Stafford, P. L. Shenberg, Ivan G. Lincoln and John M. Maxwell.

SLUMP IN WOOL PRICE FACTOR IN LITIGATION

A shipment of 21,000 pounds of wool declined in value 2 cents a pound during the period between April 21 and June 17, last, while it was being hauled from here by trucks to market in Portland, Oregon, witnesses testified in the district court here yesterday.

The shipper, L. L. Langdon, is suing the carrier, Consolidated Freight Lines, Incorporated, for the alleged $520 loss in value of the wool, claiming the carrier agreed to complete delivery of the shipment within 48 hours after May 21, last.

It was brought out in testimony that the value of wool was affected by the supreme court decision on May 28 invalidating the NIRA.

Witnesses for the defendant called J. E. Vandusen and J. O. McMurray, both of Boston, agreed in testimony that the market was not affected by the court decision, but that buyers were scared and would not buy.

A motion for non-suit was denied by District Judge Adam B. Barclay after the claimant rested his case.

Jurors not on the panel for trial in this case were excused for the term.

George M. Paulson, Twin Falls attorney, was yesterday entered as associate with St. H. Greene of Boise, attorney for the Consolidated Freight Lines. Attorneys for the plaintiff are J. E. Vandusen, born and J. W. Porter of Twin Falls.

Members of the jury are H. O. McCall, David P. Clark, Frank Thatcher, S. O. Klotz, John Kirkman, H. N. Nunemaker, William Peterson, W. A. Glasgow, A. S. Beane, M. J. McCann, Stan D. Day, and Bruce Howard.

BORAH FIGHTS FOR LONG-SHORT HAUL

Idaho Senator Promises Active Part Against Repealer

Senator Borah of Idaho has made it certain that the Pettengill bill repealing the long-and-short haul clause of the interstate commerce act will not pass the senate if it can be prevented by a determined fight against it.

In a letter replying to a communication from Carl L. DeLong, Twin Falls, executive secretary of Idaho Vegetables Producers' Association, Senator Borah said:

"This bill passed the house with a very large majority. But practically no fight, as it seems to me, was made on it in the house."

"I have conferred with the chairman of the interstate commerce committee of the senate, Senator Wheeler, and he says there will be full hearings."

"Now, I may be away from time to time, but I have a distinct understanding the bill is not to be brought up for consideration in my absence. You may be entirely certain that I will be present when the matter is considered."

"When hearings are granted, I will notify you, and if there are those who wish to be heard, they will be given ample time."

SUGAR BEETS A GOOD BET FOR 1936

With the best participant contract we have ever had and the price of sugar in advance of other commodities such as beans, wheat, and potatoes, beets look like a good bet to me this season. The seed being used has proved itself not only as resistant, but also in tonnage and sugar content.

Spring moisture conditions were never better. Farmers having good bean or spud land can surface cultivate as soon as dry and be ready to plant. A reasonable beet acreage in a crop rotation plan on every farm will run the Factory.

W. C. PETZOLDT.
Sugar beets, to my mind, are one of our best paying crops at this time. There was a time when the sugar-beet crop was considered hazardous to raise, but since we are able to get all the resistant seed we want, I am confident that at the end of this season we will find beets one of our best cash crops.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, through the local Experiment Station, had an experimental plot on my farm during the past season—and will have another this coming year. According to my observation and experience with the different strains of beets, I am convinced that there is no material difference in the different resistant strains of seed being put out by the Sugar Company this Spring to the growers.

I feel the present beet contract is a very good one, particularly in the face of an advance in the price of sugar. Personally, I am very much sold on the idea of a participating contract as the grower receives the benefit of any raise in price.

Sugar beets, as a money crop, looks good to me for the coming year.
JOHN S. FELDHUSEN.

BEETS FROM A FEEDER'S STANDPOINT
Sugar beet by-products in fattening rations help to cheapen production cost in the Twin Falls section and provide a means whereby the stock feeder in this section may successfully compete with corn-belt feeders in cost of production.

Had beet pulp been available this year, I would have made a savings of two hundred tons of hay. The reason I grow sugar beets is not only for the price I receive from the crop itself, but to obtain the by-products used in my feeding operations. By my feeding operations, I expect to build up the land I plant to sugar beets in order to obtain a twenty-five ton crop, and other crops in proportion.

CLAUDE GORDON.

I AM NOT IN A HURRY TO PLANT BEETS
Spring does not always come according to the calendar. It is true we will get our crops in late this year, but according to the past years, late Springs have always meant good crops.

