Published Every Day Except Sunday by the TIMES PRINTING & PUBLISHING COMPANY

Twin Falls, Idaho News of the World to the Hon. C. L. Longley, General Manager J. D. Wiegman, Associate Editor

(Entered at the Twin Falls postoffice as second class matter as a daily publication, April 11, 1918.)

THE TIMES is an Independent Democratic newspaper but it knows no politics as opposed to the most unbridled and vigorous prosecution of the war that is possible. Therefore, it is AGAIN any man, Democrat or Republican, caught throwing hardware into the machinery of the war with his hands or with his mouth. If his be "patriotic," make the most of it!

STILL FOOLING THEMSELVES

The American troops did not figure in the German attack upon the capture of Cantigny. The war office described the event in this fashion: "West of Meudon the enemy during local advance penetrated into Cantigny yesterday."

It is not in accord with the policy of the German general staff to permit the capture of American troops in France when recognition can be avoided. Hence the Americans who went into Cantigny were merely "the enemy" engaged in a local advance. It is only when American troops are captured or driven back that they are mentioned in official reports.

In the mean time the German government is actively propagating its profound conviction that it can fool all the people all the time so far as American participation in the war is concerned. The semi-official Cologne Gazette assures the country that "the present strength of the American troops in France does not exceed 300,000 men," and that food conditions in the eastern part of the United States "come close to a famine."

It has critically been taking the Chamberlain and Hitchcock speeches in the United States senate seriously to inform its men that the transportation of American troops "has practically ceased, owing to the ever-increasing lack of tonnage," that "there is little prospect that the United States will have an army of any considerable size in Europe before the spring of 1919," and has been quoted in the "American Statesman" that "the manufacture of uniforms, ammunition and other war materials is increasing very slowly owing to military administration," that "the equipment of the army is very poor, the lack of warm clothing accounting for many men dying of pneumonia," that "the supply of shoes is far behind the needs, less than 50 per cent of the men being equipped with proper footwear," and "so it happens that only half of the men can be sent out for training at a time."

For purpose of domestic propaganda the German government is wholly committed to Senator Chamberlain's doctrine that the military establishment of the United States has "ceased to exist," that it has "almost stopped functioning." The same case, the presence of increasing large numbers of American troops on the western front is obviously impossible, and it would be folly to admit that "fighting-trained" American soldiers were capable of driving German veterans out of their trenches. There will be little to see how long the German government can play this curious comedy, and how long the German people can be deceived as to the strength of the American forces in France. We have no just cause for complaint about this situation. The only thing that the people are kept in the dark the stronger will be their resentment. While they are content by their ability to face the facts that the general staff has so carefully concealed.—New York World.

FIGHT NOT DANGEROUS

The New Freedom, which is presumed to be informed on the matter, is authority for the statement that the fight for the democratic nomination for senator between Nugent and Harely will go on to the end. This will not be unwelcome to the Republicans. While they have no fear of their ability to elect their nominee, yet a nice war scrap will be an oink that they will not try to overlook.—Nampa Local Herald.

The Leader-Herald need not console itself with the idea that the Democrats of Idaho intend to allow anyone, however honest in personal intent, to be elected to the senate who does not stand for the national and international policies of Woodrow Wilson. The Democrats are pushing forward somewhat with the "unhappiness of richness" by having two very eminent leaders of whom is well qualified to an unusual degree to wear the toga. As the burden of proof lies on those who would out an incumbent to put in another, when the incumbent is filling the place with great honesty and ability. The Times believes that the Democratic opponents of Senator Nugent will find that in this case opinion is more than even the proverbial nine points of law. Anyhow, in trying to get a senatorship from the Democrats, our Republican brethren will be fully convinced of this fall of the force of the adage.

NOTE FOR ROAD DISTRICT

No bond issue is involved in voting for the creation of a road district in cluding all the territory inside Twin Falls county and outside the Dubi highway district and the proposed Pilot highway district. It simply puts the parts of the country not included in the other two districts in a position to improve roads effectively when the opportunity offers. No bond issue can be secured unless later on, the people want to vote them. By all means, the people should take interest enough to get out.

THE W. & S. CAMPAIGN

A week from today will begin the great drive for war saving stamps. Twin Falls county is ahead in this state, but, neither this nor any other county is anything like up to its quota. Get ready to help-boost and make it a success.

