STRIKE TROUBLE IS AVERTED AT SEVERAL POINTS

PAPER MILL WORKERS NOW AGREE TO LET WAR LABOR BOARD ADJUST

Hearing Given Aggrieved Telegraphers

Delay Occasioned by Failure of Union President to Arrive—Seattle Council Yields to Mooney's Request to Refrain From Strike.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Fear of a strike among the paper mill workers was averted this afternoon when it was agreed to let the present wage scale continue until a new one can be fixed by the national war labor board. The decision was reached at a conference of representatives of the print manufacturers and union paper mill workers with the federal trade commission and is tantamount to a recall of the strike order for tomorrow, involving approximately 40,000 paper mill employees. J. T. Carey, president of the International Brotherhood of Paper Mill Workers and his associates declared the men will continue at work awaiting the action of the national board.

Hearing of the grievances of commercial telegraphers against the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies before the national war labor board this afternoon was deferred by delay in the arrival of B. J. Koenig, president of the telegraphers' union.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 30.—Following a request from Thomas J. Mooney under conviction of murder in connection with the "preparanda parade" bomb explosion in San Francisco, which was announced by the metal trade council and the Seattle Central Labor council today that the proposed protest strike for tomorrow had been called off. Copies of the notice calling off the strike were posted in all Seattle apartments today. Notification will be taken at a special meeting of the labor council tonight.

I have now seen today pictures of London which show the war started."

SUBMARINES ARE TWICE BEATEN BY CHINCHA CREW

REPORT OF BATTLE ON MARCH 21 IS GIVEN TO THE PUBLIC

One Shot From U-boat Hit the Ship

Reply by American Boat Crew Made Assault Unsuccessful and Retreat—First Attack Was Also Handled Satisfactorily.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—How the steamship Chincha met and repulsed a second attack by a monster German submarine when the latter had fired several shots at her, killing Seaman Second Class A. S. Edwards, of Augusta, Ga., and two members of the ship's crew, is told in the report of E. D. Arnold, chief boatswain's mate, commander of the Chincha armed gun crew made public today by the navy.

Almost as soon as the U-boat was sighted at 4:55 p. m. March 21, by J. Weyman, of Castalia, Ohio, and O. A. Foster, of Lynchburg, Va., seamen aboard Chincha, stationed at lookouts, the submarine opened fire on the Chincha, Arnold's report says.

All but the fourth struck wide of the mark. The fourth struck the Chincha aft, killing Seaman Edwards and two members of the crew standing nearby. The Chincha opened fire and before the second shot was fired at the submarine, it submerged and escaped.

The Chincha, it became known today, also repulsed a submarine attack January 12 of this year.

DUTCH AND HUN DIFFICULTIES NEARING END

FORMAL GUARANTEE EXPECTED FROM GERMAN ABOUT USE OF SAND

Queen Sends Auto Letter to Kaiser

Holland Expected to Relinquish Claim to Control Traffic—Germany Will Decline to Modify Her Demands Says Gazette.

LONDON, April 30.—Final negotiations between Germany and Holland over the use of Dutch railways for the use of the Germans have not yet been concluded, said a Central News dispatch from The Hague today. It is considered highly probable, the dispatch added, that Germany will formally guarantee not to use the sand and gravel transported over Dutch railways for military purposes.

The same time it is believed that Holland will relinquish her claim to appoint a commission to control the traffic.

A tentative solution is pending, but a definite agreement may not be effected until the western battle front becomes calmer.

Railway facilities in Limburg (that part of Holland through which Germany's main line of transport has materials) are now very unsettled.

It was rumored at The Hague today that Queen Wilhelmina has sent an autograph letter to the kaiser and that she is waiting for Baron Gertel, the Dutch minister to Germany, who is returning to Berlin.

An Amsterdam dispatch quoted the Berliner Postzeitung as saying that the Dutch offer would be satisfactorily settled.

Antidote for Boys Who Were Gassed

Dr. William Held, of Illinois Hospital, Makes Discovery of Importance to War Success.

