ROOSEVELT FOR GOVERNOR OF N. Y. IS PLAN

REPUBLICANS URGED UNITE ON HIM IN EMPIRE STATE

Will Speak This Afternoon

Warren Whelan (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 18.—With a predicted swing toward Theodore Roosevelt for governor, the Republican state convention opened shortly after noon today with a call on the party to unite, and not divide on the Governor Whitman-Attorney General Lewis fight for the party nomination. The convention opened in a blaze of patriotism. For the first time in the history of the major parties of the state, women sat as delegates.

Former Senator J. Sloat Fassett, of Elmira, whose chief for temporary chairman of the convention was ratified by the state committee last night held the keynote speech. Former President Roosevelt is expected to speak during the afternoon. He has been "accorded" the privilege of speaking at any time during the convention.

WARREN WHELAN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 18.—The seemingly even surface tenor which has so far marked the Republican state convention promises to be shattered tomorrow, when delegates are given the party's principles in a platform already drafted.

SARATOGA, N. Y., July 18.—About the time the convention was in session and win the war speedily by the peace of overwhelming victory are the two prime purposes of the American people at this time, Colonel Roosevelt told delegates here at the Republican state convention in a remark which was greeted with a rapt attention.

Col. Roosevelt urged the election of a Republican congress and charged that the Democrats of the past congress failed to support the administration war measures, whereas the Republicans did. He strove to Millions of People in United States Contributed to Magnificent Results That Floated From Conservation.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—America has led the world this year with 3,011,000,000 pounds of wheat and oats—340,800,000 bushels—of cereals; according to a summary of the work of the food administration submitted in a report to the president by Food Administrator Hoover, made public today.

These figures represent an increase of 844,600,000 pounds of wheat, and 30,900,000 bushels of cereals over the preceding year.

"The wheat figures are 3,000,000 bushels for 1917-18 as against 250,000,000 bushels for 1916-17 and the most figures are 3,011,000,000 pounds for 1917-18 as against 2,165,000,000 for the preceding year.

It is an assurance that the millions of our people," said Hoover's letter, "agriculture as well as urban, who have contributed to these results, should feel a very definite satisfaction that in the year of national food shortages in the northern hemisphere all of those people joined together against Germany have come through into the light of the coming harvest not only with health and strength maintained but with only temporary periods of privation."

GAVE 'EM HELL SAYS A YANKEE IN THE DRIVE

AMERICANS SHOWED "PEP" FROM THE VERY START

"Kaintuck" Boy Picked Off 25 Huns

Everywhere Soldiers of the United States Displayed Valor That Discomfited the Boches—Hun May Attack Britons.

LARIS, July 18.—"We gave 'em hell," is the triumphant note on the lips of American wounded who have just been brought to Paris hospitals from the front.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Failure of enemy attempts to penetrate the American lines near Vaux, and continuation of the press reports of the Americans retaining possession of the north bank of the Marne, feature a "Paris" communique, under date of July 17, made public by the American government today.

HUNS HURLED BACK FOUR MILES BETWEEN AISNE AND MARNE RIVERS

Yankees Taking Leading Part in the Great Onslaught—Violent Fighting Proceeds but Aggression of Boches Is Slacking Down Where They Are Still on the Offensive—Teutons Repulsed in Mountains South of Rheims—Germans Lost Initiative Early in the Drive and Failed to Regain It—Score of Small Towns Retaken.

LONDON, July 18.—The French and American forces that launched a counter offensive between the Aisne and Marne rivers this morning had advanced from three to four miles, capturing thousands of prisoners and twenty guns up to early this afternoon, the International News Service learns.

The attacks were delivered against the Germans over a front twenty-five miles wide. The new counter offensive was designed to cut the Soissons-Rheims railway and force back the Germans who have been attacking in the Meuse valley.

The assaults began at 8 o'clock this morning. The chief progress was made in the sector of the Aisne valley. The drive in that zone was aimed to divide the German reserves.

The Germans only recently captured the ground that the allies stormed today and therefore the Teutons did not have time to fortify it before the Franco-American onrush. It was the biggest allied counter offensive since the spring of 1917 and it was carried out brilliantly and with great dash all along the line.

