

Return of Prosperity Hailed by Spokesmen For Federal Agencies

WPA Administrator, J. L. Hood, Tells Idaho Conference There Is No 'Corner to Turn'; Unemployment Down

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Dec. 4.—With a unanimous report that "prosperity is back in Idaho," approximately 90 representatives of federal agencies operating in the state concluded their first semi-annual meeting here tonight.

The session was called by Wm. T. Lockwood of the emergency council, who presided.

The purpose of the meeting, Lockwood said, was "to acquaint the heads of the various federal agencies with the working of the federal program in Idaho."

Representatives gave brief reports of the functions of the respective agencies.

J. L. Hood, state director of the Works Progress administration, said in the closing address: "Don't feel that the unemployment problem is a 'corner to turn' but that it is far behind us."

Commenting on the number of the WPA to draft the desired number of men for work on projects, Hood said that investigation showed that because so many have taken private employment, it is difficult to find enough to work on our projects.

Further indication of better times was given at this morning's session by Senator James P. Pope (D-Idaho) who said he was particularly pleased to see the building boom under way because of the activities of the Home Owners Loan corporation, the Federal Housing administration and various farm credit and similar organizations.

Pushes Government Bonds—Parke Carver, representing the National Association of Bond Dealers, explained the new issue of government bonds and asked that every Federal employee "become a patriot" at one time or another in this country.

Roosevelt Favors Move for Cheaper Money for Farmer

President Represented as Declaring for 3 1/2 Per Cent Peak Interest Rate; for Division of Lands

(By The Associated Press) WARMSPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 4.—President Roosevelt was represented today as favoring further agricultural aid in the form of lower interest rates on mortgages and the purchase of lands by tenant farmers.

A group of forty Meriwether county farmers who called at the "Little White House" on Pine mountain said the president expressed his interest in the idea of farm projects which lasted almost an hour.

The farmer, described as "substantial land owners," were invited to the presidential cottage at the instance of the Rev. G. H. Harry, mayor of Warm Springs.

Three and One-Half Per Cent. Mr. Roosevelt frequently has expressed the opinion that interest rates of service companies are too high and he was heard today by Hugh Hender Terrell of Greenville, one of the delegation, to have favored a maximum rate of three and one-half per cent.

Federal land banks had reduced their rates to two per cent and further relief is sought through the Prater-Lenke mortgage act which is under fire again in the courts.

Skidless Farm Views. "Mr. Roosevelt told us," he continued, "that he hopes to see passed legislation which will provide for loans to tenant farmers by law banks from the big banks."

Such a stand would be in direct reversal of the platform ratified last year, in which cooperative method was the friendly theme.

Italian Army Reported Retreating

Italians Encountering Negus' Troops In Force on Northern Front; Expect Major Battle

War Developments in Brief

(By The Associated Press) MAKALE — Strong Ethiopian forces fight Italians at Makale front; major battle believed near.

PARIS — Joint Anglo-French bid for Duce's peace terms hinted.

ADDIS ABABA — Selassie says "we'll never give up any part of Ethiopia" may leave Desaye soon.

ROME — King, Queen, give wedding rings to "cause," Italy's financial condition hidden.

LONDON — British see little chance for peace progress now.

WASHINGTON — Hull reiterates determination to "discourage" abnormal war material exports.

WITH THE ITALIAN TROOPS AT MAKALE, Ethiopia, Dec. 4.—Two strong Ethiopian columns, marching toward the Italian front south of Makale and along the Takkate river, engaged Italian outposts in combat today.

Italian officers predicted the long-awaited major battle would be fought soon.

In one clash southwest of Makale, at Debrt, four Italian White soldiers were killed, and there was another encounter on the western end of the front near the Takkate river.

The Ethiopian northern army, reinforced by regular troops from Addis Ababa equipped in European style, appeared determined to give battle in an attempt to turn the Italian flank.

An Italian military communiqué said the announcement of the approach of enemy masses toward the Takkate line and the consequent withdrawal of our advanced posts on the Makale front and at the forks of the Takkate river constitute a prelude to battles varying in scale.

