VESSEL'S SMASHUP CLAIMS LIVES OF WOMAN AND YOUTH

San Bernardino straits, 300 miles by boat south of here, while the Silver-hazel crashed Sunday while enroute from San Francisco.

The British freighter was out in two when it struck the rocks, sending passengers and crew into the sea. The vessel was carrying a large amount of cargo and was bound for San Francisco.

Merchant vessels tried in vain to rescue the lives of the 110 aboard, but were tossed helplessly in the turbulent waters, and actual rescue was being sought through the rescuers.

Word that the 50 who survived the scattering and were rescued reached here before the planes, two bombers and two observation planes, had arrived.

This two disasters were reported from the wreck scene as due to explosion, with many of the others going missing from their own wreckage.

In desperation, some of the victims were declared to have made raft from wreckage of the Silver-hazel as rafts were within 100 feet of the vessel.

The rescue boats picked them up when they were a safe distance from the treacherous rocks.

The search for missing was continuing in the vicinity to search for the plane wreckage.

The Japanese freighter Chicago Maru, ripped open on a rock while attempting to reach the wreck, jumped into Manila where its master told a thrilling story of the wreck.

The first part of the Silver-hazel's cargo, including the bodies of the 110 who perished, was being recovered.

There were about 20 half-ton rafts on the rocks and in the water. The sea was running high.

While attempting to maneuver in the straits, the Silver-hazel, under the command of Captain Mori, said the wind was blowing and a submerged reef which ripped open the vessel's bottom.

The Chicago Maru started taking water, he said. "I stood by, how the vessel was being hoisted.

Wheat Leads Increase In Idaho Index For Idaho Products

BOISE, Nov. 12 (AP)—The index of prices received by farmers for their crop and livestock commodities advanced from 92 on September 15 to 94 on October 15. It was shown in a monthly statement issued today by Richard C. Ross, federal agricultural statistician for Idaho.

The advance in the index of all crops was due mainly to the increased price received for wheat. The advance of 11 cents a bushel in wheat together with moderate increases for oats and barley were partially offset by the decline shown in apples, potatoes and beans.

The main factors contributing to this advance were given as the relatively moderate increase in the price received for cattle and lambs which raised the index for meat animals from 111 per cent to 113 per cent for the pre-war level.

ADVENTURE

It is difficult to think of a more thrilling adventure than that indulged in on Armistice Day when two army balloonists attained a height of fourteen miles above the earth's surface. The record may not stand for long but it is the world's record to date and it exceeds by two thousand feet the former record.

No matter what the risk science has always been able to command followers. Always men can be found willing to stake their lives in pursuit of an accomplishment. Stratospheric flights have cost lives in the past and may in the future but the spirit of high adventure will continue to beckon and always there will be volunteers.

By means of the facts assembled as a result of such flights it may be possible to some day establish an air service which will make the present air transportation system seem slow and tame by comparison. Unheard of speeds may be possible of attainment in the rarified atmosphere which obtains in the higher strata. There are obstacles to be sure. Billing cold and lack of oxygen must be overcome. A new type of fuel may be necessary. Changes in design and construction of planes must be worked out if the stratosphere is to be successfully utilized for air transportation.

The work of such men as Captains Stevens and Anderson is responsible for much that science has attained. Accurate knowledge of stratospheric conditions will be invaluable in the future development of heavier than air machines if and when machines are designed for stratospheric flight.

THE FASCIST FIST

Fascist Italy, says a dispatch from Rome, has struck swift and hard at war profiteers and speculators, which is a good thing. While the civilized world still has too much tolerance for war, it is less tolerant of blood profits than it was twenty years ago.

Fascist Italy, however, also strikes hard at "those who circulate defamatory rumors, and that is not good. For it means long prison sentences at hard labor, and perhaps death, to any Italian citizen with the intelligence and courage to say, even in confidence to a prattling neighbor, that Italy cannot lick the world.

The iron fist is even harder now than it was when the Duce was first imposing his personal authority on Italy and sweeping aside all who stood in his way.

We have had times, in the last few years, when quite a few Americans were playing with the Fascist idea, and even saying openly that this country needed a "strong hand". Meaning a strong hand to suppress those with whom they disagreed. Fortunately we have less of such perilous nonsense now.

