IDAHO TO EMBRACE LAND BUYING PLAN

Federal Funds Available for Purchase; Ross to Name Committee

BOISE, Nov. 23 (AP)—Governor Ross announced tonight that he will appoint a committee of three men to cooperate with the state planning board in determining how the federal Palmer act, which makes $5,000,000 available for the purchase of lands in various states, may be applied in Idaho.

A resolution was passed today by the state cooperative board of forestry, of which the governor is chairman, authorizing him to make the appointment.

The Palmer bill would permit the state to borrow money from the federal government for a period of 40 years for use in purchasing lands which have valuable watershed, reforestation possibilities and grazing value.

Authority to permit such lands to revert to counties on tax delinquency, the state would take them over with the hope of reselling them later, the governor explained. All members of the board were at the meeting except Attorney General Bert H. Miller.

Chef Who Cooks F. D. R.'s Turkey Tells Thanksgiving Menu For 1935

(President Roosevelt will have turkey, pumpkin pie, and plum pudding for his Thanksgiving dinner at the Georgia Warm Springs foundation this year. C. M. Stephens, foundation chef, describes how the president's meal is prepared and gives information on how you can cook your bird as well as the stuffing and salad.)

By C. M. STEPHENS, Chef, Georgia Warm Springs Foundation

(Written for The Associated Press—WASH. BUREAU)—Just like most average American citizens, President Roosevelt will sit down to a turkey dinner with turkey, plum pudding and pumpkin pie when he eats his Thanksgiving day dinner here.

Following his usual custom, the President will be at the foundation for his Thanksgiving feast. And, to suit his usual appetite, these three dishes—turkey, plum pudding and pumpkin pie—again will be the main part of the meal.

I have prepared the following menu:

- Menu for F. D. R.
- Turkey
 - Tossed Sliced Georgia Pecans
 - Crisp Hearts of Celery
 - Assorted Olives
 - Fruit Cocktail
 - Roast Sliced Turkey Sage Stuffing
 - Cranberry Sauce
 - Gravy
 - Hot Rolls
 - Emmental Paraflo Potato Balls
 - Creamed Corn in Puffy Shell
 - Tulipane Carrots
 - Harvest Salad
 - Plum Pudding
 - Hard Sauce
 - Pumpkin Pie
 - Export Cheese
- The turkey, of course, is the main part of the Thanksgiving dinner. A 10-pound bird is ideal for 6 or 8 persons. When the turkey is to be cooked, rub the inside of the bird with 1 tablespoon of salt and stuff.
- Making the Stuffing
- In making the sage stuffing for 10-pound turkey, use six medium-size onions, chopped. Cut the onion in small cubes. Soak five cups of bread crumbs in cold water and squeeze dry. Salt and pepper to suit taste. Then add three tablespoons of butter to the dry crumbs and when melted and hot, add the chopped onions and liver and fry until tender. Add crumbs, salt and pepper, a little powdered sage and chopped parsley, and add eagle omelette pan and place in a chafin, if desired. Then let it moderate over 175 degrees F., cook constantly stirring until all the meat is done. Turn the bird on its back, basting every 15 or 20 minutes with 1/2 cup hot water and 1/2 cup melted butter. Cook for 20 to 25 minutes to the pound, depending on the age of the bird.

Harvest Salad

Harvest salad, which will be placed before President Roosevelt this Thanksgiving, can be prepared for six persons as follows:

- 1 1/2 cups red apples, 1/2 cup sliced celery, sliced
- 1 1/2 cups dried cranberries, dried
- 1 1/2 cups raisins, chopped
- 1 1/2 cups pineapples, chopped

Combine the apples with the lemon juice. Blend the apples, celery, dates and salt with the mayonnaise. Serve on crisp lettuce.

ALCOHOL AS A MOTOR FUEL

Editor Twin Falls News

Our government officials are encouraging their efforts to encourage imports of farm commodities without regard to the consequences to the farmer, or to the fact that it is akin to the employment problem.

