

Grangers Call Upon New Deal To Rescind Treaty With Canada

Unanimous Adoption Of Report Climaxes Day Of Broadside Delivered Against Trade Pact By Many Delegates

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 18.—The national Grange, by a unanimous vote of delegates, called upon the administration tonight to rescind its new reciprocal trade treaty with Canada.

Adopting a report of the legislative committee, which climaxed a day of individual broadsides delivered against the treaty by many delegates, the Grange said: "If these treaties are not rescinded, we demand the repeal of the reciprocal tariff act, just as soon as congress convenes."

The report followed the rejection of Louis J. Taber, former secretary of the Grange for 12 years, to the national membership for another two-year term. The vote was nearly unanimous. Injurious Effects Predicted. The report predicted that the treaty will be injurious rather than beneficial. "We already have a domestic surplus of practically every agricultural product," it stated.

One of the worst features of the world situation, said the report, "is that while we receive some concessions from one country, Canada, under the most-favored-nation clause, which has been written into the treaty, we have entered with all the leading nations of the world, to give these nations the same concessions that we give Canada, although they make no concession to us."

Blunt-spoken C. O. Goswell, Kansas agricultural leader, denounced the treaty as a "trap in the face of the farmer." Fred Breckman, Washington representative, also spoke against the treaty.

His formal statement capped a day of grim speeches and resolutions. "We have a flood of statements, so voluminous, and in some cases so bitterly worded, as to evoke protest from the treaty itself against the proportions of a 1936 campaign issue."

The cabinet officer, who yesterday beside Mr. Roosevelt as the president explained the trade agreement to the press, predicted from his benefits on whose production the increased industrial production is against the argument of lumber, livestock and other interests on whose production the treaty might assure the proportions of a 1936 campaign issue.

Wallace Calls For Shift To Long Term Farm Plan. The emergency programs then put into effect, Wallace said, had "serious shortcomings," and added that the "long term plan" should be adopted as an emergency basis.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Secretary Wallace today urged the farmers of the country to regard the emergency adjustments as a temporary measure. "We have a man sized job on our hands," Wallace told delegates to the convention of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities. "We can't get to first base unless the farmer looks beyond his line for help to his neighbor, to his region and the nation."

Verastile Firm—OAKLAND, Calif.—Fremont here not only are active in fighting blazes but they are carrying on an interesting campaign against an emergency law. "They were called to a roof fire at the home of Mrs. May Valadao, a resident here, by a fire alarm. Because of Mrs. Valadao's weak heart, Battalion Chief Patrick Gray was advised it might prove fatal to move her."

SYNOPSIS: Anne Farnsworth is on trial for the murder of her husband, Lee Farnsworth, who is the only one of her relatives who has been kind to her since the accidental death of her foster parents, Luke and Lenora Farnsworth. Tom Farley, her most bitter enemy, Tom Farley, is assisting the district attorney. The latter is summing up his case against Anne, at the beginning of the trial which may result in a sentence of death being pronounced against an innocent girl.

Chapter 34 TECLA'S STORY

Anne had come down to Astoria, the district attorney argued, and once there set about fomenting trouble among the people working for her late foster father's household. She had been kind to her since the accidental death of her foster parents, Luke and Lenora Farnsworth. Tom Farley, her most bitter enemy, Tom Farley, is assisting the district attorney. The latter is summing up his case against Anne, at the beginning of the trial which may result in a sentence of death being pronounced against an innocent girl.

Upon hearing they had been arrested for the crime, she had depended upon her former prestige as Anne Farnsworth to try to free them.

All of these things he would prove, he said.

Lenholm outlined his defense, and it was briefly weak. Anne realized how thin a chance she would have of being found not guilty.

Warily she asked the State prosecutor to call her into evidence.

She returned to jail that night, worn in body and spirit.

Lenholm had little to offer save the word of the State.

She was asked to identify the man who had been with her at the time of the murder.

The car driven by Mr. Hansen, which was a truck driven by Edson Doth of DeLo, Mrs. Hansen and daughter, Julie, also suffered cuts and bruises about the head.

Deputy Sheriff George Bray in-vestigated the accident and stated that Doth was driving his truck too far on the side of the road from which direction Hansen was approaching and that the Hansen car made a direct dash for the truck, Hansen, evidently becoming confused.

