Blackshirts Tigers Triumph Over Fighting Cubs, 6 to 5, In 11-Inning Struggle

Schoolboy Rowe's Relief Pitching And Jo-Jo White's Single Send Detroit Into World Series Lead, 2-1

By ALAN GOULD (Special Editor) WRIKLEY FIELD, CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Out of a ten-post-blast of wintry weather, bitter arguments and baschite, the Detroit Tigers, instead of the home-town Cubs, emerged today as the team to beat—perhaps the team of destiny, after all—in the frost-bitten battle for baseball's world championship.

The American league champions, fighting every step of the way, survived a succession of discouraging developments to capture their second straight game behind the relief pitching of Lydwon (Schoolboy) Rowe in eleven innings, and secured their best start to offset the biting breezes from Lake Michigan.

The Cubs, who were leading 3 to 5 at Marvin Owen playing first base instead of Hank Greenberg, tallied their winning run on Jo-Jo White's single in the bottom of the second extra frame.

GROWERS ENVOYSE FEDERAL CONTROL OF POTATO CROPS

Senator Borah, in Informal Discussion With 500 South Idaho Farmers, Shippers Gets Expression of Views

Five hundred of south-central Idaho's potato growers and shippers, meeting in Twin Falls high school auditorium last night, assured Senator William E. Borah that a majority of them favored the federal control, not as passed by congress recently.

The expression was recorded by a standing vote following extensive informal discussion, which the senator initiated.

The meeting, one of several requested by Senator Borah to secure growers' opinion of the act, was attended by Carl DeLong, executive secretary of Idaho Vegetable Growers Association, who reminded the audience that Idaho was a state of famous potatoes and a more important potato producer than any other state.

Senator Borah assured his listeners that it was "not his meeting," that he was not there to speak, but to listen to the growers' views.

He said that he was glad that someone in Washington had discovered that we had a potato problem, and that he would do his best to help solve it.

Casualties Mount As Ethiopians Stubbornly Resist Italian Army's Relentless Drive on Three Fronts

Threatened by Italian Advance

NATIVES who strolled peacefully along this Harar street earlier this year may now be strung out in battle lines or caring for wounded. The city is the capital of Ethiopia's Ogaden province, against which Italian columns are reported to be moving from the southeast.

Fascist Planes in North And Southeast Spread Death And Destruction; Troops Advance Rapidly

Battle Rages Over Only Rail Outlet

The third day of open hostilities between the fighting men of Italy and Ethiopia began early today with fierce fighting in the Mount Mussa Ali sector. It was reported in Addis Ababa.

The governor of the province was said to be assembling strong reinforcements totalling 60,000 men 30 miles south of the mountain in an effort to forestall the Italian drive toward the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway, Ethiopia's only link with the outside world.

Italian forces along the Aduwa front have not yet met the main army of Governor Ras Seyoum, the reports stated and have been opposed by a single division.

This time the advantage seemed to belong to the Italians. Equipped with every instrument of modern warfare, the fascists relentlessly pressed toward the town to avenge the slaughter of an Italian army in 1935.

Ten miles back from Aduwa, Italian armies commanded all approaches to the 7,600-foot-high plain. Their path was not an easy one, however, for Ethiopian warriors put up a grim struggle.

An official announcement in Rome said Italians expected to capture Aduwa today or Sunday. Already they had taken the town of Abba Gada, 25 miles to the north.

Very heavy casualties were inflicted, the Italians said. They pressed airplanes, tanks, cavalry and infantry into service.

Italian troops are pressing into Ethiopia from three fronts, reports in Addis Ababa said. A severe battle was fought in Ogaden, in the southwest. It was announced there were 200 casualties on each side. It was the first indication of an Italian advance from that direction.

Emperor Haile Selassie remained calm and expressed faith his warriors could check the Italian advance from strategic mountain fastnesses.