It certainly cannot be a very sound policy to limit production of farm commodities here in order to permit some other country to maintain production and ship their surplus to us.

Obviously the farmer or laborer does not profit by imports. We have some big industries which in order to maintain full production must export a large portion of their products. The steel, harvest, pig, oil companies and others are dependent on foreign markets for some of their business. In order to export to foreign markets we must in turn permit imports from their countries. So the American farmer is made the goat, and must cut production so that the big monopolies may continue to coin their billions and have a safe investment in government bonds.

The farmer is led to believe that crop reduction has raised the price of farm commodities when, in fact, the government is spending billions to artificially maintain prices. The total income from agriculture before the depression was around 12 billion dollars annually. It dropped to 4 and one half billion and then advanced to about 6 or 7 billion.

The government is today, spending 9 billion dollars annually, or more than the total income of agriculture.

The farmer and laborer is led to believe the money he is receiving is from the state or government but in fact it is a loan secured for him, which must be repaid to the holders of government bonds. No depression was ever cured by borrowing to aid property. The depression has been relieved by some new industry or enterprise which put the idle back to work on some useful project. We have such an industry waiting which if developed, would go a long way toward relieving the uncertainty of the present situation. This is the much talked question of using farm products for industrial purposes, and especially converting farm products into alcohol for motor fuel. This project has received the approval and recommendation of the Straight hung curtains of dotted white are trimmed with one of the important colors in the decorating scheme. Ivy plants in the window add to the room's cheerfulness. Small accessories—white hobnall glass vases and old bottles, with handmade pin cushion—continue the Victorian feeling.

Orange and other farm organizations the country over. The chemists are working night and day on it and say it is practical. But for some reason, we cannot receive any aid or encouragement, whatever from the state or government on this opportunity. I suppose it must be first used as a political football and be kicked around until such time as some monopoly can step in and reap all the profits to the detriment of the farmer. The chemists must depend on the press to encourage this project and do a real service to our country.

Today it would be a savior to many farmers and orchardists who have acres of apples and potatoes caught by the freeze that cannot be used for human consumption and are a total loss. Were we prepared to convert these products into alcohol, it would mean the difference between a fair profit and a total loss, and would add considerable revenue to our state.

Germany today is converting her surplus potatoes into motor fuel. Other countries are using some of their surpluses for the same purpose and shipping the rest to us. They are maintaining their production, keeping prepared for an emergency, and becoming self-sufficient.

In direct contrast we are cutting production, becoming dependent on them for products that could and should be produced here at home. As the same time inviting certain waste and distress or a national calamity should the imports of farm commodities be stopped which would be the case should a general war develop across the water. In addition to this we are placing a production tax on commodities, increasing the price to the consumer, and expending billions to maintain prices for the actual benefit of big monopolies.

also add to insure a market for other countries in order that they may produce a little more than they need for immediate use.

We should be doing the same thing, instead we are permitting the oil companies to influence our government by means of misleading propaganda as regards the efficiency and cost of alcohol as a motor fuel.

During all the depression the oil companies have maintained their prices, and could they create a shortage of farm commodities they would immediately raise the price of their commodities to the consumer. They are aware of the fact that a large surplus might be used to control or effect their business.

Now is the time to demand some regulation of the spending of a part of the government expenditures to stimulate this new industry.

Pages could be written on the possibilities of this new industry but the important part is that the state would be employed and prices could be stabilized.

The farmers today are divided on the question of crop reduction and a total loss of income. We cannot hope to secure a great deal of relief from the present situation unless the question of industrial uses of farm products would meet the approval of practically all interested farmers, commercial and otherwise.