The Italian army will attempt an outflanking movement, probably in order to lessen the pressure which the movements of our troops have exerted on the Italian front.

Asserting the Ethiopians are now strongly armed, the communiqué said European had equipped a multiple factory at Addis Ababa to supply munitions.

BUSINESS BREAKS WITH NEW DEAL

Unequivocal Opposition to Administration Policies Forecast

(Copyright, 1935, Associated Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Formal opposition to the New Deal expanded tonight over the issue of competitive enterprise and the economic policies of the federal government.

Formal action of this effect was taken at the 1935 Congress of the American Industry and the 40th annual meeting of the National Manufacturers Association, which opened here today.

Authoritative quarters forecast the adoption of a "platform of business" affirming support of the American system of capitalist expansion, economic progress, freedom of competitive enterprise and unequivocal opposition to procedure and methods evident in New Deal legislation.

Such a stand would be in direct reversal of the platform ratified last year, in which cooperative method was the friendly theme.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Hollis Shaw, who dances under the name of Lisa Parsons, testified a supreme court hearing today by testifying she was guilty of misconduct with her artist-husband's cousin, Elsworth Ford.

Counsel for Ford immediately charged that Mrs. Shaw's admission was part of a conspiracy to collect money from him in damage suit.

Jury, after pondering for 40 minutes over the strange case, declined, however, to accept the woman's version. As a result of their verdict, Shaw was fined $1000.

A NEW DEAL

In future, W.P.A. (Works Progress Administration) must be depended upon to take care of all employable but otherwise unemployed while the State of Idaho becomes responsible for the care of those too old to work or for other reasons unable to work.

The chief source of the money which the State will use comes from the sales tax. Idaho money, therefore, will be used for the relief of destitution instead of Federal money, which is as it should be and always should have been.

Establishment of a Federal grab bag for the various States, the administration of any part of the relief program from Washington or through Federal employes established within the States has never been found. An even greater degree of localization of the business of relief would probably result in a very real economy.

Beneficiaries under the new arrangements should be equally as well off as formerly, provided, that is, that W.P.A. is able to carry its share of the load and actually produce the work for those who need it.

Anyway, the former Federal relief system is apparently a thing of the past, which is a very good thing indeed.

HOLIDAY DECORATION

Holiday decoration of City streets this year promises to lend an air of Christmas cheer to Twin Falls well in advance of anything heretofore attempted.

Street decorations for the Christmas season grow increasingly popular and in many places have become a feature of the entire holiday season. Appearances count for much in these days; and the impression of Twin Falls created in the minds of visitors as well as our own people is just as important as in the case of an individual. There can never be serious objection to this sort of community holiday making.

JOB'S AND JOB INSURANCE

The New York job insurance law, says a member of the state's Department of Labor, has one feature which, so far, is unique in the United States.

It unites the state's public employment service with the unemployment insurance administration.

On the one hand, there is the comptroller, who is in charge of collection of contributions from employers and payment of benefits to workers. On the other, there is the placement unit, with a network of offices covering the entire state, registering all applicants for benefits and endeavoring to find jobs for them. In registering as applicant for unemployment benefits, the worker at the same time expresses himself to any suitable job which the placement unit may have open.

In most cases, the worker would rather have another job than the unemployment benefits. The New York system ought, to further stabilization of employment and thus reduce the total amount of insurance payments. That, in turn, will make the cost of the insurance lower for employer and for consuming public alike.

EYE-OPENING TRAVEL

The reports of tourist gains in different parts of the country begin to grow monotonous. Some sections have their big tourist trap in one season; some in others, but no section seems to be neglected any more. And hardly any foreign country is neglected.

It is true that travel to Europe declines a bit when war threatens. The present situation in Ethiopia has caused cancellation of many winter cruises in that part of the world. But it only means more travel elsewhere.

