Muscovites Seethe In Ferment of Revolt. Masses Resort German Control—Political Organizations Dissolved—Anarchy Prevails Everywhere.

Earl C. Hoover, U. S. Chief of Consulars, LONDON, May 21.—Advises from Russian sources today show increasing unrest. The Pravda of Moscow was being suppressed.

Germany has openly violated the Brest-Litovsk peace, therefore it may be considered terminated. Eighty political organizations at Moscow have been dissolved and 400 anarchists have been arrested there.

Some of the workers in Petrograd have apparently begun to turn against the Bolsheviks for the dispatches sent to the workers in two plain boxes adopted resolutions unfavorable to the Soviet. Several thousand workers in Petrograd are gathering an army at Kiev, the capital of Ukraine, to move against the Bolsheviks.

The independent press of Petrograd and Moscow consider the situation of the Soviet unstable. They ask for a sufficient of the domestic parties to meet the approaching catastrophe. This indicates that the Soviet is on the verge of a new German revolution to save them.

KEMMEL HILL THREATENED BY ADVANCE OF SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

Make Highly Important Gains on Front of 4,000 Yards—Are "Nibbling" Steadily at the German Lines by Series of Brilliant Minor Engagements—Britons Gain Ground at Merville—City of Bethune Fired by Hun Artillery and is Now Burning.

THE WAR SITUATION TODAY. FRANK CARLTON, I. N. S. Cable Editor. The magnificent success of the French in the Locras sector of the Flanders battle front is menacing the grip of the Germans on the all-important Kemmel Hill, six miles southwest of Ypres.

French troops gained highly important ground in the hill country over a front of 4,000 yards. Creeping nearer to the height of Kemmel itself which the Germans had captured at such heavy cost.

To use the expression made famous by Marshal Joffre, at the Anglo-French forces on the battle fronts are "nibbling" at the German lines in a series of highly successful minor operations.

But while these enterprises are called "nibbling" in comparison with the mighty battles that have been raging on the Ploeghe and Flanders battlefields, earlier in the war they would have been called big engagements.

Following the capture of Ville-sur-Autres, on the northern end of the Ploeghe front—the British attacked on the southern end of the Flanders one last night, gaining ground near Merville.

(Merville lies from seven to eight miles northwest of the British rail head and base position of Bethune in the district where the Germans have been heavily shelling the allied lines for several days.)

Bethune is reported as burning today, the houses having been set afire by Teuton artillery. Gigantic duels with big guns continue over the greater part of the two battle zones.

North of Albert, in the Hebuterne zone, the many European war critics look for the next German blow to fall there, was intense shelling, and also between Nieppe forest and Moteren, about midway along the Flanders battle line.

East of Arras and from the Scarpe river to Hill No. 70, north of Lens, the Germans have increased their artillery activity. It is a notable fact that the Germans have been concentrating their heaviest fire around Arras.

Yimy ridge, which the British hold, lies in the zone where the Germans have strengthened their fire. That British position was one of the objectives of the Germans. They launched their big attack on the Arras zone last month, but the Germans were held back by the gallant defense of the British defenders and were unable to gain any ground whatsoever.

It is possible that they contemplate another blow for this strategic height. This was the sixty-second day of the German grand offensive.

SMITH WANTS MEXICAN HUN WORK STOPPED

OHARGES COUNTRY SOUTH OF RIO GRANDE WITH BEING KAISER HOT-BED.

Article In Record Causes the Speech. Demands That Administration Stop Unfortunate Conditions—Propaganda Dangerous.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Senator William Alden Smith, in a vigorous speech in the Senate this afternoon demanded action by the administration in connection with the activities in Mexico. He charged that the country was a "hiding place for conspirators, anarchists, and sympathizers of the German cause."

Senator Smith's remarks were called forth by an article read into the record by the chief of the Intelligence of Connecticut, narrating German activities on the Mexican west coast.

"Most dangerous propaganda is being circulated to our south," said Senator Smith. It is a hiding place for conspirators and sympathizers with our enemies.

"When I was in California recently I was told by a prominent official of our government that every wireless message he sent to Washington was caught up in Mexico, for what purpose is a conspiracy, if they are not to be detected?"

