COURT RULES OUT CLUB'S RUM SALES

State Obtains Temporary Injunction Against Resort

BOISE, Oct. 24 (AP)—Sale of hard liquor by incorporated Idaho night clubs, associations and lodges to members and guests was declared unlawful tonight by Judge Charles E. Winstead of the Third district court here in an order to obtain a temporary injunction and order of abatement against the swanky "Idaho Club".

The case of the state against the club was argued before Judge Winstead today by Willis Kattus, attorney prosecuting attorney, and W. H. Langness and J. W. Calloway, Boise lawyers, who appeared in behalf of the club, a corporation, owned by T. Clark, its secretary and manager.

The next word in the case will be the setting of the time for the hearing of arguments on an order to show cause why the temporary injunction should not be made permanent.

The outcome of this action is expected to determine whether clubs, similar to the Idaho club, throughout the state, can continue to operate "legally" and "rightly".

The question is, "Can an association or club, formed under the laws of Idaho, for the benefit of its members and their family, and operated at the discretion of its members, be permitted to withdraw of liquor for the personal use of the members and their family, provided that the liquor was purchased from the state by a dispensary by a resident permittee who is a member or officer of such a corporation?"

The question, as Judge Winstead said, is, "Whether or not this club is a 'pooling' of the laws of the state, and, if so, a 'violation' within the meaning of the state liquor control act."

Outside of Law
He held that "the act makes no provision for the operation of 'social clubs' or for the operation of clubs for the exemption of clubs from the operation of the act."

Attorneys for the state represented by the attorney general, in concluding Judge Winstead wrote: "Respecting plainly, the injunction was granted because the facts before the court, in pure substance for the purpose of evading the law."

The stipulation indicated that the club was incorporated, that the liquor was purchased by its members and guests by a member or an officer from the Idaho state liquor control commission, that the liquor was being sold in the club, and that members and guests were paying service charges on drinking at the club, and that a fund which was set aside for the purchase of liquor.

AUDITORS RECORD BOISE SHORTAGE

$145,318 of City Funds Unaccounted for During 10-Year Term

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 24 (AP)—An audit of Boise municipal records from 1925 to 1934, by the state auditor, J. B. Roper, showed that $145,318 was unaccounted for during that period, Roper, city clerk, announced today.

The audit was made by Lybrand, Rose Brothers and Montgomery of Portland, Oregon.

The shortages first came to light about two years ago and shortly thereafter Mrs. Angela Heston, city clerk for a decade, pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzling in excess of $45,000.

Shortages in the office of city clerk were found by auditors to total $92,630 during the 10 years Mrs. Roper was clerk.

Mainly the shortages were in special assessment collection records.

The balance of the $145,318 was charged to failure of collection efforts or through "defalcations" in unrecorded receipts from taxes.

WOMEN LOSE FIGHT FOR YOUTH'S LIFE

John Hawkins Goes to Choir While Mother and Sister Wait Outside

—SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Oct. 24 (AP)—A three-week crusade for executive clemency blasted by attorney the sister and mother of 24-year-old John Hawkins, who was sentenced to life in an automobile today while the youth was hanged for the slaying of a Pasadena court clerk.

Stoic and unafraid, Hawkins mounted the fatal 13 steps anxious to "get it over with." Guards who performed the death watch said he slept well and ate a hearty breakfast before going to his death. The trap was sprung at 10:01 a. m. and he was pronounced dead 12 minutes later.

Riding with friends near the prison reservation while the strain was acted, distribution were Mrs. Martha Miller, sister, and Mrs. Mary Hawkins, mother of the doomed youth. A month ago they came here from St. Louis to try to win commutation or at least a reprieve.

Mrs. Miller appealed to Governor Frank I. Case for clemency. She was urged brother-to-brother guilty to the slaying of A. E. McConard during a holdup in Los Angeles. She had been assured, she said, his sentence would be no more than life imprisonment.

After the grim ceremony this morning, the women observed, "we did everything we could."

Modernistic Art Under Fire at Chicago Exhibit

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 (AP)—Modernistic pictures at the annual exhibit of American painting and sculpture were condemned to the scrap pile by several leading critics today — and warmly defended by their creators.

