

L. D. S. CONFERENCE HEARS ADMONITION

President H. J. Grant Traces Church's Rapid Growth, Lauds Loyalty

SALT LAKE CITY, April 4 (AP)—President of the Latter Day Saints church admonished the 10,000 members of the conference to live up to the teachings of Jesus Christ.

President Heber J. Grant declared that the church has grown since its organization and urged members to forgive those who have sinned—providing they fully have repented.

He traced the rapid growth of the church—since its humble founding over a century ago—and declared that the church is now "better than 90 per cent and a fraction" of the members are "loyal and obedient to the chosen church authorities."

Billionaire Disappears

President Grant read from the "Doctrine and Covenants," a church organ, of the disappearance of the money and the general health of the church in the early days. A friendly feeling has replaced that of bitterness.

He attributed the change to a wider understanding of church principles and the growth of the church for standing virtually 100 per cent behind the authorities. "The Saints of God have always up to this production of the church and remained faithful down to the present leaders," he said.

Remember the worth of souls is great in the sight of the Lord," the "Latter Day Saints" reminded. He called upon members to forgive those who have sinned.

In Second Council, Second Councilman David O. McKay read the church's 1935 report showing $10,000,000 was spent for "charitable and missionary work."

He said the church is in a sound financial condition and has "borrowed no money, has mortgaged none of its property and has no intention of so doing."

Heed Moses, member of the Council of Twelve Apostles and former United States senator, said he was somewhat worried over present conditions throughout the world and particularly in the United States.

"What I may say is directed only by the hope that conditions will right themselves," he said.

He prayed that the teachings of Jesus Christ may again enter the hearts of the people and declared that only by following them could the world be saved.

Notes Enthusiasm

Mr. Smith said personal observations disclosed that a change in the difference is growing among the American people and warned that the country was heading for a "purpose of life and the principles of the church."

He praised the Latter Day Saints for their loyalty to their country and their devotion to the church.

Antonia B. Smith, of the First Council of Seventy, told the large audience that "this life is a stepping stone to a greater life."

Rudger Clawson, president of the Council of Twelve Apostles, said he was "glad to see the old and new testimonies of the bible and declared many of the predictions have come true."

"God's people," he said, "should never forget the principle set forth in the gospel of St. John: 'God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth in him shall not perish but have everlasting life.'"

George Albert Smith, of the Council of Twelve, discussed the publishing of the "Book of Mormon" and another church book and lauded the work of Joseph Smith.

President Bishop Sylvester J. Cannon called upon the members to "keep close to the spirit of the Lord" and stressed the importance of missionary work.

The general sessions continue tomorrow.

will be returned to Colonel Lindbergh.

Colonel Mark O. Kimberling, the prison warden, disclosed today that a few minutes after 8 o'clock he might have received a frantic telephone call from a man who said he had "inside" information and asked that the execution be delayed.

"I'm surprised," the warden commented, "that I didn't get word of them."

There were 200 persons, jostling around in Third street outside the prison walls today when the "Latter Day Saints" were pulled up at the steel doors. It had come down the street at a speed of 10 miles an hour, with a traffic officer.

Death Unconsidered

O. Lloyd Fisher, Hauptmann's chief counsel, had been at the prison for an hour waiting. He had the papers permitting the removal of the body of the man he had fought through to the highest court in the land.

Fisher said Hauptmann made no will.

He had advised him to make a will because I never thought he would die," he added.

At 5:30 p. m. the gate of the prison swung open and the black hearse bearing the body in a red

Monday, that army men set out to join the allies.

The first occurrence of army day, promoted by the military officers of the World War, was held in 28 but the date was fixed for May 1 instead of April 6.

May day was being turned into a day of demonstration in the big lines of radical elements.

So army day was established, said officials of the military order of the "Latter Day Saints," to "offset" these demonstrations.

But it was decided during 1928 that May day was not the best date for army day and April 6 was fixed.

