CHICAGO, June 25.—Funeral services for the fifty-five of the Higgenback circus train tragedy deaths will be held here tomorrow when they will be buried in the Showmen's League Rest, a plot of ground in a local cemetery.

GOOD NEWS FROM ITALY CONFIRMED HIGH RIVER NOW IMPEDES PURSUERS AUSTRIA SHAKEN AND DEMORALIZED

A Review of the Situation Most Encouraging—Italy's Day and Austria's Debacle—Attacks Now Opened in Mountain Region—Turkey as Well as Austria Is Famine Stricken—the Austrian Retreat Still Progresses.

(Frank Charlton, L. N. S. Cable Editor) The Italian armies on the Pieve front are now advancing beyond the lines which they held before the Austro-Hungarian offensive he can eleven days ago.

It is unofficially reported that a great Austro-Hungarian army has become cut off in the zone east of the Pieve and that they will have to be surrounded or annihilated.

Six thousand prisoners have been counted by the Italians up to date and huge stores of booty have been captured, including many big Shkodas guns.

Italian infantry and cavalry continue to pursue lightly the retreating Austrian armies, decimating the ranks that stand up to oppose them.

This, in fact, is Italy's day. In addition to the developments on the Italian front and the normal operations of a minor character that daily occur on the western battlefields in France it is pertinent at this time to consider the political and economic happenings in the countries of the German alliance.

The German government has taken alarm over the plight of Austria-Hungary and is showing some anxiety over the territorial hunger between Bulgaria and Hungary.

Turkey is famine stricken and the Turkish population has been ravaged by many years of almost constant warfare.

Without considering the military situation and without heeding the possible ironies of bolshevism from the east into the central empires it would appear that economic and political conditions in the nations of the quadruplet alliance are more unfavorable than they seem at any other time since the war commenced.

The Italian war office has not yet announced the capture of 45,000 prisoners, as reported from Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Reports that the armies of the Archduke Joseph and General Wurmb had been annihilated upon the Pieve front, failed to impress any officers of the war department here until they were notified that General Wurmb is in command of the fifth Austrian army, composed of probably fifty divisions and stretching around Mount St. Angelo.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The president's commission on the St. Angelo, Mass., was today announced.

ITALIAN VICTORY NOT EXAGGERATED

Earlier reports received over the Pieve front indicated the manner in which the Austrians have been defeated. The magnitude of the Italian victory grows more apparent with every fresh report.

Italian cavalry that crossed to the eastern bank of the Piave has pursued the retreating Austrians mercilessly. Italian infantry divisions pressed close behind the cavalry and the living Austrians were given no chance to reassemble their forces.

The latest report on the number of prisoners taken by the Italians was an unofficial dispatch from Rome which stated that the prisoners now totaled 45,000.

It is reported that the Austrians have been captured in the mountain region and that the Austrians have been captured in the mountain region.

Big Questions Before Congress

May Change Draft Age to 18 to 25 Years—Immense Appropriation Bills Await Final Action—Four Legislative Days in Present Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The proposal to change the draft age from 18 to 25 years of age had the center of interest when the senate resumed its session today.

The proposal is in the form of an amendment to the army appropriations bill offered by Senator Fall.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—With only four legislative days remaining before the opening of the new fiscal year, seven important appropriation bills are awaiting final action by congress.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The senate has today passed a bill which would allow the emergency food production act to run until the senate and have not yet been sent to conference.

WHY WOULDI

(By a French Soldier)

Of two things, one is certain: Either you're drafted or you're not drafted.

If you're not drafted, there is no need to worry.

If you are drafted, of two things one is certain: You're behind the lines or you're on the front.

If you're behind the lines, there is no need to worry.

If you're on the front, of two things one is certain: Either you are resting in a safe place or you're exposed to danger.

If you are resting in a safe place, there is no need to worry.

If you're exposed to danger, of two things one is certain: Either you're wounded, or you're not wounded.

If you're not wounded, there is no need to worry.

If you are wounded, of two things one is certain: Either you're wounded seriously, or you're wounded slightly.

