U. S. JUDGE SCORES 'LAWYER-CRIMINAL'

American Bar Association Turns Attention to House-Cleaning

LOS ANGELES, July 15 (AP)—It was against crime, one of the most important duties of the American Bar association, is to "aid the country of the lawyer-criminal," John J. Parker, U. S. district judge of the Fourth district, told delegates to the association's national convention here today.

In a session during which the assembled lawyers put crime, taxation, divorce and a whole array of problems into the limelight, Judge Parker denounced attorneys of the "vulture type, the ambulance chaser and the police court racketeer, who have presented the lawyer in the role of a mere parasite, preying none too honestly upon the miseries and misfortunes of his fellow men."

Calls for Overhaul

Judge Parker further criticized the "lawyer-criminal" who "counsels and advises in the commission of a crime and uses his knowledge of the legal process to protect the enemies of society from the avenging hand of the law."

Hills Antiquated Procedure

George Z. Medalle, former district attorney in New York, blamed the antiquated procedure of the courts, and the "inability of authorities to cope with it, for the disrespect for criminal law."

Dean Roscoe Pound, of the Harvard law school, who presented the major address on criminal law, said law schools, institutes for research and ministries of justice, state and federal creation of which he advocated, would join forces in intelligent overhauling of criminal law.

Stierlik said the present tax burden of nine billion dollars constitutes 22 per cent of our national income.

Senators Glass (D-Vt.) and McAdoo (D-Cal.) former secretaries of the treasury, clashed with two cabinet officials, asserting the bill to ban gold clause damage suits would injure government credit.

Both houses agreed on a partial social security bill conference agreement but another conference was in prospect on the exemption of private old age pension systems.

Rural resettlement officials reported removal of 200,000 farm families from relief rolls through their rehabilitation program.

The senate utilities lobby investigators continued their inquiry into telegrams allegedly signed with names from a city directory protesting against the holding company bill.

The senate reversed its stand on farm price fixing, removing part of that provision from the AAA amendments by a 44 to 41 vote.

President Roosevelt expressed his insistence for wealth tax legislation during the present session as congressional leaders saw hopes dimmed for adjournment by August 30.

of $1000 this year, said the "net result of the present bar examination policy is to force legal education and the profession into a strait jacket."

He said because bar examinations quiz prospective lawyers on conventional subjects with no thought of the specialized training which is required, "bad students slip by these examinations with the aid of 'crash' courses."

The association's committee on American citizenship presented the subject of states' rights in its report. "Under stress of economic depression, there is a temptation to overlook the bonds in which the federal government may exercise powers," said the report.

COMEDIAN INVOLVED IN MARITAL MIXUP

Buster Keaton's Wife, Seeking Divorce, Sues Woman for $200,000

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—The marital affairs of Buster Keaton, noted film comedian, today were brought into the divorce court by his wife, Miss Elizabeth Keaton, at the same time entangled in the already complex domestic relations of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Sewell.

Mrs. Keaton filed suit for divorce, charging infidelity, and naming as co-respondent Mrs. Leah Clannitt Sewell, whose husband is the beneficiary of a $200,000 trust fund.

Simultaneously Mrs. Keaton filed suit for $200,000 damages against Mrs. Sewell, charging she had stolen her husband's love.

Mr. and Mrs. Sewell figured in the "wife swapped" divorce suit of February of this year of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Emerson, At that time, Mrs. Emerson named Mrs. Keaton as co-respondent in her cross complaint.

Charges Misconduct

Sewell testified to misconduct with Mrs. Emerson, naming that with Emerson's consent, Mrs. Sewell was coerced by Judge Ben B. Lindsey, who denied a divorce to the Emersons.

Mrs. Keaton in her suit for divorce, alleged that her husband and Mrs. Sewell were guilty of misconduct in a Santa Barbara county hotel several times in the last three weeks.

