MRS. FALL FIGHTS AGAINST EVICTION

Former Secretary's Wife to Resist Dohney Interests' Suit

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 15 (AP)—The hardest fighter in the Albert B. Fall family, his graying wife, who has followed his successes and defeats, will get "the best lawyer in New Mexico" and file her own suit to save their home at Three Rivers, she said here today.

"I'm going to file a suit myself. I know I've got the right to do it, and I'm not going to wait for somebody to move us out," Mrs. Fall said, as she waited for an automobile to take her to Three Rivers to join her husband.

The order from the Dohney interests to move today does not worry Mrs. Fall.

Welcomes Test "I may be a little upset," she said, "but we're not going to take this lying down. We've been here 12 years. This isn't the time I'm going to give up."

"I'm glad this has come. We were going to have to go to court some time. It might as well be now."

"Mrs. Fall has two more things to do. She has to get her rights in citizenship rights, of which she was wrongly deprived, and to save the Three Rivers home for her family."

"I want to see the president about getting Mrs. Fall citizenship restored. I've been in court for a couple of years. I saw an assistant attorney general."

When a ranch property was foreclosed in 1929, it struck the deed under protest. And I didn't do that until it was promised by the lawyers that we would keep the deed out of it if the ranch ever was sold, and that I get everything above what Mr. Dohney would pay."

Mrs. Fall revealed that she has been the family's sole support since the late fortune of her husband. She is operating a Spanish cafe in El Paso and a mercantile business at Three Rivers. Difficulties have cropped up in both businesses, she said.

chase of farms, as one reason why the resettlement program will be of great value in giving them a start.

Another speaker was Dr. Carl C. Taylor, director of the rural settlement division, who said the administration's first task will be to restore hundreds of thousands of farm families to a self-respecting independence.

Rural rehabilitation is not relief. That's what government agencies set up to handle the relief problem, and only those families can qualify for this type of aid who can demonstrate their ability to go it alone," Dr. Taylor said.

The conference is headed by Dr. W. Alexander, assistant administrator to Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell.

Regional directors in attendance included: Rex E. Willard, Portland, Ore., representing Oregon, Idaho and Washington; J. H. Jensen, Denver, representing Colorado and Wyoming; and Walter E. Packard, Berkeley, for California, Utah, Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico.

NEW DEAL SILVER PROGRAM ASSAILED

Senate Votes for Return of Open Trading in United States

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—A return to open silver trading in the United States was voted today by a closely split Senate.

Without debate, an amendment was added to the bill which Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) said would "bring the silver market to America."

Offered by McCarran (D-Nev.), the amendment would repeal those sections of the silver purchase law which authorized nationalization of silver, tax trading profits at 50 per cent and require licenses for import and export.

Earlier Thomas, after conferring with Secretary Morgenthau, said the silver purchase program was a "farce," because the treasury was seeking to buy the white metal as cheaply as possible.

McCarran's amendment would repeal the silver purchase program. It would also repeal the silver purchase program.

Another Senate development was a resolution introduced by Senator Pittman (D-Nev.) to authorize a special committee of five to confer with Morgenthau and study the effect of the silver buying program here and abroad. Its approval was expected.

The treasury was reported unopposed, preferring to keep control of silver in this country. Some quarters forecast its rejection by the house. Open silver markets disappeared in the western plains, nationalized the metal a year ago.

The silver purchase law directs buying until treasury stocks reach $100 million. The price is set at $1.29 an ounce.

Even an announcement by Secretary Morgenthau that the government was "still buying" failed to move more than the price slump today. Morgenthau's statement followed last night's treasury announcement that more than 25,000 ounces had been purchased yesterday.

Thomas' Distasteful Thomas conferred with Morgenthau during the day. Afterward he said the silver program "might as well be abandoned" unless the government was going to buy with a view to remonetizing the metal.

"I thought we had a silver policy," he said on his return to the Capitol, "but we haven't any, other than to buy silver at the lowest possible price. In that case we made a terrible mistake by enacting the program because we could have bought it for 25 or 30 cents an ounce."

KINGFISH REVEALS PRESIDENTIAL AIMS

Senator Long Discusses Availability As 1936 Candidate

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana announced his availability for the presidency of the United States today, first however, corraling his declaration behind a bristling stand of Long's declaration, confirming reports recently current in Washington, was made behind a barrage of colorful epithets peppering his observations of the New Deal, former President Hoover, the tax bill, and his old foe, Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Harrison of Mississippi.

