Landon Declares for Payments to Farmers For Soil Conservation

Republican Presidential Nominee Drafts Farm Program In Conference With Frank O. Lowden

(By The Associated Press) TOPEKA, Kas., July 9.—An agreement that farmers should be paid bonuses for soil conserving practices emerged today from a conference between Governor Alf M. Landon and Frank O. Lowden on 1936 campaign issues.

For more than two hours, the Republican presidential nominee talked with the veteran Illinois leader. At the conclusion, Lowden told a press conference they were "agreed" on a farm program and in their views on concentration of power in Washington and the "awful extravagance in government, something over which all our people are aroused."

"Will you campaign for Governor Landon?" Lowden was asked. "I will be right with you, whether I will travel much but I will make some speeches."

Outlook "Very Hopeful" Lowden added his belief that the outlook for a Landon-Knox victory was "very hopeful."

"People believe in him," he said, with a gesture toward Landon. "We agreed that to get into the nature of permanent grasses, Lowden replied, 'bonuses would have to be paid and the country would benefit. Is that correct, governor?'"

"That's right," Landon said. "Would that be a permanent program?" Lowden was asked. Lowden replied, "I don't know."

Before Landon and Lowden met today, the special session of the legislature completed the Landon program of approving two proposed social security amendments to the constitution amid a bitter political dispute.

LIGHTS AND SHADOWS In Day's Events

(By The Associated Press) Tired of "Shakes" — "Shakes" is the name of a new house of prostitution in the city. Commissioner Frank J. Hartman says they're tired of having the "shakes."

Keynote addresses, they said, have been rattling wire, shaking beds and knocking pictures and mirrors off the walls for the last several months.

Hartman, director of public works, said the new Delaware river bridge transit line, seven blocks away, may have something to do with it.

Whose Music? — BROCKTON, Mass. — Popular tunes drifted into the open windows of District Judge Stewart B. McLeod's courtroom.

"This smacks of contempt of court," the judge said as he halted the song and ordered Court Officer John Romanus to stop the music.

When Judge McLeod asked Romanus where it came from he replied: "From your car outside, your honor. You forgot to turn off your radio."

Burglar Takes Alarm — AUGUSTA, Ga. — T. A. Sublett of Belton, S. C., had an automobile protected by a burglar alarm.

He still has the automobile. Someone stole the burglar alarm yesterday.

Sanctuary in Jail — SALT LAKE CITY — Mary Barker, 70, is dead. Twenty-seven years ago she entered the jail voluntarily to cure a thirst for liquor.

Compensation — SUPERIOR, Wis. — Frank Meyer wasn't happy when his automobile became stuck in the red clay along the Nemadji river. He was later, though.

He got a shove and started to die out. The shove struck Meyer's metal. Out of the clay he pulled—a chain. He took it to a jeweler who said it was antique.

Young Slayer Faces Firing Squad Execution

LOSING A FIGHT which extended over six years, Delbert Green (upper left), convicted Utah murderer, was ordered to face execution by a firing squad of five men at the Utah state prison at 5 o'clock this morning. Here is an artist's conception of how Green was to be shot in the prison yard. As sheriff of Davis county, where the crime was committed, Joseph Holbrook (upper right) was named to take charge of the execution and name the firing squad. (AP Photos)

LAST HOPE FADES FOR UTAH SLAYER

Governor Refuses to Halt Firing Squad Execution of Delbert Green

SALT LAKE CITY, July 9 (AP)—Triple slayer Delbert Green abandoned all hope tonight of escaping a Utah firing squad at dawn.

"I'm taking a town from Utah state penitentiary."

"If by killing the town of Utah take my life would bring back my loved ones I would gladly say go ahead," wrote the 28-year-old convict who in 1930 killed his girl-father, his mother and her foster-father in jealous rage.

"But this can't be. And I do not to do this—remember firing a single shot."