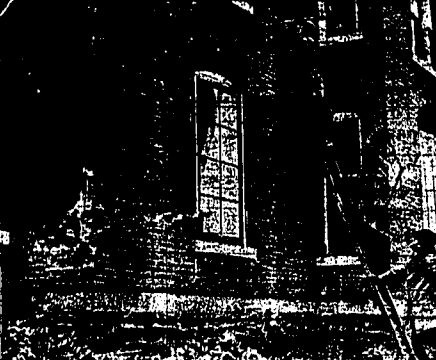

The critics summed up their analyses of the offerings at the art institute by stating they contained much silliness but little artistry.

But Aaron Bohrod, Chicagoan who won $200 prize for his "Palo Park, Los Angeles," said the critics "struck the main objective."

"The crux of the matter," he declared, "is that we are trying to do a new school of art that is distinctly American. We are seeking creative, personal style. Some pictures may seem strange, of course."

To Eleanor Jewett (Rhine) "a picture may be really and discouragingly bad, but it is American art, let's accept it and work."

What is bad health or advanced age? Speaking from Detroit on the same program, Gerard Swape, chairman of the mobilization, suggested the "good neighbor" policy as the keynote for the drive to raise $75,000,000 for private relief agencies.

Mr. Roosevelt said that September gains brought employment in the reporting industries to the level of November, 1930, and payrolls back to the level of May, 1931.

Appealing by radio to the nation to participate in the 1935 mobilization for human needs, Mr. Roosevelt reported that private industry "is taking up the slack" in unemployment.

He asserted that the September employment gain of 100,000 in private industries reporting to the department of labor was "the largest for any single month in the past year and a half."

But this might be, he declared, "the last of the more to reduce government charity."

In addition to decreasing government relief, the executive said it was of greater importance that private charity should take over the

CLIPPER DELIVERS MAIL FROM GUAM

Big Flying Ship Returns From Trip Blazing Flight

ALABAMA, Calif., Oct. 24 (AP)—A big mail from Guam, Island outpost of the United States, delivered in America for the first time today when the Pan American Airways' clipper plane alighted here from its latest pioneering flight.

The big flying boat, blazing the way for regular mail and passenger service to Honolulu, Guam, Manila and China, alighted graciously down to the water of San Francisco bay at 11:01 a. m., Pacific time.

Start of regular service over the 8,000-mile route to Canton, China, was expected soon following approval of a bid today by Postmaster General James A. Farley.

Flying Time 50 Hours
Mail carried by the clipper plane, which completed the 2,400-mile Honolulu leg of its return flight from Guam in 17 hours and 30 minutes, was under a special permit for sovereign purposes.

The clipper's total flying time from Guam indicated, Pan American officials said, that the regular schedule from Canton will be less than 70 hours. Estimated time for the trip, however, would include overnight stops at Manila, Guam, Wake and Midway Islands and Honolulu.

Officials said they were ready to start the regular service by November 1st but that it was not likely a schedule will be approved before November 15.

The Pan American mail bid of 22 a mile for an 80-pound load and $1 a thousand miles for each additional pound was the only one offered.

Ethiopia said the emperor was charming in manner but with an aggressive undercurrent indicating direction action.

"When I came down from Gore (in western Ethiopia), she said, 'The natives were whispering their fears and boasting what they would do to the invaders.' They were going into battle but apparently didn't know what for. They were amazed when a plane appeared over the city. They had never seen one before."

"The Ethiopians haven't a chance against the modern war machine of Italy."

TOWNSEND URGES INTERNAL HARMONY

Founder of Plan Strikes Out at Insurgent Organization

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 (AP)—Plans for internal harmony and progress in the movement were urged by the founder of the Townsend club tonight before the organization's first national convention.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, and E. E. Clemens, national secretary, who jointly authored the movement, presided over the convention. The plan provides for pensions of $200 a month to persons of 60 and beyond would shortly be enacted into law.

Analysis of Power

Delegates to the annual rally, estimated by convention officials at approximately 6000 crowded into the ballroom of a Michigan avenue hotel to hear the doctor-president's analysis of the present situation of political power that no deflection, no ridicule or no conspiracy of silence can stem. We are not here with the aim to make us free from economic slavery and economic penance, but to make the population of our country a unit which is permitted to interfere. No discussion nor confusion must be tolerated.

"We must not fall, our plan is the only hope of a distracted nation."

