

U. S. SHIP HELD, AMERICANS RAUNTED IN NEW SPY SCARE

Japanese Authorities Detain Freighter and Seek Youths Who Asserredly Photographed Fortified Zone

(By The Associated Press) TOKYO, Aug. 23 — Japanese authorities, alert for espionage, detained an American freighter tonight and sought two American youths; said by police to have taken photographs of a fortified zone from the ship.

Affected by a "mysterious foreign vessel," it was detained by gendarmes at Port Tokayama, in Yamaguchi prefecture, said Rengo (Japanese) news agency dispatches. Crew questioned.

The ship was the S. B. Golden Mainland, out of San Francisco. Its officers and crew were said to be undergoing a rigid examination by military authorities.

Efforts attempted to trace two young Americans they suspected of having taken photographs of the fortified zone from the freighter and having left the ship at Tokayama and started for Kobe by train.

The names, which possibly were garbled in dispatches from Port Tokayama, were given as Phillip Mass, a graduate of Stanford university, and Willie Bell. They were reported to be returning to the United States from Lingnan university, Canton.

The Rengo report said the vessel was seen late yesterday in the Bungo straits, between the islands of Kyushu and Shikoku, in a forbidden fortified zone.

Military authorities thought the ship was in distress and sent a boat to investigate. The investigators said they found persons on the freighter photographing the shore-line. While the boat returned to shore for instructions, Rengo said, the freighter sailed away.

Instructions were broadcast to all nearby ports to detain the vessel. Airplanes from the coast guard were ordered to search the sea. The Golden Mainland was crestfallen this morning and ordered to put into Tokayama for examination.

Other Times Other Manners HOLBROOK, Ariz.—This northern Arizona town, whose residents are boasting it was the toughest "women, children and churches," is building a new community church, a new breaking record. It is dedicated to old-timers the 36-year period during which the town was a boom town and the center of a city of 10,000 people.

In the old days, the town's nocturnal meeting place was the "Buckets of Blood" saloon. The church people seemed to be maintaining an indifference the cobwebs against a church, and it was not until 1912, 17 years after the town boom, that a church was erected. Three others were built later.

The town was founded in the late '70s. First Victim—LEWISTON, Idaho—Police Chief Eugene Gasser was the first victim of Lewiston's kangaroo court of justice and inquisitor in preparation for the September 26-28 roundup. The chief was fined $12.80 for appearing without a 10-gallon hat and shaving without a beard.

Deadlocks Give Way As Congress Rushes Through 'Must' Bills

Social Security Head

JOHN G. WINANT, former governor of New Hampshire, named by President Roosevelt as chairman of the board to consider the new social security law.

Lighting burned late on Capitol Hill as both houses held adjournment. Roll calls were dropped in the rush to get through. Fires were frayed, but there also was a good humor.

The senate sidetracked the house-approved $500,000,000 flood control bill at midnight after a filibuster by Senator Joseph P. Kamp (D-Mt.). Thus one possible threat to adjournment plans was removed.

Efforts before final congressional action were suspended on the measure and they were sent to the president.

WILLIAM C. COWLEY, chief stabilization bill; the Prater-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium; the rail pension tax and the federal building company dissolution clause. It goes to both houses tomorrow.

The gold clause compromise would provide that suits resulting from federal debt contracts be brought only up to January 1, 1936. A four-month period instead of the six months sought by the opposition.

Alcohol control bill differences would be settled by house agreement to continuation of the ban on distilling and school teacher who led the campaign of the social credit forces before the new government will be in a position to pay its initial dividend.

A vast amount of preliminary work remains to be done before the board swings into active operation. After building up a staff, which for the time being will be comparatively small but which some officials have estimated eventually would amount to a high of 100, a close study must be made of all state old-age pension and unemployment measures. They must be measured by standards laid down in the national act.

This determination made, the board will be free to allot to eligible states on a matching basis the amount to which they are entitled to take care of their needy who are over 65.

The fund from which these allotments will be made was wrapped up in the third deficiency appropriation act, which was passed in the House in the third week of the session. It will be divided among the social insurance and for needy mothers as well as for health work.

In actual operation, the functions of the new social security law will be divided among the social insurance and for needy mothers as well as for health work.

Mortgage Holiday, Coal Measure Go To White House

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 — A tired congress saw bitter deadlocks broken tonight as the bulk of President Roosevelt's "must" legislation moved swiftly toward enactment before tomorrow's apparently certain adjournment.

As conference committees suddenly revived old clause and alcohol control bills by "give-and-take" compromises, other major measures were whipped in a head stream toward the White House.

VOTERS OF ALBERTA ENDORSE NEW PLAN

Social Credit League's Candidates Triumph at Polls

CALGARY, Alta., Aug. 23 (AP)—A "Beneficial" government that promises "credit dividends" of at least $25 a month to all adult citizens of Alberta province emerged tonight from state elections held in legislative elections.

