Young Woman and Injured Companion Removed From Side of Granite Mountain in Yosemite Park

(By The Associated Press) YOSEMITE, Calif., Aug. 7 (AP)—Gravelly dirt on steep side of a solid granite mountain where a mistop would have meant a 2,000-foot plunge to death, park rangers today rescued Miss Elizabeth Lorimer, 23, of Chicago, Mass., and her injured companion, Robert Tate, 35, an Inglewood, California, resident.

Miss Lorimer appeared little the worse for the ordeal, although she spent the whole night hanging to a rock for her life. She was clad only in a costume of hiking shoes. Fate was brought to the rescue by the timely aid of an ambulance and taken to Lewis Memorial hospital in Yosemite valley. Doctors said she was suffering from a fractured shoulder, badly cut head, body bruises and scratches and a possible fracture of the skull.

Tartar At Hearing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Republican victory in Rhode Island in the year's initial election elated G.O.P. leaders today, while most Democrats scoffed at the result. It indicated a national trend against the New Deal.

But Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) bluntly attributed his party's defeat to "uneconomic policies of the administration," and Sen. Charles McNary (D-Ind.) was indicative of a determination to go to the fight.

President Roosevelt refused comment, telling his press conference he hadn't known about the election until after the polls had closed.

The executive also declined comment on Rhode Island's rejection of a $12,000,000 public works bond issue sponsored by Democratic governor, Theodore F. Green. Only one item, $2,000,000 for unemployment compensation, was approved.

Representative Gerry (D-R.I.), explaining why Charles F. Rusk was able to garner 48,923 votes in his state's election, said he was "not surprised" that Rusk had won 35,054 for Antonio Prince, the Democratic candidate said the "process" was "not a fair one."

Two Youths Try Living In Wilds To Win $200 Bet

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 7 (AP)—On a $200 bet, two Tacoma youths are going into the wilds of the region near Olympia, mountains to live for 30 days with only a fishing line, a hunting knife and a parrot.

The two, Tom Vitor, 23, and George R. Vitor, 21, started their back-to-nature stunt some time today and will be in the wilderness by nightfall. They had discarded clothing with friends at the last outpost of civilization, wearing only gym shoes and trunks into the forest.

Their stunt came about through an argument in a store over the price of a pair of shoes. "I'll bet you $200 a man can go into the woods with a fishing line and a hunting knife and live at least a month," said Vitor.

"All right," said Vitor, "I'll bet you $200 a man can go into the woods for 30 days with only a fishing line, a hunting knife and a parrot." The bet was made at the store.

owners. New pots were supplied to persons wanting them. A good many dogs, cats and miscellaneous animals were permanently and painlessly put to sleep because they were injured, sick or undesirable, or because they could not be placed.

The amount of such work varies with the size of the community in which it is done. It is unpleasant to think of the evils which would have resulted if all those animals had been unneared for when they got into difficulties.

The health and safety of human beings are closely related to the work of animal protective leagues. They deal kindly with animals partly to protect human beings.

TUB TALE: You can navigate in a tub. A Swedish sailor has proved it.

The Three Wise Men of Gotham, you remember, went to sea in a tub, and their voyage was no longer than this sentence.

Denn Swift wrote a celebrated tale about a tub, but that was satire. Here is fact, set forth in the world's daily press.

Bertil Hjelmstrom, an apprentice sailor on the sailing ship C. B. Pederson, on the night of July 10 deserted his ship somewhere off the Australian coast, using for his purpose the captain's wooden bathtub.

He launched his tub, stocked it with food and fresh water, fitted it with an outrigger to steady it in the manner of South Sea Islanders, set up a small mast and a bit of canvas, and set sail, on July 25 he sailed into Thursday Is., Queensland. And, alas for romance, this enterprising young scallawag was promptly arrested as a "prohibited immigrant."

Just why he was prohibited is not revealed. Maybe because he was a deserter, or maybe the Swedish quota for this year was filled.

Anyway, he proved it could be done. But let adventurous American boys beware of sneaking the family bathtub down to the river and starting for Australia. Remember this was a wooden tub. Even an old-fashioned tin tub might do, but our modern plumbing is not very nautical.

