STORMS, FLOODS CLEAN TWO SCORE LIVES IN NATION

Stricken Areas of Upper New York State Report 37 Dead; Property Damage Passes $10,000,000 Mark

(By The Associated Press) Summer floods and storms took nearly 50 lives in the United States while other outbreaks of nature caused widespread death and property damage in various parts of the world, a survey disclosed last night.

Fifty-one persons were dead and five missing in upper New York state as flood waters sent rivers out of their banks. Property damage from the high water and fire which followed the floods was estimated at $20,000,000. About 3,000 were temporarily homeless as President Roosevelt ordered the Red Cross to take charge of flood sufferers.

More were dead as the Susquehanna river overflowed in Pennsylvania. A wind storm in Montevideo, Uruguay, killed two persons. Cloud bursts and wild storms took three lives in Canada.

Two died and at least 100 injured as the result of a tornado and flood in the area near the $72,000,000 Peck reclamation project in Montana where 500 were made homeless. Rescue squads were organized by army officers.

300 Perish in China In the last China, where the Yangtze river was in a rampage, 300 lives were reported lost in one village and 25,000 persons were menaced by the stream, which had broken levees of the size of an inland sea. Heavy damage to property was expected.

Upper New York state was flooded with water from the Adirondacks, and although the rivers and creeks in the stricken area were rising generally, the flow in the Susquehanna river is feared it is the additional rainfall. Five added to the tally of fatalities in Illinois and Missouri.

More than 300 houses in Havre de Grace and Elkton, Maryland, were flooded, and the water in the Susquehanna in northeastern Maryland out of their banks. Franking creek overflowed and sent water into the basement of homes in northeast Philadelphia.

Cheap Wampum In Colonies Wrecked Lawmakers' Plans

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—How wampum, "inflationists" wrecked the plans of currency stabilizers when America was young was told today by Herbert H. Miller, economist of the national museum.

Wampum made from purple clam shells played an important part in early colonial trade. The colonial legislators tried to fix a value for the beads. But inflationists defeated them with a flood of "cheap wampum." It came from wampum "factories" run by Dutchmen at Hackensack, New Jersey, Babylon, New York and elsewhere.

Eventually, Krieger said, the colonists had to abandon the clamshell as money.

HUNDREDS PERISH IN CHINA'S FLOODS

Fire Breaks Out in Stricken City as Swollen Rivers Rage Down to Sea

(Copyright, 1935, Associated Press) CHIANGTUNG, Hunan Province, China, July 9 (AP)—Fire followed flood as central China's rain-swollen rivers collapsed. A few American missionaries, struggling heroically, did what they could to lessen suffering, but their efforts could not avert the catastrophe, in which 100,000 Changhoo homes already were submerged.

Many Trapped in Buildings Fire broke out in various parts of the city. The flames, thousands of feet high, were kept under control by the water service, but their efforts could not save many persons trapped in buildings by the waters.

Food is becoming scarce, and prices for the meager supplies soared. All manner of animal life was destroyed. Dead cows, chickens, pigs, and ducks floated in the water, and the creatures upon which the Chinese farmer depends for his life were being swept away.

The extent of the flood, which seemed certain to reduce western Hunan province to beggary, was described in communications from Shenchow (sometimes called Yunching) 200 miles southwest of here and further up the Yangtze.

HOUSE LEADERS IN HUBBLE WITH F. D. R.

Long Discussion of Legislative Program Prevents Grievance Airing

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—With more than six months of life-filled sessions, President Roosevelt still called house leaders in to talk about legislation. The conference lasted two and a half hours, a reliable reporter said. Members of the house group went into the meeting with Mr. Roosevelt's ending to disagree with his differences which have arisen between the White House and the house majority group.

The program as outlined at tonight's meeting for the house call for the passage of the work of the TVA bill and probably the general bill to outline bills for the recovery of losses sustained under the gold clause act. The Guffey coal bill, which is to be brought up to the house for action next week. The administration's tax measure would follow that in next week's session.

SPEED STRESSED IN RELIEF DRIVE

"We Must Give Useful Work to 3,500,000 People," President Declares

WASHINGTON, July 9.—President Roosevelt today told Public Works officials "speed is of the essence" in the work-relief drive to "end the dole" before the year is ended.