The senator's announcement had for its primary and immediate purpose the stirring into action of both Democratic and Republican parties along liberal lines.

"I want to scare them," he declared.

"If the Republicans give the nomination to Hoover, if the Democrats choose Roosevelt, and if there is no other liberal candidate, I'm perfectly willing to be an independent candidate," he said.

Interpreting his remarks with characteristic Mr. Hoover and President Roosevelt the "win bed mates of disaster" and declared that with them, as candidates in 1936, the choice would be between "Hoover that we know what is, or Roosevelt that we don't know what is and hope we never find out."

"If some liberal candidate could be chosen by either party," Long said, "I would support him."

President Okes Allotments Amounting to More Than $3,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—The year's prime business of irrigation and water conservation was stimulated today by presidential approval of works allotments amounting to more than $3,000,000 to the reclamation bureau for 16 projects.

Topping the list was $1,000,000 for construction of the Wikup dam and reservoir on the Deschutes river in Oregon.

Crises relief—officials estimated about 500,000 man-hours of employment will be provided and work can start in 30 days.

The Sun River reclamation project in Montana was allotted $715,000 for installation of gates on the spillway of Gibson dam and completion of canals and laterals on the Greenfield division, as well as such drainage works as well as required.

Reservoir Capacity Increased

Construction of the canal system for irrigation of 93,000 acres in the Greenfields division was started in 1924. Installation of the Gibson dam spillway will cost about $200,000 and will increase the capacity of the reservoir from 91,000 to 105,000 acre feet.

Approval was given a $200,000 allotment for construction of pumping plants and canals on the Grand Valley project in Colorado.

An allotment of $300,000 was made for construction of a small storage reservoir on Burnt River, Oregon.

An allotment of $280,000 was approved for construction of a parge wall and spillway at the Clifton dam and installation of a permanent spillway at the Kachess dam on the Yakima project in Washington.

An allotment of $240,000 will be applied on construction of the Moon Lake dam and reservoir in Utah.

Construction of drains and laterals on the Klamath project in Oregon this autumn was approved with an allotment of $135,000.

An allotment of $250,000 was ap-

TWIN FALLS DAILY NEWS

Issued every morning except Monday, by The Twin Falls Daily News Co., Inc., Twin Falls, Idaho, established 1904.

Daily edition entered as second class mail matter, April 8, 1916 at the post office at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription Rates: By Carriage, Five Dollars in Advance; By Mail, One Year $3.00, Six Months $1.75, Three Months $1.00.

Members of Associated Presses: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it.

National Representatives: PROUDEN, KING AND FRODDEN, New York, Chicago, San Francisco.

Protection from Violence: If, as Sheriff Smith of Teton county has said, the pea field workers near Driggs are on strike not because of general dissatisfaction with the pay schedule...

Level-headed workers: as well as anyone else, realize that it is both unjust and unwise to impoverish the farmer by inordinate, unexpected harvest-time demands.

Teton county farmers, after a long and bitter struggle over water rights, are coming to the end of the season with the best crop in years, only to be threatened with its loss through labor trouble.

AIR BASES: The program for a system of army air bases, which became law this week, contains, in its provision for intermediate fields, the possibility that air bases might be established near the Canadian border.

GREEN EYED-SPY: Among the pleasures Americans may enjoy these days is reading the reports of European spy scares.

BREAKFAST FOOD: An Ohio girl accedes for a prospective husband who is rich, handsome, sober, educated and moral.

ECONOMIC ARK: A young nurse who was not experienced in reading a clinical thermometer was horrified to find, on taking the temperature of a patient, that it was 120.

country by one Henry Wolcott in 1884. They are organized as the Society of Descendants of Henry Wolcott, and they come to the tribal gathering from all parts of the country.

There are not many such examples of family solidarity and continuity in the United States, although there might be if other groups took their genealogy seriously enough and cared about keeping in touch with all their kindred.

The Wolcotts, if all of them had kept journals from 1834 to the present time, could present a very interesting record of the colonization, exploration, settlement and development of this country.

SOUTH SEA THRILLERS: The University of Hawaii is introducing a new course which ought to be tremendously popular. It is called "Pacific Literature."

The course covers works with a Pacific setting by such authors as Mark Twain, Robert Louis Stevenson, Joseph Conrad, Pierre Loti, W. Somerset Maugham, Herman Melville and Jack London.

It sounds like a concentrated course in romance and adventure and may set a lot of students to planning a follow-up course of research and exploration for themselves.

FARLEY AFTER BORAH: Senator Borah of Idaho has supported many of the Roosevelt policies. He has stood with the President for inflation and would go further in that direction.

He has favored strong federal control of the banks. He has supported the AAA and the PWA and works-relief, appropriations. He has, in short, approved more important "New Deal" legislation than he has opposed.

Yet, reports come from Washington that Democratic Chairman James Farley has whetted his tomahawk and is out for Borah's scalp. He proposes, it is reported, to wage warfare in Idaho against Borah and to undertake to replace him in the senate with a Democrat.

The desire of a national Democratic chairman to elect a Democrat to the senate to replace a Republican would not have caused comment a few years ago. Indeed, it would have been accounted a very natural and wholly legitimate desire.

Now, however, some surprise has been expressed that Farley should state such a campaign. Administration support of socialism like Senator La Follette of Wisconsin and of high tariff Republicans like Senator Johnson of Ohio are regarded to change the situation and to cause the nation to look for other than party reasons when the administration sets out to defeat a Republican.

The attack is so strong and apparently so vicious and is directed against a Republican who has so often supported administration policies.

The explanation comes to the News, it is simple. It is not that Borah has differed from the administration often but that his influence is great. When he opposes, his opposition amounts to a great deal. It amounts to a great deal, not only because of his influence in the Senate but also because of his reputation for liberalism. When Borah opposes a supposedly liberal administration's proposal there is not only a strong opponent in the field but one whose opposition casts doubt upon the proposal he fights.

Furthermore, Borah is independent. He does not go along with expediency. He cannot be placated. The administration cannot count upon Borah being with it; it must be with Borah.

So, the desire is to defeat Borah—not because he is a Republican, not because he is against the administration. He is more often with it—but because an administration, elected by the help and influence of the party organization and elected by it, is preferable to an independent of great influence whose occasional attacks not only irritate but hurt, a lesser man and a weaker might earn administration tolerance though in agreement with it fewer times on important measures. But with Borah it is different.

GREEN EYED-SPY: Among the pleasures Americans may enjoy these days is reading the reports of European spy scares. The latest spy scare is one calculated to stir the imagination. From Tunisian comes word that the Italian police are hunting for a mysterious blonde with green eyes, who has been working out on a French naval aviator.

What chance has a young aviator against the idea of a blonde with green eyes? She could garner military secrets as easily as the best take from the passive clover bloom. It looks like there will have to be a conference to declare the use of green eyed blondes as unfair, unhumane and unreasonable for spying purposes.

BREAKFAST FOOD: An Ohio girl accedes for a prospective husband who is rich, handsome, sober, educated and moral. However, we assume that others may apply with a fair chance of favorable consideration.

ECONOMIC ARK: A young nurse who was not experienced in reading a clinical thermometer was horrified to find, on taking the temperature of a patient, that it was 120.

A BIG FAMILY REUNION: A family that numbers ten thousand and has a three-day convention for its annual reunion, is truly notable. Such are the Wolcotts, whose family was established in this

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Thoughts while strolling: George M. Cohan is crowd sick, too. Rarely seen any more. That quiet, dry grin so peculiar to New York. Like the flash of coral. Aid lawyer Lindbergh named—Jack Paul.

What a lesson Lindbergh taught of the dignity in self effacement! Alice, celebrated Zigfield, telephone operators. She knows all the Pullman secrets. Will Rogers likes to prow around old barns. The boys are bidding Billy Leeds and Norman Kerry. The city producer Sam Harris.

Wanted: A return to the end all Mae West gets. Who remembers O. O. McIntyre. Who remembers Waldorf before it went up? Few know as many authors as Bill Lewicki. To chorize this Ned Wynburn is "Hill Pockela." Elizabeth, a whirlwind manner. Apy named poet: William Rose Benet.

The writer most writers want to know: Theodore Dreiser. And the artist all artists want to know: Percy Crosby. The priests who saunter meditatively along St. Patrick's side yard at sundown, heads down, hands folded behind. There's no stopping that publishing phemon: "When Bona Burns."

In and one of the arena pub scenes when you ask for a reading suggestion, the clerks inquire: "Have you read Tom Sawyer? It's the best book that never fails to satisfy. The last stronghold of avenue aristocracy—'Hill Pockela.' Elizabeth, a whirlwind manner. Apy named poet: William Rose Benet.

It was a not-too-new checker cab curbed in the Murray Hill section. Inside under the meter a hand-printed card read: "The driver of this car was chauffeur for the late Fred Blum. He seemed weary of questioning over his former post. In slightly German accent, he said: 'Mr. Borah has a very fine gentleman. He taught me to be close mouthed. Jani'."

Martin and Osa Johnson are en route to Borneo today where they will remain for two years in the heart of the forest jungles and among the head hunters. Before their departure they spent weeks assisting in the decoration of African Hall, which will house many of their trophies at the Museum of Natural History. On this safari their photographic ambitions are to film snakes that fly and fish that climb trees. Incidentally, this may be the Johnsons' last expedition. They are eager to settle down to the peace of a middle class life after their exciting stretches in the world's hot places.

Another story of George S. Kaufman's lackadastric reaction to enthusiasm comes from Hollywood. At a luncheon table a returning hunter was telling of his trip. "When we got up," he gurgled, "the entire lake was completely covered with ducks! Kaufman, mildly: 'Just one layer?'" club shows that nearly all the international wanderers who have quit the trails now live in isolated spots.

When James Gordon Bennett was running the New York Herald, he had an inviolable rule for his Monday morning front page. It must feature a dog story. Once it was ignored and there was a new managing editor three hours after Bennett saw the omission in Paris. The dog, of course, touched off a field day for theatrical press agents.

All the stage stars were exploited as having dogs that showed every sort of accomplishment from barking in French to spurning all food save kare. Bennett never objected to the impossibility of the acts. He did not care so long as the dog was heroic although he was a stickler for accuracy in other news.

Notched in a block on the west side of Third avenue near 31st street is an arcade solid with antique shops and bearing the name Audies Courty. While much of the stuff is Russian, said by once rich refugees, there are several early American displays. The stores are cubicles of about 8 by 10 feet and owners sit out front during the dull trading interludes in an exchange of friendly palaver. It is open until midnight.

Mrs. Smith was right. Sammy and Tommy had not yet reached the age when they could discuss matters and when it comes to an agreement, these young boys are marvellous. When it comes to expressing divergent viewpoints, their arguments consist chiefly of "Oh, yeah?" and "Eays you," followed by uncomplicated epithets. This interchange of courtesies invariably ends in a fist fight. But out of these same fights may grow strong friendships. Somehow, the contact of fighting of ten has this contradictory effect. The parent who interposes prevents his first-born and his second with neither contentment. The son feels humiliated by his mother's unwarranted and undignified behavior. The father, on the other hand, at being reproved and perhaps ordered away by an outsider. Both boys are angry, but in a different order. They would not be so likely to hurt each other, and honor would be satisfied.

What A Dove!

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

(NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS)

WASHINGTON By Ray C. Taylor. BARRER. Despite the administration's excitement over tax exempt status as an avenue of escape for the wealthy, the demand for constitutional amendment to plug the hole has slimmered down. The House no on related committee has called hearings on the matter, and the order came down from high up.

Private studies indicate that taxation of these federal and state tax-exempt curricula will produce no available revenue for many years, if ever. It is estimated that about 600,000,000 worth of federal and state "exempts" are outstanding, and that only 60 per cent, or $23,000,000,000 would be subject to taxation. The balance being held by eleemosynary institutions, etc.

Supposing that this amount bears 3 1/2 per cent interest, the tax revenue would amount to approximately $1,000,000,000. If taxed at 5 per cent the return to the government would be only $150,000,000 and only 4,000,000,000 at 10 per cent, which is a generous average of the tax. The government would have to pay higher interest on non-exempt bonds—possibly $100,000,000 on this balance—before the government revenue would be negligible. So some of the administration's own accountants admit. But it's a good complaint talk.

ESSENTIAL. Definite financial conditions are being established by insiders for the sudden coolness toward the crusade against tax exemption.

The Treasury must do a great deal of financing and refunding within the next few years. With a rising market and with the administration committed to elimination of tax exempt features for its issues, it might not find buyers for its bonds. There has been signs of weakness in some recent issues. Such a psychological factor as official prejudices against the exemption privilege would disturb the situation seriously.

Washington still has hopes that recovery will arrive before the 4,000,000,000 work relief fund is expended. But the administration is already considering budget estimates mounting into the billions for the 1937 fiscal year. Tax exemptions will pay for the present.

CHOICE. Mr. Ickes' "living circus" has brought back good news to the housed "hot" horse. So Harold is smiling again.

After traveling 15,000 miles the "living circus" has returned to the states. Lawyers and publicists report that the states prefer Ickes to Hopkins projects. They want to spend federal money and their own contributions for "useful and permanent projects" rather than for "boon-doing" of the federal government. This feeling is particularly strong in the Far West, where numerous state Governors are in the habit of "boon-doing" for the states. The states prefer Ickes to Hopkins projects. They want to spend federal money and their own contributions for "useful and permanent projects" rather than for "boon-doing" of the federal government. AMERICA SEEN ON PATH TO FASCISM

Communists at Moscow Told New Deal's Illusions Dispelled

MOSCOW, Aug. 15 (AP)—America was pictured as moving toward Fascism today by speakers at the Communist international.

One of them, Earl Browder, general secretary of the party in the United States, said Communists planned an anti-Fascist coalition "to protect the American people from the Fascist and other forces of terror and atrocities such as have been visited upon the Germans."

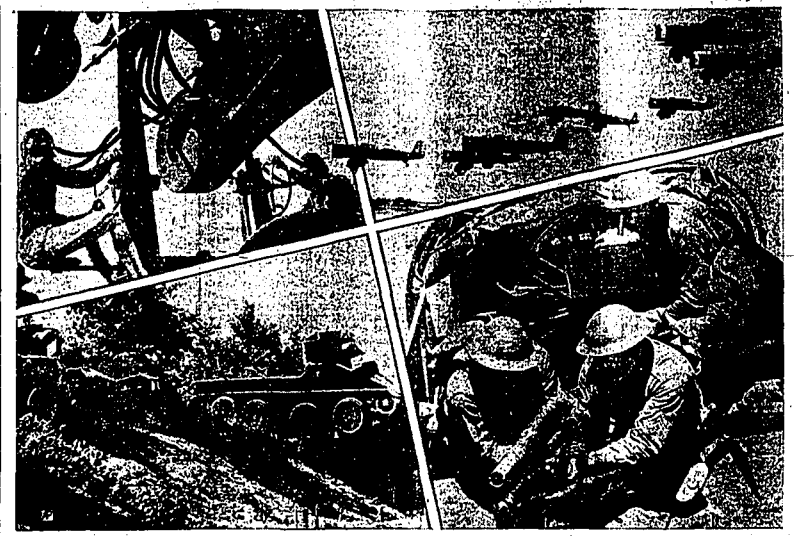

"Since the illusions of the new deal have been dispelled, the time has become ripe for a united front movement," he asserted. Browder said "millions" of Americans began to break away from the leading political parties after the last congressional elections.

Georgi Dimitroff, the Bulgarian who was a defendant in Germany's notorious arson trial, said the new deal and the program of opposition leaders in the United States tended toward Fascism.

"The reactionary American financial circles which are attacking Roosevelt are the organizers of the Fascist movement in the United States," Dimitroff asserted, "and the new deal is a form of development toward Fascism, more than the nationalist government in England."

Other speakers criticized the policies of Senator Huey P. Long, Father Coughlin and Dr. Francis E. Townsend.

Biggest Peacetime War Games To Use Deadly Modern Weapons

When the war games get underway at Pine Camp, New York, August 17-23, the army's latest equipment in planes, mechanized units and guns will be used by the 55,000 men taking part. Above are shown the plane director (left) and a group of fast attack planes. Below appears a combat car which has replaced the out-moded tanks.

By CHARLES NORMAN

PINE CAMP, N. Y. (AP)—Engines of war whose essence consists of speed and precision will demonstrate America's battle weapons when the largest peacetime maneuvers in the country's history swing into action here August 17 to 31.

Mechanized units developed or brought to perfection since the World War will speed detachments over country roads in flat, armored automobile units, anti-aircraft units, and will swoop down upon "enemy" bombers in spectacular flight formations, and giant searchlights will light up the sky at night at the warning of huge detectors whose growling cars thrust upward to trap the hostile sound of an "invading" air fleet.

Some 55,000 men will take part in the mimic warfare, representing both regular army and National Guard units. Officers and soldiers in the Pine Camp area will total 30,000.

Mount Gretna, Pa., will concentrate 18,000 soldiers, while Fort Devens, Mass., a regular army post, will see a peacetime brigade of 1900 men go through their training paces. Maj. Gen. Dennis G. Nolan, World War fighter and commander of the First army, will be in charge. Under him 150 "umpires" will tabulate effectiveness and "season" the maneuvers as opposing forces swing into action.

The purpose of the war games is to test the ability of active units of the First army to concentrate simultaneously for field service and to provide combined field training for officers and men. Information headquarters in New York City points out that United States army officers lack the opportunity, which European commanders have, of gaining experience through maneuvers with large bodies of fighting units. The Pine Camp and simultaneous maneuvers at Mount Gretna and Fort Devens will provide such opportunities.

The concentration of officers and men at Pine Camp will create a military population equal to the population of Jefferson county's largest city, Watertown.

The area has been a military proving ground since 1900.

"On the sixth day, we spied a grouse sitting on a tree. It was fat and looked good to eat, even raw.

Maxwell Harvests Bumper Oats Crop

When E. E. Maxwell completed harvesting yesterday afternoon, he had a bumper crop of oats in payment for his labor.

"The oats yielded 107 bushels to the acre, Mr. Maxwell, who operates the L. W. Champlin farm, three miles east of Twin Falls, had two acres seeded to oats.

Both of us threw rocks at it. It flew away.

"There must be fish in those streams up there, for we have heard that other people catch them. But our entire catch was three small ones.

Meal of Frog's Legs

"Then there was the meal of frog's legs. We were told we could eat frog legs whenever there was nothing else. One Jake, about 31 miles in from the highway, it was called Marmot lake, was just crawling with little frogs.

"We caught a few, killed them with our hunting knives, and tried to roast their legs over a fire. Most of them fell into the coals and we couldn't tell whether we were eating frogs or ash.

"The little jaunt we took down to Old Orchard bench was a picnic. We ate claims and fished in the salt water. If you're going to be tarzans, be sure to do it on the beach—it's easier than in the woods.

"The sunniest part of the stunt came Saturday evening, on our way back into the mountains, when we ran into a party of high school girls who were hiking over the trail.

"They had made camp on the trail and their elderly chaperones were seeing that they were properly turning in for the night.

We barged right into the middle of them. Say, you could have heard them screaming for miles. We probably did look a little queer, though, being almost naked and with beards.

"We hit off into the woods again without trying to explain.

"A ranger met us up at Marmot lake Tuesday evening. He said that every man in the service had been told to bring us in. He suggested that we come in ourselves and save him the trip."

ROCKEFELLER BEATS WEALTH TAX TALK

Oil Magnate's Gifts Since Roosevelt Declaration $25,000,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., today reported making a gift of more than $25,000,000 in oil securities less than a fortnight after President Roosevelt's "wealth tax" message.

The securities commission was told unnamed "individuals and charitable organizations" received 2,100,000 shares of Socopy-Vacuum Corporation common stock. This gift, made June 28, reduced Rockefeller's holdings in three major oil companies—Socopy, Standard of New Jersey and Standard of California—to $180,000,000.

The commission report gave no indication whether the famous financier made his gift at this time in expectation that congress would vote higher taxes on wealth. Contributions of this character usually take some time to plan and the program may have been arranged prior to the president's message.

Market Value Drops
The market value of the stock on June 28 was about $27,000,000. Today, because of a sharp decline in the worth about $25,000,000. The actual tax bill would increase the tax on such a gift if made to a single individual by an amount estimated upward of $1,250,000. The tax in June, if going to a single individual would have exceeded $10,000,000, but would be much lower if divided, while charitable contributions are largely exempt.

Rockefeller gave $3,000,000 shares, now valued about $1,500,000, of this same stock to an unidentified "educational and scientific corporation" in March. His holdings as of June 20 were $22,570 shares, worth about $34,200,000. In addition, other commission reports show he held 2,142,423 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey common, valued at nearly $100,000,000 and 1,308,828 common shares of Standard Oil of California, valued at $45,700,000.

Last December, Rockefeller disposed of 600,700 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey stock, but the commission report did not disclose whether this was sale, transfer or gift.

TRUCEN, Ariz., Aug. 15 (AP)—"Monkey grasshopper" found by Dr. E. D. Ball, University of Arizona zoologist, on the south slope of the Huachuca mountains, are invaders from Mexico, Dr. Ball said today.

consideration next session, with an amendment providing that the 21,000,000 in new currency be taken from the law authorizing the president to issue that much in new money...

Seven Republicans - Borah, Capper,razier, Johnson, Norbeck, Norlin and Nyce - joined 46 Democrats and the Progressive League and the Farmer-Laborite Edipolites in voting for the bill.

Ten Democrats - Adams, Burke, Byrd, Copeland, Gerry, Glaz, Logan, McCarran Moore and Tamm - supported 12 Republicans in opposition.

Recommended by President Roosevelt on the ground present laws "operated in many ways to the unfair advantage of the few," and labeled by Republicans as "fiscal fascism," the new measure differs substantially with that approved by the house, although both would raise the same amount of new revenue.

Principal differences: The senate substituted higher estate and gift taxes and reduced the new inheritance tax and levies on recipients of gifts approved by the house and proposed by the president.

Surplus Rates Raised The senate also raised the surtax rates on individual net incomes over $10,000 and on corporate net incomes over $50,000.

The senate measure boosted the house graduated corporation income taxes to bring in about four times as much new revenue, reduced the excess profits rate to 10 percent, and about one-tenth of that under the house measure, raised existing capital stock taxes and levied a new tax on intercorporate dividends.

The house bill makes no mention of the latter tax.

McCarran's silver amendment, accepted without debate, would repeal three sections of the 1927 purchase act providing for nationalization of silver, a tax of 50 per cent on silver trading profits, and licensing of imports and exports.

CONFESSION: Emily Felton's mother, Frances Felton, is one of those gentle females who manage everything and everybody. She has a very complex, and Emily has arrived at college age without ever having been permitted to do the little things that provide escape for her mother. Even when Edwin Barnes, who ardently adores Emily, is just the kind of boy Frances Felton likes, New York is being shipped off to Ardmore, near home, instead of being allowed to go to Bryn Mawr, which she wanted very much.

and things that few individuals ever have the curiosity or the energy to acquire. She flung her hat on one bed, her coat on the other, took in the room at a glance, and held out both hands.

"How doth the little busy bee!" she chuckled.

Emily succumbed at once. Her smile was a reflection of Judith's. "Oh, beautifully. I always do. It's a family failing."

Like the time to know that, too, Judith's family were all fashioned from the same bright metal. "Is there anything I can do to help you unpack?" she asked a little shyly.

CHAPTER TWO

ARDMORE

Ardmore is not far from Elton, Alabama. It is near Birmingham, about an hour's drive from the city, from her own front door. Although she had seen the college before, she was completely new to the place as the car bore her and her mother towards Main Building.

Especially, the Ardmore of a decade ago was not very satisfying. It was too prone to ignore the amenities of living for the rigors of learning. There was no architectural unity in the buildings, and exchange professors from Trinity or Edinburgh found themselves, to their surprise, quarreling in excess with the nineties which the campus, like an enormous amoeba, had absorbed as it grew.

Dr. Warner was a dinner guest at the paragonage preceding the meeting Wednesday evening. Other faculty superintendents, was present. The study of the financial program of the church for the coming year was the order of business.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Remedy Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be their kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's great filters. They filter out and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass a pint and a half of urine every 15 minutes, you are in trouble. You are in trouble if you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount, or if you often strain and burn. The 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing. This danger may be the beginning of nagging backache. The loss of urea and electrolytes during the night, as a result of the kidneys' failure, is a serious matter. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S BACKACHE EXPELLER, which has been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They like it because it will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S BACKACHE EXPELLER.