Premier Benito Mussolini took steps designed to prevent the spread of economic sanctions to Europe and to fortify Italy in case other things, he signed a trade treaty with Spain. Italian newspapers warned France against the peril of joining Britain in sanctioning Ethiopia.

The league council will meet Saturday and is expected quickly to decide whether Italy is guilty of violation of the covenant and if so, to take steps, but application of sanctions is a session of the assembly would be called for this purpose.

None of the pact, was hit by the Italian attack. The Italian command was confident the resistance would be overcome in the course of the day and the Italian troops might enter Aduwa.

Rome Lists Triumphs Of 'Victorious' Arms

Mussolini Maneuvers To Keep War From Spreading In Europe

ROME, Oct. 4.—Italy's captured legions drove steadily forward in Ethiopia, fastened one town and expanded to take Aduwa tomorrow, while Benito Mussolini maneuvered in Europe to keep war from spreading in Europe.

Ethiopian warriors are making strong resistance at Aduwa, where an Italian army was crushed in 1935, an official spokesman said. In front of the stronghold tribesmen have entrenched themselves and are maintaining rifle and machine-gun fire.

Admiral Duce, 25 miles east of Aduwa, has fallen into black-shirt hands, the spokesman said, and a number of villages were occupied peacefully. No mention was made of casualties in the engagements.

Blackshirts all over Rome impatiently awaited news of the fall of Aduwa. The facts gave a demonstration of friendship to France before the palace occupied by the French ambassador.

Several thousand fascists, led by a group of blackshirts in uniform, chanted "Viva France" and "Duce, Duce." This demonstration was planned to thank France for taking a mild position toward Ethiopia.

The advance Italian army sent word to guard homeland of a "victorious Italy" into the enemy territory. On official reports said the soldiers sent forward all along the front.

ETHIOPians DEFEND IMPORTANT BRIDGE

Governor of Area Orders 50,000 Warriors to Rail Crossing

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 5 (Saturday)—Reports reached this city today that 50,000 warriors are being mobilized under way in the Mount Mussa Ali sector where the railway to Djibouti, Ethiopia's only link with the outside world, is at stake.

In order to repel the Italian threat to the important railway bridge at Mussa Ali, the governor of the area was said to be rushing up reinforcements, ordering 50,000 warriors to defend the railroad by all possible means.

Carry Modern Guns The warriors were reportedly headed by a fierce officer and were equipped with modern Swiss anti-aircraft guns.

The reports said the main army of Governor Ras Seyoum of East Tigray province had been ordered to the Aduwa front, which has been carried on by a single division under the command of General Gabriel Woldemar.

The fighting got under way early today after fresh Italian onslaughts from the sky in new sectors spread death and destruction in Ethiopia.

At 12:02 a. m. General Thompson, the previous incumbent, was reported to have been executed. He was reported to have been executed by a firing squad.

CONFERENCE HEARS TEMPERANCE PLEA

L. D. S. Members told to Place Church Before Politics

NALL LAKE CITY, Oct. 4 (AP)—Latter Day Saints were called upon today to place their church before politics, according to a spokesman.

George P. Richards of the Council of Twelve Apostles was one of the speakers who exhorted the church people to act conscientiously rather than in loyalty to political parties when there is a conflict between church teachings and political life.

This advice to the thousands gathered in the tabernacle came after President Heber J. Grant made a formal appeal for temperance in regard to both liquor and tobacco.

Mr. Richards said he regretted that many members because of political loyalty went contrary to the admonitions of church leaders and voted for liquor.

He branded this as a falsehood and declared that in the years prohibition he had never seen a drunken man or woman in the streets of Nall Lake City.

Richard R. Lyman, member of the Council of Twelve Apostles, also spoke. He called the liquor traffic an American public enemy No. 1.

Another address Samuel O. Benson, first council of apostles, urged people to turn to their church history and study it, to read books and papers, and to have the strength of God in their lives.

Tommy two general sessions in the tabernacle were held, with meetings of the Aaronic priesthood, the Seventies council, the central priesthood and the primary association scattered throughout the day.

