WASHINGTON, July 30.—The state department today was without the slightest information from the Copenhagen report "that the relations between Germany and Turkey have been severed." Officials frankly expressed the belief that the story was without foundation. One high official after explaining that not a single confirmatory word had been received, added significantly: "Even Turkey can be expected to concede that it would be wisest for her to get few friends before she crosses the old one."

It was stated here that Bulgaria has been favored greatly recently by the Germans and that to this fact was due the bitter feeling against the Kaiser and his advisers which prevails among the Turkish people. But this feeling was confined to the rank and file and a few officers only, officials said. Turkish officials generally are dominated by the Germans.

KIMBERLY ADVANCE DEPARTMENT

This space is donated to the Thrift Stamp Campaign by the Merchants of Kimberly, whose advertisements appear below, and the Daily Twin Falls Times.

Chas. Lowman and Harry Denton were in Twin Falls Sunday.

Mrs. A. A. Arnold and small babe are in Kimberly visiting with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold of the Kimberly Hardware and Implement Company.

Mrs. Clint Ridgeaway and daughter (Mrs. J. A. Dadd) returned to the North Side Monday afternoon. Mrs. Ridgeaway had been spending the past couple of months in Kimberly visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ridgeaway.

Harry Raymond, formerly manager and owner of Raymond's Cafe, but now in the service of Uncle Sam, is visiting with his wife and children in this city. Mr. Raymond enlisted as a cook in the U. S. army, but has been transferred to the quartermasters corps and is now drill sergeant. Mrs. Raymond will probably return with him to camp.

Mrs. Harry Raymond had been very busy in the city.

Mr. Fred Moffatt left for the east recently to join relatives and friends there. Mr. Moffatt will leave in a few days for camp, having completed his year in the navy. Mr. Moffatt will teach in the middle west until the war is over.

W. A. L. Stowe, Dr. M. Davis and Habbil Goldman were out to the rabbits last week and an usual rabbit return crop handed.

Chas. H. Eastwood, formerly manager of the Star theatre of Kimberly, left last Wednesday evening for a letter was received by Mr. Ridgeaway to the effect that he would not return. He will probably go to St. Luke and from there to Denver. Mr. Eastwood, having recovered from a serious attack of throat trouble, will assume his former occupation as a service reader.

The management of the Star theatre has again passed to the hands of Swearingen and Ridgeaway.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Neer were entertained at the home of Mr. M. Walker of Hanson for dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Doris Smith, daughter of Mr. R. G. Galt and her small daughter Zillah, returned from their visit to Aurora, Nebraska, last Saturday. She has been in Kimberly visiting with relatives for the past several weeks.

Mrs. Hilda received a letter from her son George, now in France, stating that he was on a furlough and spending his time in the city of Paris.

Mrs. Earl Barnhill and son Donald were in from Rock Creek this week.

Rev. A. W. James returned from his Sunday morning, exchanging with Rev. A. W. Harshbarger of that place.

Mrs. Arville Wood returned home Thursday after spending the winter and summer attending the normal school in Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Stull Swearingen and Mrs. H. Galtley spent Wednesday afternoon on Rock Creek.

Mrs. Frank Barnhill was operated upon at the Morgan hospital in Twin Falls last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Swearingen, Mr. and Mrs. John Ogg and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hillier returned home from Cascade Saturday evening. They attended the funeral of their father-in-law, Mrs. Swearingen and Mrs. Hillier and Mr. Ogg.

Mrs. Clyde King and children were over from the North Side to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Grant King for the week end.

Mrs. Lloyd Hayes spent the week visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant King, of Kimberly.

Donald Bremer, who has been living on the North Side with his grandparents, returned home this week.

Word from Miss Hazel Van Houten states that she is in Washington, D. C. She is very proud of the national citizenship and of her work within its department.

Don't forget the cooked food sale, wed. go.

DEBATORIAL FALLACIES

Some months ago, the national headquarters of the Red Cross in Washington was the target for many hundreds of letters every day, letters which voiced the gossip of a nation. This gossip took the form of misstatements regarding the Red Cross aims and accomplishments. "The Red Cross was found out 16 per cent of male and collect; the Red Cross paid large salaries to numerous employees; the Red Cross sold its aviators to the soldiers in camp; the Red Cross was selling anti-war bonds in France—these were some of the lies of misstatements. The letters asked for information. Were these things true? Did the Red Cross do such things?"