ROOSEVELT FIGHTS RECLAMATION FUND

Executive Orders Reduce $101,000,000 To $67,000,000

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—Two new, unexpected slashes in what originally was a $101,000,000 reclamation fund were disclosed today by executive order.

The latest cut, directed yesterday by executive order, was $120,000,000. During the first week in March, it was learned, another $157,000,000 was transferred to "other projects," likewise by executive order.

Reclamation bureau officials confirmed reports of the two reductions, which followed one of $17,000,000 last week.

A spokesman said the project suffering most as a result of yesterday's order was the $100,000,000 central valleys project in California. Funds for this project were cut $40,000,000, reducing what was originally a $200,000,000 allotment to $160,000,000.

Eight other projects also felt the cut, but not on an all-out basis. The Casper-Alvaca project in Wyoming lost $17,000,000 yesterday and $2,000,000 in early March. Because of a $20,000,000 reduction last September, funds now available for the project are $180,000,000.

Washington Reduction project allotment was reduced $15,000,000 by the executive order, leaving it with a balance of $250,000,000. A million dollar reduction in the project in California with $12,000,000. The project lost $200,000,000 in September.

HOOPER HITS NEW DEAL AS INVADER OF LIBERTY, CORRUPTOR OF THOUGHT

move easily from propaganda to actual government. For this it is but a step to intimidation, and we witness today the seizure of private property of the people and the press. That is the spirit of the 'new deal' of the Roosevelt administration. A number of the unfortunates have taken to sending me pungent telegrams, expressing their indignation at the new deal agency will seize them and commit every word of them to the public. The Roosevelt administration is a corruptor of thought and a corruptor of the constitutional right of petition—yet of bringing petitions under the eyes of the new deal.

Instead of debating national problems, the former chief executive has been busy with a new deal. He has lost a smoke screen of personalities and has begun to fire upon the people. He has lost the confidence of the people. He has lost the confidence of the people. He has lost the confidence of the people.

U. S. Alone Set Back Reviewing events during the summer of 1935, Mr. Hoover said it has been well established that the new deal is a failure. America was shaking itself clear of the depression under its Republican administration in June-July, 1933, and in early March, 1935, following the election that set back this progress.

ANOTHER LIQUOR CASE IN LINE WITH APPEAL

Convicted of a misdemeanor charge of illegal sale of liquor at trial in Justice of the Peace Court at Twin Falls, Idaho, a man was sentenced to the state prison for one year.

No evidence was offered at trial in behalf of the defendant on the contention that the state liquor control law does not prohibit re-sale of state store liquor.

Trials of other charges were with the same offense, three of whom were found guilty by juries in previous cases. One pleaded guilty and in another case the jury disagreed.

Young Men Urged To Ban Pessimism

BOISE, April 4 (AP)—Jas. Hawley, Boise attorney, and Oscar W. Hollister, Boise physician, both members of the American Legion, appealed today to a three-day young men's conference to ban pessimism.

"If there ever was a frontier, it's the frontier of government today," Hawley declared.

"It's time to get America out of this inferiority complex that somebody is trying to fasten upon us. The 120 campaign with a pessimism is about time to get optimistic."

Highlights Of Hoover's Talk

PORT WYATT, Ind., April 4 (AP)—Highlights of former President Hoover's address tonight:

The most dangerous invasions of liberty by the new deal have not been in the economic field as we have heard, but in the invasion of clear thinking in the line of view far more insidious and destructive to the safeguards of America.

A baseball statistician says their batting average on promises has been 23. On major policies it has been 30. On the constitution it has been 100.

I recommend the magician's animal (the white rabbit) as the symbol of the new deal party. It travels in uncertain directions at high speed, multiplies rapidly.

The present federal relief administration should be dissolved. The new appropriation of one and a half billion dollars should be allocated to a re-education of the people. The distress would be better served—with less politics in the bread.

Omitting their monetary and spending debate, about all the agencies they will have left after the new deal party is elected are their unconstitutional actions will be the institutions and ideas they get from the Republican administration.