THE WHITES DOOMED? (Lewiston Tribune) The recent statement of Dr. Charles Richet of Paris, an expert on population statistics, that within a century the Whites of Europe will be threatened with extermination by the races of Asia, has aroused widespread and somewhat unjust attention among the cautious race of mankind.

The French authority predicts that in a decade there will be 140,000,000 Mongoloids in Eurasia and only 20,000,000 more Whites in Europe, and that in 100 years from now the white race will have become so numerous that Asia no longer will be a continent of the future, but a continent to contain it. He asserts, for example, that for every 250 Chinese born, there are born 45 Germans, 10 English, 15 French.

This moves the Detroit Free Press to foresee a day in the not distant future when another Genghis Khan will lead hungry Asiatic hordes on an invasion of Europe through Russia, which would mean the complete submergence of the Whites, the destruction of their "time-honored institutions" and the replacement of their magnificent civilization.

It is not merely a matter of birth control, thinks the Free Press, but a matter of birth power. Asia has been, at the west's knee, an apt pupil in the art and science of war. And the west is setting it an example in territorial and commercial greed, anger, arrogance and ambition, anything but tolerance and good will among nations.

What is fairly certain is that if Europe should ever go under, what would happen to America?

AGIN REGIMENTATION: (William Allen White in Emporia, Kan., Gazette) Let this principle of production and price control be established and history ceases, change and progress stop.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 7—Thoughtful walking. Grand name for a walk from Roosevelt to Lexington. There is a real Farm of the Future in the city.

Pass for a dandy young Irish cop. Waxed. For. Waxman — out a press agent. One an editor. Leon. Wright; a painter.

Anyway, few can look so well. Pearls. Dredged. Man: hat on a Sunday afternoon. Cyclops red-hair. I recall but three Oscars in the American stage—Pigman, Shaw and Zerk. Wonder if Crosby Gage knows Haubege Page?

Look alike: Frank Fay and Harde Albright. And Bob Durland and Harry Belafonte. Disputed umpire: Whitthrop Aldrich. John Charles Thomas has the biggest chest in the city. The English old maid. Babbling brook line from the radio room: Ted Flo Rito playing Rio Rita.

Stewey: Wrapping the favorite again in bacon-rind to take out the half-moons. Those white-haired messengers "boys" who mumble. Benson theatre joins the building boom. You have to look twice to realize Baron Winograd is not Sir Winston Churchill.

Who's become of the bloods who were in the city? The new fiction: Rex Stout. In all the magazines. Captain to click at St. Beatrice. The question spot: A stage Coach Inn veranda at sundown.

Shop-lifting shops in New York. Shop and stores is estimated at half a million a week. The losses have grown some during the depression but not as much as expected. The great obstacle to fighting up on shop lifters is the lack of staff.

A shop-lifter slipped in the act can claim absent-mindedness and show money in hand to pay and until there's a police record the establishment faces costly action. The waiting stores, such as Kilday's in Union Square, are targets for lifters. But if they are trapped the prosecution is severe.

One of the queens of shoplifters some years ago had the name of a sentimentalist, most heroine Kitty O'Dare. She was in fact, although a rock-checked blonde of Turkish descent, making the name believable while caroling in the Atlantic Garden on the Bowery. Kitty carried to her pining behind sporting houses, visited only the exclusive establishments and basked in the grandeur of bon ton hotels and cafes.

Fuller street newspaper office one morning I had a sickening close-up of a pick-pocket at work. Wedged in the gray-headed, card-sharper and his gaze fell on a serpentine hand running lightning-like over the clothes of a newspaper reader most to us. Like the day of a globe the hand went into a hip-pocket, brought out a purse and in a flash the gray-headed card-sharper was not seen. What I shall never forget was the casual, detached expression of the pick-pocket's face as he turned away. The entire incident took place in a matter of seconds and vanished.

But most fascinating of the light-fingered finger of my notion is an old girl, a widow, who would like to see. Invariably he has saved face, is a plucky dresser and often scolds at several languages. He lams in his calling but a few months until he is tagged by ship officers who warn with posters: "Professional Gamblers Aboard! Thus he must play against almost overwhelming odds, sized up his victims within 40 hours after sailing, jockey them into a losing game and take his chances. Few criminals today so perilously on the dangerous edge of life as consistently he. Yet he must play as they caught. Many now silver-haired have been taking chances for years. And still go up the gangplank.