Yours truly,
J. R. Duk

The "54" cent stamp of Dimitir, inscribed "These will not die," and dated "1868-1935," shows a brown drawing of Dimitir, inscribed "Live this life," 4-leva carmine. Dimitir at the left and Stephan Kingidji, another early patriot, at the right; 7-leva blue, four soldiers around a flag, inscribed "Freedom or death"; 10-leva orange, scene of Dimitir's birthplace. Chapter 4
LUKE'S PLAN

John Newman laughed. For a young man who is so self-possessed, he seemed surprisingly embarrassed.

"Anyway," said he, "the sailor said that the doctor and his wife made an examination and gave the patient something. Then he regained consciousness, and demanded an attorney at once. The doctor was going to die and that he had to protect his daughter before then."

Anne found tears clinging her eyes. Luke hadn't been trying to protect the camera but her. His last thought, his last hope, almost were spent for her sake.

The sailor said he figured he ought to get out of the boat and to wade the creek to make it and decided to wait and see if he couldn't sneak out the door later.

"The attorney who had been studying man and he were closed alone for awhile.

"The patient whom the sailor identified as Luke Farnsworth—the attorney that he felt his daughter was about to marry a man who wanted her for her money only. Mr. Farnsworth said he had been looking for proof that the man was using his position with the attorney to make money for himself; that he had found him deceitful, even cruel.

"Luke was afraid the man would insist upon marrying the girl immediately upon his death, supposedly to protect her, and that he would want the custody of the camera to take away from her, in time, and aside from the cruel treatment of which he was capable, would leave her penniless.

"He felt that if he pretended to leave her with only an allowance which would enable her to live comfortably in the home he was leaving his brother, that she would, in time, one Bob Crocker, would not go through with the marriage, and that before final disposition of the estate was made, she would have found him out, and would have turned to someone more fitted to the fine reputation she enjoyed.

"Farnsworth also asked the attorney to watch his daughter, and should she attempt to marry Crocker, to see she did not do so without ascertaining whether or not a woman living with Crocker's parents, Mrs. Roschberg, was Crocker's first wife, and if the child living there was not Crocker's son."

"That's why he would never take me to his people," Anne blurted out. "I kept insisting that we at least drive out to see them, and Bob said we found some excuse."

"Bob always would find some excuse, Anne," said Kellogg. "But the more you hear about his activities, for the last few months, the more you think of his brains. I've never seen such a fool idea."

Anne smiled a little shamefacedly. "You're right as usual—but the plan almost worked so far as I was concerned."

"How could you?" demanded John Newman loyally, and the Judge smiled in the little private smile that he reserved for his man and Anne. John went on:

"Luke Farnsworth learned that day, here at Astoria, that his first wife had gained a divorce, for cruelty, and that Crocker's parents, recognizing the truth of her charges, had taken her in."

"I told him," Tecla put in meekly, "I could not have my brother's baby made unhappy by such a man."

"Farnsworth said that he might be wrong. He had no definite proof of the charges, but that if Crocker were the man—his daughter thought he was—she would have, and by the time the div'ce were up, he would have proved himself worthy."

"Then here comes the important part. It was this time, Crocker married any other woman, Mrs. Anne Farnsworth was convinced of his duplicity, she would come into immediate control of all the Farnsworth properties, with Anne Kellogg acting as general adviser and administrator, until such time as Kellogg should be able to carry on alone."

"Certain bequests were itemized and these were to be made at that time."

"He paused a moment, then went on. "When I reached port, after my Alaska trip, I found Luke in a pretty bad shape. The men were badly riled up over Crocker's alleged use of a booby trap."

"I asked the leader how Crocker got by with those things; why Lee, as general manager, didn't see that Luke's instructions were being given preference weren't carried out."

"He told me that Lee had in reality advised that Crocker, his son-in-law, was carrying on his work."

"Naturally, having heard the sailor's story, I was interested and

COST OF HOLIDAY DINNER ADVANCES

Government Economists, Unofficially Compare Prices

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Purely unofficial figures put together by governmental economists today indicated that this year's turkey carving with the stuffing that follows will cost a little more this year than last—but they weren't prepared to put it in calories and cents.