Mrs. Keaton asserted she found Keaton and Mrs. Sewell in a hotel room on July 4. They remained at the hotel, she said, until July 10, when they returned to Los Angeles and continued to see each other.

In her allegation of infidelity, Mrs. Keaton asked for $50,000 for loss of her husband's affections and $50,000 for punishment on this count, as well as $20,000 for actual loss of her husband and another $50,000 for punishment.

Keatons Separated

The Keatons were married at Ventura on October 21, 1923, and were separated July 4 of this year. Keaton, long noted for his "poker face" comic roles on the screen, is the former husband of Natalie Talmadge, one of the famous Talmadge sisters.

The Keaton divorce suit capped a busy day in court for the Sewell family.

Mrs. Sewell appeared before Superior Judge Marshall F. McComb to further her application for a re-eval of the $200,000 trust fund of her husband pending trial of her suit for separate maintenance.

In this suit Mrs. Sewell named Mrs. Emerson as co-respondent.

Girls in Slacks Look 'Terrible' To Irish Player

By HUBBARD KEAY

HOLLYWOOD—the Abbey players, of Abbey street theater, Dublin, will have to get along without Maurine Delaney for a while. She's the only one of the Irish theatrical company, which toured America for nine months, who remained in this country.

"And I was the latter member of the troupe, too," chuckled Miss Delaney, who is fair, fat and well, several years away from 40.

"The slim ones always made fun of me, but this movie business came up, I had the laugh on them."

Miss Delaney will make her movie debut in "Old Man Murphy," certainly an Irish story, which is being directed by Hungarian Charles Vidor. "Oh, but Vidor understands the Celtic heart," says Miss Delaney, defensively. "I cannot stand anything artificial, especially about my people and before I consented to take this part, I made certain the story had nothing phony in it and that its director knew which lane to travel."

AAA AND THE COURTS

Many were inclined with the President, to believe that AAA could not stand up before the Supreme Court when that tribunal made its famous rulings on the NRA. Now that a circuit court has declared the processing taxes to be unconstitutional, their belief finds considerable confirmation.

Both of these authorities—the dead NRA and the condemned AAA—have been praised by others. Observers say that opinion is fairly evenly divided now, and that indications show popular sentiment to be swinging away from New Deal measures in general.

Thus it would seem that the administration must either modify its basic principles or undergo extreme danger of driving its program up against a blank wall. It is to be hoped that it will not waste its resources and those of the American people in a futile attempt to evade the constitution.

CRIME CAPITALS

"Let the crooks rest in St. Paul and they'll do their raiding elsewhere," argued Police Chief John O'Connor 25 years ago. He adopted this principle and superficially it seemed to work.

Recently a succession of half a dozen big kidnaping cases shook the community's faith in criminal tolerance, and a militant newspaper leagued with good citizenship groups has begun to scatter the gangs and reform the police force.

A somewhat similar campaign is in progress in New York City, led by Governor Lehman, to overcome a system of organized crime and vice which are said to cost the metropolis half a billion dollars a year.

The St. Paul policy, in so far as it is sincere, seems to have been based on the theory expressed by the English fiction hero Septimus. He kept a professional burglar as manservant, because a burglar never burgled his own home.

THE SWIMMING POOL

The new swimming pool in Harmon Park will fill a long felt need in Twin Falls. During the past week of super-hot weather, there have been many who wished it were already in use.

Swimming is not only a healthful and pleasant exercise in hot weather, it is a necessary bit of education. Drowning is still one of the major causes of accidental death.

MOSLEMS AND ETHIOPIANS

The Abyssinian plot thickens. Great Britain is seriously concerned about Mussolini's aim for complete domination of Ethiopia, and is trying to find some way to safeguard her own great interests in adjacent parts of Africa.

Reports come from French Somaliland, adjoining Italian Somaliland on the coast of East Africa, that Abyssinia hopes for aid from the Mohammedans of the Near East. A French correspondent who visited Addis Ababa and talked with Haile Selassie quotes the Emperor as saying:

"Mohammed in the Koran declared: 'Ethiopians have given me hospitality. All Mohammedans must aid Ethiopians if they encounter difficulties.' At present Moslems and Ethiopians are happy to live at peace and religious liberty."

