France Threatens To Quit Neutrality Drive If Italy Aids Rebels

Mussolini Completes Preparations For War While Declaring For United Policy Of Hands Off In Spain

(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

Raye of peace hopes from some of the world's capitals last night, pined the war clouds over troubled Europe. In Fascist Italy, Premier Mussolini's powerful war machinery was geared for any eventuality, but high sources said he was not seeking to cause a general European conflagration, wishing rather to force a united policy of hands-off in the Spanish strife.

The sympathies of his regime necessarily aligned with those of the Fascist rebels in Spain, the Duce was said by sources close to him to be amenable to a neutrality pact which would prevent France from materially aiding the loyalist Spanish government.

France's "popular front" government, containing many socialists, is of much the same complexion as the government at Madrid, and at Rome it was believed that the unyielding French aid to Madrid would seriously hurt the cause of the rebel Fascists.

SPAIN CIRCS FOR PROTRACTED WAR

Leaders Focus Anxious Eyes On Neutrality Moves Of European Powers

(Copyright, By Associated Press)

MADRID, Aug. 19.—Socialist government leaders tonight stirred the forces for a "serious, long war," and anxiously watched developments in the neutral countries. Government leaders kept silent on concrete evidence of French sympathy for their cause, but insisted Spain was justified in receiving aid from foreign powers in a civil war.

At the same time, high government sources said, and direct aid by a foreign power to the Fascist rebels would be considered a violation of international law serious enough to warrant submission before the League of Nations.

Federals Claim Victory

The government claimed a victory over the Fascists at the walled city of Avila, over 100 miles from Madrid, and asserted 500 rebels were killed or captured while six big guns were seized.

The rebels, the government declared, "surrendered" out of the city, which they had been holding, in an attempt to open a rebel line of escape to Portugal.

Transportation Asked

Within the city of Madrid, the Communist adherents to the loyalist cause asked for transportation of all civil industries into war industries.

LIGHTS and SHADOWS In Day's Events

(By The Associated Press)

Something Happened

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 19.—Forest ranger Howard A. Snyder reported this lightning strike.

"Lightning struck a tree about 30 feet from J. D. Farrell, a Negro, in Chocomauchee national forest. He was literally picked up from the ground, turned head over heels three times and set down on his feet headed in the opposite direction from that in which he was walking."

Somewhere Else

STANTON, Va.—One slinger was at the church to hear the Rev. Elmer D. Joy's sermon.

While the minister preached a short distance away, a thief stole a watch and other articles from his home. It was the second such robbery in the past month.

Anonymous Suits

TALLAS—John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, stayed in the Roosevelt suite at a hotel here last night but probably didn't know it.

Hotel authorities removed the plate from the door before he arrived.

That's Gratitude

OKLAHOMA CITY—John C. Campbell, president of a bank, was standing in front just after looking up for the day. An oil field worker walked up with a check in his hand and Campbell went inside and cashed it.

As they came out the fellow tossed a dime to the bank president, saying "Thanks a lot buddy, take this and buy yourself a cigar." Campbell said he did.

Pancakes' Lure Breaks 'Sit Down' Strike at County Home for Aged

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 19 (AP)—The appeal of old fashioned pancakes triumphed today over a sit-down strike among tobacco chewing residents of the Summit county home for the aged.

The Protestant bloc, voted at a 30 per cent turnout in tobacco chewing, inaugurated a "sit-down" in the home's laundry and fields yesterday.

KNOX AIMS SHAFTS AGAINST POLITICAL RULE OF BUSINESS

Vice Presidential Nominee Demands 'Fewer, Better Laws'; Attacks 'Cracking Down'

(By The Associated Press)

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 19.—Colonel Frank Knox, delivering his third campaign address as Republican vice-presidential candidate in a peeling shower, told an audience of merchants tonight that "the business of this country cannot be run from Washington."

Knox addressed business men of the United States Merchants' association composed of retailers from Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Virginia while rain drenched hundreds of his audience in the Hagerstown fair grounds.

Before the rain broke, John R. Fisher, president of the association, estimated the crowd at 60,000. Those in the covered grandstand looked while others scurried for cover.