"This situation demands and should receive the attention of our government. Mexico is a hot bed of anarchy and disorder and the rights of our citizens are trampled upon ruthlessly if our government does not do something about it."

"I know that intriguers are at work there. I have seen with my own eyes how the enemy is working there. Our money is being poured into their hands and they are being paid for the tolerance which we show."

HETMAN HURT IN STREET BATTLE IN UKRANIA

ANTI-GOVERNMENT FORCES ASSAIL VASSAL OF KAISER IN PALACE.

Germany Expects To Dominate by Force. Tensions to Declare Old Russian Currency Worthless and Substitute German Money Instead—Romanoff's Capture Denied.

BERNE, May 21.—General Skoropadski, who recently proclaimed himself hetman of the Ukrainians, has been gravely wounded in street fighting in Kiev, the capital of Ukraine, according to information received here today.

This hetman's palace was besieged and attacked several times by troops faithful to the old anti-German government.

The state of civil war in Ukraine has grown out of the revolt against Germany. General von Eichenhorn, Prussian authorities will assume complete power in Ukraine; and that the new government at Kiev will be directed by the German government.

Germany is expected to rush food and cattle to their own country from Russia and levy independence upon the poor peasants.

It is reported that Germany will soon declare the old paper money in Russia worthless and will substitute German currency, which will be the sole legal tender, thus forcing the peasants to turn in their Russian paper money.

LONDON, May 21.—The Romanoff family of Russia are not interested in the Crimea as reported, according to official news from Moscow. The former tsar and his family are in Kiev, the capital of Ukraine, on May 17, it was stated.

The foregoing cablegram would indicate that the fate of the former Russian czar and his family is now in the hands of the Ukrainians. Kiev is controlled by General von Eichenhorn, German and Austrian forces in southern Russia.

LONDON, May 21.—General Somerville's anti-Bolshevik army in Siberia is a considerable force. The new News Agency dispatch from Moscow, China talks on the trans-Siberian railway near its junction with the Amur river and is 250 miles east of Lake Dalkai.

LONDON, May 21.—Ex-Grand Duke Nicholas, former commander in chief of the Russian army, escaped from Crimea before the Germans occupied the peninsula. A dispatch from Moscow today (The former grand duke had been expelled from his country estate in Crimea.)

An American Patrol Whips German Army

Sharp Fight Last Night—Donoghova Boys' Name "Tankie Dicks" Is Used.

WITH THE FRENCH BATTLE FRONT MAY BE A STRONG BOCHS PATROL ATTEMPTED TO SURROUND part of an American patrol at dawn, but the main body poured fire on the Germans and the result that the enemy was scattered. The Germans used both hand grenades and rifles.

During the night our front lines were occasionally hit under machine gun fire. The Bochs artillery and infantry however, are usually quiet. When they bombard, the Germans use quick a member of high explosive shells from the front line. These have been called "Tankie Dicks," "O. I. Buckets," by the doughboys. The artillerists on both sides are busy.

The American patrol will be hunting for a name that will fit both the southern and northern states. It is a compromise for both the south and the north, giving each a place in the title.

"The name of a plantation is that 'Tankie' should have a part in any nickname that is chosen. Thomas Burke, an English author, has suggested that the American patrol should be called 'Tankie Dicks' instead of 'Tankie Dicks'."

The American army is getting impatient to pick in the German army. The American army is getting impatient to pick in the German army. The American army is getting impatient to pick in the German army.

Division of Kings the Subject of Lecture by the Reverend Clifford Titus.

Graduation exercises were held in the high school auditorium Friday evening. The stage was decorated in the colors of orange and black, which were worn into a checker board design so as to completely cover the walls. At the front of the platform was a row of beautiful potted plants and flowers.

This was to have been occupied by one of the class of 1918, Earnest Emerson, who had answered the call to the colors and enlisted.

OUR PRIVILEGE AGAIN

Say what you will about the opportunity and privileges of remaining home and enjoying the comforts and regularity of the farm and fire-side, no true American feels quite satisfied with just staying home while the other fellow fights for him.

Every man of us with a drop of Yankee blood in his veins, feels like he would like to fight his own fight. So when the boys go marching on and we are seen embarking for the front, yet portly "real" "somebody else" there, we can hardly cheer them, when so many because we are left with them.