Thanking the PWA state directors for "very splendid work" in the old $9,700,000 program, he told the group led to his office by Secretary Weeks:

"You are now an important part of the work-relief drive to be made during the next year which will provide quick employment to 3,500,000 people. Our main goal we have set within this year: 1935."

To Spend During Year. "We will end the dole we have been paying for months during the last two years. We must give useful work to three and four million people. I believe we are going to do it."

Looking at the more than three score officials standing before him, he said: "I am glad to see you here. We want the work done but we want it done now. We don't want to pay out money for nothing."

FIRE HAZARDS LOW IN IDAHO FORESTS

Woodlands Green With Deep Drifts In Some Places, Executive Says

July 9 (AP)—Forest conditions in the Boise national forest are better than usual and fire hazards are almost at a minimum, Idaho executives said today. The Boise national forest office said today.

Out of nearly 2,000,000 acres which the forest includes, only 23,000 acres have been razed by fire since January 1, the regular ten-day report of the office showed. All but one fire, Mr. Moats said, damaged areas of less than 10 acres each.

Most of the forest is still in green condition, he commented, and at one place, from Trinity to Rocky Mountain, the Smith prairie men have had to cut through a 24-foot bank of snow to carry on repair work.

SPECIAL SESSION HEWS TO LINE OF GOVERNOR'S CALL

Salt Lake City for the construction of a $154,000 railway subway at Tampa was not valid on the grounds that the state highway laws prohibited entrance of the state into incorporated municipalities under circumstances that pertained there and to spend federal funds for the improvement of the state highway system in such municipalities.

While the house was milling away on two bills, and getting ready for action on the automobile caravan measure—the only other one introduced in that branch—the senate approved the five measures and the house bill on expenses.

Emergency Defense
Senator R. E. Whitten (R-Boise), minority floor leader, and Senator R. E. Wilson (D-Idaho) led the attack on the five senate measures.

They argued that to pass them would be to clothe the state highway department with dictatorial powers, and that local government in the matter of designating, constructing, reconstructing and repairing of roads within municipalities, highway districts and counties would be matters on which they could not vote their wishes and in the cost of which they might be forced to share as the state saw fit.

Senator Mitchell and Senator Clark explained the federal government will provide the funds for carrying the present economic emergency order which it has passed the order will be restored.

The senate bills all were approved under suspension of the rules and with little opposition.

They called for definition of state highways so as to include such traffic lanes within municipalities as the state highway department may require for the state or national road systems. Authority for the highway department to designate and supervise state roads in counties and highway districts and to do away with the technicalities which have recently caused the federal government to withhold approximately $1,275,000 in funds from the state for its municipalities by the state in order to put needy men and women to work.

The five senate bills now go to the house, which may act on them tomorrow under suspension of the rules, if that is voted.

New bills in senate
Two more bills were introduced by committees in the senate today. They call for amendments of the city charter of Boise and Lewiston so as to permit both municipalities to become eligible to use federal highway funds within their corporate limits. Their charters are the only two of the kind in the state. It was pointed out and requires special legislation.

A house joint memorial was passed by the house today for the purpose of federal works progress funds in eradication of noxious weeds.

The senate quickly tabled a resolution by Senator Wilson calling for a special session to enact laws for state ownership of power plants and sites by the house today.

The latter were both presented by the Boise national forest office (Casas). Senate and house leaders tonight were confident the session could adjourn by tomorrow night.

The principal scrap of the session appeared tonight to be in the offing over the automobile caravan bill.

The two-thirds vote for suspension in the house fell only a few votes short of the required majority.

The senate calendar includes the new city charter amendment bills, the house bill that involves validation of contracts.

It was expected by President Pro Tem Mitchell that the senate would act quickly on the three or four items for debate on the caravaning bill as soon as it reaches the senate, if it is not reached on general orders tomorrow.

The house has not acted on any of the seven bills that originated in the senate.

The church was decorated with arches of ferns and profusion of flowers. The wedding party adjourned to a reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Shaw, following the ceremony.

