NOTICE!

The most popular coal on Twin Falls tract is HI-HEAT free from clinkers and will not stick. We advise the coal consumers and our many patrons of HI-HEAT coal to place their storage orders with us within the next 30 days, as the mines are apt to advance the price in the near future. By ordering your coal now you will avoid any danger of having to buy cheap coal later on, which is dear at any price. Your order appreciated.

TO ALL 'TIMES' SUBSCRIBERS

The Mid-week and Sunday editions of the TIMES in the past have been favored with a large and rapidly growing list of subscribers. Having determined to change to six issues each week the publishers propose to show appreciation of such favor by sending the entire six issues of the new daily edition to each of its present subscribers at the same rate heretofore paid for three—namely, $3.60 per annum.

TO ALL 'TIMES' ADVERTISERS

Although the consolidation of the "Twice-A-Week" and the "Sunday" Times subscription lists will give a larger circulation than was before reached by either edition, the advertising rates will remain for the present as per the "Twice-A-Week" schedule. As the basic principle of one cent per column-inch for each hundred subscribers is believed to be equitable, an increase may be demanded in the future.

IF TRUSTS ARE GOOD ABROAD WHY NOT AT HOME?

The action of the United States in determining to permit the formation of trusts by competition with foreign trusts is a step which has been long and hard fought, and it is a step which has been long and hard fought, and it is a step which has been long and hard fought.

But these industries, when they grew strong, imperatively demanded what they had at first begged and later requested. While the industries were growing up in a community, where they supplied only a small part of the demand, the price received in each case would be pretty nearly what the market price would be.

ident Wilson practically insuring against recurrence of war are carried out to the uttermost the question of maintenance of industries imperatively necessary for defense should be maintained, a principle laid down by Adam Smith. It is hard to get away from the proposition that the simple solution of the question is the best one.

Teacher of Sociology at University Arrested Under Provisions of the Mann Act

CHICAGO, April 12.—Professor William James Thomson, teacher of sociology at the University of Chicago and author of many strange doctrines pertaining to women, will be prosecuted under the Mann act for violation of the federal five-thousand dollar order, Hinton G. Clayback, chief of the department of justice here, announced today.

Social Chicago rocked to its depths by the sensational raid by a department of justice agent, on a team in the Brevoort hotel here in which a man giving the professor's name and a beautiful young woman who later was identified as Mrs. M. G. Granger of Washington, D. C. wife of an army lieutenant now in France, were found by the police in the next chamber in the triangle of love and mystery.

Automobiles, Tractors and Good Roads

The Motorcycle is Playing an Important Part in the World War. It is said that the French and British forces have had approximately 75,000 motorcycles in active service continuously on the western front during the past two years of the war. It is in fact the western front there is every reason to believe that the Russian forces have had 10,000 motorcycles in active service on the western front. From the foregoing there is no question but what the armed forces of the United States will require a minimum of 30,000 to 40,000 motorcycles in connection with their activities on the western front. This does not take into account the motorcycles necessary for training purposes at the various encampments in this country. Possibly 15,000 would be a fair estimate of the motorcycles which will be required for the equipment when the machines needed for the use of officers and enlisted men use. More of these are designed to carry a single stretch, which is mounted between the motorcycle and the sidecar wheel. Some of the latest motorcycle ambulances, however, are built in a double deck style, which permits the carrying of two.

The motorcycle and sidecar offer some very distinctive features for an ambulance. For this combination can pick its way over almost any kind of road, or, if necessary, it can travel across country where not even a trail exists. It can dodge shell craters, and, owing to the light weight of the motorcycle and sidecar (about 500 pounds) it can traverse the roughest roads, where heavier vehicles would be hopelessly mired.

Local Garage Installs Electrical Fault Finder

Local motor car owners whose cars are equipped with electric starting and lighting systems will be interested in a remarkable device just installed by Central Auto Co. which they recently purchased from a large Chicago concern. A most interesting demonstration was made showing this instrument in action attached to a car at the garage recently—it was used to find the almost human intelligence of it as its indicator arrow always moved this way or that on this showing certain conditions normal or the location of trouble or faults in the electric system on the car.