Reverts in E. Hat; I was day dreaming in the corner of the Primeiro Terrace, mark the name, in rue de Bac. A tea room conducted by two English old maids with split curls and a screaming parrot, which has the choicest and most recent vintage wines in France. Such every victor long for Paris despite her hypocritical, inuits and so succeeding.

Guiding Your Child

By ALICE CLARISE RICHMOND

YOUNG WORRIERS: Children are not "born worriers"; they do not inherit the tendency; they absorb it from their environment, and then suffer from it all their lives. If parents would realize this, they would expect their worry in their children's presence.

Often parents are so much in the habit of saying, "I'm worried about money" or "Your father is worried about his job," that eventually they are worrying their children. Perhaps they think the children do not notice or pay attention. If they could read their children's minds, however, they would find that more than one was haunted by fear. One little girl, having heard that the house was being mortgaged, cried herself to sleep for nights and incorporated in her prayers the request: "Help in the sale of the mortgage soon."

In the books she had read, someone always was worrying about the mortgage and struggling to pay it. The penalties for not doing so were very terrible. She was terrified by the thought of being sold to a creditor and struggling to pay it. The penalties for not doing so were very terrible. She was terrified by the thought of being sold to a creditor and struggling to pay it.

Worry alone is not constructive and can accomplish nothing. Children should be taught to understand the cause of the debt, to understand, and let him do his share in helping to cut expenses. Even if he is quite small, something of the situation can be explained to him.

Whereas they claimed that 300,000,000 of the "tariff adjusted" tariff would be paid for by foreign imports of steel in the first five months of this year, Mr. Full will say that the increase of exports over imports during the period gave employment to 1,438,000 men. He will list a $400,000,000 gain in steel exports for 1934 over 1933.

And also point out that six steel magnates drew down $1,100,000 in salaries last year.

NOTES: Despite technical details, the conference on the AAA bill have terminated for 1934 over 1933. Another effort will be made to put through a bill to increase the tariff on steel. An inside rumor is that the Republican party is still in a shuffling up trouble.

JAMBOREE TROOP, CAMPS IN PARK

Four-day Training Course Precedes Assembly at Washington

A bugle call at 6:45 o'clock this morning will signal the beginning of a busy day's activities for 30 Boy Scouts composing the Snake River area's national jamboree troop who yesterday set up tents at the east corner of Twin Falls city park for their quarters while here in attendance at a four-day jamboree training camp.

Crowded into the first days, of which only three now remain, is a full program of activities calculated to equip the troop members for participation in the national jamboree at Washington, D. C., where 30,000 Boy Scouts are to be assembled this month.

DRAMATIC GROUP ORGANIZED HERE

Community Players Hope to Establish Civic Theater in Twin Falls

With the incorporation of a regulation civic theater as an objective, a group of talented young people of Twin Falls, who have had extensive dramatic experience in high school, university and community plays, have organized an acting group to compete with the Community Players, under the leadership of Mrs. Warberg.

The organization will be strictly of non-profit nature, and programs made will be dependent upon the support of Twin Falls and community organizations. It will be a dramatic organization, serving as an educational aid to the community and supplying a definite need for dramatic expression and appreciation, according to Mrs. Warberg. It is hoped that eventually the organization will be able to build a theater, which will probably be known as the Twin Falls Community theater.

The Community Players will make their initial bow to the public September 8 at the Twin Falls high school auditorium. Members of the cast and the production staff for this first play, "The Prince Chap" by Regio, will be charter members of the organization.

Rehearsals for the three-act comedy began last Monday evening, with the selection of the principal roles. Five or six minor roles are yet to be assigned. Many of the principals have appeared the past year in university and college dramatic offerings, and at least one member of the cast, Melvin Schubert, has taken part in several radio broadcasts this year. All are well-known to Twin Falls and community organizations.

Principals are Melvin Schubert, Clifford Anderson, Nelson Bohler, Dorothy Doss, Tom Alworth, Maxine Buckentin, Elizabeth Cameron, and Little Betty Ann, who also takes the juvenile role in the play.

