PRISON RECORDS AT BOISE SHOW MAHAN NAMED IN DETAINER

Department of Justice Operatives Make Discovery; Kidnap Suspect Robbed Bank While Free on Bail

(By The Associated Press)
BOISE, June 24.—Ira Taylor, warden of the Idaho prison, tonight said state penitentiary records here show that William Mahan, wanted as a suspect in the kidnaping of George Weyerhaeuser, 9-year-old Tacoma, Washington, child, was named in a detainer on file at the warden's office here when Mahan was released.

Mahan, Taylor said, was wanted on a charge of robbing a bank at Rathdrum, Washington, January 1934. He was later held by a Harbor county grand jury and liberated on $1000 bail pending trial.

While he was at liberty the bank at Rathdrum, Idaho, was robbed of $2000. Mahan, arrested as a suspect, tried, found guilty of robbing it and was sentenced to the Idaho penitentiary.

Freud by Board
He was freed June 1, 1933, by a pardon board composed of Governor Ross, Attorney General Bert H. Miller and secretary of State Franklin Girard, who are still members of the board. The latter voted against granting Mahan's application, the prison records show.

George F. Rude, now of Parker, Idaho, was the warden, and Tony Phelan was in charge of the prison records at the time Mahan left the institution.

Rudd latter was dismissed for asserting laxity in dealing with inmates.

Agents Find Detainer
The discovery of the detainer was made today by department of justice operatives, Warden Taylor said, after a searching tour of the detainer records showed.

None would comment tonight on the development.

Mahan is suspected of being an associate of Harmon Wiley, an another Idaho ex-convict, who has been sentenced to a 45-year term in prison on a charge of kidnaping the Weyerhaeuser child.

Troops Recalled to Crush New Outburst Of Strike Violence

Judge Sets Aside Life Terms For Sheriff Kidnaping

JASPER, Ind., June 24 (AP)—Two Huntington, W. Va., Indians, both in their teens, boomed today when an Indiana judge tempered the life terms imposed on them for kidnaping a county sheriff.

Judge John L. Sumner set aside the life sentences, mandatory for kidnaping, and accepted pleas of guilty to the charge of auto banditry. The judge then sentenced the youngest boy, Bascom Ray, Jr., 14, to the Indiana boys' school, an institution for young offenders, out suspended the sentence when the lad's parents agreed to place him in charge of a parole agent in their home city.

Ray's companion, Maurice Sheridan, 17, received a sentence of one to ten years in the reformatory. Evidence was given that Sheridan persuaded his young pal to run away from home.

COURT PREPARES FOR KIDNAP TRIAL

Judge Refuses to Accept Guilty Plea on Three Successive Days

TACOMA, Wash., June 24 (AP)—A jury to try Mrs. Margaret Walcy for the $200,000 kidnaping of 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser will be chosen July 6, Federal Judge E. E. Cushman decided today, after refusing to accept her guilty plea on three successive days.

Mysterious Sedan Fits Description Of Mahan's Car

SEATTLE, June 24 (AP)—A mysterious green sedan, answering closely the description of one department of justice agents have been seeking in Nebraska, Iowa and other states, was located today in an Everett garage.

Newspapermen and sheriff's deputies traced the license plates to "A. T. Davis," apparently as mysterious as Mahan's car, for he gave a false address when he bought it. "A. T. Davis" is one of the aliases of William Mahan, sought by the department of justice in connection with the kidnaping of little George Weyerhaeuser in Tacoma, Wash., June 1934. Officers had broadcast this description—Green Buick sedan, 1937 model, plates A-67746—from King county.

The car was last in Mahan's garage, 3001 Rucker avenue, Everett, June 6, by a man who refused to give his name but said he would return when repairs were made. He never came back.

WORKERS BATTLE IN JUNEAU STREETS

Police and Firemen Take Part in Hand-to-Hand Labor Clash

JUNEAU, Alaska, June 24 (AP)—Two men were seriously hurt today when police and non-union workers, seeking to reach the Alaska-Juneau gold mine offices to register for employment, clashed with a group of union men in a hand-to-hand fight.

More than 200 men formed a parade, and guarded by 100 special duty police and several U. S. deputy marshals, marched to the mine. As they passed the hall of the Alaska Mine Workers union, which called a walkout a month ago for better hours and conditions, the trouble started.