"Khan-Coctions" Inspire American-Cooks' Menus

Eight and a half centuries ago Genghis Khan held Asia in the palm of one hand—but in the other he wielded a scourge of alarming proportions. It is not commonly known that the great Mongolian ruler was a connoisseur of food and that he spent his spare time in the royal kitchen concocting rare dishes which today are the stock in trade of every American housewife.

Until the 12th century rice was the staple of the Orient, and the Chinese were getting pretty tired of it. Then Genghis came along with his sparkling genius, saw the inherent possibilities of rice and put it into the art of cooking which has stagnated for so many centuries. "Mongolian Curried Chicken," his favorite brain-child, is just as fit for an emperor, and is too fit to eat with knife and fork as with chop sticks.

Another Khan specialty is chicken chop. It is made by taking a whole chicken, cutting it into small pieces, and frying it in a pan with a little oil. It is served with a sauce made of soy sauce, vinegar, and sugar.

Will you after this one shouting, "Meh you, hyong alone," which freely translated means "Boo, oh boo, you!"

"Chinese eggs" all "Boo, oh Boo, oh Boo," is a good dish to give your lurcher an original flavor. It is made by cooking eggs in a pan with a little oil, and then adding a sauce made of soy sauce, vinegar, and sugar.

Mongolian Curried Chicken
1 cup rice
1/2 cup oil
1/4 cup onion
1/4 cup garlic
1/4 cup ginger
1/4 cup salt
1/4 cup pepper
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup cornstarch
1/4 cup water

What Do Your Answers Indicate About Your Child's Environment?

"A yardstick" by which parents may determine whether the child in their home is "fortunate" or "unfortunate" for being there, was compiled at the recent meeting of the board of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. The list of "questions for parents" was compiled by the child guidance department of the Seattle, Washington, public schools. If the parent can answer "Yes" to the following questions the child may be counted "fortunate":

- Is the child a "junior partner" in family life and its responsibilities?
- Does he feel secure in his parents' affection without "monopolizing the stage"?
- Does he express his own individuality and compete happily?
- Is he in good general physical condition?
- Is his usual "emotional tone" peaceful and contented?
- Is the purpose of necessary punishment to show him that certain activities "do not pay"?
- Has his parents "learned" and taught him to ignore some things, not to worry about letters and frequently to "laugh it off"?
- Is he usually happy?
- If parents are obliged to say "Yes" to the following the child is said to be "unfortunate":
- Is he shielded and too much done for and to him?
- Is he uncertain of his place in the home?
- Has he learned to get attention through emotional outbursts?
- Do his parents try to realize their ambitions or thwarted desires through him?
- Has he become a "problem" because of chronic illness or ill health?
- Is he overstimulated, subject to "fits and starts"?
- Is punishment the result of parental frustration or irritability, because "the is that"?
- Is he unhappy, excited, overtly adjustment to show him that certain activities "do not pay"?

Meat butter, add and brown on just plentiful and clear. Add flour, and when mixed, add cheese, tomatoes and seasonings. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until thick and creamy. Spread roughly on toast fingers.

MISSING MOMENTS
When you find that you forgot to pack shirt studs with your dinner clothes, it doesn't take long to realize there'll be something missing in your appearance!

TODAY there are lots of people who are beginning to realize that the coffee they thought had everything is lacking something. It's difficult to tell what's missing, but the fact remains that the flavor is "off"—and too frequently to be pleasant. Nothing can take the place of flavor in coffee.

When the coffee you use begins to turn up with something missing in flavor, it's because of variation in the blend, roast, grind or pack. And, unfortunately, all you care in making coffee will not overcome these faults. The thing to do is change to Hills Bros. Coffee. It is a never-changing blend of the finest coffees grown. This blend is roasted by an exclusive process—CONTROLLED ROASTING—that insures uniform flavor in every pound. This rich, matchless flavor is completely protected by Hills Bros. VACUUM PACK. And the crown of Hills Bros. Coffee gives perfect results in any coffee-making utensil.