Only Prayer Left — The governor made plain there would be no further move and (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

SEATTLE, July 9 (AP)—The state bar association's legislative committee today recommended the whipping post as punishment for crimes of violence and those in which the victims are menaced by firearms.

A. F. L. SHUBBED BY LABOR LEADER

Lewis Ignores Summons and Talks Politics With Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Refused again by John L. Lewis, insurgent United Mine Workers' leader, President William Green tonight defended the American Federation of Labor's organization policy and spoke anew of a hope for closing the breach.

He said the issue of industrial as opposed to craft unions had been misrepresented.

Lewis, leader of the "red union" forces which contend all workers in an industry should join one big union, regardless of craft or trade, ignored Green's summons to appear before the federation's executive council to answer charges which may result in suspension of his faction.

He went, instead, to the White House to talk politics with the president.

Green still hopes Lewis and his allies in 11 other unions have been accused of "dual (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

POLICE DISPERSE SPOKANE PICKETS

Strikers Retire Upon Officers' Arrival at Sash-Plant

SPOKANE, July 9 (AP)—Police were called to picket lines for the second time today in the strike of Spokane union sawmill workers.

Three officers went to the White Pine sash plant after an estimated 50 pickets attempted to interfere with a crew of 10 men who were repairing a motor.

Police Sergeant Leo Markwood said the strikers retired upon the officers' arrival, leaving the workers. Police entered the strike for the first time when a truck knocked over a picket.

"This strike has only begun," declared A. W. DeWitt, president of the central labor council. The morale of the strikers is wonderful, considering this is the first strike many of the men have experienced."

He said Leo Flynn, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, since July 1, has been in the field to bolster the striking union's strength.

Picket Forces Doubled — Striking millworkers doubled their pickets today and announced their number had grown from 100 to "between 200 and 300."

Mill operators insisted the strikers' strength was diminishing, and that a majority of employees of the Washington Sash and Door company had voted to return to work.

The men demand higher wages and a closed shop in all mills in this vicinity. Workers have walked from their jobs in seven mills.

Government Aid Gets Under Way

CHICAGO, July 9.—Sizzling heat which for seven days has plagued the plains states rolled eastward today, boosting the death-toll of the current torrid spell to 245 as it continued to smother hot weather records.

Scattered parts of the drought-battered middle west welcomed rain, but crop experts said it was insufficient to forestall further damage to fields and meadows.

Merciless heat beat down on the eastern seaboard, where weather forecasters saw "little relief" imminent. An all-time record of 102.3 was reached in New York City.

Flow in Michigan Properly named in Michigan was increased by two fires reported to be raging in national forests on the upper peninsula. Timber in Wisconsin, Minnesota and states further west was reported under fire from the blazes and in Nebraska a fire finished a week in which the temperature rose to 100 daily.

New York City, where an all-time record of Philadelphia persisted in 101 degree heat. Napoleon, N. D., reported an official temperature of 109.

Showers in Drought Belt — In the drought belt, precipitation ranging from a trace at Rapid City, S. D., to 2.4 inches at Chicago, Ill., stirred hopes for rain and forage crops. Devils Lake in North Dakota, a part of which has been designated as "drought emergency" areas, got a substantial 1.48 inch fall. Workers there have walked from their jobs in seven mills.

They weren't enough, said forecasters. The Red Bluff of the weather bureau station here. He said that while more rains were sighted for North Dakota, parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin and upper Michigan tonight or tomorrow, they would have a material effect on the general drought.

Storm Breaks Free — EPICUREAN, July 9.—Thirty-two new lightning set fires in North Idaho and western Montana were brought under control, United States forest service officials reported here tonight.

The first were set throughout the southern part last night. Watchmen said if the wind veers to the south or west an additional 15 million acres of timber may be in danger.

Several other ranches are located in this forest, he said. July 2000 workers fought the fire but were blocked by lack of water.