Dr. H. E. Dean, attending physician, stated here Monday morning that Barbara Hansen is suffering with a fractured pelvis.

Minnesota's Gophers Second On List of Outstanding Elevens

Famous 'Pony Express' of Southern Methodist Again Covers More Ground Than Any Other Outfit

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Staff Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—This week's college football ranking lists fairly well indicated by the latest developments from the combining of the national leaders, here's our "top ten" for the time being:

1. Southern Methodist; 2. Minnesota; 3. Texas Christian; 4. Princeton; 5. California; 6. Rich; 7. Louisiana State; 8. Alabama; 9. Dartmouth; 10. Pittsburgh.

Minnesota, by crushing Michigan for the first time this season, displaced power comparable to the 1934 Gophers. One such demonstration of their necessity to prove the same kind of a steam-roller, but there's no doubt now that Minnesota is in the class of the Big Ten. It almost certainly will win Wisconsin to finish a second straight undefeated season and that the Gophers can duplicate its rival's claim to national honors.

"Pony Express" travels Southern Methodist remains at the head of the class for the reason the "pony express" covered more ground and accomplished more convincing results than any other team last week. After shelling U.C.L.A. at Los Angeles Monday with an exhibition that had coasted criticism, the Spartans, at 34-0, came halfway across the country and registered another impressive "road" victory, against Arkansas, by the loss of its start full back.

Meanwhile Texas Christian turned loose a terrific ball to power to leisure Texas 23 to 0, and more to the credit of the latter's standing. Down in the southwest, where the brand of football has been somewhat flaccid, the feeling has developed that the Texas Christians are even better than the Southern Methodists. They will have a chance to prove it on the last Saturday of the month, Meanwhile T. C. will try to repeat its success off this week by the Ows of Rice.

Princeton, whose high ranking this has been the year has had considerable debate, due to the relative "softness" of this year's schedule, should be fully tested this Saturday by another undefeated team, Dartmouth. The Princeton unquestionably have everything needed to qualify them as a top class, except such opposition as the "clubs" of the Big Ten and southwest conferences have been tackling recently.

California, perhaps as fine a defensive team as any in the land, likewise has the opportunity to develop the old controversy this week. The Golden Bears, who have yielded only a touchdown and a safety in nine games so far, meet Stanford in the "ele game" of the Pacific conference.

Ohio State and Notre Dame played the year's most spectacular game at Columbus, but subsequent developments have proved observers were optimistic in attaching national championship honors to the outcome. It is true that Notre Dame without Andy Pine, lacks real power, but this is the only explanation for its erratic showing. Neither belongs in the first ten now.

Those two southern power houses, Louisiana State and Alabama each has had one setback. Alabama, like Notre Dame, has been tied as well as beaten once, but Alabama's string of five consecutive victories since mid-October is as impressive as the achievement of any other team.

Two one-sided victories eliminated basketball teams from room 112 and 114 in yesterday's Red-White tourney games for the Twin Falls Junior high school boys. Room 108-downed 116, 19-10, T. and 115-scamped 114, 40-8.

Spartan Captain Defeats Venzke

Venzke was caught in 20:28. The time goes down in the books as a new record as it was the first time the event has been run over five miles—a mile shorter than in previous years.

Michigan State Led Races to Victory in Cross Country Event

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Led by John Edward Reichold, a native of 140 pounds, Michigan State's Spartans for the third straight year today won the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic association cross country run at Van Courlandt park.

Billy Evans Resigns As General Manager of Cleveland Club

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15.—Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland Baseball company, announced today that he had accepted the resignation of William G. (Burr) Evans, general manager of the club since 1923.

Proteges of California Tennis Coach Give New Hope To U. S. Court Forces

Patsy Henry and Bobby Hays (above), the national girls' and boys' singles champions, are pupils of Wynn Mace, former Princeton tennis player, who predicated that his group of youngsters at the Los Angeles tennis club will, with a few years experience, return the United States to the heights of international tennis.

wood, national doubles runner-up, will play a large part in the future international championship.

Twenty years of teaching tennis have taught this former Princeton star a lot of things about the game. He has just played it in 1933.

"Tennis is individual game," Mace has found. "I made that," that there are no patented strokes. A great player hits the ball simply and directly. Of course I have my set of ideas on that, but I believe in drill on shots rather than a lot of fancy.