DECISION AGAINST BONDHOLDER CLAIM

Idaho Supreme Court Sustains Defense of Village of Heyburn

BOJEM, Oct. 4.—The Idaho supreme court yesterday denied a $750,000 hearing in litigation with the village of Heyburn, reversed the decision of a lower court in a criminal case and affirmed the judgment of a lower court in a civil case.

The court denied an application for a rehearing that was filed by the Security Saving and Trust Co., of Portland, Ore. In its case against the village of Heyburn, the amount of $125,000 and miscellaneous amounts was sought by the corporation on interest on bonds which it had purchased. The court July 9 entered an opinion whereby Justice James P. Altshie affirming the judgment of the lower court in which the village's defense was upheld.

Justice Frank J. Conroy, who presided over the case, was convinced on a charge of receiving personal property, "knowing" the same to have been stolen. Rankin was in effect exonerated on the grounds of insufficient evidence when the judgment of the fifth district court for Franklin county was reversed. Rankin was charged with having received stolen wool. He was apprehended in Brigham City, Utah. The opinion was written by Justice Frank J. Conroy and was concurred in unanimously.

In the civil case, the court affirmed the judgment of the fifth district court of Pocatello, in which Ora Davis Hillman, a widow, and her four minor children were awarded compensation granted by the Industrial Accident board following the death of her husband on December 5, 1933. The Utah Power and Light company and the State Insurance commission were the respondents. The opinion was written by Justice Altshie.

A communique said the Italians met little resistance from Ethiopian tribesmen. Inhabitants of native villages fled with their families to the approach of the invaders, the communique reported. Natives were described as in a state of extreme misery and abjectness. It was said to give them food. Leaflets dropped from airplanes told them they had nothing to fear unless they resisted.

Mussolini's Moves

Mussolini's moves here were both economic and political.

1. He signed a commercial accord with Spain, greatly increasing trade between the two nations.

(An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Istanbul, Turkey, said Italy signed a contract with a Black Sea company for large shipments of wool.)

2. He sent Baron Pompeo Aloisi, head of the Italian delegation, to Geneva, where the council of the League of Nations will meet tomorrow.

3. He allowed newspapers to warn France of the dangers of joining Great Britain in sanctions.

League Delegate Returns

Aloisi returned to Geneva this afternoon. Mussolini, after the last cabinet meeting, promised to remain in the room until he took full responsibility for "measures striking Italy." That implied, of course, Italy would not be dropping out of the league.

What Italy would do in the case of military sanctions on Germany, government circles did not say.

An appeal to France to retain the recently restored Italian franchise was published by Il Lavoro Fascista.

Italian planes bombed the frontier post of Yambuda, 100 miles from Addis Ababa, on Oct. 3. The Italian planes were shot down and destroyed. A radio station was damaged at Gornale, Ogaden Province, by the sky raiders. Casualties were not known.

Frontier posts at Jambuda, where men were wounded, and at Korab, where the Italian delegation was held, also were reported damaged by the missiles.

Italian pilots who bombed Addis Ababa dropped pamphlets in Amharic asking the Italian government to become neutral and that those touch it will be destroyed.

Plane Shot Down

Italian captured Bahabra, the government announced, and it was feared Addis would not be able to hold out for long. Defenders of Bahabra, which was bombed for a second time, shot down an Italian plane, an Ethiopian report said.

While Addis was resisting, an Ethiopian force of 12,000 men was reported to be advancing from Addis Ababa. (Ethiopian sources around Bahabra are reported.)

The pamphlets from the sky told Ethiopians "you have eyes but do not see. You have ears but do not hear. You have hands but do not work. The Addis Ababa government is preventing your trade with Ethiopia, deprives you of a livelihood, and has bombed the city. We have helped you. If today you make war, you will close their frontiers and you will be reduced to destruction."