VANDENBERG FLAYS 'CRAZY ADVENTURE' IN ALASKAN VALLEY

Colonization Program Called 'Untenable and Ridiculous Proposition' As Senator Predicts Major Calamity

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 24.—Attacking the Alaskan colonization scheme of the relief administration as a "crazy adventure," Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) predicted in the senate today that unless prompt remedies are taken the enterprise will result in a "major catastrophe."

The Michigan senator, in his voice, arose during the debate on the Alaska-Juneau gold mine program to say that the whole Alaskan colonization program was "an utterly untenable and ridiculous proposition."

He read to the senate dispatches from Seattle which said relief administration workers on the project were "begging" to return, but were unable to do so because of lack of space on the boat. He told the senate a story related by the returning workers of three women colonists seeking to dress as men in an effort to escape.

Other dispatches from Palmer, Alaska, near the scene of the colonization movement, described the complaints as "greatly exaggerated" but Vandenberg ignored these in attacking the project.

Roosevelt Asks Immediate Action On Tax Plans For 'Distribution' Of Wealth

Borah Hails Tax Program, Fake Wealth Distributor

Senator Borah's statement supporting President Roosevelt's tax-the-rich program follows:
"It is absurd to call the president's tax program a share-the-wealth program. It is in fact nothing more than a share-the-burden-of-government program."

"It is not only sound economically, but is sound in morals to take care of our vast expenditures to a larger degree through heavier taxes. And if the taxes are wisely laid such a program will be more conducive to recovery than the reckless voting of bonds and the increase of the interest burden."

"We have bills now pending and which will likely be passed and will call for heavier expenditures than the tax bill will likely take care of. There is nothing more conducive to waste, to extravagance and to economic demoralization than the unconscionable system of passing the expenses over to our children, and our children's children in the way of bonds and interest."

"The plan proposed would be a fake as a distribution of wealth program, but it will tend greatly to bring us to a realization of what these expenditures really mean, and is sound in principle."

"Neither can it be said that it is a non-likelihood of success. All winter states have been voting sales taxes which soak the poor. In addition to that many taxes supposed to be laid at a particular point and down the economic ladder until they find someone who can pass them no farther."

"This program ought to be considered as a just and timely readjustment of our tax laws in the light of our stupendous expenditures."

Cash for Sister—
CALLENS, Mass., sister received $194,000, and a brother only "love" in the will of John M. Harrison, Ithaca, N.Y., broker, which was allowed in probate court yesterday.

Horicultural What-Is-It—
LOS ANGELES—A horicultural what-is-it cropped up at a vegetable stand yesterday. And a J. Gouldin, who bought it for an orange, is wondering if he didn't get a lemon.

The fruit, he said, is about three-fifths orange. One side of it, however, bulges out from the main body, has the lighter color of a lemon and tastes like a lemon, he said. Experts were puzzled.

Mary Garden, Instructor—
CHICAGO—Adorned with a rope of beads her manager said, "worth a quarter million dollars," Mary Garden, turned musical instructor yesterday to teach her first class of 20 pupils, including a former prize fighter.

The retired boxer earned "splendid" comment. He is Will Mallock, veteran of three barnstorming tours as a lightweight boxer in the south and now head usher at Orchestra hall. He is a scholarship pupil.

The class, the first of its kind in the series sponsored by the Chicago musical college, will concentrate on opera and dramatic song.

Rattles Strikes Self—
OROVILLE, Calif.—Partially crushed in a battle with a rattlesnake, a large rattlesnake struck itself near Bruan creek yesterday.

The rattler, coiled in the road, struck at a truck. The driver saved his heavy vehicle and ran one wheel over the reptile's back.

Apparently maddened with pain, the rattler struck out blindly and sank its fangs into its own back.

A CCC crew working nearby noticed the snake in the highway.

Investigating to see if the snake were alive, the men pulled the fangs and the snake was found dead.

PRESCOTT AWARDED GARBAGE CONTRACT

Dr. E. R. Storey—Appointed
City Meat and Dairy
Inspector

Contract for collecting garbage and trash within the city limits of Twin Falls was awarded to J. G. Prescott at a meeting of Twin Falls city council. Prescott was awarded the job with a consideration of $100.00 per month as compared with the $125 per month paid him during the past year.

A considerable addition to the amount of work required was made in the new contract, however, Heretofore Prescott has hauled away garbage, ashes, tin cans and the like but under the new contract he will remove cut grass from lawns, weeds, papers and magazines and other rubbish placed in containers along the alleys.

