Series of Explosions Marks Spread of Flames in Billings, Montana, Plant; Fire Fighters Forced Back

(By The Associated Press) BILLINGS, Mont., July 26—Four men lost their lives tonight in a fire and series of explosions at the Yale Oil Corporation refinery a mile east of Billings.

Blazing oil from tanks handicapped fire fighters but late tonight they had checked the flames and prevented their damaging distillery equipment.

Flames shot from an oil warehouse on the site of a tank car on a railroad track.

Sparks from welding torches handled by the dead and injured employees are believed to have started the fire.

Lacking pressure from their hoses, firemen fought the flames from the distance by a hood of burning crude oil from ruptured tanks drove them back.

Early tonight the fire and believing that the tanks were leaking tanks of crude, road and lubricating oils had burst into flames.

Ex-Relief Worker In Mayor's Office Finds It's Tough

Chicago, July 26 (AP)—A former relief worker in Mayor's office found it a lot of work.

The municipality, he discovered, was deeply in debt. The council was sharply divided, and the mayor was forced to go against some issues against his wishes, in order to keep harmony.

Chicago had scarcely been in office a week when lead and zinc miners and mill workers, upon whom the town's business depends, went on strike. The mayor had two problems to cope with the situation.

Other complications: The mayor has no office, not even a printing plant, and his salary is $10 a week.

"I feel no different," said Gary, "than I did before I took office."

ALIEN INMATES OF FEDERAL PRISONS ORDERED DEPORTED

Roosevelt Decree Sends First Contingent of 149 Convicts Back to Lands of Their Birth

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, July 26—With economy given as a motive, the government today decided to rid its federal prisons of all alien convicts.

By order of President Roosevelt, the first group of 149, including one woman, will be put on ships and sent back to homelands in Europe, the Orient and South America. Others will be sent to their native lands as expatriates.

For some, the deportation is a blessing. The terms they are serving range down from life sentences to a year and a day. Their crimes range from murder to auto theft.

Also to be deported, although she is not of the same group, is the wife of the Dillinger case. The asserted operator of a Chicago disorderly house, she has been given one month to settle affairs in this country before being shipped back to her Romanian homeland.

She is Anna Baze, who some have said gave the word to let John Dillinger be released from prison.

Only Canadian and Mexican prisoners escaped the deportation order. The justice department said it had found that deportation of these convicts would be a hardship.

Trotzky Sees Trend To New World War

Hostilities in Africa Would Mark Opposing Groups

(Copyright, 1935, Associated Press) OSLO, Norway, July 26—Leon Trotzky broke his long silence today to predict another world war would follow hostilities between Italy and Ethiopia.

Was in Africa, the old revolutionist said, would do just what the Balkan war of 1912 did—marshall the world's powers into opposing coalitions and would mark a new period for history to repeat itself.

"It is very difficult to prophesy," he told the Norwegian press, "but I believe an eventual Italo-Ethiopian war is in the same relation to a new world war as the Balkan war of 1912 was to the World War of 1914."

"Before a new great war the powers would have to be classified and here an Africa war will point out the positions and mark the coalitions."

"It is impossible to say whether a world war will break out in three or five years, but we ought to focus rather on the Balkan war of 1912. The Balkan war, breaking the silence he imposed on himself when he came to Norway recently to try to explain his health, also pointed back into the United States."

Blood Purge Hinted In Nazis' New Drive

Dissolution of War Veterans' Steel Helmet Organization Continues

(BERLIN, July 26 (AP)—Uncertainty and hesitancy growing out of the Nazis' big drive against "reactionaries" tonight whispered conjecture today that another "blood purge" might result.

Jews and some diplomatic quarters compared the tactics employed against Jews, steel helmet war veterans and "political Catholicism" to those which preceded the June, 1934, "blood letting" in which Adolf Hitler and his helpers eliminated unwanted party members.

German and foreign observers were watching developments here apparently for important changes in the cabinet and National Socialism's leadership likely.

A wester of rumors, dire predictions and fears expressed today, like those of June, 1934, accompanied the drive against "reactionaries."