During the three depression years of the last Republican administration less than 10 million men days were lost in strikes and lockouts. About 84 million were lost in the first three years of depression under the Roosevelt administration. Has that problem of industrial relations been solved?

BLACKFOOT NAMED CONFERENCE SITE

Pocatello Boy Elected President at Concluding
Session of Meet

BURLEY, April 4.—Election of officers for next year's conference and a dance in the high school gymnasium climaxed the second day of the annual south-eastern Idaho older boys conference here tonight.

The election followed the fellowship supper and results were: Glen Mullen, Pocatello, president; Jack Roper, Burley, first vice president; Roy Shephard, Paris, second vice president; Jack Collins, Blackfoot, secretary; Blackfoot was chosen as the meeting place for the next session.

President Pat Baker presided at the fellowship supper with Mrs. C. Deenbach, Burley publisher, acting as toastmaster. Homer L. Hollingsworth, St. Louis, the conference speaker, gave an address: "The House of the Living Windows."

Five golden windows the young men have that they should be grateful for, are, according to Mr. Hollingsworth, physical fitness—of the greatest assets on matter what; a good location.

Mental development; friendships—the most cherished of possessions; service—the source of a joy; and a good wife.

The speaker here stressed the importance of dreaming and setting high goals live up to in order to "make the world a better place in which to live."

A basketball tournament held in the Burley gym in the afternoon resulted in a 38 to 35 victory for the West End schools against those from the eastern section. Burley, Pocatello and Murtaugh-Aberdeen represented the West End while Blackfoot, Burley and Paris-Aberdeen played for the east.

The younger generation is working for a world in which there is peace and the world's wealth, Hollingsworth told the conference this morning.

Addressing the conference on "Thinking straight in the modern world," Mr. Hollingsworth predicted that the changes will be made by the younger generation.

He listed them as follows: Betterment of race relations, progress toward peace, better world government, the use of the necessities of life by equalization of wealth and poverty, adoption of a more materialistic and valuing people by service rather than accumulation of wealth and having more people to live on abundance of life, joy, satisfaction and happiness.

He said discontent with things as they are and their real solution is force are two things upon which clear thinking should be based. He urged young men to live on abundance to make the world a better place in which to live—not devote their time to getting rich.

AN 18TH CENTURY FEELING Green, Mulberry And Cream Blend Smoothly

Prepared by The American Home (For The News)

This attractive living room with its eighteenth century feeling holds many interesting decorating tips. The mirror, between two windows, reflects the opposite side of the room and adds to the effect of spaciousness. The dado and cornice, which were used in so many fine old rooms, are particularly here, pleasantly contrasting with creamy yellow walls.

In contrast are the "chintz" draperies, with their warm, mulberry background, pinks, greens and more delicate lines.

Some of the furniture is upholstered in green, some in yellow, and the several colors are repeated in vases on the mantelpiece, the rich colors of the portraits and, last but not least, in the fresh flowers. The furniture is mahogany. Note the fine lines of the little coffee table in front of the miniature Chippendale sofa. The little plant stand in the corner has a twin on the outside of the room; and a charming little bookcase may be seen in the background.

And Mrs. Clyde McFarland. Mrs. Emma Ebert, Parley Ebert, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ebert and Mrs. J. H. Ebert and son Wendell left Wednesday for Logan to attend the pageant being shown in the L. D. S. temple there.

SYNOPSIS: Iris Lanning, taken from the restricted life of an impetuous aristocrat in Persia, is to the glided life of her Aunt Phina and brother Owen in New York. Iris herself having a great time. And a surprising one too. She has just learned that big, awkward Camilla Wendell is a poet in fact she is reading some of her work. Camilla, incidentally, has tried tactfully to show Iris how empty much of her present life is—without the least success.

Chapter 25.

BODY BLOW

Iris looked up her eyes full of "Oh, how beautiful," she said. "Have you typed them and sent them out?"