No doubt many would say that it was impossible for any device to automatically indicate the seat of the trouble but they said of the invention and the submarine—not possible—yes they are flying in the air and sailing under the sea.

This invention and its remarkable ability was described and discussed in the leading periodicals of the country.

The garage plans to charge a nominal fee of $2.00 for a test of the entire electrical equipment of a car, which will probably indicate the existence of some trouble which can be quickly corrected and save a big expense later. This instrument not only tells the location and kind of trouble but also how to repair it. It can be carried in a car and used on their cars or go to the trouble and expense of sending parts back to the makers of electrical equipment.

It is said that serious developments of electric starting and lighting systems have been located and repaired in 10 minutes through the aid of AMBU.

Central Auto Co. people seem very much interested in showing this instrument to any one and it is fascinating to see it in action. We surely are living in a progressive age.

GLENN MATHES BOUND OVER TO DISTRICT COURT

CHARGED WITH KILLING OF GEORGE BUTLER, MARCH 22 THIS YEAR

Brother of Dead Man Chief Witness

Says Mathes Called to Them to Come Out, Saying He Would Shoot Both of Them—Defendant Does Not Offer Testimony.

The preliminary hearing in the case of Glenn Mathes, charged with the murder of George Butler, was held on Thursday afternoon before Probate Judge O. P. Durall.

The state was present by Frank L. Stobbs, prosecuting attorney, and W. P. Outhrie, the latter having been retained as special counsel. The defendant was represented by Attorney J. V. Larsen and James H. Doherty.

The greater part of the afternoon was taken up in examining Earl Butler, brother of the dead man, who was the state's first and principal witness. Butler testified that on the day of the murder he remained home to do some necessary work about the house; that he was at the house continually with the exception of a few moments in the afternoon when he went over to the Mathes home to get a loaf of bread for supper. Having been taken ill early in the evening, he retired about 9 o'clock, his brother having gone down town on business. About 11:30 he said he was awakened by talking. He heard George ask what was the matter and recognized Mathes voice, when he said: "You know what's the matter, come out and I'll shoot you both."

Butler testified that Mathes called "Earl" and he immediately got up and on entering the living room Mathes said, "Bring me my hat and coat." Mathes backed into the bed room, and in a minute another shot was fired. As he retreated into the living room he heard George, who had fallen to the floor, say: "Oh, Earl" and then "I couldn't get the gun." After seeing that George was shot, Mathes went into the bed room to find a gun which lay on a clothes closet.

The other guys they possessed being stored under the bed according to his testimony. On finding the gun loaded he went out and around to the back of the house but could not find Mathes.

The next and only other witness called on behalf of the state was Dr. Wesson, the attending physician. He testified to being called about 12 o'clock on the night in question and on arriving at the Butler home found the wounded man on the floor. Dr. Wesson stated that the man made no statements to him, only asked him to do something to relieve him. He was removed to a local hospital where he died about 6:30 on the morning of the 23rd. Death was probably due to an internal hemorrhage caused by a bullet wound. No post-mortem examination was held, according to the doctor's testimony.

The defense offered no evidence and Mathes was bound over to the district court.

Cadillac Carries Useful Accessories

Equipment Includes Things of Proved Need and for Convenience of Driver and Passengers

Under the general classification of "standard equipment" the Cadillac carries many features which might better be termed special equipment. Yet none has been included as part of the standard Cadillac types until its utility or the need for it has been proved. All have been selected from a view to increasing the comfort or the convenience of the driver and passenger; or facilitating the operation of the car.

One step initially taken by the Cadillac which influenced the whole industry was the adoption of electric engine cranking and electric lights. To control the head lamp rays and prevent glare, Cadillac engineers worked out a tilting lamp reflector, operable by the driver at will by means of a lever on the starting column.