Other estimates of the crowd ranged from 10,000 to 15,000.

Greeted With Cheers

Knox, grinning as the rain soaked his white linen suit, took refuge under a "great American" umbrella. Harry W. Nice, Republican chief executive of Maryland, and others on the open speakers platform, Knox drew applause when he demanded "fewer laws and better laws," and when he denounced "regimentation" and "cracking down."

His declaration that the federal government "cannot run business" also was greeted with whistles and applause.

Tribute to Ritchie

Knox paid tribute at the outset of his speech to a Democrat, the late Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, as a "great American" and declared: "While he was my political opponent, in the fundamental issues now before the nation, he would be no different from me."

Knox called for a government of "simplicity, economy, and certainty," and said that the time has come when this foolish notion that government can direct industry and control production and guarantee prices and future wages.

"After criticizing some of the Roosevelt administration's activities, particularly the new deal, and some WPA projects," Knox asserted that "free enterprise" was the "only system that will work."

Experiments Fail

"We have been giving the other systems a trial. We tried government regimentation, and we shall be years recovering from the experiment. We tried cracking down."

CORN QUOTATIONS SOAR AT CHICAGO

Pessimistic Drought News Pushes Values to Highest Point in Years

CHICAGO, Aug. 19 (AP)—Corn prices jumped to the highest peak since the post-war period today as weather bureau crop experts reported the drought was growing worse in the farm belt.

Quotations rose as high as $1.27 a bushel on the Chicago board of trade, again passing where in several of normal market conditions. The previous high was $1.17 in 1920, with an all-time record of $2.35 in August, 1917.

Corn futures, wheat, oats and rye hit 1936 highs in the wake of reports of continuing heat on western plains.

Although the weather bureau saw thunderstorms as possible relief for the Kansas and Oklahoma crop, the drought in the Atlantic under government orders during the civil war, took command of the ship and its remaining 34 passengers to night.

French port authorities said they were unable to determine whether the crew acted with or without the captain's consent.

Speeders Receive One Hour 'Term' In Florida Death Car

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 19 (AP)—Two men arrested for speeding at one hour each today in a badly wrecked automobile in which four persons recently were killed.

"See for yourselves what fast driving often results in," Judge J. Munsey Anderson told A. L. Chancey and H. A. Clarke as he sentenced them to pay $10 fines and meditate on speed for one hour in the death car.

The men raised no objection to the unusual sentence and made no comment when their hour was up. A crowd of curious persons gathered in the police station yard to watch.

Leftists Take Control Of Spanish Steamship

SAINT NAZAIRE, France, Aug. 19 (AP)—The leftist crew of the Spanish liner Cristobal Colon, which has been wandering in the Atlantic under government orders during the civil war, took command of the ship and its remaining 34 passengers to night.

French port authorities said they were unable to determine whether the crew acted with or without the captain's consent.

DROUGHT PROBES VOICE OPTIMISM

Touring Commission Finds 'Things Not as Bad as Expected'

SCOTT CITY, Kas., Aug. 19 (AP)—The president's drought commission came out of the dust bowl with the terse declaration, "things are not so bad as we had expected."

As the government men—studying the living conditions, G. L. Billings, Polatch manager, in a recent letter to Governor C. Ben Ross, said the commission "will prevent overreaching" and "will continue its policy (started last winter) of furnishing clean pillow slips and clean cotton blankets weekly." Billings wrote the commission "will continue" to make it possible for any man to keep clean who wants to keep clean.

Billings also assured the governor of the company's willingness to feed the hungry and to distribute relief to needy strikers.

The 137 strikers voting at the election today were about 100,000, remained, hence since the strike was called—time 23.

Threats Kept Leaders

The strike vote favored the ouster of six members of the Pierce and Orofino strikers' committee, including Roy Knier and Ryan Kyrer, chairmen. They were sent from the county to Lewiston, in Nez Perce county, by national guardsmen.

The vote followed the pronouncement of Blower at Spokane that "our men are going to stay on the job and elect new strike committees."

Under Martial Law

The guard, patrolling the area under a martial law proclamation issued by Governor C. Ben Ross, acted on orders of Colonel B. D. Hays of Boise.