Her father had done a little verse, and some articles, and she had the procedure. Aunt Phina had typed clear beautiful reports on a little typewriter she bought, and had made a card index for sending and recording.

"Oh, I wouldn't dare!" she said. "You would think I'm silly. I'll tell you just how to do it."

She began a matter-of-fact description of Aunt Phina's routine. Camilla stared at her, her dark face lighted with excitement; to the excitement was added another expression that had never been there before—hope.

Just then Owen came in, whistling a tune Iris knew in even this short time meant a few minutes of stolen heaven with Bigger. It was a Norwegian folksong, his unconscious Bigger, poor girl, Camilla, poor girl, could not know. Iris saw her hands tremble, saw her turn eagerly. She was at her worst with Owen.

"Iris said, 'I remember all the kindness which he gave everyone and cast a look at his sister which meant 'I'm glad of her'."

"So precisely poor Camilla went, eager, hurt to the last moment."

"Don't forget about the poetry," Iris said. "I'll remember all the kindness which he gave everyone and cast a look at his sister which meant 'I'm glad of her'."

"Oh, Owen! He said about you. And she is a real poet, I believe. She showed me some of her poetry."

But he strode off to change for dinner. Iris realized it was time she dressed too. She knew well enough that a heart of gold inside poor Camilla's nervous body had no chance against Bigger's beautiful little Northern face with its wheels of blue eyes.

Learning a hard-fighting game of bridge was the thing Iris liked best. Phina was firm about it; she added bridge, and bridge, and she pointed out, not being able to play it well as bad as having double clothes.

The three of them, with Phina called in, as she often was, to make a fourth, were playing a prelude to the money game.

"Too sleepy to go to the show," Phina had decreed; "we'll work up your game a little."

"You were sitting near the fire in the silver bowl," and Iris, a little drowsy with the fire and the Goupier cards, started after a while.

"You'd play a fair game if you took it more seriously," her aunt said. "Who taught you?"

"Morgan Black," she said, frowning back to Morgan, teaching her the beginning of contract with Uncle Gus. Outwardly a little touch with her, but how gentle with her mistakes, how admiring, how proud, when she played cleverly!

"Oh, yes, I wrote with the other day—that reminds me—that the old music books you said you sent these songs from. He said Mr. Black would be coming over soon and he'd send them by him."

Iris's heart leaped. To see Morgan—to talk to him again!

"When?"

"I don't know. When his lady-love dangles I gather. He seems to be old to settle down in Persia for life with a girl named—was it Kate Oliver?"

"Kate Oliver," Iris's voice was steady. She hoped her face was too.

"Are you sure?"

"Well, meantime's sure but death and income taxes! He's only fifty word of it," Phina said caustically. "Make it a heart."

Iris hoped she made her own bid in a voice that showed nothing. Men were like that. If you told them you didn't love them they found another girl who did. She had known how sure she had had of Morgan's continued love; that she could write, telephone, walk in any moment, and find his love was gone for her, as sure and undisturbable as her family. She had known she cared as much as that.

Iris jumped as the house telephone rang. It might be Morgan, but it was a man with a package, the known bootlegger's formula.

"That bootlegger does come at the most inauspicious hour," Phina said. "Why he had to get eleven-thirty when we're in the middle of night, only he knows. Tell him to come up, Honan."

Iris leaned back in her place with a look which her aunt misinterpreted as relief at the game being over. She laughed.

"My dear, Allan Beckley is one of the best players in the city," she said. "You don't want him to think you're a dud."

"If he's such a pasha that I have to learn bridge to please him I don't think much of him!" Iris retorted like a child.

"There's the elevator, Iris. You talk to him. He's so frightfully conversational," said Phina. "Come on, Owen."

Oilers Beat Huskies To Meet Universals In Final Hoop Duel

McPherson Quintet Conquers University Of Washington, 48 To 30, While Hollywood Downs Wilmerding, 42-29

By OIL ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—Thirteen players from the McPherson, Kas., Oilers and the University of Washington, Wash., Huskies, who were selected to represent the United States at the Berlin Olympic basketball tournament at Madison Square garden.