In 1917 I planted my first beets on the 26th of April, on account of a late Spring, with the result of a good crop. I started planting on the 16th of April in 1920 and had an average of twenty-four tons to the acre. In 1922 I commenced on April 16, and had an average of twenty-five tons per acre. According to my past planting record, I am not in a hurry to plant my beets. I have still two hundred loads of manure to haul and twenty-five acres to plow. I have never planted beets in March.

According to my past experience it is not necessary to plow good bean or potato land, prepare a heavy seed bed, and then plant the beets. If the ground is too dry after planting, corrugate and follow with a light irrigation, harrowing after the ground has dried.

MATT SCHMIDT.
April 1st, 1935.

A NEW GROWER
Figuring everything at an average price, year after year, there is more money in sugar beets.
C. E. RITCHIE.

We believe that the sugar beet industry is a part of our agricultural structure for this community, and that the operation of the factory is a stabilizer from the standpoint of labor employment and strength of business activity. We believe that the average farmer is justified in growing at least some acreage of sugar beets on his farm as a part of a diversified farming program.

Cash returns are available at harvest time and further timely payments, such as received on March 1st are of no small assistance to the farmer at a time when needed for water and maintenance or his spring seed.

THIS PREDICTION

Was Entirely Too Modest---

LAST YEAR

On Wednesday, March 13th, 1935

R. H. TALLMAN,

Idaho Manager of The Amalgamated Sugar Co.

Made this statement in the Twin Falls Daily News — "I believe that the use of OUR NEW SEED together with timely planting and proper care, on the best available land, should be a great factor in securing a sugar beet crop"

ACTUALLY The average yield last year of all beet fields planted in Twin Falls County was 15½ tons to the acre.

YET Last year witnessed one of the worst white fly infestations in the history of the tract.

BUT Not one field of planted beets in Twin Falls County was ploughed up.

TODAY Twin Falls and Jerome Counties have signed up for 8831 acres. A sign up of 15,000 acres would guarantee a 110 day run at the Sugar Factory in Twin Falls. It would mean more cash income on the farms, more work for men at the Factory, more business for everybody.

$100,000.00 Will be spent by the Amalgamated Sugar Company this year in Twin Falls County on permanent improvements and maintenance.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE To take out an insurance policy guaranteeing you a good farm income this year?

OF COURSE There isn't such a thing, but the closest approach that we know of to such an insurance policy this year is a good sugar beet acreage on your farm.

CONSIDER THESE POINTS

1. THE SEED HAS PROVED ITSELF.
2. WEATHER CONDITIONS ARE MOST FAVORABLE.
3. THE NEW BEET CONTRACTS MEAN MORE MONEY FOR THE GROWER.
4. THE SUGAR MARKET IS ZOOMING UPWARDS.
5. A BIG MODERN PLANT IS HERE AND ESTABLISHED.
6. GROWERS MADE GOOD MONEY ON BEETS LAST YEAR.

WILL YOU HELP To make this a Boom Fall in Twin Falls and Jerome Counties?

GOVERNOR ROSS

will speak at the Twin Falls-Jerome County Beet Growers' Association tonight at the High School Auditorium, at 8 p.m. You are cordially invited to attend.

The above statement is sponsored by the Twin Falls-Jerome County Beet Growers' Association and by individual farmers and business men, who have the best interests of the Twin Falls county at heart.

STATEMENT
I have been asked by several farmers as to my opinion on the value of growing sugar beets on the Twin Falls tract. Over a period of more than 25 years as a farmer on the tract, it has been my experience that a sugar beet crop fits in well with a rotation crop plan especially with livestock, and both crop rotation and livestock are necessary to keep up the fertility of the soil.

It is one of the best cash crops grown and furnishes a good payroll which is of advantage to the community as a whole. At the present time, we have the fly resistant seed which insures a crop every year and under average conditions it should be a profitable crop. For these reasons, I think where conditions will permit, the farmer should take more interest in growing sugar beets.

N. V. SHARP.

My experience where beets enter into crop rotation is that the beet crop improves the yield on potatoes and beans that follow. Operating under the participating contract, I find it more satisfactory than a flat rate.

In order to maintain an industry, that is possible in so many minds, we should set aside petty differences and plant a few acres of beets. At present in beets appear to be the outstanding crop for price this season.

HANS ANDERSON, Murfreesboro, Idaho.

WHY I GROW BEETS
It works well with my rotation of farming and is a profitable crop.
W. A. McDONALD.

Name On Hand
The white-clothed prison nurse, Miss Sarah Killian, accompanied Mrs. Hauptmann to the death cell, today, with her through a hall and a minute chat with Hauptmann, and brought her to the prison door.