CHICAGO, April 30.—Discovery of an antidote for "gassed" soldiers was announced here today by Dr. William Held, of Illinois Postgraduate hospital. Dr. Held also sent a telegram to President Harding announcing his discovery to the government.

The antidote, which is a liquid, will expel the red, corrosive destroy of the gas. Dr. Held said that the antidote does not choke at the time of the attack there is hope for him to survive and he sent back to the front, is the belief of Dr. Held.

Dr. Held has been experimenting for two months seeking the antidote.

BRILLIANT ASSAULTS THROW BACK TEUTONIC FORCES AT EVERY POINT

Comparative Quiet With Victory for the Allies Wherever Struggle Takes Place—Stern Resistance Confuses and Dismays the Hum-Violent Artillery Fighting in Front of Amiens—French Patrols Gain Several Victories Over Their Foes.

PARIS, April 30.—Violent cannonading continues along the Picardy front, especially on the southern flank of the German salient that juts towards Amiens along the Somme, according to the communique issued by the war office today.

French patrols are becoming more active along the whole front.

The test of the official statement follows: "Violent artillery firing is occurring north and south of the Avre river, in the sector of Noyon and on the south bank of the Oise river.

"Our patrols have been more active on the whole front. Fifteen German prisoners were taken.

"On the right bank of the Meuse river (Verdun front) and in upper Alsace German detachments were repulsed, bringing fifteen prisoners in our hands. The Germans obtained no results whatsoever.

"There is nothing to report from the rest of the front."

(Frank Charlton I. N. S. Cable Editor)

The German rush for the English channel ports struck a snag today in the form of stiffened resistance by the British and French troops holding the Flanders battle line.

The allied troops began a series of brilliant counter operations that put them in possession of the strategic village of Loers and drove the Germans from some positions they had occupied on Monday morning. (Loers is on Belgian soil, but is very close to the French frontier. Its strategic importance arises from the fact that it rests along a chain of hills which the Germans must take before they can strike along the Flanders plain towards the Ypres-Poplinghe railway. Loers is about seven miles southwest of Ypres and for several days has been the scene of a bloody struggle.)

The counter thrusts in the Loers district were carried out by the French while the French were attacking their attack on the Flanders front the British struck again on the Picardy front, advancing their position in the Villers Brotonneux sector.

(Villers-Brotonneux is about nine miles east of Amiens, and immediately north of Hangard wood, where the Germans vainly attempted to extend their lines on Sunday night. Villers-Brotonneux is between the Somme and Avre rivers. Recently the French war office reported that Franco-American positions between the Somme and Avre rivers were shelled and then attacked, but the exact location of the Americans has not yet been divulged.)

On other parts of the Picardy front there have been intense artillery firing. This was the first day of the German grand offensive and it brought news highly favorable to the allies.

Whether or not General Foch has begun to put more of his reserve troops into the battle is not yet known, but the fact that the Germans attacked all day Monday without making any appreciable gain and then were thrown back in counter assaults shows that they are meeting with a sterner resistance than ever before.

So great were the losses inflicted upon the Germans in the all day battle of Monday across the 15-mile fronting on the Franco-Belgian frontier that they may not be able to resume their attacks in great force for a while, in that zone.

AUSTRIA TRYING TO GET A NEW PRIME MINISTER

COUNT OZBRENZI ASKED TO FORM CABINET FOR THE MONARCHY

Other ground that the Germans had taken in the recent fighting on the Picardy front was recaptured by the allied forces.

(Loers is in Belgium about seven miles southwest of Ypres and is located on the western front since March for the past few days. It lies amidst the hills from which the Germans have been attacking the front since March 21 was shown by a dispatch in the Times today, which said that the Austrians had killed 2,000 of the enemy in action at Dernancourt on April 25 (Dernancourt is on the northern end of the Picardy front.)

The German army has reached a new record for tenacity and "stiff foot" of ground behind the British front, but it is in a state of catching transport and artillery placements.

It is unlikely that the Germans have been confined to the Picardy front. The Americans who are fighting on the Picardy front are fighting hard and are being well supported. The review that the Germans yesterday were announced by the press is now spoken of as a success.