It is not American, for any man to stand content while another fights his fight—it is American, though, to stand our own fight, and help the other fellow fight his. It is a sore spot with most fellows who claim to "love their" or to keep the home folks educated concerning true conditions, and to entertain them and make them fit to bear the burdens and "over there," to stay home while their neighbors go "over there" to "paint the Kaiser's summer bungalow, red, white and blue."

Uncle Sam and Paul has kept many of us in the home land, either to provide the necessities for the boys and "over there," or to keep the home folks educated concerning true conditions, and to entertain them and make them fit to bear the burdens and "over there," to stay home while their neighbors go "over there" to "paint the Kaiser's summer bungalow, red, white and blue."

LET US STRIKE HIS VITALS

Has not the time come when the Allies should strike the vital of Berlin in his most vital point? Without the trade of the world he cannot live. The Allies should have been wiser to turn the course of the Hun from war to peace.

They are at war for different reasons than at different degrees of intense feeling, though the spirit of democracy more or less permeates them all. They all want Germany and her allies defeated, and want their immediate objects attained, but not all of them after the war would be willing to go far beyond to forego trade relations profitable for themselves on account of the present expense of the war.

Again, the military leaders of Germany have so obsessed the vision of the German people that they imagine that they will whip the allies and secure a monopoly of the world's trade, so that they can strike the vital of the Allies.

When she gets through paying for the damage she has done in Belgium, France, Serbia, Poland, and other countries, she will be crippled financially and added with an immense war debt, and this price she can be made to pay.

"Give Till It Hurts—Then Give More," Is Plea of Red Cross in Starting Its $100,000,000 Drive

(N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Give till it hurts—then give more. This is the plea of the American Red Cross, which has started its record war fund campaign—a drive to raise $100,000,000 in the next 30 days.

The $100,000,000 and more which was contributed last June has been largely exhausted. In its second appeal, following as it does so many calls for sacrifice, the directors of the campaign are relying on the record of performance in the period since the Red Cross began its work on a war basis.

Appropriations for other activities in France of special interest included $1,214,127 for the relief of widows in the devastated areas; $2,507,800 for the care and relief of refugees; $1,149,123.70 for the care of needy children; $22,233.20 for the education of mutilated soldiers; and $1,000,000 for the relief of French soldiers.

The relief work for Belgium, for which appropriations totaling $2,831,311 have been made, has consisted of relief of child refugees and refugees, aid for Belgian soldiers and aid for civilian hospitals.

The relief work in Great Britain has been both direct and indirect. The largest appropriations having been for contributions to the British Red Cross and the War Relieph Committee.

Major Raoul Lufbery, the "Ace," Halts in His Nomadic Career Long Enough to Knock Down 18 Boche Machines and Becomes Instructor

(N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, May 20.—Major Raoul Lufbery, famous ace of the Lafayette escadrille, who has been in the American air corps for some months, was shot down Saturday, his machine falling in flames during a battle in the air with eight German triplane carrying two machine guns.

The body fell into the rear of a farmhouse, the burning machine falling 400 yards away. About the same time Lieutenant Douglas Campbell gained his second plane, and was shot down in flames an enemy biplane.

It was 10 o'clock in the morning when a triplane suddenly veered down to twelve hundred meters over Toul. Lufbery and another pilot fought with the enemy biplane.

It is a singular co-incidence that the International New Service had sent out the following appreciative article of the deeds of Major Lufbery, to be placed in the hands of the very day he was killed:

Major Raoul Lufbery! Even the mention of Captain Kidd, from Sawyer, Huckleberry Finn, and Frank Redd, Jr., fails to stir the brain of your average American boy with such magic as found in these three words—Major Raoul Lufbery.

Not a magic spell, the keen appreciation of your country's bravest and most admired aviator to our youth, young and old alike have read and pondered on the almost superhuman doings of Major Lufbery. Many have raved and then wondered if the news-papers had not strayed a bit from fact in order that they might sing to their personal admiration of the American "Ace."