Department of agriculture economists were asked to prepare an estimate of the cost of an average dinner, as compared with that year and 1929. There was much head scratching at the lot of small talk, but no estimate.

Menu for Six

Through the combined efforts of six persons, including a June economist, a tentative menu for a Thanksgiving dinner for six was drawn. This included a trim corn, turkey, giblet gravy, mashed potatoes, string beans, cranberry sauce, rice, relatin salad, pumpkin pie, coffee, milk, eury and olives.

Specific prices were more difficult, however, varying according to locality and quality.

Looking over prices in Washington, one economist said, the "general" food budget is up at least five per cent in the retail stores, compared with a year ago.

Potatoes are 2 1/2 cents a pound compared to 1 1/2 cents a year ago, but sweet potatoes are at 2 to 3 cents compared to 4 to 5 cents a year ago.

The price of cabbage was changed only slightly, although wholesale prices are up about one-fourth. However, cauliflower was quoted at 10 to 15 cents a head, compared with 20 cents a year ago.

Cranberries Up

Tomatoes are cheaper—10 cents a pound compared to 15 cents a year ago. Beefsteak is a bunch and down 3 cents, celery at 10 cents a bunch, about the same as last year.

Cranberries are up—20 cents a pound now and 18 cents a year ago. Eastern apples are down a cent, a pound. Little change was seen in sweet cider prices.

Port roads, however, which were the last item that rose, were quoted at about 25 cents a pound at the retail.

Picking the right trimmings, another economist said, even with the higher turkey price, the Thanksgiving dinner cost should be about the same as in 1934.

Bankers Elect Officers For Current Year

Ethiopians Show Hostility to All White People, Missionary Writes

The hazards and discomforts of a white person's encounter in Ethiopia, are graphically depicted in a letter to Mrs. Joseph Blake from Dr. Harriek Kemp, who has been for the past two years in Ethiopia. Dr. Kemp was the roommate and close friend of Dr. Beryl Helen Blake during their year as interns in the Women's and Children's Hospital of San Francisco. She has twice visited here, having spent a six weeks' vacation with Dr. Blake three years ago at the Day cabin on Warm Springs creek.

Dr. Kemp, one of six missionaries headquartered in Lalibella, Ethiopia, four weeks' travel on muleback from the nearest of the "mission family" has this to say of her reception in that isolated part of the country:

"So far our welcome has not been especially warm. For the mass of the people, we are the first white face ever seen. For them, white faces mean Italians, who took Ethiopia some years ago. Just automatically they people hate us. These little savants here in the native church object to any invasions upon their own. Public announcements have gone out threatening those who have anything to do with us, and the property, given us by the governor, for building hospitals and homes, has been practically picketed. Therefore, we are still living in the little mud huts and there seems little prospect of building our homes very soon."

Empress-Admiral She speaks favorably of the emperor of Ethiopia, declaring him to be a fine person. "He does seem to long to have his people educated and improved morally. He is called 'The King of Kings.' The Lion of the Tribe of Judah." Many who really know him say he surely has a heart knowledge of the true "King of Kings" as his own savior.

Recently Dr. Kemp received an emergency call to a governor of an adjoining province, where she found "loads of medical work to be done; especially interesting surgery, just awaiting the gaining of the confidence of the people. Slowly we hope to be able to persuade them that we have not come to annex some of their country."

Corporation Balks At Utilities Law

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—The Alaska holding companies against the utilities act of 1935 was intensified today as Commonwealth and Southern corporations dignified its legislation not to register with the S. E. C. under the terms of the law.

The corporation filed a bill of complaint in federal court at Wilmington, Delaware, contesting the constitutionality of the act and seeking to restrain the S. E. C. and other governmental agencies and officers from enforcing its provisions.

Wendell L. White, president of Commonwealth and Southern, in a letter to stockholders, said the management had acted because they had decided that "to otherwise would be to submit voluntarily the property of the stockholders, for whom we are trustees, to an uncontrollable process of control and destruction."

