The TIMES is an independent Democratic newspaper but it knows no politics opposed to the most just and vigorous prosecution of the war that is possible. Therefore, if any man, Democrat or Republican, caught throwing hardware into the machinery—either with his hands or with his words, if this be "partisan," make the most of it!

THE NUGENT-HAWLEY CONTEST

There are a few facts in connection with the senatorial situation that should never be forgotten. Some time ago, when Senator Brady was living, it was practically agreed that James H. Hawley should run against Senator Borah for the senatorship. John P. Nugent agreed to support his old time rival and the Nugent men everywhere were for him. It was further understood among all Democrats that Nugent would do a candid's duty against Brady. We do not mean that all this was agreed upon definitely, but nobody denies that this was the sentiment prevailing among Democrats everywhere in this state, and the fact that Nugent was willing to support Hawley against Borah at that time is not denied.

Then Senator Brady died. Hawley was to run against Borah, and, therefore, it was the logical thing for Nugent to seek to fill the place that Brady had occupied. If he were to make the contest for the Brady seat when it became vacant through expiration, sound reason would dictate that he should seek and accept that place when it became vacant sooner than he anticipated.

It is true that many Nugent men felt that the senator made a mistake in taking the position that he would stand aside for Hawley against Borah, because they felt that he could more certainly defeat the senator sooner than could the form or governor. Still, they were willing to get in line and to wait for the normal course of events to bring Nugent the reward which they felt was his.

When Brady died Hawley got into the track for the short term appointment and his friends made a most extraordinary proposition, which he seems to have fully endorsed. It was this: he would take the appointment for the short term until after election, but he would run against Borah for the long term and permit Nugent to run for the short one. At first, such a course seemed to be a logical one, as if the former were wanted to "hog" things and be sure of a senatorship anyway, and at the same time keep Nugent from running for the long term and get that himself also. This explanation was, we believe, incorrect. The true one was less grasping in its essence.

Hawley overestimated the influence of Borah, and his position was taken by all as an evidence that he feared the senator would not be beaten. This at least was the interpretation universally put on his position after the first resentment was off. Should Borah be elected, as we do not believe that he will be, it will be the result of Hawley having taken the advice of old friends when he assumed that attitude. The exact effect cannot be estimated because the size of the "hand-written contract" is hard to estimate. We figure no bad motive in the former governor, we are sure he had none. But he made unintentionally an awful tactical blunder in this case that did some damage to the Democratic party in Idaho.

Some Democrats failed to see Hawley appointed for the short term who believed that he would be respected by the party to take a nomination, succeed himself, and that Nugent, whom they believed to be the logical man to beat Borah, would thereby be nominated for the long term. They belonged to the class of Nugent men referred to who thought Nugent made a mistake in agreeing to step out of the way for Hawley in the first place. Some of those, with the object stated undoubtedly in mind, urged the petition for Hawley's appointment for the short term. Nugent was logical in asking the appointment to the position he took.

Nugent was appointed. He has made good to a degree that has surprised even his most sanguine friends and admirers. He has been appointed on the great finance committee of the senate. He has won the confidence and esteem of President Wilson and it is no secret that the administration wants him returned. In opposing his candidacy his case did not say that he did not deserve a senatorship. They still further boasted that Borah's sticks by declaring that their man should be permitted to run for the short term. They said Nugent should wait for the long term. Now this whole idea of a man stepping out of one line senatorship to run for another is absurd. Surely, if Nugent has done well enough to succeed Borah, he has done well enough to succeed himself. And since one senatorship is just as high as another, it is surely unreasonable to ask Nugent to give up a position which he has won and which he knows that the president of the United States wants him to retain, simply to run for another senatorship.

Hawley should have run for the position which he started out to run for. It was unfortunate in having "friends" whose animosity toward Nugent overwhelmed their love for Hawley, their love for Democracy and the fulfillment of common sense.

We have no word of demerit for the former governor, but it is a certain that today the friends of Hawley recognize that Nugent can get more votes at the fall election than their candidate. This is no time for mere compliments. The man who can heartily co-operate with the president in carrying out his great policies and who at the same time stands the best show of election as the man to nominate, and that man, so far as the short term senatorship is concerned is John P. Nugent.

In the meantime, Senator Borah will have to find some more definite arguments than an implied compliment to his supposed strength by former Governor Hawley, for he has before him a man of known ability and integrity and a fighter from the word on to Frank B. Moore, who should be elected and we believe will be.

