GRAFT CHARGES IN CHICAGO BY STATE ATTORNEY

HEARS TESTIMONY OF ALDERMEN BUT FAILS TO GET EVIDENCE

Intimates He Has Something Up Sleeve

Avoids Giving Names but Says Several City Solons Get From $3000 to $5000 From the Traction Interest of Big Town.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Although ten aldermen appeared before the grand jury today to answer the questions of State's Attorney Hoyne in his investigation of alleged grafting in the adoption of the new traction ordinance by the Chicago city council, the prosecutor admitted that little progress had been made. Mr. Hoyne declares he has information that at least three public officials acted as go-betweens between the traction interest and the city council, the amounts paid ranging from $3000 to $5000.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—State Attorney Hoyne today instituted a grand jury investigation into charges that thousands of dollars were paid to obtain the passage of the traction and subway ordinance by the city council Wednesday night. Ten of the twenty aldermen who voted against the ordinance have been subpoenaed to appear today and the other ten for Monday.

Mr. Hoyne said he had received information that the Germans in Russia is the establishment of some sort of Russian monarchy, declared Robert Cecil today in answer to the question whether he believed that the Germans had any definitely prepared plan in the event of the fall of the Bolshevik government.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—I think the ultimate fate of the Germans in Russia is the establishment of some sort of Russian monarchy, declared Robert Cecil today in answer to the question whether he believed that the Germans had any definitely prepared plan in the event of the fall of the Bolshevik government.

MARCH OPPOSED TO SENDING RUSSIA ARMY

DOUBTS FEASIBILITY OF FIGHTING ON EASTERN FRONT

Stand Still on the Western Front Now

Irkutsk Falls to Czechoslovaks—Japan and China Co-operate—New Siberian Government is Established at Omak.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Opposition to any policy of sending large increments of American troops into Siberia was voted by General P. C. March, chief of staff, in his weekly conference with members of the senate military affairs committee today.

General March is understood to have told the committee that the sending of a "handful of men" into Russia would necessitate the sending of larger and larger forces to rescue them, and that in time the withdrawal of troops might interfere with the plan of "fighting it out to a finish on the western front."

General March received a four line cablegram from General Pershing today, the flight of 18 American troops to Haviland plains, equipped with fifty motor cars, over the German lines, eastern front, would never be re-established as an offensive force, and indicated that the committee should be notified through with grave possibilities.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Confidence in the tactics of sending the Czechoslovaks and the Siberian police's army was received today by the senate report of General Pershing, chief of staff, who reported that communication had been established with that city and that the railway line between Irkutsk and Moscow is still shut off, however, according to the dispatch.

A new Siberian government is being organized with headquarters at Omak, the dispatch said. The people at Omak were said generally to favor the Brest-Litovsk treaty and are in favor of war upon the central powers.

Another dispatch from Consul General Poole at Moscow, forwarded by the state department, said that Stockholm and dated Aug. 9, said that the Japanese consul general had left the city on the preceding night.

Major James Simpson, vice president of the Marshall Field Co. in Chicago, is returning to the United States to be under the inspection of the Red Cross hospitals and work in France.

WONDERFUL WORK OF AMERICAN OFFICERS NECESSITATES REST FROM FIERCE STRAIN ON THE BATTLE FRONT

MANY COMING BACK TO TAKE PERIOD OF RECOVERY IN U. S.

Nearly Million and Half Men Over

Chief of Staff Quotes French Commander in Fighting of Man on the Line of Battle Fighting Against the Fritishes.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—High ranking officers of the American overseas forces who have begun to take a rest from the strain of war, were termed "wonderful work," will come back to the United States for rest.

ROME, Aug. 17.—Lively artillery action in the region of Mount Grappa and on the Middle Piave sector is reported in the Italian official communique today by General Diaz.

TOKIO, Aug. 17.—It is officially announced that the activity of the Austrian and German war prisoners who have crossed the line from Siberia into Mongolia, necessitated the amendment of the military agreement recently arranged between China and Japan.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—Moscow is now in the power of the Soviet revolutionaries (the anti-Bolsheviks) said a Stockholm dispatch in the Times today.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Chairman Dent of the House military affairs committee, favors writing into the new man power bill extending the draft from 18 to 45 years of age, provision that the older men subject to it be called before the 18-20 year classes age.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Eighty-one per cent of the Americans wounded in the fighting in France have returned to the front for service, 14 per cent have been discharged from the army and 4 per cent are further service and only five per cent have died.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Chief of Staff General Pershing today announced that the rate of increase in the cost of living in the United States is 15 per cent.