There is a sense of expectancy in this statement. It would be an interesting situation if Mussolini, attacking the Ethiopians, were to find Moslems rising to harass him in the rear. They could hardly send an army to help in Abyssinia; but the Arabians, and the Moslems in Egypt and the Sudan, might make plenty of trouble with his communications.

TO WHOM DO THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS BELONG?

Shows an Associated Press dispatch of July 3, from Denver: "A bold challenge to the Nation's teachers to seize the balance of political power in America stirred the National Educational Association conference today. Use of the franchise was held up to the assembly by Dr. John K. Norton, Columbia university professor, as an effective instrument by which the 1,000,000 school-teachers might force certain social and political changes."

Chattanooga and Hamilton County have had experience with the community or for the benefit of the teachers themselves? Let the record speak. Two laws applicable to this community were passed by the Legislature under pressure of the local teachers' lobby. One of them gave teachers life tenures on the public payroll, under certain conditions; the other increased tremendously the teachers' payroll for both the city and the county.

Let the thoughtful taxpayer consider. Where these measures drawn and put on the statute books for the benefit of the public and the public's children, or for the benefit of the public school-teachers, who have entered politics under the guise of serving the best interests of the children and the community? And while this matter is being thought out, it might be just as well for the people to consider whether public schools belong to and are conducted for the benefit of the public, or whether they belong to and shall be conducted for the benefit of the public school-teachers and their political machine.

F. D. R. ON GUFFY BILL

The most amazing state paper in our times is the letter of President Roosevelt endorsing the iniquitous Guffy coil bill, which is so vicious it is condemned even by the radical weekly, The Nation. The president urges the members of the house ways and means committee which had the bill under consideration: "I hope your committee will not permit doubts as to the constitutionality, however reasonable, to block the suggested legislation."

What is this but an open invitation to house members to ignore the constitution they have taken an oath to support? The bill is bad enough in principle, legalizing a hierarchy of coal, a coalition of operators and workmen in the joint enterprise of skinning the consumer; and no lawyer of standing predicts it will be held constitutional. The letter looks pretty much as though the president is publicly thumbing his nose at the supreme court.

With suave words the president says "a declaration by the supreme court relative to this measure would be helpful as indicating, with increasing clarity, the constitutional limits within which this government must operate." Some new constitution sent him a copy of the court's decision in the sick chicken case.

FACING THE CAMERA

Highway police of Utah have adopted novel means of acquiring evidence against drunken drivers. They use a small motion picture camera to take pictures of persons jeopardizing highway safety. We read that of the first fifty-two cases of alleged drunks so photographed forty-eight pleaded guilty after taking a look at the films. Three of the remaining four were convicted after a hearing and looked at the pictures. The procedure is commendable and, it seems, effective. Idaho traffic officials might use a similar method to advantage.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 16—There's an increasing faith in the value and power of a radio name. Especially in the theatre and radio world. Such believers declare it would be impossible for Katherine Cornell to be the first to be encountered in a description of the great white way by Cole Porter.

O. O. McIntyre

Most dignified of special names for women are Estelle, Pauline, Horstense and Elaine. Pretty names, Ehle, Lucy, and Lily become ridiculous when a woman reaches 70. Think of an old lady named Billie Burke! The most beautiful feminine name to me is Charlotte Bronte. The unrefined real name is Patricia Colman.

The names most aristocratic are those given to Anglo-Saxons when they use the mother's maiden family name. That is Ford, Parker, Ellis, etc. Men named Fortogue and Devaux make most of us stand up and shake our cuffs. A name that fits perfectly is that of the ex-polo player, Larry Waterbury.