The steel helmets were today's worst sufferers. Governor Preussner, Koch and East Prussia, dissolved their organization, adding the East Prussian units to those already under the Nazi ban in Blinnitz, Mecklenburg, Anhalt, Baden and Thuringia.

Chief Heinrich Himmler of the secret police ordering additional youth groups to wear uniforms or badges or carry flags. His decree duplicated that issued earlier this week by Wilhelm Frick, minister of interior.

New attention was focused upon the steel helmets when the official German Olympic committee disclosed there were no Jews among the athletes chosen to compete for the German Olympic team. Jewish spokesmen promptly charged discrimination, Nazi officials denied the charge.

ITALY'S AFRICAN POLICY ASSAILED

Russians Cheer as German Raps Militarists of Three Countries

MOSCOW, July 26 (AP)—The seventh Communist international conference today was opened in Moscow on German Nazi, Italian Fascist and Japanese militarists today.

Wilhelm Pieck, German Communist leader, accused the Nazis of preparing to war against Europe's small democracies. He added:

"A defensive war by the national bourgeoisie of those countries will be a fair war in which Communists must take part."

Peck bitterly assailed the Italians for their policy in Africa and lashed out at the Italians for their encroachment upon China.

Loud applause greeted his statement that the most important choice facing humanity today was that between Fascism and Communism.

Communists will fight "for every inch of freedom that remains to the working classes" in the countries governed by democratic parliamentary principles, Peck said, in laying down the principle, new to Communism, that followers of Moscow should support "bourgeois" democracies.

Among the delegates was Mme. Maderaja Krupavaya, widow of Nikolai Lenin.

GIFT TAX PROMISES SCRAP IN CONGRESS

Democratic Drafters of President's Bill Endorse His Demand

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—A major congressional step toward repeal of the gift tax was taken today by Democratic drafters of the president's bill who agreed to repeal the law which makes corporations pay taxes on gifts to charities.

Senator Roosevelt openly opposed any change. Charitable organizations insisted that unless corporations were allowed some sort of deduction for charitable donations, the size of the donations would drop off.

There had been considerable discussion of the question among house and senate committee Democrats, now busy at work putting the Roosevelt tax ideas into bill form.

It was reported that earlier in the week an agreement was reached to let a corporation deduct up to 5 per cent of its income for gifts to charities.

Charity Groups Protest. Then came the president's statement following his acceptance today that the committee Democrats would not include an exemption for gifts to charities.

Scores of members, however, continued to receive dozens of letters from individuals and charitable organizations urging the change.

Under present law, a corporation may deduct from its income only the gifts which it can prove were necessary to its business. A recent supreme court decision narrowed the classification of such gifts.

The attitude of the charitable organization was summed up by Allen T. Burns, of Community Chests Council, Inc., who contended that the refusal to allow exemptions would "take us back to long and buggy days of private charity."

At the same time, the ways and means committee Democrats continued to argue for the change.

Insurance Exemptions. One of the major items for today applied to life insurance. It was that up to $50,000 of life insurance left to others not closely related to the insured.

The same exemptions apply to other insurance and to gifts of real estate.

The dispute over the financial aspects of the bill meanwhile continued. Republicans contended it would raise an insignificant amount compared with present expenditures.

Some conservative Democrats expressed approval of the rates, but many liberals insisted they were too low.

'Chiseler' Draws 20 Year Sentence

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 26 (AP)—In the most serious case yet attempted extortion, Alfred Otto Wagner, called a "chiseler" by the chief of the "G" men, today pleaded guilty to violation of the Lindbergh law and was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

FORCES INVESTIGATING LONG'S TAX AUGMENTED

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Seeking to strengthen its income tax drive against associates of Senator Long (D-La.), the government today assigned Ames W. Woodcock to join its legal forces in New Orleans.

Once a fighting prohibition commissioner, Woodcock now is a special assistant to the attorney general.

Troops Fight Fire Menacing Munitions

ANKARA, Turkey, July 27 (Associated Press)—Troops today fought a fierce battle to save important munitions dumps as heavy military bombing continued against supplies of the Turkish navy base near Izmit.