The Red Cross at that time had just been appointed vice agent for the Red Cross by the French government in order to coordinate all relief agencies and to solve the problem of accepting space. The various societies which had been affected by this order were just beginning to accustom themselves to a new order of things. "The problems were almost endless; the problems of adjustment and personal relations to ones of great difficulty."

LOCAL FARMERS ARE IMPROVING PROPERTY.

Nibley-Channay today reported that A. B. Bannard and Richard Lambing, farmers of the Kimberly vicinity, were constructing fine granaries to accommodate their grain this fall. These are only two of the many farmers who have been constructing granaries and erecting various other buildings on their places this season. Floyd Jones is contemplating the construction of a new barn on his property.

ALBANY, Ga., July 30.—A cornstalk in the war garden of M. J. Yarbrough has just produced five ears of corn and a head of wheat growing out of one of the corn ears. Both corn and wheat kernels are fully developed. The "miracle" was sent to Herbert Hoover, with pertinent comment.

AIRCRAFT KICK BY THE SENATE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, July 29.—That America's aircraft program has received a severe setback through the continued manufacture and use of the DeLafayette four airplane was asserted by members of the senate military affairs committee this afternoon. General Pershing, some time ago called the war department. It was pointed out, asserting that the DeLafayette-Four was practically worthless, and enumerating its defects. Although some of these defects have been corrected their manufacture and shipment should continue over his protest, members of the committee stated.

THE DAILY TWIN FALLS TIMES

Published Every Day Except Sunday by the TIMES PRINTING & PUBLISHING COMPANY, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Name of the World to the Editor James D. Wallace—Superintendent.

(Entered at the Twin Falls postoffice as second class matter as a daily publication, April 11, 1918).

The Times is an independent Democratic newspaper but it knows no politics as opposed to the most sultry and vicious prosecution of the war that is possible! Therefore, it is AGAIN any man, Democrat or Republican, cannot throwing hardware into the machinery—either with his hands or with his mouth. If this be "nationalism," make the most of it!

UNCLE SAM'S EMPLOYMENT AGENCY

A drastic change in the nation's labor procedure is changing that is destined to have a great effect upon the country's industrial life. It is to go into effect next Thursday, August 1. On that day the supplying of war industries with common labor will be centralized in the U. S. employment service of the department of labor.

The object is to overcome at once a serious shortage of unskilled war industries, and while non-essential industries will be drawn upon to supply this labor, the withdrawal will be conducted on an equitable basis.

As an illustration of the latter, it is something of the kind has been made necessary in the interest of both the employer and the employed, as well as to conserve the labor supply of the communities and districts in which less and expensive labor "turn-over."

It is scarcely necessary to say that farm labor will be protected, for the industrial program distinctly includes special efforts to keep the farmer supplied with labor.

Nothing of this kind has ever before been attempted by the government, but that is no reason why it should not produce all the good results that are hoped for it. It seems to be a natural and necessary consequence of the selective draft law, which has taken millions of men from industrial life into the military service.

The problem of the employment of unskilled labor is one of national importance. It is a good thing that the national government has taken it up for solution, though prompted principally by exigencies arising from war.

While there were many good employment agencies under the old system it is none the less true that most of them in the large cities were masters of the word "no."

Even the best of them worked in a sporadic way and were frequently guilty of sending idle men from place to place, sometimes in good faith, as indicated in dispatches from Washington last evening.

The work of standardizing the labor of the unskilled is one of great magnitude, but it must be solved in the interest of humanity and the stability of the state and society.

and have an intelligent conception of the needs of the men and the difficulties involved in getting them out of the ranks of the unemployed.

The new plan grow out of war needs and may continue into the days of peace.

The persistent opposition of the administration to the drafting of men for private industry is altogether commendable.

The solution of the labor problem with due regard to the demands of the conservative American Federation of Labor must take place.

Peace parleys are to Germany what the clinch is in fight parlance, a determined effort to gain time and avoid the knockout before the going sun.

Germany's peace parleys are of the approaching her most trying portion of her four years of war, we may expect to see a peace treaty which will postpone today's problems until tomorrow.

The history of Germany's war is replete with the record of the execution of peaceful pariahs to more effective warfare.

The history of Prussia, too well proves the truth of the above editorial. The rulers of that country dissembled to and divided the Germans of the south.

Nothing of this kind has ever before been attempted by the government, but that is no reason why it should not produce all the good results that are hoped for it.