Hills Insurgents

Striking out at insurgents, the 68-year-old Long Beach, Calif., physician asserted:

"Let no propaganda you against the Townsend plan which may arise within your ranks. Our very rapid development, made in the face of inefficiency, selfish ambition and even rank dishonesty should find its reward among you."

"Many apologies have already been made by a central authority. He bluntly advised the 'rebels' to quit the organization.

Predicting the Club Organization

In the east and midwest would change its development in the west, Dr. Townsend declared:

"If our drive is followed up in six months time we shall have 80 per cent of the voting strength of the nation demanding enactment of the Townsend plan. We shall have it in the east alone. I believe we are getting it."

Adoption Within 90 Days

Has set this goal for the delegates—adoption of the Townsend plan by congress within 90 days.

Those who are attempting to wreck the Townsend plan are making as much progress as the fleet tried to kill an elephant with a broadsword," he said.

Clemens read a letter from Representative E. J. McCortney of California, who is touring a Townsend plan bill in congress. He quoted the congressman as resolved to "go with the organization" and added:

"If there is dissension in the ranks, I trust it will be harmonized in the convention.

Wanted Officers of ProXia "One insurgent leader" had the gall to write me offering to stop his attack if I would share with him the profits," the speaker continued.

Clemens predicted that "it is necessary to appoint forty more state area managers on a salary basis and that eight additional regional offices must be established.

Describing the Townsend plan as the medium for bringing about "permanent prosperity," Dr. Clinton Wunder of New York eastern regional director, demanded a "final fight" to force incumbent congressmen to enact it or to prepare to replace them with friendly legislators.

He claimed the ballot support of 21,500,000 citizens—"enough to elect any congress or any president in 1936."

Attendance Record

An official attendance of 6000 accredited delegates supplied the sponsors. They had anticipated 3,000 delegates and approximately the same number of non-voting delegates of the program.

The attendance was divided thus: Western 2,500; Eastern 1,500; East and South 600; Quebec 120; Legion 400.

In the latter category were the members of the Townsend region who were invited to the convention but were not sent to the convention as voting delegates.

ARMY OF WORKERS PLUCKS TREE SEED

Soil Conservation Service Sends Detachment to North Idaho

LEWISTON, Idaho, Oct. 24 (AP)—Plucky soil erosion service workers plucked black locust and other tree seeds in the West Perry country here today, to aid in reforesting and reseeded eroded and submerged areas.

They are part of an army of several hundred thousand men, assigned to collect 100,000 pounds of tree seeds and many thousands tons of grass seed for use in the northwest and other soil conservation areas.

Dr. L. H. Hastericher of Pullman, Wash., in charge of regional operations, said his soil conservation nursery is one of nine in the nation designed to furnish 600,000 trees and shrubs for soil conservation demonstration areas.

"This," he said, "is in line with the recent expansion of the soil conservation service program. We have increased demonstration projects from 47 to 61 states to 141 in all but seven states of the union. The number of civilian conservation corps camps has been increased from 55 to 61.

"Restoration of a vegetative cover on eroding lands will prevent erosion by wind and water, will decrease soil loss, and will provide a supply—all factors vital to the success of a rational land use program."

AUTHORITIES HUNT FOR BOLD ROBBERS

Unidentified Men Bind and Gag Storekeeper, Swap Clothes, Take Cash

DOODING, Oct. 24.—Officers throughout southern Idaho are on the lookout for two unidentified men who entered the New York Store here yesterday afternoon, bound and gagged the proprietor, J. S. Rowland, and escaped with a quantity of clothing and approximately $20 in cash.

Rowland, when reached, reported that two men entered the store and asked to see some shoes. When his back was turned he reported one of them poked a gun in his ribs and commanded him to lie on the floor and the other then locked the front door and pulled the blinds down.

After binding and gagging the proprietor, the robbers proceeded to dress themselves in new "high-fashion" suits, cash register and left unfastened.

Rowland struggled to a back door and attracted attention from a pool head across the alley. Sheriff Wayne Plack was called but the only identification left on the discarded clothing was a check on a Kama bank.

PEACE OVERTURES STRANGE FOR DUCE

Britain, France See Signs of Weakness in Reported Bid for Terms

By DEWITT MACHENZEL
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

Mussolini's reported effort to get terms for ending the Ethiopian war, approved by France and Britain has given rise to the expression in Paris which has been "chew" and is weakening.