A series of violent explosions started a fire raging in a part of the military zone, the second occupation within a week in Turkish military zone.

"Fire brigades were hurried to the scene, Constantinople was put into a state of alarm and a part of the details of the explosion could not be obtained. There were no reports of casualties.

Crudely Penciled Note Offers Clue To Lost Tourists

GLOBE, Ariz., July 26 (AP)—Gila county officers today sought an explanation of a crudely penciled note turned over to the sheriff's department as a possible clue in the disappearance several weeks ago of two St. Louis, Illinois, couples who were on a vacation tour of New Mexico and Arizona.

The Lorus family may be found by the Colidge dam. May be dead and may be a lie, the note read. It was signed by "Sam Simpson 3716 Monrovia."

The spelling is that of the note, so far as officers could make it out.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lorus, with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer who were missing since May 23, were the note's authors, it was learned.

'Human Cannonball' Drowned in Ocean

OCEAN PARK, Calif., July 26 (AP) Cliff Giff, advertised as the "human cannonball," drowned here today after being shot from a cannon into the Pacific Ocean. A huge crowd on the Ocean Park pier saw the tragedy.

Many who saw Giff perform his breath-taking stunt, said that instead of striking the water in a diving position after being shot from the cannon through a 125-foot arc, he landed in the water.

Fifth Mate Wants Divorce From Widow

LOS ANGELES, July 26 (AP)—Charging he had been deceived in marrying a woman who had been used four times and advertised in newspaper for a fifth husband, Edward Tigham Neale, U. S. navy aviation lieutenant, today sued for a civil annulment of divorce from Mrs. Doris D. Neale.

When he married Mrs. Neale July 1, 1933, the officer asserted, she told him her first and only husband had been killed in an automobile accident.

But later, he said, he learned there had been four husbands, and that she was living with the fourth.

Here's A Long Tall Drink To Summer's Jolly Days

There's something about the tinkle of ice cubes in tall, frosty glasses that spells refreshment in hot weather. Fizzes and juleps, fruitades and rickies, iced tea, frosted coffee and good old lemonade are the best revivers when the thermometer registers 90 or above.

These drinks may often be prepared well in advance of when they are needed and stored in the refrigerator. Others, which are the better for being mixed fresh, may be made from foundation syrups which are already prepared and stored in the refrigerator.

A delicious home-made Chocolate Milk Shake is made with two tablespoons of the chocolate syrup in the following recipe, shaken thoroughly with a tablespoon of vanilla or chocolate ice cream and a cup of milk.

Chocolate Syrup
4 oz. unsweetened chocolate
1 1/2 cup sugar
Pinch of Salt
1/2 cups boiling water

Melt chocolate in double boiler, and sugar and salt and stir until well mixed. Place over direct heat and bring to a boil. Boil for five minutes, cool and store in a glass jar, cover and turn in ice box until needed.

Chilled chocolate drinks are not only refreshing, but renew healthful energy. Frosted coffee is made by the chocolate milk shake formula except that two tablespoons of coffee syrup are used in place of chocolate syrup. More ice cream or whipped cream may be served on top, after the mixture of syrup, ice cream and milk is shaken well and poured into tall glasses.

Coffee Syrup
1 cup sugar
1 cup strong coffee
Put sugar and coffee in a sauce pan and stir until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil and boil without stirring for about five minutes. Cool, and turn into a glass jar, cover and store in ice box until needed.

Novel Ice Cubes
Ice cubes are used in these long tall drinks both to chill and to impart them for eye-appeal and stimulus to thirst. Glycerine frozen into ice cubes gives a delightful flavor to fruit beverages.