THE WHO "Over The Top" Empey

EMPEY entered the world at Ogden, Utah, December 11, 1883, spent his childhood on a ranch near Cheyenne, Wyo., lived for a time in Richmond, Va., and Canada, and was educated in the public schools of Brooklyn, N. Y., where he won recognition as a football and baseball player.

MADE his start as an adventurer and soldier of fortune at the age of seventeen when he joined a schoomate in a "trip to South America," on a tramp steamer, which evolved into a "Shanghai" expedition that took them around Cape Horn and into many perilous experiences.

WAS in three years in the U. S. Navy, six years in the regular U. S. Cavalry, saw active service on the Mexican border in 1911, quit with the rank of Sergeant-Major and returned to civil pursuits in the East, later serving for seven years as a National Guardsman in New York and New Jersey.

ENLISTED in the Royal Fusiliers of London in December, 1916, to avenge the sinking of the Lusitania, went to France and served eighteen months in the front line trenches, became a Bomber and Machine gunner, was promoted to a Sergeantcy for bravery and was wounded seven times going "over the top."

EARNED for America to enter the war on the side of civilization and when she did, came back with his wounds, wrote "Over the Top," an epic of the trenches, recruited thousands of men, sold $1,013,000 in Liberty Bonds, raised over 500,000 for "smoke" funds and went into motion pictures to show through the Vitagraph production of "Over the Top," just "what we are up against over there."

While the fire was being extinguished, the flames were blown out of the window into the yard. The window was completely burned out and the easting window in the room being badly smoked. There was no other damage.

THANKS FOR ALL FROM THE BOYS ON THE WAY

Everette Camp Lewis, Saturday, July 27, 1918. Twin Falls Times.

Please write an item in your paper expressing an appreciation of the good that the boys of the selective service men who entrained Friday, July 26, did for Camp Lewis. They thank all those who so generously contributed to the "cats fund" on the appeal of the U. S. A. L. and John Maszaryk. They thank and amounted to $214.62 and is providing the men with all the additional things they can add to the supplies of men going to camp. They wish also to thank the contributors of the boxes of food, and candy and the Palace Cafe for the good Luck Cake. The men are full of pep and enthusiasm, anxious to go to camp and train for their duty.

Sincerely,
E. P. KATZBOER,

Amusements "Stuck" By New War Measure

Double Tax on Admissions—King Nettleie Also Suffers From Proposed Revenue Measure.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The war tax on amusement admissions and on the rate of club dues is ten per cent when the dues were more than $12 a year.

The committee also decided to levy a tax on amusement admissions and on the rate of club dues is ten per cent when the exact figures were not adopted. The suggestions of the treasury department, that the tax be doubled, was rejected.

At present tobacco taxes total $170,000,000 a year, and members of the committee believe that they should be made to total $500,000,000. This does not mean that the tax must necessarily be tripled, for a retail tax will be levied, where now only manufacturers are levied upon.

It was pointed out that by this system it would be possible to straighten out the inequalities that exist by operation of the same tax being paid on cigarettes that retail for five cents, as upon those which retail for twenty-five.

Hunger Riots in Bohemia

Several Stories On Subject Received.

Korenzky Believed To Be In America—Report That Ambassador Francis Left For Archangel Is Unconfirmed.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Czechoslovak national and army officers announced that it had received word that Czech-Slovak forces have succeeded in seizing two Russian cruisers in the harbor of Novorossisk, some time last month, and that these forces were also able to inflict considerable damage on the Bolshevik forces there. According to the officials of the Czech-Slovak national and army, which had received the news from Russian sources, it was assumed that the headquarters of this operation was an isolated one and that the forces which had engaged in it had returned to their headquarters. What became of the cruises taken, officials here said they had not been able to learn.

Twenty-Five Draft Men Desert Train

CAMP LEWIS, MONTANA, Wash. July 30.—Twenty-five selective draft men from Utah City, Mendocino county, Calif., deserted from a troop train enroute here, it was announced today. Telegrams notifying the police have been sent to various towns in California and Oregon where the men dropped out.