The Oilers turned back the University of Washington 48 to 30 after the Huskies had eliminated the Wilmerding, Pa., Y. M. C. A., 42 to 29.

In reproducing the final of the national A. A. U. championship, the Oilers, the third seed, staged a great second half drive to eliminate the last of the five eligible quintets. The University of Washington, the A. A. U. crown, overpowered the Y. M. C. A. champions with a slow breaking offense that got results from the start.

Loosey Set Third Place

The finalists will meet tomorrow night after local basketball has settled the argument over third place. Eight players from the championship team will be selected from the six other teams that started competition last night.

The Huskies offered the Oilers unexpected opposition for the first half, trailing only 22 to 10 at the halfway mark. They wilted under the national champions' furious pace for the second half, however, scoring only five field goals, two of them in the last two minutes.

The Oilers were slower than usual finding the range and found themselves trailing 19 to 14 after 15 minutes of play in a nip and tuck affair that saw the lead change hands frequently. The champions then went to town. They rolled in eight more points before the end of the closing session before Ralph Bishop brought through to score for the collegians.

Use Entire Squad

Coach George Johnson used every one of his towering players but the basketball made no difference in the Oilers' anticipated second half offense.

The Huskies were unable to shake Max Lottich loose as he did last night, when he scored 20 points, but he managed to sink four field goals to lead the collegians' attack.

Two Boxers and One Grappler to Represent University

MOSCOW, Idaho, April 4 (AP)—Two University of Idaho boxers and one wrestler will compete in the national A. A. U. championships. Graduate Manager George E. Horton said today.

Horton said Joe August, 135, and Roland Shumway, 170, were selected in the intermountain eliminations to enter the national tournament at Cleveland April 15-17. Alvin Sweney, 165, of Salt Lake City, also will compete. Shumway, a wrestler of Idaho will accompany them.

Paul Jones, 120, will be the Idaho wrestler in the Olympic trials at the University of California, Berkeley, Pennsylvania. He won the trials at Seattle.

Olympic boxing finals are scheduled May 7 and 8 at Chicago, with winners at Cleveland automatically qualifying.

Midget Wolgast Wins Airplane, Balloon Races On Schedule

Golden Bears Down U.C.L.A. Trackmen

LOS ANGELES, April 4 (AP)—The University of California swam the University of California at Los Angeles in a Pacific coast intercollegiate dual track meet today, 97 to 84. The Bears won first place in every event except four.

A. A. U. Refuses To Discuss Rules

Union and Y. M. C. A. Demand Equal Representation With Colleges

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—The Amateur Athletic union and the Y. M. C. A. today refused to enter into the discussions of the national basketball rules committee until they were given equal representation with the colleges.

Until three years ago, the A. A. U., Y. M. C. A. and the colleges, represented by the National Collegiate Athletic association, had eight votes each, the high school, junior, and Canada, two. At that time, however, the voting power of the A. A. U. and Y. M. C. A. was reduced to three votes each on the grounds that the greater part of the game was played in colleges and high schools.

Despite the absence of the two organizations, L. W. St. John of Ohio State, chairman of the committee, said the rules body would go ahead with the hope the code would be generally recognized.

No radical changes in the rules are anticipated when the committee meets again tomorrow.

The abolition of the center jump is almost certain to come up but is not expected to be adopted.

Kansan Averages Recent Defeat

Glenn Cunningham Over-takes Nordell in Race At St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, April 4 (AP)—Glenn Cunningham, Kansas' greatest mile runner, tonight averaged his recent 1:30-mile defeat by Frank Nordell, of the New Yorker in a slow 4:34 mile at the St. Louis relay.

Nordell, Cunningham and Glenn Dawson of the Tulsa Skelly club ran an out record. The Kansan did not overtake Nordell until the final lap.