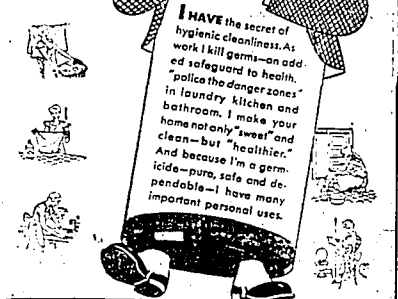

Cubes for iced tea are being made of strong lemon water and garnished with slices of lemon or orange before freezing. For iced coffee, transparent drinks, ice

An appealing dash of color and flavor added to a drink by a spoonful of grape juice which has been frozen to a mush in a freezer, try from which the rind was removed.

Novel among ways to serve ice cream and sherbets is by encasing them in the scoops in a tall glass partly filled with chilled gingerale or orange juice and garnished with a sprig of mint.

BEANS

A National Institution

We always think of beans, especially baked beans, as a vegetable which reaches its apogee in New England and which would probably reach it had a voice, with a Yankee twang. As a matter of fact, it is a good, hearty, nourishing vegetable not only full of protein, starch and iron but will be enough to answer your wants in several respects. These include the Latin languages spoken in Mexico, Italy and Spain. There are no more better bean dishes for instance, than these:

Lima Beans Italiane
Dice four slices of bacon, and fry them to extract fat. Add one chopped onion, one green pepper, six in slices, and two cups diced celery, and sauté all gently until brown. Add the liquid from a No. 2 can lima beans, and simmer until celery and green pepper are tender. Then add two cups canned tomato pulp and the beans, and heat well. Pour in center of plate, and surround with boiled spaghetti. You will use about a quarter of a package. Serve as a main dish with cheese jelly. Serves eight.

Spanish Baked Beans
Fry sixteen rashers of bacon, and remove to platter to keep hot. Pour off all but about six tablespoons of the fat. Add two dried onions, and sauté them till golden brown. Add the contents of two No. 2 cans baked beans and two teaspoons chili powder. Heat thoroughly. Add salt to taste. If you prefer to eat your beans in Italian fashion, use a little spaghetti, try these:

Appetizer Salad 'Vogue Takes On'

Europeans have long recognized the beneficial effect on the appetite of something green and fresh to start the meal. The hors d'oeuvre in the French and antipasto of the Italians are examples of this. But Americans do them one better with a salad that is as salad, topped usually with mayonnaise.

For reasonable appetizer salads, try these:

MOLDED CRAB MEAT
2 tablespoons gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
3 tablespoons hot lemon juice
1 cup crab meat, flamed
1 cup chili sauce

DEVILED EGG
6 hard-cooked eggs
2 tablespoons red mayonnaise
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
Dash of cayenne
1 teaspoon salt

SUMMER SALAD
1 cup cucumber, diced
1 cup red cabbage, thinly sliced
3/4 cup scallions, thinly sliced
1/2 cup red mayonnaise
1 large red tomato, cubed
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of paprika

FRAMING A TAX LAW: The House of Representatives at Washington is, under our federal Constitution, the tax-originating branch of the national legislature.

THE HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE, accordingly, is now engaged in framing the new federal tax laws suggested by the President.

IT IS, however, in imposing on Congress the unexpected duty of imposing heavier federal taxes before adjournment, has been far less definite than usual.

SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY MORGENTHAU, representing the Administration, has submitted to the House committee 28 "tentative schedules" all with different rates, which might produce anywhere from one hundred eighteen million dollars to nine hundred million dollars additional revenue a year, according to the rates adopted.

IT WOULD have been much easier, though less traditional and constitutional, if the Executive Department had submitted one definite schedule and said, in effect: "Now, damn you, adopt this and go home."

IT IS, better on the whole, however, for the House to maintain its historic privilege and work this problem out for itself, with what expert help it can get, even though it takes all summer. Tax rates are important, and may become more so.

IT IS the President's privilege to propose broad, general policies and principles, and the Senate's privilege to confer and collaborate, but the House of Representatives, being closer to the taxpayers, should have most to say about it.

LAGUARDIA'S STAND: Mayor LaGuardia of New York has taken a good deal upon himself in refusing to recognize a commercial treaty between Germany and the United States.

IT SEEMS that he wishes to punish Germany for her treatment of Jews by discriminating against Germans in the matter of issuing licenses.