Late returns from yesterday's balloting showed 39 candidates of the social credit league, advocating the plan, either elected or leading in the race for 65 seats. The four other parties were distributed among the Liberals, Conservatives and United Farmers of Alberta.

It will be at least 18 months until William Aberhart, 57-year-old farmer and school teacher who led the campaign of the social credit forces before the new government will be in a position to pay its initial dividend.

Aberhart is expected to succeed Premier Reid, chosen by the United Farmers government.

To Increase "Dividend" The sum of $25 a month, Aberhart said, was suggested merely for illustration. It would not be levied as a social credit plan move forward it will be the plan to increase the monthly dividend payment if not.

Not every member of a household would receive $25 a month. For those from 10 to 20 years old payments would range from $5 to $20 a month. A wife would receive $25 as well as her husband.

A "state credit house" is to be created. Under the plan, each citizen would be given a dividend book and a book of blank, non-negotiable securities to be used for the purchase of goods or services, no money being levied.

A credit entry of $25 will be made in the book at the credit house each month. Non-negotiable securities are to be used for the purchase of goods or services, no money being levied.

CONFESSED KILLER REPUUDIATES STORY

Prospector Admits Two Murders, But Denies Having Slain 25 Other Men

ALBURN, Calif., Aug. 23 (AP)—Although Earl Kimball, 21, confessed killer of two persons, repudiated his wild story of having slain 25 other men in this isolated area, authorities considered his tendency their search of old mine shafts for possible additional victims.

On the strength of Kimball's denial, Sheriff Elmer Cull called off, temporarily at least, plans for having a search and hunt for potential burrowing places.

The sheriff announced he would question Kimball about his unavowed slaying of George Bekman, service station operator, in the state capital.

Previously Kimball had confessed the slaying of James G. Kennett, ex-retired Chicago contractor, and John T. Mansueti, 10, of Sacramento. Mansueti's body was recovered several days ago and is being investigated for the long missing Kennett.

Finally Kimball signed a statement saying he killed two men, as the result of arguments. He gave directions which led to the discovery of the bodies.

ETHIOPIA OFFERS PROVINCE TO ITALY IN BID FOR PEACE

Halle-Selassie Puts Watch on Italian Consulates, While Taking Precautions Against Precipitating War

(By The Associated Press) ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 23.—Emperor Haile Selassie, who already had decreed death for any Ethiopian who attacks an Italian, took further precautions today to make certain no Ethiopian act or situation will touch off the powder of a European war.

He ordered a sharp watch set upon the activities of Italian consulate staffs.

He personally ordered a roundup of beggars, lepers and chained debtors on Addis Ababa streets and their removal to prevent offense to foreigners.

He received assurance American residents would have safe conduct from the country should their evacuation become necessary.

Determined to overlook no detail in his effort to keep peace with Italy, he sent his secretary slouching through the mud of the capital's streets, authorizing him to express his personal sympathy for Baron Muzi Falcoi, the Italian consul who was critically injured by accidental discharge of his auto's revolver on a hunting trip.

(The province of Assua, which the emperor offered Italy, is the westernmost of the Ethiopian provinces and the borders of the province are roughly defined where it merges into the Doakali province to the north. On the south, it borders the province of Sidamo.)

The emperor said that, if Italy will accept this province, he will send her the province of Assua.

Housing Shortage Threatens Moscow

MOSCOW, U.S.S.R., Aug. 23 (AP)—Fear of an acute housing shortage upon resumption of the university term next month has led the chamber of commerce to urge the government to institute a plan to investigate the residential situation.

Study, chamber of commerce urged, should be made of the housing situation and recommended action.

L. E. Huff, chairman of commerce chamber, said that the government should take steps to investigate the residential situation.

Strengthening of Suez Canal Defense Seen As Threat to Mussolini's Military Program

Day's Developments In Italo-Ethiopian Crisis

Great Britain ordered its defense forces Friday to protect her African colonies while Italy sent a huge army to the foot of the Alps for war maneuvers.

London—The cabinet's defense committee directed provision of naval, military and air defenses for the Suez canal, an informant said.

NEW YORK Post said today that the British cabinet has ordered the strengthening of Suez canal defense forces to protect the canal against a possible Italian attack.

It directed provision of elaborate naval, military and air defenses for the Suez canal, an informant said.

On protection and control of the very life of the empire, it was asserted. In the event of war, the canal would become a key point. Its closing to warships and transports of combatants is already being discussed.

Meriel Bell to Duce Ambitions

Such a move, one observer said, would be a mortal blow to Mussolini's East African ambitions.

During the meeting of the imperial defense committee at Downing street today, the problem of Suez canal defense was discussed at length. One report had it that grave concern was expressed over the possibility the Italians might attempt to seize the canal in case of war.

The opinion was expressed in both naval and military circles that the fleet alone is incapable of holding the canal. It is believed the army and air force have already received instructions for use in case of trouble.

One of the chief worries of the British cabinet in London yesterday.