Members will be solicited throughout the community, and the organization divided into two groups, an acting group to be known as "The Community Players," and a sponsor group. All money earned by the presentation of plays will be applied to the organization for furthering its objectives.

Twin Falls, state president, and Mr. Mann were speakers of the evening. Mr. Murray, who attended the national convention recently was presented with a gold medal in recognition of his years of service.

Forty plumbers of Twin Falls entertained at a dinner Tuesday evening at the New Regerson Hotel. Coffee shop in honor of Alex. W. PLANNERS DISCUSS LIBRARY PROJECT

Cooperation Assured in Attempt to Secure New Building

Twin Falls municipal planning commission met last evening at the city hall and discussed the several major proposed projects that are now under consideration, including that of a new and adequate water supply for the city and the oiling and grading of streets and alleys.

Mr. Everett M. Sweeley, on behalf of Twin Falls library board, presented a plan by which a new city library could be built on the city lots across from Twin Falls city park at a cost of $45,000. The commission unanimously went on record as approving the proposal and assured the library board of every cooperation in securing of such a project.

Discussion of the installation of a new water tank at the city filter plant south of here occupied the greater part of the evening and plans are under way to secure such a tank which would water the city of pure and adequate water supply of pure water.

Walter Kading, Boise, district engineer for the works progress administration, was scheduled to address the meeting but failed to put in his appearance.

DIVORCE ENDS SECOND MATRIMONIAL VENTURE

In divorce court for a second time, Mrs. Mary Adeline Hawkins of Piler was today awarded a divorce from Sidney E. Hawkins to whom she was married twice.

Her petition for divorce was not contested at hearing before Judge T. Bailey Lee of Burley in the district court here today, after a property settlement was agreed upon. Under terms of the settlement Mrs. Hawkins received the Hawkins equity in a 40-acre farm, and Hawkins retained a four-acre tract at Piler.

In her petition for divorce Mrs. Hawkins blamed his children by a former marriage for their marital woes that took her twice into divorce court. Following the former divorce, the complaint said, Hawkins followed her to her daughter's home in Dexter and persuaded her to resume the marriage relation, promising there would be no more

PROPERTY VALUE SHOWS DECREASE

Cassia County Report Points Out Drop on Real Rolls; Personal Property Gain

BURLEY, Aug. 7.—While valuations of property entered on the real rolls of Cassia county dropped $17,992 under 1934, an increase of $57,932 on the personal roll is noted from a comparison of abstracts for the year 1934 and that of the present year, which was mailed to the state auditor Saturday by County Auditor Calvin E. Wright, for use by the state board of equalization.

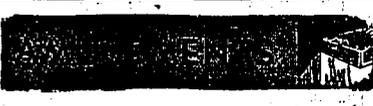

The increase on the personal roll, said Assessor Seth P. Harper, is because of the fact that many mortgages have been made during the past year by farmers on their lands to the Federal Land bank, which will permit personal property to be assessed against the real estate. Aggregate totals of both real and personal property for 1934 compared with $5,879,946 in 1934. Exemptions, widows and soldiers, were $130,908 and $135,379 respectively.

Irrigated Lands
On the 1935 abstracts irrigated lands total 78,916 acres, valued at $3,454,781; dry land, 18,643 acres, $20,810; grazing land, 148,297 acres, $230,223; waste land, 233,271 acres, $33,242; roads and canals, 3,144 acres, without value. In the aggregate there are 318,806 acres of land with $17,108 less value than in 1934.

Business rolls carry a valuation of $21,197; residence lots, $23,146; of $889 less than 1934. Equities in state lands total $85,801 and improvements, $18,550. Improvements outside cities and villages, $17,232, or $11,604 less than 1934; improvements on business lots, $379,426, and on residence lots, $4,975, or $3,500 and $24,330 less respectively than the preceding year. An assessment of $100,000 is placed against the local sugar factory.

Livestock Assessed
Livestock assessments include: Registered yearlings, 187, $600; common yearlings, 3083, $23,855; range cattle, 13,509, $81,843; milk cows, 2918, $51,123; bulls, 90, $2,785; work horses, 1149, $39,200; hogs, 1492, $14,920; sheep, 948, $39,096; chickens (common), 416, $20,935; chickens (special), 18, $142; silver foxes 100; turkeys, 12, $24.