SUCH IS the fuel upon which international hostility feeds. Germany's treatment of her own citizens, however unjust, is not the business of Mayor LaGuardia nor any other American.

IF AMERICANS have been mistreated in Germany it is improper, and it is a matter for the State department to decide upon rather than the mayor of New York.

BUT NEW YORK City, by frankly discriminating against a German, in violation of treaty and without due cause, gives Germany a true right to complain. Some aggrieved German may try to even it up at the expense of an American citizen—and so it goes.

WHAT THE world needs is more people who have learned to mind their own business.

SUPERMAN: According to a news item, a Santa Monica woman, who had had her husband incarcerated for wife-beating, knocked out one policeman and nearly overcame another in trying to get him out again.

ONE (founder), if he was able to beat such a wife single-handed, just how they got him in jail in the first place. Or if he went willingly, for sanctuary, will the police be able to get him out?

TESLA'S WONDERS

Nikola Tesla, the Yugoslav-American inventor, now seventy nine years old, is always deserving of respect for his great contributions; both theoretical and practical, to American science.

NEARLY all the electric motors now running in this country are said to come from Tesla's revolutionary work in that field, building upon the previous work of Thomas A. Edison and others.

HE has been, possibly, a greater electrical genius than Edison or any other American, though Edison far excelled in his broad range of thought and discovery.

DR. Tesla's claim to have taken Edison's place, however, is not convincing. Neither are his accounts of wondrous new discoveries made in a long interview with newspaper men on his last birthday.

HE talks volubly of transmitting energy great distances without wires, of leaping ships automatically on their courses regardless of weather, of sending direct current without a commutator, of discrediting Einstein's theory of relativity, and so on. But he gives no proofs, and has said many of these things before. He seems to be dreaming of great things which other men may or may not carry out.

HOLDING BACK RECOVERY: Charges by the American Economic Foundation that industrial recovery is being retarded by the suppression of invention merit more than the usual attention to the "hands out" of propaganda organizations.

THERE are many confirmatory circumstances evident in the news. In a booklet called "The Verdict of Invention on the Case of the Public Interest vs. The Abuse of Patent Pool Monopolies" this unequivocal charge is made: "Patent pool monopolies often abuse the inventor. Often they refuse to compete with the inventor. Often they exist for the purpose of exacting unfair royalties from them. They enter into unfair competition with their licensees. Often, too, because of the threat of suits, they intimidate their licensees unmercifully. Assertions of that sort clearly call for investigation by the department of justice, by the federal trade commission and by congress."

MONOPOLY, through the abuse of patents and the suppression of invention or extortion through the abuse of patent privileges, outrages American sentiment. Proficiency in invention, zeal in the foundation and promotion of new industries and new industrial processes and respect for the inventions that are dependent standards American characteristics since colonial days.

THE United States recently issued its 20,000,000th patent. Among popular American heroes none rank higher than great inventors like Morse, Howe, Edison and others whose works have become integral factors in the everyday life of the American people. Among the communications from inventors cited by the American Economic Foundation is that of Thomas Edison, of Indianapolis, manufacturer of ventilators, dies and punches. He says: "It is wrong for our government patent office to allow the corraling of patents by large companies who never put them to use, with the result that other inventions, which in many instances the unused patent, cannot be put on the market."

"ANYTHING GOES" (Baker, Oregon, Democrat-Iberian): Just as in the news the other day: John J. Backus, late chairman of the Democratic national committee, Senator Key Pittman, late chairman of a five million-dollar dairy mining syndicate in Nevada. Pittman is regarded as the author of the administration's silver policy, which is to boast the price of silver. Pittman was interested in mining properties at the time he secured the adoption of this program. Not content with profits on other operations he proceeds to further turn his senatorial politics into lots of good hard cash for Key Pittman through another large scale promotion. What a howl there would be if an "old deal" senator were to use his position for personal profit in this manner. But "anything goes" now days.