The Americans were eager for the fray and entered the combat with great vim. The allied advance of from three to four miles over a twenty-five mile front would mean that the Franco-American army must have overrun possibly as many as a score of small towns and villages. These would include numerous villages and hamlets between Chateau Thierry and Villers Outrevois where the German line had bulged westward of the American front in the Belleau wood sector.

Turning upon their enemies in the fourth day of the German offensive, the allies began a powerful counter drive this morning over a front of more than thirty miles along the western flank of the Aisne-Marne salient.

The zone of attacks extended from Pontency-Sur-Aisne, immediately west of Soissons on the northern bank of the Aisne river to the region of Belleau wood, just northwest of Chateau Thierry. It was assumed from the official report issued by the French war office that the Americans were taking part in the assaults, as they held Belleau wood and the terrain to the north of the wood.

There has been a number of violent local actions on the Marne-Champagne front but generally speaking the fighting in the latest German drive has slowed down.

Library Report For The Year Is Filed

Many New Books—Larger Quarters Needed—Work Is Extending—Book Committee Wants Suggestions

The following annual report was submitted by Miss Jewel Fraser, librarian:

Despite the fact that appointments have been met as to the new library building during the past year, the resources and circulation of the library have been steadily increasing. The report for the year ending May 31, 1918, shows an addition of 600 volumes to the library, while the circulation has increased 3500 over last year.

Under existing conditions the building is crowded to the limit. The plans already formulated for increasing the usefulness of the library include the securing of larger quarters. In response to this demand, arrangements are being made for the enlargement of the present building.

Many much needed reference books are to be added, and with more room these can be arranged so that they are accessible to the public. The completion of the catalogue is also planned in order that the material in the library on any subject will be easily obtainable.

A prominent feature of the up-to-date library now is the work in connection with the public schools. The children even in the lower grades are taught the use of the card catalogue and the other library tools.

One great need in our library is for more reading room, both for the individual room and for the reference work. The library subscribes for the best popular and scientific magazines and for several daily and weekly newspapers.

The book committee of the library has always been glad to receive suggestions in the matter of new books to be purchased for the library. All you have to do is ask for an order card at the library and you will be referred to the committee at the next meeting.

The following is the statistical report:

LOUIE MILNER, BRITISH OFFICIAL, WAS FORMERLY ENGLAND AN JOURNALIST

Engled Mae Griffith

LONDON, July 17.—Lord Milner, Secretary of State for War, is one of the few British officials who has had newspaper training. After graduation from Oxford, he joined Lord Morley's staff on the "Daily Mail Gazette," an afternoon daily newspaper.

Lord Milner was born at Bonn, Germany, in 1854. He was the only son of Charles Milner, a member of the German nobility who came to Germany to take up the practice of medicine. His mother was a daughter of Governor Baring of the Isle of Man.

Lord Milner attended the public schools at Warton, where he won six prizes, and the London School of Economics, his father having returned to his native land.

Although admitted to the bar, Milner did not practice, becoming a journalist instead. In 1885 he stood for election to Parliament, but was defeated. When Lord Curzon became chancellor of the exchequer in 1892 Lord Milner acted as his private secretary. He continued in civil service going to Egypt and then to the office of the Financial Under Lord Cromer.

Subsequently he was sent to South Africa by Chamberlain, then governor of Cape Colony. He remained in that country until 1902, when he received his peerage and the freedom of the City of London. After Lord Lond's return to England he did not fill a large place in the public eye for some years.

He declined the offer of the Colonial Secretaryship offered by Mr. Balfour in 1903. He was known as a Conservative.

When the Lloyd George Ministry was formed in 1916 Lord Milner became a member of the War Cabinet, and in April, 1918, he succeeded Lord Derby as Secretary of War.

BRYAN CALLS AT THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Former Secretary of State Bryan called at the executive offices of the white house this afternoon, conferred with Secretary Taft, and left without seeing the president. He indicated he might return later in the day. The chief secretary, however, declined to concern over the report that Bryan would have been called down on the western front. It is believed that he had been taken prisoner, rather than being taken to the front.

ROSS SEEMS HONORED AS FANZY DIVER NOW

Jack Yokock, (I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 17.—Norman Ross, the versatile "Frisco Fish," who is now in the aviation corps, will find time to devote to his swimming, and he is seeing new fields to conquer.

