GEASSIE DEMANDS CITIES, INDEMNITY Little Ruler of Ethiopia Insists on Banishment of Italian Troops (Copyright, 1935, Associated Press) ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 25—Ethiopia's bearded little ruler tonight insisted on cities that do not include an adequate indemnity for his empire, return of the lost cities of Aden and Juba and the banishment of every Italian soldier from the land. "What I want is the whole of the country and even some American correspondents beginning to pack their baggage, are emphatically protesting that they have received no suggestions whatever for settlement of the war, either officially or privately. Yet some wessers predicted hostilities might end within a week. The Negus asked if he would cede Tigre and Ogaden provinces to Mussolini, with an Italian province over Harar, replied abruptly: "Not Never!" Then he insisted he would refuse to negotiate until Ethiopia is adequately indemnified for the trouble and expense Italy has caused it, and until Italy brooks an entire withdrawal and the empire once more holds Aden and the horn. Influential Ethiopians and foreigner alike said Gelluso might lose his throne if he gave up Tigre and Ogaden, even if Italy makes for troop movements in the north and south, respectively. The Negus, at long last, persuaded the British and American negotiators to agree today to leave the country a task that has taken the king two months to accomplish. The obstinate Count Luigi Giulietti was given his passport 15 (Continued on Page 6, Col. 7)

RACKETEERS IN HANDS OF NEW LEADERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—The New York Times says that a new group of racketeers—seven in all—has taken control of the racketeering empire of Dutch Schultz, Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Fingelheimer and Louis (Presty) Bremer, who were shot last week precipitated a new gang war. The Times says the "power behind the scenes" was Jonny Torrio, veteran New York and Chicago gang leader who was succeeded by Al Capone at head of rear and all other tickets during prohibition in Chicago.

The Times makes the new combination of racketeers as Charles (Lucky) Luciano, Charles (Buck) Siegel, Moe Lankay, Louis (Lefty) Buchwald, Jack (Gumbo) Schapiro, and Abe (Longy) Zwillman, the last named of Newark, Louisiana is the reputed head of the Chicago group, with the light night club operator.

As police today brought Schultz's body to New York from Newark, where he was shot down while surrounded by three of his chief aids Wednesday night, police agents analyzed the gang chief's last words. Two things of importance stood out.

"The boss," whom Schultz said "shot him," was the name by which Luciano was known in the underworld. And the name "John," often repeated as Schultz lay on his deathbed, belongs, police believe, to Jonny Torrio, who ran to Chicago gang leadership after the death of "Big Jim" Collisimo.

On other "John" than Torrio said the police, was a name who could either buy a hotel or promise a million-granola statements attributed to "John" by the dying "Dutch."

TOWNSENDITES AT CHICAGO APPLAUD RAP AT NEW DEAL

Convention Orators Assert $200-a-Month 'Old Age' Pension Checks Essential to Permanent Recovery

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Demands for a "new deal"—the Townsend plan—were raised today by a battery of speakers before the first national convention of the Townsend clubs.

Spurred by the hair-trigger applause of delegates estimated by their leaders to number 7,000, the orators asserted there would be no permanent recovery until checks for $200 a month were sent from Washington to all persons 60 and over as the Townsend plan provides.

The audience also cheered denunciations of the national social security act pension provisions.

No New Deal, But New Deck

Four of the seven men who addressed the afternoon session were 70 to 80 years of age and their age set out in the program but they appealed to the nation's youth to support the measure.

"We don't need a new deal, but a new deck," declared Ralph H. Higgins of Seattle. "That new deck is the Townsend plan."

The old political formulas will no longer work," said Charles T. Davidson of Pittsburgh. "The Townsend plan is honestly offered as a permanent cure of depression."

George C. Whaley of Los Angeles, president of the largest unit of the organization, claiming 15,000 members in 15,000, asserted there were too many young men in business and not enough business to government. He added: "Our politicians and financiers have led the country into an economic knoll. The Townsend plan will cut that knoll."

Raps Administration Program

Otto Case, state treasurer of Washington, told the convention that the administration's program for adding the aged was "so confused and so fraught with inequities and ineffectiveness that it has almost ruined the social security."

The Townsend plan will speed the return of prosperity by putting billions of dollars into circulation where it will do the most good—in the hands of those who will spend it for the things they need," he asserted. "It means recovery from the slump the plan is put into operation."