SUBSTITUTIONS (Caldwell News-Tribune): One of the things which seem to all the country is that we have made some unfortunate substitutions. The substitutes are cutting the country about the way you'd expect a cross-word puzzle designer to run a football team after the smart quarter back on a fractured tibia.

WE've substituted the automobile for the old-fashioned woodchuck. We've substituted liquor brands and cocktail parties after the fashion of dress. We've substituted delicatessens for the collar where mother stored sauer kraut and carrots.

WE've substituted crooners and saxophone players for the "fiddlers." We've sent old Dobbin to the pasture, through the buggy whip on the ash pile and turned to gasoline and alcohol, concrete and rubber seats.

WE've substituted radios for alarm clocks, soft clubs for scrub-brush, counters for red flannels, permanents for hair ribbons and Hollywood for almost everything that was most and fine. We've substituted paternalism, the debt and rat for rugged individualism and personal responsibility. We listen to Huey Long instead of Daniel Webster.

AND now they want us to substitute something for the Constitution of the United States. And, we suppose, doesn't make much difference—the second sitting in that case, and the same pretty well lost anyway. But from the topmost seat in the case, almost half a mile from the playing field, we raise our voice in protest. We've had all the substitutions our team can stand.

BREAKFAST FOOD: Hoopy—I understand they are planning to require every divorce in the movie colony in California to wear a hat during the ceremony. My husband's hat has had a warning to unsuspecting men.

POOPY—Oh, I don't think that would be practical. All the pretty proceeds in the state couldn't print enough hats for the purpose.

SKIE—I hear that young Porsche is bringing suit against the government for $50,000 damages. Porsch—On what grounds?

SKIE—Porsch is suing for a government job and was carrying a heavy piece of iron when the shaft blew and he dropped the iron on his feet.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 26—Thoughts were strolling: The blondes will wear red hats. Railroad station clocks always hit fast to fool the leggers. Bradock never taking a drink in despair was a fine epic of adversity. Steve Harnagout with sideburns could almost pass for John Bull.

Grand name for that new bar: The Twitter Room. A Norman docking still throws the pot. A thousand a week and better. Any Noobe appears to be the only left.

THE chips fall daintily on his napskin. When he reached his upmost station the only thing missing about his adventure in art was the quick.

And high up in a down-town office building Dr. Arthur Cory gives way to his hobby of collecting penny banks. He now has more than 1000 carefully indexed on shelves in his eight-room office. He has gathered them from every corner of the world and is said to be the only collector of this sort. As a child he was fond of collecting penny banks. He was never able to acquire.

What was once New York's Automobile Row, between 33rd street and Columbus Circle on Broadway is only a shell of an opulent strip. Its windows, saloons and salemen were the most fastidiously dressed in any area, its pavements flush with the most stylish shoppers. Even Jandorf, the first of his kind, became a millionaire selling used cars. Today three of the big motor buildings are starkly empty. Sales forces are shucked to a minimum. Everything has a marked-down air. The business has moved further up-town.

Such weather recalls Mark Twain's line: "I feel like asking off my skin sitting around in my bones."

George Gerwin was standing nearby when a neatly dressed white-haired man bent over one of those round tables at the sidewalk cafe for a drink. In leaning his hat and glasses fell off. In retrieving them his fountain pen and cane clattered to the ground. "I seem to have joined the general collection," he chuckled.

Alone in City After Near Tragedy

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD Thomas McCur, son of Neil McCur of Chicago, who accidentally almost played a transcontinental bus and 24 persons into the water of Donner Lake, Calif., vainly hunted by telephone for his grandmother in San Francisco. The boy came alone after his father had been taken off the bus, but the address he had for his grandmother proved incorrect and he did not know her first name. The Traveler Aid, however, took care of him and lodged him in the juvenile detention home while trying to find his proper destination. (J.V. Photo).

Nothing to get A northeast storm in a summer cottage where there scarcely room to move, and the toys were left at home. Why do mothers preparing for vacation always think in terms of long, sunny days out of doors and forget the inevitable storms which last for days and are too cold and raw to go out into?