Rev. and Mrs. Davis returned to Hollister, Saturday, from Garibaldi, where the matter of designating, constructing, reconstructing and repairing of roads within municipalities, highway districts and counties would be matters on which they could not vote their wishes and in the cost of which they might be forced to share as the state saw fit.

Six State Conference at Cleveland Adopts Resolutions

CLEVELAND, July 9.—The six-state Republican crusaders conference adopted a set of resolutions today including one for immediate cash payment of the add-on bonus. Many of the resolutions condemned the New Deal. After approving the resolutions, the Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee adjourned the conference. The conference deplored the lack of protection of Negro rights in some sections of the country and adopted a resolution declaring for enforcement of anti-lynching laws. Under the heading of "taxes," the resolutions said: "We Republicans neither believe in taxes that oppress the poor nor in taxes that saddle the rich. Taxes must be levied on the ability to pay. . . . The party stands for: Abolishment of child labor. Old age pensions. Care of the disabled. A maximum hour law for women. Employment insurance; for employes, and. A plan to provide assistance for all persons unable to obtain employment, administered upon a business basis and not for political purposes." Other resolutions said: "Encroachment by the executive or any other branches of government is dictatorship, which we oppose. "We condemn the effects of the present administration which saps the press."

READY MADE WIFE

SYNOPSIS: While Rex Moore, the straitlaced lawyer, is on a special trip to the right Laurie Moore is looking for an interview to be in an Australian newspaper man about her marriage to Rex Moore. It is that she is not married, but that because she called herself his widow when he was in the front line, she must pretend to be his wife now that he has returned—so he may hold his job with Mark Alberty, who employs them both.

CHAPTER 19

CHAPTER 19

"And, of course, it was kept a dead secret," said Mr. Drake.

"They said 'not a word' about it," replied Laurie, "but we wanted to keep it a secret until he came back."

"Understand," said Rex, "it is extremely kind of you to tell me all this," he said gratefully, "but you could have mentioned the name of the minister who married you. But, of course, they can easily find out. Somebody from the office will make a little bit of change over. How far did you say it was from your old home?"

knocked about the world as he had. But she was no fool, and during her two-year period of idleness in her little Westminster attic, she had read an enormous number of books of all sorts.

"Give me luxury!" said Gladys to herself, as she tripped down the broad, shallow-lepped oak staircase of Mark Alberty's historic Tudor house.

It was nearly eight o'clock, at which time a dinner was served. Gladys had left Laurie up in her bedroom, hastily changing her clothes. In the hall she was waiting with Mr. Alberty all the afternoon. Something very important had happened just before they arrived. Laurie had sent Gladys down, but she could not bear to be watched when she was in a hurry.

Greenwich Village Residents Serious As Election Nears

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Greenwich Village—haven for irresponsible jads and irrepressible fasses and a center for chic and for chic, is precariously artistic—today was in a dither of seriousness.

The villagers are done with hiding their chic light under a sky-light. Now is the time, they have decided, for all good villagers to have a party and elect their mayor.

The drafted candidate's fears have turned to cheers.

The reason—the mayor will get a salary of $100,000 a year.

A box will be set up in the Vagabonds' club and the villagers are supposed to drop in donations. The mayor will be the only one who can delve into the box.

Boris in Ring

Those who have taken their berets into the ring include:

Maxwell Bodenheim, poet "Bird" novel, whose platform is "All pretty girls must dance."

Zli Grotzer, author of "Rhythms for the Whirlpool," who will campaign for the position of "Poet laureate of poetry."

Childe De Rohan D'Alarcourt, whose "title" dates to his birthplace in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and whose platform is "The Prince can do no wrong."

The police, however, in the past have disagreed violently with the suitmen of the Vagabonds' club, the organization sponsoring the mayoralty election, said: "Don't talk about that. But near her own home—where they would go and make inquiries. She had made a popular name of herself. She has given the whole show away."

Well, it was Rex Moore's fault. He had himself, and worked his way into a state of indignation. He could not have thought of such a thing. He knew all about newspaper men. He ought to have presented her with a proper packet of lies.

But when she was in bed that night in the flat, and everything was quiet and dark, she lay and saw Rex Moore's snowy eyes staring at her, and his angry mouth smiling mockingly, and his impatient shoulders shaken with that brusque gesture of contempt. She was terribly afraid.