With eighteen enemy aeroplanes to his credit, Lufbery has been actually dragged from active service by General Pershing and commissioned as a lieutenant in the American general new air army. And if Pershing's wishes are adhered to, Lufbery will be in the front line of the war and hero's rub-if Lufbery has ought to do with it, we may expect to read any day of another brilliant act of his.

Those virtues of fiction, those who indulge in wild flights of fancy and ponder on the almost superhuman doings of Major Lufbery. Many have raved and then wondered if the news-papers had not strayed a bit from fact in order that they might sing to their personal admiration of the American "Ace."

What position is the war? The American people must prepare themselves to sacrifice far more than was at first thought necessary. The cold facts are, France, Italy and England have not enough food to keep them going ten or twelve weeks.

Miss Anne Martin, Suffragist, Prepares to Make Senatorial Race Back in Nevada

(Edna Huler Church.)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Women of America, you have to reach a decision pretty soon. What are you going to call your first representative in the United States senate? Will it be the best senator you can get, or will it be Miss Anne Martin?

Miss Anne Martin, who used to lead picket onslaughts against the White House, and who has been so long afraid of the great, big policemen, declares she is going to be in the next senate race.

She already has given up her room at the suffrage headquarters and has taken a room at the Nevada Hotel. She is going to Nevada to make a fight for the election of herself as senator to succeed Charles B. Henderson.

LaFollette Defense Before the Senate
WASHINGTON, May 21.—The defense of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, charged with making a disloyal speech, was to be held before the senate today.

After months of delay in starting the investigation of the alleged disloyal speech of the Wisconsin senator, the privities and election committee of the senate today began the probe. Senator LaFollette's attorney, Herbert M. Hoar of New York, an attorney representing Senator LaFollette was called to appear before the committee this afternoon.

Because of the continued illness of his son, Senator LaFollette was not able to appear in person. It is believed that he will appear before the committee during the entire investigation.

Senator Pomeroy of Ohio will conduct the investigation. It is the purpose to make the hearings public, and to invite the members of the committee observe.

CREDIBLE ACTION

The action of the county commission in determining to fix the grade from Great Shoshone Falls through the brush to the section two a mile this side of town, will be applauded not only by all who have to travel over it, but by all who are not in favor of it. Why? Because the grade is a credit to the county, and it is a credit to the county, and it is a credit to the county.

CHILDREN'S DAY

Circus day is always children's day. It is a movable holiday, depending on that autocrat of the amusement world, the manager who routes the show. On this day it is children's day and all people are children. Though primarily for amusement, the circus is educational. Old as well as young learn something of nature at each page show, and this was particularly true of the Barnes circus, the greatest show of its kind in the world, which was here Saturday.

Hoover Praises Camp Sherman Hospital

Great Accomplishments Recorded at the Chillicothe, Ohio, Branchment of the National Army by Physician. WASHINGTON, May 21.—A clean bill of health has been given the hospital at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, by the chief of the organization, by Dr. C. F. Hoover, of Cleveland, Ohio, in a report today to the secretary of war. This report, received by the secretary of war, says that the hospital at Chillicothe could possibly have no good case at home as they have.

THE HEROISM OF MERCY

By OPIE READ

There is no greater heroism than the heroism of mercy. There is no truer bravery than the bravery of tenderness: Out of the crash of pation against nation arises a Christ-like sympathy, and the insignia of its tenderness is the cross of red. It is the only remaining glow of a Christian hope. It is religion under shell fire. It is a sigh set to the music of sympathetic action. If a man who speaks truth should say to you, "With the use of five dollars you can save a useful life, alleviate a hundred nights of pain," you would grant him the money. You would not feel that you had lost, but gained.

This is what the Red Cross says to you: "Give of your safe and secure substance and I will sooth pain. I will gather up men, heroes who have been shot to the earth, and housing them I will nurse them back to life. For myself I ask no recompense. My reward is my conscience. My applause is restoring man to his family."

Hearing these words and feeling that they are true, would you hesitate to open your purse, whose contents were gathered in times of peace?

The Red Cross appeals to you personally. To you it opens its merciful heart—and begs you for assistance. The cutting down of one luxury a day would mean a soothing tenderness on the red fields of France.

Youthful French Orator Seemed to Think Lafayette Was Really the Father of This Country.