"If this belief is true, it represents a complete reversal of what all the world has come to expect from this outstanding personality. It is the imagination to couple it, does not weaken, and when his terms are made known they will be strong enough to refute any charge of backing down."

On Analysis, Nov. 10.

Mussolini undoubtedly is anxious, however, over the outlawing of Italy by the League of Nations, and the new Franco-British alliance. He has reacted accordingly to make his people for his expenditure in men and wealth of the nation. The over a million men of the government may be bound up in the completion of this accounting. It is faced with this problem.

He must have success in his spectacular adventure, he dare not bring his legions back to Rome in a humiliating manner. To Italy quick success, or he must be able to achieve success over a long period of military operations without soiling his people that they will chastise him.

Plans Start Well

Mussolini's plans went exceedingly well at the outset. He had piled up huge supplies of all sorts of materials in Italy; his financial backing was said to be sufficient for a protracted campaign; his program for extension of commerce was in operation.

Then the League of Nations, driven by Britain stepped into the line against him. Unexpectedly, nations were voted and some of them already have become effective.

The most drastic punishment to be bound up in the general economic boycott, yet to be applied. This is the main members of the league will "buy nothing from Italy."

The carrying out of these sanctions in full, which Italian reserves were being drained by war, might tend towards the economic straitening of the country, with results of ruin and hunger for millions who would demand an explanation of the embargo.

Under such conditions, Rome naturally is faced with the necessity of achieving quick success in Africa. The alternative of a protracted military campaign has been badly crippled, to say the least, by the league economic blockade.

Plays for Delay

That is why Italian officials have made what is taken to be an indirect bid for delay in the imposition of further sanctions. They put it this way:

The most drastic punishment to be bound up in the general economic boycott, yet to be applied. This is the main members of the league will "buy nothing from Italy."

The carrying out of these sanctions in full, which Italian reserves were being drained by war, might tend towards the economic straitening of the country, with results of ruin and hunger for millions who would demand an explanation of the embargo.

Under such conditions, Rome naturally is faced with the necessity of achieving quick success in Africa. The alternative of a protracted military campaign has been badly crippled, to say the least, by the league economic blockade.

Several homes were destroyed in the Malibu area, including the 160,000 dwelling of Lionel Atoll, English picture actor, who lives on the Charles Parrell's home near Ecomon canyon.

The fire reached the red rock grounds of the Olsen ranch, near Santa Barbara, but was quenched after burning 200 feet of fence and grandstand. Altogether, 200 or more homes and mountain cabins were believed to have been destroyed by the fire.

GANGLAND GUNFIRE
SHUFFS OUT LIFE OF RACKET LEADER

writing a telephone call the racketeer himself made, found him holding his side and cursing the pain of his bullet wound.

Possible Cause

Haller's radio appeal developed a possible cause.

He had been hardly finished when a telephone rang in the radio studio and a man calling giving the names of a man and a woman, who were "heta records," the caller said, "I'll hang up before he could be questioned."

The two gangsters killed in the Newark gunfire were identified as Otto Biederman and Abraham Lansman. The former terror also at Newark was slain and acted as a racket handicapper, Lansman, 40, first gave the name of Lou Frank. After his death police identified him from fingerprints as Lansman. At other places was a power in the numbers racket in New York.

Continuation of Warfare

His association with Schulz strengthened the police theory that Schulz and his aides were attacked in a restaurant the western control of the policy racket in New York and Brooklyn which had taken seven lives in the metropolis before the assault on Schulz.

New York police concentrated on a search for Albert Stern, 27, alias Stern, described as a killer, who was as the late Vincent Col. Stern, they said, was also wanted for questioning about the "hatchet" slaying Wednesday of "Pretty Louis" Amberg, Brooklyn gangster.

Police also turned to central New York state after later Komper, Schulz henchmen who dropped in the New York shooting, admitted he had telephoned to "Troy" New York, five minutes before he fell seriously wounded.

Sammal Gidd, a bookmaker, who was with Komper in the barber shop, was hit three times.

A mysterious "fizz" who sent Schulz a telegram from Troy, New York, was also sought.