WOMAN'S STRANGE MALADY CHARGED TO CAT'S BITE

WALLACE, Idaho, Nov. 23 (AP)—A story cat's bite sent Mrs. Dana Sellers to the hospital for several days with a rare disease. She was released today.

Physicians diagnosed her case as tularemia, a malady seldom carried by domestic animals. The symptoms were a fever and swollen glands.

DRIVER PLEADS GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

WALLACE, Idaho, Nov. 23 (AP)—Don Shafter, 24, of Burke, Idaho, changed his plea on a manslaughter charge from innocent to guilty in district court today. His car struck and killed Mrs. Serena Penedy, 21, on the Wallace-Burke highway October 11.

U. S. Prepares To Bill Debtor Nations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Despite indications that it will receive only one cent on each $2 dollar, the United States is preparing to go through the motions of telling 12 nations that their semi-annual war debt payments are about due.

The total due on December 18 is $62,614,177.54. Of that sum, all that the United States is likely to receive is $220,000 from Finland. Altogether, the debt on which these installments is due totals around $27,000,000.

Bobby Grayson Leads Stanford To Victory Over Bears Notre Dame Ends Greatest Season Since Days Of Knute Rockne

13-0 Triumph. Puts Palo Alto Team In Line For Rose Bowl

Great Fullback Engineers Both Touchdown Drives In First Period Of Game Witnessed By 90,000 Fans

BY RUSSELL NEWLAND (Associated Press Sports Writer) STANFORD STADIUM, PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 23 - Stanford's mighty football men today shattered the championship dreams of the greatest University of California team in years and probably clinched the Rose Bowl bid by licking the Golden Bears 13 to 0.

The season's largest crowd, 90,000 frenzied fans, saw a Stanford team reach its greatest heights behind the sterling play of fullback Bobby Grayson, making his final stand in the bottom of this huge bowl.

Grayson engineered both touchdown drives in the first period, one was an 80 yard march that tipped a three yard California line other teams had failed to break, the other a 29 yard thrust. The great Indian fullback started the first 40-yard march with a 25 yard run and finished it with a one yard thrust over the goal line. He carried the ball five times during this goalward smash for a total of 33 yards. Three two point kicks added 10 to the tally.

Montecki, left end, added the extra point with a placement kick. Shortly after Stanford snatched a "break" to run a second touchdown. Quarterback John Meek of California fumbled the ball and Wisconsin, giant center, recovered the Stanford ball.

Once more Grayson was the guiding genius of the swift attack that ended Stanford to roll up the most one-sided score over California since 1930. Eight yards to go. Hamilton, right half, led a yard. Grayson passed to Left Half Coffin, who intended to chuck back Paulman. The gain was 17 yards. Two times Grayson bumped into the mangled California line for four and then for one yard. It was eight yards to go for touchdown. Coffin took the oval on a reverse and before the Bears could catch sight of the piquin, he was over the line. This time Montecki's kick for conversion was wide.

The victory that is expected to send Stanford back to the Rose Bowl to represent the west at Pasadena New Year's day for the third straight time, also threw the coast conference race into a three-way deadlock. Stanford, California and the University of California at Los Angeles all have been defeated once. U.C.L.A. lost Stanford 7 to 0 and California won from the Bruins, 14 to 2.

The conference will vote on the Rose Bowl choice next Monday but the final decision will be made by the "big game" there was little doubt it would be named Stanford for the second period and tie in the fourth.