Hays would not comment on the latest move in the 13-week-old fight of logging operations. At Spokane Blower said the official told strikers Sunday pressure was being brought on Governor Ross by Lewiston and Orofino chambers of commerce, and the Loyal Legion, Loggers and Lumbermen, a company union, to end the strike.

The strikers, estimated variously from 1,500 to 2,000, demand $3 a day minimum wages, improved housing, and the right to organize for union activity and eight-hour shifts.

Billings' General Manager

G. L. Billings, general manager of Polatch Forest, Inc., said in a recent letter to Governor Ross he was willing to concede several demands, including cleaner camps, and non-discrimination against strikers, but added: "The labor market would not permit a wage increase, nor a decrease in hours."

Only one picket line was operating as 35 guardsmen patrolled the strike area tonight. One near Orofino broke a strike leader's picket line when Colonel Hays ruled members of the I.W.W. could not occupy the line. Seven strikers have been permitted to picket main highways leading to the strike zone. Guardsmen have stood by halting all cars not having license in the area.

No Word From Hays

Governor said Colonel Hays agreed Sunday to present a list of demands to officials of the Polatch Forest.

Spokane men from inside the platform declared a "premature announcement" by the secretary of agriculture to increase offshore sugar quotas permitting additional importation of sugar from inside the platform and foreign countries had caused the price of sugar in this country to drop from $5 to $4.75 per 100 pounds. Growers there in the price of sugar under participating contract provisions.

Idaho Lumberjack Strikers Vote To Go Back To Work

Decision To End Walkout Comes As Surprise Following Troops' Expulsion Of I.W.W. Chieftains

Guardsmen Revert To First Intention

(By The Associated Press)

PIERCE, Idaho, Aug. 19.—Prospects of peace in strike-ridden Clearwater county brightened tonight as two sources reported a lumberjack strikers' vote of 120 to 18 to return to work.

Colonel S. D. Hays, commander of national guardsmen operating under a martial law proclamation in the county, and H. G. Snyder, proprietor of the Pierce hotel, the strikers' headquarters, reported the vote.

Spokesmen for the strikers could not be reached for comment, and P. E. Brown, a man of the I.W.W. strike committee, said at Spokane that he had not been informed of the ballot.

Snyder and the men agreed to drop demands for a pay increase and compromise on the demand for eight hours from camp to camp. He said the strikers agreed to yield on the point and make the trip from camp to work on their own time and the trip back to camp on company time.

Snyder said the men voted to accept what they understood as a 10 per cent wage increase, and to accept the Polatch Forest, Inc., operator of the county's largest sawmill, to provide free meals for strikers seeking employment, not to discriminate against strikers and to improve living conditions.

Living Conditions

Relatively to living conditions, G. L. Billings, Polatch manager, in a recent letter to Governor C. Ben Ross, said the commission "will prevent overreaching" and "will continue its policy (started last winter) of furnishing clean pillow slips and clean cotton blankets weekly." Billings wrote the commission "will continue" to make it possible for any man to keep clean who wants to keep clean.

Strategy, Not Cowardice, Dictates Coyote's Feeding-Ground Conduct

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Aug. 19 (AP)—A coyote that has been called a coward because each night he skirts the best-feeding grounds at Yellowstone Canyon without coming in to feed on the platform, has been found to be a cowardly after all, and certainly not dumb.

Park rangers, who wondered why the shifty animal came within sight every night, but never came close enough to eat, found out this week that the coyote works a little circuit of his own.

One or two of the black and gray sly bears who feed there have a habit of picking out a particularly appetizing chunk of meat, then snapping the timber where they feel they will not be molested. The minute they approach the timberline, they are followed by a quick slip as the bear's hind legs. Bewildered the bear turns to defend himself, but the coyote drops his prey upon him or skinks.

Quickly the coyote snags up the dropped morsel and dashes into the timber.

Both the title "An Essay for Men," and the text indicate that Mr. Fisher was unduly preoccupied with the magazine's editorial demands for hairy-chested masculinity, and the article suffers from his remarks about the unchastity and lawlessness of the inhabitants of the region.

A more serious error is that Mr.