Deputy Police Chief John Hatter said he was looking for "Troy" who kept the white elephant bus, "Who are with you," was sent by a woman who gave him a luck piece several years ago.

A stolen sedan, believed to have been used by the mobsters who killed Schulz, was found abandoned near the scene of the shooting. On the car was a sack of "hot" shingles. The car was stolen ten days ago and carried stolen license plates.

JURY ACCUSES PAIR

milled the four had been drinking at various "hot spots," places in Louisville before heading for the town country with Scheffer driving the Saubert car.

A bench warrant was issued for Scheffer after the indictment was voted, setting his bond at $1,000 and an officer was ordered to go to Baltimore and get him. Both Saunders and Scheffer deny the responsibility for the woman's death.

Saunders waived immunity and testified before the grand jury. He said Mrs. Agatha Mackinnon, fourth member of the Saturday night letter club, was heard as several officers.

Reince III

The diminutive 20-year-old jockey, who was arrested in Montana, in a statement upon arrival here yesterday declared he was in the back seat with Mrs. Silviuaki. Saunders said Mrs. Silviuaki, 31, became ill in the car and got out "because she wanted to," she said the car, "he something but he did not know what it was."

Scheffer, who was arraigned to go to Baltimore, declared according to officers there, that the car was a truck. He said all the members of the party had been drinking. He also declared that in coming back along the road he saw another car circling around the spot where Mrs. Silviuaki had got out of Saunders' machine. Mrs. Mackinnon, according to police, asked Mrs. Silviuaki had been forced out of Saunders' car and run over by it twice.

The amended action, filed as a default, interrupted proceedings for a period, asked only for "reasonable rights of visitation," with the little girl.

When he took the witness chair, Bannister admitted he never had seen Miss Harding's daughter, his daughter as Miss Harding's home. He said Jane was not allowed to visit him when he was at his hotel in New York.

"Have you ever observed any conditions as the home of your former wife that you consider are not for the best welfare of your daughter?" asked Richard Rich Woodly, Miss Harding's attorney.

Bannister hesitated an instant, and then replied peremptorily he had not.

Lives on Farm

Bannister testified that he lived in a small house in Nevada, about 60 miles from New York. He said he had everything on his place usually associated with a gentlemanly life. He said he had only wanted to visit his daughter from time to time, but to take her to his home for a fixed period.

Miss Harding, attired in a black dress with gold ornaments and a black hat, testified that she had herself as "Ann Harding Bannister." She and Bannister exchanged no words while the hearing progressed.

She said Jane had everything in her home she felt a child should have, including many nice playthings.

Miss Harding now has full custody of Jane. With this she obtained her divorce in 1923 the Nevada court gave her custody of the child 10 months of the year. She has had custody for two months.

Later, the actress went to Reno and obtained a modified decree that deprived Bannister of all right to visit his child. He then began a court fight against the Nevada decree, claiming the child is in the custody of the California courts.

as the women have already carried the spirit of defiance to the front, who describe them as "our tough little brothers of the pick and shovel."

"Possibly never in the history of war has a greater friendliness between the columns of civilians and soldiers of the advanced nations shown after passing over the March 15th. This was not surprising, for the first time of 125 miles in an hour and soon were far beyond even the most advanced military outpost. It was the passing of the green hills set to another. In the space of a few minutes what had been a picture of brilliant driving in the dust and rock-bound earth for a foothold suddenly became an impression of a wily and primal land."

Suddenly there were no aircraft in the sky.

OKLAHOMA TAKES LIVESTOCK TROPHY

Idaho Judging Teams Place In Events at National F. F. A. Meeting

MARSHBARGER FREED FROM ATTACK CHARGE

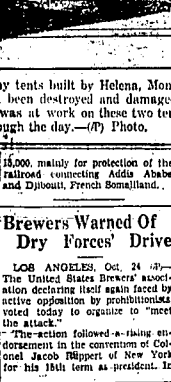

BOISE, Oct. 24—Joe Marshbarger, Boise, last dispatcher and former F.P.I. resident, was acquitted today evening by a district court jury on a charge that he slugged Mickey Rockson, retired prizefighter and former Boise state proprietor, with a knife handle.

