Ross Sends Troops To Clearwater After Bloody Strike Clash

Governor Orders Military Rule When Violence Flares As Timber Workers Attempt To Return To Jobs

(By The Associated Press) OROFINO, Idaho, Aug. 3.—National guardsmen moved into turbulent Clearwater county to establish martial law today after a bloody clash between striking logging pickets and a truckload of workers who were returning to jobs in defiance of the strike.

Governor C. B. Ross ordered military rule after five strikers were brought to the hospital here with bullet wounds and one of seven beaten woodsmen was hospitalized. The governor said he took the action at the request of Sheriff J. C. Wilson.

Prosecutor Samuel L. Swanney of Clearwater county.

Ninety guardsmen under command of Colonel F. C. Hummel, of Boise, were ordered to mobilize and proceed to the area.

Further bloodshed must be prevented, declared Governor Ross at Boise. "I believe the men sent there will be able to restore order, if necessary, I will detail additional troops."

Flaunting Authority

The governor said Sheriff Wilson wired him that "large bodies of men have been coming together, and are flaunting the authority of the law," adding that he "expects further violence from ambush, by reason of the high feeling existing in said strike areas."

County officers and state patrolmen, with the governor's personal representative, Captain W. H. Abendroth, investigated today all angles of the disturbances here and at other places. Headquarters of the I.W.O. were searched, affecting an estimated 2,500 men.

Beaten With Chains

A. L. Brice, who was treated at the hospital, said he and six other workers were dragged from their trucks and beaten with chains. The official report of Olin Sullivan, one of the workers, was recovering there from a severe beating. Brice said they shot in self-defense.

H. G. Snyder, operator of the hotel at Pierce, headquarters of the strikers, said that leaders who investigated the shooting told him the pickets had let a truckload of workers go through after an argument, but were suddenly fired upon as they left.

Two strikers and seven workers were reported arrested by sheriff's officers. No charges were filed today.

The clash was the first in the region since an estimated 2,500 log-

PRESIDENT OKAYS FARLEY CAMPAIGN

Roosevelt Gives Approval to Arrangements for Re-Election Drive

JAYVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 3.—The Democratic national committee today approved President Roosevelt's official OK to arrangements to conduct an aggressive campaign for his re-election.

National Committee Chairman James A. Farley told reporters: "I reported we are prepared to conduct an aggressive campaign from now until November. We are not losing any time. We're ready to go."

Stephen T. Early, one of the Roosevelt secretaries, said the president had approved these arrangements.

Farley said campaign plans had not been discussed down to minor details but only in a general way, and there was no talk of when or to what extent the president personally would plunge into the drive.

Confers With Wallace

Early said the president talked over the drought situation with Secretary Wallace and Chester Davis, former A.A.A. member, and as a result Mr. Roosevelt may advance the time for a projected general survey of the effects of the drought in several states and the progress of steps under way to help farmers in the stricken areas.

That would mean, Early said, that a swing through regions in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Connecticut swept by floods last spring would be "somewhat postponed."

Asked about plans for presidential political speeches, Early replied there was "nothing imminent." He said the drought state tour would be "non-political."

LIGHTS and SHADOWS In Day's Events

(By The Associated Press) Out of Range—NEW YORK—The drought hasn't bothered Mrs. Regina J. Pitt, fifteen-year-old penniless farmer. Fifteen floors above the street she expects to harvest a bumper crop of raisins in dirt on a terrace.

At least 30 ears of Golden Bantam sweet corn will be ready to eat next month.

Her radishes, scallions, string beans and peas already have gone to the dining table.

Firemen's Mistake—AVERILL PARK, N. Y.—Volunteer firemen are considering replacing the fire bell with a siren. The bell was sounded at 6 p. m. the other day, but no one showed up to fight the fire.

Pierce D. Kane, president of the volunteers, said they all thought the bell was the angelus in a church.

Ice for Incubators—KINGMAN, Kas.—The July heat here was so bad a baby chick hatching failed to help hatch a brood. Hatching was not covered successful at temperatures above 100 degrees and when the mercury rose to 105, the heat was turned off. The hatchlings were large blocks of ice near the incubators. It worked.

C. M. T. C. Loads Idaho Youth Down With Medals

PORT DOUGLAS, Utah, Aug. 3.—The broad chest of Max B. Domina, Aberdeen, Idaho, was a symbol of medals and ribbons today.

At a review marking the close of the 30-day summer military training camp for 350 youth of Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Nevada, officers had difficulty finding a place for the star-struck boy.

Among them were Vernon W. Pickett, of Boise, best company commander, and Robert J. Abbey of Idaho, high point scorer.