All this getting about ought to be a good thing for everybody, whether it makes the traveler more pleased with his home and homeland or whether it opens his eyes to the problems and virtues of other lands and people. It ought to work slowly but certainly against the intense nationalism which has spread so widely and dangerously since 1918.

THE FREEDOM OF THE SEAS

Senator James P. Pope of Idaho, has done a lot of talking just before, during and since his recent European trip in the interest of the League of Nations, the World Court and whatever peace association that has been back of his campaign. Much of the senator's talk has been embarrassing to the government—but he, after all, is not mistaken in his idea that the United States would be very likely to be drawn into any general war which might break out in Europe, now or in the near future. "Isolation," the senator says, "might be a good theoretical policy, but... we are one of the least isolated countries of the world. We are involved commercially, diplomatically and financially with every nation on earth." All of this is true, and it is true that we are not alone in the Seven Seas. Another World War or even a war between two or more major European powers, would be pretty sure to draw us in for the same reason, though we fought the war of 1918 and that we entered the so-called World War—and that reason is the freedom of the seas. Either fight or abandon that cardinal American doctrine is a decision which we are not in a fit state of mind to make. The Monroe doctrine, Mr. Pope's mistake is in thinking that a supine league and a political world court could save for us the freedom of the seas. The seas will be free to American ships just so long as we are ready and willing to defend that freedom against all comers.

WHY WE IMPORT BUTTER

We must import coffee and bananas. But butter? Something is amiss when in the first nine months of this year we were compelled to import $21,944,000 worth of butter. In the same period last year we imported $24,000 worth of butter. Could it be that the cattle on our thousands hills were not producing. That is not the case. It is the policy of the Agricultural Administration. It has reduced the number of our cattle and resulted in a shortage of butter. We must bring that commodity from abroad.

In the same period, the imported meat products valued at $141,000,000. In the same period last year we imported $141,000,000 worth of meat products and $121,232,000 last year.

No sensible man, not even a sensible farmer who is the alleged beneficiary of this system, can defend it. Farmers are being paid for cutting down the yield of their fields. They are being paid a harvest by supplying us with what we need to make up the deficiency which we have created in this artificial way. Prices of all agricultural products have risen until the high cost of food is a serious problem to hundreds of thousands of our people.

MR. HOOVER'S PROGRAM

By his speech before the Ohio Society in New York, Mr. Hoover has once again confirmed the remarks of more than one politician who have said that he may not be a candidate, but he certainly acts like one.

In fact he acted very much like the kind of a candidate both his friends and his critics have told him he would have to be in order to make a serious bid for nomination for the presidency in 1936. His phrases ring, ring, often pungent and satirical—a phraseology popularized by challenge to the borders of hypocrisy. He crystallized his opposition into a program of specific administrative policies which he set up against those of the Roosevelt regime. And in this he showed himself possessed of the political touch which, as "the great engineer" he had been called for lacking.

It is one of the finest of political arts to frame a program that has all the sound of steel and hard definitions, and which yet contains unobtrusive qualifications that give it much or little meaning according to the ear of the hearer. Or, entirely apart from artifice, it is certainly difficult to formulate a political program with the definiteness which Mr. Hoover says, "The wastes of taxpayers' money on unnecessary public works should stop," many could reply, "Of course unnecessary public works should stop, but just what works are necessary and which unnecessary, especially when millions still are unemployed?"

When he demands that the government return relief responsibility to local agencies, he asks only what the administrators are endeavoring mightily to do. When he speaks of rooting out the hoards of political bureaucracy, it strikes a tender subject, but one in which his own party is not entirely blameless. As for moving toward a balanced budget by means of economies, all indications are that that is President Hoover's course. As for re-establishing a gold standard, Secretary Morgenthau is endeavoring to do so, at least of an international stabilization of currencies, and that is probably as much as is now feasible.