Speaking of George Broadhurst, he is still around, popping in at the Lambda and Players at intervals and going up the airplane seasonally for Europe. He's more amiable, his friends say, than a woman reaches 70. He likes a corner table in a club around midnight with old cronies where his joints are a contagious matter, just after supper. But he has one fault. He drops his voice when he comes to the point. Everybody laughs, but nobody drops his. "What was that last time?"

One of the recent Broadhurst stories concerned the Frenchman walking the streets of London studying English, trying to pronounce through, though, cough, hiccup, through, and through. He happened to look up and saw an electric sign "Cantide. Pronounced. Success." So he gave it up and went back to Marseille.

Some historian of the times should write down with a diamond pen in gold ink the name of Elaine Swenson as a 100 per cent American, not only of words but deeds. For three years she has been working, without pay, on the preparation of a 300-word English vocabulary for the use of foreign beginners in English. It might look easy at the casual glance but means an end of toil in counting millions of words, segregating, making frequency tables and trying the vocabulary out in actual practice. Her 300-word newspaper, The American Word, is permitted in all institutions. She is with the Language Institute.

Guiding Your Child

By ALICE CLARIBBA RICHMOND

PERSONAL REMARKS Susan was plump in a family of five, possibly the only child but for much humorous comment her father called her his "little parrot." Her mother complained that no patterns were made for fat children's clothes, and her brother, called her "fat."

When she was 16, she forced her family to change their tune. She was thinner than any of them—so thin, in fact, that she became seriously ill, and felt the effects of her illness for years to come. Susan had taken matters into her own hands and had been reducing by diet and exercises until she had depleted her system so far as to make it questionable whether she ever could get it up again.

Because a child takes teasing and is teased and for allowing it to be teased and for teasing it, even in the gentlest way, one's self, if a child consistently overreacts and is severely hurt by teasing, he should be warned or advised from its parents. It may be needed to be prescribed by a doctor, or may be helped by a warning or advice from its parents.

RAILROAD TO IDAHO MAY BE DISCONTINUED

BURLEY, July 17—William E. Lurie, member of the United States interstate commerce commission will be in Burley Saturday, July 27, to conduct a hearing with respect to the proposed abandonment of the Short River branch of the Oregon Short Line railroad company from Delta to Idaho in Cassia county.

Such is the information contained in a letter received by Mr. Lurie by District Judge T. Bailey Lee, requesting the use of the court room for the hearing, scheduled to begin at 9 a. m. on said date.

The two Lees are both former members and chief justices of the Idaho supreme court. At one time there were three Lees on the supreme bench at the same time—the third having been William A. Lee, now deceased. William E. Lee resigned to accept appointment by President Hoover on the commerce commission to fill out an unexpired term, was later reappointed and is still serving on the reappointment.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

(NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS) (Copyright, McChure Newspaper Syndicate)

WASHINGTON By Ray Tucker UNFAIR. The most damning charge against the House select committee's concern a reported offer of federal judgeships to two members of the House Interstate Commerce Commission, one of whom is a member of the "death sentence" in the utility bill.

FACT is that both legislators were in line for judicial honors long before the holding company struggle began. Department of Justice officials have finished the usual investigation of candidates for the bench in Mr. Elcher's case, and report his fitness as so many think they are. A few counselors whose counsel is never sought, however, are to their advantage to remain on the inside looking out.

SHIFT. Democratic medicine men—and the woods are full of them—send word to the capital that President Roosevelt's political health is in the most dramatic emergency duel with the power interests is credited with checking the slide in the Supreme Court just now.

HOUSE members have returned with the same opinion, but the more jittery fellows dashed over the weekend intervening between the holding company and the TVA measures. They wanted to feel that famous and influential Mr. Elcher and his associates had fled the president on the "death sentence" reversed themselves on the Tennessee experiment. They are sure it would be politically right once at least.

BURT Wheeler is capitalizing on the confusion in the House and Senate holding company bills. He is trying to frighten House and Senate alike by the Senate "death sentence" slightly revised so as to save the lower chamber's pride. He may put it over.