VISITORS INSPECT BUIH HEALTH CAMP

MINN. July 9—Sunday afternoon many visitors inspected the McCusky Memorial health camp during the afternoon. Arkansas boys are only from one to five in the afternoon and it has been asked that only adults visit the camp. No children are allowed on the grounds except those attending the camp.

Miss Esther Venhous of Twin Falls, who has been the dietitian, was taken ill on Saturday and Miss Virginia Glowski of Buhl is taking her place as dietitian. Miss Venhous is secured. Several donations have been received, including a bed and napkins from different clubs for all the children, and many different food supplies.

Fifty two children are now enrolled in the camp. During the past week three children gained three pounds in weight and all except two made a gain. There was no loss for any of the children. Twenty three girls are doing 4-H club work for construction projects. Miss Joan Orr is helping with this work and directing her construction work at home so it doesn't take time at the camp. The boys are doing woodmen for their construction work. The past week they have made small thieves for their napkins in the dining room.

On the Fourth of July the first department of Buhl gave a display of fireworks at the camp for the enjoyment of the children.

The septio tanks that are being installed at the camp for the Arthur Wilson is doing the work with IERA labor.

Mrs. Roscoe Stevens, Twin Falls, director of the camp reports that the camp is progressing well and that by closing time, August 28, the children would be home and that the benefits derived from the camp will be fully appreciated by all concerned.

Charles Paddock Relies on Temple Star in Olympics

Onco 'Fastest Human' Sees Eulace Peacock as Best Bet of United States in Track Events at Berlin

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer) LONG BEACH, Calif., July 9 (AP)—Charles W. Paddock, who once held most of the sprint records, scanned the 1936 Olympic games horizon and saw only one man, Eulace Peacock, as a sure bet to defend the dash honors at Berlin for the United States.

Only dimly could the once "fastest human," veteran of three Olympics, see such speedsters as Jesse Owens, Ralph Metcalfe and George Anderson, as he paused in his duties as business manager of the Press Telegram Publishing Co.

"I can only see Peacock as a certain performer in the games at Berlin," said Paddock. "I'm afraid Metcalfe can't hold up another year, and I'm not sure of the others. I can't help feeling Owens is pretty much burned out."

As for Anderson, well, I had counted on seeing pretty much since he's from my home town of Pasadena, but it looks as though he would have to make good on the first three in either the hundred or two hundred meters."

Sprinter's Life is Shorter

Although Paddock was the exception to the rule, he feels the life of a sprinter is shorter, competitively speaking, than any other athlete who takes part in track and field events.

"I expect a couple of youngsters whom we hear little or nothing about so far, to come up next year and shake the apple with the Temple negro. You know, perhaps a lad we have heard of, casually in the school or college, who blows out in a sudden burst of speed just as Peacock did this year."

"If Owens were to specialize on the 100 and 200 meters, he would leave the hundred and the low hurdles alone he still might figure. Generally he can continue to run three events and bring home the sides and hope to make the grade. As for the short dash, the Ohio State boy has five stars, but it marks to do much good in the 100."

It was in a preliminary to the Red Sox, who had a 10-0 victory over the old Puerto Rican got his chance to show metropolitan fans—and the commission—who he had. The ring punch he exhibited that evening in knocking out tough Roy Archibald of Providence earned him a big fan following in the Big Town and convinced the Gotham scribes alone they might as well try a change, along with the National Baseball association.

Owens And Peacock Share Honors With Unheralded Athlete

Temple University Star Wins 100-Yard Dash; Far Westerner Takes Two-Mile Race in Record Time

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 9 (AP)—Jesse Owens of Ohio State and his national championship conqueror, Eulace Peacock of Temple, broke even in two events tonight in their final dual of the 1936 track and field season but were obliged to share the honors of a rain-drenched all-star meet, conducted on New York university's Ohio field, with two brilliant record performances.

Peacock capitalized the slobbering day by winning the 100-yard dash with a spectacular last lap sprint. He said afterward it was his first two mile race in competition. He had been timed for the mile in 4:14.3. Formerly a competitor for Washington State normal, he now is a graduate student at Stanford university.