THE CHAUTAQUA

The Chautauqua opens Thursday, and all indications are that it will be a success from every point of view. While the program centers in a way about the war, there is enough variety to make-it of the highest interest and educational value from other points of view.

BELLOPS DO THIRIVING BUSINESS AS BOTTLEGGERS

SPARTANBURG, S. C., June 17.—When military police arrested Lawrence Williams and Arthur Bird, two bellhops at a hotel, charged with selling whiskey, they found $1,100 on one of them. The police entered the hotel and called for drinks. The bellhops supplied them and the arrests followed.

HERE'S ANOTHER CASE OF LAZEST MAN ON EARTH

CAMP DODGE, Ia., June 17.—An Alabama "darker" stationed here believes in letting the "ther follow" do the work.

Too lazy to write the address on a suit case he was sending to a friend "John Achenbach," wrote "John Achenbach. Hunt him up." Uncle Sam, however, in the person of the postmaster at Des Moines, refused to "hunt him up," and is holding the suit case.

ITALIANS COUNTER ON AUSTRIANS

Bolzano and Mount Solfero have not only held the Austro-Hungarians in check, but have driven them back from high ground where, in the first stages of the rush they had overrun some first line Italian defensive works.

Not only have the Italians inflicted terrific losses upon the Austro-Hungarians, but they have captured over 8000 prisoners well. More than 90 of these were officers.

Allied airmen have played an important part so far in the battle and at least 31 Austrian machines were shot down in fighting high above the mountain tops.

The Austrian war office, in an official report issued on Sunday claiming the capture of 10,000 Italian, French and British prisoners. An official statement claimed that the Piave had been crossed at numerous points and that advances had been made in the mountains, as well as along the Oder-Sauro-Treviso railways.

LONDON, June 17.—South of the Monte Bello sector the Italian front line has advanced and the Austro-Hungarian forces that succeeded in forcing the Piave are being pushed back toward the river, said dispatches from Rome today, quoting a special official report that had been issued there.

"The pressure of the Austro-Hungarians continued strongly," said the statement. On Saturday the enemy attacked in strength, using 60 divisions, but he did not succeed in passing any point in the advanced area. The enemy attacked under the screen of an artificial fog which lasted for ten minutes. North of Cesana a group of British troops was surrounded, but repulsed until a counter attack released them, when 200 Austrians were captured.

South of Monte Bello the Austro-Hungarians who crossed the Piave are being pushed back toward the river. "The fourth army completely regained their advanced positions in the sectors of Monte Asolona, Fortica, Sorelino and Porto di Saton.

The battle which broke out yesterday between the Asiago plateau and the Adriatic sea may be regarded as just beginning. The Austrians have been concentrating most powerful attack tanks astride the Brenta river and across the Piave. It is well possible that the fighting line but the situation is rapidly changing.

The favorable results achieved by the allies were due to the timely arrival of the attack tanks, the superior artillery preparation that was very actively brief but of extreme violence, employing a large number of gas shells.

"The Austrian infantry equipment was lightened and they advanced in thin formations under the protection of artificial fog produced from bombs and a smoke making apparatus called a 'nebmaschine'." The third corps' attack was a chemical mixture and it covered a large area for ten minutes.

The enemy placed much faith in gas preparation and fired their gas shells at his first day's fighting as an advance of more than 15 kilometers (between nine and ten miles) and to descend from the mountain area into the plain, reaching Treviso from the Piave.

Keep Faith with Your Boy "Over There"

When your boy was so little that all the world was a foreign country to him, he trusted you to take care of him. You sent him to school and to play and on your little errands, and with implicit faith he did your bidding.

Now we have sent your boy or your neighbor's boy out into a foreign land, into terrors that he cannot even know—and his faith has not faltered. He knows we will do our part if he does his.

THE DAILY TWIN FALLS TIMES

Published Every Day Except Sunday by the TIMES PRINTING & PUBLISHING COMPANY, Twin Falls, Idaho. News of the World to the Hour. C. L. Longley, General Manager. J. D. Wietan, Associate Editor. (Entered at the Twin Falls post office as second class matter as a daily publication, April 11, 1915.)

The TIMES is an Independent Democratic newspaper; but it knows no politics as opposed to the most united and vigorous prosecution of the war that is possible. Therefore, it is AGAIN any man, Democrat or Republican, caught thereon—either with his hands or with his mouth. If this be "partisan" make the most of it!