The carburetor incorporates a "leathing" or gas-saving device which renders unnecessary the addition of such an accessory by the owner. The radiator cooler is another convenience in that it conserves alcohol used as anti-freeze in the cooling system.

Cadillac first adopted the "bumped" steering wheel, which serves down to permit easy access to the driving seat. A power tire pump helps to make a driver feel independent on the road. The torsion lamp is an lighter-standard equipment which might be termed essential as is the plate glass window in the back curtain of the open-car types.

WHITE SOX AND GIANTS STILL IN PENNANT CLASS

WILL PROBABLY REPEAT THE PERFORMANCE OF LAST YEAR

Neither Are Weakened Much by War

Chicago Team Seems Sure of American Championship but New York Has Some Strong Foes in the National.

 NEW YORK, April 13.—The White Sox and Giants stand out today as logical pennant winners in the major league races which open next week. Some of the teams have been strengthened, while others have been weakened by player deals or by the weight of war, but the 1917 champions are just as strong as ever.

And the "dope" favors them to repeat.

The world's champion White Sox have not lost a player whose absence will hurt the offense. The team is intact, thoroughly seasoned, highly confident and efficient in every respect. The pitching staff, which did such effective work last season is on edge again this year.

In the National league the Giants are still supreme, though they will find stiff opposition in the east. McGraw's team has not been weakened, though Herzog and Robertson are missing. Ross Young is more than filling Robertson's shoes, while Doyle and Barnes have added strength to the club. If the Giants can hold 400 players now wearing uniforms, they will lead the field in October. The Red Sox are the only club likely to give Chicago a desperate fight for the American league pennant. Boston filled empty shoes of departed stars with players equally capable and the team as a whole is strong as Chicago.

But Boston players lack experience though, which is a big point in favor of the White Sox.

Detroit appears to be next in line. The Tigers lack pitching strength, but there is no denying the driving power and offensive ability of the club as a whole. Cleveland and New York should fight hard for the remaining first division berth. The Indians have been hit hard by the draft and enlistments, but Leo Fohl gets the most out of his men and he still has a strong team. The Yankees under Miller Huggins, are on their toes. St. Louis, Washington and Philadelphia are in the second division, with the Browns showing best on paper.

The Cubs, Reds and Cardinals are the leading opposites of the Giants. Chicago has acquired pitching strength equal to that of the Giants and Fred Mitchell, though not capable, has had opportunity to organize his team. Reports that Alexander had been drafted knocked the Cubs sky high yesterday, but with Alexander available the Cubs will make a stiff fight for position.

Despite the loss of Fred Toney, the Reds should make a good race all the way.

The Cards, with a fairly well balanced club and Jack Hendrick to take over the pitching matter. Truesdell's loss off, are also slated for a first division berth.

The Dodgers, Phillies and Braves are second division clubs in advance of the season.

FOREIGN TROOPS TO GET THEIR LAST PAPERS

BILL INTRODUCED TO NATURALIZE SOLDIERS OF THE NATIONAL ARMY

Forty-six Thousand Are Now in the Ranks

All Were Exempt at Time of Joining, But Refused to Make Oath in Order to Get to Fight Kaiser Bill

Robert B. Smith, (L. N. Staff Correspondent.)
 WASHINGTON, April 13.—The Senate today introduced all other measures to give its attention exclusively to legislation making the national army one hundred per cent American. It had before it the bill introduced by the war department, "backing away" steps to permit the immediate naturalization of 123,000 alien now enrolled in the draft army.

Administration leaders resisted the utmost pressure to bring the bill to a vote today. The speed with which America's selective service can be dispatched to France is largely dependent upon the bill. The war department is reluctant to send untrained men to battle because many of them formerly subjects of Germany and Austria, might suffer the penalty of treason in case of capture. Since the alien form so large a part of the draft army, the war department would find it embarrassing to send certain units of the national army over.