"There are five main types of players until their strokes become a matter of habit and reflex action. Of course, like most other sports, tennis is a game that must be adapted to the individual. I believe not every player can play the game the same.

"There are, for example, very few players mentally equipped to play the game of Eleanor Wainwright, the late-midwest—very ball with a full power. I would say that the average player would do better to adopt Fred Perry's style of game because of the greater margin of safety."

Budge Reid Top Rank Mace is convinced Donald Budge, young Davis cup player from Oakland, will win another year or two of dominating, earn his right to be placed with California's other great international players—Maureen McLaughlin, William Johnston and Vines.

"Of the present junior group he considers Hays and Heston the best. "All they lack now," said Mace, "is steadiness and confidence. They have the strokes and are well rounded in the mechanics of the game. It simply is a matter of maturity with them."

Pictures Fail to Settle Argument Over Play In Notre Dame-Army Game

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Slow motion pictures of the Army-Notre Dame football game, shown today at the Fairgrounds, failed to settle the argument over the play on which the Cadets were penalized for pass interference on the two yard line and the Irish thereby given their chance to score the tying touchdown in the last minute.

The picture showed both Whitney Grove, Army halfback, and Bill Goss, quarterback in proximity to Wayne Miller, Notre Dame receiver, but left a question as to whether any interference occurred.

Idaho-Nevada Clash Attracts Crowds

BOISE, Nov. 18.—The football element of Idaho's capital city today began showing signs of "going collegiater" this week-end when Boise's first major college grid game in three years will find the University of Idaho Vandals pitted against the University of Nevada Wolves here.

The game, scheduled for Saturday at 2 p. m., already has started a flood of hotel reservations coming into the city and advance ticket sales from all parts of southern Idaho indicate a capacity crowd for the permanent stands and temporary bleachers that are expected to be erected to bring seating accommodations to 6,000.

The game, scheduled for Saturday at 2 p. m., already has started a flood of hotel reservations coming into the city and advance ticket sales from all parts of southern Idaho indicate a capacity crowd for the permanent stands and temporary bleachers that are expected to be erected to bring seating accommodations to 6,000.

Idaho's renowned "outfield man" will be seeking their second victory of the season, but will face a heavy team, one with a host of right-handed passers, and speedy backs, and which each year usually springs one of the Pac West's "breathin' games."

In 1932, the Wolves started football fandom by holding the vaunted University of Utah to a 13-0 "breathin' game." The following year, Nevada overpowered a heavily favored San Francisco university team, 12 to 0.

Last year, the Wolves provided the pack as the boys were reversed by taking the Gallatin Gables of St. Mary's for a 9-0 ride. The team has fared poorly this year but still has a chance to come through with its customary upsurge by turning back the Vandals.

Idaho, on the other hand, will be fighting slow the college football pack to a victory list that so far includes only Montana university.

The Vandals, under Coach Bank, have developed a power running attack built around Theron Ward, flashy halfback, but so far have failed to show a goal-line push.

The game is expected to be a fierce struggle, but betting even on the result.

For the fans who arrive in Boise a day early, another football game is scheduled when the Boise Junior college enters Albion Normal Friday night.

Freddie Miller Drops Decision

Southerner Awarded Verdict Over Featherweight Champion

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Norman Quaker, North Carolina Southerner, won a split decision over Freddie Miller, the featherweight champion, in a 10 round bout tonight at the P. M. C. arena.

Miller weighed 130, Quaker 120. With the fans rating the roof, Quaker, of Norfolk, Virginia, a former collegiate boxer, was given two of the three official votes.

The title did not change hands since both men entered the ring weighing more than the 125-pound limit for the featherweight class.

The fight went to a "draw" with the southern punch at the mercy of the champion for the first four rounds. But Quaker quickened the pace as the boys were whipped the champion back on his heels with punning rights in the thunderous final rounds.

Miller pounded Miller's head, the champion hammered Quaker's body with shudding lefts but they fought slow the collision.

Referee Red Robinson and Judge Karl Koehn awarded the decision to Quaker. Judge Primo Columbus voted for Miller.

Ray Impellittere To Battle Ford Smith

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Ray Impellittere, New York heavyweight champion, will have a climactic bout with Ford Smith of Montana at Detroit last week, today signed to meet Smith in a return bout in Chicago at week end.

Open Season on Ducks and Geese Draws to Close

Nimrod throughout the northern portion of the United States are scheduled to close this morning for a final crack at ducks, geese and other migratory waterfowl on which the open season closes at 4 p. m. today.