Nelay Demonstrations

The delegates turned a third vote of confidence in their leadership for one of the no-tax demonstrators of the unpaid contributors of the 23-month-old movement were set at $338,803 in the report of Auditor Ray McClister. Of this he added: "Dr. Francis E. Townsend, father of the plan bearing his name, had received $138,000 a month with $100 added for traveling and other expenses."

R. E. Clements, national secretary, declared: "It has been charged that Dr. Townsend pocketed $600 of this money. It is a damn lie. Every cent has been accounted for."

The auditor reported Clements, co-founder of the plan, had received $417.

Sees Barren as Workers Cause questioned the constitutionality of the national security act, declared it was not a recovery measure and predicted almost the entire cost would be borne by workers. The speaker termed $30 a month "mere existence" money. He predicted dissatisfaction would result from "48 different plans" set up by states to cooperate with the federal government. He envisioned the "humiliating investigations" of applicants by "political investigators."

It stated the federal annuity pensions for workers would cover only wage and salary earners with agricultural laborers, domestic help, ship crews and employees of the government's educational and charitable institutions excluded.

"Those who toil for a living," he added, "must in the final analysis pay the whole pension bill with the idle rich, the non-wage earners and the millionaires go free."

The maximum annual pension would receive, he said, was $85 a month.

Murdoch told the crowd: "We've carried the pension plan and we're going to stick around and collect it."

"They say we are trying to get something for nothing. It would be a reversal of the plan of the past—getting nothing for something."

"The public is becoming convinced that the old political formulas will not work and that we need something new."

MOSES PREVEWS U. S. MOBILIZATION

3,000,000 Young Americans Trained in Warfare, Can Be Called

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 25.—Three million young Americans, trained in the tactics of warfare, can be called to the nation's colors if the country needs them, Brigadier General Andrew H. Moses told military leaders of 40 states in a stirring address to the annual assembly of the national guard association of the United States at a vivid picture of the nation's military manpower available should America be called to shoulder arms.

"When a nation will not fight it is invaded, then all hope is lost," he declared.

Previews Mobilization

Audience may "pragmatic" attitude in his paper report, the general detailed how mobilization would be effected in the nation in event of any military emergency.

"World war veterans are too old now," he said, for immediate military service and the strength of the army must come from younger men. Since the World War, he pointed out, the country has trained 3,000,000 young men who can be called upon at once.

The next step in whipping up voluntary enlistments is the selective service plan, he said, which 35 states have sent to the chief of staff such program, the remaining 15 states, he said, are completing theirs.

"What he styled as a 'hot too optimistic' prediction was his estimate that voluntary enlistments in the nation would total 25,000 a day.

BIG BENEFIT SEEN IN RATE DECISION

Idaho's Potato and Onion Shippers Saved About $1,000,000

BOISE, Oct. 25.—C. A. Root, rate expert of the Idaho public utilities commission, estimated today that the late potato and onion shippers benefited by from $1,000,000 to $1,000,000 by the interstate commerce commission at Washington, D. C., which ordered the present differential in freight rates between Idaho and Greeley, Colorado, maintained instead of increased.

The freight rate adjustment on potatoes and onions between Idaho and Greeley, Colorado, has been in effect for many years and is such that shippers of potatoes and onions from Idaho Falls pay 12 cents per 100 pounds more freight to destination than is charged to shippers in Colorado, while at Twin Falls the difference is 13 cents and at Nampa, Caldwell and Wilder, the difference is 15 cents per hundred pounds, Root pointed out.

"The decision is very important to the potato, onion and vegetable growers—shippers—in this state, as it averts Idaho of the present low basis of competitive rates over Greeley and other potato producing districts in the Central states to the heavy consuming markets in the East, Southeast and Southwest, where the bulk of Idaho's potatoes is shipped," Root commented.

POCAHONTO, October 25.—Francis Blunk, PocahonTO, Robert Snapp, Blackfoot, and Charles Latham, Kimberly, were the victims of the initiation conducted throughout the last week by the Intercollegiate Knights, campus service organization at the University of Idaho. The new members were sophomore men.

Carrying eggs, toothbrushes, paddles, wearing swimming suits, gym pants, and silly ties, the initiators were subjected to the stern orders of their seniors.

Freshmen pledges will be selected within the next week or two.

If the country were invaded, he said, the spurs of an invasion, he estimated that voluntary enlistments would be 25,000 a day.