Thousands of Poles, Bohemians and Slovaks who came to the United States to escape the militarism of Germany or Austria, declined to claim citizenship when they were drafted, and declared their eagerness to fight for America. These men were captured today, might be shot as traitors if Germany or Austria as traitors. If captured on the western front, they would be executed.

Of the 123,000 alien in the first draft army, 76,000 have not declared their intention to become citizens, but are waiting for the war department's adoption, according to Senator Harwick, of Georgia, chairman of the senate military committee, who has charge of the bill.

"They are pleading for American citizenship," said Senator Harwick. "Many of these have shown such proficiency at arms that they are being sent to officers' training camp. None of them, however, can secure their citizenship because of their desire to be commissioned, until they become naturalized. The bureau of national affairs is anxious to carry out the provisions of this proposed legislation and will aid the agents to make effective the provision for the immediate naturalization of alien American soldiers in every respect as that of citizens."

The next draft, it is reported, will be for 800,000 men. This will be larger than the first and the percentage of aliens and the number that will be certified to this second draft will be the same and the number consequently larger.

farther north against the British and to the northeast, and the breaking through to the coast.

The Germans evidently hoped by assaulting the Anglo-French positions in the neighborhood of Festubert all available reserve troops there and to find the British lines to the north greatly weakened as a result.

FOGH MUST TAKE OFFENSIVE

ed that it could be utilized to the greatest effect. That moment seems today to be approaching fast. Here there will be no surprise felt here over receipt of the news and the fact that the fleet is out. It may be used in an effort to cover the landing of a German army behind British lines. It may be used to try to cover the landing of a force in Britain. It may be used in an attempted general attack on the coast. It will have to cope with the British grand fleet which now is reinforced. Secretary of the Navy Daniels has said it is known by many first line American fighting craft including battleships. This means that the long looked for naval battle never mentioned unless at the latest moment the German plans are changed.

As the battle in France and Flanders develops, Washington watches closely for the first word of America's part in it. Every section of the nation is represented in the men who now are supporting the British in the north. The flower of the regular army, certain national guard and national army units are on the ground. And while the losses must be very great, it is believed that the morale of those who remain will be wonderfully sustaining—indeed everywhere, but especially here at home.

It is pointed out that our real entry into the fighting under a situation so far unprecedented since the war began exists. Not since the battle of the Marne has the Germans war machine possessed the force it now is showing. Consequently the outcome must sacrifice men as prodigally as we have done to maintain the position beyond which a retreat would mean the most serious disaster. There is no positive information in possession of the entente that the German plans are to force a complete issue with the present battle. The Kaiser, Hindenburg and von Ludendorff have decided that the German peace made by the sword shall come by August. Their plans—which incidentally have not taken into consideration the supreme war council call for "the complete crushing of the British army, establishment of positions on the coast from which British territory, and especially London, can be shelled with super guns, and a new movement against Paris when this is finished."

And realizing the objectives, the entente is taking the necessary steps to meet them. That is the reason for the high order of the day which will go down into history with the ringing words of the French at the battle of Marne: "The High Command shall remain motionless for as long as the opinion of every army expert in Washington, America is pledged to repulse the German invader."

Consequently the necessary steps to do so. The result has been the sending to England of the most of our troops to the front. The result has been the sending to the front of the most of our troops to the front. The result has been the sending to the front of the most of our troops to the front.

Liberty Loan Is Growing Rapidly

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Subscriptions to the third Liberty loan are keeping to the pace set out for them at the beginning of the campaign.

This was evidenced today when reports from eleven of the twelve principal very districts showed that actual reported subscriptions up to last night totalled $589,486,700.

A general invitation has been extended by the Postoffice to attend the Liberty school which opens at 10:00. There are classes for all.

THE HAGUE, April 13.—"I have now nothing to say about it that you would place your efforts on an equal plane as your own, since we are united in behalf of the rights of your monarchy," telegraphed the Kaiser to Emperor Charles of Austria, said a dispatch from Berlin today.

The Kaiser's message continued: "The great reaction with the enemy's efforts to divide us. It is our duty to attack the enemy mercilessly in all