WINANT TO DIRECT SOCIAL SECURITY

President Names Republican to Put Hugs Program Into Operation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—John G. Winant, Republican, was chosen by President Roosevelt to head the board to consider the new social security law.

To work under his chairmanship on the three-member social insurance and unemployment board, Winant was named Arthur J. Altmeyer of Wisconsin, second assistant secretary of labor, and Vincent Morgan Hill of Arkansas who has been a Democratic national committeeman.

All three nominations went to the senate today. But immediately the likelihood arose that little but preliminary work will be done before mid-September.

Winant in Europe

Winant, former New Hampshire governor, is in Europe and will not return until September 11. In his absence, the board was not expected to do more than make a study of state laws to determine which states are eligible for benefits under the act.

A vast amount of preliminary work remains to be done before the board swings into active operation. After building up a staff, which for the time being will be comparatively small but which some officials have estimated eventually would amount to a high of 100, a close study must be made of all state old-age pension and unemployment measures. 'UNLOADED' RIFLE COSTS BOY'S LIFE

Norman Bell Instantly Killed While Cleaning Rifle at Home Near Buhi

BUHI, Aug. 23—Another "unloaded" rifle took its toll near here this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The sudden discharge of a .22-caliber rifle which Norman Bell, 18, was cleaning at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Bell, one and one-fourth miles southwest of Buhi, cost him his life.

A physician, summoned at once, pronounced the death accidental. It was believed that an insect had entered the barrel.

The youth had been a resident of Buhi for about a year, coming here with his parents from Nashville, Tennessee.

He was followed by his parents and the surviving brothers and sisters: Jerry, 15; Ivory, 13; Reed, 8; Mable, 7; Fred, 3; and Thurman, six months.

The body rests at the Evans and Johnson funeral home pending funeral arrangements.

Government Takes Control of Banks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—A powerful centralized control over the life-blood of business—banking credit—was made law today by President Roosevelt.

His signature put the "banking act of 1933" on the statute books after months of congressional wrangling.

Kellogg Honors Burro That Discovered $178,000,000 Vein

KELLOGG, Idaho, Aug. 23 (AP)—The obscure burro that ran away from a prospecting camp 50 years ago and "discovered" a $178,000,000 vein of silver in the area here today in publicity depicting more than a half century of mining.

Three hundred persons presented the pageant, which opened a three-day celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of the rich Burker Hill vein of silver, lead and zinc.

The Burker Hill mine was discovered by the "Honey Mountain" miner, a burro, in 1825. It has yielded more than $100,000,000 in silver and gold.

The burro died at Colgate Grove, after a long illness, but his body was preserved in a museum of the Kellogg mine.

Conference at Yellowstone Hears FDR Termed 'Yes Man'

Yellowstone Park, Wyo., Aug. 23 (AP)—A national campaign of "yes" men was being planned by young western Republicans here today to regenerate their parent party and recoup its losses.

They got to ring every door bell, convinced Edward E. Shattuck, of Los Angeles, who told young Republicans of 10 western states that there has been too much back-slapping, but there has been no plan of action—there's been nothing done.

Shattuck, former president of the California Young Republicans and a present director, told representatives of the various states that the "yes" campaign of the New Deal in the 1930's.

He said, "I can return to an American plan of government only when it can offset the many effects of the national administration."

He declared what he said was the expenditure of "tremendous sums to hold the people in line for the New Deal."

Talented Arranger Of Flowers Divulges Art

By ANNA H. HAYES

The greatly desired natural effect which one sees in a mixed bouquet, is often the result of capable planning. It is the opinion of Mrs. Paul Taber, whose skill at arranging flowers, led us to ask her advice.

"The container is important," advises Mrs. Taber, "and neutral colors, or subdued colors in harmony with the colors to be used in the bouquet are desirable in the container, which should never be so ornate as to detract from the flowers. She suggests that flowers be selected keeping in mind both size and harmony of color, and that the foliage belonging to the flowers is more effective than more ornate, cupped foliage which sometimes gives the bouquet an artificial look.

In placing flowers, it is well to choose longer stems for the center of the bouquet and a fine effect is gained by using pale flowers for the center, shading down until the be-

Nature Suggests "Garden-Fresh" Meals for Last Days of Summer

Nature takes care of her own, we are told, and how true this is about summer appetites.

If it is too hot even to think of food, we perhaps take a ride to cool off. We pass fields of tall corn. "Good roasting ears," we say to ourselves. "I wouldn't mind having an ear of corn," volunteers Johnny. Further on we see vines drooping with tomatoes; beyond that huge melons that have sipped the last bit of life from their vines; and still further, an orchard. We drive slowly in order to absorb the fragrance of warm, ripe peaches. "Let's go by the market," and with that, dad steps on the gas.

It is in a larger summer market that we begin to appreciate how wise Mother Nature is. She tempts us with color, with aroma, with freshness, with variety. Best of all, these summer fruits and vegetables are easy to prepare and serve; they require without over-heating the body; and everyone likes them.