It would be an excellent piece of foresight if every family which habitually went away on vacations had in their regular luggage a play box. It need not be large or heavy, but should be planned to hold enough favorite toys and games to do for hours' occupation when children are housed by sickness, accident or weather. The children can choose for themselves what they will take, and with a little oversight and advice from the experience of their parents, they are quite able at an early age to take entire charge of their own play.

It would be an excellent plan to add a few books to these rainy day supplies. Children's books are not always easy to borrow or buy at summer resorts, and they may prove of inestimable value during long, rainy days. It is a good idea to remember about the open fire trying to remember how they came to leave the heat, and its comforts to escape the heat.

There Are Other Things That Are Getting Too Big

YOU'RE GETTING TOO BIG!!

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

(NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS)

WASHINGTON: By Ray Tucker. MUST, President Roosevelt is hoping that wholesale legal destruction of the New Deal will boost his chances in 1936. He hasn't taken his chief aides into his confidence.

Political insiders realize that Mr. Roosevelt's go-ahead policy is born of a determination rather than of desperation. Regardless of the situation, he must have the tools furnished him in the Guffey, labor disputes, AAA and old suit bills. The first two are necessary to stave off major industrial outbreaks that would cripple the recovery. The AAA amendments must become law or hardship will stalk through the farm belt. Without a ban on political battles, Roosevelt is called on to shell out $7,000,000. It hasn't got yet. Then he would be in a fix.

Mr. Roosevelt's advisers don't agree that a legal upset on election eve would result any militantly to the benefit of the Democrats. The choice would be more devastating than it was when the NRA and the CIO were passed in 1935 before the voters went to the polls and the GOP might capitalize richly on the confusion. They're just acting for the chance.

WORKER: Harry Hopkins is making a move to a white-hot position that the holder of the world's record for digging up jobs might lose his trophy. But the dust and misery are reaching into New Jersey. Mr. Hopkins resents it when you refer to his type of projects as "leaves" and "handouts" and "handouts" though he justifies them. So far he hasn't found a name for his new activities. He is putting people to work on the Treasury floor.

Mr. Roosevelt's friends aren't worshipping on this issue. They have an answer all prepared. They will point out that the Roosevelt administration is not a new one. It is a continuation of the old one. It is a continuation of the old one. It is a continuation of the old one.

REVIVAL: The Democrats '32 platform has become the center of controversy. Some GOP-ers suggest that their party ought to stand on the platform of the Democrats '32. Mr. Roosevelt's friends aren't worshipping on this issue. They have an answer all prepared. They will point out that the Roosevelt administration is not a new one. It is a continuation of the old one. It is a continuation of the old one.

SENSITIVE: FDR has enjoyed more pleasant relations with the Washington press corps than any other President since the system of formal press conferences was devised in Taft's time. President and press, especially the President, have proved a good team. The press view is that the architect sketched their blueprint before they knew where the structure was to be built.

ROOSEVELTS will take credit for the President's so-called "repudiation." They will call it courageous statesmanship. But it is a grand scrap—and almost the first time that a major party will pay that much attention to a four-year bird's nest.

NOTES: John W. Preston, associate justice of the California Supreme Court, resigns his $12,000 a year job, with seven years more to go, to accept a position in the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. A beautiful young woman, Mrs. C. R. Overman, has been named as the woman who will be in charge of the ritual at the graveside.

LEA Hoobing, Everett Husted, Jack Ross, L. W. Ripper, Bob Oriley and Harlan Bee acted as pallbearers.

Mrs. Hyde died at her home on Monday evening following a ten day illness. She was 72 years old. Her husband, Harold C. Hyde, and two sons, Gerald, 15; and William, 14; and a daughter, Betty Jane, 11; also a member of the family. The funeral service was held at the Buhi cemetery, and was held at the home of Mrs. Hyde and her aged father. The interment was in the Buhi cemetery.

WEWELL INSTRUCTORS UNITED IN MARRIAGE: BUIH, July 25—An attractive home wedding was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock when Irene Mipper, daughter of J. P. Mipper, became the bride of Wendell Burley, of the Rev. Roy L. Titus reading the ceremony. The bride was in white, and the groom in a tuxedo. The ceremony was held at the home of Mrs. Mipper and her aged father. The interment was in the Buhi cemetery.