Ross is the national swimming champion, and is a world's record holder, and he has an enviable reputation as a versatile swimmer. He has captured championship laurels at most freestyle distances and in back-stroke swimming. He has figured prominently in recent stroke title races, captured many prizes in plunging, and has developed into a water polo star of the first magnitude.

But Ross is not satisfied to let it go at that, and while he is learning evolutions in the air that he might perform with ease in the water, he is grabbing spare time to practice fancy diving, which is one branch of swimming in which he has not become known as a national figurehead.

Reports from the West say that Ross is fast developing as a diver and he hopes to try conclusions with his greatest rival, Duke Kahanamoku, of Honolulu, who is touring the country this season to raise money for the Red Cross.

Hoising in New Jersey is proving an unqualified success despite the fact that the boxing law in the "Skeeter State" provides for eight rounds with only two-minute rests. Recent bouts in Newark, Jersey City and other Jersey points have drawn big gates, and the fight more than repaid the headliner in which a champion in some division appeared.

TO RETURN KAISER'S GIFT IN THE SHAPE OF BULLETS

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Samuel E. Stein, of New York City, has sent to the war department a bronze medalion someone received from German officers, which he asked to have melted into bullets for American forces.

Stein declared he was a passenger on the first voyage of the steamship Imperator and, as such, received the medalion, which shows a picture of the ship on one side and a likeness of the Kaiser on the other.

"It is my earnest wish," Stein wrote to the war department, "that this piece of brass be either melted into bullets or used in some manner that will rebound on the man whose face is portrayed thereon—the man who is our common enemy."

WOMAN IN BATHING SUIT RIDES IN PATROL WAGON

CHICAGO, July 18.—Miss Lindgren was taken from the bathing bench in the town hall police station and only in a bathing suit, which the arresting policeman, Mrs. Anna Jones, declared to have been cut too low in the neck. The trip was made in a patrol wagon. Miss Jones was released and went home in a street car.

"My bathing suit is perfectly respectable; there has been lots of them at the beach cut lower," explained Miss Jones at the station just before she was released. She was asked to see how an extra cutting about her shoulders before bathing publicly again.

SCHOOL TEACHER RESIGNS; WOULD NOT TEACH GERMAN

SYRACUSE, July 17.—Rather than continue the teaching of German at Saratoga Lake, N. Y., Miss Mabel N. Foxitt, Syracuse University graduate, has resigned her position in the public schools of that place.

"The teaching of German has become more and more distasteful all this year," she says. "Pupils object to continuing the course, and the most cases merely keep it up to get their credits, that they might enter college."

Alfred B. Everett, Miss Everett's brother, is now in France with the 25th Engineers.

FARM IDEAS OF L. W. W. IDEAS THROUCED BY BOSS

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., July 18.—A farmer living near here, who has a large wheat acreage, had a little trouble with two harvest hands of L. W. W. tendency. The men left, unpaid.

FOUR GOOD REASONS WHY TEST SHOWS ARE BARRED GIVEN OUT IN OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 18.—The recent order of the Oklahoma council of defense in barring all carnivals and test shows has caused much talk among the theatrical following all over the United States. In answer to queries from the "Billboard" the following reasons were given: "First, the carnivals and test shows employ a number of people who should be in the military; next, a large number of the shows which operate in this state are far from the best morally—many of them being of the forty-year variety; they take from the country a large amount of money which could be used for war purposes, without bringing any benefit to the people to exchange; especially in the harvest fields and areas where laborers are employed, they decrease the efficiency of farm labor."

OWNERS OF SEIZED LIQUOR HESITATE TO LAY CLAIM

Our Wheat Problem. Transportation will be inadequate to move all the crop at threshing time. The present elevator capacity is not sufficient to store the crop. Therefore it is up to the farmer to build a granary. Sacks are high and hard to get. A permanent storage can be built for the cost of one year's sacks. SOME STARTLING FIGURES

"If the city of Twin Falls should erect its own plant for electricity at a total cost of $100,000 for a 10,000 kilowatt plant, it would cost approximately as follows: Allow five per cent for interest, three per cent for depreciation, six for labor and two for incidentals and you have a total of $134,000 per kilowatt per year. If that were sold for a quarter of a cent it would bring in $13.50 per kilowatt per year for the first twenty-eight years for the next thirty-seven years for the next forty-six years for the next five for the next hundred, four for the next two hundred, three for the next five hundred. Over in Logan, Utah, there is a competing plant which is sold for sixty cents which would cost here $13. If you put in a plant, you need not put in a $4. The company will rightly cut down the prices to a much lower level and still make lots of money."

