negro as he won in 16.2 seconds, a mark and was clocked in 23.4 seconds. Hardin, who had won the N. C. A. A. record, was forced to take second to Owens by a matter of 7/8 yards.

The victory clinched Owens' fourth-year victory. He clinched the broad jump yesterday in the 220 yard dash, in which he won in 16.2 seconds. His nearest rival, Al Owens of Southern California, jumped the event with 16.8 inches today for the second position.

While Owens was scaling new athletic heights, the meet saw the downfall of such great stars as Arthur Bay, who won the 100 yard dash in 16.2 seconds, and Vincent Murphy of Notre Dame and Brigham Young University scored a total equalled by the University of Utah.

Kenneth Rushforth, University of Utah star and Rocky Mountain conference holder in the discus, tossed the 156 foot, 2 1/2 inch discus in the fourth place. His heave was more than 11 feet back of the winner, Carpenter of Southern California. Dale Schofield of Brigham Young finished fifth in the 220-yard low hurdles, won by Owens in 23.4 seconds.

A village of 3,500 without women? It is being stamped out of the ground on the outskirts of Berlin. It will be a village of men, for which is to take their minds off the men, and run by men. An army captain will be in charge as commander. And officers and privates of the German defence force will see to it that the multifarious wishes of the world's sportsmen are properly met.

Tennis Tourney's Finals Abandoned

LONDON, June 22 (AP)—As a prelude to the classic Wimbledon championships, starting Monday, America's No. 1 single player, Wilmer Allison, completed a week of competition today by sharing the honors in two divisions of play in the queen's club tournament.

ALLISON SHARES HONORS IN TWO DIVISIONS OF NET COMPETITION

WILMINGTON, Del., June 22 (AP)—The names of all finalists will be inscribed on the trophies. Allison disposed of his young Davis cup team-mate, Donald Dudge of Oakland, California, 10-8, 8-4, while Jones defeated Daniel Penn of Germany, 2-6, 6-0, 6-3, in the singles semi-finals.

CHANGE IN SALMON WATER DELIVERIES

Directors Increase Season's Allotment to 45 Acre Foot

Salmon river projects irrigation water allotment for the current season was increased by 170 to an acre foot to a total of 45100 acre foot per share by action of the Salmon River Canal company directors at a meeting here yesterday.

Directors at the same time authorized change in the schedule for water delivery so that a 16-day run will be started in the A system next Monday, and will be extended to the project's other two systems as soon as orders are received for 150 second feet of water on these systems.

Order Expected
W. M. McDaniel, Salmon River Canal company superintendent, at Hollister last evening, said it was probable that these orders will be received so that the 16-day run starting in the A-system on Monday will be extended to the other two systems on Tuesday.

Housewives And 4-H Girls Invited To Be Present At Demonstrations This Week

Remember, you have a date with Mrs. Ethel Pope, canning expert for the Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation next week. If you live in Twin Falls, Mrs. Pope will receive you at the Twin Falls high school auditorium at 2 o'clock Wednesday and Thursday afternoons June 26 and 27.

Homemakers of Buhl and vicinity will attend canning demonstrations Monday and Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Cozy theater, and Burley and community women will meet Mrs. Pope at 2 o'clock Friday and Saturday in the dining room of the National hotel.

Attractive merchandise gifts will be distributed each day at these instructive classes on modern canning. As practical as they are modern, these classes are free to all interested persons. They are sponsored by the Twin Falls News in the three towns.

Using the freshest of vegetables and fruits for successful canning is the advice of Mrs. Pope. Removing the jars from the cookers as soon as they have been in the required time and setting them where there is good circulation of air to cool them quickly is another point which she brings out in her course of instruction.

She will emphasize the oven and pressure cooker methods of canning. It has been found more mold develops from the open kettle method.

now about 140 men in the camp. Mess hall and barracks constitute the camp equipment and supplies are hauled in as needed by truck. The men are engaged on road work and similar projects in and around Pocatello when work is available. The camp is to be continued through the winter or as long as it may be necessary to take care of those not regularly employed or unable to earn a sufficient sum for their maintenance Mr. Ronk says.

CONGRESS DELAYS WATER PAYMENTS

House and Senate Bills Provide for Moratorium On Reclamation

Another year's moratorium on all irrigation and reclamation projects constructed by the federal reclamation service has been endorsed by congress, according to word that Asher E. Wilson of Twin Falls, chairman of the Idaho Reclamation association, received last evening from Congressman D. Worth Clark. The proposed moratorium would apply to the Gooding canal project as well as to the Minidoka reclamation project, Mr. Wilson said.

The congressman's letter said the house had passed the moratorium bill, and went on to explain: "A bill had previously passed the senate to the same effect except that it contained a proviso that the secretary of the interior could upon investigation exempt from the operation of the moratorium any projects which he found able to pay."

"The house bill and the senate bill will now go to a conference committee which will adjust the differences between the two bills. We in the house will endeavor to see to it that the blanket moratorium bill as passed by us is retained, although even if some concessions must be made we believe that the interests of our reclamation projects must be protected."

SIGNALS ON RAILWAY TIES

GUIDE FRENCH AIR PILOTS

PARIS (P)—Pilots flying over France will no longer have to crane their necks searching for landmarks for the names of French towns soon will be visible to planes at an altitude of 8000 feet.

The ministry of air, after testing several systems of aerial signals, favored the use of white block letters painted along railroad ties to show the names of towns.

This system, commonly used in the United States and England, was successfully tested in 200 towns in northern France, where tags prevail.

HORSE TRADER 35 YEARS

SAYS BUSINESS PICKING UP

UPPER SANDUSKY, O. (P)—Automobiles and steam-trains may come and go, but Adam Grandish of this city goes right on trading horses.

He has been at it for 35 years and says business now is better than ever, with Old Dobbin atag a victory over modern machinery.

When it comes to making a trade, the veteran swapper says he always studies the person offering a horse in trade as much as he does the animal itself. Experience has taught him, he says, a person usually looks for the same weakness in his own horse as in the animal he is about to obtain.

Rollator Refrigeration Users Report Savings up to $11 a Month

Spring, summer, fall, winter are all the same to the Norge Rollator Refrigerator. Norge savings are year round savings.

Why not go to the Norge dealer near you and ask for proof of Norge savings? He has plenty of it. Authentic figures from nation-wide surveys among Norge owners. Scientific tests, proving that the Norge Rollator cold-making mechanism uses hardly any current at all. Testimonials from enthusiastic owners. Not only evidence, but actual proof that Norge is the economical refrigerator to buy and to own.

When you see the famous Norge Rollator, with its three slowly moving parts, realize that it is so perfectly engineered as to be almost everlasting. Realize that a Rollator has been running constantly on factory test for the equivalent of 33 years in your home—that it is still running. And remember, only Norge has the Rollator.

See the Norge before you buy.

Wherever Fords Go... Good Service Awaits Them

WHEN you're behind the wheel of a Ford you enjoy more than good performance—you know that good service awaits you wherever you drive.

Supplementing the universal and highly organized service facilities of Ford Dealers are hundreds of independent garages and repair shops which display the "Genuine Ford Parts" sign. These supply parts which in precision and quality match those originally built into the Ford.

Efficiency is an important feature of Ford service. Uniform methods and uniform tools are used. Ford Dealers' mechanics are factory trained and have at their command such modern equipment as the Ford Laboratory Test Set which eliminates guessing from engine and electrical work.

Low flat rates for parts and repairs and the money-saving Factory Engine Exchange Plan are additional reasons why it pays to own and drive a Ford.