"Nobody except Italians can interfere with your happiness or save you," the pamphlets said. "If you do not fight, you will be destroyed. The Italians are powerful in arms and in justice and they are beloved of God."

Cubs Charge Umpire With 'Wearing Detroit Uniform'

'Nobody But Moriarity Beat Us,' Screams Hartnett As Chicago Players Join In Bitter Attack

'He Demoralized Our Ball Club,' Coach Declares

(Associated Press Sports Writer) CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Boiling with rage, the Cubs charged Umpire Moriarity with wearing a Detroit uniform as they stormed and muttered to themselves after reaching their dressing room today with the sting of a 6-5 facing burning in their hearts.

"Nobody else but Moriarity beat us today," screamed Chief Hartnett, the Cubs catcher, "if he hadn't chased O'Rim—Woody Williams and Stainback out of the dugout we would have won."

When it became necessary to make replacements in the tenth, English was sent there to replace Moriarity as the American League pitcher.

Even with the National League, Quigg chased the Cubs out of the sixth for beating on Quigg's decision, when Fox was caught off guard by French, the Cubs big left hander, English, Jurgis, Coach Roy Johnson, John Corridan, another coach and other Cubs players flared with cursing them, reflecting collectively on their ancestry, when he returned to the dugout to quibble over the call.

Called Caravetta out trying to steal second in the sixth.

Corridan, a modest, quiet veteran of the diamond, said he never heard such language from an umpire.

—Demoralized Club—

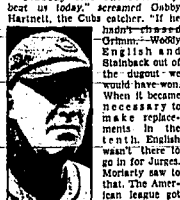

"He was guilty of antagonizing and demoralizing our ball club," Corridan blurted. "His best as an umpire was a foot between the lines."

Orim, ordered off the bench with Stainback and English, declared that Moriarity overstepped his authority.

"What were we supposed to do, lay down and die out there? He asked. "If a manager gets out on a bench, a decent kick what he'll be the same coming to. I didn't swear at him but he swore at us. If he makes the same decision again tomorrow, he'll have a chance to throw me out again."

English, with 'em game, Orim yelled to his muttering players. "You guys are better than they are. We'll win this game."

Baseball's 'Czar' Probes Dispute

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP)—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, began an investigation tonight into the controversy at the third world meeting game today between Umpire George Moriarity and the Chicago Cubs led by Manager Charley Grimm.

Tigers I never used an umpire as long as my life and I do try to start now. Those decisions and bells are all part of a ball game."

Little George Stainback said he was chased out of the ball game because he resented Moriarity's cause.

When he called us a name I told him to get your hands out of your pockets and wear down, but the guy wasn't name enough."

The grim viewed the ball game, along with English and Stainback, through a hole in the clubhouse door. When Moriarity chased them, Orim-drove his fist through a panel in the door so he could watch what was going on in the ball field. It was from this spot that he directed the players who Coach Orim-told and Johnson carrying out his orders.

To Start Carleton

Orim said he would start Jimmy "Tex" Carleton six-foot right-hander, against the Tigers tomorrow.

In sharp contrast to the Cubs dressing room, "The Tigers" were whooping it up. Manager Cochrane said he was the loudest rooster game in which he ever had played.

It was a big game for us to win today. It was the toughest, worst across game I've ever played in.

quickly put on the defensive as Lee, the freshman right-hander of the Cubs, pitched them into a 6-5 defeat. The game, which was the first since the Cubs returned from the St. Louis series, was a hard-fought battle that resulted in the banishment of Del Baker from the third base coaching line.

The Tigers were still two runs behind, going into the eighth, but they came roaring back with a four-run attack to take the lead, only to have the Cubs rally in the ninth to tie the score with a full-page of Fredo Lindstrom led off with a double to the bleacher section and right-center but rose tight on up, retried the side, and then stroked the Cubs in the eleventh after the weaker half of the Tiger batting order started the winning run.