Fisher has confused the traditionally good-natured amusement that a westerner feels toward a greenhorn with the bitter contempt of a parlor pink for a capitalist. Instead of regarding his duet as innocent babes in the wood, he speaks of "overtones of fat and finance." And he has exaggerated the excessive baggage requirements of the average dude to the point of absurdity.

However, if a reader persists through the unfortunate beginning of the article he will be rewarded by some moving descriptions of the wild country. Also, toward the end of the article Mr. Fisher admits that he is a little bit of a snob, and that there and that they are first-class people. And he even discloses that

POPE LAYS STRESS ON CROP MEASURE

Idaho Senator Counts Insurance Bill One of Most Important

BOISE, Aug. 19 (AP)—United States Senator James P. Pope (D-Idaho) predicted here today that his crop insurance bill will be one of the principal pieces of agricultural legislation to come before the next congress.

"The measure, which died in a senate committee when congress adjourned, will be reintroduced next year," he declared.

"It has a chance of — I don't know how good yet — of being enacted into law."

Pope and his secretary, Ralph Olmstead, returned to Boise today from McCall, where they spent last night.

Since his return to Idaho from Washington, D. C., he has been vacationing at Hayden lake, in north Idaho.

New Federal Agency

The crop loss insurance bill, of which he is the author, provides:

1. Creation of a national insurance organization to insure farmers against crop losses caused by hail, tornadoes, cyclones, drought, floods or similar unforeseen hazards.

2. Cost of insurance to be based on the actual indemnity.

3. Administration of the organization by the secretary of agriculture, a crop insurance expert and an agricultural leader.

"This bill has two major purposes," Senator Pope explained.

"It insures farmers against losses, and provides them with a means of obtaining ready credit from banks when they need money for harvesting their crops."

"The national farm bureau, the Grange and the national grain co-operators are behind it, and many senators and congressmen in other states are advocating its passage."

Pope returned tonight to McCall and will spend several days in central Idaho before going to Twin Falls to set-up temporary headquarters.

He will return to Boise in October and maintain headquarters here until he goes back to Washington in November.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 19 (AP)—T. A. Leadley, managing editor of the Nebraska Farmer, today said the publication was considering cancelling the 1936 state cornhusking contest because it would be difficult to find a field in which to hold the competition.

Cowboys Bid for Hand of Unknown Lady in London

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 19 (AP)—Three cowboys sought the hand of an unknown lady in London today.

The lady, Miss Charlotte Thompson of London, wrote to Governor Henry H. Blood a week ago expressing her interest in the wild west and including a sealed letter which she asked be given to "any young cowboy."

"The story got in the newspapers, and today came two responses. 'I am a young cowboy down here

In Texas at the old Circle Ten ranch," wrote Walter Tschley of Dallas. "I will appreciate it very much if you will send me that letter from the middle-aged maiden lady. I am 18 years old and will accept it and her."

J. T. Brown, Wichita, Kansas, hopefully wrote: "See your add in the Wichita paper wanting name of cowboy. My occupation is ranch work in the western part of Texas. If I am not too late I would like to have her letter."

While the governor was pondering these two offers his secretary received a long distance call from the Pinky Green, in a small town in Idaho, also seeking the letter.

"Sorry, can't do business over the telephone," the secretary replied.

DEFENBACH STILL EYES SENATE SEAT

Townsend Endorsed Candidate to Make Triangular Race

FAIRFIELD, Idaho, Aug. 19 (AP)—Byron Defenbach of Boise, Townsend nominee for William F. Borah's senate seat, said tonight he has received "numerous requests from Idaho Republicans and Social Security advocates" to remain in the United States senatorial race that will be decided November 3.

Defenbach, seeking a sixth consecutive term, is the Republican nominee.

Governor C. Ben Ross is the Democratic candidate.

Defenbach was nominated by a Townsend convention here August 11. He was defeated by Borah in the Republican primary.

"Having been regularly and legally nominated by the Townsend convention in Boise as an independent candidate, I see no reason why I should not go on through and that is my present intention," Defenbach declared in a statement to The Associated Press.

"I understand I can withdraw any time before October 1."