One of us will leave the market empty-handed. Old Mother Nature smiles upon us as we load our baskets with her treasures. She knows we will come back for more because her wares live up to her promise. Now that we see her hidden in fruits and vegetables a special charm. Botanists call it vitamin B. It is a substance in food which stimulates appetite and gives tone to the entire digestive system. Fruits and vegetables, especially the green, leafy ones, are rich in vitamin-B-stimulating vitamin B.

When Nature plans your meals, the day's menu may be called "part-time," depending on one's point of view.

- Berries or sliced bananas, peaches or pears
- Brown Sugar or Honey for sweetening
- Whole Milk or Cream

A piquant salad served as a first course, is known as a salad-appetizer. It may be a combination of fruit, or vegetables, or of sea food. For the appetizer French dressing is better than mayonnaise or rich dressings. Juicy fruits may not need any dressing but be sure to sprinkle lettuce with French dressing before adding the fruit mixture.

This cookie recipe is a favorite for hot weather. The dough may be stored for days in the refrigerator. Just pull out a roll, slice a pan of cookies and they will bake in ten minutes.

Sherbets Favored For Nippy Flavor

Cold as Alpine ice, sherbets are the remedy of warm-weather distress. Everyone seems to enjoy their tangy flavors of summer fruits and find them a tick-me-up when appetites are languid. Their frigidness and delicacy serve to balance the meat course in the formal dinner, the same as ices. Sherbets are welcomed in afternoon party refreshments because they are non-fattening as well as satisfying to the appetite.

All that distinguishes a sherbet from simple water ices is the addition of an egg-white meringue when the mixture is partly frozen. A half-cup of crushed fruit pulp added with the meringue gives an interesting variation to a sherbet recipe.

In the sherbet and thinness of the mixture are best avoided by making a puree of the fruits used and allowing no excess juices in the mixture unless the fruit juices are being used in the recipe as a substitute for another liquid.

Grapefruit-Orange Sherbet

- 1 grapefruit pulp and juice
- 2 oranges, pulp and juice
- 2 bananas
- 2 tablespoons powdered sugar.
- 1 egg white

Mash bananas and put through a sieve. Beat grapefruit and orange pulp with a fork and add to bananas. Add sugar. Whip egg white until dry and stiff, then fold into mixture. Freeze in tray and serve in sherbet glasses with thin slices of orange on top.

Fruity Sherbet

- 1 orange
- 1 grapefruit pulp and juice
- 1/2 lemon
- 1 egg sugar
- 1 cup water
- 10 green or red cherries
- Green or red coloring.

Blend grapefruit pulp and orange pulp with a fork and add to lemon juice. Add sugar. Whip egg white until dry and stiff, then fold into mixture. Freeze in tray and serve in sherbet glasses with thin slices of orange on top.

Use three or four spring clothespins to hold your jelly bag to the kettle while pouring the crushed fruit into it.

To remove ice cream stains, soak material minutes in cold water. Then wash out in warm water with mild soap suds.

PEACH BETTY RECIPE

ASPARAGUS

The Party Vegetable

WHENEVER we wanted to impress our guests with the splendor of our meal at our house we invariably served asparagus. That was a long time ago, but asparagus has never ceased to be a party vegetable. And, as is quite appropriate, people have never ceased to dole out new party-recipes for it. The latest ones are very attractive. You should see, or rather taste.

In Regal Garb

Asparagus to a King: Heat the asparagus in one square can in its own liquor, pouring off one-third cup liquor to 1/2 cup in white sauce. Make this white sauce of two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one-half cup water, one-third cup asparagus liquor, one-half cup evaporated milk and salt and pepper. Add two tablespoons shredded pimiento. Sauce two tablespoons shredded green pepper and the contents of a two-ounce can mushrooms in one tablespoon butter, and add. Lay asparagus on hot buttered toast, and pour sauce over. Serves four.

And here's an asparagus recipe which you can serve to six people for about half a dollar in which this vegetable appears in its best Parisian style:

Asparagus Fritted Parisienne

Drain and chill the asparagus tips from a 16-ounce can; then arrange on a half bunch of crisp romaine. Finely chop half a contents of a 4-ounce can pimiento, and add with two tablespoons capers to one-third cup French dressing. Pour over the salad and serve very cold. Serves six.

- 2 tablespoons chopped celery
 - 4 egg yolks
 - 1/2 cup milk
 - 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
- Mix ingredients and shape into loaf 2 1/2 inches thick. Place in baking pan. Bake 10 minutes in hot oven, baste, cover and lower fire. Bake 1 1/2 hours in moderate oven. Baste every 10 minutes. Serve warm or cold, cut in slices.
- Sauce (For Basting)
- 4 tablespoons butter
 - 2 tablespoons catsup
 - 2 tablespoons chili sauce
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon paprika
 - 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 - 1/2 teaspoon powdered clove
 - 3 tablespoons sugar
 - 2/3 cup boiling water
- Mix ingredients and use for basting loaf during baking.
- 3 cups sliced peaches
 - 1 1/2 cups bread, crumbled
 - 2/3 cup sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon clove
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 4 tablespoons butter
- Mix ingredients. Pour into buttered baking dish. Cover and bake 40 minutes in moderate oven. Remove cover and cook 5 minutes to brown top. Serve warm or cold.
- Hard Sauce
- 1/3 cup butter
 - 1 tablespoon hot cream
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
 - 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
 - 1 1/2 cups confectioner's sugar
 - Mix ingredients. Beat until creamy. Chill.