Speakers from leading design schools from the coast, and as far east as Denver will be present at the convention, and all southern Idaho persons who are in Boise during the flower show.

HOPKINS FORECASTS DOLE-LESS RELIEF

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A Dole-less relief program for 1936 year was forecast yesterday by Frank L. Hopkins as the set November for ending direct relief payments to the state.

He coupled this statement with another forecast that the relief load would be "appreciably lighter" during the 12-months beginning next July 1.

Meeting the press after a month-long vacation trip with President Roosevelt, Hopkins replied with an enthusiastic "fine" when asked about progress of the drive toward putting 2,000,000 persons to work and liquidating the relief administration.

Two Million Jobs Short

Although the program still was 2,000,000 jobs short of fulfillment and his original date deadline only a few days away, the works progress boss asserted it was proceeding "precisely according to schedule," and that 42 states on the dole will be cut off "during November."

"Will next year's relief program bring a return of the dole?" Hopkins was asked.

"No" was the quick reply.

HELENA IGNORES RECURRING JOLTS

Undaunted City Pushes Reconstruction Despite New Tremors

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 25.—Recurrent convulsions of the earth's understructure were labeled "commonplace" by Helena's quake-weary citizens today and the city pushed ahead, undaunted, with its rehabilitation and reconstruction work.

After a "breathing spell" of Friday which brought a reprieve from the 14-day truce of shocks, the tremors, not severe, recurred last night and were followed by eight slight earth movements today.

The federal weather bureau reported today's tremors were of a "jar-like" nature, not the swaying and rumbling movements which earlier, and especially last Friday night, wreaked havoc throughout the terror-stricken city.

Geologists and seismologists said the major quake period apparently had passed definitely.

Only one block in the main business district remained segregated from the district, which rapidly is returning to normal life.

LEICHT'S CONDITION GRAVE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Lawyer General Butler K. Leicht, critically ill at Letterman general hospital here, did not rest as comfortably today as yesterday, physicians reported. His condition unchanged; remains grave, they said.

BEATEN TO DEATH

TUCSON, Ariz., Oct. 25.—John Vermilyea, 47, proprietor of a downtown shoe store, was beaten to death today by an unidentified assailant. Police said robbery was the " motive."

Little Profit in Conquest: Japan's venture into China is said not to be returning the expected profits.

So far, at least, it is all expense with no net return. Japan has had to put all the money she could spare into maintaining her armies in China.

Nevertheless, the Japanese will no doubt continue grabbing in China and the Italians in Ethiopia for political and other reasons.

FEAR OF THE FUTURE: The older sister of a seventeen-year-old high school boy who took his own life gives this explanation: "He had told me often that he could see no future for himself after high school."

Such dependency regarding the future has been far too common lately. The saddest part of the business depression has been the mental depression it brought, especially the dimming of the natural hopefulness of youth.

Now there is more hope, in America at least. Business revives, employment spreads, life grows more cheerful.

Boys and girls should remember, in any event, that if they cannot see very far ahead, neither can anyone else. And practical wisdom doesn't try to see too far ahead.

THE BLEACHERS SPEAK: The controversies now going on over whether American athletes shall participate in the 1936 Olympic games at Berlin injects an element into international affairs which is at once curious and hazardous.

The main point with American sport fans seems to be whether American athletes should go to Germany in spite of the Nazi government's grim determination to obliterate all the rights of the six-hundred-thousand Jews who live there.

Now it seems, the Nazi government is being subjected to the criticism that the true tolerance of sport idealism is impossible in Germany because the Nazi government is unfair and unsportsmanlike with its fractional population of Jewish people.

Delinquent Customer: I suppose you'll trust me till I take away the last cent you have left.

Delinquent: That'll be O.K. with me.

Delinquent: That's a bargain. You can sell me three new names, and I'll let you keep one of them I come again.

demonstration against American participation in the Olympics, to the extent that a sense of fair play dictates, there are other factors to be considered.

But there again the suggestion arises that the tyrannical government will have to take the responsibility for what happens from its tyranny.

WARNING AGAINST POSSIBLE STOCK MARKET CRISIS

In a significant address before the American management association, Charles R. Gray, president of the New York Stock exchange, warns warning that the stock market offers an especially inviting field for inflationary developments.

Mr. Gray says, "The mechanism of the stock market offers an especially inviting field for inflationary developments. The principal source of danger, however, lies, in my opinion, in the mechanism of the stock market itself."