Baseball's 'Czar' Probes Dispute

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP)—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, began an investigation tonight into the controversy at the third world meeting game today between Umpire George Moriarity and the Chicago Cubs led by Manager Charley Grimm.

Tigers I never used an umpire as long as my life and I do try to start now. Those decisions and bells are all part of a ball game."

Little George Stainback said he was chased out of the ball game because he resented Moriarity's cause.

When he called us a name I told him to get your hands out of your pockets and wear down, but the guy wasn't name enough."

down at second when Lindstrom was stepped and attempted to start back at second for a force play. Clifton then grounded sharply to Lindstrom, who failed to anticipate a bad bag and was charged with an error that proved the final "kick" of the game.

Howe, fanned, swinging, but White, with the snails to base, picked up French's best pitch and drove in on a line to center, scoring Owen and sending Clifton to third. Cochrane's foul fly ended the inning.

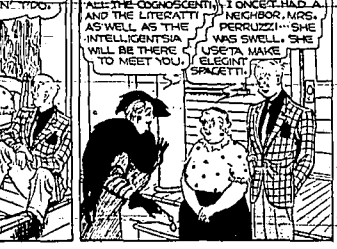

The Cub rosters yielded for another cross-buck but the lower end of the batting order, including replacements which helped lead the score in the ninth, was unable to score through again. Hack grounded out and fovee bore down with a final flourish to strike out. Chuck Klein and Walter Stephenson, pinch-hitting for French.

The game repeatedly rose to high pitches of argument and excitement as well as batting hitting. Led by Grimm—the Cubs warned out of their dugout in the sixth to protect Moriarity's decision in calling out Phil Caravetta on an attempted steal of second. The Chicago manager was put out of the park for making his comment too heated, but the don't quit the home benefit. To keep "riding Moriarity, An American leaguer, with the result that he went over to the dugout at the end of the seventh and also chased Captain English, another non-combatant, to the showers.

Cubs Riding High

At the time the Cubs were in the lead and apparently riding high behind the pitching of Lee, who led the Tigers to five hits in the first seven innings and looked to be on his way to victory in the first world series start. The home team jumped off in front on Frank Demaree's home run into the right-field bleachers. In the second, with another marker, coming in on Stainback's single, second, Clifton's error on a roller by Jurgis and Lee's in-field-out. A pass to debut, was charged with one damaging error. In the second inning, the little fellow came to play a bang-up game. Moriarity, however, was a "pepper" just throughout the game.

Owen also rose to the occasion by performing steadily at first-making no mistakes and making one brilliant stop. Greenberg's arm was as such bad shape that his chances of making any action are considered slim. Cochrane will await developments, however, before deciding whether Hack can be used at all tomorrow.

The defensive features of today's game were, turned in, by the Cub outfielders, all three of whom made sparkling catches to keep the Tigers under control early in the game. When two men on base and two out, Rogel's "Gibber" of a double with a leading glove-hand catch in left-center in the third.

A Circus Catch

Denare, with one man on and two out, pulled a circus catch that kept the Tigers from scoring in the fifth, coming up with the ball after turning for it and turning a somersault.

Lindstrom's stone in center before shifting to third base, for the last two innings, as the Cubs shook up their lineup, with Jurgis taken out for a pinch hitter. Hack moved to short. Klein went to right field and Demaree over the bleachers. This switch, necessary because Captain English was banished and unavailable for individual substitution, turned out badly for the home side.

It was Lindstrom's error, on Clifton's grounder, that paved the way for the winning Tiger run but this was so much second-guessing on the part of the losers. The same bad hope might have kept back from handling the ball perfectly. Lindstrom is no stranger at left, where he has spent much of his major league career—it was a "brak" and the tiger made the most of it.

43 Obtain Elk In Special Hunt

DOISE, Oct. 4 (AP)—Amos Eckert, Idaho state game warden, announced tonight that 43 of 100 licensed hunters obtained an elk piece in the Swan valley special elk hunt that ended last Sunday.