If you are wounded slightly, there is no need to worry.

If you're wounded seriously, of two things one is certain: Either you recover or you die.

If you recover, there is no need to worry.

If you die—you can't worry.

CLONE-TO-POLICE-DEPARTMENT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 25.—"Hello! Is this the police station? Well, wake up and take a look around the outside of the building. You will find man's body." This startling message was received by the police of Sigo township. A search revealed that under one of the windows of the building was the body of a child who had been murdered only a short time before. It is the theory that the man was slain at a distant point and carried to the police station by the murderers.

WHY WE MUST

(By V. G. Backman.)

Kimberly people were privileged to listen to the very able and thoughtful address given by Mr. Larson of Twin Falls last Sunday night at the Methodist church, in which the speaker declared in very convincing and forcible language that the Red Cross is quarrelling not only with the Kaiser and his crowd, but with the German people. He quoted the language of eminent German preachers, philosophers, and professors, through which he proved that the mind of Germany was a war make that the German people are firm believers in the doctrine that might makes right, and that the danger is the great god; that the German people fought because they wanted to, not because the Kaiser made them.

The American people are not fighting to help England or France. It is not a matter of benevolence upon our part, but a matter of extreme necessity. We are fighting for the life of our nation which is now in jeopardy. We have to fight in order to live. It is the issue of the important. MUST. Germany has millions, she has ideals, she has philosophies which combine to compel her to believe that her mission is to rule the world. And she will rule the world unless every nation under God's heaven sets themselves to the task of thwarting her in her attempt to rule that she does and remains neutral must fall into her web. There is no other way.

America's army is composed of every man, woman and child who claims citizenship under her flag. We have men fighting in the trenches; we have men fighting in the fields; we have men fighting in offices; we have women fighting in kitchens, and kiddies fighting in gardens. We are all fighting because we must fight.

We must buy liberty bonds! We must subscribe to the War Bonds. We must buy Saving Stamps! We must because we can't do otherwise, because our life's blood is on the altar, because our fight is all that is left us to do.

Twin Falls county will go over to the Red Cross in the coming War Savings Stamp drive because they have to; second, we have been commanded to; and third, we want to. Every American wants to do his part. "These dead shall not have died in vain."

RATHER DIFFICULT TO ADD TO TROUBLES OF THIS MAN

MARIETTA, Ohio, June 23.—The man whose wife dined with the conductor, his daughter with the brakeman and whose boy swallowed the railroad ticket all the same, has nothing on J. M. Diker, a Parkersburg, shoemaker, sojourning here.

Diker was fined into court, charged with obstructing justice. In order for his fall from the water wagon, he said.

Judge, I'm in hard luck. I smashed my finger and haven't been able to work for three weeks; my wife has had three strokes and has to be operated on for a cataract in her eye; the gas bill is due Wednesday and the rent is due today. If you'll let me go I'll have there long as.

"Ten and costs," said the obtuse judge.

DROWNING MULES TRY TO KICK AND BITE WAY TO SAFETY

A PACIFIC PORT, June 25.—Captain E. Kawi, commander of a Japanese liner arriving here from Atlantic waters, told how mules from a torpedo vessel killed several members of the crew in their frantic efforts to climb aboard rats and boats.

"We were in a convoy of thirteen vessels, from New York, led by the 'Captain Kawi' said. 'Off the Betty Islands two submarines showed up and sank two boats. The mules of the convoy, each carrying horses and men."

"Our after guns went into action immediately and one of the submarines was hit by our shells. The other was sunk by a convoying cruiser."

"I ordered the boats away and took charge of our power launch. It was like plowing through a sea of horning mules. The horses gave up without much fuss, but the mules swam to the side of the launches and boats and tried to kick and bite their way to safety. They kicked out with tremendous force and I saw a number of swimmers' heads broken."

"Terrible pandemonium reigned for more than two hours until the mules on the torpedoed steamers were saved."