French General Praises Bravery of American Boys—Private Corbett Faints From Weakness—Scene Was Picturesque.

Bert Ford, (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

WITH THE AMERICAN ALMIES IN FRANCE, April 28.—Private Corbett faints from weakness. The boys of Lexington and Bunker Hill among the recipients. The scene was picturesque. The French general praised the bravery of the American boys. Private Corbett fainted from weakness. The scene was picturesque.

The regiment was formerly the 30th and 40th regiments of the national guard. It had seen service on the Mexican border.

The regiment the American Army there was pride that the sons of Lexington and Bunker Hill were the first to line up before a French general receiving medals for bravery.

Two chaplains of the regiment were among those decorated.

Rev. John Desvailles, Catholic, and Rev. Walter J. Baker, Episcopalian, both for distinguished service in administering to the wounded and dying in the field.

Six Salvation army girls, and a sprinkling of French peasant girls were among the spectators. The row of boys in steel helmets across the field, slender and handsome American youth, Chaplain Desvailles at the head of the line.

This regiment showed during the battles of April 10, 12 and 13, the greatest audacity and fine spirit of sacrifice. Subjected to very violent bombardments and attacked by very important German forces, your regiment succeeded in checking a dangerous advance and then with vigor and energy re-took at the point of the bayonet the four positions from which you had retired under the fire of the machine guns.

The French general then passed down along the line of French patriots, pinning on the breast of each man the French war medal and such medals as he had decorated. He was followed by the American general, who grasped the hand of each and said words of cheer for all.

"Smile, lad! It is a proud day for you and for us all, and end of historical importance. Remember, it is the first time an American regiment was ever decorated by any European army."

The man smiled as their general greeted them, but the strain was too much for Private James Corbett, of Sosserville, Mont. He fell over backwards in a dead faint just before the French general reached to pin the medal on his breast. He had left a cot to be present, overcome by the strain of fatigue, and gave way through excitement and battle, but soon recovered.

In the line were gaps, showing the places for the dead and wounded, whose valor was being remembered. Medals for the former are being forwarded to their relatives, while those for the wounded were distributed in the hospital.

The regimental review was a striking spectacle, inspiring to all.

"The Germans can never lick a gang like this," of "over" list "my said Private J. H. Gallagher. "My first thought as I stood in line was what my mother would think."

The battle for which the decorations were awarded was the first important one of the war for the Americans, and was followed about a week later by the battle of Selchepcey, Chateau Desvailles, who is from New Bedford, and Chateau Baker, from Worcester, a major, several companies were formed the long line of privates in the dramatic ceremony.

It was a slight detour to live long in the memory of those who witnessed it. The 10th, wearing "Steel Steel" in full equipment, marched seven kilometers, and then they made a picture of physical power. Those who saw them on review before they crossed the Atlantic would be delighted at the military progress they made. The trenches have left their touch on all.

They liked to a picture of a man surrounded by hills. A lefty man came out of the review field from the German front side. He was dressed in a coat of isle and smoke and for a moment, a blue tint to his background, the regiment drawn up in hollow square formation. With a flourish in the center, a hand to the left and the field lined with Americans and French soldiers, the scene resembled a football field.

HAS NO MORE NEED FOR WALKING CANE

Medford Merchant Gained Fifteen Pounds on Tonic—Health Restored

William Ludwig, a retired merchant and prominent citizen of Fort Arthur, Texas, made the following statement recently.

"For six years I had suffered from indigestion and painful disorders of kidneys and felt that I was little more than a skeleton. I had no appetite and what little I did eat felt like a lump of lead in my stomach. I was so bloated up that I could hardly get my breath and I couldn't button my clothes. My kidneys distressed me so I had to get up every hour of the night and I could scarcely sleep at all. Maybe I would doze a little just before day and in the mornings I felt awful. I was so weak I had to walk with a stick and I couldn't go up the steps at all. I had a nervous cough, my limbs ached and I hurt all over.