Harold Osborn, 25-year-old veteran of high jump competition, went through a match jump competition with four victories, and the one he scored by Bob Lange, School of Mines.

Osborn topped two established records, one a world mark in the standing high jump, when he leaped 5 feet, 6 inches, and the other a "nonweighting performance" listed for the standing high jump and jump.

Oklahomans Wins Wrestling Titles

CHICAGO, April 4 (AP)—Contest youngsters from Oklahoma, M. & M. at Stillwater, walked off with honor in the finals of the national A. A. U. wrestling championship at DePaul university tonight.

The Oklahomans won six out of nine places and became a serious threat for the finals at Berlin tomorrow. The winners were: Fred Lusk, 135, 145, 160, 175, 190, 215, 235, 255, 275, 295, 315, 330, 350, 375, 395, 415, 435, 455, 475, 495, 515, 535, 555, 575, 595, 615, 635, 655, 675, 695, 715, 735, 755, 775, 795, 815, 835, 855, 875, 895, 915, 935, 955, 975, 995.

Fresh Favored

Freshmen are favored to take the intercollegiate meet. Although the seniors have a number of experienced athletes, the freshmen are expected to outperform them. Coach Mitchell, senior, seems to be the outstanding junior, and Al Metz, a freshman, looks as the favorite in the broad jump and high jump in the dashes the freshmen still hold the edge with Ray Mitchell, a senior, standing and Al Metz, a freshman, seniors are favored to win.

The coach, Fred Lusk, looks for other college athletes to join his track and challenge him to be expected.

Buhl Boasts Girls' Track, Field Team

Coach Fred Livesay Reports Turnout Of 45 Prospective Athletes

BUHL, April 4 (AP)—A comparatively new sport in this district in the feminine line has been introduced in Buhl high school in the way of girls' track. Under the tutelage of Coach Fred Livesay, 45 girls turned out the first night. During the bad weather, light work-outs have been staged in the gym.

An intercollegiate meet will be held in about three weeks, weather conditions permitting, and will include the following events: hurdles, broad jump, baseball throw, shot-put, discus, high jump, 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, half and quarter mile runs and a relay race. Lillian Olson has been made track manager and John "B" club is sponsoring the meet. A trophy will be given to the class winning the meet and others will be given for first, second and third places.

Mary Lou Petty Wins Swim Title

Seattle Girl Gains Second Championship By Defeating Champion

CHICAGO, April 4 (AP)—Mary Lou Petty, Seattle, little freestyle star from Seattle, outdistanced the defending champion, Mrs. Lenore Knight, winner of Cincinnati, in the 500 yard free style tonight and gain her second title in the women's senior indoor A. A. U. championship meet at the Lake Shore Athletic club.

The triumph was the western star's second in two nights as Mrs. Wingard and marked the end of the latter's reign over American feminine freestyle at longer distances. Like last night's 250 yard final in which Mary Petty won a close decision, the 500-yard championship was a bitter struggle.

The swimmer, a 16-year-old, won the 500-yard final, 6 minutes, 21 seconds, was well off Mrs. Wingard's world mark of 6:12.

Jack Media Wins

Buily Jack Media, great star from Seattle, successfully defended the last of his three-title supremacy by winning the 500-yard free style in 5 minutes, 21 seconds.

The first record effort of the closing program was made by Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett of New York in the 100 yard backstroke. Her time of 1 minute, 4 seconds, shared Mrs. Jarrett's own meet record, which also was the American standard, by one and two tenths seconds.

Former Champion Annexes Tourney

PINEBLUFF, N. C., April 4 (AP)—George T. Dunlap, Jr. of New York, former amateur champion, won the fifth north and south amateur title in a walk today, defeating A. C. Giles of Brattleboro, New York, 8 and 7, in the 36-hole final round.

The slender New Yorker now has only to defeat Sam Friedman, Jr. of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, in a playoff over 36 holes to make a clean sweep of tourney honors.