Verdict for acquittal was reached on the first ballot after the jury had deliberated two and one-half hours. A second charge against Marshbarger resulting from the same alleged fight last May may be dropped, the lawyers indicated. Marshbarger is under $500 bond for allegedly throwing acid in Rockson's face before the slaying incident occurred. Rockson claims total blindness as the result of the attack.

The law firm of Rayburn and Rayburn is doing judging. Kansas in milk judging, Arkansas in poultry judging and Idaho in dairy judging.

U. S. B. Awaits Big Opportunity To Conquer Coyotes

Injured Tigers Back In Lineup As Coach Selects 30 Players

Don Brandon, Russell Glenisky and Gerald Dellinger Recover From Hurts; Captain On Doubtful List

(By The Associated Press) POCATELLO, Oct. 24.—Looking upon Saturday's game as their big opportunity to win over the College of Idaho Coyotes, the University of Idaho, southern branch, Tigers will leave early that day aboard a special train for Twin Falls.

Tigers and Coyotes have met for many years, the local two-year school gradually cutting into the annual margin. Last year the Tigers led until the last minute of play when a long pass upset local visitors and gave the side a 10-4 victory. In the two last games between the teams at Twin Falls the Coyotes won 8-7. Tigers have held the Tigers in check since early in the season. Improvement has been noted among the casualties, Lyle Smith of Moscow, and Russell Glenisky at Gunnison last Saturday. Don Brandon of Twin Falls is recovering from his injuries and Russell Dellinger of Jerome are on the mend.

C. of I. Mentor Brings Squad of 26 Grid Players

Coach Loren Basler, Assistant Team Manager and Coyote Football Board Bus at Caldwell Today

(By The Associated Press) CALDWELL, Idaho, Oct. 24.—Twenty-six College of Idaho football players, with Coach Loren Basler and Assistant Manager Oliver Hamilton, will leave here Friday by bus for Twin Falls where the Coyotes will tangle with the University of Idaho, southern branch, eleven in a battle this afternoon. Still-starting under a 47 to 6 kicking administered by Wallisette university at Boise, Oregon, last Saturday, the College squad will attempt a comeback against the team which last week took the measure of Rocky Mountain conference team. The Southern Branch outfit dominated Western State college, 13 to 0.

Coach Basler will not announce his traveling squad until tomorrow. An injury to Paul Heyman, left end in the Williams game has necessitated a change in the college lineup, with Tom Gill moving from right half to left half. The probable starting lineup, as announced by Basler, is: 25-pound center, Smith; fullback, Wilson; right half, and Hooper; left half, and Wheeler; flashy half-back, who has been hit with influenza. He may open the line but will not play against Southern Branch, Basler said.

The college pep band left this morning to make a tour of southern Idaho schools in an effort to arouse interest in the game. Students plan to make the trip to Twin Falls by automobile.

THE GREAT ZAM, ONE-TIME TWIN FALLS BASEBALL BOSS, LECTURES ON BLACK MAGIC

(By RUSSELL NEWLAND) SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Handsome, happy Carl Zamloch, baseball's gift to the sports writing fraternity, has gone back to his earliest love, that of fooling the public. He's back at the old business of pulling rabbits out of hats; dealing unbeatable bridge hands out of decks; guessing your age, weight, height and favorite breakfast food by multiplying your shirt collar size with the time of day; seeing young ladies in two and all the other artistry that is the stock in trade of our modern magicians. The great Zam, carved out careers for himself as a big league pitcher, a minor league manager and a coach in the days of the Utah-Idaho league. A college baseball coach and a director of athletics during the last year he has been a clever manipulator in the field of leverism. It has been his life hobby, since the day when as a boy of ten years he would show up on shows for his playmates, charging sacks and bottles for automatic "hey" selling the stuff to junkmen. Quit U. of I. Zamloch, the one-time baseball boss, some time back so he could do a job with the University of California as an athletic director to become director of the athletic relations for the company (Signal) and the funny part of it all is the damn thing is a line of business and a very profitable and pleasant line of chatter like the place of typewriter and copy paper. Now he travels from the Mexican to the Canadian border and throughout the far west, lecturing before fraternal clubs on the "idea of might" and "the idea of power." It is a fact, I wouldn't be surprised, that he was managing the Oakland club for three years he used as a "hook" to make a living selling pull-balls out of their ears. Once, during his fourteen year association with the University of California, your correspondent saw or thought he saw Zamloch in a "hook" to make a living selling pull-balls out of their ears. There may be better magicians than Zamloch but baseball never produced a better one. He will prove the hand is quicker than the eye. He will turn your socks and underwear into a handkerchief. It wouldn't be surprising, that he was managing the Oakland club for three years he used as a "hook" to make a living selling pull-balls out of their ears. U. S. Teams to Compete, Olympic Official Asserts