STILL FOOLING THEMSELVES

The American troops did not figure in the German general staff to recognize the existence of American troops in France when recognition can be avoided. Hence the German staff went into Cantigny merely "to the enemy" engaged in a local advance. The semi-official Cologne Gazette assures the country that "the present strength of the American troops in France does not exceed 300,000 men, and that food conditions in the eastern part of the United States 'come close to a famine'."

It has evidently been taking the Chamberlain and Hilscock speeches in the United States senate seriously, for its informant reads that the transportation of American troops "has practically ceased, owing to the increasing lack of tonnage."

There is little prospect that the United States will have an army of any considerable size in Europe before the spring of 1919, as has been admitted in the American-Scots' report that "the manufacture of uniforms, ammunition and other war material is progressing very slowly owing to faulty administration."

The equipment of the army is very poor, the lack of warm clothing accounting for many non-dying of pneumonia; that "the supply of shoes is far below needs, less than 50 per cent of the men being equipped with proper footwear," and "so it happens that only half of the men can be sent out for training at a time."

For purposes of domestic propaganda the German government is "loyally" committed to Senator Chamberlain's doctrine that the military establishment of the United States has "ceased to exist," that it has "almost disappeared," that better, in the case, the presence of increasing large numbers of American troops on the western front is obviously impossible, and it would be folly to admit that "lightning-trained" American soldiers were capable of driving German officers out of their haunts.

It will be interesting to see how long the German government can play this curious card, and how long the German people can be deceived as to the strength of the American forces in France. We have no lost cause for complaint and no deception. The longer the German people are kept in the dark the stronger will be their resentment when they are compelled to face the facts that the general staff has so carefully concealed—New York World.

They will not try to overdo it—Nathan Ledger-Herald.

The favorable results achieved by the allies were due to the timely artillery counter preparation and an insignificant resistance and unparaleled clan of our troops.

UNIFORMED FORCE WON

WITH THE AMERICAN UNIT IN CHIEF, ILLINOIS, June 17.—Heavy bombardments between a lone American soldier and a draft registrant not yet in service, resulted in complete victory for uniformed America. The little attack was preceded by a barrage of words, in which the soldier called the draftee a slacker. Casualties included two blackened eyes, one swollen jaw, a lump on the head—all the personal property of the drafted man, not in uniform. An unsympathetic constable, however, arrested the soldier, and a sympathetically J. P. fined him $100 and costs. But America was victorious, anyway.

LINER PASSENGERS ONE STEP INTO WAR ZONE

Parl C. Reeves, (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE ON THE ATLANTIC (Delays)—Young America is taking the dance, as well as song, into the zone. How far it will penetrate no one knows, but with the impetus gained thus far it should penetrate to the advance hospital bases at least. First night aboard, a young American asked the chief steward where dances were held.

"I frowned with his shaggy eyes, and growing from beneath his formidable upper lip a description—a great deal about the world being in the business of war and these not being dancing times. The young American came back and asked timidly: "Well, where do you think dances are held?"

"Days passed, another day with scarcely a vibration or a rattle to the ship.

Last night the steward strolled his questioner.

"By God, old top," he said, "I was all wrong about that, they are dancing to beat the hell!"

As this is being written a soldier's string quartet is playing in the dining room on the deck below. They are practicing for a concert scheduled for tomorrow night. But certainly, somewhere, nearby, wherever there is a pair of eyes, every eye is one-stopping their way toward the war.

There have been four "official"

JOHN DRINKS EVIDENCE; GETS SIX MONTHS' TERM

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 17.—When John Ryan was taken into court on a charge of boot-legging to soldiers, a quart bottle of whiskey was produced as evidence.

The prisoner stood before the judge trembling and shaky, not because he was frightened, but because he was shy his "morning's morning." There lay the breccer before him; the bottle's back was turned and John counted well on the dignity of the court.

Right before the astounded judge and to the delight of the rank birds he seized the bottle and drank half of it at a single gulp. A police sergeant yelled to the bailiff:

"Hey, Oscar! he's drinking all your evidence!"

As the bailiff jumped to the rescue the prisoner hastily put the bottle down, then the bailiff carried it to a chair to try and grant the horror of the situation. The court held his dignity.

This was the psychological moment for John. He grabbed the bottle again and drank the remaining pint. He felt better and the evidence was all gone; he actually grinned at the court.

With carefully selected words his honor made it plain that Miter Ryan gets no more refreshments for six months.

