"I was thrown from my bunk by the explosion and hurled on deck," said Miss Trowell. "Just as I got there the starboard was blown up. I was put into a boat along with the wounded, but as the vessel sank the deck ropes were cut and we upset. All were thrown into the water. I clung to a rope and an American officer and an Australian pulled me into another boat. The wounded in this boat included that I was brought in this boat."

Troy Steam Laundry Has New Proprietor

R. T. Seaton, Laundryman and Former Representative of the Keever Starch Company Buys Business.

An important business deal was closed today when R. T. Seaton, of San Francisco, a business man and laundryman of years experience, purchased the Troy Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co. from Wm. M. Peairs.

The new owner has taken over the management and is already planning various improvements.

Mr. Seaton at one time had charge of the largest plant in Texas and for five years in the laundry business in Jacksonville, Fla. The past six years he has been traveling, as an expert in starch, in particular and laundry methods in general, giving demonstrations in plants all over the country.

Mr. Seaton is a pleasant gentleman to meet. For several years he was Pacific coast representative of the Keever Starch company.

In the Troy Laundry and Dry Cleaning company, he has one of the best equipped and most modern plants in Idaho. One of the substantial business enterprises of Twin Falls which Mr. Peairs during his seven years ownership, has built up to its present high standard.

Mr. Peairs plans retiring from the laundry business although he will continue to make his home in Twin Falls. He says that he desires to thank all the people for the splendid patronage they have given his business. He wishes to have bills to present before August 10 as a declaration to close his accounts by that date.

POTASH IS NOT SO ESSENTIAL, CLAIMS DECLARATION

Under the caption, "Potash as a fertilizer exaggerated by Germans," the Wall Street Journal says:

Robert B. Bradley, chairman of the board of directors of the American Agricultural Corporation, writes there is no better illustration of the influence of German propaganda than the exaggerated opinion held by the American public as to the value of potash as a fertilizer. "For thirty years before the war," he says, "the German potash syndicate expended billions of dollars in this country in boasting the potash creed until our farmers became obsessed with the idea that potash exerted an almost magical influence on crop production."

In December, 1917, Professor Roth of the Griefswald university, was quoted as making the claim that America had entered the war in order to secure the potash deposits of the American crops would be in perpetual jeopardy without potash. "Since 1914 the United States has been unable to import potash from Germany, and we have produced but a small fraction of the amount normally used for agricultural purposes. Fertilizers have contained little or no potash. This is especially true of the last two years, and yet this country has 48 sight crops and 1000 other crops ever produced in her history, while Germany's crops are, on all accounts far below their normal yields before the war, though she has developed used excessive quantities of potash in an effort to minimize the effects of the dearth of phosphates. Other countries also have grown normal crops since the war without the use of potash."

"This emphasizes the fact that phosphorus is far more important to crop production than potash, as was also demonstrated in this country when phosphatic fertilizers were used successfully for over twenty years before the advent of potash. It is this basic raw material which is used to make superphosphates, being dependent upon the United States, Algeria and Tunis for her supply of this basic raw material."

"White potash is valuable as a fertilizer for strengthening the stalk and increasing the quality of some crops. Phosphoric acid is the essential element for the production of the grain and fruit of all crops."

Tanker Sent to Bottom Off Virginia Coast

Wireless Calls Received Sunday—Thirty Survivors Were Landed At Norfolk This Morning.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The American tanker O. B. Jenouille, was sunk by shell fire from a German submarine 100 miles off the Virginia coast, the navy department announced today. Thirty survivors of the vessel have been landed at Norfolk by naval vessels, the statement added. Wireless calls were received by the navy department between 11 a. m. and noon yesterday, saying that the vessel was being pummed by the boat. Naval vessels were immediately dispatched to the location indicated and picked up the survivors, who were in open boats. A boat containing the captain and 13 men are still missing. The Jenouille was a vessel of 2300 net tons and built in 1917 for the Standard Oil Co.

GOLD RIVER FREED FROM STATE-FEDERAL TAX

Governor Doyle, of Nevada, has expressed himself relative to the importance of the forthcoming conference of gold men at Reno, Nev., of which he will be chairman. The Goldfield Tribune says that a convention of gold producers of the western states, to present a definite plan to the government for the stimulation of gold production and work out some means to offset the ever increasing cost of production, will be called within a few days by Governor Doyle, says the Reno Gazette. The meeting will be held in Reno and will take place early in August, definite date will be set some time this week, when the official call will be made by the governor.