The Games Belong to the Athletes and Not to the Politicians, Says Head of American Association

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 (AP)—Sportsmen of America will not tolerate the use of athletics as a means of transferring old world hatreds to this country, Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the American Olympic association and chairman of the American Olympic committee declared today. Brundage's biting remarks were in reply to opponents of the United States' participation in the Olympic Games to be held in Berlin in 1936. He said positively that teams representing America would compete in the games. Brundage's view, he said, represented the feelings of the leaders of the several organizations affiliated with amateur athletics of America.

As a result of hundreds of requests, the American Olympic committee, Brundage said, is publishing a 16 page pamphlet covering the Olympic situation. "We hope to know how much information in that booklet to those who figure that America should not compete in the Berlin Olympic Games, right out of the water," Brundage said. "The Olympic Games belong to the athletes and not to the politicians."

BROWN UNBALANCED DEFENSE DECLARES

Trial in Kimberly Shooting Case Turns to State of Accused's Mind

Counsel for Birch Brown, Kimberly ranchman on trial in district court here for alleged shooting of his former wife, Juanita Murray with intent to murder her, addressed a hypothetical question to three Twin Falls physicians on the witness stand yesterday with evident purpose to show that Brown was not mentally responsible when the shots were fired.

Brown had testified in his own behalf that he had intended to take his own life when he became distraught over his former wife's alleged indiscretions, and that she was shot when she attempted to stop him from doing so.

On cross-examination he said that after the shooting he had not heard the "voice" which he testified earlier he had heard for about three weeks constantly prompting him to take his own life.

Brown's last defense was called yesterday to testify in support of Brown's statements regarding numerous reports that had come to him regarding his former wife's alleged indiscretions.

Murray's sister and his wife, Mrs. Bernice Hines, testified that Juanita Murray had participated in a "strip poker" game in which players had removed their shoes.

Other witnesses including Edwin King and Karl Kratzburg said they had told Brown of having seen his wife in the company of another man on several occasions.

In Brown's behalf also, his sister, Mrs. Mabel Webb, a brother, Lloyd Brown, and cousin, Dale Park, were called to the witness stand. The brother had completed his direct examination when proceedings recessed last evening.

Called With Gun
Charles E. Jones, former deputy sheriff, testified as an expert witness explained tests that had been made with the gun with which Brown shot his former wife.

His admission of cross-examination that the fabric would have been different if he had tested against a human body when struck by the bullets, and said he had made no tests with the cloth resting against any flesh.

State attorneys called the former deputy sheriff's statement on cross-examination that the first cartridge he attempted to fire from the gun failed to discharge.

Juanita Murray had testified that the gun which she had placed in the trunk against her brother pulled the trigger, and that she was shot when she grabbed the gun after the gun had pulled the trigger.

Physicians to whom the hypothetical question was addressed by defense counsel were Dr. D. W. Morgan, Dr. Charles R. Scott and Dr. Charles E. Meyer. They were subjected to vigorous cross-examination by E. W. Larson, former prosecuting attorney, who is assisting prosecuting attorney Edward Babcock in presentation of the state's case.

OUTLOOK CLEARS FOR SAVING CROP

Student and Transient Labor Eases Tension in Emergency

Labor factor in a continuing fight to save Twin Falls district's crops of apples and potatoes was easing off, and prospects were improving for obtaining a major portion of the crop out of the frost king's teeth, it was reported at National Reemployment Service offices here last evening.

On account of frost damage, harvesting of apples was discontinued in two Twin Falls orchards yesterday, retaining workers there for employment in other orchards.

Other factors contributing to easing of the labor problem, Ralph S. Reynolds, National Reemployment Service district supervisor, said, were release of approximately 100 Twin Falls high school students from classrooms for work in orchards, and employment of additional transient workers.

There was, however, Mr. Reynolds said, a continuing demand for help in the harvest that exceeded the available supply.