Another Star In Our Crown Today

Korenzky Believed To Be In America—Report That Ambassador Francis Left For Archangel Is Unconfirmed.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Czechoslovak national and army officers announced that it had received word that Czech-Slovak forces have succeeded in seizing two Russian cruisers in the harbor of Novorossisk, some time last month, and that these forces were also able to inflict considerable damage on the Bolshevik forces there. According to the officials of the Czech-Slovak national and army, which had received the news from Russian sources, it was assumed that the headquarters of this operation was an isolated one and that the forces which had engaged in it had returned to their headquarters. What became of the cruises taken, officials here said they had not been able to learn.

Information Regarding the Operation in and About Novorossisk

The information regarding the operation in and about Novorossisk, which is on the Black sea, was more or less fragmentary. The exact date of the operation and the object were cloudy. Officials said that it was entirely likely that this force was composed of Czech-Slovak forces. A junction could be made with the entire allies somewhere just as the thousands of Czech-Slovak have crossed at Vladivostok in the hope that they would be able to get to France via Canada or the United States.

Bohemian newspaper accounts that the captured cruises were utilized to shell the Bolshevik garrisons in Siberia.

Other reports received by the National council here were that the Czech-Slovak were continuing the operations in Siberia, with success. Officers of the Czech-Slovak forces, which now are at Vladivostok, who recently arrived in the United States are enroute to Washington to confer with Dr. T. G. Masaryk, representative of the organization here. They will make suggestions for cooperation between the entente and the Czech-Slovak along lines designed to make the Czech-Slovak the dominant force in Russia.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Alexander Korenzky, former premier of Russia, is in the United States, having arrived incognito on a rebuilt steamer, according to telegraphic word received here today from John A. Haggerty, a naval gunner, who says he was a fellow passenger of the Russian statesman.

Passenger with Korenzky on attacked off Irish coast afternoon of eighteenth.

He was attacked again at midnight, according to telegraphic word received here today. No casualties, Korenzky said.

"Travelling incognito."

WASHINGTON, July 30.—An unconfirmed report that Ambassador Francis had left Volozha for Archangel, reached the state department this afternoon.

The department having no official advice that the ambassador to Russia had contemplated any change of headquarters, immediately cabled for information.

The ambassador might have left for Archangel was not considered as unlikely in certain circles. It was recalled that the Kaiser's government had recently requested him to move to Moscow and that he had refused. The possibility of his compromising on Archangel did not seem out of the question, it was said.

THE HAGUE, July 30.—Dr. Karl Helfferich, newly appointed German ambassador to Russia, has arrived at Moscow, it was stated in a Berlin dispatch today.

Helfferich's predecessor, Count von Mirbach, was assassinated.

Food Will Win the War

LABOR part of the world is coming to the position that Belgium is in coming to the stage when the primary and important thing in life is enough food to keep on living. Food has now taken a dominant position in the war. The American people must prepare themselves to sacrifice far more than was at first thought necessary.

The old facts are: France, Italy and England have just enough food to keep them going ten or twelve weeks. When America's food shipments stop the allied nations begin consuming the stocks of food and begin a swift march into actual famine conditions—which would mean defeat in short order.

Europe then must live on its own resources. The war saving increases our available stocks just that much and actually feeds some people in the countries with which we are associated. We are not against the Central Powers. Our surplus wheat has already been shipped to the allies.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS

Livestock Situation Discussed By Idings

Dean of College of Agriculture Views On Subject Now Acclimating Thought of Country.

R. J. Idings, Dean of College of Agriculture, University of Idaho.

There is today in the minds of the great many live stock men considerable question as to the exact status of the industry. The only data that have that count at all reliable is that contained in the statistical reports of the U. S. department of agriculture.

No phase of agriculture demands as forward-looking plans as does live stock production. Numbers of animals fluctuate from time to time but on the whole there is stability and in normal times approximately the same world totals are found from year to year.

Should the entire wheat of the world be destroyed, except a reasonable stock, a single favorable year could be made to restore the normal condition. The same could be said of cereals, with many of the forage crops, and in fact with nearly all the crops of the farm.

Unfortunately, disaster has come to the live stock of many lands. Invading armies have ruthlessly destroyed the animals of the world.

During the war period in America are interested in but one phase of livestock supply, viz. in the supplying our own needs and the needs of our allies. We naturally figure our sources of supply such as live livestock producing lands in Argentina, Australia, New Zealand, the Argentine, and South Africa.

Many careful-thinking and experienced live stock men have more than a year been regarding the American live stock situation with deep concern, and have urged numerous both forward and backward looking measures to meet the demands of the future.