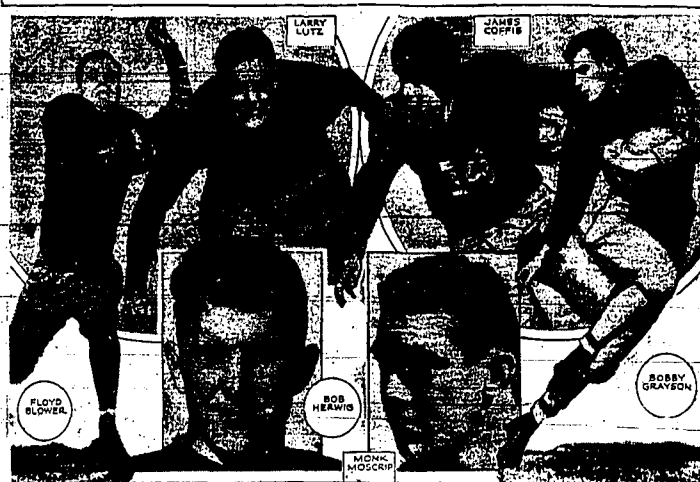

On Seven-Yard Line An intercepted pass in the second quarter gave the Bears the ball on Stanford's 46 yard line but they lost on downs after reaching the 20-yard marker. In the final period—the Bears drove 65 yards to Stanford's 15. They were moved to the nine-yard line by fullback Ken Cotton. Lutz and Coffin recovered for the opposition.

Both Lutz and Grayson hurt their knees in the closing period and the game to the accompaniment of thundering crashes. Floyd Blower, left half, started for California. His exploits were overshadowed by those of the finest back the far west has seen in many a year—Grayson.

Lineup and summary: California: Lutz, Blower, Grayson, Coffin, Meek, Hamilton, Howard, Chandler, Foster, Pender, Chapman, Howard, Chandler, Foster, Pender, Chapman, Howard. Stanford: Lutz, Blower, Grayson, Coffin, Meek, Hamilton, Howard, Chandler, Foster, Pender, Chapman, Howard.

STANFORD INJUNS HEAD FOR ROSE BOWL

THE PACIFIC coast's "Big Game" of the year, staged Saturday afternoon in the huge stadium at Palo Alto before some 90,000 football fans, resulted in a 13-0 victory for the Stanford Indians over their ancient enemy, the University of California. The decisive triumph was Stanford's probable choice for the far west's representative in the Rose Bowl classic. Here are six standouts of the two squads. On the left are California's Larry Lutz, veteran tackle; Floyd Blower, ace passer and ball-carrier; and big Bob Hewitt, center. Opposing them were the big heroes of the day—Bobby Grayson, Stanford All-America back; Lefty James Coffin, sophomore halfback; and Jim "Stonk" Stover, 195 and whose goal-kicking has won three games for Stanford this season.—AP Photos.

Fighting Irish Win Over Trojans With Aerial Attack, 20-13

Refusing To Accept Defeat, South Bend Eleven Rushes Back To Overtake Southern Californians

BY PAUL MICKELSON (Associated Press Sports Writer) SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 23 (AP)—They were "fighting Irish" to the last exciting split second.

Fifty thousand spectators, half frozen by the blasts of a wintry November afternoon but glowing in admiration for one of the grandest spectacles of fighting men ever to wear the gold and blue, watched Notre Dame and its greatest season since the Rockne era today with a typical comeback that defeated Southern California, 20 to 13.

Beaten 6 to 0 by their far western foes after a wild first half that produced almost everything in football, both good and bad, the team that wouldn't be beaten by Ohio State and Army when the game was the darkest ruckus back with an aerial counter attack that carried them to victory and gave them the best of the game.

Briggs Assumes Tiger Presidency

Mickey Cochrane Continues as Catcher-Manager of Detroit Club

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Nov. 23 (AP)—Walter P. Briggs, Detroit industrialist, today assumed the presidency of the Detroit American League baseball team, succeeding the late Frank J. Taylor.

Briggs this week purchased Nat's half interest to become the club's sole owner.

Briggs' decision to succeed his late partner was revealed in an Associated Press announcement released at his Miami Beach winter estate, where he spent most of this afternoon conferring with officials of the team.

Mickey Cochrane, the team's catcher-manager, will continue at the helm.