TRADE TREATIES

Poland and Germany have recently signed a trade treaty which ends a ten-year tariff war. Each nation gains something under the treaty, which is expected to increase the volume of mutual trade fifty per cent.

TOPPLING MOON

This news about the moon's destiny may be disturbing to the born worrier, but it might as well be faced. Sir James Jeans, British scientist, believes the moon is falling toward the earth. When it gets closer, it will first break into two pieces. Later on other breaks will make it four, then eight, and finally too many pieces to count.

When that stage arrives, there won't be any more moon-for earth's lovers-to gaze at or babies to cry for. And, if some of the fragments, big or little, hit the earth a good wallop, long-suffering humanity might get quite a jolt.

The born non-worrier wishes some of this would happen in his time so he could watch the sky show. He thinks it would take many minds off economic and social problems, and thus be a great boon to statesmen and common people alike.

The weather in Ethiopia, too, seems to be applying some sanctions.

TAOFOU MAHARAJA

The new fashion folio, trousers akira, made a decided hit with the maharaja of Patiala, we are told. Even Indian potentate was shopping around Paris for homecoming gifts for his 16 wives. He purchased 14 apiece velvet akira with ankle-length Turkish trousers under knee-length tunics.

It might be noted that the maharaja was careful to note his gifts exactly alike. There is to be no such thing as a gift as to his harem. And there is to be no wife singled out to wear the trousers in his home.

After all, no one can live with 16 wives without learning something.

THE GRANGE DOESN'T FORGET

Sales tax supporters have frequently intimated that the people were becoming accustomed to the tax and that after the first wave of opposition had subsided, little antagonism would be encountered. But the Grange never forgets!

The Idaho State Grange has been vigorously opposed to the measure ever since it was first proposed last winter. The members insist that the tax is unnecessary and that it adds an additional burden to those already at the staggering point with the load they are carrying. In other words, they assert, it is a tax on poverty.

The resolution adopted at the Twin Falls convention calls for repeal of the sales tax law, and we congratulate them for their action. The Grange is the most representative organization of agricultural interests in the state and voices their sentiments. We have maintained that the sales tax has been, and is, and will be immensely unpopular among the rate and the people. The resolution is conclusive evidence of the fact, the politicians of the state, notwithstanding.

Another resolution passed by the Grange of importance to the farmers of the Snake river valley, opposed creation of a Columbia basin authority. Chief among the reasons listed for its opposition was that "there is no need for any additional federal aid to the Columbia basin, as 100 delegates voted against approval of the resolution."

Meetings held in Boise and Pocatello, recently to consider the Columbia basin matter, demonstrated little enthusiasm for the authority. However, it was the generally accepted belief that the meetings gave approval, and these sections are so on record at Washington.

For the people of the inland states to give support to the Columbia basin authority is putting our own storage needs in second place. The proposed project is one of the largest in the west. It would drain the reclamation funds of the federal treasury for a long period. In the meantime the South Fork project plans would gather dust, while all effort would be bent behind the Columbia basin. We submit that the GRADES here truly represent the sentiment of the people of Idaho than the hand full of business men who were more interested in supporting representatives of the reclamation department than the interests of the people as a whole.

GOOD NEWS FOR FARMERS

Idaho Post-Boys report: Reports from the federal department of agriculture indicate that the present upward trend in farm income will continue in 1938 have a sweet sound to Idaho farmers.

The optimistic outlook of the federal statisticians is based on an extensive study in all parts of the country which they say indicates that the present consumer-buying power as a result of improved industrial activity both at home and abroad.

The federal reports forecast a surplus of wheat for 1938, and an available supply for export. This is interesting in view of the fact that in 1934 and 1935 we had to import wheat to supply our home market. If we grow wheat still, we can export it and it will mean a great benefit to farmers. Livestock is in the best condition in years, the reports indicate, and the outlook for the dairy, poultry and fruit industries is held to be very bright.

The department officials say the cash income for farmers probably will be higher this year than at any time since 1923. While the 1938 income even greater it may be that agriculture can raise its head.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—There is a little of interest in the news here, but it is not the usual kind of news.

It is used for a notable cause. The wine is being sold for the benefit of the Food Society.