OPPIHER-FROM ORIENT SAYS TIME UNFRIE FOR JAPAN-RUSSIAN FIGHT

SEATTLE, Wash., June 25.—Japan does not consider the time ripe for throwing a great army into Russia unless Germany makes a definite withdrawal, according to Major Margus, a member of the Imperial Japanese army, who is here on his way to France to study the tactics of the Russian army. He bears a message of good will from the Japanese army to the war department in Washington and also a letter of personal thanks from the Russian army.

Major Saigo believes the German army is making sufficient too great to withstand the allies or to attempt to reach Paris or London.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 25.—"Hello! Is this the police station? Well, wake up and take a look around the outside of the building. You will find man's body." "NO DEER, NO MILK" SAYS MILKMAN REPRESENTATIVE

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 25.—"If we can't have beer then we can't have milk, and there you are. This may sound like 'wet' propaganda, but far be it from such," said a representative of the Milkman's association.

"If they quit manufacturing beer then there will be no malt or by-products to feed the cows, and this is very essential for home after eating beer by-products," always gives twice as much milk.

Spitzberg, the El Dorado of Arctic Ocean, With Its Coal and Iron Deposits, Is Another Goal For Which Grasping Hun Set His Cap

LONDON (By mail)—Waystation has been found in Spitzberg, the El Dorado of the Arctic Ocean. Germany's war lords and steel magnates from getting control of Spitzberg, the El Dorado of the Arctic Ocean.

Should Germany be forced to give up Alorance-Lorance, with its coal and iron deposits, far from the pole, although more distant, would she then should her plunder-hungry god of Spitzberg, a group of islands lying about 1,000 miles east of Greenland. The territory of 24,000 square miles lies between the coast of known coal and iron deposits.

Germany's influence in Russia, the acquisition of Spitzberg would be the next logical step toward further economic domination of Russia and Scandinavia.

There are huge accumulations of German munitions in the main deposits, less than 1-2 miles from the sea. The islands are habitable the year round. Should Germany get control of the land which already has notoriously been dubbed "Pitobergen," she would have a great base for her military operations.

New Registration 18 to 45 Prohibited

Men From 18 to 45, Not Called Under Former Regulations, Will Doubtless Be Called to Register in Near Future.

News of an official notice received yesterday by Lieut. G. W. Hall, Philippine Scout, etc., in charge of the Utah-Idaho recruiting district indicates that the proposed law to draft men from 18 to 45.

It takes 40 men behind the lines to take 10 men to the front. The men going towards his ultimate destination—Berlin—these men are workers, not fighters, and are engaged in railroad construction, manufacturing, cantonment building, handling supplies from the boats to the front.

Men who may never wait for anything. We have made every effort to get men to do this work and to collect their services, but not enough of them have come forward; hence, the training and lowering of the draft age to 18.

Men covered in the new law should, by all means, make all arrangements for the date and date of departure, and also make the necessary arrangements for the date and date of departure.

Men who are not tradesmen will have every opportunity to select and enter into the service of their professions now being taught in the army, well paid and cared for and come out well equipped to earn high wages.

WATER POWER

The "Public Service Magazine" well says: "The nation at war needs the development of all water power resources possible. It would release other kinds of power from over-excitation and enhance the nation's possibilities more than any of its own energy." What national men have for so many years urged now becomes an important patriotic duty, the enactment of a law that would invite investment in water power development. Secretary Lane's law looking to that end ought to go through congress on the wings of the wind. Under the present law, an investor doesn't care to put money into those enterprises, for the law is reasonable at the will of the secretary of the interior. Of course, if the country could always be assured of such a secretary as Franklin K. Lane, that might not be such a bad law, but as Secretary Lane says, investors should not be left dependent on the good digestion of a secretary of the interior. We need the release and development of this power. We need it for ourselves and our allies now to destroy the Prussianism and we need it for the future in reconstructing the industry of the world. But we need it for the normal and natural purposes of peace. We have needed it for years and would have had it but for the foolish sentimentality that controlled the situation."