Defenbach said he was not to complicate the situation, but I am receiving numerous requests from two groups, Idaho Republicans and Social Security advocates.

"There is a wide difference of opinion as to which side my few votes would draw most from, but I am not personally interested."

Families of the men kept up hope as the rescue crews drove ahead.

"Dumelle is a level-headed man," said Mrs. J. P. Sexton of her son, who was one of the two victims. "If he just used that level-headedness in the excitement there is still hope."

"The forces defending the regime were battling fiercely against rebel land attackers near the French frontier. One column of rebels was within rifle fire of the city's gates before machine guns halted them."

Continuing its campaign for new recruits to defend Madrid against an expected rebel onslaught, the government urged women who were fighting side by side with their men at the front to return home and devote their patriotic energies to the manufacture of munitions, bandages, winter clothing and underwear for the troops.

"With both Democrats and Republicans in his audience, Knox said it would be poor waste to convert the occasion to partisan political purposes."

He said he would talk about "some of the problems of... men who earn their livings." It was the third major address of his 35-state campaign tour.

"We cannot go back to those simple times when Thomas Jefferson ate his breakfast, got on his horse, and rode to the White House to be inaugurated," he said.

"There seems to be some question when we return home and a buggy method can be retained."

In shadow of fear

"But we should not have the endless confusion and complexity and milling around and general hubbub that now characterizes our national government."

"For the past three years all American business has lived in the shadow of fear and uncertainty. Business men cannot create recovery when they have to spend their time reading the paper to see what happened to them the day before in Washington."

"It is high time we abandon this foolish notion that government can

Knox declared the federal government should regulate only for the purpose of "guaranteeing fair play," and should "leave individuals alone." He said it should meet the standards of "simplicity, economy, and certainty," and continued:

"For a time, the American people were hypnotized by the idea that the government could do everything, from solving the problem of poverty to growing trees in a desert. But they did not stay hypnotized. They have decided that a government which makes even little pigs file for their lives is a peculiar kind."

JEROME TREASURER REPORTS FINANCES

Phone 32

JEROME, Aug. 19.—"There is enough cash on hand at this time to prevent the necessity of issuing bonded warrants to complete the fiscal year," Earl F. Kennedy, Jerome county treasurer announced today.

"This will be the first year that Jerome county has been able to operate without issuing either registered warrants or treasury notes for current expenses. In addition with ample funds to pay the county operating expenses, there is at this time over $45,000 in the bond interest and sinking fund which will make it unnecessary to have a levy for bond purposes for the retirement of the present bonds for the year 1937, or any future year," Kennedy said.

William Hardwick, county assessor, is collecting over $30,000 a year for auto license which go for Jerome county road and bridge bonds. In addition, approximately $5,000 to $10,000 in delinquent taxes is coming into this account every year and the treasurer reports will be unnecessary to make any future levy for bond purposes to retire $100,000 road and bridge bonds outstanding.

In addition to the finance show-up of Jerome county there are also funds available to carry the school districts through until after the first of October of next year, the treasurer reported.

CHURCH FOUNDING THEME FOR DRAMA

New York Audience Hails
Edgar Lee Masters'
'Moroni'

SCHEENECTADY, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Hailed by an enthusiastic audience, Edgar Lee Masters' new play "Moroni" had its world premiere last night in the outdoor theater on the Union college campus as the fifth production of the 1936 Mohawk drama festival.

Cries of "author, author" brought Masters to the stage for a brief speech after the final curtain.

"I don't know what the author of a play can say after he has written it; perhaps he should say nothing," the poet, biographer and erstwhile Chicago lawyer asserted.

"Moroni" is based on the recorded life of Joseph Smith, founder of Mormonism, its mystic implications and the assurance of his vision, canny in mundane affairs; as a misunderstood dreamer, assailed by doubts, torn between his spiritual ambitions and his ability to win wholly his second love, Sylvia Law.

New Twin Falls Store Announces Its First ANNIVERSARY Sale

1891—FORTY-FIVE YEARS IN IDAHO—1936

This is the first birthday of ALEXANDER'S Twin Falls store—The bustling, growing and aggressive Store was opened in this city just one year ago.