JOBLESS ARMY'S LEADERS DEMAND BIG RELIEF FUND

Employees of Pennsylvania's Senate Rip Down Signs Calling Upon Workers to 'Fight for Your Rights'

(By The Associated Press) HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 3.—Employees of the state senate ripped down banners of the "jobless army" late today, while leaders of the pickets rallied reinforcements for a last ditch fight for $100,000, 000 relief.

Officials of the senate said the streamers and flags, bearing "empty" painted signs calling upon the workers to "fight for your rights" and "to fight the rich and feed the poor," and a variety of appeals and threats, were removed because the 14-week special session is to end this week.

They pointed out that the assembly is pledged to a $300,000,000 tax program of which $65,000,000 would be spent for relief.

Leaders Seize Notice

However, leaders of the jobless army said they would ignore the notice. They would insist on $100,000,000 in relief for every one of the state's more than 600,000 unemployed. That would be about twice as much as they now receive.

The unemployed said they would picket the senate with "new vigor." For almost two weeks, several hundred men, women and a dozen or more small children have "occupied" the senate gallery, dividing their time between singing and cheering, and jeering and booing the senators.

HAMILTON POINTS TO FOOD IMPORTS

Republican Chairman Assails New Deal's Record in Agriculture

BISMARCK, N. D., Aug. 3.—John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, said in an address tonight the American people took their first step toward recovering "control of their government" when Governor Alf Landon of Kansas was nominated for the presidency.

On the first leg of an aerial tour of 15 western states, Hamilton chose his Bismarck address to challenge the Democratic administration's claims of service to the farmers.

Assailing Governor Landon, he nominated on the farms of America, the Republican campaign leader said:

"It is not surprising the American farmer has turned from an administration pledged to restore the American market to the American farmer that at the end of three and one half years has the following record:

"An increase in the volume of food imports amounting to 41 per cent in the case of crude foodstuffs and 100 per cent in the case of foodstuffs, an increase in the volume of wheat from 3,000 bushels in 1932 to over 7,000,000 in 1935, and of corn from 34,000 bushels to over 42,000,000 bushels in the same period.

Exports Decrease

"A decrease from 1932 to 1935 in our exports of wheat by 99 per cent, of flour by 42 per cent, of lard by 82 per cent and of meat products by 10 per cent."

Hamilton, referring to the administration's reciprocal trade agreements, said the farmer was the most vitally interested party, but was excluded from the negotiations.

"Again the American farmer does not object to any reasonable policy

Rebels Lay Claim To Loyalist Desertions

WITH THE SPANISH REBEL ARMY AT BURGOS, Aug. 3.—(AP)—The rebel insurgents asserted tonight "the beginning of the end" of Spain's rebellion had come as desertions from the loyal forces entered the rebel lines at Burgos, 40 miles north of Madrid.

Rebel officers said nearly 1,000 civil guards who previously had been on the side of the government, had joined the insurgent armies since Friday.

FOREST AND BRUSH FIRE—SWEEPERS NEVADA RANCH, RENO, Nev., Aug. 3.—Fanned by a brisk wind, a forest and brush fire raged uncontrolled over a section of the Helms ranch, 15 miles northwest of Reno, today.

Two small cabins were destroyed and the fire threatened a portion of the Western Pacific railroad right-of-way along that company's branch line to Reno.

Actress Seeks Daughter's Custody

Other Man Figures In Actress' Battle

Mary Astor, Seeking Custody Of Her Child, Bares Story Of Unhappy Marriage

(By The Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—Willington into one small corner of the witness chair and visibly upset by a relentless cross-examination, Mary Astor uttered two sensational statements today about George S. Kaufman, Broadway playwright.

She was testifying in her battle with her divorced husband, Dr. Franklin Thorpe, for custody of their 4-year-old daughter, Marylyn.

"Isn't it a fact," asked Attorney Joseph Anderson, "that the reason you let the divorce go by default was because you were in love with a man by the name of George S. Kaufman?"

"It is not a fact," the film actress retorted, her trained voice hitting the "not" like a hammer.

And then, hours later, she was asked, "what was said at the first discussion between you and Dr. Thorpe about seeing George Kaufman?"

"I told him," she replied, wearily. "You know George Kaufman has nothing to do with this divorce. You've known about George Kaufman since last fall. We've been living together since. You condoned it."

Adjournment came a moment later.

One of the high points of the argument.

WIFE-SLAYER DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Former Choir Singer Executed for 'American Tragedy' Murder

BOSTON, Aug. 4 (Tuesday) (AP)—Nellie Palmer Sherman, 27, died in the electric chair in State prison shortly after midnight today in the "American tragedy" slaying of his wife.

