NORRIS ELECTS TO FOLLOW ROOSEVELT

President Spends Busy Day in Conferences and With Speech

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—An Independent Republican and a participant in the Philadelphia Democratic national convention today brought to President Roosevelt personal accounts of developments in their respective spheres.

Mr. Roosevelt conferred two hours with Senator Norris, then talked with Robert W. Bingham, ambassador to Great Britain, in this country to attend the convention.

Bingham, who returned to Philadelphia immediately, said his talk with Mr. Roosevelt included "matters political."

Norris, who supported the candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt in 1932, said, as he figures from the White House, it mattered little to him what sort of platform the Democrats adopted at Philadelphia.

"Roosevelt is the platform," he said, "and I'm for Roosevelt."

Signs of Bills

President Roosevelt spent the morning signing 61 bills and putting into final shape the acceptance speech he will deliver in Philadelphia Saturday night.

The White House made arrangements for the president to leave Washington late Saturday afternoon, planning his arrival at Franklin field in Philadelphia only 10 minutes before time for Vice President Garner to speak. The president will follow Garner on the platform.

Among the bills signed were measures for grasshopper control, to prohibit the transport from one state to another of strike breakers, to increase the number of airplanes for the army air corps and to amend the farm credit act by which the 3 1/2 per cent interest rate on loans is extended one year.

ORPHEUM TO PRESENT WILL ROGERS PICTURE

When America's most beloved humorist contributes his greatest performance to the filmation of a masterpiece of comedy, the result is bound to be a picture that lingers long in your memory, one that you will want to see time and again. In other words, Will Rogers' "A Connecticut Yankee."

Released by 20th Century-Fox in response to the filmation, the picture is opening a three day engagement at the Orpheum theater, to bring back Rogers in the picturization of Mark Twain's great comedy.

ning, of course, are the names of the intelligent horse and dog, the latter, incidentally, being a grandson of Strongheart. John Arledge and Louise LaTimer share the romance in the leading role.

The special added attraction, "The Sims Family," in person on the Roxy stage, is an exhibition of real talent and is highly outstanding. This bill ends tonight to make way for John Wayne in "The Oregon Trail" Saturday.

edy, as the Yankee who put the finishing touches on King Arthur's Court.

It is all a glorified medley of fact and fancy, tailored to Rogers' lovable brand of humor. The story, which fits in neatly with present times, carried him back to somewhere in the sixth century, and the fun Rogers has in bamboozling and mystifying the knights of those days you will share in watching him.

Myra Loy and Maureen O'Sullivan play the feminine leads. "Fury" a dramatic hit, starring Sylvia Sydney and Spencer Tracy, will complete its successful run tomorrow night.

HUSTON STARS IN ROLE OF EMPIRE BUILDER

Beginning Sunday at the Idaho theater is Walter Huston, as "Rhodes" the diamond master, the empire builder, the jungle conqueror.

This picture is considered Walter Huston's most important role of his screen career. The story recounts the dynamic career of a man, given but six months to live, who lived to create a fabulously wealthy empire of the uncivilized jungle.

Rhodes' struggle for mastery against the savage Matabele warriors, the forces of reaction at home, and the crusty and bluff patriarch, Paul Kruger, president of the Transvaal republic, makes for a dramatic and exciting picture. Showing today and tomorrow at the Idaho theater is "Clarence" Ed Mulford's "Three on the Trail" with William Boyd, Jimmy Ellison, George Hayes and Onslow Stevens.

The program is completed with "Darkest Africa" No. 6, musical and news.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES: SENATOR ROBINSON, SENATOR FRIZZELL, SENATOR HARRIS, SENATOR HARRIS, SENATOR HARRIS.

STORM CENTER: Senator Robinson of Arkansas delivered a noteworthy address before the delegates at Philadelphia, not the least interesting feature of which was his astigation of the Supreme Court and its recent decisions bearing upon the making program of the New Deal.

THE DOLE: A good many people will sympathize with the views of Oregon's Democratic Governor Charles F. Dole with respect to the relief problem in his state. But at that the utterance was that of an angry man rather than an executive of a great state.

MISTAKEN WITNESSES: Two professors tested the powers of observation of a class of two hundred sixteen students by putting on an unannounced, fifteen-second act and then asking the students to tell exactly what happened in the first five seconds of the act.

BREAKFAST FOOD: DEFINED: What is a breakfast? He: "Born on the 10th of the month."