Black Hills' Worst Fire Burns Thousands of Acres

SUNDANCE, Wyo., July 9 (AP)—Destroying livestock, wild game and thousands of acres of valuable timber, a fire in its seventh year in this part of Wyoming raged through the Black Hills forest here today.

For a time 4000 workers were feared trapped in a wooded canyon in the fire area. The men managed to scramble to a bare knoll, however, and later reached safety.

Tim Cochran, veteran forest ranger, estimated the fire already has burned over 10 square miles.

Flames Near Ranches — Stockmen expressed fear an unestimated number of cattle and horses, grazing in forest meadow lands, have been lost.

The flames set their way close to several ranches, but previously drawn fire lines and trenches directed the blaze away from the buildings.

A break wind was blowing from the southwest this afternoon. Cochran said if the wind veers to the south or west an additional 15 million acres of timber may be in danger.

Several other ranches are located in this forest, he said. July 2000 workers fought the fire but were blocked by lack of water.

Grazed Man Kills Self After Slaying Wife, Six Children and Roomer

INDIANA HARBOR, Ind., July 9 (AP)—Celestino P. Gonzalez, 36, apparently insane, was shot and killed by local police today after slaying his wife and six children with an axe, then shot and killed Jose Aro, a roomer in his home.

Gonzalez killed Aro in the locker room of the Inland Steel company, where both were employed, and then went to his home in the presence of several other employees.

No words were exchanged as Gonzalez walked up Aro, fired four shots in his body, and then turned the gun on himself. Both died instantly.

Police had some trouble identifying the two men and then learning their address.

Doors Locked — Finally they went to the Gonzalez room but found the door locked and left. Late this afternoon.

Congressional Bill Flies To Signatures

Jasper, Ala., July 9 (AP)—Ploved south by army transport plane, a bill passed by the last congress was signed here tonight by Speaker Charles McNary and started on its way to Uvalde, Texas, for the signature of Vice President Garner.

Planned by his home state, the signature of the bill was not signed at the end of congress, because of a mishap.

The measure acts up regulations for certifying witnesses before congressional bodies and provides for contempt citations in event witnesses fail to appear.

President Roosevelt was expected to sign the bill into law on his air journey back to Washington.

Dionnes Welcome Brother For Famous Quintuplets

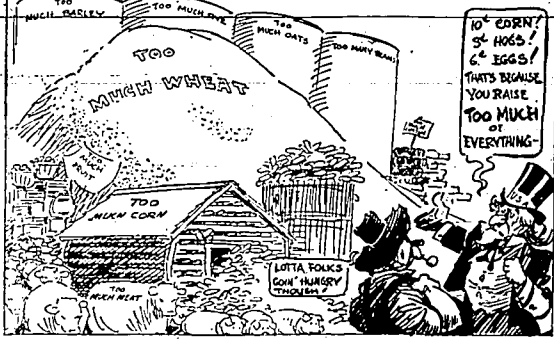

CALLANDER, Ontario, July 9 (AP)—It's a boy at the Dionnes—just one, this time. The family for the last time had a third boy.

Each Papa-Olivia Dionne and her wife, Edna, are well known in the north country and elsewhere, an extensive family of five boys and five girls was born at 3:25 a. m. today.

Girls went by before the new arrival became known. The new baby, eleventh of the living Dionne children, is the first boy in the family.

FIRE HAZES ELIHO FURNITURE STORE

Former Twin Falls Police Chief Estimates Damage at $15,000

ADAM FALLS, Friday, July 10.—A stubborn blaze which broke out in the Eliho Furniture and Upholstery store last night was brought under control early today.

Sam Wood, manager and former Twin Falls police chief, estimates the damage at approximately $15,000. Half of the damage was covered by insurance.

Protest action by firemen, although they were forced to battle without lights, confined the blaze to the first floor of the two-story structure. Occupants of a rooming house above the store watched the flames from their windows.