Mr. Hoover's hearers and readers, however, will not mistake the general purport of his program. It is clear that he would follow a harder line of financial orthodoxy than all and down the line, from debatable reductions in relief to straightening out the whole thing by purchases. Yet it is significant that the effectiveness of many of his criticisms, as campaign issues depends not so much upon the administration proposals to do but upon whether it succeeds in the intricacies of all-day-promoted tactics.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Restaurants—Newspapers—Theaters—A few extra seats have reached the auction point. Scores are dancing by their breads and any number were dropped into the basket of sympathy. The craze to open cafes was happily by appeal. A cafe looked like a safe investment.

Many with idle bank rolls and eye peered for investment, believed they needed a change. They needed a crack chef, a good location and a "celebrity" as a front man. It was a case of "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em." The proprietors of the new cafes called them "old-fashioned cafes" and then back to old-fashioned cafes.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

(NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS) (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

WASHINGTON: By Ray Tucker

HEARTENED, New Deal leaders are privately counting on Chief Justice Brandeis to uphold the constitutionality of the New Deal's winter session of the Supreme Court. They say they could "poke holes in the New Deal's winter session's ballot may prove decisive if they say 'no' about Mr. Brandeis. The prophets don't blot. His withdrawal from the fact that the judicial headman approved several New Deal experiments, including the gold act and the rail program. They argue that he is above all a statesman and that the court's most serious problem is to "disappear" the gold act and the rail program.

That will bridge the economic chasm between yesterday and tomorrow. In blunt words, the New Deal's inclusion of judicial consistency with fitting rural agricultural, industrial and social ventures into the American life.

Mr. Hughes' behavior on the bench heartens these prophets. While some conservative critics have called the government spokesmen sharply and directly, Mr. Hughes has never in the federal's case more virily. Mr. Hughes' finest hour before his Julian brow, has contained himself with seemingly impartial impartiality. He was to be seen in the need and benefits of all their novel statutes.

GIVE-AWAY. Survivors of the Huey Long machine have been filled on all fronts in their frantic efforts to make peace with the administration and the National Democratic Committee. Lined up against them are the National Secretary Morgenthau, Harold Lewis, a formidable crew.

Mr. Morgenthau refuses to listen to proposals for changed before his income tax indictments against Long lieutenant. He won't call of his income tax indictments against Long lieutenant. He won't call of his income tax indictments against Long lieutenant.

NOTES. State authorities in Texas are cooperating to discourage oil exports to Italy. Stoppage of oil exports to Italy is being considered as a means of increasing tax payments done in present sending out farm equipment and other goods to Italy. The oil industry has drawn on a heavy slash in allowed and costly public works is impending. Interest on public debt now being paid is estimated to be $100 million of government in Wilson's time. But revenues are much greater also.

By James McNeill IGNORED. The Federal Reserve Advisory Council—composed of bankers—lived up to its title in its recent meeting by recommending that the government should be selling relief government securities in order to cut down member bank deposits. The council also recommended the possibility of excessive credit expansion.

This about as much chance that the Reserve Board or the Reserve Bank will heed that advice as there is that Halle Teras will be elected president of the United States.

There is too much Treasury financing still to be done to take a step toward peace with the government bond market. Conservatives also remark caustically that this would be too good to be true. The government has been ignored so often in the past that it is almost a wonder that it does not.

CONTRARY. Democratic hierarchy in Michigan spoke out at Washington that Jim Couzens may be available for the Democratic nomination in Michigan. The Michigan would solve several quandaries confronting the Federalists. It might satisfy many Michigan Republicans.

Henry Ford's former partner has supported Ford on most major Republican issues. He is unopposed by the president against any Republican rival now in the headlines. Mr. Ford's former partner has supported Ford on most major Republican issues.

RAILS. The Transportation Association of America—formed primarily to keep the railroads out of the hands of the government—is beginning to get effectively organized. It has influential backers in the rail industry and in the railroad men. The Association's program envisages a better break for shippers and the public as well as for the railroads.

Sponsors hope to have this unit functioning smoothly and getting results before the election goes to "bit" with his public ownership bill.