NOT ALWAYS: Smith: "Don't you always listening to the honk of the wild geese when they're driving an automobile?" Jones: "No when they're driving an automobile."

reports would unquestionably have been more successful. As it was, they were successful in the sense that they established the reliability of eye-witnesses to accidents or crimes. Often such testimony is less trustworthy than circumstantial evidence.

STATE AND NATION: Usually interesting at this time is the call issued by Governor Landon for a special session of the Kansas legislature on July seventh, to initiate a constitutional amendment. The purpose of the amendment is to permit state participation in federal programs for social security.

As regards the general aim of Governor Landon's proposed amendment, recent decisions of the United States Supreme Court have shown the need of more clearly defining federal and state authority, and enabling them to work legally in harmony with each other for the benefit of the people.

RAIDING THE HIGHWAY FUND: Should the state sales tax be repealed in the November election, it would be a determined attempt in the next legislative session to divert part of the Idaho gasoline tax fund to relief, social security and other highway purposes, according to the predictions of the Boise correspondent of the Tribune in an article in today's issue.

What the highway user feels is that all of the gasoline tax ought to be devoted to construction and maintenance of highways, which for many years to come can use all and more than for the tax. There is a surplus beyond that need, he thinks that the tax should not be continued high enough to produce it.

STRENGTHENERS: Here are two specific reasons why New Deal has been talked up on LITENESS's score by people close to New Deal headquarters. (1) He forced the sale of small private utility companies to public ownership in the Mississippi counties to TVA at about 60% of their fair value by threatening to build competitive municipal plants.

THE FLOOD OF POSTAGE STAMPS: Postmaster General James H. Floyd has held his job, say an exchange. He issues new stamps as "impromptu" as Van Gogh painted pictures, and whether they are or not, he gets away with 'em just the same.

ATTACK: A new anti-Roosevelt circular is getting wide distribution in New York and will probably be the most widely distributed since Roosevelt's directorship in the Consolidated Automatic Merchandising Corp. in 1928. His name appears on the company's majority of that date.

THE PROSPECT: The prospect paints a glowing picture of the New Deal. The company last month heavily for five consecutive years and then went into receivership. The interference with the strength of Mr. Roosevelt's connection with the company. He is "shaded" with truth in securities. It ends up by showing that the company's majority of that date.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG (NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS)

PHILADELPHIA By RAY TUCKER: Franklin D. Roosevelt will be defeated for reelection, if he inhabits the White House for another four years. He will be because of the voters—whom his enemies have made here and elsewhere.

Behind and behind the Democratic confident prediction of November victory is the admission that the G.O.P. might work a miracle, with the help of a combination of allies. The Democrats are to be the Democrats, but admit it, the quiet showmanship of Alf Landon.

But plans are under way to nail the protest of the Liberty League against FDR's nomination. According to talk in hotel lobbies, Justice Cohan, who signed the Smith-Cobley telegram, is Father Coughlin's legal adviser in New York City. He says they have legal and political evidence that Mr. Cohan is closely associated with the Detroit press.

Whereas he intended to pursue a middle-of-the-road line, he will now seek the vote of the under-dog. He will pitch his appeal to the man on relief and to the folks whose maximum income is less than $1,000 a year. He will appeal against the classes, even more than before.

What has happened since the Democrats gathered here at the assembly of several thousands of delegates is that they have decided to support a stable third party, the warning of a Democratic wallow, the danger of a serious split in the ranks of the Democrats in the person of Governor Landon.

Incidentally, the ferry musicians are no longer the feisty, forlorn underdogs whose pluck has inspired "The Good Old Summer Time." "Sidelwails of New York" and "old fashioned" tunes are the only tunes which economically have given the ferries rich of symphony orchestra calibre. Experts who can play the standard and classical repertoire on the bridge strata was first to discover the isolation that a ferry ride gave.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. MONTYRE

NEW YORK, June 25—Thoughts while strolling: No matter that the two sides of the street are in a row, everybody wants to cross in a Zip. Robert Woolsey doesn't smoke a cigar, but he smokes a pipe.

Who looks like a robber? Not a fellow with a white shirt and a white tie, but a fellow with a white shirt and a white tie, but a fellow with a white shirt and a white tie.

For the Look the Same as They Did 18 Years Ago: Club, Col. Joe Kelly, who was in the army during the war, is a little different from the one who was in the army during the war.