POWER QUESTION CANNOT BE DEFERRED

The solution of the power question and the disposition of natural resources are not issues that can be deferred until the war is won, such power is needed today to furnish heat and further war work. Besides, it will be necessary to have the other resources under control when the war ends in order that the work of reconstruction may not be impeded. Therefore, it is imperative that whoever is elected to position of responsibility shall be big enough to take the side of the people in this matter. Some men like the late Tom L. Johnson are big enough to work against the interest of their own privilege. Some companies like the Ford auto manufacturers are public spirited enough to reject or attempt to reject, tariff privileges that they do not need. When cases of this kind arise, the men who have been tried and found pure gold can be trusted. But it is up to those interested in power companies as stockholders to prove themselves and to show by their acts that they are unselfish, and will serve the people.

The national administration is in favor of national development and operation of power plants. This will solve the question nationally. The state Democratic administration has a ready-made for intra-state problems relating to natural resources in Idaho. There remains the problem of getting men in office who want to see its provision carried out and who have knowledge enough of the law to draft necessary laws in such way that they will not be knocked out by the courts as contrary to the constitution.

ALL MUST REGISTER UNDER NEW LAW

All will have to register under the new law in order to vote. Whether you are a Democrat, Republican or Nonpartisan League member you should get your name on the list. It is in your duty to vote at the primaries. If you are a Democrat, your support will do no good to your favorite, unless you have previously registered. Ditto for the Republicans. Same about Nonpartisans. Remember, under the new law you must register no later than August 31.

of the Democratic party, as a headline in their party organ shows, on which to ride into office. They expect to go in as league members and not as candidates. They are elected, they should they make good the credit will be claimed for the Nonpartisan League and not for the Democratic party. Having taken the name of Democrat in Idaho, any discredit which may attach to any act of theirs will be charged up to the Democratic party, although real Democrats are not responsible. Now, however, good this organization may be, as a Democrat, do not want to be held responsible for the acts of an outside organization done in the name of one party. We do not know what stand they will take on the war. A very large percentage of the membership is composed of Socialists and you know the stand that the Socialist party took on the war. I am informed that were all the league candidates for the legislature elected, a majority or nearly a majority of them, would be composed of former Socialists. The past record of some of their candidates is not reassuring. Until a few weeks before his endorsement for "Democratic" Senatorial nomination, H. P. Samuel was chairman of the Honner county Republican committee. Two years ago he campaigned with H. W. Davis, and in the arguments then he was sort of against the administration and supporting Hughes and Davis. He is now the editor of the War Department, has been a radical Republican and has more pretentiously antagonistic to the Wilson administration than any other Republican editor in Idaho, no idea of his paper show. He believes make the Republican state platform and pronounced his work good. If he has ever resigned from the Republican state central committee I am not aware of it. Yet he is a Nonpartisan League candidate for congress running on the ground that he favors the policies of Woodrow Wilson. This organization seeks to secure control of the Democratic party. They come in as Democrats, but as outsiders to take possession of the party. In North Dakota the members are Republicans FOR THIS ELECTION. If all Democrats register, they cannot succeed. But there is the danger. The Nonpartisan League members will all register as Democrats, unless you register against this year you cannot vote. Two years ago, while 64,629 votes were cast in this state for Governor Alexander, only 13,009 voted at the primaries. Should this condition prevail again, there are 1,009 Nonpartisan League members will take possession of the entire organization of the Democrats' party. The people have not yet learned the importance of a primary election. Suppose that 2000 Democrats in a certain county want me while there are 1,009 Nonpartisan League members who want Mr. Samuels. This condition will not help me if 1000 of my friends stay at home and only 250 of my "Republican" friends go to the polls. Mr. Martin closed by a review of the Democratic state platform, dealing with the after-war problem of the relations of men and women into the industrial system of our nation and touching on reclamation work so doing. He spoke at some length on the plank regarding methods of marketing and the necessity for protecting markets from exploitation and monopoly and dwelt on the necessity for heavier taxes on the great mining corporations of the state, while discussing the plank relative to natural resources. He discussed the difference between a natural monopoly like a power plant and an ordinary business to show the danger of interference in behalf of the consumer in these lines of activity in which competition cannot exist. Mr. Martin was warmly applauded at the close of his talk and the resolution referred to was passed unanimously, after which the club voted to take up actively the matter of getting all Democrats to register. One fact Mr. Martin emphasized was that the contest for governor was not in any way to be confused with the senatorial contest. He said that he had warm friends in both the Nugent and Hawley camps who were giving him their earnest support. Lewis Williams and S. C. Bledsoe, guests of the club, were invited to address the meeting and both made short talks for harmony in the interest of fundamental democracy, which were well received.