Miss Donohue decided that girls who participate in the outdoor sports of ice-skating and swimming are prettier than any other class of athletic performers.

As for the men: "Here again," Miss Donohue, "those who participate in the outdoor sports are more handsome than the athletes around the American league. How many of the women's class, male swimmers as a whole are not up to the standard of beauty as the classic polo players."

On behalf of the beauties of the United States, Miss Donohue plans to present each of these "athletic beauties" a medal—the next too if she can catch Miss Shields, Fox or Mr. Gurnea.

A pointer again has been chosen champion of the nation's bird dogs.

Only a couple of setters entered the lists against a flock of pointers, and it was a little 5-year-old liver and white pointer, a smart, trim Tamol Sul, that won this time.

Not quite as stylish, or flashy, as some competitors, Sul showed all-round balance.

In winning top honors at the annual national field trials on an historic Indian reservation in North American Wildlife conference in Washington, is now in full swing.

Kenrick is one of the first states to report a decline in the number of deer, and is now forming a statewide federation.

'Pursuit Of Fish'

"It is too long between bites," says former President Hoover in an article in the "Chicago Herald" and written for the "Chicago Herald" Stanford university's humane magazine.

"Fishing is not so much getting fish," he wrote, "as it is a state of mind. It is a state of mind that has to be maintained to the human soul into refreshment."

Man and boy, the American is a fisherman. The fisherman is a man who obviously includes the pursuit of fish. It is generally realized and accepted that the fisherman is the most personal of all relationships, and that on such occasions as these, the fisherman is the most personal of all relationships.

Everyone considers that fish will not bite in the presence of representatives of the press. Before the sole sale was left to a public man that he may escape to his own thoughts may live his own life and had to be content with an 8-foot draw after darkness halted hostilities at the end of the 13th inning. The Giant made 15 hits; the Chicago got 22.

Snow Maroons Eagle

A stark eagle found itself in a bad predicament at Fort Collins, Colorado, recently after diving for a rabbit, relates Frank Giverson of Seattle. It landed in soft snow and was unable to take off.

"To get into the air an eagle must flap high enough to clear its wings from the ground. The bird prevented the jump. The bird thrashed around for a long time before it was finally shot. It had a wing spread of seven feet, two inches."

Another interesting fact about the best of birds occurred in Wenatchee, Wash., where ducks were frozen in ditches when they were down for water. Workers clumped them out of the ice, put them in gunnysacks and placed them in fires. After the birds were thawed out they were released.

The confirmation class will make its first communion at this service. The morning prayer and confirmation will be held at 11 o'clock. Bishop Bartlett, who arrived in Twin Falls last evening from Boise on his first visit to the city, will accompany Rev. Victor K. Newman to Jersey this evening for confirmation services and evening prayer.

Tomorrow noon he will address a vestrymen's meeting at the Park hotel. He will be guest this afternoon at a parish tea from 2 to 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bothwell.

with...Visible COLD Visible ECONOMY and Visible PROTECTION

Today we recommend that every owner of an automobile refrigerator learn about the new 1936 Kelvinator. It has three outstanding, vital, fundamental things that the buyer of a refrigerator has always wanted.

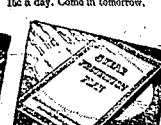

Visible Economy: Built in thermometer, so there can be no doubt about how cold it is.

Visible Economy: The 1936 Kelvinator uses far less electricity to cool than as much current as many refrigerators now in use, as shown in advance by a signed Certificate of Low Cost of Operation.

Visible Protection: A 5-year Protection Plan, written and signed by the oldest company in the industry.

The new Kelvinator is the only refrigerator that gives you flexible rubber gills in all its trays. It offers you a wealth of conveniences such as automatic defrosting switch, interior electric light, and many others.

We want you to see the 1936 Kelvinator whether you now have an electric refrigerator or not, and let us tell you how you can have one in your home for as little as 15c a day. Come in tomorrow.