The fire set off ammunition valued at $1,000, but no one was injured. The pop-pop of the bullets caused the recent Fourth of July celebration.

D. W. Hendrix, Eliho's partner, said the store was started by a candle. The C. W. Mulhall, Inc., office on the same floor, was damaged by smoke.

ANOTHER OBJECTIVE

John D. Rockefeller at the age of ninety-seven predicts that he will live to round out an even hundred years or more of life.

As a matter of fact there is no reason why he should not. Mr. Rockefeller is today as seriously engaged in the business of remaining alive as he used to be in the accumulation of his millions at the heyday of his career.

CANNED CIVILIZATION

A can factory is one of the most amazing sights of this industrial age, also a notable sign of the times. A recent magazine picture shows a factory with several enormous wheels, looking a little like ferris wheels only much more complicated, connected with long conveyor-belts, each of those lines turns out three hundred cans a minute.

It is hard to find out more of such plants as to be built. For the American people are now consuming twelve billion cans a year, nearly one hundred cans apiece, with the consumption steadily growing.

MY BOYS-A GENIUS! Mrs. Jones was convinced that her son Tom was a genius, and said she tried to get the best of education. No one, of course, was more eager to listen than Tom himself. She had a great time getting these pronouncements, but she was disappointed that Tom was brilliant when he chose to exert himself, and erratic and difficult to grade. He was "different." Of course, once he discovered that it was a characteristic trait of genius, he grew more different every day.

COCKER WITHDRAWS FROM SENATE RACE

Shoshone Man Makes Good Promise to Yield to Borah

Tracy Coker of Shoshone has withdrawn his candidacy for the United States senate nomination for the Republican nomination for United States senator since Senator Borah's announcement of candidacy for reelection. He announced here yesterday.

Instead the Shoshone man will seek reelection as state representative from Lincoln county.

Coker's statement said: "Mr. Borah having filed for the United States senate, I wish to announce my withdrawal. My original statement was that I would run in Mr. Borah's stead if he did not run, but that I wish to choose to run myself instead for state representative from Lincoln county if my people wish me to do so. I have canvassed the county in past and am convinced they have done so wish. Accordingly I have filed so that the voters can express their wish in the August primary.

"As to Mr. Borah's candidacy, I believe that because of his experience, his past consistent efforts and accomplishments in behalf of the people of Idaho, that our representation in Washington, D. C., can best be committed to his hands. Because of his past record, his evident sincerity and wisdom in social, economic, and political problems, I shall be for him, first, last and all the time. I reserve to myself, however, my own interpretation of issues. I shall fight for Borah as all good Idaho citizens should because we all know that in the short-drun, but will be for what is the best interests of us all, and because we know he can do more for us than any, or all of the other candidates."

On grounds of alleged cruelty and inhumanity, Mrs. Vesta Graybeal started suit in the district court here yesterday for divorce from George Graybeal to whom she was married at Ogden, Utah, February 23, 1927. He asked also for custody of their three children, 5 to 12 years old—two of her two children by a former marriage, 9 and 12 years old. Chapman and Chapman of Twin Falls are her attorneys.

ROSS FACES HOT PRIMARY CONTEST

New Entrant to Give Governor Battle, Chapman Predicts

Governor O. Ben Ross of Idaho has met vigorous opposition in the primary election contest for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, Orr Chapman, Twin Falls attorney, and a member of Idaho's delegation at the Democratic national convention, said on return last evening from Philadelphia.

"I have been happy to learn since my return that Governor Ross will have vigorous opposition in the nomination for senator," Mr. Chapman said. "I am not at liberty to say who the opposing candidate will be and I can say that he is a man of outstanding ability and character, and one whom the Democrats should be proud to rally about."

The nomination of the new candidate, making a three-cornered contest among Ross, Leslie Aker of Boise and the as yet unannounced candidate, will be filed Saturday, Mr. Chapman said.