The federal reports mentioned above indicate an increase during 1917 of 157,000 head of beef cattle. At the same time, the accurate tabulations of 152 of the leading markets of America show an increased slaughter, as compared with the previous year, of 2,700,000 head. These figures lead one to believe, therefore, that there has been an increase in beef cattle sold of more than 5,000,000 head in a single year, a condition that on the fact of it does not seem likely of realization.

'I wasn't wanting no much for gain in weight as I was for, said from troubles, but I have gotten both and of course I'm strong for Tangle now.'

'For five or six years,' he continues, 'I have suffered with catarrh of the stomach. I got to where I had no appetite for food of any kind, as everything was tasteless to me. I lost my appetite entirely and really couldn't eat enough to keep up my strength, and sometimes I thought I would just have to give up altogether. My head ached a great deal of the time and I was so nervous I could hardly sleep.'

PRESIDENT WALLACE BUSINESS ELECTRICITY

Boise, Idaho, July 26, 1918. So the town volunteers piled into autos and trucks and started upon their "work-ahoy" expedition that night. They shocked old man Blank and they were wailing and bawling about it with a barrage-and the next day they started out openly, not abusing the eyes of man and woman, but as much as a by-your-laws they simply went to work shaking them in every field they came to without fear or Business began to pick up on the rural telephones, and the party lines did a rushing business. Women on the farms near town, where the volunteers struck first, phoned their more distant friends, and presently the entire county knew what was being done, and knew that it was being done well. Meanwhile old man Blank had called on the clerk, Walter E. Cummings. He was just a bit dazed. He was uncertain whether this was a miracle, or only a hallucination, or just plain, simple interference by the soft town boys. The secretary, quite cheerfully told him it was the latter.

"You're right," he said, "you've acted so grudgingly that we wouldn't care if you did lose your crop-if you were the only one that mattered. We're fighting about our Mississippi boys who are fighting in France. We don't intend for them to be short of food. You make every man what you believe, and know that it was being done well. # FIFTY MILLION FOR SUBSIDIZED BOCHE PRESS

VEIRECK OUTLINES THE BIG SCHEME HE PLANNED FOR GERMANY

Wanted Thirty Morning Newspapers

Would Have Provoked War By Influencing Popular Opinion in the United States—Washington Journalist Implicated.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Fifty million dollars, sunk in thirty morning newspapers throughout the United States was Germany's plan for this country out of the war, George Veireck, editor of Veireck's National Weekly, formerly the Publisher, admitted today under examination by Deputy Attorney General Becker.

A witness known to newspaper men in Washington was to furnish the clippings of papers with news, Veireck testified.

"My plan," testified Veireck, "was to buy an important morning newspaper in about thirty cities."

"And conduct them along legitimate lines?" asked Becker.

"Yes, but to introduce German propaganda in a subtle manner."

"No, but to tell the real story—the story we thought was being suppressed."

"How much did you think it would cost to control thirty papers in as many cities?" asked the deputy attorney general.

"Why, about $20,000,000 to $50,000,000," replied Veireck, "but it would have saved us from war. We could have arranged it so that America would not have entered the war."

The examination of Veireck, which has been in progress for ten days, is expected to end this week.

AMERICANS GET HUNDRED DEAD

the ground, past that to the Ourek river, which we crossed and began climbing the northern slope.

Another tough day had vanguardly: "It was the prettiest sight I ever saw."

This soldier was with a rear element that was going up to the front and could look straight down the one long street of Villers-sur-Fere. On one side of the village was a big part of a living wheat, golden in the sun; on the other side was a stretch of green grass. Then the rear element could see the American flag swinging from that long street in columns, disappear over the rise in the ground at the foot of the hill, and come up into view again after they had crossed the Ourek river when they thought their way up the hill.

All along the road batteries were ranging away, while by the roadside four armored cars were shooting up the side lanes.

In their haste to get across the Ourek the Germans left several small bridges standing over which some of the Americans passed in single file, while machine guns and artillery pointed on them from the northern bank; that this method of advance proved too slow, so most of the dough boys plunged into the stream, which, in use the expansion of the machine gun ringer, was "only a dirty mud-hole."

The stream was generally shallow but some of the men who were fording it got into holes and went into water to their chests.

An American machine was struck in the chest by a machine gun bullet as he was going down the slope to the river. He merely raised his machine gun and groined tones and kept on. He got upon the foot bridge when another bullet struck him. He came up with a bullet in the blood and ran the American to set foot on the northern side of the stream. He headed straight for the underbrush, and his machine gun bullets revealed a strong German machine gun position, and was making his way up the slope when he hit again, but continued over the top of the ridge until the German line was carried.