LABOR AND WAGES

The important matter of farm labor and wages has been earnestly taken up by the State Council of Defense, as reported by a letter from the chairman to the respective county councils, recently published in these columns. The Twin Falls county council has now addressed a letter to the same effect to all the auxiliary councils, cogently urging that they use their efforts, individually and collectively to have the liberal scale of wages adopted in this state rigorously adhered to. The letter says in part:

"We have in Idaho citizens and aliens—some subject to draft, others who are not—who are unwilling to work for the current wage or a reasonable wage. In fact, for the benefit of work for any stipulated figure if they thought their refusal to work would force the payment of a higher wage. Idaho has arranged a wage scale in which is higher than that paid by any other state in the Union for like agricultural labor. In fact, for the benefit of work for any stipulated figure if they thought their refusal to work would force the payment of a higher wage. Idaho has arranged a wage scale in which is higher than that paid by any other state in the Union for like agricultural labor. In fact, for the benefit of work for any stipulated figure if they thought their refusal to work would force the payment of a higher wage."

"We respectfully ask all farmers employing help to abide by that scale that there may be no competitive bidding against fellow farmers and that the laborer may be assured his wage and protected in obtaining it. We respectfully urge the farm laborer to accept this wage scale and become an earnest proponent with the farmer. Let us all laborers—in order that we may know our strength, patriotic men working for a stipulated price can be left at home to help produce the food our soldiers and allies must have."

DEVICE FITS HUB AND BOLT HOLES IN PROPELLERS

Because of the extreme care required in boring the hub and the hole in the bolt holes in an airplane propeller, a motor-driven machine, shown in the June Popular Mechanics Magazine has been devised recently which does the work with great accuracy, in one operation. Fine adjustments of the drill table, on which the propeller is placed, is made by screws to get it perfectly level. This is necessary in order that the holes be square with the hub. A special fixture is employed to clamp the work firmly while the several bits are operating in the upper and the under side and there is cutting the hole through from the upper surface. The casting that holds the drill table is counter-balanced on guides so that the feeding is controlled by a gear at the top.

WAR BEGAN IN APRIL, 1913

Hugo War Credit Was in That Year Voted in Germany and Supported by Socialists.

When did the war begin? April, 1913; not August, 1914, as the press always has it, writes Charles Edward Russell in Harper's. The real declaration of war was made by the German Reichstag when it struck observing Europe dumb and chill by passing, on a "fortuitous" vote of 425,000,000 and to that act of hostility in a time of profound peace the socialists in the Reichstag gave practically their support.

All men in the world accustomed to make upon the day's news an intelligent diagnosis must have gasped and stared at this portent. Unless Germany deliberately planned now to bring down upon mankind the war her armament had already threatened those many years, there was no good reason for this perilous saber rattling; certainly none appeared in the state of Europe. Yet the socialists seemed to be for it; that was the incomprehensible fact.

Kuehlmann Speech to the Reichstag

Washington Falls It a Cheap Bluff—Blatant of German Hoopla—Business—Will Effect No Change in the Situation

John Edwin Nevins, (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent), WASHINGTON, June 25.—At the very moment when the strike department was making public relations in showing that Germany was preparing the German people for peace, a speech was delivered by the first man in the west last night, 1918, the cables brought to Washington word that Germany's anticipated peace offensive had been initiated.

colleagues speech when he declared that the war must go on "until the German people realize that their military masters cannot dominate the world." Until the complete official text of Dr. Kuehlmann's address is received here, official comment must be withheld. In fact, it was considered entirely probable that the first comprehensive statement on the subject will come from President Wilson himself when he makes his second address at Mount Vernon on the Fourth of July. This address already is expected to be one of the most important ever made by the president, and officials expect him to tell the central powers not only some rather unpleasant truths, but also to reveal in part the plans to be followed in restoring conquered Russia.

As an instance of the high hypocrisy of the official attitude on that the attitude of the entire and the United States toward Belgium has been known to the world since the opening gun of the war was fired. Dr. von Kuehlmann's declaration that Germany does not wish to herself while "our adversaries do not oppress themselves," was declared to be on a par with the original "scrap of paper" characterization.