DING. Harold Ickes has slipped from public favor in a few days, but while muscle man of the Cabinet, didn't profit from the experience of rivals who took on too many men.

THE "curious Senator placed on Borah's desk a slip of paper with the following heading: 'Senator Borah's Record for 1936-1937'—and Borah was close friends when the former sat in the Senate, and the latter in the House of Representatives. Mr. Borah entered, sat down and glanced on the paper. He stamped his glasses and read carefully. He looked around and saw that nobody was watching him—or thought he was.

DR. LANEY. The great ice sheets that once covered much of the North American continent touched north as far as our three largest lakes—Prize, Pent Oredite, and Cour d'Alene—as well as many other great ones. They were scooped out by the ice pack. While the ice sheet was at work in the north, mountain glaciers carried down the mountains and scoured out the valleys.

NAZI ANTI-SEMITIC DRIVE CONTINUES

Campaign Against Jews and Sterilization Program Pushed in Germany

BERLIN, July 17 (AP)—Nazis today continued their anti-semitic campaign, despite warnings from higher-ups and pushed their sterilization program. Despite Catholic protests, while the controlled press cried out bitterly against "atrocity" reports abroad.

New Demands Listed
Though order had been reestablished along the Kurmarkstrasse, Berlin's white war, and recurrence of Monday's anti-Jewish riots seemed to indicate that the situation was under control, the following demands had other methods to employ.

An article in the "National Sozialeistische Partei Korrespondenz," the Nazi party's syndicate service, demanded that Jews, on pain of death if necessary, be forbidden from: 1. Rent apartments to Aryans. 2. Engage Aryans domestic help. 3. Attend Aryans as physicians, or accept Aryans as clients.

A Nazi retreat to the Vatican's strong protest against application of sterilization to Catholics—new ecclesiastical legislation providing heavy punishment for propaganda against sterilization—was further emphasized when Dr. Arthur Duetz, sterilization expert of the interior ministry, announced:

"The mixture of races causes the swelling of congenitally unsound elements."
To Confine Program
Dr. Duetz's assertion that biological considerations came before religion was taken to mean the government intended to continue its program relentlessly, despite Catholic opposition stiffened by the papal protest.

The German press, printing no word of the vigorous note from the Vatican, nevertheless devoted one of the columns to violent attacks on foreign reports of anti-Catholic disorders here. However, the press did not deny they had occurred.

Mr. Bateman reports a surplus of $25,852.99 in the general fund.

Wanda Jane was three weeks old and died at a Twin Falls hospital.

Reduction Of Fares On Railroads Asked

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—A substantial reduction in railroad passenger fares and elimination of the Pullman surcharge were recommended to the Interstate Commerce commission today as the last effective recourse left the railroads in their efforts to regulate lost traffic.

Reporting on the result of the first comprehensive investigation ever made of the country's railroad passenger fare structure, Examiner Irving L. Koch asserted that the roads have been suffering mounting deficits because of severe losses in passenger traffic revenue since 1923.

U. S. FARM RELIEF ROLLS ON DECLINE

290,155 Families Taken Off List in Year, Federal Officials Report

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Rural settlement officials said today that 290,155 farm families were taken off relief rolls in the year ended April through rehabilitation activities formerly under the relief administration.

The latest available reports show that a total of 232,771 farm families were listed as rural rehabilitation clients. They had been removed from the direct relief rolls of the FEPA.

On Self-Sustaining Basis Officials explained that the difference between the total number of families taken off relief rolls during the year and the total number of families under the rehabilitation classification on May 1, resulted from the fact that many thousands of families had returned to a completely self-sustaining basis.

They said the latest estimate from FEPA placed the number of rural farm families receiving direct relief at approximately $23,000,000. Estimating an average of five persons to the family, officials said approximately 1,150,000 individuals on farms were receiving direct relief, and that approximately 1,450,000 individuals had been removed from relief during the past twelve months.

