

Bayonets Clear Way For Mighty Martial Display By Japanese

Captain Attached to U. S. Embassy and Other Americans Pushed Off Streets at Peiping

PEIPING, June 23 — Japanese bayonets cleared the way for Peiping's mightiest martial display in nearly 40 years today with a United States army captain and other foreigners reported forced from the roads and sidewalks.

Captain Jernigan thrust the weapon aside and escaped injury. The report said other Americans and persons from abroad were said to have been pushed off the streets.

With bayets blaring Japanese soldiers estimated to number 3,000 marched through the streets, keeping Peiping in a state of excitement and expectancy.

Witnesses said the embarrassed policeman replied: "Citizen, you will save my face if you will move quietly."

The Jernigan incident was reported by a similar official involving the wife of a French officer attached to the French embassy guard.

STRIKERS' BULLETS KILL GUARD, WOUND FOUR OTHER MEN

Idle Workers Escape Injury in Battle With Company Employees at Closed Ohio Steel Plant

PORTSMOUTH, O., June 23 — Strike battle bullets killed a guard and wounded four other men today in a clash between strikers and company guards at the closed Wheeling Steel corporation plant in nearby New Boston.

Half a dozen other persons suffered minor injuries. More than 300 shots were fired when company guards attempted to transport food on a locomotive and gondola to workers besieged inside the company's wire mill since the strike began May 2.

The slain man was George Meyers, 28, one of eight guards aboard the locomotive.

While officers pleaded vainly with strikers to disperse, a furious crowd pried apart and destroyed the railroad tracks.

Inside the wire mill about 200 maintenance workers, who have been hard-pressed for food since a postoffice department order a fortnight ago prevented movement of supplies to them in postal trucks.

The walkout, affecting 3,500 workers, was called by the Amalgamated to enforce demands for collective bargaining rights, which the union contended were denied in defiance of a national labor relations board ruling.

Keynoter Slashes At Republican Leadership

PHILADELPHIA, June 23 — In a flaming keynote address to the Democratic national convention, Senator Alben W. Barkley slashed tonight at Republican leadership, accused the supreme court majority of "tortured interpretation" of the constitution and pointed to astonishing economic recovery under the new deal.

In complex modern life, he said, all responsible governments must enlarge their field of supervision to protect the weak from the "rapacious."

He said the future of the nation depends on the ability of the people to work out their destiny and protect their fundamental rights.

Farley Proclaims New Deal Issue

PHILADELPHIA, June 23 (AP) — An applauding Democratic national convention today shouted approval of a statement by James A. Farley, national committee chairman, that the new deal is the only issue.

Farley predicted that the Democrats would adopt a platform "to which every man, woman and child will be able to rally."

Farley said the new deal is the only issue that will unite the people and that it is the only issue that will bring about a permanent organization.

TOWNSEND LEADERS SCAN CANDIDATES WEATHER

Penion Organization's High Command to Name Congressional State

TOWNSEND, June 23 (AP)—Idaho's high command in Dr. Francis E. Townsend's pension organization, will pick the candidates recommended by the organization's 135 clubs on the basis of three requirements: 1. That they be good townsmen; 2. That they have the ability to secure Townsend legislation; 3. That they will be available sometime tomorrow, Davis said tonight.

Call on Governor—A letter was called on Governor Ben Ross—Democratic candidate for the senatorial nomination—today, by its members and the candidates recommended by the organization. The committee has called a nominating convention to be held in Boise tomorrow night to pick the candidates to be nominated for the senate, and on that date will formally nominate the men chosen at the present meeting.

Those selected will be permitted to run on either the Republican or Democratic ticket, but the committee has it in a position to have their names placed on the November ballot.

FARLEY BARKLEY STRIKE KEYNOTE FOR NEW DEALERS

In the same mood when they came back tonight. After warming up in the hours' delay that preceded the start of the session, the convention staged a noisy series of orations for George H. Davis, one of the few Democratic candidates for the senate in the second round.

After Davis' frequently interrupted speech, Farley Barkley, "twelve long years" of Republican rule and explaining why he left the party, the day second in the parade around the hall was started.

It lasted so long that the convention members were almost as weary. The hour for Barkley's speech came and passed. Finally, he spoke for a few minutes. He said that he was so sorry that he had to leave his positions out of his speech. He said that he was a "long-haired" Kentucky senator had the crowd with him even to the end, however, as he openly admitted his own criticism of the opinions of the supreme court which drove out new deal legislation.