BUN HOYCOTT MAY STOP CRUELTY TO U. S. PRISONERS

SEATTLE, Wash., June 17.—A nationalistic boycott of German goods for a generation after the war will be enforced by the women of America if the Hun inflicts cruelty on any American prisoners or fail to treat them according to the recognized usages of war. This is the plan outlined by Mrs. E. A. Strout, of this city, who is circulating the aid of every woman in the city and state to help her carry the propaganda to all American women.

STUDENTS TO DO SHIP WORK

EUGENE, Ore., June 17.—Many students of the University of Oregon will spend their vacation this summer working in the Grant Smith-Porter shipyard. C. W. Auman, Industrial manager of the plant, is signing up students for the work. At the yards the "starvy men" will live in barracks, and will be worked in a special gang, which promises to live up things at the plant considerably.

Why Swift & Company Has Grown

The fact that a business organization has grown steadily for forty years proves that it has kept continually meeting a vital business demand.

It must have kept "fit" or it could not have stood the strain of ever-shifting conditions.

Swift & Company has been trained in the school of experience.

Every day of its forty years of service has solved some new problem of value to its customers.

Every year has proved its ability to learn by experience, and to use this knowledge for the benefit of those with whom it deals.

CANNED MUSIC IS USED AS A LURE FOR SEALS

SEATTLE, Wash., June 17.—Canned music to lure seals to their death is the experiment being made this summer by deputies of the United States Commissioner of Fisheries of Washington. The seal herd hunter anchors his rowboat near a rocky or algal trap, pulls on a record and when the music gathers around to enjoy the concert, the deputy with his trusty rifle picks off the audience.

Fishermen have found the bait seal is very inquisitive, with a keen sense of hearing. When the animal hears a strange sound curiously prompts him to investigate. Indians have long known this characteristic of the seal and have lured white-birding distances with a spear by using a sort of whistle which has a peculiar attraction for the animals.

SOLDIERS DENIED TISSES AS SMACKS INTERFERED WITH MEALS OF TROOPS

SCRANTON, Pa., June 17.—Soldiers passing through Scranton will no longer be kneed by local girls. Mayor Connor, bachelor, has put a stop to the practice. The Mayor says that, while personally he says no harm in having the girls kiss the soldiers, he has received complaints galore, including one from the Red Cross and on this account has desired to prevent further molestations at the station. The Red Cross workers said the kissing interfered with their task of feeding the soldiers.

SEVEN WOMEN COMPRISE CAPABLE SECTION GANG

CASTLE ROCK, Wash., June 17.—Six married women and one who hopes eventually to be married form a section gang that is carrying for a stretch of double-tracked main line of the Northern Pacific north of this town. The fair-sexed women are in charge of a regular section gang formation, and reports the women do just as efficient work as the fifteen men who formerly made up its crew.

BOAT MYSTERY SOLVED

MOBILE, Ala., June 17.—The mystery of the recently reported submarine in the Gulf of Mexico, it is now believed, has been solved. Officers on a steamer plying between Cuba and Gulfport report they sighted a whale six days off Sandy Light, at the mouth of Mobile Bay. When sighted the whale was asleep, looking not unlike a submarine, the big fin somewhat resembling a hatch. The vessel plunged into it and the whale disappeared.

FARM HANDS DEMAND $50 A MONTH, SUNDAY AND A HOME AND BUGGY

ALMA, Kan., June 17.—Three farmers here recently tried to hire farm hands. One young fellow agreed to work for $50 a month, if given the use of the farmer's car whenever he wanted it. Another said he would work for $50 a month, if given Saturdays off and Sundays off, and furnished a horse and buggy. The third wanted $50 and the farmer to furnish him a car to use on his own property, if he would work every Sunday. The trio is not working.

"DROP YOUR CHANGE FOR SOLDIER SMOKERS" PLAN IS ADOPTED AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Ill., June 17.—Chicago has inaugurated a "drop your change in here to buy a smoke for a soldier on his way 'er there" campaign. Boxes with little tin signs bearing the inscription are to be found in most of the theatres, restaurants and department stores.

The money is for an army relief transport tobacco fund. The fund has been authorized by the Illinois state council of defense and is incorporated under the laws of New York.

BABIES' VALUE $25,000 IN CLEVELAND CAMPAIGN

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 17.—Census enumerators are at present listing every baby in the city under six years of age as a preliminary step to the summer's campaign for better babies and for the babies' health during the hot months coming. It is estimated that there are more than 50,000 children under six who will be watched over by the city health authorities this summer, and it is hoped that nearly a thousand deaths will be avoided among the children, as compared with the death rate of former years.