The fact that more hunters did not get their elk was due to adverse weather and the fact that many of the hunters were inexperienced in big game hunting. Mr. Eckert said.

He said that to regulate the hunt, 10 per cent of the total trophies are regarded as the average.

Mallon, Slater Lead Powerful Attack on Senators As Magic City Eleven Registers 27-0 Triumph

GOODING, Oct. 4.—Powerful line plugging by the battering Tole Slater and brilliant broken field running by the first-footed Elmer Mallon, coupled with powerful defensive line and spectacular blocking, gave the invading Bruins from Twin Falls a 27 to 0 victory over Coach Ab Berg's Gooding Senators here this afternoon.

After being pushed about during the first quarter and almost scored against, Twin Falls came back in the second to roll-up 20 points from three touchdowns and a safety, and then led the Bruins to a 27-0 half with reserves in the lineup most of the time.

Twin Falls received the opening kickoff and after tumbling three times in succession was forced to punt while backed up against the goal line. A short pass put the platoon on the field for a play in Gooding's possession as a penalty set the oval on the one-foot marker. The Bruins held for down.

Slater again punted short and after several series of plays during which the Bruins were held in the center of the field, Mallon opened the second quarter with a 20-yard run to a touchdown. The Bruins' interference after intercepting a Gooding pass.

Slater scored the second touchdown after a series of runs and the third came when Mallon got away on a wild dash to the goal for a 27-0 lead. Slater kicked off again and Gooding was forced to try a punt in the shade of the broken goalposts. Knight, fullback, dropped back and the center passed over his head into the end zone. Knight fell on the ball for a safety.

The final touchdown came early in the third quarter when Les Lindholm, Twin Falls ace guard, dropped back, dropped back and the center passed over his head into the end zone. Knight fell on the ball for a safety.

BORAH RECEIVES WARM RECEPTION

Twin Falls Audience Cheers Warning Against War Psychology

Applauds morning at times to a demonstration punctuated the remarks of Senator William B. Borah, guest of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce at a banquet held at the Park hotel preceding the meeting of the town to protest at which the senator was also present.

John Kinney, president of the chamber, called the meeting to order and introduced Frank L. Stepien who in a few brief words presented Borah to the chamber's guests.

The present program was between "Blatant Lies" and "Blatant Truth" which is purely a war over territory and the situation presents a serious problem and the chamber is full of the sincerity of our president when he announced that America should stand up to the world and its attitude does not determine the viewpoint of the American people.

War of Aggression "Never forget that this is a war of territorial aggression no matter how long the conflict may last and I would not sacrifice the life of one American boy to settle a dispute over European boundaries no matter how many countries were involved."

Senator Borah closed with a complimentary reference to the Twin Falls territory of which he said all Idahoans are proud.

Dream-Directed Worker in Wood Exhibits Models

A former Twin Falls resident, Loring J. Wood, will display in the Idaho Power company window today some pictures of his work with wood including the big log arch at his tourist park near Buhl, Oregon, that has attracted wide attention.

In addition, he said last evening, he expects to broadcast here his study of his work with wood which he declares to be the fulfillment of dreams. He pointed out that he had made his work with wood which he declares to be the fulfillment of dreams. R. P. Parry, State Chairman, Fills Vacancy on Executive Board

R. P. Parry of Twin Falls, chairman of the Republican State Executive Council, announced last night that he has appointed Sam S. Griffin, Boise lawyer, to succeed Oscar Worthwiler, now State attorney, who recently resigned as chairman of the Republican party executive committee.

Worthwiler resigned after he was elected national vice commander of the American Legion at St. Louis a few days ago.

Also announced that Mrs. Rebecca Wright of Boise has been named as temporary office manager of the Republican state headquarters, which opened in Boise, 1222 Noble building, yesterday.

The committee later is to appoint a permanent manager.