VISIBLE TAXES.

The onlooker at events is led to wonder often whether people are really as foolish as legislators think they are. There's the matter of taxes, for instance.

Taxes have to be paid. The expenses of government, local, state and federal, have to be met. The only way that can be met in the long run is through taxes. The only fair taxes are on incomes and land. These are open and visible. Everybody knows they are there, how great the percentage is and what they will probably bring in to pay government expenses.

But most legislators think people don't want to know they are being taxed. So after they had a pretty fair set-up there in Washington, with every fellow down to the one who earned $800 a year paying something, and the big fellows paying lots and lots, they got cold feet. They dropped the tax on the little fellow and softened the taxes on the big fellow and left the fellow in between to pay for the whole show.

What happens when they do that? Do the little fellows escape? Certainly not. They pay higher rents. They pay sales taxes on food and clothes and fuel. And they pay all kinds of hidden taxes shoved onto them and multiplied as they pass along the line from producer to consumer.

Do the big fellows escape? Well, we're asking you. Does the little fellow really want this kind of thing? Or isn't he sane enough to prefer a fair, square open tax that he and everybody knows about and that touches every fellow according to his means?

THE BEAUTIES OF NATURE

This is quite a remarkable August. There's that mayor of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, who was getting up duck races. He had a good duck-racing stable started, and was putting his money on Susie. He was trying her out on the river with a piece of string tied to her when she suddenly snapped the string and went over the falls.

Susie was still alive and kicking when rescued, but something vital, said her owner, seems to have gone out of her. She turns away when people approach as if ashamed of something, no longer meeting all comers with a ray and ducky glance. The duck races were to make money to stock the stream with fish eggs or something, but what with Susie's accident and the fear that onlookers might fall in and go over the falls, hobbling up with less clam, aplomb and other razzing word puzzle words than Susie showed, the races may have to be postponed.

Then there's that farmer in Iowa who was missing eggs. Finally the china nest egg disappeared. Then he found a bullock dead in the poultry yard with a bump in his middle which turned out to be the china egg. We seem to recall this story in tales of the long ago, but far be it from us to deprive Iowa of a little glory.

We do think nature is marvelous.

CENTRAL AMERICAN UNION

There is talk in Central America of establishment of an economic union of El Salvador, Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras and Costa Rica. So far it has not gone beyond the stage of a proposed conference of the presidents of the five republics to discuss the possibilities of commercial and economic co-operation for the group. It is said that a political union, while possibly desired in some quarters, is considered impractical, because of the rivalries for power and prestige it would arouse. A commercial and economic union ought to have many beneficial possibilities. It could be used to stimulate domestic and foreign trade, to improve international business relations, to attract travelers, to develop communication systems, and so on. If it worked, it would promote peace among the nations concerned.

At least, it would be an interesting experiment. If it were successful, larger nations might profit by the example.

ORDERS FOR TOOLS

Last year this time everyone was rejoicing in the pick-up in automobiles and retail trade, but maintaining that the depression could not be considered over until there was a definite and expanding demand for durable goods. This year the National Machine Tool Builders association reports their index of production is 33 points above a 15-year average.

Some of this demand is based on automobile production, of course, and is subject to its curves. But some of it, too, is for improving and restocking of factories long closed or working at low speed for a long time.

These orders mean a real and demonstrable gain in general business.

SAVING DEMOCRACY

Almost twenty years ago, it was when our kind old boys won't drop the word safe for the word "today." Today Europe is agreed, may become another world holocaust.

The United States should determine now to stay home and let Europe do its own fighting—and financing. The problem today is to save democracy for the world. We can do that better by attending to our own peaceful business at home. Even here, that problem is of sufficient importance to engross our entire attention.

UNCLE SAM AS A HERMIT

While Japan and Italy are following the traditional courses of imperialistic extension the United States is in reverse. It is receding. It seems, temporarily at least, to have no sphere of influence. It has pulled its marines, dropped pretenses of authority in Cuba, and abandoned the Philippines, retiring into itself. It stretches the medium of clumsy politicians and statesmen, forbids foreign loans, tries to avoid an exportable surplus in agriculture, and generally appears as an illustration of a nation turning hermit.

To these evidences of purpose must be added others. There is a pressure for statutes which will operate as automatic embargoes if other nations go to war, as though we can do that better by attending to our own peaceful business at home. Even here, that problem is of sufficient importance to engross our entire attention.