He also will be vice president, in complete charge of the playing end and the purchase, trade, sale or release of players.

Kelly Leads Yale Team to Victory

Old Eli Scores 14-7 Triumph Over Harvard in Annual Battle

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 23 (AP)—A pallid Harvard team took its eyes off Larry Kelly for a second today and that loutishness threw in the Crimson-red washcloth of the greatest placement kick in the southwest conference history.

The crowd of 67,000 was treated to a pass and a field goal in the first half and a 14-7 triumph by the Bulldogs.

The crowd of 67,000 was treated to a pass and a field goal in the first half and a 14-7 triumph by the Bulldogs.

Not until Curtin placed-kicked Yale's 14th point did Harvard seem to falter and its final three-yard passures were two series of passes, both attempted inside its 35-yard line, and both ruined by the now confident Yale secondary.

Texas Christian Overcomes Rice

Undefeated Team Displays Amazing Aerial and Ground Attack

FORT-WORTH, Texas, Nov. 23 (AP)—The undefeated 11-0 team of Texas Christian university's football squad today defeated Rice in a championship game and lifted the greatest gridiron team here today when they tore loose with amazing aerial and ground attacks to smother Rice Institute, 27 to 6.

The defeat, the Owls' third in two years, eliminated Rice from the championship running and lifted the Christians into their final conference game next Saturday with an undefeated record.

The Christians will battle the united and undefeated Southern Methodist University of Dallas, who won their tenth victory today by splitting Baylor, 10 to 0.

Impressive Victory Texas Christian not only whipped one of the country's finest football machines today, but turned in such an impressive job that there was never a doubt concerning the eventual outcome from the George Kling, Christian halfback, returned the opening kick of 60 yards into Coach "Dutch" Meyer removed his first stringers and sent in reserves in the fourth period.

Coach Ott Romney's Arizona State in every department of the game except passing and their spectacular gains through the line made an airtight attack unnecessary. They completed one of their two drives however, and thus put them into position for their second tally.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 23 (AP)—Wyoming scored the most startling upset of the Rocky Mountain conference grid season by beating the flag-leading Colorado university team, 6 to 0, here today.

Wyoming had driven into Colorado territory as the third period.

Little Halfback Star of S. M. U.

Bobby Wilson Sprinks and Passes Brilliantly as Mustangs Win

DALLAS, Nov. 23 (AP)—Little Bob Wilson desperately pumped magic from his hands and nimble feet today and Southern Methodist undefeated any ratings sport on with a 10-0 triumph over Baylor's stubborn Bears.

The stunning, 147-pound halfback bottled and averted for nearly three periods, suddenly broke away on a 48 yard punt return on the last play of the third period and the game was Southern Methodist's.

His vicious blocking mated power over Illinois line wooden soldiers as he spiffed and twisted to the eight-yard line where Buchanan, a hefty guard who had "cut across," finally hauled him down.

Or Kicks Field Goal To the rescue once more came Mustang quarterback Bobby Wilson. He kicked a 27-yard field goal in the fourth period to win the game.

POPE SEES THREAT IN FOREIGN WAR TO U. S. PROSPERITY

Idaho Senator, in Twin Falls Address, Counsels Enforcement of International Law Broken by Italians

Rome war threatens American prosperity whether the United States adheres to a policy of strict neutrality or elects to continue trade as usual, United States Senator James P. Pope of Idaho told an audience of approximately 100 persons assembled at the hotel yesterday at a luncheon meeting arranged in his honor by the Democratic Women's club.

"A practical problem of the Italo-Ethiopian war is purely a matter of law enforcement," Senator Pope said. "It is not a matter of the ethics—concepts of international law are enforced at all they will have to be enforced just as law and order is maintained in our states and communities—by the application of the principle of collective security."

Senator Pope was introduced by Captain J. W. Porter of Twin Falls Democratic state committeeman. Mrs. W. F. Alvord, president of the club, presided. Arrangements for the luncheon were in charge of Mrs. T. Dan Connor of Tiller.