Governor Doyle has been considering the question of a conference for some time and at the urgent request of the American Mining congress and other bodies of mine operators he is making final plans to issue the call. The governors of western states present at the meeting. The governor has received a number of telegrams from operators in Colorado and other states urging that the conference be held, and that some action be taken to aid the gold producers in the present situation, which, according to operators, is causing many gold producing properties to close down.

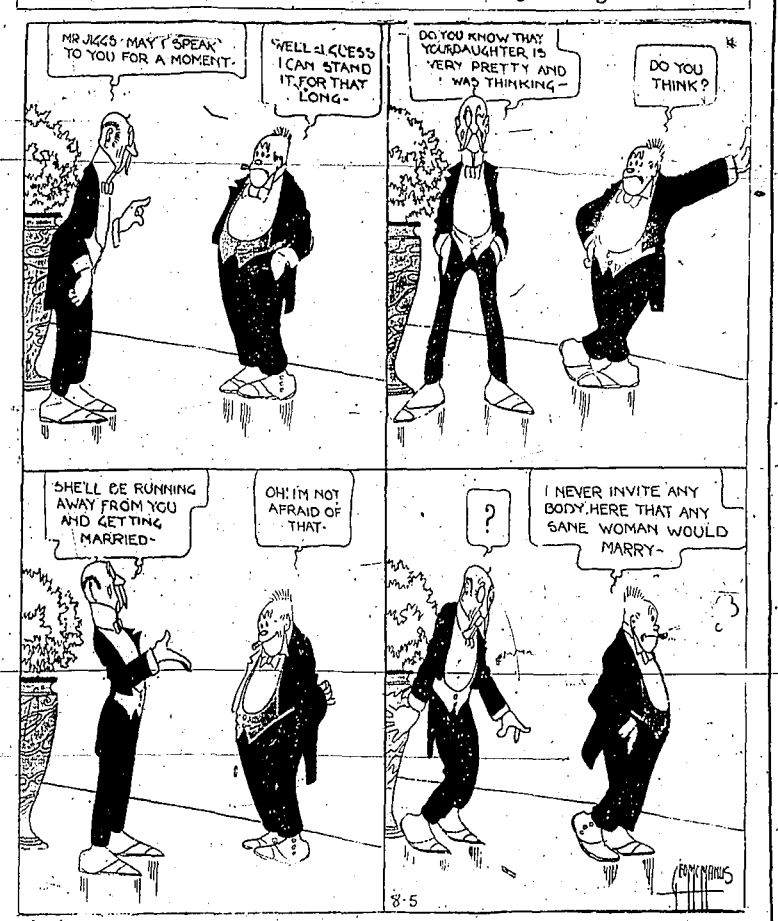

"The question is a very complicated one and critical one," says the operator, "and we expect to have a representative body of men at the conference, men who represent the gold producers of the west, and who will take some action as a body that will bring results when presented to the government."

"Among the questions to be taken up will be one of making gold producing properties free from state and federal taxes for a certain period, in order that mining can be continued in the face of the ever-increasing cost of production. Another matter will be the securing of special freight rates on supplies for gold mines. These are only some of the things to be considered. What the operators want to do is to find out what method would be best to relieve the present situation. The price of gold cannot be fixed and they want to find out what effect it will have on credit if the government placed a subsidy on gold. It is possible that a bonus for gold production might be worked out some way to encourage the mining of it."

BEATING FRIEND WIFE COSTS $20 IN SUPER

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Superior Judge Graham recently announced a policy of awarding wives $50 for every beating they received at the hands of ruthless husbands. Came Margaret O'Hearne, who complained that her spouse-half, John O'Hearne, had beaten her an average of once a week for the past fifteen years. O'Hearne is only a stevedore, but the fact did not interfere with Judge Graham's determination to do justice. He awarded a total of $37,600 to Mrs. O'Hearne and ordered that a piece of city property owned by O'Hearne be turned over to his wife as first payment. The court also bottled up Mrs. O'Hearne's source of potential income by granting her an interlocutory decree of divorce.

The TIMES is an Independent Democratic newspaper; but it knows no politics as opposed to the most unselfish and vigorous prosecution of the war that is possible.

THE SENATORIAL SITUATION

Released from his declaration that it would support James H. Hawley for the long term senatorship against W. E. Borah, The Times makes absolute its qualified endorsement of Frank L. Moore, of Moscow, for that place as all things considered, the most satisfactory of the two excellent men who have entered the lists for that position.