The nurse is always present on last visits, to attend the visitor in case she faints, explained Colonel Charles O. Kimbrough, principal prison keeper.

Mrs. Hauptmann has made three trips with the nurse to the death house. On her third "last visit," she showed no sign of collapsing.

In contrast to her former manner, yesterday when she took her husband the news of his new death date—3 p. m. Friday—she seemed at ease.

Success is due largely to working sugar beets into the crop rotation plan in a manner to give it all the advantages possible. The field intended for beets is handled the year before in a way to prepare for beets.

The plan is to have the bed ready for planting. The seed is planted early taking advantage of the early spring moisture, so the beets get a good start early in the season.

By following good farming practices, we have raised several crops of twenty-ton and over per acre.

WENDELL GLENN, Kimberly, Idaho.

Sugar Beets for 1936 will give the farmer the best net return of any crop planted. Sugar is now $5.00 per cwt. with every prospect of it going to $5.30. A 17.50 beet at $5.30 will net the farmer $7.57. Add to this the government benefit payment and the farmer should receive $8.50 or better.

R. C. BARLOW-Burley.

The business men and farmers of this County should be greatly interested in the fullest development of the sugar industry.

Sugar beets are a profitable cash crop and the feed value of the by-products—beet tops, pulp, and molasses are much greater per acre than from any other crop, and will add considerably to the profits of the cattle and sheep feeders.

It is sometimes said that beets are hard on the land. It has been my experience that other crops following sugar beets produce yields above normal. Last year my field of mixed grain made one hundred bushels per acre and the white beans made forty-four bushels per acre. Both were planted on beet ground.

No Farewells as Condemned Man's Wife Leaves Death Cell

TRIDENT, N. J., April 3 (AP)—The wife of the condemned man, Ethel Hauptmann, cheerfully told her husband, when she left his death cell today on her way to his scheduled execution.

"I'll see you again, Richard," Mrs. Hauptmann replied confidently, and walked through the steel prison doors smiling.

There were no farewells exchanged between the condemned Lindbergh baby slayer and the wife who declared today she will not die.

"Do you feel confident this is not your last visit?" asked a guard. "I was asked as she emerged from the prison after the last call she is permitted under prison rules, unless she something intervene to bring another delay."

For many months after the kidnapping of the Lindbergh child and after public interest in the case, state troopers maintained a guard at the estate. It was finally withdrawn, but after today's report to Hauptmann yesterday, two troopers resumed a watch.

Hauptmann received information at the motor vehicle department where he was taken to the prison door. "The nurse is always present on last visits, to attend the visitor in case she faints," explained Colonel Charles O. Kimbrough, principal prison keeper.

Mrs. Hauptmann has made three trips with the nurse to the death house. On her third "last visit," she showed no sign of collapsing.

In contrast to her former manner, yesterday when she took her husband the news of his new death date—3 p. m. Friday—she seemed at ease.

By following good farming practices, we have raised several crops of twenty-ton and over per acre.

WENDELL GLENN, Kimberly, Idaho.

Sugar Beets for 1936 will give the farmer the best net return of any crop planted. Sugar is now $5.00 per cwt. with every prospect of it going to $5.30. A 17.50 beet at $5.30 will net the farmer $7.57. Add to this the government benefit payment and the farmer should receive $8.50 or better.

R. C. BARLOW-Burley.

The business men and farmers of this County should be greatly interested in the fullest development of the sugar industry.

Sugar beets are a profitable cash crop and the feed value of the by-products—beet tops, pulp, and molasses are much greater per acre than from any other crop, and will add considerably to the profits of the cattle and sheep feeders.

TROOPERS, PATROL LINDBERGH ESTATE

Governor and Prosecutor Clash Over Alleged Assault

TRIDENT, N. J., April 3 (AP)—State troopers were assigned again today to the Lindbergh estate at Hopewell.

Governor Hoffman and Attorney General Anthony M. Hauke, Jr. of Henderson county, over charges by the caretaker that he had been assaulted by the governor's investigators.

The report of the caretaker, Joseph Lyons, to Hauke said Lyons, representing himself as an investigator for the governor in the Lindbergh kidnap-murder case, appeared at the estate and demanded a statement. He refused and in the ensuing altercation, he charged, the caretaker hit him roughly and drove the car slowly against him, forcing him to jump hastily aside.

Lyons said he was at the Hopewell home the Lindbergh baby was kidnapped, March 1, 1932.

Hauke, seeking identification of the automobile, was referred by the caretaker to the state troopers. He was then escorted to the state troopers' quarters.