Machinery is valued at $38,700; merchandise, $180,630; furniture and fixtures, $42,827; printing plants, $3100; surgical instruments, $1800; household goods, $2180; sugar, $8; 872 bags, $18,451; compared with 154,460 bags in 1934 at $270,319, the

READY-MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie is worried out of mind. She and Rex Moore love each other, but Rex is engaged to Miss Gladys, and Laurie to Rex Alberty, who "employs" both Rex and herself. Alberty is in a fix after unsuccessfully trying to force Rex into an airplane accident. And Laurie has gone to see a friend of Rex Moore's.

"Gladys became she is sure Gladys and Jimmy Dallas, young man about town, are up to mischief."

Chapter 44
THE TRUTH

"Is Gladys with that young Dallas? Don't lie!" Nellie nodded. "She left London. Where has she gone with him?" Nellie broke down altogether. It was with difficulty that Laurie got the sense of her distressed words. "Paris—Hotel Metropole—rue de Rivoli—they left yesterday night. It was the middle of the week—a dead secret."

"Are they married?" Laurie asked in a gasp. "I don't know. Glad was awfully close about that. But I expect so. She wouldn't have gone, would she? I couldn't get anything out of her."

"Nelly, you've done a cruel thing," said Laurie unmercifully. "You ought to have told me at once. You should have stopped her going somehow. I'll be getting on now. I must get to Paris as soon as it can be done."

Laurie knew well enough that girl went away on holiday trips with the young men nowadays. She knew that the world at large thought little of it. But Glad was her sister, the apple of her eye. The quickest way to Paris was by air, of course. She found the nearest telephone call box near Rex Moore at Greston, only to find that he was in London. Half crazy with anxiety, she got to Chelsea flat, and when his voice answered, she felt sick with relief, but spoke in the calmest voice.

"I want you to take me by air to Paris at once. Can you?" He did not show the faintest surprise.

"Of course, I can, Laurie. As it happens, I flew my plane to Greston this morning, and is there. But what about Alberty?"

"I must get to Paris as soon as possible," she took no notice of his question. "Could we get there tonight?" "Certainly, I'll ring up the airfield. Where are you?" "Then you'd better meet me at Greston."

"I haven't any money. Perhaps just enough to pay a taxi."

"That doesn't matter. I have plenty. You're in trouble, Laurie?"

"Get to Greston as soon as you can. I'll be a little after you, but when we get there, we won't waste any time."

Laurie did not have to wait long for Rex Moore at Greston. He gave her a swift handshake and a piercing look from his grey eyes as with the energy of action. He also gave her pads of cotton wool to put in her ears to shut out the noise of the motor, and he showed a flying car for her, so it was going to be chilly up Laurie.

It was a scene that Laurie never forgot. The last lingering rays of daylight shone in the stirring lines of the field. The sense of possibility, of adventure, and in the midst of it, the casual character of a party of Americans who had just landed, and Rex Moore, who had the airfield in his hand, like a baby in the arms of a nurse.

"You don't do not ask her a question."

Laurie was so preoccupied to the excitement to flying, she did not notice the perfect weather. She noticed nothing but the noise of the motor, and the sound of a tractor behind her. Rex Moore and then she saw the car of her husband, as he stepped out of the car, she felt that she was in a dream. She saw the car of her husband, as he stepped out of the car, she felt that she was in a dream. She saw the car of her husband, as he stepped out of the car, she felt that she was in a dream.

With my own eyes I saw her husband step out of the car. She saw the car of her husband, as he stepped out of the car, she felt that she was in a dream. She saw the car of her husband, as he stepped out of the car, she felt that she was in a dream.

He had a quick, reputation, and a quick woman often tells him there is a mistake. I suppose she knows, as I do, how you ought to know, as to what makes the machine of getting her divorce. You can't get her divorce, you can't get her away with it. I suppose she knows, as I do, how you ought to know, as to what makes the machine of getting her divorce. You can't get her divorce, you can't get her away with it. I suppose she knows, as I do, how you ought to know, as to what makes the machine of getting her divorce.
