Grangers Banquet At Close Of Full Day's Convention Program

500 Persons Attend Local Gathering of Organization

Idaho State Grange, with more than 500 delegates, and visitors in attendance at an annual meeting in Twin Falls, opened up a full day's convention program with song and speaking and feasting at the annual Grange banquet which was served for 500 persons in Twin Falls high school, gymnasium last evening.

Resolutions in Full Grangers yesterday also received the annual reports of the several officers of their state organization...

Afternoon sessions continuing until late in the evening were given over to degree work.

On the program for today are new business sessions, a memorial service for members who have died during the past year...

W. W. Deal, master of the Idaho State Grange for the past 20 years, outlined the keynote of the twenty-seventh annual session of the organization here yesterday, calling for the lifting of farm burdens...

Five hundred delegates from all sections of the state gathered to hear their leader tell them that "these perilous days" there is still hope for high accomplishment.

"Men and women of this generation will determine the destiny of this nation," he said. "Their foremost task is to profit from the evils of this past year...

"The farm adjustment program has assisted the present situation of the farmer but in looking at the future we feel the farmers must reach farther—this time not to discover savings that can and must be made in farm economy...

"But there ain't no such charge," protested the turkey. "All rights they have taken," said the patrolman...

Seasonal Invitation—Mrs. A. V. W. "I have a few words appearing in the newspaper's city room. They attacked of kidnapping and murder."

Then it was up to the Hallows. "The ad was in reply to a Hallows' ad that was in this paper."

Holds Nine Points—Mrs. Mary Dougherty continues to block construction of a $200,000 postoffice with officials looked to each other for action.

Mrs. Dougherty, a widow, was awarded $30,000 for the property in condemnation proceedings. The building is one of six to be torn down to make way for the postoffice.

Mrs. Dougherty held herself tight on an account of her outdoor experiences today. She has a few words appearing in the newspaper's city room.

Then it was up to the Hallows. "The ad was in reply to a Hallows' ad that was in this paper."

Coldest October WEATHER IN YEARS VISITS NORTHWEST

Wintry Blasts Over Wide Area Leave Blanket of Snow; Wind-Swept California Feels Earthquake

By The Associated Press SEATTLE, Oct. 29—Winter sidestepped the Pacific coast and scattered a variety of queer weather over the far west today.

It left the coldest October weather in years in the Pacific Northwest, brought high winds and rain to California and frigid temperatures to many interior areas.

Two unanticipated blizzards swept through the Puget Sound Gulf of Georgia, with one man known drowned, and a third boat was reported sunk. British Columbia provincial police reported.

A Sleep From Alaska A high pressure area sweeping down from Alaska was blamed by the United States weather bureau for the blizzards.

In southern Alberta, highways were blocked with snow. District and county districts were given and eight feet deep. A temperature of 12 below zero was reported at Nanaimo.

Seattle's Coldest Day Seattle had the coldest October day in 10 years, 33 degrees. At Portland, the first October snowfall in the city's history of the weather bureau fell.

In the northern Rocky Mountain area, a wet snow began to fall. On October 29, the temperature of five degrees above zero and few discomfits to the population.

At San Diego, a 70-second earthquake was felt at 2:18 a. m. (PST) on the Pacific coast.

Light snow and biting cold was general over the Pacific Northwest. Alaska reported hail and snow and the United States weather bureau reported that the snow was falling in the Puget Sound area.

The Cascades and Olympic mountains were mantled with new snow. A low pressure area swept through the Pacific Northwest, with a temperature of 12 above.

Legions Encounter Ethiopian Warriors Massing for Battle

Mussolini Puts Nation on Six-Month Meat Diet; Britain and France Fail to Agree On New Plan for Peace

War Developments in Brief London—British and French experts fail to agree upon plan to bring peace to Africa.

Another diplomatic failure, this time in a crisis for solution of the month-old African war which neither Italy nor Ethiopia has officially declared was disclosed Tuesday.

This a long and tortuous road to a peaceful settlement of Benito Mussolini's "Colonial expedition" was envisaged in London, Paris, in Rome and in Geneva.

Official sources in London disclosed that an effort of British experts to agree with French experts upon a plan for peace had collapsed.

While Fascist newspapers shouted of a 25-mile advance by the northern army and a victory by the southern forces over the defending Ethiopians, another side of the grimness of war was shown.

Strikes at Biomach Mussolini's opinion is to resist the effectiveness of sanctions, ordered the nation on a six-month meat diet.

By The Associated Press (By The Associated Press) TIENTSIN, China, Oct. 29—Japanese soldiers will begin their battles along the Peiping-Tientsin railway soon, it was announced tonight as Chinese officials studied Japan's demands for elimination of anti-Japanese elements in North China.

(An emergency session of the Peiping military council was called early Wednesday to consider the Japanese demands. Nearly every important North China political leader was present and they were represented as being surprised by the Japanese action.)

The announcement of the plan for autumn army maneuvers followed frequent recent demonstrations of Japanese military power, with repeated acts of Japanese depredations in this Chinese city.

Non-Compliance Alleged North China officials discussed the move dictated by Japanese General Hirota Kawano, which said Japan felt that not fully complying with terms of an agreement in North China would lead to further depredations.

At Peiping, a high Chinese official told The Associated Press, we have done our best to meet the Japanese wishes for the withdrawal of anti-Japanese elements. We are ready to suppress them.

IDAHO STATE GRANGE Topics of vital interest will be presented for discussion and action by the Idaho State Grange now in annual session in Twin Falls.

Agriculture and everything connected with it is just now perhaps more prominently in the spotlight than ever before.

Twin Falls is happy to serve as host to these visitors and to welcome them in a spirit of high hope for the success of the convention.

HALLOWEEN FUN AND PERILS Halloween pranks have never been as much fun for the victims as for the perpetrators.

It strikes me the bravest visit in New York was the visit of the Polo Grounds from a peak of that lolly leg, Coogan's Bluff.

On way from the Polo Grounds we swarmed around the high treasured peak of the elevated Zoo.

Europe. It could soon be exhausted. Mussolini can print all the paper money he likes, and make his people take it, but it will do him no good beyond his borders.

He has three months for conquest of Abyssinia. His arms and funds may last that long. Then the rains will start again, and if he has not won the country he must dig in until next fall.

FOOTBALL MARKET SURVEY (Christian Science Monitor) March L. Davey, Ohio governor and son of a famous Irish surgeon, has learned that players do not grow on gooseberry bushes.

None as football players, of course, for with the quaint ideas of amateurism in athletics which linger around American colleges with the exception of the Ivy League, there would never be such things as the Ivy League football tournaments held at, even as more ordinary mortals, and cannot well clothe themselves with sports headlines, however warming these may be to other respects.

None when it is considered that the Ivy League of the United States are at least partially self-supporting on their own employment. It is not altogether remarkable that youths in pursuit of knowledge about lateral passes as well as the binomial theorem have to subsidize their endeavors by some sort of applied college Greek.

They men who frankly make a business of their skills are likely to furnish the public more of the showmanship it craves. Colleagues who would like to play the game for its own sake as an adjunct rather than in Governor Dwyer's sarcastic words—as "the supreme purpose of higher education," may win a larger place in the lineup.