Despite the extensive powers of credit control vested in the reconstituted and presumably more independent board of governors, it would be practically impossible to resort to such extreme measures.

The Chinese were on the losing side in the Sino-Japanese trouble in 1924-25, and again last year when Japan took possession of Manchuria.

Let's see, now: Is that last complete? Wasn't there another war between 1914 and 1918? It can be remembered as the Russo-German war.

Breakfast Food: One: Do you believe that people can be talked to death?

Two: The census figures prove that they can, and so. The feminine population average nearly two years older than the masculine. So that proves that the women must eat more than the men.

Three: Have you made any provision for those who come after you?

Four: Yes, indeed. I always wear very heavy gloves and I kick such a wide right over my assistant as to knock him out of the office.

Five: Yes, indeed. I always wear very heavy gloves and I kick such a wide right over my assistant as to knock him out of the office.

Guiding Your Child

ALICE CLARISA RICHMOND

Most of the foot troubles of many children are due to lack of care of the feet in childhood.

As a result, parents are apt to try to economize on shoes when the child is young.

There may also be some chafing and rubbing from shoes which are too large.

It is in the early years of the child's life that the habit of wearing shoes is formed.

SEASONABLE FOOD SUGGESTIONS

Pheasant and Other Game Enrich October's Menus

Now is the season of high living, with hunters bringing home the pheasant, duck and deer. Dining becomes more amiable, and neighborliness is heightened. Hunters who are almost invariably successful in getting their limit, remember the friends who are not so expert at the sport of hunting, and numerous are the dinner parties that are almost miniature Thanksgiving feasts. The mellow magic of pheasant may even have something to do with it. The thrill of serving the first pheasants or ducks of the year, employing the favorite recipe in preparing the birds, holds fascination for the experienced housewife who knows how to cook her game.

But after the first few dinners, new ways of cooking the birds are sought, especially if the men of the family "bring home the birds" every two or three days during the hunting season. There's nothing like the taste of grape to give a "lift" from one dinner to the next, especially if the bird is a monotonous one, is the theory of Mrs. Erwin Schreiber, an expert in the preparation of pheasants.

"There's just-but, as a reward—in her favorite pheasant recipe, she salts, peppers and flours the bird which, after being thoroughly washed, she scours the leaves with cotton linc. The bird is next stuffed with bacon and baked. Water is added gradually and the bird is basted frequently. The bird is added is steamed into the fowl. If the birds are young, about two hours are required. Older birds require approximately a half-hour longer.

Prize of Pheasant
Another local woman recommends pheasant as a most delicious method follows. After the bird has been cleaned and skinned, she cuts off the wings and neck, cuts off the back and leaves the breast whole, salting slightly the sections. She fries out in 3 tablespoons of lard or fat, 3 pieces of celery diced fine, 2 green peppers, and 1 medium sized onion. The vegetables are then strained from the fat. She then flours the bird and "dredges" until browned, removing the bird from the frying pan and the "casserole." She thickens the fat with a tablespoon of flour and adds chicken stock to make a thin gravy, which she pours over the bird and simmers slowly in the oven until tender, from one to two hours, depending on the age of the bird.

Cranberries are found this year in a new relation to the game dinner. A cranberry juice cocktail, rather than cranberry jelly or ice, is finding favor. Cook 1 quart cranberries in 1 quart boiling water, until they pop open; place in strainer drain. To the remaining add 4 cup lemon juice, 1 cup orange juice, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/2 cup sugar, bring to boiling point. Chill in ice box. Serve in cocktail glasses.

Stuffing for Duck
Duck stein appears on the average table in any form but roasted; however, there are a number of local cooks who prefer fried duck if the birds are young enough. Some ducks preferred are:

LOBSTER FOR LUNCH IS LATEST FOOD FAD

EVERYONE is launching on, not with lobster, but with a lobster specialty—this way to take lobster a most tempting luncheon dish to serve it in a salad. So here are some ways to serve this delectable crustacean to salads.

Let's try this Green Pepper Salad: Remove tomatoes from two cups canned lobster meat, but keep in as large pieces as possible. Drain one can asparagus tips. Cut off ends of six green peppers, and cut out the white parts and seeds, making cups. Place several stalks of asparagus upright in each cup, and then fill center of cavities with the lobster meat. INOUEST-FIXES-BLAME FOR AUTO CRASH DEATH

REXBURG, Idaho, Oct. 23 (AP)—A coroner's jury today found that a 16-month-old child, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Bishop of Holladay, Utah, came to her death as the result of an automobile accident involving three machines on the highway south of here September 23.