By DR. ESTHER LOVEJOY.

What is the attitude of the French people toward the Americans? The French are a very polite people, and no matter what their thoughts may be, they are not likely to express an opinion to an American other than complimentary. But the children of all the world are gullible. They can be depended upon to express in public the private opinions of their parents. The children of France are crazy about Americans in uniform, so we guess what their parents feel for us.

On one occasion I was making a public school with another Red Cross woman physician in uniform and a French visiting nurse. The school had just been dismissed, and a group of young boys came trooping out. Instantly we were surrounded, and after a second's parley a young Mirabeau of about twelve years, the spokesman of the group, stepped forward, bowed formally and delivered an address on Lafayette and America, which was punctuated by the applause of his admiring listeners. The American flag could not possibly be seen in the United States on the Fourth of July than it did on that back street of a munition town in France.

Washington Not Mentioned. There seems to be some difference of opinion on the relative importance of certain historic characters connected with the American Revolution.

SAVIORS

By ANGELA MORGAN

Yours is the daring skill to tread
The waters of a world at war;
Yours is the miracle to shed
Where the stricken ones are dead,
Courage and comfort, like a star,
You cry unto an earth dismayed,
And God is thrilling in your tone:
"Brothers, the ship is not alone;
Be not afraid!"

Ye ate the Christs of this black hour,
The Great Physician came again,
Within your sacred hands the power
To heal the race of men;
Ye held the hurt world to your breast;
Ye bind her bruised and broken soul;
The sick, the maimed and the oppressed—
Yours is the gift to make them whole.
And where the stricken miles unroll
Ye sound the resurrection morn;
Above the bier where Justice lies,
With visions of an age new born,
Ye bid the dead arise!

O World, that walkest now in tears
Where Truth again is crucified
After the rocks, the heavens unroll—
See yet that Christ is not denied!

Memorial Days Begin Sunday, 25th

President Wilson Proclaims May 30 as Day of Mourning and Remembrance Memorial Sunday, May 25.

The Day of Memory, born out of patriotic fervor and honored through forty years of observance, receives an added lustre on May 25, as the president of the United States does "hereby proclaim Thursday, the thirtieth day of May a day already freighted with sacred and stimulating memories, a day of public humiliation, prayer and fasting, and to exhort our fellow citizens of all faiths and creeds to assemble on that day and there, as well as at their homes, to pray Almighty God that He may forgive our sins and shortcomings as a people and purify our hearts to see and do the just, to accept and defend all things that are just and right, and to purpose only those righteous acts and judgments which are in accordance with His will; beseeching Him that He will give victory to our arms and His light for freedom, wisdom to those who take counsel on our behalf in these days of dark struggle and perplexity, and steadfastness to our people to make sacrifice to the utmost support of what is just and true; beseeching of God that the hearts of men may be at rest, because it is founded upon mercy, justice and good will."

The proclamation was at first taken as possibly intended to supersede, or to change the usual Memorial Day observance of the president and Grand Army of the Republic in accordance with its statutory law. Such is not the case, as the president himself has subsequently declared—saying that it was expected and desired that organization would follow its usual custom—attendance to the president's proclamation to be of a nature of and in addition to the Grand Army program, except insofar as it might be combined with it.

The Memorial Day observance, here in Twin Falls, will begin with attendance of the members of Dan McCook Post, G. A. R., upon divine service at the Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning, May 25, which time and place will be announced by the pastor. A special musical program rendered under the direction of the school and organist, Mr. Thomas. All old soldiers, whether members of the Post or not, and all Confederate veterans, if any are invited to associate with Post members, at the court house, at 10:45 a. m. for the purpose of attending the service. The G. A. R. and allied bodies will go to the cemetery in autos provided by the Council of Defense, and decorate the graves of their comrades.

The observance of Memorial Day, Thursday, May 30, as planned by the G. A. R., consists of a parade, in which all the civic organizations of the city are invited and expected to join, starting from in front of the High school building at 10:30 a. m. sharp. After a short march, the G. A. R. and allied bodies will go to the cemetery in autos provided by the Council of Defense, and decorate the graves of their comrades.