WASHINGTON IS FACING SERIOUS COAL PROBLEM

SEATTLE, Wash., June 17.—Washington state will be required to supply 1,200,000 tons more coal this year than it did in 1917, according to a statement issued by the Washington state fuel administration. In an effort to get consumers to buy as much coal as possible during the summer months the administration announced the coal consumers with storage space who failed to stock up will be without coal this winter in the event of a coal shortage.

REGISTRATION OF GERMAN ALIEN WOMEN STARTING TOMORROW, SAME AS MEN

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Registration of German alien females, under the President's proclamation placing them in the same status as German alien males, will begin tomorrow morning and continue until June 25. The same general plan used in registering German men will be followed. All women in this country more than fourteen years old who are natives, citizens, denizens or subjects of Germany are required to register. Alien Hungarian women are not required to register.

Registration is also required of American women who have married German unless the marital relation has been terminated by death of absolute divorce and American citizenship resumed.

Any American woman who marries a foreigner takes his nationality, the department rules. The naturalization of such foreign husband as an American citizen restores the wife to American citizenship.

A German woman who has acquired American citizenship by marrying to an American retains this status after the death of her husband or after an absolute divorce if she continues to reside in the United States, unless formal renunciation of citizenship is made.

Declared intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, attained by taking out first papers of naturalization, does not permit women in the German alien class to escape registration.

Policies of the registrars will be taken. Official clerks in cities of more than 1,000 will have charge of the registration. Severe penalties are provided for violations.

URALIANS READY TO REBEL AGAINST BOSCH

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Uralians are on the verge of a revolt against German authority according to a dispatch from Stockholm to the state department today. The dispatch reports that travelers returning to Stockholm from Norway believe that the former Russian province will rebel against its practical domination by the Germans. The hatred of the population toward the Germans has become so marked that the latter are in fear of their lives and leave the cities only in large bands, in guarded convoys being murdered outright, the dispatch adds.

TORNADO SWEEPS OVER GEORGIA

VIENNA, Ga., June 17.—One dead, one fatally injured and a score suffering minor hurts is the toll today of the tornado which yesterday swept over Dooley county. The three-year-old daughter of A. E. Wallace, and Miss Gammage were mortally hurt when a school house in which a Sunday school meeting was being held, was demolished.

VERTICAL NEST OF PRO-GERMAN PROPAGANDISTS IN MEXICO IS DESCRIBED BY AN AMERICAN, WHO ALSO GIVES SOME INFORMATION ON OIL AND THE H. C. OF L.

LAREDO, Texas, June 17.—A prominent American who for the past two years has been making his home in Tampico, Mexico, passed through Laredo a few days ago en route to his old home in California, and while here was interviewed as to conditions in Mexico. He gave out the following information as to the work being done by German propagandists in that country:

"A few weeks ago when the Germans were in the drive and a slight victory over the allies the news was called to Tampico and immediately the German of that place began a big campaign. They decorated the place with German flags—a big parade, in which German flags were carried, and at night there was a big banquet, when speeches were made in German. The Mexican authorities did not attempt to interfere with the Germans in any way, in fact many Mexicans of importance rendered them assistance. A person who can be considered a reliable source of information in Mexico told me that from statistics gathered by him it was found that there are at least 50,000 Germans scattered throughout Mexico, and all of them are engaged in spreading their propaganda among the Mexicans. No German employes are on the payroll of American or British concerns in Mexico now, all having been discharged after the war started, and these same men, in vengeance for losing their positions, are working hard to incite the Mexicans against the United States and the allies and in favor of Germany. This is no idle talk, but a well-known fact in Mexico.

Asked about conditions in the Tampico oil district the American gentleman stated:

"The oil field situation is gradually becoming more serious as time passes on account of the exorbitant taxes demanded by the United States government and the inability of the oil field operators to get the necessary accommodations for the transportation of the product of the great oil fields. Many tank steamers were taken out of service in the Tampico oil trade shortly after the United States became involved in the war for use in coastwise trade in the United States. At this time all of the big oil tanks, each of which holds from 50,000 to 65,000 barrels of oil, are full and can not be emptied for lack of steamers. If this condition continues long some oil producers will have to shut down.