The 240-pound former choir singer was pronounced dead at 12:30 p. m., seven minutes after he was led into the execution chamber.

He died without a word.

July 20, 1935, in some of the same manner as the leading character in Theodore Dreiser's noted novel, he overtook a canoe in Lake Singaug, near Worcester, and shoved his wife, Alice, 22, who could not swim, to her doom.

He did it, he confessed, for love of a 17-year-old Esther McGill, with whom he worked.

Sherman shuffled to the chair. His eyes remained downcast. The Protestant chaplain of the prison, the Rev. William Hardly Whitney, preceded the six foot, four inch tall, domineering man.

As the chaplain intoned the 2nd psalm, "The Lord is my shepherd," Sherman said, "I am a sinner."

RITES HELD FOR MURDER VICTIM

Accused Hatchet-Slayer Denied Permission to Attend Funeral

BAYONNE, N. J., Aug. 3.—A clergyman prayed tonight for the soul of Mrs. Helen Mae Knight, victim of a hatchet slaying, while a vendor dealt a brisk business in hot dogs and soda pop among the crowds outside the chapel and a man next door turned a job on treasurers.

Glady MacKnight, the woman's 17-year-old daughter, and Donald Wigham, her 18-year-old sweetheart, charged with murder, remained in cells in Hudson county jail in Jersey City. The girl wanted to attend the funeral, but the prosecutor forbade a "public show."

Fathers of both young persons had visited them in tearful scenes during the day. Later Edgar W. MacKnight, cable company official, sent his daughter another message as he prepared for the funeral of his wife.

It was delivered by the girl's lawyer, who said it was:

"Do not stultify the blame on someone who was not culpable."

Americans Given New Warnings to Quit Spain's Soil

Embassy Urges U. S. Citizens To Take Advantage Of Still Open Railway Line To Valencia

Rebels and Loyalists Mass in North

(By The Associated Press) While Spain's civil war raged in the north last night for a major offensive, the American embassy urged citizens desiring to leave Madrid to take advantage of the still open railway line to Valencia.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull dispatched a warning from Washington that conditions might develop which would make it impossible to remove nationals to safety. United States citizens in Spain must themselves assume responsibility if they continue to remain.

Only a few of the 74 still housed in the embassy desired to leave, however, despite assurances three British ships were waiting in the Valencia harbor to remove all foreigners.

Doth rebel and loyalist forces were concentrating in the San Sebastian and Zaragoza areas.

Pasctic troops hoped to capture San Sebastian to forestall attack from the rear when the war turns again toward Madrid. Loyalists claimed capture of La Zaida, near the rebel encampment at Zaragoza.

Mainland Positions

Pasctic left to maintain Guadarrama mountain positions, while larger forces turned to the north, headed for the town of Tudela, 12 miles from the capital, also was listed as rebel-held.

Loyalists summoned new recruits from nearby provinces to strengthen mountain troops and asserted other forces were pushing towards Seville in the southern sector.

Leftist warships bombed Ceuta, Morocco.

France, watching with growing concern the battle on her southern frontier, hinted she might deliver arms to the leftist government.

Spain's neutral position toward neutrality proposal with Great Britain and Italy is received quickly.

Acceptance of the agreement, informed sources are said, was expected tomorrow from Great Britain but there was no indication when the Italian government would reply. It was believed they favored with any supplies.

France does not consider herself bound in any way to repulse Spanish forces for munitions, officials said, but prefer to enter an agreement with other nations against furnishing either rebels or loyalists with any supplies.

Labor Chief Urges Soviet Workers to Rally Financial Support

An armistice race, mutual suspicions and hatreds and failure of collective security and peace have brought about a situation which most statesmen declare is worse than that which plunged Europe into the first world war.

AMERICANS DOMINATE OLYMPIC CINDER PATH

United States Athletic Forces Amass 46 Points With Series Of Smashing Track Triumphs

Owens, Metcalfe And Helen Stephens In Spotlight

Record Ruled Out

(By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor)
BERLIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—American speed ruled the Olympic straightaway today with a succession of smashing triumphs down a rain-drenched stretch before the third straight biggest crowd of 100,000 spectators.

Officials of the International Amateur Athletic Federation ruled out Jesse Owens' world record-breaking performance of 10.3 seconds yesterday, deciding there was too much of a favorable wind, but they could keep the brown buckeye bullet from capturing the 100-meter crown.