Ways to Depression
Developing the thought that foreign war threatens American economic life, Senator Pope said. "There are two ways in which another depression might be brought on. The first is by the continuation of the present depression resulting from another great war and the second is by the adoption by the United States of a program of strict neutrality."

"Practically every great nation in the world faces one or more hazards of war likely to culminate in actual conflict if the agencies for peace are unassisted in stopping the present Italo-Ethiopian war. It would be all too easy for war to again spread throughout the civilized world."

"It may be possible for us to isolate ourselves sufficiently to stay out of the conflict but no one has ever discovered a way to avoid the consequences of a world war continuation. If the nations of the world expend their resources in the prosecution of war it is obvious that they will not thereafter have funds with which to purchase our exportable surplus. If such surplus are permitted to pile up they will reduce in price of raw materials, mainly farm products, and we would again be in a depression."

Two Courses Open
"When a major war comes there are only two courses the government can pursue, to stop it and become strictly neutral or to continue to trade as usual. Historical experience from the time of Washington indicates that when an endeavor to trade with nations in war we always become involved. The endeavor to trade as usual and reap the profits of war has got us into every major European war in which the maritime power was involved since the formation of the United States."

"It is the fervent hope of every American that we stay out of war, however, and we probably will not want to take a chance on involvement by trading with belligerents. If the war spreads it will mean a loss of easy embargo wheat, cotton, meat, steel textiles and practically every commodity produced in this country. The price of natural wheat, cotton, and other commodities will decline sharply and serious domestic economic consequences will follow."

Fears in Ascendancy
"There are some who do not think the present situation serious, but Great Britain thinks her empire is threatened. We have already seen that Japan is moving further in her campaign of Asiatic aggression with the encouragement and moral justification of war in Europe. France, in alliance with Italy, China, many or Italy or both. Russia fears war with Germany or Japan or both. The small nations of the world believe that if successful they will be gobbled up next. These fears are not without basis in reason, and are responsible for the unprecedented effort of world powers to quell Italy."

Law Enforcement Question
"As a practical problem of the Italo-Ethiopian war is purely a matter

Willie Willis

By ROBERT QUILLEN

"I never have no luck. I was going to show Mary how I can be better tomorrow, and my cold is getting better already."

of law enforcement. The nations of the world in the Kellogg Peace Pact of national policy and classified it as an international crime. Italy has broken that law and four treaties by which she promised not to resort to aggressive warfare, and the power of the rest of the world to enforce law is being tested. It seems to me that if these new concepts of international law are enforced at all they will have to be enforced just as law and order is maintained in our states and communities—by the application of the principle of collective security. Some criticism has been directed with the League because it did not send an army to stop Mussolini. It was done and we would be hearing about a League for War and some of the people who now are urging aggressive action by the League would be the first to criticize.

Business Improvement
Discussing what he termed a campaign of partisan criticism against the present administration, Senator Pope stated, "The one thing you should continue to look to is the general and wide spread improvement in business conditions throughout the country. Everywhere I have gone merchants, farmers, and laborers have been united in the statement that conditions are really improved. Throughout Idaho new businesses are opening and new houses are being constructed. Twin Falls seems to have twice the volume of business that it had when I was here in 1933."

Conflicting Demands
"One of the most difficult problems with which we are confronted in congress is the matter of government expenditures. Throughout Idaho there has been a demand for increased appropriations for reclamation. In the last three years over $300,000,000 have been allocated for reclamation improvements. This sum is greater than all previous federal expenditures on reclamation in the west. In the same breath some people demand more money for development and critics of the government for spending. There is a group of Senators who are absolutely opposed to any appropriation for development of any sort, but I believe the majority of the people favor expenditures to develop our own country."

From here Senator Pope goes to Boise for a stay of about 10 days and will thereafter return to Washington.