In the same regiment was a young lieutenant who had been suspected of "cold feet" on the quieter sectors. Said a wounded private of his regiment: "You should have seen the way he charged those machine guns."

As the German retreat was being made the Americans they gnawed their artillery which began laying down a barrage along the ridge. The Americans then began their attack.

Further eastward where the Boches fought with the greatest stubbornness our advance was not so rapid as early reports to the rear indicated. Consequently a major who went dashing into a village in a side car, believing that it had been captured by the Americans, narrowly escaped capture.

A sergeant was caught in a similar manner. He swam out of the side car way into a village to avoid the shell holes and upon entering a side street suddenly discovered a number of figures topped by German helmets straggling through the next street. The sergeant quickly retreated the village and got back to our lines without being fired on.

While a German airplane buzzed overhead and the big guns nearby were throwing over the hills, American soldiers, enroute to the fighting front, were baptized in the Maree stream a single batch by a Baptist chaplain.

One thing that the chaplain insisted on was that the men were brought

Have Huge Sums Deposited for Export By Immigrants Actually Gone Abroad?

By LAJOS STEINER
Columbian Commissioner United Pacific System

In normal years about three hundred million dollars are transmitted to Europe by our immigrants. During the war the amount of the transmitted sums became much larger. The reason is that the immigrant can now be much more easily induced to export his cash at the prevailing low rates. The average immigrant earns wages more than twice as high as before the war. The number of those who are engaged in the exportation of savings has greatly increased. The activity of the exporters of cash has become almost feverish.

Our immigrants transmit to central Europe alone about one hundred and twenty million dollars in every normal year. The present exceptional propaganda and conditions have doubled this amount—even trebled it, perhaps have quadrupled it. Therefore the amount transmitted to central Europe during the last two and a half years may amount to one thousand million dollars. This question presents itself, Was it possible to transmit such a vast amount of money while the war, in its advanced condition, was going on, and is it possible at the present time?

The sum that has been deposited by our immigrants for transmission is enormous. If it has not been transmitted, how was it disposed of here? The exported amounts are not sent to relatives in Europe for their support. These huge amounts are exported as the result of the operation of a system, composed of private banks, their facilitating firms, certain foreign-language newspapers and agents of the respective European governments. This sort of stimulation of our immigrants for the exportation of their cash should be prohibited and stopped.

Large numbers of immigrants complain that the amounts entrusted by them to the bankers for export half a year or more ago have not been received for from Europe. The receipts published, as received from Europe by the bankers, are so few in number and proportion that the whereabouts of the bulk of the money has become uncertain. And still our immigrants are being constantly urged to continue the exporting of their savings. This condition makes it highly desirable that the public be informed where the money of our immigrants is really held.

MACKENSEN TO TAKE THE PLACE OF LUDENDORFF

DISPATCH FROM BERNE ASSERTS NOTED STRATEGIST IS OUBSTED

PARIS, July 30.—Field Marshal von Mackensen has arrived at German headquarters and is reported that he will replace General Ludendorff, said a dispatch from Berne, today.

Recently General Ludendorff has been the official staff officer of the German war machine which supported reports that he had succeeded Field Marshal von Hindenburg as chief of the German general staff. When Hindenburg was made chief of staff Ludendorff, who was quartermaster general, was made Hindenburg's personal chief of staff. Within the past few weeks, however, it was reported that Hindenburg and Ludendorff had disagreed on military policy and that the former had fallen ill. At various times his death has been reported. Mackensen was his laurels on the eastern Russian and Italian fronts. German newspapers indicate that the nearest possible effort will be made by the Germans to hold on along the Crivo and Ardre lines.

DIVISION ISSUE ENTERS ARENA

again that the meeting had been called for the purpose of formulating a line of action, and asked for suggestions. W. F. Alworth, of Filor, suggested that as it is most necessary that the county should work as a unit at this time, the matter be settled through the state legislature. But for the want of the necessary funds in favor of retaining Twin Falls county as it is, select candidates for the legislature will stand by us, regardless of political parties. The only question asked should be, "Is there in Twin Falls county, to the state and to the nation?" C. A. Robinson, agreeing with Mr. Alworth with evidence to the dependable qualities of candidates chosen, asked that those who were present should assert themselves regarding this question.