Just forty-five years ago the first Alexander's clothing store was founded in the city of Boise and many of the pioneers, even those now in the Twin Falls section will recall that time when Moses Alexander came from Missouri and settled at 7th and Main, in Boise.

The history of the growth and expansion of the Alexander's Clothing Store is an interesting story and Idaho history will show that not alone did the Alexander stores prosper and expand, but that the founder of this establishment, then plain Moses Alexander by dint of honest and square dealing was to receive the highest honors this State could bestow on one of its citizens. Plain merchant Alexander was twice elected to the office of Mayor of Boise, and later in life was chosen Governor for two consecutive terms.

The outgrowth of the original store at 7th and Main streets is perpetuated today by Alexander's Big White Store at 9th and Main, Boise, the largest men's wear store in the inter-mountain region. As this section developed, additional stores were opened at Baker, Oregon, in 1898; Weiser, Idaho, in 1902; Caldwell, Idaho, in 1906; Ontario, Oregon, in 1912; Burley, Idaho, in 1921; Nampa, Idaho, in 1929 and Twin Falls, the youngest in Alexander's group, was established in August, 1935—just one year ago—and in appreciation of the welcome and good will of all the people in this section we will celebrate our first birthday with a rousing

It looked all over the Chiefs as the Creamerymen scored in the first of the fifth for a 3 to 1 advantage, but in the last half of the inning Walt Riggert allowed seven hits, coupled with five Brusnick errors, to allow 12 Chiefs to cross the plate. Brusnick tried desperately in the seventh and scored five runs off Elmore Hagler on four hits and three errors, but the rally was checked before much damage could be done.

Hagler, making a comeback after being out of the game for a month due to a back injury, allowed 12 hits, three bases on balls and whiffed seven batters. Riggert was nipped for ten safeties, walked six and fanned two.

Eight In Second
The Creamery scored eight runs in the second inning of their game to clinch the contest and then added five in the third and three in the fifth and seventh frames. Laundry

German Won't Consider Return Match; Physiolan Recommends Postponement of Title Contest

By KODIE BRITZ (Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 19 (AP)—The fight front was no man's land for the Brown Bomber Joe Louis today.

Flushed with his three-round comeback knockout of Jack Sharkey last night the young Detroit found himself all dressed up with no place to go.

Max Schmeling flatly refused to consider a return bout with Louis, and the way things are shaping up, it will be a long time before champion Jimmy Braddock will be in a ring with Schmeling, Louis or anybody else.

Hand Examined
Braddock's injured left hand was examined today by Dr. Fred Allie, assigned by the New York State Athletic commission to determine whether Braddock should be granted a postponement of his scheduled September engagement with Schmeling.

Dr. Allie said he would recommend at least a month's postponement. The commission will make a decision on his recommendation at its meeting on Friday.

The specialist asserted the titleholder is suffering from sub-cutaneous

CARNIVALS FACE NEW ORDINANCE

City Council Ruling Forces Shows to Obtain Permission

Carnivals in Twin Falls heretofore will come under the direct jurisdiction of Twin Falls city council. Such was the verdict handed down by the municipal governing body last evening with passage of a new ordinance governing all traveling shows wishing to set up their tents in Twin Falls.

The new ordinance, instead of permitting a carnival to show upon payment of a $50 per day license fee as in the past, provides that all such shows must pay a daily fee of $5 for each side, game, show and concession, excluding the so-called "baby rides" and that no carnival may appear in Twin Falls unless permission is first granted by the city council.

Affected Circuses

The old charge against circuses according to the number of railroad cars used in transporting the show was changed to be based upon seating capacity. Circuses seating up to 3000 persons must pay a daily fee of $75 while each show seating over 3000 persons must pay a daily fee of $100. Each show now will be assessed $10 extra per day.

The council voted to charge a $25 daily fee for appearance of any outdoor show.

Penalty for violation of the ordinance was fixed at the sum not to exceed $100, but each attraction will be judged as a separate offense. The ordinance was passed after several months of study on the subject by City Clerk W. H. Edrington and City Attorney George M. Paulson, and was rushed through at the recessed meeting last night, under suspension of the rules, in order to protect Twin Falls county fair against showing of another carnival in Twin Falls during the term of the fair at Filer.