There is a lot in the world to be sure. There are Italy and Japan at the old work of using compressed and exploited populations as the excuse for conquest and expansion, more history of materialistic domination. European intrigue shifts its position, the nations ostensibly trying to prevent the sort of the dangerous race for new lands, resources, and markets, but each actually trying not to be left at the post.

What will be made of it all in retrospect we can only guess, and badly, at this.

THE LEGION STANDS FIRM

Frank Beltrano, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, delivered his command's address before the Idaho department convention at Boise Monday morning. The address, from newspaper extracts, was the most interesting and the most delivered at the Moscow convention just held by Edward A. Hayes, then national commander.

This is not to be wondered at. The American Legion is an organization organized for a purpose. That its purpose does not shut with every group of officers, officers, and members in the nationalistic breeze, is to be commended. It matters little who sits in the high office of national commander. It matters little who transitory problems may come before the several departments of the Legion or before its national councils. The Legion has before it a well-ordered, soundly conceived program.

We may have all of us agree with all portions of that program. Obviously it has been drafted for the benefit of its members. It looks to the welfare of Legionnaires and the welfare of the nation as seen through the eyes of the service men's organization. With that we can have no objection. Most organizations of the same kind, in the main, however, the platform of the American Legion is a platform to which most of us can subscribe.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Manhattan seems to have no professional night since Ben De Caceres became domesticated by marriage and James Hunner slipped over the horizon. There are, of course, roystering on foot, mostly college boys on the loek, gamblers, chiselers, sundry nice-thinks.

But none of the jubilants who loved night for that is not shirking of law or alone. The good fellows of the sleigh song whose many-faceted faces were the forums of philosophical debate, earnest pleadings for causes, all spread with their dream, have heard their O. O. McIntyre after dark it's a sad omission.

Thinkers have surrendered night to despoilers, the gangster, footpad and badger-worker. Once the former midnight Magician with the softness of daybreak in her eyes inspired our fleeting companion. Now the type has become a hard-boiled, imperious but busy and busy only our inane-fingering step.

In the metropolitan vastness a know not a single nocturnal niche that is not shrieking of law or alone. Guiding Your Child

By ALICE CLARIBEA RICHMOND

RESPECTING CONFIDENCES: "What do you think Harry told me yesterday? Of course it's a secret, but it really is too good to keep."

Many mothers, entrusted with their children's confidences, break faith with the youngsters and tell to them the secrets as unimportant and telling them they can hurt no one. In the end, however, their broken faith is a boomerang that turns back and hits them.

This is a child's young and apt to change is no reason for treating his secrets as unimportant. If the truth were told, most personal confidences are unimportant save to the teller.

The child relies on his parents for support and sympathy. Their interest in his interests, and in that faith he has bare his innermost soul to them. He expects them to understand and to guard him from sneers and ridicule from outsiders.

When he finds that they have broken faith and told his confidence in him is shattered or at least shaken. He is not apt to repeat the experience and to force back into himself with no one to whom he can turn for help or advice or understanding.

In later years his mother may complain, "Harry never talks to me. I don't know what he thinks or feels." Harry probably learned his lesson young. "Mother always tells."

It is a matter of common courtesy quite as much as of expediency, under no circumstances to repeat a child's confidences or the expressions of his unguarded moments. The child is taught never to repeat, but to cherish the honor and solidarity of the family. His mother would be shocked and grieved if he went about telling the intimate details of his home life. Surely the same con-

I'm glad the column is in the last of the home stretch. I just glanced at the back page of a magazine and it features an ad for a "panorama, camera." Panorama camera? I've already started my bling and they may be testing my knee jerks by night.

WASHINGTON, By Ray Tucker

SKILL. President Roosevelt, has continued to advance his policy intelligently satisfied with the accomplishment of this closing session of Congress. Despite obvious differences between Roosevelt and the Senate, he has been of the framework of the New Deal assumes final shape. He will study the structure published in good time.

No Congress has left more arguments and disagreements in its wake. Nevertheless, on close study it has been one of the most historic and productive in modern times. Mr. Roosevelt's inner circle quietly hail three new laws as the New Deal's finest achievements—the social security bill, the social taxation measure and the Wagner labor disputes act.

Even opponents concede the skill of the President's handling of the legislative "horse race." It has turned out to be a triumph complete or partial. In thirty months he has lowered and raised major deficits, adjusted these involved issues on which most Chief Executives lose—foreign and veterans' affairs. Congress spanned the bridge between the New Deal and Lawrence Treaty and veterans' economies.

New York sharpers recognize that factoring in the mood to stand for anything which might decrease or eliminate their benefits. A stable fund has actually been raised by agreement with permits to test the constitutionality of protective tariffs—as distinct from import duties for revenue only—in the event that processing taxes are eventually banned by the supreme court. You may have noticed that the New Dealers have done nothing about providing alternative sources for farm benefit payments in the event that the tariff is nullified. There's method in that. It invites the farmers to concentrate their ire on the New England and New York farmers who instigated the amendment.

New York conservatives have no love whatever for processing taxes. But the wise ones figure that no development would come closer to landing the F.D.C. reelection than to have these taxes and the benefit payments derived from them outlawed by the supreme court.