NONPARTISAN LEAGUE CAMPAIGN DEPARTMENT

Information about Nonpartisan candidates to be voted for on Democratic ticket, September 2d, will appear here Wednesdays and Saturdays of each week. The matter below is paid advertising.

LEAGUE PRESIDENT URGES MEMBERS NOT TO LET THE POLITICIANS "WOKE" THEM

Following is a letter appearing in the last issue of the Idaho Leader, addressed to League members, which should be read by every friend of the Nonpartisan League, and carefully weighed. In his letter, Mr. Schantz sets out very plainly all the old tricks that may be tried by the trusts and their hirelings to divide the Leagueurs. If we stand together, we cannot fail to win, he points out.

The Supreme Test Will Soon Begin. To League Members in Idaho: It has been a long time since I have made a direct appeal to you. I want to impress on every League member in Idaho that while your state convention selected me to lead you in the fight of this campaign against the old game, and endorsed candidates for office, the success of your League in Idaho depends primarily upon the interest taken by each individual member. The League's success and the success of the movement depends upon the extent to which each member co-operates with me in the struggle which is ahead of us.

So far, everything has looked well, because you have responded to every call that has been made on the members in the campaign up to the present time. First, you met in perfect order and throughout the state and selected delegates to your county meetings. In almost every instance you elected your strongest men as delegates. Very few politicians got themselves chosen.

The few politicians who did slip in here and there as delegates were practically all weeded out at the county convention. Your success in this respect must be very gratifying to you. You could hardly have done your work any better than you did at your county meetings in the selection of delegates to the state convention and candidates for the League.

But a greater test now approaches and you must be prepared to meet it. This test will not be easy. The bribing of the profiteering corporate interests are getting desperate. Falling to get control of your county and state conventions, and failing to get the old political henchmen endorsed for office, they are now starting all manner of attacks against the League and its candidates.

These political hirelings of the interests which have long robbed the producers and consumers of Idaho will now work night and day to confuse and mislead you in your struggle for economic justice.

All machinery of political trickery will be brought into action. They will spend any amount of money to divide you again into factions, including county division fights, bridge fights, religion fights. You can expect anything and everything.

High now the gang politicians, backed by the corrupt corporate interests, are planning their campaign and attempting the confusion of their funds. They dare not touch you openly. They have got hundreds of men working pretty they go about poisoning the minds of the voters. Their agents are already following the League organizers and League leaders.

The career of every candidate and prominent Leagueurs will be sifted and combed. If you can find any incident in the lives of any of these men that can be criticized, these tricksters will look like a mountain. The will bring and twist and warp the facts, and when you see how they can use, they will make something out of whole cloth that will beat every other purpose.

The power trusts, timber trust, and the other profiteering corporate interests, will through their political hirelings do anything to get you to fighting among yourselves, to trace you and to fool you.

If they can make noise enough to mislead you and confuse you, they will win. If they cannot mislead and confuse you, then you will win.

When the politicians in your county start their noise, remember that the profane detractors you helped select have, on the whole, used their best judgment in choosing the men who are to be your candidates for the legislature. Almost without exception, they have indicated the best men they could find—no one who were men; but almost without exception, men who were drafted for this service.

Remember, this is not the fight of your candidates for the legislature—IT IS YOUR FIGHT.

LET EVERY LEAGUE MEMBER BE COMMITTEE MEMBER OR BOAST

With but three weeks more until the primary election, every member of the League and every voter in Idaho should be active and working for a good, clean, constructive and progressive state administration should get into the field and boost for the League candidates. They will be found filed on the Democratic ticket at the primaries.

Study over those candidates. You will find that each one of them is a progressive citizen with a clean record behind him. This is the class most of the Idaho needs. Get busy at once. Do your share of the campaign. Talk with your neighbors. Show them what the League is and what it stands for. It is a struggle for political freedom from the laws and special interest rule. ELIMINATE THE TIMBER TRUST, THE MINING TRUST AND THE POWELL FINANCIAL TRUST. This can only be done through the election from top to bottom of the Nonpartisan ticket.

Let the people rule themselves. If P. Samuels will be the next governor, and he will have a Nonpartisan League legislature to help him. The next administration will put Idaho on the map as a progressive wide-awake, up-to-date, growing commonwealth.

Nonpartisans have "SPECIFIED" THIRTY SEVEN CANDIDATES. In all states there are politicians who are attempting to hide the rottenness of their aims by spreading the flag for a platform. While asserting that this is no time for politics, they are working overtime playing politics with the noblest emotion of the high man breast—love of country. Shysters of this sort are referred to in an article in the Western Kansas Journal. The editor says: "I am for the winning of the war."