The above statements were made here by Joe Burns, the well known electricity expert of Pocatello, taken as well as in words until the war is finished—the great issue of this city is the handling of the power question is the great issue in this state.

It is also the greatest purely economic issue in this city, now that the waterworks system is under construction.

Nothing appears on the surface. If any quiet investigations are being made, the public has not been so informed. Again The Times is not inclined to cavil or condemn, for it is well to investigate quietly. But time is flying and now that the waterworks system is under way an investigation of the truth of the Burns statement ought to be made and steps taken to carry out the part of the program relating to public light, heat and power.

Assuming for the sake of argument that the figures furnished by Mr. Burns are correct, The Times trusts that the same spirit of activity in the public interest will be displayed in this case as was shown by the city government in the matter of securing a water supply.

If it should prove impossible to get machinery for immediate construction of the plant, which is within the range of possibilities, at least time might be taken by the forelock and the most searching investigation that the public can set forth by Mr. Burns might be made, and the cost of the whole ascertained in order that when machinery should become available, a plant might at once be installed should the investigation warrant such action. It requires no election to begin such investigation which is in line with the mandate of the voters, and should be started if it has not already begun.

POWER A GREAT ISSUE

It does not make much difference what political opinions may be held by Joe Burns, regarding other things, his statement relative to power in this state are important if true. They are important to the people of Twin Falls. Burns may have good or bad ideas regarding many public questions, but his statements on this are worthy of consideration right here. They are more than that.

REGISTER YOUR OWN "YOU CAN'T VOTE"

Every member and friend of the Nonpartisan League in Twin Falls county should register immediately with your local registrar as a Democrat, as all Nonpartisans will vote in the Democratic primary to fall. The voting books of the county will close in a few days, 20 days before the primary, and it is up to every man and his wife and all members of the family to register of Twin Falls will be of relatively little importance to even the people of this city compared with the conservation and use in the interest of the people of the vast undeveloped electrical resources of the state. On this in a broad way Mr. Burns is right regarding the importance of the issue. The Times does not pretend to say that he is right in detail, though it believes if he should prove to be wrong his statements will be to the community's profit. But as this paper has long contended, this question of the preservation for the people of the great power developing sites and other natural resources of Idaho constitutes the greatest issue of the state campaign. It is with pleasure that The Times again calls attention to the following plank in the Democratic state platform:

"We are opposed to the exploitation and monopoly of our state's natural resources such as timber, the water, and water power, and in favor of the intervention of the state to reclaim and dispose of the same as whole resources wherever possible in harmony with the action of the United States government."

In contrast with the ringing declaration we give the following plank by the Republican state convention:

"We favor the control and promotion by the state of the development of its water power and in order that the same may be done we declare for the submission to the people of the necessary amendment to the state constitution."

It will be observed that in this neither monopoly nor exploitation is denounced. Nothing is said about reclaiming the unused natural resources for the people that they may secure their rightful interest therein. Public promotion for private exploitation of corporations and monopolies by the present system of state utilities commission would quite fulfill all the pledges in this plank.

As the election of dependable senators who will stand by President Wilson for the right sort of treaty at the close of the war, and stand by him in case as well as in words until the war is finished—the great issue of this city is the handling of the power question is the great issue in this state.

CHANGED FRONT

The worst thing about those who claim that in supporting the war, fear has changed front, and that he ought to be denounced for alleged apathy before he made such change in the interest of the nation, is that their denunciation of that journalist did not begin until the alleged "change in front" took place. As long as Hearst was opposing the national administration about which their leaders were trying, he was the "white-headed" with them. They did not notice lack of vigor then. They started no movement against him, although this was the time during which they now assert that he was against the war, or at least against some of the things some of the allies were doing. This was no crime in the eyes of his present critics while he was with them against the administration. When, however, he exposed the lying of his bosses against the administration, when he resumed his fight for public ownership of public utilities, when he came out strongly for legitimate organized labor, he must be attacked for alleged "apathy" and even denounced as actually supporting the war. The mistake of a make-up man on his numerous newspapers, in leaving out part of a proclamation, without the knowledge of the owner, was made the excuse for an attack, the real purpose of which is not to seek truth.