The child died "from injuries received" in a collision of an automobile driven by Earl R. Bishop, in which the child was riding, with an automobile in the opposite direction and driven by A. H. Hager.

"A said collision having been caused by the automobile driven by Hager swerving suddenly to the left and across the highway as the result of previously being struck and thrown out of control by another third automobile, driven by J. W. Holden, in passing from the rear," the verdict stated.

The inquest had been continued from October 2 because Hager and Holden were unable to appear. Both men are from Idaho Falls.

STATE GRAIN BOARD TO MEET AT MOSCOW

MOSCOW, Oct. 23 — The first meeting of the newly created Idaho state grain board will be held in Moscow next Thursday, October 31. This board, consisting of five members, was appointed early this month by the AAA to review county and state allotment problems. Its members are William J. Crea, Cottonwood; H. O. Lauterbach, Hager; C. J. Carlson, Idaho Falls; Richard C. Ross, Idaho crop statistician in cooperation with the U. S. bureau of agricultural economics; and Dr. P. A. Eke, economist of the University of Idaho agricultural experiment station.

Both Crea and Lauterbach have been serving as chairman of their respective county allotment committees. In addition Crea has been serving as president of the Idaho county wheat association. Carlson is a member of the Executive committee of corn-hoag allotment committee. All three men are wheat farmers who have been connected with the adjustment program from its beginning. Mr. Ross and Dr. Eke will serve as technical advisers to the committee.

NOBIS ASKS SUBSIDY FOR RURAL ELECTRIFICATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Establishment of a nation-wide program of rural electrification, with a subsidy to carry it out, was advocated today by Senator Norris.

The subsidy was suggested in the chief private conference here taken "the cream" of the rural electricity business but that this country should provide for delivery of low cost electricity to farms, just as it develops rural mail delivery. The Nebraska Independent Republican expressed this view in a letter to Norris & Cooke, rural electrification administrator.

KANSANS LAUNCH DOOM-FOR-LONDON

State's Republican Leaders Take Step in Drive for Governor

TOPPEKA, Kas., Oct. 23 (AP)—Kansas Republicans presented Governor Alf M. Landon to the nation tonight as their candidate for the presidential nomination in 1936.

In a surprise move, leaders who had gathered to plan a $30,000 "war drive" were suddenly turned to the meeting into an enthusiastic discussion of the Landon movement. It reached a climax in unanimous adoption of a motion to endorse him for the nomination.

Until today Kansas Republicans had followed the governor's course taking no countenance, publicly at least, of the talk in his behalf.

"I'm too busy with affairs here to discuss national politics" has been the blithe-balancing executive's reply to all requests for a statement, as to where he stands.

Landon silent.

Even after today's development Landon bore into a pile of communications on state matters—and said nothing.

"The state headquarters has had inquiries from forty-five states," he said, "working information about our governor's political and administrative record and asking authority to launch his campaign in those states."

Plans were laid tentatively for an organization to supply such information.

To a suggestion that the state committee lead over this activity, Chairman Will T. Beck said the group "is at the service of the governor."

The meeting was attended by members of the state committee, state officeholders, congressmen and Senator Arthur Capper.

Capper already had announced for Landon.

Stashed roses, small pickled onions, geranium plants and almond-stuffed olives, squares of vanilla and sour pickles, all placed on different colored wood plates can be used to garnish the tray of appetizers.

To make cream whip more quickly add 1/4 teaspoon lemon juice to each cup of heavy cream.

Fancy and quite easily prepared dessert is made by scooping out centers of baked drop cakes, filling with preserves or fruit, topping with jam and covering with whipped cream. Looks rather fancy, but not difficult to prepare.

Isn't it discouraging after trying your best to make a cup of good coffee to find that something is missing in its flavor? The situation is even more distressing when you have been trying one brand of coffee after another in your efforts to get a cup of coffee that tastes right. Nothing can take the place of flavor in coffee.

It is virtually impossible to make a really good cup of coffee if there is variation in the blend, roast, grind or pack of the coffee you use.