At one point, he carefully avoided this declaration: "The fundamental constitutional amendment should become necessary to enable the people to work out their destiny and protect their liberties." He said that he was some archaic interpretation never intended by its framers, and that the people will face that duty with the same calm and intelligence which has guided them in the past.

CASCADE-SLAYER PLEADS INSANITY

States Witnesses Testify Asserted Murder Victim Shot in Back

CASCADE, Idaho, June 23 (AP)—Two state witnesses testified today that Frank Lohar, 31-year-old miner on trial for his life, shot Walter Estep, 47, through the back of the neck and not in the mouth as the prisoner told officers he had done.

The witnesses were Dr. Roscoe C. Ward of Cascade, coroner of Valley county at the time of the shooting December 2, 1935, and A. D. Robb, Cascade undertaker.

They were the last called by Prosecuting Attorney Fred Taylor before he and his associate, Oscar W. Worthman of Boise, rested their case late today.

The defense, represented by George Donat and Herman Welton of Boise, made their opening statement to the jury before the court adjourned until tomorrow morning and indicated they rely on testimony to prove insanity and self-defense.

Smiles at Testimony

Frequently during the day, Lohar smiled as witnesses reviewed his main defense, "insanity," which he told officers resulted in the fatal shooting on a lonely mountain trail 120 miles northeast of here last winter.

Sheriff Robert Zilson of Cascade was the first witness called today. He told of his investigation into the shooting, which he testified Lohar admitted on the grounds of self-defense during an altercation over domestic affairs and mining claims.

Yes' Warner and Butler McCoy, deputized by the sheriff to guard the latter had reported the shooting to officers, told the jury Lohar informed them Estep had paid objectionable attention to Mrs. Lohar and that Estep "had beat him out of certain mining claims."

They also testified that Lohar had offered to spare Estep's life for a payment of $8000.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID PIONEER RAILROADER

RUPERT, June 23—Funeral services for W. A. Dunham, 68, section foreman for the Oregon Short Line stationed in Rupert for 13 years, who died of a sudden heart attack at 10:30 p. m. # MURDER TONIGHT

BY LAURENCE W. MEYNELL

SYNOPSIS: Kingsley Hyllon has come down from Scotland Yard to help Sergeant James White on the Barrett murder. Barrett was the most hated man in Hope, a miser, cruel, and given to casting leers at women although he was considerably less than a murderer, which complicates the case a good deal. There are half a dozen who might very well have done the job.

Chapter 8.
GRISLY SCENE

Hyllon was pleased to find that White could match his more than four miles an hour with apparent ease. The pair swung along in great style.

The inspector took the silence with one of his unexpected queries. "Where were you educated, White?" A query which elicited a reply which was a surprise.

"Shrewsbury."

"Ah, I suppose you thought my voice and all that was a cut above the average board-school product?"

"Well, yes, to be candid, I did."

"I'm not for the discrediting compliment. But I'm not the Public School type, either, Inspector. I got by accident, really. My people were not rich. They had a lot of money suddenly and had ideas, that's all. Sending me to Shrewsbury was one of them."

"Not a bad idea either."

James White laughed his easy, agreeable laugh.

"Well, I don't know. If you've got to earn your living in the world I'm not at all sure it's such an unimproved idea."

After a glance Hyllon said, "You don't return the compliment by being curious about me."

White answered pleasantly, and the inspector thought along. He had acquired what seemed to be an outline in raspberries served in an unoffending manner as might be imagined by the Inspector. He had seen the Police Sergeant White immensely.

"Here we are, Inspector. Enter to the room. The back drive, out nearest way. There is a front way with a Lodge to it."

"Anyone in the Lodge?"

"A man called Lawson and his family. People say that Barrett only let him stay there because Lawson was blackmailing him, but that's all rot. The truth is Lawson had to pay a thumping high rent for the place and Barrett was there every Monday morning to collect it in person."

"They had passed along the dark alley back drive five or six minutes ago," said the Inspector. "I could see the unfriendly light of the house against the star-studded sky."

"Bright place," Hyllon said.

"Yes. Mostly shut up now, though. That you, Edward?"

"A uniform figure moved in the darkness of the back porch. That's right, Sergeant."

The Sergeant switched on the powerful torch he carried, and looked at the power room on the right, or what used to be the gun room, so they say; now, in it is now used as all the kitchen quarters are beyond that batz door."

"What about putting a light on?" Hyllon suggested.

White laughed. "Arthur Barrett never paid to have electric light put in here, believe me," he said.

"There's an oil lamp or two in the place, but nothing more. This way for the hall, Inspector."