The criticisms Hearst made on the allies were at worst less radical and less unnecessary than the criticisms made by Hearst in Chamberlain, Sherman, Lodge and Hitchcock against the administration in this country. Both had a tendency to encourage the enemies of the country, though neither were done for that purpose. The Times denounced both when they were taking place. The present critics of Hearst did not criticize Hearst until he ceased to defend, and then they stood up for the lie told by critics of the administration. These are still as bad as they say Hearst was. There is a grave suspicion that they found fault only because they became convinced that Hearst actually changed heart as well as front.

Thousands of Germans Captured By American and French Troops

The present offensive was the biggest and most effective of any taken in any of the previous four German drives this year. The Germans lost the initiative almost as soon as they got their present drive under way and never regained it. Paris is just as safe today as it was before the hosts of Ludendorff were sent forward on Monday morning.

Ernie C. Heaves (L. N. S. Staff Correspondent) LONDON, July 18.—(130 p. m.) While the French were securing ground from the Germans at the Marne, the French (assisted by Americans) opened a series of powerful counter attacks between Etampes and Chateau Thierry today. Good progress was made, advice reaching here this afternoon that the Marne-Champagne offensive was to seize the highway and railway between Epagny and Rheims, forcing the evacuation of Rheims, but they were still a considerable distance from both ends of communication this afternoon.

Nor have the Germans been able to take the wooded high ground known as Mont St. Eloi. The Germans planned a great strategic offensive, but had an alternative plan if the first failed.

The French has been moving faster than the Germans. The French has been moving faster than the Germans. The French has been moving faster than the Germans.

The Germans also made an attempt to take the village of Epagny. The French has taken Etampes and Chateau Thierry today. The French extended their line.

Ernest P. Orr (L. N. S. Staff Correspondent) PARIS, July 18.—The fourth day of the German offensive on the Marne-Champagne front opened with a local fighting in various sectors.

The fighting in the Champagne district was continued to a narrow front. The German tried to drive the British and pushed and threw back. This attack centered between Beaumont-sur-Vesle and Silery.

PARIS, July 18.—French and American troops have begun an offensive against the Germans over a front of about 25 miles between the Marne, Vesle and Aisne rivers.

"The enemy did but many were caught by our barrage and 15 taken prisoner. The attack was a complete failure, the enemy at no time penetrating our lines.

Fort Ford (N. S. Staff Correspondent) WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY BEHIND THE BRITISH FRONT, July 18.—The possibility of a new push in the north is now realized. Prince Rupprecht is known to have a strong reserve force of the British lines and there is speculation as to whether he will meet them, but the latter course is the most likely. British experts are placed with the power and spirit of the Americans and French. The crumbling of the enemy drive on the first day, it is pointed out, will have a moral effect highly injurious to the Germans.

British officers and men alike are impressed by the fighting qualities of the Yankees in every department and American airmen are receiving flattering praise.

All England rejoices at the rapid arrival of our troops.

More Dope on the Monday Excursion

Continuation of the Story of Fine Farms Visited on the Opening of the Week.

In the "Roundup" on Monday's work, the "Red Devil" cried the noise-blasters over a great deal of territory, and it was a late hour when they returned home.

The day was one of hustle from early in the morning until the trip was finished, and we were given the "cold hand" everywhere we stopped, and had we accepted the invitations we had to take a meal we would be eating yet.

The ranchmen that we met are all striving to their "wit" in the great struggle that is now on for democracy, and where a farm hand is drafted, in many cases we found that the good women had taken their place, and were doing the work of the men that had gone to serve "Uncle Sam."

The lines below tell the story of what we saw and what the ranchmen on the great Twin Falls tract are doing to help save the country.

—UB—
Fred Cranney has an 88 spouted with root crops—containing of wheat, alfalfa and beans. He said: "My wheat may not be as good as some on the tract, but it will show up pretty well, and I have no complaint to make."

—UB—
A. A. Davis has a 120 in beans, wheat and alfalfa, and after passing the time of day with the service, he said: "In a general way we have the best crops we have ever had, and the pheasants are giving us a great deal of trouble. They fly into the wheat field after bugs, and in that way destroy a lot of grain. I wish that we could get rid of them. No, there is nothing to complain about on this ranch, for the crops are going to compare with the best raised on the tract."