In a current issue for instance, the wine is being sold for the benefit of the Food Society.

He says that in the United States, there are signs that the wine is being sold for the benefit of the Food Society.

O. O. McIntyre "clears" is now coming back. But the demand is not great enough in the United States to keep all the vineyards going.

"Vineyards are being uprooted which will never produce clear again. Many famous brands are obsolete and are being sold for their value as lumber.

On top of this, Bill Boggs' luxurious and ill-fated restaurant, opening recently, had hoped to make its stock of wine wine the chief appeal. But the demand was slight. Consequently, it will take another decade for America to lose its peak wine for raw gin and cut whiskey.

Established when John Crawford and Franchot Tom swung back over the Snake River trail. Quite innocently, the young honeymooners had made a mistake at a pretense something of a social gathering. So much so that such amiable critics as Burns Matt, Gilbert Gilbert and John Mason Brown spoke right out in anger.

Whereas the couple was to appear the lobby and sidewalk outside filled with a milling, jostling throng, what, at the outsider's cry: "Here they come!" massed into a flying charge that sent milk, monies and top hats helter-skelter.

So far as I observe, the only one who was left in town—there were a number of wives—in an attempt to buy a drink. The drink, dipping at a sally little cafe called "Hamburger Mary's" in the East 90's, was a running fire comment, performs miracles of pouring, and, like milk, monies and top hats helter-skelter.

The first bar maids I ever saw were the famous Kelly and Collie at the Savoy in London. I would sit at a nearby table for an hour, apparently engrossed in reading, just to hear their Cockney comment.

At the end of the night, I was told by one of the other Kellys, a non-bar-blower, suggesting Sophie Tucker and Cole Porter, that they were "haired with the wild wife of Eva Tangany." Every Monday night they went to the Palladium to see Laddie Cliff, their mutual idol.

CALM DIGNITY FOR DINING

Decorator Utilizes Eighteenth Century Pieces

Toile wallpaper and a flowered rug combine colors.

Prepared by The American Home Decorator. Utilizing the dining room furniture, this dining room achieves a delightful, calm-inducing atmosphere. The flowered dining rug combines elegantly with the soft colorings of the toile wallpaper. No pictures mar the pattern of the paper, but a convex mirror adds distance and light. Its dull gold frame also fits into the scheme which conveys a feeling of dignity, peace and warmth.

The gleam of the silver service, broken glasses in the well-populated center cabinet and silver candlesticks and pitcher on the side table all speak of calm and beauty. Plain curtains with a plaid valance are simply trimmed with matching fringe. The chair rail and woodwork contrast with the coloring in the wallpaper. The rug hinges on the corner cabinet recall the old colonial types used so long ago and still in great demand.

The chair seat, after an unobtrusive pattern, but the necessary touch which plain fabric could not do. Centering the attractive carved table, is a mirror plaque under a silver bowl and flowered center cabinet and silver.

She was one of those bi-racial creatures clinging romantically to his city arm and coasting coastally over avenue window displays. Before a furrier's spread of chinchilla she stood suddenly transfixed and gurgled: "Put me Daddy, please!" And the old boy was beginning to look moosey, too.

STUDENTS OF EDEN HOLD SENIOR BALL

EDEN, Nov. 12.—The second annual senior ball held here last Friday evening proved to be a success.

The large gymnasium was decorated in the class colors of blue and white. The effect was an out-of-door scene, adding to the effect was an artistically constructed old fashioned well placed in one corner of the dance floor. Fruit punch and refreshments were served from the well during the evening by means of an old-fashioned four-spigged serving stand operated by the well.

The dance opened with a grand march led by Woodrow Marshall, class president, and Miss Constance Harding. However, the evening was furnished by the Ambassador orchestra of Twin Falls.

WASHINGTON By Ray Tucker

ARTILLERY. Although most everybody has missed the President Roosevelt has set the stage for demobilization of his farm program and political conquest of the West. In 1938 he has scheduled a special session to address the American Farm Federation Bureau on the same day—the President Court listens to arguments against the processing tax in the Hoopa Mills case.