Home Lover And Dictionary Student Is Teddy Yarosz, Middleweight Ace

Reading Consists Of Fistic Literature 'And Webster

MONACA, Pa. (AP)—He wouldn't mention himself, but rated on the basis of his home life and his pursuits, Teddy Yarosz, generally recognized as the United States' all-around middleweight champion, is a kind of a cross between Jim Braddock and Gene Tunney.

A home-loving lay, Yarosz has built himself a two-room apartment above the garage in his modest home here, and for the last six months has spent much of his time, educating himself at home in music and literature.

The educational interlude was more or less enforced by the injury to a cartilage in his right knee suffered during his bout with Eddie "Sabe" Sisko last New Year's day. His reading consists largely of fistic literature, Jack Dempsey being his bright favorite here, and the dictionary. He figures maybe he can hand his ring foes some "law breakers" out of his dictionary here.

In case his right-hand breakers fail, the shy Polish youngster (he's rural) has a record of a professional record performer during his vacation from the ring. He's also a dog fancier of parts and a race-horse fan. He has ridden in and won 4,125,000 individuals on farms were receiving direct relief, and that approximately 1,450,000 individuals had been removed from relief during the past twelve months.

Teddy Yarosz, while away the time at Monaca, Pennsylvania, until his injured right knee permits him to return to the middleweight ring, finds the accordion a great pal—when he wants to be alone.

WOMEN DENOUNCE WAR PREPARATIONS

B. P. W. Committee Attacks Large Peace-Time Appropriations

SEATTLE, July 17 (AP)—Denouncing large peace-time appropriations as leading toward war, a report of the International relations committee was submitted to the convention of National Federation of Professional and Business Women's clubs today as the delegates settled down to the serious business of the week.

The report, prepared by Dr. Grace H. Beardsley, Baltimore, Md., now en route to Europe, was presented to the convention by Miss Emily R. Kneubuhl, New York City, active in the conference in the cause and cure of war.

While refusing to say that large armaments would lead directly to war, Miss Kneubuhl said she believed there would be less likelihood of war if such huge expenditures were eliminated.

If international economic relations can be maintained in fairness and justice, all wars can be prevented," she said. Miss Kneubuhl spoke of the activities of the federation in support of the zenatorial munitions investigation and declared that investigation was of world-wide importance for the cause of peace.

BUILDING PROGRAM CHECKS EPIDEMIC

Field Hospital Put Up in 24 Hours to Isolate Scarlatina

Palmer, Alaska, July 17 (AP)—Speedy medical measures were credited today with having stopped a scarlet fever epidemic among children of the Matanuska colony project in the bud, as work on a 40-bed hospital got under way. The construction program also today saw 23 houses being built.

A dozen cases of the disease developed last week but a field hospital was put up within 24 hours to take them away from the community hall where they were being cared for. With the arrival of more building materials, the work on a permanent hospital was begun.

It is being built under the direction of Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, of the Anchorage hospital, formerly of the city.

Under Dr. Albrecht's direction, vaccination of the colony children was also carried out. He said and he said today the disease was well under control.

The hospital was designed by two of the experts who came north with the expedition headed by S. R. Fuller, of New York.

PRESIDENT SERVES NOTICE ON LONG

Louisiana Senator Will Have No Influence Over Relief Expenditures

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Senator Long, one of the bitter anti-Roosevelt Democrats, today was put on notice by the president himself that he will have no influence over federal relief expenditures.

This word came from the White House just a little before Governor H. R. Talmadge's annual severe critique, conferred with Mr. Roosevelt on the tangled $10,000,000 Georgia relief allotment. He was accompanied by Clark Howell, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, who arranged the conference. No final solution was announced.

Although he did not call Long by name, Mr. Roosevelt said at his press conference that laws recently passed by the Louisiana legislature would make it very difficult to carry on public works projects there. He added that of course the federal government intended to control spending of its own money, but desired that the legislature would interfere with projects of Harry L. Hopkins' works progress administration.