APPLIED TO THE BOULDERNOOK HOME

The following is the poem by Louise Undermyer read by Miss Sanderson at the children of the Boulder- nook at the week-end party as described in THE TIMES last week:

(By Louise Undermyer.)
May nothing evil cross this door,
And may ill-fortunes never pry,
About these windows; may the roar
And falls go by.

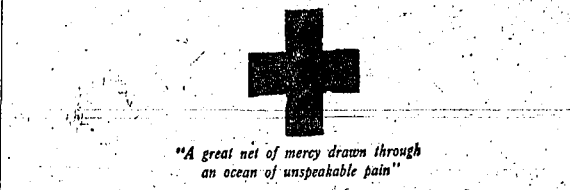

Strengthened by faith, these rafters
Will withstand the battering of the storm;
This harbor, though all the world grow
chill,
Will keep us warm.

Peace shall walk softly through
The rooms,
Touching our lips with holy wine,
Till every casual corner blooms.
Into a shrine.

Laughter shall drown the raucous
shout;
And, though these sheltering walls
are thin,
May they be strong to keep hate out
And hold love in.

"Boulderbrook" is a combination of 10x22 tent with small frame kitchen, sleeping porch and dressing room annexed. It is nestled in an excellent spot on the banks of Alpheus creek and is visited every week by friends and acquaintances who invariably take with them supplies for the week-end picnic and good times. Before the Alpha girls returned to town Sunday morning, they wrote a letter to the absent member, Miss Ada Wainwright, who recently accepted a position in Washington, D. C.

Miss Marjorie Metcalf, Nell Saunders, Hazel Bishop and Oral Anderson, who teach in the schools here the past year, leave the last of the week for their respective homes in Nebraska, Kansas and Wisconsin.

"A great net of mercy drawn through an ocean of unexpressed pain"

HAVE you ever lain in No Man's Land, with a shattered thigh and a throat that burned with thirst?

Has your wife ever begged food for her children and herself at the mess-kitchen of a soldiers' camp?

Has your little son ever torn his mother's heart with a plaintive cry, day after day, for food she couldn't give him?

Has your little daughter, clad in a ragged dress, her only dress, ever shivered night after night in the ruined cellar of what was once her home?

Has your city ever been destroyed—nay, powdered, bricks, stone, timbers and all so ground into the dust that one scarce knew where street ended and building began?

It is exactly such suffering that the Red Cross is organized, here and in Europe, to relieve.

The Red Cross asks for One Hundred Million Dollars as the least it needs to carry on this work.

Can you—dare you—refuse to give to this work—and give till the heart says stop?

Every cent of every dollar received for the Red Cross War Fund goes for War Relief.

The American Red Cross is the largest and most efficient organization for the relief of suffering that the World has ever seen.

It is made up almost entirely of volunteer workers, the higher activities being without exception mass accustomed to large affairs, who are in almost all cases giving their services without pay.

It is supported entirely by its membership fees and by voluntary contributions.

It is today bringing relief to suffering humanity, both military and civil, in every War torn allied country.

It plans to improve to help in the work of reconstruction throughout the world.

It feeds and clothes entire populations in times of great calamity.

It is there to help your soldier boy in his time of need.

With its thousands of workers its tremendous stores and smooth running transportation facilities it is serving as America's advance guard—and thus helping to win the war.

Congress authorizes it.

President Wilson heads it.

The War Department audits its accounts.

Your Army, your Navy and your Allies enthusiastically endorse its work.

Twenty-two million Americans have joined it.

DENVER FACIEST IN DUBLINED DESERTER

DENVER, Colo., May 20—Benjamin Salmon, Denver lawyer and widely known pacifist, was listed as a deserter from the United States army today and a squad of soldiers from Fort Logan detailed to find him "dead or alive."

Salmon is at liberty under $2500 bond pending appeal from a nine months prison sentence imposed upon him in Federal court for refusing to fill out his draft questionnaire. Saturday he made repeated efforts to surrender himself and begin his sentence. Federal officials refused to accept his bond forfeited, however, and he failed to break into jail.

LUMBERMEN PLEDGE THE RED CROSS SUPPORT

CHICAGO, May 20—Pledges of contribution and a resolution providing for a 100 per cent subscription to the Red Cross featured the opening session here today of the sixteenth annual convention of the National Lumber Manufacturers association. About 300 members from all parts of the country and from the thirteen affiliated organizations are in attendance.