The lawn was beautifully decorated with flowers of the season. The couple marched to an improvised arch to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding march, led by Mrs. Dean D. Mipper, and her aged father. The bride was dressed in white, her veil held in place by a coronet of panthers. She carried an arm bouquet of gardenias and maiden hair fern, and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Mipper, who was dressed in white. The bride was dressed in white, her veil held in place by a coronet of panthers. After the ceremony refreshments were served to intimate friends and relatives. The bride cutting and serving the three wedding cake. Mrs. Manning, a graduate of Buhi high school and Allison, a normal school graduate, were in charge of the refreshments. The ceremony was held at the home of Mrs. Mipper and her aged father. FUNERAL SERVICES FOR BUIH MATRON: BUIH, July 26—A last tribute was paid to Mrs. Irene Hyde, prominent Buhi matron and wife of Harold C. Hyde, by a simple but impressive service on Thursday morning at the Presbyterian church with Rev. G. O. Goldthwaite and M. M. Van O. Patten officiating.

Interment was in the Buhi cemetery.

Delegates Return With Attendance Record for Twin Falls

Declaring it to be the most successful assembly ever held from the standpoint of leadership and inspiration, ever conducted by the Idaho Baptist Assembly, Twin Falls delegates who returned yesterday from Beasley, were especially complimentary to Rev. R. T. Douglas, senior pastor of the local church. Twin Falls Baptist Young People's Union, under the leadership of Miss Mae Scott, had the largest registered delegation of young people, 26 being enrolled in full classes. Almost 100 Twin Falls Baptists attended the assembly. One of the highlights of this week's sessions was the illustrated address on international affairs by C. A. Wells, famous cartoonist, traveler and observer of foreign relations. Mr. and Mrs. Wells, who have visited Italy, Germany, Russia and China in recent months, gave graphic accounts of conditions abroad. The facility included many of the best-known of the world's cities and workers of the west and middlewest. An especially impressive oratorical feature was the presentation of the "The Sin of Ahab" by cast of six, three Twin Falls young people, M. C. Ballinger, Walter Wells and Randel Wilson, included in the cast.

Italian Recalls Ethiopian Attack Of 39 Years Ago

HAYWARD, Calif., July 26 (AP)—If the Italian army goes into Ethiopia, Luigi Angelus, thinks that nothing less than liquid fire will bring it victory. Angelus declared here today that he speaks with some authority because of his claim that he was the sole survivor of an Italian brigade ambushed by the Ethiopians in 1896. And even his name, he added, was among those listed as killed. The former soldier, who works on a government relief project here, said his brigade was ambushed near Adowa, where the Italian army was defeated by Emperor Menelik. He said he was shot in the leg but hid under the bodies of dead comrades and eventually escaped. "But I'm still listed as dead," he asserted. Angelus declared the Ethiopians concealed themselves in hills overgrown with brush and trees from which, in his opinion, they could only be routed by liquid fire.

GOVERNMENT FUNDS FOR MARKET ROADS

Twin Falls County's Highway Districts Consult State Officials

Directors of Twin Falls county's highway districts were advised by Governor Ross and J. H. Stemmer, state commissioner of public works, in Boise Thursday to seek government funds through PWA for improvement of farm-market roads rather than for widening of the Old Oregon Trail U. S. highway 30 through the county. Stemmer, who had just returned from a conference in San Francisco with federal agents, advised the highway district directors that it would be impossible to secure PWA funds for purchase of materials that would be required for widening of the highway.

Under the present PWA set-up, he said, an allowance is made of $100 per man per year employed in approved projects.

Favored Project
Improvement of a nine-mile road between Hansen bridge and Rock Creek as a PWA project seemed to meet with the state officials' favor, highway district directors returning here yesterday said, and assurance was given of an early study of the project by state highway engineers.

In attendance at the conference with the governor and public works commissioner were "these highway district officials:
