PLANE AND THREE BODIES DISCOVERED ON LARAMIE PEAK

Victims of Crash on Mountain Found by Searching Party, Woman Advises President of Airways

(By The Associated Press) GLENDO, Wyo., Aug. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Thomas Zook, ranchwoman and weather observer for Wyoming airways, advised Dick Letnick, president of the line, tonight that a member of a searching party came to her home and conveyed reports that wreckage of an airplane carrying three Indianapolis residents, had been located and three bodies found.

Mrs. Zook told Letnick the bodies were found on Laramie peak by a party that included Ernie Adams, manager of Clarence Thomas, and a group of C.C.G. workers. She said they told her the bodies of the two men were within the ship, badly burned, but the body of the woman was thrown clear of the wreckage.

The ship, carrying Burnside Smith, Indianapolis businessman, Dick Arnett, aircraft manager, and Mrs. Gladys Thomas, was reported seen last Thursday but search was not started until today.

The Indianapolis party had left Helena, Montana, intending to fly to Denver but indicated they might stop along the way to fish. Smith was combining the pleasure trip with business.

Mrs. Zook said she talked to Orrin Leach of Otendo who had just returned from the mountain. He said the pilot apparently had crashed about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Leach told her, Mrs. Zook said, that all three apparently were killed. Mrs. Arnett's body was better but not burned, he added. He said the pilot apparently had crashed about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Death Threat Letter Attributed To Karpis Accelerates Pursuit

Federal Agents Speed Search For Hunted Outlaw

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—Government agents tonight were reported pursuing an accelerated search for Alvin Karpis, following his mailing of a death threat letter to J. Edgar Hoover.

While the director of the bureau of investigation refused comment, a justice department spokesman said "we've been pursuing a vigorous search for Karpis for months."

Details of the letter were lacking, but it was reported to have been postmarked at Boston, Ohio, and mailed August 18. Officials pronounced it "authentic" indicating that handwriting and fingerprint experts had scrutinized it.

Karpis, co-leader with the slain Fred Barker of the notorious Barker-Karpis gang, has been hunted for 18 months, frequently in connection with the $200,000 abduction of Edward G. Bremer of St. Paul.

More than one agent has been hot on his trail, only to find their quarry had flown. He is known to have spent several weeks in vicinity of Toledo, Ohio, after the kidnapping.

California Relief Funds Exhausted 140,000 Family Heads Go on Dole Basis; State Commission Meets

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20 (AP)—Laid with exhaustion of federal funds for the state unemployment relief commission will meet here Thursday to map future plans as relief funds are exhausted.

State Aid Director Ralph Y. McLain announced the switch in program, explaining that the $5,000,000 federal "aid" fund needed to continue the work program would be entirely spent by Wednesday night.

The director said the official reason for discontinuing the aid was "to assist in the administrative functioning of state relief pending the initiation of the work program by Congress."

When work relief terminates, the director said, the state will continue to offer hardship, but will be returned to direct relief on a "selective budget" basis.

ROOSEVELT'S TAX IDEAS PREVAIL AS CONFEREES AGREE

Three Committee Members Issue Statement Terming Administration Bill 'Legislative Absurdity'

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 20—An agreement on the Roosevelt tax bill today lent a powerful impetus to the pull-meet congressional drive toward adjournment.

The sudden obstacle of a senate filibuster, raised by Senator Nye (R-ND) to force consideration of neutrality legislation, apparently was flattened by the quick action of Democratic leaders that a neutrality resolution would be brought up on the floor tomorrow.

Just before this problem was raised and met, the new tax bill was whittled into a final $250,000,000 package by senate-house conference committees.

No Inheritance Tax. In all major particulars save one, the inheritance tax ideas prevailed. But on that one—the new inheritance tax, which was a basic reorganization—the 10 members representing the house and senate decided against him.

Three of them, all Republicans, submitted a statement labeling the measure a "legislative absurdity" and insisting that instead of levying a new tax of $250,000,000, the administration should stop "unnecessary, wasteful and extravagant expenditures."

The statement was signed by Senator Metcalf (R-Mt) and Representatives Trendley (R-Mt) and Bachman (R-Mt).

German Troops, Police, Firemen Push Rescue Work by Lampight

BERLIN, Aug. 20 (AP)—Troops, police and Berlin's fire brigade, working in the dark, were working to clear the rubble of at least 14 men trapped in a subway station.

Some unofficial estimates placed the number of men trapped at 26 workers. The new tunnel was being built to connect various Berlin railway stations by the time the tunnel was struck.

Searchlights placed on the roof of Bluecher palace, future home of the German government, were used to search for the trapped men.

The American embassy immediately after the accident turned over the garden adjacent to the palace as well as rooms in the future embassy as the disposal of recovery valuable materials saved from the rubble.

Rescue work progressed slowly, owing in part to the fact that a large main flooded part of the tunnel had to be drained off.

HOPSON'S PROFITS BARRED BY INQUIRY

Kingfish Aims Shafts of Ridicule at Presidential Secretary

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—While Howard C. Hopson cried "paper profits," the senate lobby committee today added up $13,000,000 and "put into the private accounts of the utilities king and his associate, J. I. Magee.

Most of the heavy profit, committee members contended, came from power companies under their personal domination.

Speakers Amused
To these developments the committee added evidence—much to the amusement of spectators—that Frederick C. Burroughs, 40-year-old vice-president of Hopson's company, had billed the committee for witness fees and traveling expenses covering a recent appearance at the stand.

Pointedly, Chairman Black (D-Ala.) said that Burroughs' bill for $323 included an over-charge of $3 for railroad fare.

At the time of his appearance, Black emphasized, the Associated Gas and Electric company was issuing public statements and was voluntarily and had sought the opportunity for days.

The crowd laughed, too, at testimony that Associated Gas several years ago issued a series of debentures maturing in the year 2975.

Black emphasized, the Associated Gas and Electric company was issuing public statements and was voluntarily and had sought the opportunity for days.

Strikes at Witness
The committee hit verbally at Magee, the very origin of the hearing. Irked by wrangling answers, Chairman Black read a statement, agreed to by the committee, that persistence in such tactics would result in the immediate presentation of additional charges.

"The committee is determined that it will no longer permit the present tactics," Black said, "by asking other questions, or by going back to the questions and by continuing to talk after he is called to order," said Black.

Thereafter, Hopson, previously argumentative, was completely subdued. He answered questions slowly and quietly. Not once did his voice raise above the ordinary conversational tone. He carefully stuck to the subject matter of the question in making his replies.

Delves Into Finances
With Senator Schwelvenbach (D-Vt.) in the chair, the committee learned that the company owned privately by Hopson, enjoyed operating profits of $3,100,000 from 1928 to 1933 inclusive. The company rendered to various power companies, including those of Hopson's Associated Gas and Electric, a total of $12,000,000.

"And all of that went to the Hopson family, did it not?" Schwelvenbach asked.

"I think that I can correct," Hopson replied, "I know it didn't go to anybody else."

The Schwelvenbach went into the details of an involved transaction between Associated Gas and its subsidiary, General Gas and Electric, a deal in which the J. P. Morgan interests participated and from which Hopson and Magee emerged with $2,300,000 in stock.

"The whole transaction involved the Associated Gas and Electric system, didn't it, Black?"

"Yes, that's right."

"And you were in control?"

"That's not a fair statement."

"What, you weren't in control in 1928?"

"No. We had two representatives of the bankers on the board of directors."

Long Renewed Attacks
Senator Long made the Metcalf episode the springboard for a continuation of his attack upon the administration.

Armed with a contempt citation, Chester W. Dyer, senate sergeant at arms, last week sought Hopson at the hotel room of his representative, H. B. Robinson, instead of the found McGovern. W. Roberts, assistant secretary of the treasury, and Amon Carter, Fort Worth, Texas, publisher.

Contending that congress had abandoned the law-making function to the president, Long asked his army and should it be sent?

"I want to know whether the people of the making head of the government are to be guarded and protected by the same hands that grant a contempt citation to the lobbying headquarters of the public utilities."

The White House and the utilities have a new "almost as blows" over the utilities legislation, he said, and so have the house and senate committees.

EASY-TO-DO HOUSE FROCK MAKES A FINE ADDITION TO WARDROBE

PATTERN 2376

by Anne Adams

A frock which slips over the head with a minimum of effort is much sought by the women of larger proportions, who like her house frocks cool, efficient, and on slendering lines. This can be put together in almost no time at all as there are but three large front pieces, three back sections, and no waist seam to worry over. The V-neck has a self-faced collar, and the sleeves are roomy and brief, although the longer sleeves will look well and feel good this fall. You'll find, too, that slanting pockets are easier to burrow in than squarely placed ones. Printed on this pattern are "best hints."

Pattern 2376 is available in sizes 16, 18, 20, 24, 26, 30, 34, 40, 44 and 48. It is made of any fabric of your choice. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

ARMY FLIERS GUARD WILL ROGERS' BODY

Plans for Final Rites for Famous Humorist Take Definite Shape

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20 (AP)—A military guard of honor, composed of 40 army fliers from March field, will be stationed around the casket of Will Rogers as thousands pay silent tribute to the noted actor and writer Thursday.

Although final details of the funeral service in Forest Lawn Memorial park await the arrival of Mrs. Rogers and her three children from the east tomorrow, Oscar Lawlor, Beverly Hills lawyer and close friend of the family, disclosed today the nature of the service would be simple and brief.

Lawlor said Mrs. Rogers had requested the service be limited to the singing of one hymn, one solo and a brief eulogy by the Rev. J. Whitcomb Brounger, an associate pastor of the First Baptist church of Glendale, Calif.

Rogers' body, brought home last night from Alaska with that of Wiley Post, famed aerial explorer whose plane crashed last Thursday, was placed in a simple bronze casket and taken to the cold room in the Forest Lawn chapel.

Under Canon of Pines Rogers was dressed in what he termed his "dress up suit," a blue serge, a white, soft-collared shirt, with a black bow tie. He most always wore that attire. He once said that if a man had a blue suit and a brown suit he could dress for any occasion.

The comedian's body will lie in state under a canopy of pines just outside the Wee Kirk O' The Heather church from 7 o'clock Thursday morning until noon. The private service, limited to 125 friends, will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday.

Public services will be held simultaneously in Hollywood bowl, huge natural amphitheater, at which time plans will be started for a fitting public memorial to the actor. A request has been made that the private service be carried by wire to Hollywood bowl and broadcast through amplifiers to the crowd assembled there. Mrs. Rogers must pass on this request after her arrival.

Mrs. Rogers, her daughter, Mary, and her two sons, James and Wiley Jr. are due here tomorrow afternoon by train.

GERMAN CATHOLICS GATHER IN SECRET

Churchmen's Proceedings Behind Closed Doors to Avoid Wrath

FULDA, Germany, Aug. 20 (AP)—The future of the Catholic church in Germany was pondered tonight by the highest officials of the reich while Nazi officials kept close tabs. The three-day conference in close sessions is considering the "serious situation facing the German church."

Johannes Adolf Cardinal Bruberger opened the meeting of 45 bishops with a public devotional service in the Catholic crypt at the tomb of Saint Boniface. English missionaries who were the first to bring "Christianity to this section."

After the blessing of the sacrament, the cardinals and bishops filed in for a meeting of the secretariat. The doors and began to exchange views on the church-Nazi struggle. Their deliberations resulted in a plan for the coming year.

Public Addresses Canceled Because of special efforts to keep the conference secret, all public addresses were cancelled. During previous years various bishops spoke in public.

Extraordinary secret apparently was desired to avoid irritating the Nazis and because a national election after last year's conference was forbidden when Nazis discovered the contents before publication.

The church, it was said, is not fighting national socialism as such, but more especially the political and economic policies of the Nazis. Nazi philosophy defies the basic tenets of Christianity.

Another important topic is expected to be the concordat with the Nazis which church leaders have charged the Nazi government with violating.

MEDICOS TO HOLD MEETING AT BOISE

Association President Urges University of Idaho to Provide Instruction

The annual meeting of the Idaho State Medical association, to be held in Boise, September 9 to 12, will be an innovation for such meetings, according to Dr. Charles E. Smith, Twin Falls, president of the association.

"Undergraduate medical education in the United States," Dr. Scott reports, "has been improved under the fostering care of the associated physician and surgeon until it has become the best in the world. Advances being made in medical knowledge, however, are so great and are coming so rapidly that it requires increasing labor on the part of the old graduates to keep abreast of the times."

To bring instructors "Most of Idaho's doctors have done exceedingly well in this regard and all no inconsiderable sacrifice on their part. Idaho State Medical association has decided that by collective effort it can bring excellent graduate instruction to Idaho and to greater advantage than for Idaho to be compelled to travel far afield to get it. An excellent group from the faculty of Northwestern university, medical school of graduate study, the first course of graduate instruction in medicine to be given in Idaho.

"It is the hope of the doctors that the University of Idaho will recognize the need of the people of Idaho to keep their medical men at their best to see fit to join with the medical association in providing graduate instruction in medicine.

"Arrangements made by the physicians to entertain the Ladies' Auxiliary are elaborate. There can be no doubt but that the meeting will be largely attended to the great benefit of the doctors and to their patients and the people of Idaho. The meeting is free open to doctors from neighboring states."

Inheritance Taxes Take One-Fourth Of Rogers Estate

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20—Inheritance taxes will take approximately one-fourth of the estimated $2,500,000 estate left by Will Rogers, state inheritance tax officials estimated today.

If the estate reaches a $5,000,000 valuation, as some of the late actor's close friends believe it will, taxes will take $1,716,000 of the total. This amount would include $97,200 for the state of California.

Officials pointed out these figures were based on the belief that the actor would set the entire estate, and on the present federal and state tax rates.

Taxes on a two and one-half million dollar estate would total $646,000, of which amount $142,800 would go to the state of California.

The assessed valuation of the real estate and personal property owned in Los Angeles county by the late actor, including his large ranch near Bianna, Montana, is $226,440.

Friends of Rogers estimated he had earned $3,000,000 in motion pictures in the last eight years. No estimate was made on his income from his writings and other sources.

Governor Butt Of Children's Trick

PRES. MOTHEZ, Iowa, Aug. 20—President Roosevelt's grandchildren pulled a fast one on Iowa's chief executive and suspicion, as a consequence, was cast in the direction of the governor's military aide.

"We want to show you a trick. Please put your hand through this door," the children said.

Governor Clyde Herring, host to "Sixty and Sixty" Dull in a visit here with their father, Curtis B. Dull, obliged by pushing his hand through the hinge-side of the opened massive door to his executive office. Then he took hold of a glass of water offered from the other side of the door.

"What," asked the governor, "do you do now?"

"Bottle" and "Buzzle" howled with glee at the governor's plight. Helpless, he could neither withdraw his hand nor put the glass on the floor.

"General Grath (governor's aide) told us," they chattered, "that now you just stand and hold it."