ORPHAN. If Senator Pope of Idaho runs into his chilly reception at the hands of the administration during his recent trip abroad, he will have only himself to blame. That isn't to say that the administration's attitude toward him is unimportant. It is a matter of common courtesy quite as much as of expediency, under no circumstances to repeat a child's confidences or the expressions of his unguarded moments.

The child is taught never to repeat, but to cherish the honor and solidarity of the family. His mother would be shocked and grieved if he went about telling the intimate details of his home life. Surely the same conditioner is due to the child, whose affairs are also a family matter and not a topic for general discussion.

LEVELLY. Henry Ford isn't satisfied with keeping Chevrolet and Plymouth executives awake at night. Insiders learn that he will present a new car to the public in the next month. It will be a 12-cylinder baby Lincoln and will be priced around $1,000.

The informed predict that Buick and Chrysler will have to step lively to keep their places in the parade.

POCATELLO, Aug. 23 (AP)—If plans to the state WPA office go unheeded, it may result in the building of a community center at here, will be forced to attract classes, next month. The project has been approved by the county superintendent, announced.

The situation was caused, he said, when the old building had been partially demolished and the new structure under construction.

A meeting has been called here Friday by Low in an effort to have the construction continue under the WPA.

He said at the present time all the building are on the ground and are getting along nicely. The school district's financial situation to complete the project is not good.

CONGRESSMAN REPORTS COLONISTS CONTENTED

SEATTLE, Aug. 23 (AP)—Colonists in the Matanuska valley are now contented. Representative C. Glenn Dietrich, Democrat, of Pennsylvania, member of the House Territorial and Insular Affairs committee, said yesterday that he had returned from a month's tour of Alaska.

He was in the Matanuska valley town to visit with 20 families, he said, and they all satisfied they were well housed and had the best of the new buildings built by the government.

The authorities there feel that the settlement is being made because of those who left. There are bound to be people who didn't fit in.

Dietrich will go to Washington, D. C., to make his report next week.

New Record Set In Barley Yield Race

New record for barley yields in Twin Falls county was reported yesterday by C. Q. Kelly, who resides two miles north and a half mile east of Washington school. Mr. Kelly reported a yield of 141 1/2 bushels per acre on a measured plot of one and one-half acres.

Previous high yield reported was by E. O. Cain, two miles west of Twin Falls, who reported a yield of 132 1/2 bushels to the acre on a twelve acre measured plot. Mr. Kelly also reported a high yield for oats at 89 bushels to the acre.

STATE PRESENTS CASE AGAINST AUTO DRIVER

Trials of George Hague of Vancouver, British Columbia, on a misdemeanor charge of reckless driving opened in the probate court here yesterday, coming as an aftermath to a collision in which Hague's car carelessly crashed against a truck that was turning from the highway to a farm driveway, and in which Mrs. Hague and their 10-year-old son received injuries that required attention at the hospital here.

Presentation of the case for the prosecution was completed following selection of a six-man jury and the trial is to be resumed this morning when evidence for the defendant is to be offered by his attorneys, Frank L. Stephen and J. H. Blandford.

Edward Babcock, prosecuting attorney, presented the case for the prosecution yesterday.

Ray Durrk of Hansen, driver of the truck, which was damaged, is alleged to have collided, in the complaining witness.

The accident occurred on the highway east of Kimberly on Thursday of last week.

KIMBERLY IN LINE FOR FEDERAL GRANT

Waterworks Installation Approved as PWA Project

A $50,000 municipal waterworks system for Kimberly to which the federal public works administration would contribute $22,500, or 45 percent of the total cost, has been approved as a federal work-related project, according to press dispatches from Washington yesterday.

Kimberly's council, taking the lead for the waterworks project about a year ago, applied for the PWA grant, and will submit for approval by the voters a bond issue of approximately $27,500 which with the PWA grant would finance the undertaking. Public sentiment in Kimberly, according to news received in the course of negotiations for the PWA grant, is strongly in favor of the project.

Kimberly's water supply now is derived from three or four privately owned wells. There is no distribution system.

The proposed new waterworks system, according to plans drawn by Harold William Merritt, Twin Falls civil engineer, provides for distribution system, elevated tank, and wells as the source of water supply.

MORTGAGOR DECLARES OBLIGATION TWICE PAID

Alleging that he has already paid more than twice the principal sum of a $500 promissory note that he gave to Peter Pearson in May, 1932, Howard Douglas started suit in the district court yesterday. Mortgage orders cancelling the note and

CHAMBER IN ATTEMPT TO REROUTE TRAFFIC

Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday decided to install highway signs at both ends of Main avenue in an effort to divert traffic along Main avenue instead of along the truck lane and also to guard against traffic hazards.

Howard Spear, chairman of the investigating committee, reported that the AAA had suggested that white lines be painted on the pavement at each end of Main avenue. R. W. Carpenter was named to interview highway officials on the proposal.