Guiding Your Child

ALICE CLARISA RICHMOND

MUTUAL DISRESPECT

Mrs. Jones was in the habit of criticizing her husband and frequently before the children. Sometimes she even disparaged him in the presence of the children. She often remarked, "Your father is not a good provider. He lacks push. It is only we the breadwinners we'd get nowhere." Or Mr. Jones came in late. "Yes, of course you wouldn't get away in time for the train. It is only we the breadwinners we'd get nowhere. Why haven't you more gumption?"

In some families the shoe is on the other foot and it is the father who criticizes the mother. Her housekeeping is inadequate, the food isn't good, the children are disobedient in her social duties, or to train the children as they should be trained.

The atmosphere of a home where either parent is critical of the other is poisonous to the children. They are apt themselves to be critical, and eventually to lose respect for their home and parents. Children who are thus brought up become worried over the lack of unity in the home, feel insecure in every contact, and are apt to grow increasingly unstable.

Children want to love and admire their parents and to look upon them as a sure refuge. It is the duty and should be the pride and pleasure of the father and mother to supply this need. Nothing ever as gained by destructive criticisms, and much may be lost. Surely if the home is to be a happy and harmonious one to build up the self-respect of the children by emphasizing the good the other, by emphasizing the good the other, by emphasizing the good the other.

FARLEY CALLS FOR NEW DEAL ACTION

Party Chief Sets Campaign Opening; Foresees No Troubles

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Making the first formal Democratic move in the already loudly rumbling 1938 campaign, Chairman James A. Farley today called the Democratic national committee to meet here the second week in January. The meeting will officially set the stage for the intended renomination of President Roosevelt, generally considered a foregone conclusion. The Republican national committee already has arranged to meet here three weeks earlier.

Foresees Sweeping Victory

The party chief, Democratic chairman who also is postmaster-general today predicted renomination of President Roosevelt and Vice-President Garner, and forecast that Mr. Roosevelt will carry as many states as in 1932.

Farley said he was "thoroughly in accord with the president's views" on Senator Norris (R-Ohio). Norris has attacked Farley because of his dual role as cabinet officer and party chairman, but Mr. Roosevelt recently urged Norris to keep the veteran liberal in the "office as long as he lives."

Republicans Active

Both the Democratic and Republican national committee meetings here the former January 7 or 8 and the latter December 18 will select next summer's convention sites. Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the O. O. P. committee also has the December 18 assembly as a rallying time for the move to raise a sizeable "war chest."

Meanwhile, J. Kenneth Bradley, director of the Young Republican division of the party's national committee, announced today he had sent letters to more than 400 young party leaders to urge them to obtain their views on holding public discussion of probable issues.

"Just a Nice Time"

Farley smilingly predicted the next Democratic convention would "just be a nice time" without any serious internal squabbling.

He indicated the Democrats would hold their convention some time after the Republicans who are expected to meet early next June.

Farley said no choice had yet been made, but his understanding was that Chicago, Philadelphia and probably Kansas City, and St. Louis would bid for the Democratic convention.

The national committees of both parties usually award the highest amount—generally between $200,000 and $250,000—to help defray expenses.

Some Republican Leaders

have privately expressed a preference for some mid-western city for their national party, although there has been some talk of Atlantic City.

Farley's Views

Answering a running fire of questions from reporters, Farley told them:

1. There is no doubt about the renomination of Vice President Garner.

2. He is certain President Roosevelt will carry Pennsylvania, and he might carry New Hampshire.

3. He believes Mr. Roosevelt could carry Kansas against Governor Landon, that Senator Borah (Idaho) will not be re-nominated by the Republicans and that Herbert Hoover is a candidate but is not "getting anywhere."

CLAUDETTE COLBERT, movie star, and Dr. Joel J. Pressman, Hollywood throat specialist, are shown as they admitted in San Francisco that they planned to be married. Earlier in the day on their arrival from Los Angeles by plane, Dr. Pressman smashed a camera and hid in a car to elude photographers. He came here to deliver a scientific lecture, and the pretty actress accompanied him, she said, "just for the trip."—(AP Photo).