—UB—
At the ranch of L. W. Reed we found him busy and a very interesting talker, showing that he had made farming a study, and before we left he said: "I think that crops are good, better than last year. If every farmer on the tract has as good a stand as mine they will have no fault to find when the harvest time is over. And I want to congratulate you on 'The Times.' You are giving us the best paper we have ever had, and you are fair. That is what us farmers like out here in the country. Just keep up the good you are doing, and you will soon find out that we are pleasing the public. Several of my neighbors here are going to take your paper as soon as their time is up on the one they are taking now."

—UB—
C. B. Hardesty is on a 60, and has in fine crops of wheat and alfalfa. Mr. Hardesty was not at home, but Mrs. Hardesty said that the crops were better than they expected, and that they were well pleased with the outlook.

—UB—
E. R. Brooks is doing something with his 80. He has in wheat, oats and hay. He said that his crops were above the rest of the tract, and alfalfa had not bothered him any. He complained of the pheasants and from what he said they are damaging the wheat crop to a great extent.

—UB—
George Pieckelhauf has in hay and wheat. He said: "The pheasants killed all my near wheat, and now they are working on the green wheat. They are very bad in this section. I am getting plenty of water, and will have a good crop."

—UB—
W. A. Ambrose seemed perfectly happy on his 80, and has in wheat, barley, alfalfa and oats. He believes that his crop will far exceed last year's crop, and said that he could only get rid of the pheasants that all would be well on his ranch.

—UB—
We found W. T. McCauley in the berry patch, but he took time to tell us that he had a good crop, and that he believed in this "Red Devil" and thought that no other spot of ground on earth could produce like the Twin Falls tract. He has in wheat, alfalfa, "spuds," clover and beans. He did not get as good a wheat stand as he would have liked, but it will pan out good any way.

—UB—
E. P. Carlhoun has 127 acres in beans, wheat, alfalfa, and clover and hay. He said: "I have a fair crop, and will be in the middle of the harvest days in about two weeks. The pheasants destroyed one-third of my corn, and nearly all my garden. It would be a good thing if we could clean them out of the world."

—UB—
William Popp has a 70 in wheat, clover and alfalfa, and will harvest within the next two weeks. He said that the crops are good, and that he expects an excellent yield.

—UB—
W. F. Moore is farming a 40. His crops of wheat, beans, potatoes, alfalfa and hay seem to be very fine. Mr. Moore has some fine horse stock, and is very proud of them. His orchard will fall about this year, giving him about a half-acre of ground.

—UB—
Fred Trank is working out on 80, and says that he has no kick coming, that his wheat and alfalfa are better than last year, and that he has not been bothered with aphids. That he has plenty of water, and that a new manure has made the worth, living since he has farmed on the water in a way that it comes when you need it the worst.

—UB—
E. E. Brennan has on his 180 hay, wheat and barley, and while he was not at home, we learned that the crops were above normal, and that a fine yield was expected off of this splendid patch of ground.

Later we met Mr. A. L. Goff on his 80, and he showed us some very nice wheat, barley and oats. He said: "This 80 and the one I have rented from Thacher, will produce some fine food stuff this year to help out the boys 'over there.' The fellows out here are doing our best, and we have no kick coming on the way the crops are showing up."

—UB—
On the ranch of C. H. Chamberlain we found a 40 that had been cultivated "this 80 and the one I have rented from Thacher, will produce some fine food stuff this year to help out the boys 'over there.' The fellows out here are doing our best, and we have no kick coming on the way the crops are showing up."

—UB—
We found an extra crop of hay on the ranch of J. W. Hall, and he said that he expected to get 50 tons out of a 45-acre tract. The first cutting, and from the large stacks we saw, we believe that he will get it. Mr. Hall invited us back to get springers with him when they get ripe, and we are going.

—UB—
N. V. Barry is farming 160 for Brown Brothers, and has 140 in as the wheat as one would want to see. He says that he will have more than an average crop, and he believes that when harvested that he will not have to take a back seat for any one.

—UB—
At the ranch of Andy Wilson, we did not have the pleasure of meeting him, but one of the boys on the ranch gave us an insight as to what was going on—and they are raising hay to feed the large herd of sheep that Mr. Wilson has now out in the hills. The wheat and oats looked good, and the ranch seemed prosperous.