The thing to do is change to Hills Bros. Coffee. It is a never-changing BLEND of the finest coffees grown. This blend is roasted by an exclusive process—CONTROLLED ROASTING—that insures uniform flavor in every pound. This rich, matchless flavor is completely protected by Hills Bros. vacuum pack. POTATOES HAULED INTO VIEW FARMING AREA
BURLY, Oct. 25—Thirty-four tons of potatoes were brought in this week to the View district, a district that ordinarily ships out 400 to 450 carloads annually or approximately from 10 to 14 million pounds. The IEDA has in charge of the distribution.
With U. S. No. 2 potatoes worth 10 cents per hundred bush, it was pointed out that nearly 400,000 bush should be able to get all they wish for the asking. Many culls, however, are to be found among the lots indicating that the lots do not comply with the state grading laws, according to State Representative Victor South.

Record Attendance Marks Major Football Contests

30 Grid Games Attract Close To 900,000 Fans

Gathers for Big Duel at Seattle

Midwest's Largest Turnout Expected at Minneapolis for Minnesota - Northwestern Big Ten Duel

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, Oct. 25 — Anywhere you happen to look for it there's likely to be trouble. With crowds paying money to see it, along the collegiate football front tomorrow will be the largest sectional game tomorrow with Columbia vs. Cornell.

Reports gathered through The Associated Press tonight indicated close to 900,000 fans will witness 30 of the nation's outstanding college games with mark a new record.

An average turnout of 30,000 is expected for ten leading games of the Big Ten conference, with one of slightly over 60,000 for the "rivalry" game Duke at Durham, N.C., and the annual battle between Yale and Army.

The Midwest's largest attendance, 50,000, is expected for Cornell's clash with the powerful Minnesota Gophers at Minneapolis, Oct. 26. Another 45,000 fans are expected for the four Big games listed at equal number of customers turning out for a half dozen additional games here attractions in the central zone.

Five major attractions on the Far Western schedule likely will attract over 10,000, another 10,000 will witness the mainly conference engagements of the South, including the "rivalry" game between Georgia Tech and North Carolina, Oct. 26.

It will be no surprise if Texas Christian is stopped by Centenary, Shreveport, Washington's unbeaten Hawks, although playing on a less favorable field, may be hard pressed by Stanford. Illinois in another tightly drawn affair.

Otherwise it's solely a question of how far the "underdogs" will go in a spooling contest. Many championship ambitions of high ranking aggregations. If there's anything in the rebound theory, Harvard has a chance to whip Dartmouth, West Virginia to the Purple, Chicago to the Blue, Southern California, Oregon to whip U.C.L.A. and Indiana to topple mighty Ohio State.

Yale's well-conditioned warriors, who played an excellent opportunity to check Army's unbeaten streak. The Red Devils' record on the line in recent years has not to have a number of other teams now finding Yale a different and more formidable opponent.

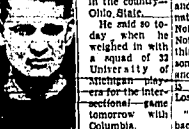

Apprehension Wall justified. Michigan's Wolverines, leading the New York for the title, too big and strong for the Columbia Lions, mangled last week by Penn State and appeared to be in a rut. Where this season, North Carolina State figures to be a dark horse.

Down East, while Dartmouth's high scoring Indiana go after Harvard's lead, will have a ready foe. The result, Colgate-Red Raiders are favored to lead the winning streak here.

At Wisconsin's expense, Appalachian State justified. The best way to handle the football situation, so far as trying to avoid it entirely, Georgia's apprehension in staking its unbeaten record against Alabama tomorrow at Athens, will be to play the Red Bull champions, in a game so far, are in a good spot to upset the Bulldogs. The game should be an off-day. On past performance it should be Georgia but on a hunch

JURY AT SCENE OF KIMBERLY SHOOTING

Trial of Birch Brown, Accused of Attack on Ex-Wife, Nears End

A district court jury which during the past four days had heard testimony by more than two score witnesses in the trial of Birch Brown, 30, Kimberly rancher accused of shooting his former wife, Juanita Murray, 31, with intent to murder her, was taken last evening to view the scene of the alleged shooting in a Kimberly general store.

The trip was suggested by former District Judge J. R. Botswell of counsel for Brown after the state completed introduction of rebuttal evidence and when it was indicated that no additional evidence would be offered by either side, but that the case would go to the jury.

In all of the apparent indications that had been alleged in defense testimony.

Brown's defense was based on evidence that he was distraught over reports of his former wife's apparent suicide and that he had intended to take his own life when she was shot "accidentally" while struggling with him for possession of a .22 caliber revolver.