"I bought Tonic because it was a stick man and it was so highly recommended, and now I'm praising it because it has restored my health. I've gained fifteen pounds in weight, can eat anything I want and sleep as well as I ever could. My cough has disappeared, the jaw has stopped aching, my stomach isn't any more bloated and I'm in good shape. Nothing bothers me now and I have no more pain in my stomach or kidneys. I'm many different kinds of meat and have been coming to San Antonio every year for my health but nothing seemed to do me much good until I took Tonic and I can recommend it because it has done the work."

"Tonic is now sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy, in Englewood by Thompson Drug Co., in Murtaugh by Martineau Drug Co., in Piler by A. B. Stone, in Idaho by C. B. Devereaux Drug Co., and in Kimberly by W. A. J. Stone.—(Adv.)"

Why Doesn't Boise Give Us Credit?

Twin Falls County, Third in the State to Fill Her Quota on the Third Liberty Loan, Still Without Credit in Boise Papers.

A late issue of the Boise "Statesman" copies of Ada county being reprinted—"Good" was the word used by the other counties of the state because they had been slow in subscribing their quota for the third Liberty loan. If this was intended merely as an incentive to the people of Ada, all right; but if it was intended as an accusation against other counties, Twin Falls emphatically pleads not guilty.

However, this may be, the fact remains that, so far as known here, no Boise newspaper has given us the "saves-the-top" ruling, although lists of counties who had filled their quota have been printed from time to time. Under these circumstances a copy of the following letter was forwarded to each of the leading papers there on last Thursday; but as above stated, apparently without effect.

Twin Falls, April 25th, 1918.

I noted in your issue of the 1st of counties regarding their being credited in Twin Falls county is not included. We were the third county to go over the top with $250,000 in sales over all this date are $485,000, about $50,000 of this was delivered through other banks outside of our county, for which we do not receive credit. Any list that does not include any division of state money, or public utilities purchases, which the chairman of the state has promised to pro-rate among the counties.

You will always find that Twin Falls will do its share, but we do like to receive credit in the state papers, and not be left out in the cold.

If for any reason you have it in for the Twin Falls county, please do not take it out in this way, but give us credit for patriotic duties well performed.

Yours respectfully,
C. D. THOMAS,
County Chairman.

GETTING LATE NEWS

The readers of the Statesman this morning learned on the front page of the scaling of fifty young men to the county to boost the Liberty Loan.

NEWS readers got the story last Thursday on the front page.

High Cattle Prices Accompany High Beef Prices

If consumers are to pay less for beef, live-stock raisers naturally will receive less for cattle.

If farmers are paid more for live stock, consumers will necessarily pay more for meat.

Swift & Company pays for cattle approximately 90 per cent of the price received for beef and by-products. The remaining 10 per cent pays for dressing, freight to market, operation of distributing houses, and in most cases, delivery to the retailer. Net profits also have to come out of this 10 per cent.

This margin cannot be squeezed arbitrarily without danger of crippling the only effective means of performing the complex service of converting cattle into meat and distributing this meat to the fighting forces and to consumers.

Swift & Company's net profit on beef during 1917 was only 1/4 of a cent per pound. On all products, it was a little less than four cents on each dollar of sales. Complete elimination of these profits would not affect appreciably retail prices of meat, or farm prices of live stock.

Swift & Company will be glad to co-operate in devising methods that will improve conditions in the meat and live stock industry.

TO ALL "TIMES" SUBSCRIBERS

The Mid-week and Sunday editions of the TIMES in the late past have been favored with a large and rapidly growing list of subscribers. Having determined to change from three to six issues each week the publishers propose to show appreciation of such favor by sending the entire six issues of the new daily edition to each of its present subscribers at the same rate heretofore paid for three—namely, $3.00 per annum.

To secure the paper at this rate it will only be necessary that, before June 1, 1918, all arrears be paid and advance payment for not less than three months be made on the daily. All amounts now outstanding to credit of each subscriber will be applied in payment for the daily upon the basis stated. So soon as the clerical work can be done, each subscriber will receive a statement of his subscription account with full explanation of the new arrangement. Should any one prefer only the same number of issues previously received per week at the same price, instead of six, he will please notify us at once. That all may be democratically served alike, new subscriptions for not less than three months will be received at same rate ($3.00 per annum) paid in advance prior to June 1, 1918. After that date and other than as herein specified, further notice will be given. To the numerous subscribers who have already paid at a larger rate the excess will be refunded.