Lower Manhattan has an Evening Guild of Ferryboat Riders. They are mostly men who live in the upper part of the city and who take the ferry to work.

Incidentally, the ferry musicians are no longer the feisty, forlorn underdogs whose pluck has inspired "The Good Old Summer Time." "Sidelwails of New York" and "old fashioned" tunes are the only tunes which economically have given the ferries rich of symphony orchestra calibre.

Guiding Your Child

By ALICE CLARIBBA RICHMOND

One of the commonest accidents of the home is a burn. Even with all the modern conveniences and safety first appliances, children continue to fall or run into stoves and fires, to touch kettles of boiling liquid, and to get their clothes on fire.

FLORA or tannic acid ointments are the most effective application. If they are not at hand, olive oil, lard, or a paste made of soda bicarbonate and water will do very well. A layer of sterile gauze over this, held down with a loose bandage or some strips of adhesive will keep the burn from becoming infected.

TEXT OF PLATFORM

housing for people of meagre income. We believe every encouragement should be given to the building of new homes by private enterprise; and that the government should extend its housing program to those who are unable to obtain housing for those forced through economic necessities to live in unhealthy conditions.

(7) We shall continue our treatment to our war veterans and their dependents. For the establishment of a democracy of opportunity:

Agriculture: We have taken the farmers off the road to ruin. We have kept our pledges to agriculture to use all available means to raise farm income toward its pre-war purchasing power. This farmer is no longer suffering from fifteen-cent corn, three-cent hogs, two and one-half cent beef at the farm, five-cent wool, thirty-cent wheat, five-cent cotton and three-cent sugar.

By rational legislation we have reduced the farmers' indebtedness and doubled his net income. In cooperation with the states and through the farmers' own committees, we are restoring the fertility of his land and checking the erosion of his soil. We are bringing electricity and good roads to his home.

Continuing Payments We will continue to improve the soil conservation and domestic allotment program with payments to farmers. We will continue a fair-minded administration of agricultural laws, quick to recognize and meet new problems and conditions. We recognize the gravity of the evils of farm tenancy, and we pledge the full cooperation of the government in the restoring of farm tenancies at the lowest possible rates of interest and over a long term of years.

Rural Rehabilitation We favor encouragement of sound, practical farm cooperatives. We favor the acquisition of ten million acres of sub-marginal land, and assistance to those states which are unable to acquire it. We have made a good beginning toward proper land use and rural rehabilitation.

Business We have given the army of America's industrial workers something more substantial than the Republican party's pall of doom. We have increased the worker's pay and shortened his hours; we have undertaken to put an end to the sweating labor of his wife and children; we have written into the law of the land the right to organize, bargaining and self-organization free from the interference of employers; we have provided federal machinery for the peaceful settlement of labor disputes.

Business We have taken the American business man out of the red. We have saved his bank and given it a sounder foundation; we have extended credit; we have lowered interest rates; we have undertaken to free him from the ravages of cut-throat competition.

Business We have aided youth to stay in school; given them constructive occupations; opened the door to opportunity which twelve years of Republican neglect had closed. Our youth have been returned to the road to freedom and prosperity. We will keep them on that road.

Monopolies Monopolies and the concentration of economic power; the creation of a Republican rule and privilege; continue to be the master of the producer, the exploiter of the consumer, and the enemy of the independent operator. This is a problem challenging the conscience of every citizen of the United States. We pledge vigorously and fearlessly to the people of the United States the restoration of the existing anti-trust laws, and to the extent that their effectiveness has been weakened by new corporate devices, judicial construction, we propose by law to restore their efficacy in stamping out monopolistic practices and the concentration of economic power. Aid In Disasters We have aided and will continue to aid those who have been visited by widespread drought and floods and have adopted a nation-wide flood-control policy.

Unemployment We believe that unemployment is a national problem, and that it is an encyclopaedic obligation of our government to meet it in a national way. Due to our stimulation of private business, more than five million people have been unemployed.

Government Finance The administration has stopped deflation, restored values and enabled business to go ahead with confidence. When national income airtight, government is impelled. In reviving national income, we have raised the public credit to a position of unsurpassed security.

Government Expenses We are determined to reduce the expenses of government. We are being aided therein by the curbing of unemployment. The requirements of relief decline and national income advances, an increasing percentage of federal expenditures are met by current receipts.