Divide in Testimony

Residents of the Pleasant Valley district, south of Kimberly, who had known Brown for many years, divided in their testimony yesterday as to whether Brown's appearance and conduct were unusual for the time of the alleged shooting. Several of them referred to a neighborhood picnic at the home of L. J. Larson, brother-in-law of Juanita Murray, which Brown and his former wife attended the day before the shooting.

A month before the shooting, Brown had testified, he discovered his wife was "crazy" and they were divorced two weeks later, the decree being granted to Juanita Murray on June 28, just 17 days before the shooting.

Defense witnesses yesterday included Lloyd Brown and Hazel Brown, brothers of Birch Brown. Mrs. Tracy Kline, and R. D. Butler.

Placemat Valley residents who were called as witnesses yesterday for the state included Curtis W. Bower, Clyde Edmister, Clyde A. Kibb, Albert W. J. L. Larson, and Lloyd Smith.

Petitions Request Earlier Delivery of Mail in Boise, Salt Lake

A petition requesting establishment of mail service to provide for early morning delivery in Boise and Salt Lake City of mail leaving Twin Falls after the close of the business day is to be circulated among Twin Falls citizens by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce directors adopted at a meeting at luncheon yesterday.

The proposed mail service was recommended by a committee of business men who met last evening. Another committee reported practically unanimous endorsement of a movement to establish a mail train from Boise to Twin Falls on Saturdays which would be effective throughout the business district next November 2. Some of the businesses such as drug stores and restaurants were not requested to adopt the mail train.

His Imported Apples

The chamber's directors were told by William Seaver, Twin Falls orchardist, that apples are being brought to market in quantities of three to five crates a day. These apples, while local growers are straining every effort to have one of the best apple crops the world ever produced. The directors went on record as disapproving importation of products produced here and urging home consumption of local products.

Chairman of the chamber's Orange committee, O. T. Kistner, reported that the housing situation is acute and urging a strong appeal to Twin Falls business men to make available at least 200 rooms in their homes for the accommodation of convention visitors during the state convention and opens here next Monday and continues for four days.

There were no children, and no community property except an automobile which she asked the court to award to her.

Non-support and desertion was alleged as grounds in the suit which Thelma Hill started here yesterday for divorce from Harry O. Noll to whom she was married in Las Vegas, Nevada May 1931. There were no children. She asked for restoration to her former name of Thelma Hill and attorneys for both of the petitioners.

Mrs. Bonnie Griffin, mother of a three-year-old child, has started suit for divorce from Lonnie Griffin on grounds of intemperance and cruelty. They were married in Twin Falls. She asked also for custody of the child. O. C. Hill of Twin Falls is her attorney.

SURVEY DEMANDED FOR LOCAL BASE

Story of Selection of Utah Site Stirs Storm of Protest Here

Convinced that Twin Falls has unequalled natural advantages for the military airbase that is to be established in the interior to serve as base on the Pacific coast, Twin Falls businessmen are insisting on an investigation of the local site, and they were stirred to indignant protest by recent publication by a Salt Lake City newspaper of a statement which reflected that "high authority" had revealed the air base is to be located in Utah.

Planners-Voice Protest

Twin Falls Planning Commission in session last night went on record in strong terms of disapproval of any decision that might be reached without consideration of claims for the Twin Falls site, and Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce through its executive bureau of which Lionel Dean is chairman, addressed to Colonel J. D. Retford of the army, air corps a letter in which he said:

"We do not believe that in a matter so vitally important as the location of this air base that the army air corps would overlook conditions which are available strategically located sites."

"We believe that you will assure us that there is no foundation for the Tribune story and that all legitimate air base sites will be surveyed before final location is decided."

Basic For Protest

The investigation of the local site at the local protest appeared as a special dispatch to the Tribune from Washington, D. C. It said:

"While the war department does not expect to announce its selection of its air base sites before early next summer, it has been granted full authority that the interior air depot and base, to serve all bases on the Pacific coast, will be located in Utah. Definite plans have not been made, nor is the department prepared to announce where the location is. However, it is understood the department contemplates the expenditure of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 in developing this base, whenever the site has been acquired and funds are made available for carrying the air base program into effect."

"Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming has been in Washington recently and his influence to have the department abandon the Utah site and locate the interior supporting base in Wyoming, rather than in Utah, but many obstacles stand in the way. The department is proceeding to select the bases which most appeal to the judgment of its own air experts."