TO ALL "TIMES" ADVERTISERS

Although the consolidation of the "Twice-A-Week" and the "Sunday Times" will give a larger circulation, it has been before reached by other editors, the advertising rates will remain for the present as per the "Twice-A-Week" schedule. As the basic principle of one cent per column-inch for each hundred subscribers is believed to be equitable, an increase may be demanded in the future. Advertisers will find a great advantage offered by the six issues each week, all reaching the entire Times clientele. They will not be able, not only to get quick action when desired, but also to bring any particular article, or line of goods, to the notice of customers at the psychological moment.

It will be necessary that all display advertisements be filed not later than the night preceding the day on which they are expected to appear; and any other advertisement must be in hand by 9 a. m. of publication-day-to-insure its appearance.

STANDARD OIL UNFAIR TRADER IS COMPLAINT

GOVERNMENT BEGINS PROCEEDINGS AGAINST "THE OCTOPUS"

Violations of Two Laws Are Charged

Close Trust Dealings to Shut Out Competition Alleged and Discrimination Between Retail Dealers Is Charged.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The Standard Oil company of Indiana, has fallen into the net of the federal trade commission charged with violations of the federal trade commission act and the Clayton act. A complaint was filed against the company alleging that it is attempting to stifle competition by refusing to sell and deliver its products in certain localities where other companies are also set forth in the complaint, including the allegation that the company sells its gasoline and kerosene products only to local dealers and agents who will deal in the other products of the company and who will refrain from handling the products of any of the company's competitors.

Touching the Clayton act, the complaint charges that for several years past the Standard Oil company of Indiana has discriminated in price between dealers and users of petroleum products and that the effect of this discrimination may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly. It is set forth in the complaint that the company maintains a system in the contract and sale of its gasoline and kerosene products whereby these products are shipped from its refinery and to numerous depots called delivery points throughout the United States in various localities throughout Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, North and South Dakota and Oklahoma. From these tank wagon stations the products are delivered into the storage tanks of the company's customers by means of tank wagons operated by the company. It is further charged that the company refuses to deliver surplus products to other Standard companies in different territories who do not interfere with the general business and marketing system of the Standard company. The system being calculated to prevent customers in territory other than that of the Standard company from obtaining gasoline and kerosene at a price as low as that maintained by the company in its territory, plus freight differentials, which price is set above the market in the territory outside the territory of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

The complaint further charges that the company maintains a system of exclusive dealing in its marketing system by which it is alleged that the company is obligated to pay dealers for the tanks and also for the services of the dealers in handling their products. It is further alleged, made on the express provision that such dealers shall not be allowed to do any other business. Where dealers do not possess the necessary equipment, the company furnishes it. It is charged, too, that the company is obligated to pay consumers in certain competitive areas, with little or no opportunity for competition. It is further alleged, a commission or rebate of one cent a gallon on the output provided the consumers involved use the company's products exclusively. The complaint further alleges that through its agents and employees and by means of advertising, the company has made certain representations reflecting on its competitors. One of the representations is that the company is the only one in the territory of the company who were used upon certain agricultural machinery. It is further alleged that the company has been found to be binding.

MAKES PHOTOPLAY "BIG MUNITION PLANT"

In filming the latest Paramount picture "The Thing We Love," starring Wallace Reid, Director Lou Tolliver, himself a famous actor, encountered many difficulties. One of the most serious was obtaining proper material for the large munition plant. The director contacted for "atmosphere" for a number of the scenes. After much correspondence and untiringly any amount of red tape, a company of "not more than five" actors was permitted to enter and film the scenes. This had to be done in the most secret and precautions have to be observed about allowing strangers to enter the plant. The director was able to allow the photographers to know about it. The picture is showing at the Idaho theatre.