STATE CALLS BIDS ON TWO NEW ROAD JOBS

BOISE, Dec. 4 (AP)—Bids will be opened here December 20 on two highway projects. It was announced today by engineers of the state highway bureau.

One project calls for construction of a 24-foot concrete overhead structure over the Northern Pacific railroad and grading and surfacing the approaches on 0.84 miles of the Moscow-Borah highway, approximately two miles east of Joel in Latah county.

The other is for construction of the roadbed and drainage structures on 7140 miles of the Boise basin highway between Boise and Coocorock bridge in Ada county.

GOT A PEACH FOR TEXAS? SEE STATE HORTICULTURIST

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—After nearly 50 years of search, Texas horticulturists are still looking for peaches that will make Texas their home.

The state agricultural experiment station here recently announced that the finding of varieties of peaches that can withstand "such weather" neither extremes as occur in Texas is a project of major importance.

The station began work on the problem in the late 80s. Many orchards often cease suddenly to be of further value after cold winters, it was found.

Soviets Build Icebreakers

Construction of icebreakers of the Soviet Union has been started here in anticipation of new Arctic expeditions. Each ship will carry three airplanes and a catapult.

STAMPS

In The News

Brazil offers two new special issues almost simultaneously.

The first is a 20-cent issue to the eighth International Industrial Fair at Rio de Janeiro. It consists of a single stamp, 200-cents light blue bearing a coat-of-arms and appropriate inscription.

The second issue of two stamps commences at the quatercentenary of the colonization of Espirito Santo, a rugged coastal state which adjoins the state of Rio de Janeiro on the north. A sixteenth century gallion dominates the 200-cent red stamp, while a coat-of-arms appears on the 700-cent dark blue. Both are issued 1933-1935.

The United States Postal Service has created Philippines Commemorative stamps (14c and 11c) which will be a set of five large octagonal stamps. The entire set uses one allegorical design, a scene depicting Mrs. United States presenting Mrs. Philippines to a gathering of Philippine figures symbolic of commerce and industry, agriculture, knowledge, fine arts and music. Rice is drawn in the border. Denominations: 2-centavo carmine, 6-centavo purple, 10-centavo blue, 25-centavo green, 50-centavo brown.

Three values of the 1933 Voor-trekker monument issue of the Union of South Africa, 1½, 2 and 3-centavo, have been designated "S. W. A." for use in British Southwest Africa.

The new Chinese airmail issue has added a 10-centavo green, 15-centavo blue-green, 20-centavo gray black, 30-centavo blue and 50-centavo black.

Proctor H. Thorp, New York philatelic author, has been busy re-reading his book on how to build a stamp collection. The new issue contains a chapter on errors of collecting.

SCOPE OF STATE INSURANCE GROWS

Fund Now on Sound Business Basis, Ross Declares

BOISE, Dec. 4 (AP)—The gross earnings of the state insurance fund during the first 10 months of 1935 were $182,343 compared with $63,441 during the entire year of 1934. It was shown by a report released tonight by Governor Ross.

During 1935, the year before he took office the governor received, business written totaled $488,667, and during the 10 months of 1935 business written amounted to $577,337, the report showed.

Claims paid in 1935 to injured employees amounted to $949,819 and up to November 1 this year they totaled $420,013.

"We now have this fund on a sound business basis," the governor commented.

"I began organizing it when I took office and the process of eliminating inefficiencies has gone on steadily."

Political Battleground

The figures regarding the condition of the fund were prepared by J. B. Cunningham, acting secretary of the fund.

"Since its inception," McCoughlin wrote in a report which has been used as a political battleground, and many devices have been used to gain an advantage, training, that criticism based upon facts is justified, unfounded statements are doubtfully in the nature of a political attack and undermine the faith of its policyholders."

"It also must be borne in mind that unfounded statements that are made to undermine the fund's credit reflect directly upon the legislature and crippled in the pursuit of their occupations and widows and orphans who are dependent upon the fund's solvency."

"For this reason the most unscrupulous propaganda has been found himself to facts and not attempt to advance himself or his theories at such a cost."