Philadelphia's hospitality came to warm praise by the Twin Falls delegate to the national convention.

Harmonious Delegation "We had very harmonious delegation," he declared. "There was no dissent among the as yet unannounced, notwithstanding. Every vote in every caucus was unanimous."

The outstanding feature of the convention, Mr. Chapman said, was the president's acceptance of his re-nomination at Franklin field the last day of the convention. An enthusiastic crowd overflowed seating accommodations for 140,000 persons and jammed all available standing room.

Throughout the east, Mr. Chapman said, he found "the big boys are bitter against President Roosevelt, but the average citizen, regardless of politics, seems to be for him."

Returning from the convention, Mr. Chapman, who was accompanied by Mrs. Chapman and their daughter, Miss Olivia, visited in Washington and Chicago, and was guest for four days in Sidney, Ohio, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Cummings, former Twin Falls residents.

Between Chicago and Cheyenne, Mr. Chapman said, they encountered extremely warm weather, although crops in the regions of Iowa and Nebraska, that they traversed did not seem to be badly damaged.

EX-SENATOR WINS FIGHT FOR DIVORCE

Spokane Court Partially Sustains Dill's Charges Against Wife

Spokane, July 9.—Former Senator Clarence O. Dill today won his sensational fight for a divorce from the wealthy Rosalie Jones but the court held "incompetent" his charge that his wife was a political liability.

Superior Judge W. A. Hunka, who handed down the decision, also ruled that Dill need not pay $40,000 which Mrs. Dill, former suffragist "spearhead" gave him during their nine years of married life.

Judge Hunka held "incompetent and immaterial" Dill's charges that his wife was a "filthy housekeeper, a slovenly dresser and an outspoken political foe of President Roosevelt."

"Naturally, I'm pleased," said Dill, in "I'm pleased" the decision was handed down.

Leaves With Regret Mrs. Dill herself a lawyer with five college degrees, said she does not thank the court for its consideration of the case, and counsel for her preparation prior to the trial.

"Everyone has been so courteous and friendly to me during my years in the state of Washington that it is with regret I am returning to my eastern home (New York)."

Judge Hunka sustained Dill's allegation that Mrs. Dill called the senator "a crook and a coward" at the 1922 convention, and that it constituted cruelty.

MURDER TONIGHT

BY LAURENCE W. MEYNELL

SYNOPSIS: Inspector Hyton has had the surprising experience of having a perfectly good clue evaporate on him. He has thought Lumsdale's mysterious disappearance from the Post Office must have had something to do with the still more mysterious death of Arthur Burdett. One of the parcels contained was post cards. Dale Shipley is still under suspicion, and now Mrs. Reeves, Hyton and Irish, seems Blawie under a cloud. Nevertheless, Lumsdale, who was the murdered man's servant, is not entirely out of the woods.

Lumsdale nodded. "All right, Mister Hyton."

Twenty minutes later Kinsey Hyton was being smiled at by the maid at Fernay House. Yes, Mrs. Reeves was in, and the Captain would be pleased to come in.

The inspector found Captain Reeves and his wife sitting in the drawing room with a copy of "Hunt and Hunt" open between them. Mrs. Reeves gave the inspector an affable welcome; the Captain looked at him and grunted.

"Hyton, refused the offer of tea."

"No; no tea, thank you, I've come on business."

"About old Burdett?" Reeves asked.

"About the murder."

"Then in that case my wife better leave us."

"I rather she didn't. It's Mrs. Reeves that I want to see at the moment."

"And what the devil do you suppose a woman can have to do with that business?"

"Pat, please—" Nellie Reeves put in.

Chapter 22 THE REEVES

Except as curiosities the photographs could hardly be said to interest him. In his time, in Paris, he had seen a great deal of all the Marcellis. He had come across some pretty filthy representations, but he had never seen one of the old fashioned kitchen of Enderston Court. He felt slightly sick.

"What's all this?" he asked.