Harvard Athlete in Paying High Tribute to American Troops, Tells Thrilling Experiences

NEW YORK, April 29.—High tribute was paid to the heroes of American troops under fire in a letter written by Captain James A. McKenna, Jr., to his father here. Captain McKenna, former well-known Harvard athlete, is now in the thick of the fray on the western front. "About a m. one day a party of five Americans were out in No Man's Land between the lines. They bumped into the Germans. By all the rules of war they should have settled. But they did not mind a little handicap of two to one. They just talked in, shot up the Germans, took two prisoners and did not receive a wound. Not so bad. "Another day, while a group of men were out in patrol they were shelled by what we call the 'Dolly Busters'. The men had never been fired at in their lives, and you can imagine what an experience it was, but they kept cool, never dreamed of retreating, but just obeyed orders at

American Girls Fed 39,000 Men Ten Days

Wonderful Accomplishment in Feeding War Refugees from the Great Battle of War. Newton C. Parker. (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.) WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN NORTHERN FRANCE, April 29.—Feeding 39,000 American and French refugees in ten days behind the ever shifting battle line in Picardy is the feat which the American Red Cross girls have accomplished in the last week. They are being praised today by officers and civilians alike. The unit, in charge of Mrs. Barrett Andrews, was forced back from Greco to Montdidier, then to Amiens and finally to the town in which they are now billeted. At each point they fell back as reluctantly as did the fighting men, moving only when orders were given to do so. "We had not had a good night's sleep for many days when we arrived Amiens," one girl explained. "We couldn't get any more out of our rooms and the cellar. Doche airplanes were active even before the bombardment. The girls said, they were forced out again and came here, rejoining other members of their unit. Their first act on arriving was to apply to the French commandant for something to do. "Oh, please feed my wounded," he replied, pointing to ambulance loads of wounded from the front. Within two hours the girls had fed two hundred wounded, and later they shifted their attention to refugees. In two hours the girls had fed two hundred, and doing it out 24 hours a day, working in eight hour shifts. As the fire raged on behind them, the unit extended its activities to other lines. They are now making daily visits to all English speaking wounded in the hospitals. In their town, among these being one American ambulance driver whose arm was blown off in battle. While working ceaselessly almost at Greco and snatching a few hours

Attorney Clyde said he had received orders from Washington to prosecute Tibbans for refusing to disclose information, it was said. The army met on for an investigation of the matter on ground that if the case were permitted to go untried, it would have a demoralizing effect on the morale of the American army in France. ### AUSTRIA TRYING TO GET A NEW

The former Premier, von Seydler in case Czerny fails.

STOCKHOLM, April 30.—Emperor Charles of Austria is making another peace effort, appealing this time to Italy, according to a Catholic international press agency dispatch from here, Switzerland.

COPENHAGEN, April 30.—Serious news has been received at Copenhagen, Austria-Hungary, due to lack of food, according to advices from Berlin today quoting the Vorwarts.

The dispatch said the disorders followed rumors that the Jews had stored large quantities of food. Several persons were killed in the fighting and many shops were looted.

Prisoners and officers attempted to calm the populace and finally order was restored. Streets were closed and the authorities issued orders that no one could be on the streets after 7 p. m.

COPENHAGEN, April 30.—The fortress of Viborg, on the southern coast of Finland, has been captured by the White Guard, said an official dispatch from Vaasa today.

Six thousand Red Guard troops tried to break through in the direction of Frederikshavn, but failed, the most of them being killed.

The remainder of them, surrendered. Viborg was formerly an important naval base and was one of the fortresses on the Gulf of Finland defending Petrograd.

Germanos are fighting with the White Guard.

PARIS, April 30.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Journal reports that about 400,000 persons are thronging the streets of the city.

Ice Shortage This Summer Forecast

Demands for Ammonia by Government to Curtail the Artificial Supply Very Much.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The possibility of an ammonia shortage this summer were foreshadowed today when the railway administration issued an order giving natural ice preference in shipping over the artificial variety. It was explained that the order was issued because of a curtailment in the production of artificial ice, due to government demands for ammonia and other essentials used in its manufacture.