A new world record was claimed for the 100-yard dash by New York A. C. quartet in the 1,000 meter Swedish relay. The event, new to this country, is not on the official world record list authorized by the International A. A. U. But the winners' time of 1 minute, 56.1 seconds was also a record. The best previous time was 1:57.4, set by the United States team at the 1928 Olympic games in Amsterdam. The winners were Glenn Hardin and Ben Eastman in Oslo, Norway last summer.

At the 200-yard dash, running consecutive legs of 100, 200, 300 and 400 meters, controlled by Willard Allington of the University of Michigan, Princeton and James McNall.

ON THE SIDELINES

by Edwards & Neill

Detroit spermaten flocked to New York for Joe Louis' triumph over Primo Carners in a surprising way few cities have equalled from such a distance. Naturally there were many gatherings, mostly sporting houses, where Joe Louis & Co. was the main attraction.

Joe Newman, who has a big hat store out there, told this one: Max Baer, looking like something straight out of a Hollywood cartoon, was seen in the crowd for a black curly hair, dropped into the block, a gathering place for the sporting boys of himself. He went hello all around. He was coming cast to train for Braddock.

A crowd gathered, naturally, and Max peep in perfect camera fashion. He acted a peevish standing on the fringe of folks outside the store, a maw with a big bundle of papers, sporting his arm, and eyes that were big with interest.

Bear close the right moment and swagged over.

"Give me a paper, son," he said loudly, waving a dollar bill.

The boy gave him the paper, shifted the bundle to dig for change.

"Never mind," said Max, expanding the bundle to show all eyes.

The kid swallowed hard and stuffed it away.

"My goodness Baer leads, 'who's the fiercest fighter in the world?'"

The kid looked up quickly, felt for his back waters and fell for the line last.

"Jack Dempsey," he said.

Suggestions Call For Nation-Wide Player Selections

Experts Favor Provision for Off-Day Before Annual Classic and Percentage of Receipts for Teams

By ALAN GOLD (Associated Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, July 9 — Three suggestions—outlined to put the all-star game longer ball game on a scrappier, more widely-popular basis were put forward by observers here today. The suggestions annual big show in the wide open spaces of the Cleveland stadium.

It is proposed (1) to give the fans throughout the country a vote on the selection of the two teams, as originally done and subsequently discarded at the annual off-day before the game, so that the rival pitchers will be in that much better shape to perform, regardless of their regular season assignments; and (2) to allocate a percentage of the gate receipts, say 10 percent, to the players on the victorious side.

The all-star game is strictly a charity affair now. The players and club owners do not get a cut out of the receipts, except ball players, banded at three separate sources. As such, it is a noble enterprise and one that has now contributed close to $100,000 in three years for benefit purposes.

It is likely to be continued on the present basis, but as a professional proposition many baseball men think it would stimulate the game to offer something besides prestige to the victors. The suggestion is to have the game on an off-day before the season opens, as such an enthusiasm as the fans. They like to play and win but their motives are not strictly altruistic and their minds are chiefly concerned with regular jobs. They feel they are running around without getting anything out of it.

Take the case of Hal Schumacher, who might be the league-leading pitcher for New York. He is the star of the all star game by Manager Bill Terry. He's the best pitcher in the league. He's the best pitcher in the league. He's the best pitcher in the league. He's the best pitcher in the league.

Scientists Eye Anti-Fat Drug in Loss of Vision

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9 (AP)—Research workers at the University of California here today were endeavoring to learn the cause of the blindness that befell an anti-fat drug, was responsible for causing the temporary blindness of 12 San Francisco bay district women who have been stricken recently.

All of the women, whose names were not recalled, had taken the drug in an attempt to reduce, it was reported by Dr. Loren Chandler, dean of the school of medicine. Dr. Chandler and Dr. Walter W. Boardman, who reported the cases to the journal of the American Medical Association, said the blindness resulted from the formation of cataracts over the eyes, but it was not clear whether the cataracts were caused by the drug or by malnutrition, unbalanced diet or other factors.

The use of dinitrophenol, first given to the attention of the world in 1923 by French scientists, has proved to be a stimulant to metabolism. It was explained, literally "burning up" excess fat.