The White House is receptive about its plans but here's how the act will be staged: Mr. Roosevelt will be recounting AAA's benefits to farmers on the day that conservative lawyers for New England territory will be demanding that the processing tax is unconstitutional and the road toward bankruptcy. Receiver for the Hoopa farm is William H. Butler, who was O. P. National Chairman under Calvin Coolidge. Mr. Roosevelt will not raise the substance to hit the New Deal against the Old Deal.

The President may also appear before the federation as a paid member of the farmers union. As a Hyde Park agriculturist he has been asked to join the Cook County Farm Federation of Illinois. The fee is $1.

PROBLEMS. In negotiating a reciprocal tariff treaty with Canada, Canada's full tariff program has created political difficulties for the first time—And-Premer. Roosevelt would take away the protection of a diplomatic gesture, known by treaty makers.

Treaties already negotiated with European nations are not even crunched on social political ground. They have expanded markets for American goods, but they have erected tariff barriers which protected industrial Republicans states, especially Pennsylvania.

In second order, Mr. Roosevelt's economic and political ideas. But Canada seems a market for goods which compete with those of western states. Apparently friendly to Mr. Roosevelt, the Dominion would like to sell us more lumber, more hay, more grain, more agricultural products. In return, they will buy from us more industrial manufactures—automobiles, machinery fabrications—now produced in Canada by branch factories owned by Americans. Traders doubt if any worthwhile comprehensive arrangement will be fixed before November of 1939.

JUSTIFICATION

Henry Wallace plans to sneak over a fast one on the Republicans when he addresses an assembly of the National Liberty League lawyers say they are and are not to be a party to the application of the hoarderies union of New York for legal assistance.

Other members of the program were as follows: (When Mother Dearest, Irene Ehlers; reciting of the "American Creed"; Woodrow Marshall; talk by Earl Eggers, "How to Respect the Flag"; reading "Let's Mind Our Own Business," an article in the Bulletin magazine; and a contribution by an ex-soldier, Herman Huestig; two songs, boys' club, "Land" and "Boy of the Camp"; and at the close of Mr. Eggers talk in giving in giving the salute to the flag.

The high school students joined in the signing of "America The Beautiful" and "The Star-Spangled Banner." Other members of the program were as follows: (When Mother Dearest, Irene Ehlers; reciting of the "American Creed"; Woodrow Marshall; talk by Earl Eggers, "How to Respect the Flag"; reading "Let's Mind Our Own Business," an article in the Bulletin magazine; and a contribution by an ex-soldier, Herman Huestig; two songs, boys' club, "Land" and "Boy of the Camp"; and at the close of Mr. Eggers talk in giving in giving the salute to the flag.

SKY CLIMBERS QUIT SCENE OF TRIUMPH

Stratosphere Expedition In Possession of Altitude Record

WHITE LAKE, S. D., Nov. 17 (AP) The crew of the stratosphere expedition, which yesterday added to America's air honors the official world altitude mark scattered to their homes today.

Jubilant over the 73,000 foot height—nearly 14 miles up—they had reached, Captain Albert W. Stevens, flight commander, and Captain Cyril A. Anderson, the pilot, took off by plane for Washington. They were expected to arrive there tomorrow.

Packing of scientific instruments and other equipment proceeded rapidly, but fewer than a hundred curious looked on.

This was in decided contrast to the thousands of spectators from Nebraska—Nebraska—Nebraska—and South Dakota—who swarmed over the landing field 12 miles from here yesterday and last night, after word of the stratosphere's successful end was flashed.

At the base, in the "bowl" near Rapid City, the camp breaking covered activity also. Paravels of children of the Black Hills town which contributed about $10,000 to finance the third expedition were said.

The big question to be settled was a scientific object, the stratosphere had accomplished. But word on this was expected to wait expert examination of the numerous recording machines.

Captain Anderson said he had no information as to the possibility that the National Geographic Society and army air corps, which cooperated in backing yesterday's flight might cover it soon. Any word, he said, must come from officers of the society.

Life Stormy for Mrs. Hammerstein

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Life Hammerstein for Emma Hammerstein, 55-year-old widow of Oscar Hammerstein, who was to Broadway at the turn of the century when the opera was in its infancy.

The ups and downs in her life since 1909—when one brought her to selling apples on Broadway—has said her upon home relief since July, she said today.

I have barely enough to eat," she declared.