Mrs. John E. White, candidate for the state legislature, was the first to be called upon, and responded in the following terms: "You, as voters of Twin Falls county, have a right to know where I stand on the subject of county division. I consider it most unpractical for such a measure to be launched at this time. When hundreds of war measures are in the legislature, it is not right that time should be taken for such a thing. It should be possible to settle the question in this county. Through observation I have found that only a few people are in favor of division. It would be fatal to divide the canal system. The debt of this enterprise alone would call us to face two big canals. Complications in the system now operating would take place, and in case they could not be made right, property would be of no value. We have great opportunities here, with few investments, and it will be our fault if the great work is not carried on. Next to the canal problem is the need of a railroad. Together, we can accomplish in ten years, in the rebuilding of our county, than could separately, in one hundred years. Let this question be settled in the spirit of friendship. I suggest that representatives be selected from the list of Twin Falls citizens, who should petition for county division, and the number of representatives from each town of the county, and that these persons hold a conference, and then out the question. This would be better than bothering the legislature. I am absolutely opposed to county division. We must stand together or our great tract will be practically worthless."

Joseph H. Sawyer, of Castleford, candidate for state senator from Twin Falls county, said in part: "Owing property in both sections of Twin Falls county, I am very much opposed to county division. It should remain intact. The prestige enjoyed by this county is second to none, and property will sell for more, as a part of Twin Falls county, than it ever would if it were a part of Blaine county. Taxes could not help but be more. The total assessed valuation of the Blaine county, including the Blaine Highway district, is not equal to that of Twin Falls county, including the school districts. Castleford district is wholly in favor of unity. I deplore the fact that this question should be brought up at this time, as it is a waste of money and time, but having had it thrust upon us, we will fight."

It was moved by Mr. Robinson that a committee of five be appointed which committee shall have the power to appoint a committee from each precinct in the county, and representing each political party, for the purpose of carrying on the work of bringing the question to a decisive close. The motion carried and the following committee was appointed by Mr. Bruckner: C. A. Robinson, W. F. Alworth of Filor, T. H. Irwin of Kimbrell, W. E. Sanger and John H. Ault of Twin Falls.

Mr. Ault later declined on the ground that there would be another Democrat on the board. He will be appointed later.

C. A. Robinson suggested that the meeting go on record, and submitted the following resolution, which was unanimously accepted by a rising vote:

BE IT RESOLVED: That the gathering being fairly representative of that section of the county lying east of Blaine Highway district, deplores the fact that a few people in and near Blaine have seen fit at this time, when the needs of the Nation demand that harmony in commission that will insure the greatest degree of co-operation in the different branches of work essential to the army, to raise as much as they well know causes strife between the different sections of the county.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That diplomatically as such a contest is at this particular time the interests of those constituting the greater portion of the population of the county as opposed to the selfishness of a few lot owners and would-be office holders of Blaine justifying us in waging a strenuous fight for the integrity of the county; to prevent the division of our canal system; higher taxes and other attendant evils.

After which the meeting adjourned.

Draft Invasion of Deferred Classes Later

Some Time Before Class One Men Are Gone—Call in September Is Expected.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Invasion of the deferred classes in the draft is not an immediate danger, members of the senate military and naval committee said today, in spite of the fact that class one is being rapidly exhausted.

Class I, as at present constituted, includes no men of the last registration. It was pointed out, but only men who were nearly 400,000 men when the new registrants are classified.

The new class I men, together with those of the second registration placed in the first class, should give sufficient men to meet the requirements of class I about two months at least, it was said.

Some members of the military affairs committee believed there would be enough men in all until the end of the year, because of the limited capacity of the cantonment. Nevertheless, General Crowder has power to order quarterly registration of the men beginning in July, and may set September 5 as a new registration day if men are urgently needed.

This situation will not, however, give congress time to daily over-changing the draft age. Three months will be required to classify the men made liable to service when the ages are raised and lowered. If the law were passed by September 1, the men would not have been classified until December 1 at the earliest and no levies of the new registrants would be possible until the beginning of the new year.

Chairman Dent of the house committee said today that Secretary Baker probably would appear before his committee to give detailed explanation of the policy of his new man power bill when the lower body reconvenes August 12. No member had received any definite information today on the bill to be fixed. It is understood that the secretary himself has not concluded a decision on this point.