Hauke, who disclosed later it was owned by the state trooper, was taken to the state trooper's quarters by Frank Holmes, local politician and personal friend of the chief executive. Holmes denied there was any assault.

For many months after the kidnapping of the Lindbergh child and after public interest in the case, state troopers maintained a guard at the estate. It was finally withdrawn, but after today's report to Hauptmann yesterday, two troopers resumed a watch.

Hauptmann received information at the motor vehicle department where he was taken to the prison door. "The nurse is always present on last visits, to attend the visitor in case she faints," explained Colonel Charles O. Kimbrough, principal prison keeper.

Mrs. Hauptmann has made three trips with the nurse to the death house. On her third "last visit," she showed no sign of collapsing.

In contrast to her former manner, yesterday when she took her husband the news of his new death date—3 p. m. Friday—she seemed at ease.

Success is due largely to working sugar beets into the crop rotation plan in a manner to give it all the advantages possible. The field intended for beets is handled the year before in a way to prepare for beets.

The plan is to have the bed ready for planting. The seed is planted early taking advantage of the early spring moisture, so the beets get a good start early in the season.

By following good farming practices, we have raised several crops of twenty-ton and over per acre.

Majority of Sports Experts Picks Cardinals Over Cubs

Frisch's 'Gas House Gang' Leads In Poll; Chicago Close Second

43 Sports Editors and Baseball Writers Favor St. Louis In National League; 39 Name Grimm's Champions

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, nosed out by the Chicago Cubs' sensational stretch drive last night, are back at the top of the National league in September in the opinion of the majority of the 98 sports editors and baseball writers participating in "The Associated Press" tenth annual poll.

The battle of ballots between Frankie Frisch's rollicking crew and Charley Grimm's champions was close with 43 of the experts favoring the Cardinals and 39 voting for the Cubs to repeat.

Backers of the "gas house gang" figured Frisch had added strength by acquiring Lefcy Parmelee, speed-ball mound artist, in contrast, the Cubs will take the field with virtually the same team that compiled 21 straight victories in the closing month of the 1935 campaign to clinch the flag in a blood-soaked finale.

The league champions did not receive a vote below third place but do experts thought the Cards would finish no better than fourth.

13 Pick Giants

Only two other clubs, the New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates, were given more than a passing nod by the experts. Thirteen writers predicted Billy Terry would lead the Giants back to the top of the league in 1936, three cast their bets for the Pirates.

The Giants generally were picked to finish third however, with Pie Traynor's hard-hitting Dues in fourth place.

The Brooklyn Dodgers were selected to top the second division but only a small margin over Cincinnati's youthful sensation.

Except for the Pirates, who were picked for every position except catcher, the Phillies drew votes for more places than any other team. They were selected to finish last in the league.

The experts could see any hope for Boston despite a new manager, and new management, 72 of them selected the Bees to finish in the cellar again.

Jones Advances To Position of Tourney Favorite

Switch in Odds Makes Former King of Golfing 6-1 to 1 Choice Over Augusta's All-Star Field

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 2 (AP)—Washed out for a day by heavy rains, topped off by a day-swept cloudburst, the $5,000 Augusta national invitation golf tournament faces a frigid start tomorrow.

Playing conditions were conducive to a wide open scoring battle, featuring the amateur threat of Benji Hahn, the first professional start of his new business associate, W. Lawson Jr. A shift in betting odds tonight made Jones the six to one favorite over the all-star international field of 54 players.

The clutch downpour caused creeks to overflow, washed and the of the bunkers and left the whole hole soggy.

Schedule Revised

The revised tournament schedule now calls for one 18-hole round tomorrow, the second Saturday and a final 36-hole Sunday. The feature pairing of Jones and Benji Hahn today—4-4—was scheduled for 2:45 p.m.

Kept raining, most players turned to nearby courses today for practice.

Meanwhile speculation focused upon the chances of Jones, the former world champion. He was rated on all sides as "ripe for an old-fashioned killing" if he retained the putting touch he has shown in the execution of sub-par practice rounds. From an original 14 to 1 shot, due to his failure to finish within the money list in his two previous starts here, Jones has been backed into the favorites position. He was "bid in" for the top price of $1,000 in the sweepstakes auction.

A confabulation yesterday with Jones, Harry Picked of Hefsey, prim, star of the "underdog" winter tour, tonight was bracketed as second choice in the betting with Johnny Revilla of Chicago, the national P. G. A. champion, at 8 to 1. Picard sold for $250 in the sweepstakes auction and Little Ryn of Philadelphia, Davis cup doubles player, almost will meet—W. Hiza of Houston, national interest.