Although there have been comparatively few birds in south central Idaho, the season has been reported as fair at intervals and some nimrods have succeeded in getting their bag limit in certain sections.

Best hunting in the district has been reported in Snake river canyon and along the Salmon river west of Boise.

The season opened under federal regulations in the northern half of the north half of the nation.

The season will open for 30 days tomorrow in southern United States.

Four Battles Mark Close of Southern Idaho Grid Season

Bruins And Braves Enter Game At Even Money

Slated to go into the game at even money, touted Boise and Twin Falls high school grid field machines will take to Lincoln field here Friday afternoon with championship of the Southern Idaho Big Ten conference at stake.

In addition to the title battle, three other contests will take place on the same day and will bring to a close the 1933 football year on south central Idaho turf.

Gaels Win Over Santa Clara, 10-0

89,000 Spectators Turn Out to Watch Old Rivals in Annual Battle

After hearing the dope about Boise and Twin Falls aggregations on paper about to be a toss-up, their own bet was a home town crowd.

The Bruins, however, are given an edge to win. They will be playing on their own turf, a home town crowd. They scored 18 first downs to two for Caldwell and 14 more, including three touchdowns.

Boise and Twin Falls aggregations on paper about to be a toss-up, their own bet was a home town crowd.

On the other hand, the Bruins last week played two games, one of which was a tie, and the other a loss. Boise has had a rest since Armistice day and should be in top condition.

With Nappa plays Caldwell will have a second place tie with either Boise or Twin Falls in the standings. Nappa will make an attempt to make a name for himself by winning over Caldwell.

However, are given a strong chance to upset the dog bucket and win after losing to Boise, Pocatello and Twin Falls and trimming Bull.

It is to be known of the comparative strength of the Oakley and Albion teams, but if the boys from the northeast can stop the Horned Pango attack, Boise should be the best aggregations in the state.

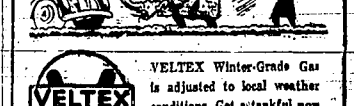

Oakley this year has been beaten by Twin Falls and holds with defeat of championship in Class A (Non-Big Ten) play. In addition Oakley holds wins over four Big Ten schools, Boise, Bull, Prine and Rupert.

Gooding, although the Bolens' threat against the strong Oakley combination two weeks ago when Oakley won 12 to 0 appears to give Gooding a chance to win a victory over the Indians this week, however, makes the Indian tie look good.

While Caldwell has had a good record in the Class A standings with Gooding and Jerome tied for third and Kimberly holding down the cellar.

MAYOR CALLS FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS

Johnson Pleads for Community Chest Support to Replace Federal Aid

Duncan M.D. Johnson, Twin Falls mayor, speaking in behalf of Twin Falls Community Chest this morning, said that the annual campaign, last night, argued that, according to state law, funds taken in from the state sales tax can not be used for relief unless in conjunction with federal funds and asked for a ruling from the attorney general regarding what to do with the state sales tax money after federal aid ceases December 1.

Mr. Johnson voiced his view after considerable agitation from the public during the past week he said. "Why not 'ask'?" "Why must we contribute to the Community Chest when we already pay the money out in a sales tax?"

With government withdrawal of federal funds, effective December 1, there is every reason to believe that for the Community Chest than ever before. In addition to the relief cases carried for by the Chest in the past, the people are now confronted with caring for all their unemployed.

The mayor quoted from Idaho session laws for both the regular 23rd session and the extraordinary session of the legislature and argued that the state cooperative emergency revenue fund had been formed from that $100,000 per month of general tax revenue had been set aside for cooperation with the government for relief.

"The state voted to cooperate with the government to supply money for relief cases and now that the federal money has been withdrawn, the $100,000, according to law, can not be used for relief. The governor was appointed at the regular session as commissioner of emergency relief and emergency relief was authorized to enter into contracts with the government for federal grants for relief unemployment. Now that the federal aid has ceased the commissioner of emergency relief and employment is in reality abolished.

General Fund
"The law points out that all surplus money is to be turned over to the general fund. If that is the case why doesn't all of the money taken in from sales tax, until the government again comes to the rescue, go into that fund?"

"I have heard the governor intend to use the surplus in paying off old age pensions after the first of the year," the mayor concluded.