Prominent Divine Killed In Action

A Georgia Clergyman Gives His Life as the Head of His Company of Fighting Men

Rev. L. B. France of this city sends to the "Times" an account of the death of a Brother Hector with whom he became acquainted at Camp Gordon, where he has been and is on duty that has elements of the heroic clipping from the Atlanta (Ga.) Daily sent by Mr. France reads as follows:
"Captain Henry Lee Jewett Williams, son-in-law of Chancellor David Barrow, of the University of Georgia, and the late Dr. Howard Williams, of Macon, and one of Georgia's most prominent young men, has been killed in action in France. A telegram to this effect was received Friday by Chancellor Barrow, and the news was further confirmed Saturday by the day's casualty list, which contained the name of Captain Williams.
"The young officer was one of the most prominent and popular men in the state. Graduating from the University of Georgia with high honors, where he was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa and where he won a Rhodes scholarship, he went to Oxford, England, where he made a magnificent record. Taking orders he was assigned to the rectorate of an Episcopal church at Millersville, Ga., and then went to the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn.
"Upon America's entry into the war, Captain Williams resigned his position at Sewanee, and, waiving all compensation and refusing to accept a chaplaincy of which he might have been assured, entered the first officers' training camp at Fort McPherson. To his friends he declared that as an officer of the line he could serve his God and his country better than as a chaplain or in civil life. He was commissioned a captain and assigned to Camp Gordon (at Camp Gordon he was attached to the depot brigade until March of this year), shortly before the regiment left for the port of embarkation, he was transferred to Company Three Hundred and Twenty-sixth Infantry.

HOLLISTER ITEMS

Sunday the Hollister baseball team, with their full strength, beat the Washington team at Filer by the top-heavy score of 22 to 1. The victory should have been a shut-out, the one run coming in one of a flake play. The game was marked with some good batting and good fielding on the part of the Hollister boys. The Washington team was unable to solve the delivery of Wolcott, the Hollister pitcher. A freak home run by Klumeyer, of Hollister, and the two double plays by the Hollister infield, served to make the game interesting. Washington used three pitchers in their attempt to stop the heavy Hollister attack, but were unable to get the heavy batting. Next Sunday the Hollister team plays Rogerson here, and we look for a better game than the one with Washington.

WHIPS FOUR PRU-GERMANS TO FIGHT COMBATS HIM

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 25.—Two impudences to wait until he could fight the Germans in France, M. Lyons, a draft select, hopped on to two men who were making pro-German remarks. He gave them a thorough trouncing.
But the pro-Germans had not vented on the streets unprotected. They knew it would not be safe for them to travel alone when they might run across a hawky American mob any day. So they called for reserves who were in the near background. Two reserves pounced upon Lyons; but the latter vindicated his name by punching them right off their feet and putting them just as he had the first two.
With four German sympathizers disposed of, Lyons turned to the fifth who implied that the Yank would be exposed. Lyons was well into the process of beating the fifth German when the other arrived. The German who gave the name of Britton, was sent to jail for ninety days and Lyons was commended by the court for good work well done.

STATES OF CHIAFFERUS TO NECESSITY IS DEPORTED

BOSTON, June 25.—Now necessary is a chauffer?
That question is now settling the automobile circles. The "work or fight" rule has thrown them into a state of chaos. There isn't any definite rule as to the chauffer, but it seems probable that drivers of commercial trucks will be considered pro-Germans and therefore not affected by the order.
TAXPayers are a real problem. Jitney bus drivers are probably O. K. and fellow bus men to the chauffer, but Drivers of jitney taxis may have to get other jobs.