She is living her stepson, Arthur Hammerstein, for breach of contract to support her for the next year she brought to suit for $100,000 against her stepson for the breach of his contract. Her action was terminated temporarily on an agreement she was to receive $25 a week.

In 1930, Mrs. Hammerstein attempted to sell apples on Broadway in a drizzle at Chambers street and Broadway to earn her living by selling apples.

BOISE, Nov. 17 (AP)—In a letter written November 11, Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, of Washington, D. C., expressed his appreciation for the "fine spirit of cooperation" Mrs. Taylor, Idaho prison warden, and his staff manifested "in connection with the investigation of the Westchester kidnaping case."

Two of the men involved in the kidnaping were former Idaho prison inmates. Harmon Wiley is serving a prison term for the kidnaping of the crime. William Mahan is sought as "the brains" of the plot that had little George Weyerhaeuser of Tacoma as the victim.

power and your fuel, so I cultivate my land with horses and I buy instead of rent machinery and gasoline.

"A man's foolish to have too much stuff when he should sell it. For instance, I know exactly today how much my farm is costing me to run. I know when a lot of stock is getting to the point where it's going to cost me more to keep it than I could ever get out of it. So when the market prices and sell it right away. If I lose, I don't lose more than I would if I hold onto the stock, hoping the price would go up. If it does, you're broken even and if it doesn't, you're a loser."

"The trouble with a lot of modern farmers, said the gray-haired cowboy of Texas plains, is that they can't "analyse themselves" any more.

"That's not only true of farmers—it's true of people in general," he declared. "Look at the people who go to a shop—a lot of them spending their last dime."

"Why, I just say alone and play around with the dog. People say I had four sons—'working on the farm'—he was asked.

"No, there's around. They're a good lot like the rest of them," he laughed.

Mustang Eleven Goes To Head Of Collegiate Football Class; Princeton Second, Gophers Third

Could "Plunge" on Southwest in New Grid Rankings

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Southern Methodist, having removed any lingering doubt about its own class as well as the aggressiveness of southwest football generally, goes to the head of the collegiate class in this week's ranking list.

Based upon the performance inclusive of the last week-end here's our revised "top ten" today:

1. Southern Methodist; 2. Princeton; 3. Minnesota; 4. California; 5. North Carolina; 6. Texas Christian; 7. Rice; 8. Louisiana State; 9. Alabama; 10. Notre Dame.

Having survived the barrage that followed our ranking of Princeton at the top last week, over Notre Dame, we have no hesitancy in "plunging" this week on the southwest, which has three entries in the top ten.

Not touched by any other area of sideline activity in the southwest is the fact that the only conference that can offer the southwest a real argument.

Eighth Straight Victory

Southern Methodist's "pony express" turned in the season's most convincing interception performance by intercepting the storm of U. C. L. A. aggression at Los Angeles, 21-0, yesterday. This was the eighth straight victory for the Mustangs, no longer be classified as an "aerial circus" but a powerful, well-knit and well-organized team.

The team to defeat Rice, last year's southwest conference title-holder, The Ponies turned tricks, 10 to 0, and handed Texas, its worst beating to date.

Texas Christian, also unbeaten and with eight straight victories, is back to Southern Methodist's path to southwest honors. They play on November 17.

T. C. U. plays on November 17, at 10 o'clock, in overcoming Loyola at New Orleans and may be knocked out of the top ten.

Princeton, the last week's runner-up, is back to the top.

Justified Favorites

Princeton, California, North Carolina and Louisiana State all justified their high ratings by this week's performance. Princeton lost ground, under the circumstances, by its show of recuperation to win by eleven. However, the Gophers do not shape up as a par with their 1934 counterpart, despite their great showing against the best of college observers that they compare favorably with last year's cast featuring Paul Lund, Stan Kostka and Frank Larson.

The halfway for North Carolina's "Tar Heels" and Louisiana State's "Southern conference," has been better within the past few days. Right coaches class this

RIVER OR NO RIVER, TEXAS FOOTBALLERS ASK CHANCE TO BATTLE IN ROSE BOWL

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 12 (AP)—The river or no river, Texas footballers are asking a chance to battle in the Rose Bowl.

Coach Bell himself quietly spoke the sentiments of his side when he announced recently they would seek to set a precedent.