Change in the contract was made by council in an effort to make city hauling of trash unnecessary and to eliminate the necessity for a clean-up job as has been customary here during past years.

Fullman Man Named
Dr. E. R. Storey, Pullman, Washington, was named as city meat and dairy inspector. He is a veterinarian and was graduated this spring from Washington State college.

L. B. Wall appeared before the council in protest of improper disposal of sewage and inadequate water supply in cabins in the 300 block on Fifth avenue west. He was informed that the city was presently under consideration by City Attorney George Paulson and that action would be taken in the near future.

ARBuckle ADDRESSES TOWNSEND GATHERING

An audience that filled Twin Falls high school auditorium Sunday afternoon heard Senator Frank Arbuckle, Los Angeles, national representative of the Townsend old age pension plan, outline the plan and its purposes.

Senator Arbuckle spoke at Gooding the evening before, addressed an open-air gathering in Buhl city park Sunday afternoon, and left here early yesterday to speak at Burley yesterday afternoon. He addressed a gathering in Idaho Falls last evening.

Frederating at the Twin Falls session was R. E. Hobler, former Twin Falls mayor, who in turn introduced E. C. Davis of Buhl, state Townsend club president.

The senator urged support of the plan in that it would bring a redistribution of wealth, talent, resources, liberty and security. He called the plan a battle for youth as well as for old age and said that adoption of the plan would benefit a million persons in the country directly.

He said that the 18 billion dollar annual cost would be borne by elimination of eight billions in charity and relief, eight billions in crime, a billion and a half in poor house upkeep and three quarters of a billion in pensions.

A Year-Round FURNACE

Holland Develops
Amazing New Air-
Conditioning Principle
Heats, Filters, and Circulates
Properly Humidified Air More
Efficiently in Winter

Circulates Freshly
Filtered Air in Summer
Now you can benefit state-of-the-art air conditioning. Holland engineers have developed a powerful principle that circulates air in every room in the house.

New Principle Explained
In the usual warm air heating plant, warm air is forced from the furnace at 400 to 600 degrees, with the Holland Type Air Conditioner, the furnace operates at 150 to 200 degrees.

The saving in fuel costs is astonishing, and your furnace will last years longer. The power-fur unit can be inoperably added to any warm air heating system. And it will give your furnace a new lease on life. Already, more than 100,000 units have been sold. It's the biggest idea to have been sold in the past decade.

Free Demonstration Offer
A Holland engineer will call at your home and demonstrate this new principle and actually show you how it will work in a new furnace, or with your present warm air system. He will be accompanied by a representative who can have this new year-round comfort for your home. Absolutely no obligation in asking for a demonstration. These modern!

READY MADE WIFE

By CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie Moore's employer, Mark Albert, the airplane manufacturer, is much interested in her. Laurie goes to Liverpool to see her aunts and is taken to the office of a young man in the train who saved her from falling out of the train. Now the young man is telling Albert that he is Rex Moore, Laurie's husband who had crashed and apparently been lost trying to fly the Pacific.

Chapter Five

"Where did you crash?" demanded Albert of the returned Rex Moore. "Who found you?"

"Crashed in a typhoon somewhere near the Marquesas Islands. I did the first hop to Fiji in five days. And the next one, too. Then I struck a bad patch, the worst one I ever had. It was no good. I was helpless. I wasn't forced down—I was hurled down."

"Don't remember much about it. Don't know why I wasn't smashed to pieces. Must have been unconscious for days. I had been picked up by a yacht and was taken to California. They told me the storm died down as quickly as it had come up. The people who owned the yacht looked after me for more than a year."

"But why didn't you send word home?"

"Didn't feel like it. They were decent folk and kept it dark. I was a useless log. What was the good of telling them that you should think me dead?"

"You always were a queer chap. But after you recovered your sight?"

"I was down and out—a bit mad, I think. I owed my life, my eyes, to those people. But I gave them the alibi and made my way to New York somehow or other and picked up a bit of a living there."

"Did you fly under another name?"

"No, I didn't fly at all. I thought I was through with that. I just picked up a living."

"Why have you come back now?"

"Because I had to. I got a change of heart. He gave a bitter little laugh. 'I told myself I'd been a fool, doing nothing but just cursing because I'd had bad luck. I thought of you, Mr. Albert, I thought you might give me another chance. I'm all right now. I can trust myself. I want to carry on. If you don't think I'm too much of a crook and too old for the job.'"

"I'm so glad to see you I don't know what to say," was Albert's warm reply.