"The post cards have had anything to do with me," Lumsdale said so earnestly as to carry conviction. "I'll swear to that on oath. Those are what the old fool used to like to look at. I had to get them for him. When I first came here he told me that he had important parcels come from the room—Paris they came from—and he wanted me to give the name of Langley at the Post Office and collect anything at all."

"At first I thought it was all right, but after a bit I saw one or two of these things about and I soon found out. Well, I'm the old fool. I lost my job by refusing to get them from the Post Office; but when the business happened on Monday and I had to give a 'frightful' list of what I was doing, I left out my visit to the Post Office. It didn't have anything to do with the murder, and I thought if you found out about it I'd get into trouble."

Hyton thought for a moment. "What are these filthy things doing in the kitchen?" he asked suddenly.

"Well, ah don't suppose you'll be 'lerv about that, Mister, but this is the way it came back on Monday and found the old boy dead about the first thing I thought about was these here photographs. I thought 'Bollocks! search every thing in this room, bound to, and then it'll get out about the old fool having 'em.' Somehow I didn't like to think of the old boy ever going down to take the Sergeant I cleared the drawers-out and brought 'em here."

"Why didn't you burn 'em?"

"I'm going to, Mister; but I hadn't seen 'em all, and ah suppose a man's human like everybody else."

"Stick to the fire, mister," Hyton ordered curtly. "It makes me all ashamed to be human when I see stuff like that."

"Lumsdale obediently gathered the mass of pornography together and fed the flames with it. Hyton watched the process in silence and when it was over asked abruptly, "Did Mrs. Reeves ever come here?"

"Once or twice she did."

"And her husband?"

"I've never known him come."

"Um," The Inspector got up and mopped for the door, but before he reached it he turned round.

"Now look here, Lumsdale," he said, "you're still in a nasty position, and if you want to get out of trouble just go on telling the truth. Do you get that?"

A somewhat chastened Andrew

SICK!

IS THE YOUNGEST SERIOUSLY ILL?

THE DOLAN BOY TOLD ME ABOUT IT—AND HE WAS VERY EXCITED!

SEND THE BEST DOCTOR YOU HAVE! I'LL HAVE A PLANE WAITING FOR HIM WHEN HE GETS TO THE FLYING FIELD!

NOTHING IS TOO GOOD FOR RICHARD TRELAWNEY STEBBINS!

I KNOW JUST HOW YOU FEEL!

WELL, HERE WE ARE—MY DEARS—I'VE HAD THESE COSTUME DOLLS ELITE DRESSED FOR DINNER!

HA-HA-HA! EXCUSE ME, BUT I CAN'T HELP LAUGHING AT THE WAY YOU GALS DRESSED FOR DINNER!

Pat, for heaven's sake don't make things more awkward than they are, his wife begged. "Go on, Mr. Hyton, we may as well get this over, what is it you want?"

"Have you ever been to Enderston Court, Mrs. Reeves?"

Nellie Reeves darted a distressed look across the room at her husband before answering. "Yes—I have—twice."

"Were you there on Monday the 18th?"

"I don't know." Hyton let that pass for the moment. "Tell me," he said, "were these walls of yours at the Court just in the ordinary way of social calls?"

Again that troubled look came across the room.

"I really don't see that you can pry into private business like that," Reeves broke in angrily, and almost as abruptly his wife answered, "Oh, Pat, for goodness sake let's get the wretched thing cleared up and done with."

"Not a bad idea," Hyton concurred. "Do you mind if I smoke?"

"Sorry—where are the cigars, Pat?"

"No thanks. I'll have one of these," carefully he selected and lit one of his thin cigars. "How let's have it, Mrs. Reeves," he urged.

"Well, it's a beauty story, though of course, in a way, it had nothing to do with me. The secretary of the poultry and damage fund in the Hunt, and of course a good deal of the land we hunt over belongs to old Burdett."