Fund Under Attack

The fund, which is managed by P. O. McElroy, formerly of Pocatello, was under attack during the last state legislative session.

Rates are now being studied by an accounting committee headed by J. A. Jones, and revisions will be made from time to time in them as experience indicates best, the governor said.

Present rates, it was pointed out, are 20 per cent of the rates for similar industries in Utah.

Total reserves at the end of 1935 were $1,200,231, compared with $1,050,000 at the end of 1934.

Funds invested at the end of 1935 totaled $1,174,087, compared with $1,041,111 at the end of 1934.

Poor investments have been eliminated and the money in the fund now is invested in various governmental bonds, warrents and mortgages.

ROSS LASHES AT RECKLESS DRIVER

Governor Calls for Strict Enforcement of License Terms

BOISE, Dec. 4 (AP)—The state law enforcement division is going to be instructed to revoke and suspend provisions of the Idaho automobile driver's license law "rigidly and without discrimination," Governor Ross declared today in a statement in which he decried the increasing number of traffic fatalities.

"These road hogs, reckless drivers and drunken operators are going to be kept off the Idaho highways if it is within the power of our state traffic patrol and city and county officers to do so," Governor Ross said.

"Regardless of fog and darkness, if drivers would stay on their own side of the highway and would not drive at excessive rates of speed, there would be far fewer automobile wrecks," he added.

Not fog but speed and recklessness were the main contributing causes to the accident near West Selway Sunday in which two men were killed, the governor said. He has been informed by J. J. Brown, state traffic officer at TWIN FALLS.

Print reports of the cause of the accidents indicated that "a state fog was responsible for the head-on collision."

'Much Will Depend on Blocking, Tackling and Charging of Our Forwards,' Declares Coach Norton

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Dec. 4 (AP)—

A rising urge to score an upset Saturday afternoon by checking the Rose Bowl-bound Southern Methodist university football machine was nursed tonight at Texas A. and M. college here. Coach Homer Norton said he feared for a time his Aggie were not able to 'steam up' for B. M. U. after having only recently played A. M.'s 'B' team game with Texas university.

'But,' he added, 'they are slowly rising to the point where they want to beat the Methodists before Coach Mitty Bell and his boys leave for California.

'We may win Saturday. Much will depend on the blocking, tackling and charging of our forwards, that's where we plan to get them. Method is a battle.

Aggie hopes for victory in the game here lie chiefly in the line because the Methodist backfield has a star in center in performance of date. A. and M. has won only three of nine games. B. M. U. is unbeaten and untied.

'The attorney, J. P. Clark, said Braddock would ask for "well over $10,000 damages," claiming his reputation as promoter and matchmaker had been ruined.

Hirsch also claimed he had spent several hundred dollars advertising through northern Arizona and New Mexico.

Braddock left for New York yesterday following his fight with match in Phoenix. The report was circulated he was suffering from a torn ligament, but he later denied the charge and said he was in the Winslow looking because it had been postponed until Friday.

"OH! MY HEAD!" might have been the words of Coach "Babe" Hollnagel as his spirits dropped to an all-time low as he paced the field in despair while his Cougars found the going tough against St. Mary's in their football game in San Francisco. But, he brightened considerably when his squad pushed over a touchdown and tied the Gaels, 7 to 7. Timm (63) St. Mary's end, crashed into Goddard (6), Washington State quarterback, so hard on this play that he lifted Goddard completely off the ground and caused him to drop the ball in this play. This spectacular play occurred behind the line of scrimmage. Washington State and St. Mary's tied, 7 to 7. (AP Photo).

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 4 (AP)—It is first come, first served at the Stanford ticket office here where applications are being received for the Rose Bowl football game. Applications are being filed in the order received. Applications are that a capacity sale of 50,000 tickets for the New Year's contest of Stanford and Southern Methodist university will be achieved through the mails without the postboards, giving pay the counter to anyone.