Because of the greater convenience with which artificial ice can be handled, its production has been increased to a great extent, with a consequent falling off in the harvesting of natural ice. With manufacturers curtailing production because of shortage of ingredients it was pointed out that a shortage this summer seems probable.

Dr. Snook Writes in School at Front

Letters and Letters and More Letters From Home Are What the Boys Over There Want—Written on Day the Drive Started

St. Francis, March 20, 1918. By the time you get this I will be pretty close to the front, as I just received my order to report to school for duty as student officer and everyone is congratulating me on being picked and as I'm the only one going up from my department, I am a little nervous as to whether I can make good or not. I've been doing everything I could to do that since I've been here and it is a fellow can just make good as he goes along he stands a show continually for something better—and more work. It means a good deal more to us all to get ahead over here than back in the states, because you don't get anything here unless you make good and you are continually under the observation of those who are able to give you your chance.

The weather is warmer now and it looks as though spring was coming sure, but that only means that the fight will be on and thousands will have to pay the price, and we expect to have any day now that the "hell" has opened. Some of the officers have been leading front line trenches and I hope to be able to inspire you by the time you get this, for I expect to see more of the real thing before I return if I do come back to this division.

I've been well and on the job every day and if the fuses didn't bother me I'd be perfectly happy as far as army happy goes.

Most of the "T. F." boys who were with the hospital corps are here, although some of the company have been called to the front. I see them once in a while and they are all well and bumpy, but most of them are looking for letters too, and if the people only knew how they long for a word from their home town, even the stragglers would write them.

They are all working hard and no complaints, and we are proud of them, and hope to see the line approach when it will be necessary for them to leave—you learn to love those chaps, and they love you most of all, and as we see those discharged from hospitals come back on their way to rest camps you have a little pang of pity run through you when you think of those you know so well returning in the same condition—merciless marks of torture left indelibly stamped on young faces, you can't leave so bravely into the battle they know nothing about. Well dear, I've chattered on long enough—start on the move again, so till next time, good-bye.

IRISH SECRETARY SELECTED

LONDON, April 30.—Edward Scott, M. P., has accepted the post of secretary for Ireland, succeeding H. B. Duke, the Daily News stated today.

SCOREBOARD REFLECTIONS

Jack Velock. (I. N. S. Sports Editor).
A Yelby by Colonel Ebbers. This terrible war is a treat. 'Tis to blame for a ball club I've lost. The game has been stripped, Disembled and ripped. Of most everything, but the coat.

Small wonder I talk with some heat, For a Yelby 's how I can eat. With the trouble I've got, The next blow, like as not, Will be caused by the high price of wheat.

It is rumored that the Dodgers came through to Zach Wheat, who is still holding out.

The Reds staged an old fashioned ninth inning rally against the Cardinals. Helms hit the long sacrifice fly in the last stanza was the deciding factor.

Jeff Tesreau gave the Phillies but five hits and the Giants now have eleven victories chalked up. Mitchell and Finnaron, Detroit pitchers, gave up ten runs and eleven hits to the Browns. It was a slaughter.

Charles Rowland is using two and three pitchers in a game, just as he did last year. Cleveland was won for the Sox yesterday.

Four more postponed games were swept up the double header pot.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The optimistic feeling which the club owners of the major leagues opened the baseball season is not so prevalent today. Signs of distress are being hoisted already in some quarters, and though the season is but two weeks old, the prospects of some teams, deemed to be low down in the pennant race, are discouraging.

War time conditions as they apply to the baseball public alone could be weathered, nothing to banish men here, but the fact that a number of clubs are parading near-mirror league lineups is causing no little concern. These clubs will not draw at home nor on the road.

Another damper is the flying start of the Giants and Red Sox. The managers had hoped to see bang-up competition from the rising up of the cards, but there's no competition to speak of.

The American league is considered better able to stand the gaff than the National, for in the eastern half of the National the Giants' are head and shoulders above the other teams.

The Yankees, popular in New York, can help the Red Sox keep things alive in this half of the younger circuit.

In the west a majority of the clubs have been bolstered, but the weather has been so bad that feeling the pulse of the fans is uncertain.