Mine Official Is Out With Facts

"Everybody Ought to Know About Tanacet It Is Wonderful," Says Peterson.
Statement after statement is now being made in connection with Tanacet, the "Greater Preparation" which is accomplishing such remarkable results throughout the United States and Canada—Arthur Peterson, general manager at the mines of the Seven Stars Gold Mining Company, Intermountain, Nev., who is spending the winter at the company's office 212 Main street, Salt Lake City, Utah, in relating his experience with the medicine said:
"I can recommend Tanacet as the best medicine I have ever tried, and since taking it I feel better than I have in years."
Mr. Peterson was born in Salt Lake City, but lived for six years in El Paso where he was captain of a company of fire and six of the fire department, and it was there he realized the wonderful powers of Tanacet.
"Whenever I began taking Tanacet," Mr. Peterson continued, "I was all out of shape, suffering from stomach trouble so I couldn't eat anything so-called without it hurting me. I had very little appetite, and the gas in my stomach would blow me up and keep me in misery for hours after meals. I was constantly taking something for constipation, had fearful headaches, and was very nervous. My rest was very poor, was tired all the time and would get up in the morning feeling as worn out as if I hadn't gone to bed the night before. I had gained in weight for three years; and I had gotten to where I never felt like doing anything.
"Yet when living in El Paso, and so many people were talking about the good Tanacet was doing that I got me a bottle, and from the very first I began to feel better. My stomach stopped bloating in a short time, my head quit aching, and my constipation was cured. I had gained weight. I have not been sick since I finished my third bottle of Tanacet a year ago. My appetite and digestion are still good, and I feel like a new man. Tanacet made a new man of me and anyone wishing to do so may call me on my return to Salt Lake City at Wasatch 2101-J, and I will take pleasure in verifying this statement. Everybody ought to know about Tanacet—it is wonderful."
Tanacet is now sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy, in Rogerson by Thompson Drug Co., in Burleigh by Burroughs Drug Co., in Filer by Wood, in Bulli by C. D. Boring Drug Co., and in Kimberly by W. A. L. Stone.—(Adv.)

STUBBORN FATHER GIVES THREE GIRLS BOYF NAMES

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 25.—Always on the alert for draft evaders, the sheriff some time ago found on the registry the names of three calves of draft age who had failed to register for the service. Further investigation showed that in the Big Bluff district there were small farms by the name of Shimley. Three names appeared—John, William and Harris.
The sheriff contacted the owners of the ranch. He at once asked for John, William and Harris. And to his surprise he stepped three beautiful dark-brown calves. The calves were worth ten-dollar small calves which caused the officer to gasp, blink and then wipe off his eyes.
As soon as the sheriff could recover he asked for an explanation and learned that "Dad" Spauldy was some stubborn individual and some years ago had his herd set on having a family of boys. He was so sure that before the boys were born he would be named John. His disappointment was great when he was blessed with a daughter; but he stood pat and vowed that the name John would stand. His second child proved to be another girl, but the father had already named it William, and of course that name had to stand for all time. When the latest babe was born "Daddy" was not quite so sure, but he had the nerve left to command and demand that the name would be "Harris"—and it was another girl.
Not until the drafting for the army came about did the old man weaken and allow "John, William and Harris" to become regular girls by a change of name.
ALBANY, N. Y., JUNE 25.
LAST FIGHT OF LEPHERY
ALBANY, N. Y., June 25.—Miss Constance R. Howe, Albany girl with the knee bent and MS. 116 in France, was an eye witness of the first battle which resulted in the death of Major Lowell Laphere, America's foremost aviator and hero of the war.
"One of the American air flying squadrons is quite new—here," she wrote, "and the day after we were asked by the chief to attend an aviator's funeral. Next morning we heard guns overhead about 2:30, and we saw in the distance Major Laphere and the Hun plane that caused his death. I shall never forget that sight and the sound of the guns going off in the air, and by degrees the Hun plane rose higher and hid itself in a thick cloud. Soon we heard that Major Laphere had been killed and it caused a big sensation."
She wrote of attending Laphere's funeral and said: "I may see other military funerals, perhaps with more grandeur, but I shall never forget his and I cannot help but think how much it would have meant for his mother to be there."