Box seats sell at $5.50, tax included; seats between the 20-yard lines, $4.40; seats between the 20-yard lines and the end zones at $2.20; and seats behind the goal at $1.65.

Money order reservations are being received by the thousands daily at A. Meadors, Stanford's graduate manager of athletics, at 123 East Colorado street, Pasadena.

No reservations will be accepted after December 14, when the tickets will be printed, and from present indications the Rose Bowl will be sold out before December 14.

Primo Carrera, whose aloofness has been the talk of the town since he entered the ring for combat as most impressive, has been seen twice in row now without being thrown for a loss.

The net result, judging from the second fight—because nothing is to be made of his encounter with Walter Heusel—is that a potentially terrifying young man has been eliminated for the time being, he being Ford Smith, who came out of the west to halt the onrush of the younger bunch of the fighting boys.

Smith lost to Carrera in 10 rounds the other night. It would be interesting, possibly entertaining, to see prime fight somebody his size.

Jock McAvoy Shoots At Two Ring Titles

Madison Square Garden Plans Bouts for John Henry Lewis and Babe Risko

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—Boom times are ahead for Jock McAvoy, the best British boxer to cross the Atlantic since the halcyon days of Ted (Kid) Lewis.

If the London youngster let half as good as he looked in his debut here last week against Al McCoy, he will be wearing both the American middle and light heavyweight crowns when he returns to merrie England.

Madison Square Garden plans to give McAvoy title shots against both John Henry Lewis and Babe Risko, the American light heavy and middleweight standard bearers.

He is booked to meet Risko in an over-the-weight scrap December 20. If he continues to show the class he did against McCoy, one of the best of the American contenders will get another chance at the Syracuse box, with the title at stake.

A championship bout with Lewis is a virtual certainty for January. The Negro is pledged to make his first title defense for the Garden and with his manager, Al Greenlee, will come to New York next week to discuss terms.

Fast 1934-35 Hoop Aggregate Scheduled to Be Intact

RUPPERT, Dec. 4.—With his first riding from last year's squad scheduled to be intact before tournament play begins, Coach Ed Lacy is putting his Purple Pirates through their paces with hopes for a championship basketball team this season.

Heading the list is an all-district forward from last year's outfit, "Tote" Craven, who will be flanked by his score scoring mate, Paul McCarty, diminutive long shot artist.

At the guard post, Whiting and Brodie, regulars last year, will again see action.

Lacy's only worry at present is the pivot position. Having little string center last year, he is temporarily of the square due to a shoulder injury.

For reserve Lacy will have below and Page at forwards and will use Hardy, former Hagerman player, as a guard. Two other guards, Wilson and Throckmold, are also out due to scholastic inability.

Union President Awaits Arrival Of Sympathizers

American Participation In 1936 Games at Berlin Paramount Issue Before Three-Day Convention

By BOB CAVANARO (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—With American participation in the 1936 Olympic games the paramount issue, delegates to the annual three day convention of the Amateur Athletic Union, starting Friday began to arrive in town today.

Rival factions in the dispute over the Olympic question are expected to arrive in town today.

Jeremiah T. Mahony, president of the A. A. U. and a doubtful candidate for re-election if the convention does not sustain his right for an American boycott of the international sports carnival at Berlin, is expected to arrive in town today.

Personal Warfare Looms Both Brundage and Mahony have assumed apparently unalterable attitudes on the matter. While the question at present is a group affair, it is expected that the personal warfare with Brundage opposing Mahony for the presidency in the event the incumbent decides to run again.

Advocates of an Olympic boycott claim the support of at least nine of the 100 national associations in the A. A. U. with additional strength in others which have not put themselves on record, but it is generally expected that the "old guard," which favors Olympic participation, will exert controlling influence over the convention.

The Metropolitan A. A. U., which took boycott action, is expected to file a suit with the central association in combating the forces already lined up on anti-Nazi grounds, in opposition to holding the Olympic games in Germany.

Assignment of the 1936 national championships and Olympic trials will be held on or about 200 records submitted for adoption are among the major items on the general business docket.