Owens achieved the first objective in his bid for three Olympic titles—he resumed the 100-meter run and the broad jump tomorrow—by beating Ralph Metcalfe, Chicago Negro, by meter (102.3 inches) in one of the Olympic standard-qualifying time of 10.3 seconds. Frank Wykoff, Carpenter, was fourth among the six finalists.

The Negro star, shared speed honors with the 10-year-old Fulton M. Helen Stephens, who twice shattered the listed world 100-meter record of 11.8 seconds.

She stepped the distance over a heavy track in 11.4 seconds in her first trial and then captured her second title in 11.5 seconds.

Completion of five men's events high jump, shot put, hammer throw, 100-meter and 200-meter—were the first two days found the Americans amassing 46 points, thirty of which were gained by Negroes.

The Germans showed 31 points, shading Finland by a point. The United States qualified all three entries in both the 400-meter low hurdle and the 800-meter flat race.

Owens' triumph of Greenwood, Miss., defending champion and holder of the Olympic and world marks, and Joe Patterson of the U. S. Naval Academy and Oklahoma State, were the only two in the semi-finals, while Dale Schöffel of the University of Wisconsin, who had also made the grade.

John Woodruff, University of Pittsburgh, and Herman Harkness, William of High Point, N. C., and respected Charles F. (Chuck) Hornbush of Evansville, Ind., were the only two in the semi-finals in which nine qualified for the final.

Harkness and Patterson won their heats respectively in 53.9 and 54.4 seconds, while Schöffel was clocked in 55.1 in running the 200-meter race.

The two teams will try their hand at the softball when they meet at Hansen's home in the seventh and eighth games.

Ray Impellittere Seeks Title Bout

Manager Ready to Offer Heavyweight Champ $250,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3 (AP)—A title match between champion James Braddock and Ray Impellittere in Los Angeles is the objective of Henry Lenny, manager of the "big boy" who left today for the southern California city to formulate plans for the proposed bout.

Lenny said he was prepared to offer Braddock $250,000 for a title fight in California. Impellittere asked a 10-round decision over Andre Leupke, French heavyweight, here last month.

Lenny said that when he left New York he had an understanding with Madison Square Garden officials to the effect that if the "imp" defeated Phil Brubaker, California heavyweight, he would develop his own match with Braddock. Leupke, conquered by Impellittere, held Brubaker to a draw.

Big Town Talks About 'Subway World Series' As Terrymen Make Bid

BY PAUL MICHELSON (Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Down the sports trail for a dash around the big league bases.

Stoney New York, the big town, where everyone is supposed to take things calmly, is excitedly talking about a "subway world series" again. The brawling Yankees look like they're in, while Bill Terry's Giants are driving down the stretch with a mad rush that's pushing them into serious consideration.

If you ask the Giants who the one man responsible for their turn of the tide, they'll tell you, lean, lanky, quiet Carl Hubbell. The Yankees will point to Lou Gehrig, a great star but an even greater hustler who has carried the added nickname of "Locomotive Lou."

Last spring in Florida, Hubbell told the sports writer he didn't think he could last much more in the big time because, he explained, everyone is learning to throw screwballs and the batters are getting used to them.

Hubbell has developed his own screwball in the last few days, and he's been hitting it with more accuracy than ever before. He's been hitting it with more accuracy than ever before.

Veteran Golfer Triumphs Over Ralph Guldahl In Playoff

SEATTLE, Aug. 3 (AP)—Scoring 10 birdies for a 65, MacDonald Smith, veteran golfer from Nashville, Tenn., and Glendale, Calif., today defeated Ralph Guldahl, St. Louis, by six strokes on the par 72 Inglewood course in the playoff for the $500 Seattle open championship and $1200 first money.

Although two under par himself with a 71, Guldahl was unable to beat the furious pace Smith set, largely through his deadly putter.

Smith bagged five birdies on each nine.

Second money of $750 went to the St. Louis star, western open champion, who tied with Smith at 65 yesterday to lead off the end of the 72 holes of regular play.

Smith gained a three stroke lead over Guldahl by a 32, five strokes under par on the first nine, and a half, three under par on the second nine.

Banker's Widow,
Daughter Win in Federal Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Lillie A. Helmer, widow of Charles H. Helmer, Idaho banker, was a winner today together with Ruby H. Adams, Helmer's daughter and administrator of his estate, in a suit brought by a banking trustee charging Helmer had fraudulently converted property to his wife before his death to avoid stockholder's liability.

Helmer owned stock in the First National bank of Twin Falls, Idaho, when it closed its doors December 3, 1931. In May 1927, and August, 1929, he had filed deeds conveying Jerome county, Idaho, real estate to his wife for a consideration of "at least love and affection."