Germany Hedges "After the War"

Will Starve England and Lick France and America "Next Year" — Foreign Secretary Explains Future Plans to Reichstag.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Germany already is preparing the people "back home" for an admission of failure of the entire 1918 campaign against the allies, according to confidential information received by the state department today.

The department withholds its source of information but it made it plain that it was entirely authentic. According to the report the German governmental agencies and newspapers are now engaged in making it plain to the people that certain developments very likely will make it impossible completely to overrun France this year as was promised last spring. However, these agencies are explaining that next year the situation will be much better, from the standpoint of Germany and that then France will be overcome and England and America defeated.

The information also says that the German agents are making it plain that men released from the army this year will develop a new phase of submarine warfare which will make the submarine a potent weapon to starve out England. In this connection captured documents taken from German officers dwell on the fact "After the war" Germany will be in much better shape to proceed to conquer Egypt and India. Just what is meant by "after the war" state department officials say they do not know.

BERLIN, via HAMBURG, June 25.—Germany and her allies wish to live within the frontiers traced by history, with possessions beyond the scene corresponding to our greatness and riches and our capacity for organization," declared Dr. Richard von Kuehlmann, the German foreign secretary, in an address before the Reichstag, defining the war aims of the central powers.

The foreign secretary also said that the German allies want freedom of trade in all parts of the world.

"Regarding Belgium we do not wish to find our hands while our adversaries do not exercise themselves," said Dr. von Kuehlmann.

Markets Steady—Trade Only Fair

CHICAGO, June 25.—Oats made a slight advance after the opening of the market today, a grade of highly beneficial rains in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. There was a good class of buying, headed by local dealers which obtained the 12-fifths. The market had been steady at the start, and on the bulge there was considerable selling, but it really eased the market as selling pressure eased.

The corn market was little affected by reports of rain, although this was beneficial to the crop. Trade was light.

ing the Randall amendment to the bill.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The second draft lottery will be conducted at the capitol Thursday morning at nine o'clock if it was announced by the war department today that at least the order numbers of the 744,886 twenty-one year old registrants who enrolled on June 5 will be drawn.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The senate this afternoon agreed to the amendment to the $12,000,000,000 army appropriation bill providing for the organization of the Slavic legion and the training of Pan-American troops in the United States.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Although only one-tenth of the number of the men will be drafted this year, it is expected that the drawing will be marked with the same simple but impressive ceremony. Secretary of War Baker, with President Marshall, Crowder and members of the senate and house will be present. The same big bowl from which the drawing for 10,000,000 was conducted last year will be used again. The numbers, printed on black paper and enclosed in capsules will be deposited and shaken up. The numbers when drawn and read will be checked off on a huge blackboard, where they may be easily seen by the telegraph operators who will flash them out over the country.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—While in no way discounting the widespread disaffection throughout the Austria with the possibility that the effectiveness of the dual empire as a factor in the present war may be materially interfered with, officials today sounded a note of warning against any belief that peace is in sight.

Attention was called to the fact that the German military control over Austria remains as complete as ever. Complete collapse of Austria, officials familiar with the situation believe, would react in the downfall of Germany. Because of this, it is believed here in the capital that Emperor Charles put down the insurrection in Austria as a necessary, German troops of the veteran classes who are none too effective on the front, being lines will be sent into Austria, according to information reaching this city.

The one effect of the rout of the Austrians by the Italians is expected to be a hastening of the next German blows in the west. All of the information reaching this city indicates that Ludendorff is concentrating his forces at several points and a new drive from one of these is looked for. If the army experts here have any idea where this blow is to be struck, they decline to indicate it. Naturally they still consider that the great German objective is the capture of Paris and they believe that all movements ordered by the German high command will be directed toward that objective. If possible, they believe that the next German blow will find the entente and American forces in a better shape to receive it and insist that it will gain less territory than any of the movements attempted in the last three months.

Warning Against Over-confidence

WASHINGTON, June 25.—While in no way discounting the widespread disaffection throughout the Austria with the possibility that the effectiveness of the dual empire as a factor in the present war may be materially interfered with, officials today sounded a note of warning against any belief that peace is in sight.