—UB—
Harry Funderburk is farming a 120. He says that his wheat and bean crop are no good this year, but that the ground was run down, but that he expects with all things equal, to have a bumper crop next year. He is building up the land, and making many improvements.

—UB—
Henry Richert has just landed here from Kansas, and has a 40 in wheat and alfalfa. He says that his wheat is not as good as he would have liked to have had, but that he is satisfied, as he had just heard from Kansas, and that he has a 90 out there that will not yield over 10 bushels to the acre. He seemed to be "delighted" with his having come to this country—where crops grow whether you plant them or not, and where a man can get as much out of a 40 as a 100 will bring any place else.

Club Festival at Park July 25

Program Given, Followed by Games, Free Motion Pictures and a Band Concert

The following is the program of the boys' and girls' first annual club festival which will be given at the city park, Thursday, July 25, from 10:30 to 10:50—Assembly at City Park. 10:30 to 10:45—Parade forms at City Park. 10:45 to 12:00—Parade of the city streets. 12:00 to 1:00—Picnic lunch at park. 1:00 to 3:00—Games, stunts, and contests. 3:00 to 5:00—Free motion picture show at Idaho theatre. 5:00—Free band concert. Clubs will assemble in city park before 10:30 at places designated by the organizing ladies. The parade will be ready to start at 10:45. The clubs will march in the order designated by the leader.

The various committees should provide banners showing the name of the community and their total enrollment. The various clubs should provide banners showing the kind of craft and its enrollment. To illustrate:—The members of the Bull Club should march behind a Bull banner, and groups. Each group to be a club carrying its banner. Attractive banners will add much to the parade. They need not be expensive. An excellent banner for a poultry club can be made of scrapling paper upon which is painted a large colored picture of a fowl.

The luncheon are to be provided by the organizing ladies, and should be inexpensive and in accordance with local regulations. The afternoon program will include a truck race, a three-legged race, a fifty yard dash, a relay race, and others. Each club should select a member to enter these contests. They should also practice club yells and songs. In the three-legged race two boys will represent each club entering. The right leg of one boy is strapped to the leg of the other. The relay race will run by four boys from each club entering. Each boy will run 20 yards.

The motion picture will be a good idea. Tickets for this affair will be distributed during the picnic hour by the local leader. Songs selected will be sung on the parade returns to the park. Club songs and yells may be used freely at any time.

Telegraph Taking Expected Today

Report is That President Will Appoint Burdett as Head With Lewis in Charge

WASHINGTON, July 17.—An executive-looking over the telegraph lines of the country for the duration of the war will be issued from the White House probably today. It was indicated in administration circles that the order would also designate Postmaster General Burdett as head of the system. Although the Aswell resolution has passed through congress, gives the president authority to take over both the telephone and telegraph lines it was said that the former, for the time being at least, would not be taken under federal control.

Friends of former Representative Lewis of Maryland, expected that he would be designated by Postmaster General Burdett as his assistant in the administration of the system. Lewis is at present a member of the tariff board and is the author of the parcel post law. He is reputed to be an enthusiastic telegraph operator and maintenance and is prominent in labor circles.

SHOOT CHASER MAN BEAMS ON GIRL FASHION AS HE PLAYS THE OLD GAME

KANKAKEE, Ill., July 17.—A handsome young man with a winning smile dashed into a dry goods store here. Rushing up to the lady cashier he asked change for a $100 bill. The right leg of one boy is strapped to the leg of the other. The relay race will run by four boys from each club entering. Each boy will run 20 yards.

The motion picture will be a good idea. Tickets for this affair will be distributed during the picnic hour by the local leader. Songs selected will be sung on the parade returns to the park. Club songs and yells may be used freely at any time.

How The Bayonet Lost a Great Battle

BAYONETS, first made at Bayonne, France, whence they get their name, to begin, were almost as dangerous to the army with them as to its foe.

Fashioned with a solid butt, to be jammed into the muzzle, it rendered a gun useless for firing.

The butt was soon changed to a socket, but before the new fangled bayonet brought the English army to grief at Killiecrankie.

The English soldier found the bayonet a poor fit, hard to get into his gun; and when he got it in, hard to get out. When he had to bayonet, he couldn't bayonet; when he had to shoot, he couldn't shoot.