And then, as they sat in the silence, he remembered how, only a few days ago, he had said to young Mrs. Moore in his office, "I sometimes wonder if you still hope against hope that he might come back."

And here he was, standing before him, Rex Moore, her husband, back from the dead. In the excitement and shock of the scene he had not thought of the girl before. That made it more incomprehensible than ever. The young man must evidently have gone off his head for a while. And no wonder.

"Moore," he said, "haven't you let anybody know that you're back in England—alive?"

"No, I hate fuss. Somebody might have remembered me. I'd have had to tell this silly yarn a thousand times. I've been in London a week, just trying to get used to it."

"But, my dear boy, haven't you tried to get in touch with your people?"

"I have no people. You've forgotten that."

"But haven't you tried to get in touch with your wife?"

"My wife?" The young man's back was turned to Albert. He was fumbling a whisky and soda in which they had been celebrating his return. It sounded rather as if it he were choking.

"Your wife. It's the most extraordinary thing—your wife is working for us at the office. It almost seems as if we were both dreaming, doesn't it?"

Rex Moore turned his eyes on Albert's face in a hard stare. For a moment they really looked like the eyes of a blind man, but Albert did not notice that.

"How did you know she was here?"

"I saw her in a rapid way. Now, how did you know she was here?"

"I had heard she was in Australia, and I had been a valued member of the London office staff."

"I suppose, my dear boy, you thought she was still in Australia," he concluded.

"I didn't know she was in England. I was the slow type."

"We were so glad to see you, we could to help her. Of course, you had to make a name for yourself. You hadn't time to make a name for yourself. That's why you just been married, hadn't you, when you took off?"

"Thankfully, I'm rather overcome," he said.

"Joy doesn't kill," answered Albert smoothly. But in his own mind there was an unpleasant reaction. Laurie Moore was Moore's wife now, not his widow. Quite a different thing. There was a sudden crisis in his brain, a wave of anxiety, the first pang of jealousy of his life.

"Now, you will be off to see her. We can talk business to-morrow. Of course, you must get back to your job. I'll be behind you. Don't worry about that! There are still a few roads unbroken, and the Pacific is always there!"

"Do you know her address?" asked the airman.

BURLEY MAN IN NAVY IN FRENCH MOROCCO

BURLEY, June 24—According to word received here Monday morning by friends of Junior Lieutenant Allen E. Parson, former Burley high school and the United States Naval Academy, a young Burley, Parson, is an Agadir, French Morocco.

He is an officer on the new U. S. S. Cruise, one of the navy's new light cruisers. For two years after graduating from Annapolis he was on the U. S. S. Texas, and was but his shakedown cruise in foreign waters.

Madeira, off the coast of Africa, the first stop of the cruise, was particularly pretty place, said Lieutenant Parson. The native Portuguese and the English were all very gracious, he said.

Of Agadir, a port of the Foreign Legion, he states there is a tremendous amount of construction going on for a town of its size. They hope to make it a resort, he added.

The town is a grand in the daytime the sea breeze prevents it from being too hot. At night when the desert cool off, the shore breeze prevents it from being too cool through the night.

No Effect Seen On Business in Death of NRA

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—The commerce department said Saturday, "there was no indication that the NRA situation was exerting any pronounced effect on trade one way or the other."

In the face of wide abandonment, it reported "widespread gains" in retail trade in its weekly survey of 33 cities. The same survey, however, noted a breakdown in code wages and hours in many sections.

"The trends in wholesale trade," the survey said, "were of no special significance with gains and losses being about equally balanced throughout the country."

In discussing the NRA situation, the department said:

"Memphis reported wage cuts and increased working hours over a wide front. In New Orleans, it was stated that departing from NRA codes resulted in increased demands on oil agencies."

"Denver reported that NRA standards of wages were being maintained in that city but that a decided breakdown had begun in Colorado Springs and small rural towns of northern Colorado. In Jacksonville, larger firms were said to be continuing NRA provisions, but among the smaller concerns there was a growing tendency to revert to old wage and hour scales."

4,000 Policemen Mobilize For Carnera-Louis "War"

Kidnap Rumors and Threats of Race Trouble Mark Big Battle

Promoter Forecasts Gate Of $350,000 Or More

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, June 24.—Little Abyssinia and Big Italy—war in the prize ring instead of Africa—is the lure of the Yankee stadium Tuesday night.