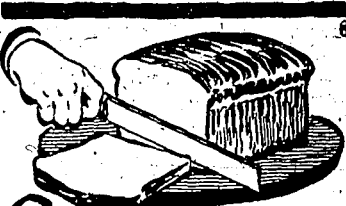

That Senator Borah is not invulnerable ought to be patent. He would gladly accept an endorsement by a well-known address on secret diplomacy. This principle is excellent in and of itself as well as over a system as open as the senator seat advertised will be adopted.

Relative to the short term senatorship it is quite unnecessary to say that this paper is enthusiastically for Senator John F. Nugent for the continuation and an election to the position he holds.

The Times enters no flight against former Governor Hawley. It stated some time ago that should he secure the nomination and then the date for the short term it would support him. It still stands where it did.

It is not that the Times is not a possible candidate against Senator Borah are an true now as when they were uttered. The Times, therefore, makes it flight for Nugent, not against Hawley, and appeals to Democrats everywhere to join in establishing a man whose senatorial record is the clearest and most convincing of his who has battled against trust interests.

The personal-popularity of James H. Hawley is admitted. The Times is not a believer in personal politics. Its support for him against Borah was on other grounds; it believed he could be better depended on to support Democratic principles than could the equilibrium senator. It is at this time the man counts less and should count less than ever before, and the principles for which he stands should count more.

Save a loaf a week help win the war

Governor Hawley will have the support of those who personally hate Nugent and whose vanity having been hurt in the past, still aches. As this Times said some time ago, it is impossible for a candidate to get rid of all uncomfortable followers without appearing rude and brutal.

about old personal quarrels between people of this state or any other state in the past. No intelligent, well-balanced patriotic citizen does. In this great international crisis when men are fighting and dying for human liberty in the trenches, in order that we may inaugurate the great peace movement—Woodrow Wilson—as a foundation to a lasting peace and a higher civilization, it is pitiable to see a poor mole, working blindly in a mass of hatred, with a view of stirring up strife over past, petty personalities.

By dirty insinuation, by appeals to hatred, by efforts to stir up forgotten animosities, The New Freedom has done all that any paper of its limited influence could do, to injure the cause of James H. Hawley. Not infrequently perhaps. Probably it did it just as it did about the war, because it could not help itself.

At this moment when we see any one calling himself a democrat trying to stir up ancient quarrels which might keep both Nugent and Hawley out of the senate, we cannot help but realize that such persons must either be insane, or must be the recipient of favors as price of prostitution. If the result of temporary mental aberration, we hope that a remedy will soon be applied which will abate the subsidence.

This paper believes that Nugent will be nominated because the consistent and logical thing to do would be to nominate him. It believes that it would be far and away the current winner in November and because of the tremendous significance of the issues to be determined by the man elected to the senate this fall, it is convinced that voters will not fail to draw the proper conclusion at the primaries and at the polls.

MISCONSTRUED OBSERVATION

We have been somewhat lenient toward the editor of The Twin Falls Times since his confession that he knows nothing about and cares nothing about Idaho politics, but we will not be so lenient toward those who have been corrupted by money—New Freedom.

Of course the statement with reference to the alleged contention in the field, under the war lie in the sense defined as "that which is untrue," and not implying conscious turpitude. A learned professor some time ago spoke of pathological liars as distinguished from culpable liars: the former telling untruths because of mental and moral inability to distinguish the truth from the lie. To this class the editor of the New Freedom very evidently belongs. Anyhow, the fact remains without foundation in fact, not all readers of The Times' editorials know. His statements relative to Senator Nugent are similarly distorted.

ALLEGED SUFFRAGE DOUSTERS The alleged suffrage "demonstration" today of a bunch of notorious scoundrels at the White House looked rather to make its absurdity supreme when a denunciation was volunteered by the writer for "allowing" the senate to line up against suffrage, although he has no vote in that body and is pleading with it to submit the amendment. On this surety no comment is required. The spectacular workers, who are on the highways and not in the vineyard are the ones who attract the attention of the superficial, while doing no good to the cause.

The women who are doing most for national suffrage today are engaged in Red Cross and other war work quietly and have no time to display themselves to the gaze of the admiring (if multitudinous) Through the self-sacrifice of these suffrage is rendered inevitable.

Food Will Win the War

LARON part of the world is coming to the position that Belgium is laying down to the stage where the primary and important thing in life is enough to eat to keep alive.

Our surplus wheat has already been shipped to the allies.