Referring to the American people complaining of high prices of living as a result of the war, the gentleman from Mexico smiled, produced a list of prices asked in Mexico for the necessities of living and said: "Read that list." Here are the prices quoted, payable in American gold coin: Carboxon milk, one-pound can, sixty cents; cow's milk (slightly aqueous), per quart, fifty cents; eggs, each, fifteen cents; ham and bacon, per pound, $1.50; flour, per 100 pounds, $25 to $30; fresh beef, per pound, seventy cents to $1.10; brown sugar (no white or granulated), three to four pounds for $1; potatoes, per pound, twelve cents; onions, per pound, ten cents; butter, per pound, $1.75 to $2. And then the American gentleman smiled and said: "I got a lunch in the heavy tax being laid upon ice cream, bread and butter and two tomatoes and it cost me only $3.60."

TOBACCO OUTLOOK FINE

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., June 17.—The 1918 tobacco crop is promising. The 1917 crop has been sold at pleasing prices. SOUTHERN RIVER TRAFFIC PROBLEM YET UNSOLVED

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 17.—Although the project of utilizing river traffic to relieve railroad congestion was discussed seriously several months ago little has been accomplished looking in that direction. HE WAS COLOR BLIND BUT HE FOUND A WAY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 17.—Private ardor like Charles Zubr's is to be admired, the navy recruiting officer here says.

Zubr came in and wanted to enlist. The officer examined him and found the younger man totally color blind. He was rejected.

Undaunted, Zubr returned the next day. On the color test then he was a wizard. It puzzled the recruiting officer, who asked an explanation.

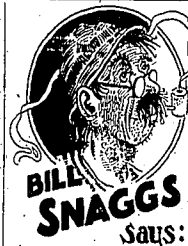

"Oh," Zubr said, "I went down to the next store and bought a pair of glasses there for a half day to teach me colors. She took down ribbons and yarn colors until I learned them all. After I bought her box of candy."

PACIFIC NORTHWEST GOLF TOURNAMENT OPENS

SEATTLE, Wash., June 17.—The Pacific Northwest Golf Association war relief tournament, probably the largest sports show ever staged in the Northwest as a money raiser for the Red Cross, opened here today with crack golfers from many parts of the Pacific coast contending. The tournament will continue all week.

Usually when a player has lost in the championship fight there is nothing for him to do but catch the next train home. According to the program players will be kept here all week, with interesting competitions.

The opening championship started the ball rolling this morning. It is believed the last pair going away is a seventy-two hole medal event open to professionals and amateurs. The third and fourth rounds will be played tomorrow, and they will apply as qualifying rounds for the amateur championship.

The women's Pacific Northwest Golf Association championship qualifying round of eighteen-hole medal play follows in the last pair going away in the first round open. Sixteen will qualify for the title battle.

WAR TO DETERMINE FATE OF BASEBALL

NEW YORK, June 17.—The fate of professional baseball after the close of the present season, and that of many other branches of sports as well, depends wholly on the length of the world war.

That the government will probably take no drastic steps in connection with the new draft amendment as it applies to baseball this season has been generally understood for the past few weeks. The various leagues are well toward the middle of their seasons, and having gone that far it is considered unlikely that they will be hindered to any great extent this year.

Should the government find it expedient to apply the new measure to all "unnecessary occupations" to its fullest extent, however, baseball will be robbed of practically all its stars. THOMAS W. BULLING left but to close up shop and call it quits until peace is made.

A few of the stars who come under order are: George Sizer, Dorritt Pratt, Roger Peckinpaugh, Walter Pipp, Allan Sutoron, Clarence Myers, Walter Johnson, Trip Speaker, Jack Melnitz, Everett Scott, Wally Schang, Anson Strunk, Joe Bush, Dutch Leonard, Babe Ruth, Carl Mays, Eddie Collins, Chick Gandil, Ray Schalk, Buck Weaver, Umas Pator, George Burns, Henry Kauff, Ferdie Schupp, Zach Wheat, George Tyler, Jim Vaughn, Dave Hancock, Eppa Rixey, Holde Cobb, Eddie Tousey, Fred Goetz, Ty Cobb, Hubbs Vane, Owen Bush, Art Nehf, Fleck Hudspeth, Roger Hornsby, Dick Carey and William Coward.

Very interests tied up in baseball, which is an established business, are to be considered, yet in case drastic measures have to be taken, baseball is bound to suffer.

Other sports will suffer along with baseball. Racing, boxing, golf, tennis, billiards, bowling, rowing, and auto racing may be under the hammer of war before another year rolls around.