Directs Battle With Long

The president's statement was in reply to an inquiry about a conference he held last week with anti-Long members of the Louisiana congressional delegation. Prior to the Louisiana's recent assertion that he was a "liar" and a "faker," Mr. Roosevelt had left battles with Long mostly to the care of Hopkins and Secretary Ickes. Today he apparently assumed personal command.

In New Orleans, Long was quick to retort: "We ain't worrying about him down here. States where Roosevelt is supposed to be helping out are so much worse off than Louisiana that we don't want him messing about down here."

PWA officials amplified the president's remarks, saying that in addition to a ban on new Louisiana projects, the $4,000,000 for a bridge at Baton Rouge never would be released.

There were hints besides that Louisiana would find as much difficulty in obtaining its $8,100,000 quota of work relief funds for highways and grade crossing construction as has Georgia.

Talmadge said after his White House call that the president had promised to segregate Georgia's highway money pending a settlement of the controversy.

The president was quoted as saying the federal government would not take over the state highway department.

PWA officials said that with the exception of the Baton Rouge bridge all present Louisiana projects would be carried out.

CARE OF REFUGEES PASSED TO LEAGUE

Refugee Commissioners Propose That Geneva Care for 80,500 Germans

LONDON, July 17 (AP)—A proposal was made today that the League of Nations assume the responsibility for the care of refugees from Germany, situated at more than 80,000.

James G. McDonald, New York, United States commissioner for refugees coming from Germany, and Viscount Cecil of Clewwood, commission chairman, united on the suggestion. They submitted it with their report that 80,500 persons, mostly Jews, had quit Germany since Hitler came to power.

"For his era of dismissal in Germany, come to an end," the report stated. That referred to dismissal of scholars from university appointments in connection with the plight of "intellectuals" among the emigres.

Settlement and repatriation of the refugees must be carried out without consideration of their possible return to Germany, the report continued, as "the German government has taken drastic measures against their returning."

Dependent on Relief

Approximately 15,000 of the present centers are supplied, the report added, and from 5,000 to 5,500 with temporary or permanent homes in European countries are dependent on relief or in need of relief.

McDonald said a refugee economic corporation had been formed in the United States, capitalized at $10,000,000 but it had been for relief since April, 1933, he said, totaling about $100,000,000 Jews of the United States supplied $1,000,000 of it. Jews of Great Britain, $2,500,000. The Rockefeller institute aided, he said.

The greater number of the refugees have gone to Palestine, where 27,000 have found homes. The United States took in 6,000. France, 10,000. Netherlands, 4,000. Great Britain, 2,500. Others went to other countries in central Europe, Africa, and South America.

ON THE SIDELINES

by Edward J. Neil

Among other things, the all-star baseball game at Cleveland satisfied expert onlookers that Hal Schumacher, the pride of St. Lawrence university, Dolgeville, New York, and the star of the National League, is the best pitcher in the game and he's at his best in the clutch.

Schumacher was one of the few redeeming features of the all-star game, from the National League viewpoint. He stands head and shoulders above the rest of the starting assignments not only because he was the best pitcher available but because he is the year's standout in the circuit with a winning streak that touched 11 in a row at Pittsburgh July 10 as the Giants obtain their second victory.

NEW YORK, July 17—"Good news" was the watchword in the stock market today, as the general level of shares passed steadily upward to the best level of the year since 1929.

The encouraging tidings came from a number of sources, including favorable first half earnings reports for several leading corporations; a better than seasonal gain in power output; a further blow at the constitutionality of the AAA, which helped the packing stocks; bullish news, and a sharp reaction in gasoline in Europe. While new highs for 1935 or longer were made by a number of active issues, including General Motors, Chrysler, Libbey-Owens-Ford, Acme Steel, Electric Boat and others, closing levels for the market as a whole were generally a little below the day's best. Profit-taking was in evidence in the final hour.