Boy Rallies From Black-Widow Bite

Joe Eads, 18, messenger for the Western Union Telegraph company, was bitten by a black widow spider sometime Wednesday night while he was sleeping at 312 Blue Lakes boulevard.

The insect was found on the bedding next morning by his mother. Scarcely has been administered and he is responding satisfactorily to the treatment, it is understood.

Infant's Rites Held

Funeral services for Margaret McKinley, two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McKinley, were held yesterday afternoon at 7 o'clock at the Twin Falls mortuary chapel, Rev. L. D. Smith, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiating.

Music was furnished by Miss Smith Interment was in Twin Falls cemetery.

drive deep into left center. Augie scored for it and then made a leaping one-handed catch. Even Coach Baker applauded the catch.

Again the walrus were scalped. Although the attendance was less than either game at Detroit, the receipts were almost one and a half higher than either game at Detroit. Every seat was sold at the public seat sale, but approximately 8000 seats were vacant.

Almost a score of major league baseball players circulated around the diamond before game time. Lou Gehrig offered congratulations to Coach when he heard that Greenberg couldn't play.

"How about letting me play first?" suggested Lou.

"Don't make me sick," sighed Mickey.

No more goose eggs for the Goose. No ahhh! Hisses in six times at bat in the first two games. Coach snatched out two singles and a double today, driving in two runs and scoring two more for himself. The rash of hits brought his series average up from a poor one to .377.

Charley Gehring took the lead away from Frank Demaree at bat in the first two games. Gehring has made 5 hits in 11 at bat for 11 runs in 12 at bat for the Cub outfielder.

So, they removed the biggest strike from the Tiger by taking out Gehring. But the Tiger chased State meet in their annual "civil war" at Duffie.

Two Women Granted, Two Seek Divorces

Two women were granted decrees of divorce at unopposed hearings before District Judge Adam B. Barbery, and two other women started suits for divorce, in the district court here yesterday.

On grounds of desertion a divorce was granted to Mrs. Reba Bennett, 1137 Sixth avenue east, yesterday, after she had been abandoned by Hugh W. Bennett just seven days after their marriage in Twin Falls on January 1, 1937. She also was restored to her former name of Mrs. Bennett.

Non-support was alleged by Mrs. Irene Crater in her suit for divorce from George Crater which was granted yesterday, and she was restored to her former name of Irene Coombs. They were married in Twin Falls on December 14, 1933. In an affidavit previously submitted in response to an order to show cause why he should not pay $50 a month alimony, Crater alleged desertion. The petition for divorce was not resisted.

Mrs. Edith Tucker of Buhl, mother of four children, 15 to 16 months old, started suit yesterday for divorce from Addie J. Tucker, alleged misfeasance, died Thursday, November 18, 1912. J. H. Sheriff of Buhl is her attorney. Alleging cruelty, Mrs. Ella W. Young started suit for divorce from George B. Young, now a resident of Medford, Oregon, to whom she was married at Dunsmuir, California, on August 31, 1925. She asked also for restoration to her former name of Ella W. Short because she is the mother of children by a former marriage bearing that name. Property rights, the petition said, have been settled. J. W. Porter of Twin Falls is her attorney.

Funeral Date Set for John E. Brown

John E. Brown, 48, died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary B. Brown, 1137 Sixth avenue east, yesterday. Mr. Brown was a bachelor. He was born March 25, 1897. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Drake mortuary chapel. Interment will be in Twin Falls cemetery.

He is survived by his mother and two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Thompson, Idaho Falls, and Mrs. A. W. Hacker, Twin Falls.

$150 Fine Assessed for Drunken Driving

Accused of drunken driving, William Birchard, 27, of Cassia, who allegedly drove his car into collision with another automobile at Buhl last Sunday, pleaded guilty in Judge of the Peace City E. Swenson's court in Twin Falls yesterday, and was sentenced to pay $150 fine. Birchard previously had pleaded not guilty and demanded trial.