LOYALTY!

The test of Americanism today is LOYALTY TO HOME—in its broad sense meaning our entire country, of course. But, (our country first) there is another interpretation to "loyalty to home." It means fidelity to that particular place where one resides—and he who loves his home community will not be found in sympathy with foreign foes. It should be a pride and a pleasure for each and every American citizen to help build up his home town—for by so doing the country as a whole will be built up, so sure as night follows the day. Spend your money where you earn it, as much as possible, and you will find the benefits accruing to you and yours will more than offset any catalogue house "Bargain Special" ever offered. Twin Falls needs the support of ALL her citizens. Let the catalogue house get their patronage elsewhere.

PRICE OF SILVER IS FIXED THROUGH NATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The price of silver throughout the United States was this afternoon set at $1.03 1/2 by Director of the Mint H. Baker. Previously silver was sold by the secretary of the treasury at a price permitting the treasury, from new purchases to recoup the silver purchased into silver dollars without loss.

It will now be unlawful to pay more than the fixed price and silver purchased for more than this amount cannot be imported into the United States. The action was taken to protect the silver mine operators of the United States, it was explained.

KNITTERS ATTENTION

Only one week remains in which to furnish the large knitting allotment given the Twin Falls County Chapter by division headquarters. Murtaugh branch is the first to report all yarn given out. They have taken an extra two pounds of yarn and that means eight pairs of socks and over their quota. This branch is also making twelve extra sweaters. While this is true that many are very busy, particularly those living in the country, it is also true that by a little extra effort the remaining yarn can be knitted and turned in to the different branches by September 10. This will make us two weeks late in completing the work.

ONONDAGA COUNTY, N. Y. DOING WELL STAMP BIT

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Syracuse is truly doing its "bit" in the sale of War Saving Stamps. A statement issued August 15 shows that Onondaga county has sold $203,842 worth of Thrift Stamps. On a basis of 214,000 population this is a per capita of $9.46. It is estimated that pledges aggregating $1,200,000 have been made. The county's quota is $429,000 or a per capita of $20. With the continued activity in the form of "drives" and persistent selling it is expected that the county will go "over the top."

LYDIA BILKS FRIEND, BUT FUN'S ALL OVER NOW

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 15.—Lydia—that's the only name the police will give for her—had an "awfully good time" making a friend think he was getting married to her while it cost the friend $460. Lydia is married, but that made little difference in her sweet young life. She met the other man in her husband's place of business and in a few days agreed that they ought to be married. They waited a nearby town, where a girl friend sang a rapturous song in German as the ceremony, the victim thinking she was qualified to perform the wedding. Then he handed over his savings of $460 and the girls spent it. The case is under advisement, while the husband and near-husband are planning dire things for Lydia.

What is perhaps stranger is the fact that such ordinary creatures as pigeons should sight a balloon when it is coming over. Episcopal Bishop Back From France To Inspect Work of Doctors on Wounded Men.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Aug. 15.—"Miracles of surgery are being performed by U. S. medical men being held in the fighting line in France," declared Bishop Francis of the Episcopal diocese of Indianapolis, who arrived here today from a European port.

"I have seen men whose feet in the neck, the bullets having crunched out through their mouths, especially treated and sent back to the front," said Bishop Francis, who spent five months at a base hospital in the front sector.

"Men having deep shrapnel wounds in their abdomens—wounds which are classified as fatal—are put back into first-class shape and resume fighting," he continued.

The French people, he said, are amazed and elated over the bravery and fighting qualities of the American soldiers and marines. The marines who fought at Clateau Thierry are the idols of France, and the people declare Germany cannot last another year against such fighters.

MEXICAN OIL SITUATION GRAVE

It is believed here that further negotiations are in progress between the Mexican government and the diplomatic representatives of the United States and Mexico at Mexico City.

The chief trouble at the present time is the open declaration by the Carranza government, in its note to the British government, that its oil lease is a matter of internal Mexican jurisdiction and that if the holders of the oil leases and lands are not satisfied they can have recourse to the courts.

The open statement by the oil producers that the real reason why these satisfactory taxes are imposed is the delivery of the oil interests of the nation to German competitors can be made general is accepted here as a fact.

Immense Losses on Both Sides in War