In one corner is sober Joe Louis, 21-year-old Negro from Detroit; in the other the monster man, Primo Carnera, making the most desperate stand of his wild career. And in the background, adding to the war-like picture, are a thousand police, fearful of race trouble, and a heavily armed guard guarding Louis from danger, no one seems able to visualize.

It's one of the strangest pictures the ring has faced in years, the first big money "mixed match" since Harry Wills, the black menace of the Dempsey area, battled Louis (angel) before over half a million dollars worth of customers. Boyles thirty acres in 1924.

So "hot" was the match tonight that its promoter, Mike Jacobs, predicts a gate of $350,000 or more, far surpassing the $200,000 taken in at Jimmy Braddock's conquest of heavyweight champion Max Baer less than two weeks ago.

Louis, with only a year of professional experience, ruled a 10 to 5 favorite. The big bettors were avid to lay their money at these odds, demanding a tremendous advantage of the 265 pound Italian. The experts are almost unanimous in picking the negro, a terrific puncher, for win. Probably an early knockout. Carnera, a heavy, is a counterpuncher, a hard hitter, a fast fighter, indicating Louis might get the ring at 11 p. m. (E. S. T.) as high as 2 to 1.

Kidnap Plot?

Mike Jacobs, New Jersey, said he was jittery over the cleanup nearby of a gang wanted for several high-powered crimes after rumors around town that the Negro was to be kidnaped.

Carnera added to the mystery by leaving his training camp at Orangethorpe Park, near Syracuse, Sunday, arriving here today to Sunday in a hotel near the Yankee stadium. Reports that he had 265 pounds, are accurate, the Italian is some 15 pounds over the figure of the New York Herald.

Carnera, this is the last bid for another chance at heavyweight greatness; for Louis the climax of an entire career, short, burst, to stardom.

Another Sam Langford The quiet, slope-shodded negro has been a professional boxer for a year, but in that time his sharp punching, smashing attack has been feared by many. Experts say he is another Sam Langford, that he is the best fighter in the heavyweight division since Dempsey was in his prime.

IEA softballers scored nine runs in the sixth inning at Lincoln field last evening to score a 10 to 4 victory over the Consolidated Freight and Labor union in the Idaho Evergreen Tonne League.

The IEA team worked smoothly behind Bill Child's fast pit pitching and played errorless ball. Labor pitcher, allowed nine hits. Child added to his pitching performance by attraction of the Consolidated Freight and Labor team.

The Labor team took a 2 to 0 lead in the sixth inning, mostly on wilds and then scored in the seventh via the same route. That ended the Brotherhood's scoring for the night.

Chicago Cubs Win Over Terrymen in Slugfest, 10 to 9

Thirty Hits, Including Three Home Runs, Mark Defeat Of League-Leading Giants In Ten-Inning Contest

NATIONAL LEAGUE SCORES
St. Louis 11, Brooklyn 7
Chicago 10, New York 9
Cincinnati 6, Philadelphia 4
(Only games scheduled in National league)

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs got away to a four-run lead today but were forced to come from behind and go 10-9 in a slugfest, the longest game in the history of the New York Giants to win a free-slugging contest that saw 30 hits, including three homers.

The home run played a big part in the scoring but it was Frank Gorman, single off Frank Gahagan, fourth of the New York Giants to see action, that chased Angelo Gabler home with the deciding run in the extra frame.

Giants Rally After the Cubs had counted four times in the second with Billy Herman hitting a triple with bases loaded, the Giants finally swung into action in the fourth. They rammed home two runs in that inning, counted twice again in the fifth to tie the score and then went out in front in the sixth, scoring five times as Hank Lelander, a homer with two on and Travis Jackson poked the ball in the air, landed with one mate aboard the bases.

The Cubs picked up another run in the eighth but the Giants apparently still had the game well in hand until the Chicagoans went on a rampage in the ninth. The box score:

MacDonald Smith Leads 250 Stars In British Open

Golfdom's Great Veteran Shoots Brilliant Round to Set Fast Pace in First Half of Qualifying Play

By GAVIN TALBOT
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
NOTTINGHAM, England, June 24.—MacDonald Smith, who by his own admission grows better with age, shot one of the greatest rounds in the history of the British open golf championship.

The final 18-hole trial round will be played tomorrow. Thereafter the competition will be limited to 100 scorers and then for the 72-hole championship proper which will start Wednesday over the Midlands course where Walter Hagen won his last major title in 1929.