YOUNG FILER MATRON ANSWERS FINAL CALL

Mrs. T. F. Rathbun, 51, of Fifer, mother of two children, died at 7:15 o'clock last evening at the county general hospital here where she had been under treatment the past week. Death was attributed to peritonitis. Arriving completion of arrangements for funeral services, the body rests at the Drake mortuary in Twin Falls.

FORMER PRINCIPAL PAID LAST RITES

Final tribute for Miss Fannie Lincoln, former principal of Lincoln school and superintendent of the school of the Twin Falls grade schools, who died Wednesday, following a protracted illness, was paid yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Twin Falls mortuary chapel, many of her former pupils being among those attending the services.

Rev. E. L. White, Methodist minister, officiated at the rites. Wilton Peck sang "Gloria Home."

The body will be taken today to Portland, accompanied by a nephew, P. R. Thompson.

Miss Desmond and Norman Bates Will Open Studio Here

Miss Lyn Desmond and Norman Bates, dancing teachers, will open a dance studio at an early date, featuring systematic training for health as well as for art.

Mr. Bates has recently returned from Los Angeles where he took special training in pre-school dance training.

"Wandering Jew" Of Tramp Printer Fame Visits Here

Italian Bergeman, dean of the old school of tramp printers who is known in virtually every print shop west of the Mississippi river as the "Wandering Jew," yesterday paid a visit to old friends at the News office enroute (by rail) to California.

A journeyman printer with 32 years' experience in every manner of shop, Bergeman is heralded as a crack printer and linotype operator by those who have known him for many years. He started on the press when he was 17 years of age and is now 51.

"Wandering Jew" claims the distinction of being the only tramp printer in existence who isn't a panhandler, "boozefighter" or who does not use tobacco. At the present time he is collecting data for a book which he is writing, to be entitled "The Last of the Tramp Printers."

Bergeman, when asked the cause of his wanderlust, concluded: "Guess I'll be going. It's the Gypsy in me."

DR. HUBERT WORK'S SON SHOOT'S SELF

Maid Finds Body in Hotel Room; Note Addressed to Wife

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—Worried by falling health Robert V. H. Work, Jr., son of Dr. Hubert Work, committed suicide today by firing a bullet into his left temple.

He left a note addressed to his wife, Lucile, whom he married last November, saying "I cannot drag you through any more of unhappiness."

The body was found by a maid in the hotel where he registered last night.

Work, who was engaged to the storage business, came here from Denver, Colorado, where he had been an executive in large storage concern. His first wife, Mrs. Irm Work, won a divorce in the Los Angeles courts and custody of their child. His second marriage took place shortly afterward.

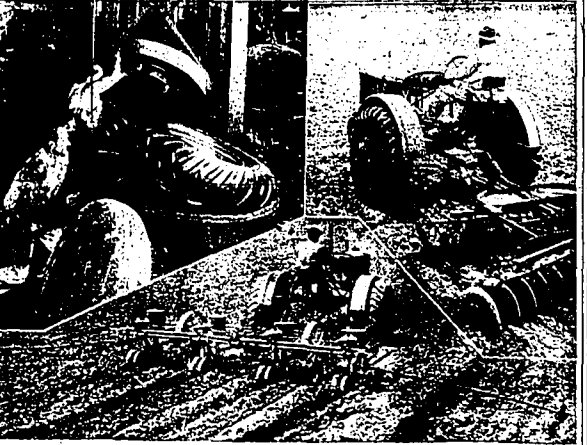

Suffered Poor Health

Mrs. Work said her husband had no business troubles, insofar as the work, but that his health had been bad for some time.

Work's father, whose home is in Pueblo, Colorado, resigned as secretary of the Interior to direct Herbert Hoover's campaign against Al Smith in 1928.

The younger Work was a graduate of the University of Colorado and widely known among the Denver social set for several years.

FARMERS SAVE BOTH TIME AND FUEL WITH NEW TRACTOR TIRE

Left: Reversing ground tractor tires from mounds at Firestone factories at Los Angeles. Right: New and improved Firestone tires being driven on road. Seeding is simplified by the advantage that pneumatic tires now pack the soil.

Marking another step in the rapid improvement of farm machinery, farmers everywhere are saving time and fuel by equipping with the new Ground Grip tractor and farm implement tires. The demand for these tires is so great that factories are working day and night to produce enough tires for farmers' requirements, according to H. D. Tompkins, Sales Manager of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company of California.

Any farmer who has been stilled to do so much of so late and has had to use chains to get out over claims the importance of "Ground Grip" tires. These tires do away with the old-fashioned, hard, smooth tires and are satisfactory for either paved or unpaved roads.

Most important about this new equipment is the fact that farmers are saving time and fuel by using the use of Ground Grip tires. Recent extensive and scientific tests have indicated agricultural colleges that the tires of 10 to 25 percent with Firestone Tractor and Farm Implement tires. Tompkins pointed out. Furthermore, the farmer's work is made easier by the savings in