"We must certainly would like to have a chance at the Rose Bowl," he said, "and we would like to see boys have a rough schedule to beat, but it will be funning for the boys."

The police and firemen's band, the mayor and city council, the chamber of commerce and the "sidewalk quartet" will gather at Union station to roar welcome to a team that has scored 217 points against the enemy's 12 to rank second of fourth and definitely among the nation's better teams.

Only Dartmouth tops them in points scored while the University of California has held rivals to nine points.

Backers of Coach Matty Bell's team want to see the team play in the Rose Bowl.

GRID TYCOONS SEEK 'BUSH LEAGUE' ACES

Off the beaten paths of the football world, a lot of talent lurks among the small "bush-league" colleges and none knows it better than the tycoons of professional football. The annual harvest of college alumni for the mercenary of the gridiron is conducted on a large scale among the smaller institutions of higher learning. You have only to glance over a pro football lineup to be convinced:

Alongside former Southern Californians, New York U. graduates and old Michigan heroes on the New York Giants' roster are representatives of such institutions as Emporia Teachers College, Simpson College of Iowa, Gonzaga, Davis-Eli, Kansas, Bucknell, etc.—all very well known to the tycoons of the game as top in football over any long period of years.

Each year these heavy young men receive much notice in the America selections beyond their all-honorable mention.

He's A Wonder

When the lights comes the report that one of these football sensations who has chosen to do his romping over the lesser gridiron to take to the field.

"There is a boy in the name of Homer (Red) Leach, at halfback with Missouri Valley College at Marshall, Mo.," writes our old friend Ernie Mehl of the Kansas City Star, "no fool; he's the best I've ever seen make a tackle."

He's just now going down. In fact, he's little John Willie who used to play for Haskell.

"A few weeks ago Missouri valley played Rockhurst and Leach ran for 100 yards and was tackled by Leach himself. The following Monday Coach Pat Mason gave his Rockhurst boys a long lecture on the value of Leach, but they didn't know the first thing about tackling."

After the game Pat and I went to Marshall to see Missouri Valley play William Jewell College. Leach threw three touchdowns in about five minutes. Jewell's defense would get him in a pocket and someone or other hit him out of it. He kept getting Leach and the tackle bring him down; it usually required three and even then he'd get up."

When the game Pat said he was going back to his team, got the play book "all together" and apologizing for what he said about their failure to stop Leach!

Tigers Bound Upgrade

And in the same mail comes a note about Missouri's return to a five star of football. In the year after three long, lean years. While the Tigers aren't winning their way back to the top of the list to be defeated this fall by the new regime headed by Coach Henry (Bud) Leach, it is a fact that Missouri has been compared with Knox College and even given a special "post-season" game by the Tigers, as a sort of prelude to the Pasadena Rose Bowl game.

Here's the low-down on Missouri as reported by William H. Brown:

"Pauline" (Pat) Fall is a pretty nice gang for a sophomore team. Unless Tim solely material, they take on the entire team. Three touchdowns from Nebraska Saturday. Good guessing, William; he's a good guesser. Three touchdowns, but Missouri got one."

I believe, it is going to make good if they're really serious. Don't let me be wrong. The state athletic commission and his system features the off-lack, wideback formations that have been the pride of the Midwest, along with a deep of punters and forwards not unlike

16 Football Teams Complete Season of Grid Warfare; Albion, Glenns Ferry Battle for Class B Title

With 16 grid aggregations of the South Central Idaho district already having packed away their meekness in football for another year, interest has turned toward the winding of Big Ten football with the spotlight focused on the battle between Twin Falls Bruins and Idaho Falls Titans here Friday afternoon.

Unbent to date, the Bruins meet Coach Red Jacoby's aggregation as favorites and are expected to retain their undefeated record.

The Titans, however, stepped out and served notice on the Bruins Monday when they triumphed in the most notable victory, 12 to 0, in an Armistice day tilt to boost their stock considerably.

The other game on the schedule Friday which is slated to attract many fans of the district is the annual district Class B championship game, featuring the appearance of two unbeaten teams, Coach Kirk Barrett's North Side champions from Clatsop county and Coach Ed Smith's South Side titheholders from Albion. The game will be held at 2 p. m. on the Glenns Ferry field.