ACCUSED AUTO DRIVER AWAITS DAY IN COURT

Accused of reckless driving, Henry Standish, 24, of Twin Falls, pleaded not guilty when he was arraigned before Judge City L. Kinney in the probate court here yesterday, and was held under $100 bond for trial next August 25.

Standish was alleged to have recklessly driven a car into collision with a trailer, E. B. Brownfield signed the complaint.

Speaker to Urge Better Libraries

Miss Lilla Bedford of Boise, librarian of the state traveling library and a member of the state planning board, will be guest of honor at a luncheon-Monday at 12 o'clock at the Park hotel, sponsored by the Twin Falls public library. All interested in library work are invited to attend the luncheon.

Miss Bedford will speak in behalf of the rural section for better state library service. During the year she plans to visit all sections of the state, promoting a program which will bring library service to remote areas living in rural districts.

Representatives of the various service organizations are particularly invited to be present at the luncheon.

Rodeo Motif for Elks' Stampede

Rodeo hats and abrids are approved gear for the Elks Stampede luncheon for Elks lodge members and their ladies at Twin Falls Elks lodge room the evening of next September 3.

The Stampede is to begin at 10 o'clock immediately following a regular lodge meeting, and luncheon is to be served at midnight.

A committee in charge of arrangements for the event is composed of Carl Gibb, chairman; Chuck Holm, Craig Coleman, Carl Hollenbeck, Harry Blaklin, Howard Gerhart and Tony Leonard.

SANDE TELLS STORY OF TRIP TO NORWAY

An extended visit to Norway from which he returned some two weeks ago, was the subject of an interesting address by A. M. Sande of the Falls Feed and Ice company at the regular weekly session of the Twin Falls Rotary club held Wednesday.

Mr. Sande left Stavanger, Norway, as a comparatively young man coming to the Twin Falls country in the early days of the project. While away he visited Rotary clubs at Stavanger and Oslo and took a number of short trips to various parts of the country spending some days at Bergen.

The cooperative movement for the handling of dairy products is well developed in Norway Mr. Sande stated, although very little attention has been paid to the development of kindred industries. Cooperative creameries and cheese factories are well and relieve the producer of much of the detail of disposing of his produce. Yet there are practically no cold storage plants outside of the larger centers and the absence of these brings about a greater degree of waste than would otherwise be the case. Farms are small and often too small to be profitable and are collected for delivery at the plants. The marketing of the finished product is considered the most important feature of the management and large salaries are paid to men capable of holding such positions.

Norway just at present is swarming with tourists and sometimes transportation facilities are taxed to capacity for all the visitors. General business conditions are good and the entire country is prosperous. Scenery especially along the sea coast Mr. Sande says is attracting steadily increasing travel.

NORMAN BATES STUDIO OPENS IN SEPTEMBER

Norman Bates, who returned recently from California where he took an intensive course in rhythm dancing, and other latest dance steps, announces that he will open the Norman Bates Studio of the Dance early in September.

Bates, local dance instructor, took an advanced course in tap dancing as well as rhythm routines from Leon Ratiner, one of Hollywood's leading exponents of the dance. He also studied acrobatic dancing and child training at the Meglin Studios, where most of the "movie" children receive their training.

KIMBERLY VETERANS TO DISCUSS BUILDING

Kimberly American Legion post will get down to "brass tacks" in a discussion of proposed construction of a Kimberly Legion Memorial building at a regular meeting of the post this evening, Dean Budgeley, post commander, announced. All ex-service men as well as all members of the post are urged to attend.

Roosevelt To Loose Boulder Dam Torment

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt will press a button in Washington next September 11 to open for the first time 12 gigantic valves at Boulder dam, near Las Vegas, Nevada, John C. Page, acting commissioner at the dam, informed airlines and railroads today.

President Roosevelt's touch will release 5000 cubic feet of water per second down the dam spillway—and the result will be a spectacle like that of Niagara falls, Ralph Lowry, construction engineer, promised.

The valves are 180 feet up the face of the dam above the powerhouse. A ceremony in which California and Arizona officials probably will participate is being arranged, Page said.