Apparently finding fresh inspiration in the fact that he was paired with the rugged J. Padgham, a Briton and second best choice, the 43-year-old Carnoustie-born Scot who makes his headquarters in Glenelg, Calif., played the long and windy Gullane course in a way never played before.

Smith, who has been campaigning unsuccessfully for a major title for nearly a quarter of a century, made sensational recapture from bunkers for part of the third and fifth and then planted his tee shot at the short sixth two feet from the cup for a steady bang on the first nine. He brought down an eagle three on the 480-yard 18th with two powerful woods and a few feet put and then heared birdies on the 12th, 16th and 17th.

It was the second time Mac Smith had won a cup for a steady bang on the first nine. He brought down an eagle three on the 480-yard 18th with two powerful woods and a few feet put and then heared birdies on the 12th, 16th and 17th.

Smith turned in his first round of 66 in 1923. Jones duplicated the stunt at Sunningdale in 1924 on his way to the title and Cotton did the same thing before finishing on top last year.

Cedric Sneyter, a British professional from the qualifying round, chased Smith to the wire with a 68.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 24 (AP)—James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion, today predicted Primo Carnera would beat him in their 18 round match tomorrow at the Yankee stadium.

"Carnera is the one preferred for Louis," Braddock said.

Kimberly Tops Teams Of Southern Idaho League; Buhl Wins Over Hazelton

Hawkins Hurls Five-Hit Game At Wendell While Wills, West End Ace, Limits Foes To Scratch Single

WENDELL, June 24.—As the touted Hazelton baseball team was dropping a 3 to 0 skunk at Buhl, Sunday, an aggressive gang of Kimberly ballers swept into an undisputed first place in the Southern Idaho league standings with a 9 to 3 win over the men of Wendell.

Hawkins held the Wendell team to five scattered safeties as his team mates were pounding Kral for some 14. Wendell accounted for five errors and Kimberly muffed three.

The victory was the sixth straight for Kimberly in the league, and the season opener to Hansen. Last week Kimberly tied Hazelton for the league leadership and Sunday's games set the North Biders into a tie with Buhl and Hansen for second place in the league.

From beginning to end it was a pitching duel between Wills and "Hack" Albee of Hazelton. Albee allowed eight hits and fanned 16. Wills won the game with a 3 to 0 victory over the highly heralded Hazelton team. The loss put Hazelton in a dead-end for second place in the Southern Idaho league standings with Buhl and Hansen as Kimberly took the lead.

BURL, June 24.—A follow-up to his no-no-running against Buhl, Burling last week, Wills, ace Buhl moundman, took to the diamond here yesterday and allowed but one scratch hit as his team turned in a 3 to 0 victory over the highly heralded Hazelton team. The loss put Hazelton in a dead-end for second place in the Southern Idaho league standings with Buhl and Hansen as Kimberly took the lead.

Atkins of Buhl started things off by cracking out a home run in the first inning. Goetz's scratch single was Hazelton's only safe hit and Leth led batsmen by cracking out three hits out of four times at home.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The stock market opened today in a sluggish condition, with prices generally lower. The market was characterized by mild profit taking and a general decline in most active issues. The closing prices were generally lower than the opening prices.

Relatively steady course during most of the day was succeeded later in the session by mild profit-taking which left most active issues a little below the opening prices. Activity here was the million-share mark.

Price changes in nearly all leaders were fractional, and there was a bit of selective buying here and there. As a whole, declines were only slightly more numerous than advances.

Bonds did better than stocks in the secondary classifications, especially the rails and utilities, but the yield categories were in many cases soft. Federal obligations for the most part held a little higher.

With exception of corn, the leading commodities tended to be a drag on speculative sentiment. Corn's advance was 1 to 1 1/2 cents a bushel, while wheat was off 1/2 to 3/4 of a cent and cotton declined 30 to 35 cents a bale. Silver had a bad day with a 1/2 cent decline to $1.40.

New York to 70 1/2, cents an ounce, following weakness in London and Montreal. Today's New York price for the bar metal was the lowest since April 23, and represented the largest single day's decline in over 6 weeks.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, the market was off 3/4 of a point at 44 1/2. Turnover in the stock exchange was 1,158,070 shares. The best activity came in the first hour of trading when most prices ranged from steady to firm.

BAR SILVER
NEW YORK, June 24.—The price of imported bar silver for delivery in London declined 1/2 cent to 70 1/2 cents an ounce. In New York today to 70 1/2 cents. The silver was the sharpest decline recorded since May 1935, and was the lowest since April 1935.