Albert H. Burnside of the West Coast Lumber Dealers association, of Portland, Ore., spoke of the needs of conserving wheat and said that the lumber trades were actively identified with the production and marketing of wheat.

WHITE HOUSE WOOL FOR SALE FOR T. C. SPRINGFIELD, of May 20.—What will you bid for two pounds of wool taken from the White House sheep? That question will be asked at the convention of Illinois during the present Red Cross drive today by Governor Lowden.

The Government today accepted the White House wool suggestion that he receive mail and telegraph bids from the state for a quantity of the shagwags from the White House sheep.

President and Mrs. Wilson have presented the wool to the American Red Cross with the request that it be auctioned in each state during the Red Cross war fund campaign for the benefit of the fund. Each state will receive approximately two pounds of the shagwags to be known as White house wool.

Tragic Letter of Grace Lusk Read

WAUKESHR, Wis., May 21.—Grace Lusk's code of morals came to the full light of day today in the crowded court room where she is on trial for the murder of Mrs. Mary Newman Roberts, wife of Dr. David Roberts for whom she bore Grace Lusk's name.

The note was brief. It said: "This is the work of a man who said he loved me. God forgive me, Fay Hinman, for the house I have spoiled."

And then was introduced a document, carefully written by Miss Lusk in which her code of morals were drawn and displayed her effort to direct her fevered heart for the world that would not understand. In it she seeks to excuse all she had done and was about to do.

By this document the state hopes to show that the murder was deliberately planned and the defense hopes to prove by the same token that only an insane woman could have written such epistles.

Here it is: "I had a bit hard to write this for the majority of the folk who don't care for me and who have been so active in criticizing me I have no explanation. I should have known better than to play with fire. I should have known that men have one code of honor for the women to whom they are married. I have had the theory that love between men and women was stronger than all the other ceremonies in the world—when this was lacking there was no sanctity in marriage. I still believe so and the man in the case has been too much of a coward to face his wife and tell her the truth—he, has never been true to her."

"Now that I have had to suffer I am going to insist that he tell her how matters stand, that he be honest with her. If he will not go I will afraid, he will have to be afraid of me this time."

"I am not the type of woman to be lied to. Oh, I am sorry, sorry, sorry that this happened, and yet I had rather have had this experience, painful as it has been, than to know what love can mean. I can't honestly feel that I have been satisfied. I have cared as much for one another as a man or woman can. The only treason was in not telling Mrs. R. I care always wanted to but he was afraid. Well, it will soon be over, I am not afraid. I have loved my friends very, very dearly. I have tried very hard to put the best out there, the monks in the oldest times. God, my brother, take pity on my longing soul. I hope dear father doesn't take it too hard. I have never caused him so very much worry. I want him to forgive me, I just can't live as I have been living these last few weeks. I have been almost crazy with heart aching and humiliation. Please give enclosed letter unopened as addressed."

How she prepared for the tragic end of her romance to the last detail was bared in another document enclosed in an envelope marked, "Open in case of accident." She said she didn't want much fuss over her funeral. Only a little prayer. She wanted to be laid in her "new grey party dress." Her turquoise pin and two diamond rings she also wanted. Then she told how she wanted her money disposed of.

Then came the letter addressed to the woman she was about to slay. It was addressed to Mrs. Roberts, but was not mailed.

Austrian Sensation Caused By An Expose

Effort to Compromise Peace Leader By Bribing Secretary Siles In the Country

PARIS, May 21.—Travellers just arriving in Switzerland from Budapest, says the Matin, relate a story which caused an enormous sensation in Austria.

A Hungarian by the name of Dobay, secretary to the famous Hungarian statesman, Count Karolyi, lost a large sum of money in carls. He was approached by Count von Plotow, German military attaché at Vienna, who offered him 2,000 kronen for possession of Count Karolyi's confidential notes on France in order to compromise him.

Dobay told von Plotow that the price was low, demanding more for an accomplice. The attaché then offered 50,000 kronen and still Dobay was not satisfied.

Dobay was frequently in touch with von Plotow by telephone, first arranging that the conversation should be overheard by a representative of the government.

Finally von Plotow offered 200,000 kronen for the immediate theft of, or the destruction of, the notes on Count Karolyi exposing the German attack.

At a later meeting of the chamber there were interpellations on the matter but the actions of Dr. Wekerle, the Hungarian premier caused him to lecture about the matter and to attempt to investigate and protest to Germany. The German consul and Count von Plotow are expected to resign. The senators allowed no allusion to be made to the affair in the press of the central powers.

Count Karolyi has been working for peace recently and went to Switzerland on a peace mission.

Another Good Investment

WE paid out some Red Cross money a while back. Paid it out—and forgot it. That's how much it hurt. Might not be a bad idea to have a look at what that money has been doing.

That money went, dollar for dollar, where it did a full day's work, wherever it was.

Three cents of it may have had the honor of disinfecting with iodine the three torn wounds of an American soldier on the French front. Or it may have had the less noble responsibility of pinning a warm flannel belly-band around six-year-old Antoinette out back of Noyon.

No use,—we can't figure this Red Cross task in cents' worth.

There's the whole path of ruin from Belgium to Switzerland, just to visualize one thing at a time. If your Red Cross money went there it very likely provided pots and pans, food and clothes, beds and blankets, for the repatriated people.

Three years ago these people were prosperous and contented—self-respecting, steady, saving, hard-working, everyday, small-town citizens.

Now they have the "earth under them and the sky over them"—not one thing else.

It's for you to say whether this great work of mercy shall stop.

The Red Cross is yours, just as our Army and Navy are yours; yours to support with the same fervor and loyalty that leads you to the bottom of your purse for Liberty Bonds.

It's for your voice to say whether your Red Cross shall falter now or sweep onward, greater and more helpful than ever before.

And it's your dollars that must answer.

1,480 MILES OF MOVIE FILMS FOR SOLDIERS

Used Each Week in Army Y. M. C. A. Screen Entertainments at Home and Abroad.

More than 1,480 miles of moving picture films—approximately 8,000,000 feet—are being used each week in army Y. M. C. A. screen entertainments for soldiers at home and abroad, according to a compilation received here today from the National War Work council of the Y. M. C. A. It is shown that on an average there is one moving theater to each unit of 4,000 or 5,000 fighting men.

This total is divided into what are called programs, which average five reels or 5,000 feet. There are some circuits where a program will be constantly in use for thirteen weeks. At many camps and entertainments in the central military department, as well as at Great Lakes training station and the chain of rest camps, a program frequently stays for more than a week, being exhibited in the Y. M. C. A. clubs and camp theaters.

Every reel shown to the soldier boys is censored before exhibiting, but there is lots of heroism found in every reel besides subjects that inspire big thoughts and those that appeal to sentiment.

While every Y. M. C. A. in this country has its motion picture apparatus and operators, the Community Motion Picture Bureau, through which the Y. M. C. A. is handling its screen entertainment business, has organized a chain of movie theaters on the western front from Ypres to Lorraine. These entertainments are being supplemented by musicals and theatricals.

The Y. M. C. A. is now recruiting a large force of motion picture operators for service overseas. Men of draft age who cannot satisfy their desire to enter the combat sections of the nation's service because of pronounced disability will be considered by the Y. M. C. A. for service not far from where the shells are exploding and the airplanes are shrieking. Any man over the draft age will be accepted on proof of his qualifications.

COALEDO AND TOLEDO

Women, Found After Six Left Train It Was Wrong Place.

Coledo and Toledo sound very much the same to the ordinary ear, confusion of the names caused a woman to arrive in Toledo when she should have arrived in Coledo, and the airplane part of the story is that she did not discover her mistake until she began to look around for her relatives, who promised to meet her in Coledo.

"What place is this?" she asked of a bystander at the depot.

"This is Toledo, madam," replied the bystander.

"Is this Coos bay?" she asked, waving her hand toward the lordly Yaguan.

"No, madam," replied the bystander, "this is Yaguan bay."

"I don't understand it," she explained. "I asked the agent to give me a ticket for Coledo, and here I am in Toledo. That agent is bad for a piece of my mind when I get back."