Accidentally many candidates seem to think, or believe the public thinks that plank election to entitle them to office. That plank has become stock phrase and every one is carrying it. A few, however, are definite in their statements. They tell the people what they propose to do, or make an effort to do towards the winning of the war. Every candidate is for the winning of the war. It is preposterous to think that any candidate would run on a platform to prevent the allies from winning the war.

There are many evils that have arisen and which the people are demanding should be checked. Profiteering is rampant and exists on every hand, and it has existed since the war's beginning. Candidates should state what they propose to do about this, how they propose to do it, and whether or not they propose to do anything at all.

The profiteer is growing tired of having the war taxes all piled to "him. An excess profits tax, such as is levied by France and England, is demanded here. The candidate should specify."

"That joy is for the winning of the war it is for general peace to mean anything. Old Nick it will be recalled, is very adept at quodling scripture."

Nonpartisan candidates in Idaho have "specified." Read the platform on this page and be convinced.

DOISE LABOR COUNCIL ENDORSES NONPARTISAN LEAGUE STATE PLATFORM. (From Boise Statesman, Aug. 9.) At a meeting of the Doise Trades and Labor Council at Idaho Falls, Wednesday evening, the members of the legislative committee of the Idaho State Federation of Labor, organized by the State Federation of Labor and the State Federation of Agricultural Workers, endorsed the Nonpartisan League state platform as the instrument for the carrying out of the program of labor legislation.

Hansen News. The threatening machine is a humming, the pitchfork is a humplike, and the farmers are stamping with the work. But, the farmer is not thinking; so much about the work as to help him. Mr. Stanger was kicked by a horse, while threatening this week. He is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman and a visiting friend were in Twin Falls Wednesday. Mrs. Byron leaves this week for the G. A. R. encampment at Portland and later to visit her son in western Oregon.

Mr. J. P. Harris is now in the company of The Peoples store at Hansen. Mrs. Hartman will entertain the Bible class of the Methodist Sunday school at the church Friday evening.

CANDIDATES ENDORSED BY LEAGUE

OUR U. S. AND STATE OFFICERS (Vote for all these in Democratic Primaries Sept. 3.) United States Senator, short term—John E. Nugent, Boise; Congress, first district—L. I. Purcell, Weiser; Congress, second district—C. R. Jeppesen, Moore; Governor—H. F. Samuels, Bonner county; Lieutenant Governor—Oscar C. Zueck, Kimberly; Secretary of State—William A. Fife, Pocatello; Auditor—W. P. Rice, Jerome; Attorney General—R. A. Cummings, Pocatello; Inspector of Mines—Wm. J. J. Smith, Coeur d'Alene; Miner.

COUNTY OFFICERS. State Senator—Elmer Aman, Filer. Members House of Representatives—Frank L. Woodruff, Twin Falls; Edgar A. Litter, Buhl; and Fred W. Berger, Berger. Sheriff—Geo. McGraw, Twin Falls. County Auditor—M. M. Markel, Filer. Treasurer—Phillip H. Crow, Twin Falls. Prosecuting Attorney. County Commissioners—W. F. Brewer, Hansen; Frank DeKlotz, Filer; O. M. Etter, Twin Falls. County Surveyor—Coroner.

Republican Candidates (Vote for these in the General Election, November) County Assessor—G. W. Wilcox, Twin Falls. Probate Judge—O. P. Duvall, Twin Falls. Superintendent of Schools—Miss Brittonart Wolfe, Twin Falls. United States Senator, six-year term—William E. Borah, Boise. Treasurer—John W. Eagleson, Boise. Superintendent of Public Instruction—Miss Ethel Redfield, Boise.

NONPARTISAN PLATFORM 1918. 1. The paramount issue is to win the war. 2. The chief qualification for office is loyalty—100 per cent Americanism. 3. A greater food production and better distribution being absolutely essential toward winning the war, we therefore place our candidates, one and all, to the carrying out of legislation to the following as the last safe progress will permit.

4. We pledge our candidates, one and all, to the carrying out of legislation for farm laws which will not mortgage cropland capital but will simply protect labor as well, in accordance with the just demands of organized labor. 5. The taxation of all property upon an equitable basis. 6. The taxation of idle property on a higher rate in order to force such property to more largely assist in the financing of the war effort.

7. A workable initiative, referendum and recall. 8. Our candidates and plank include in the legislative platform statement are as follows: Women Suffrage. We urge the immediate enfranchisement of the women of America. We hold that to deny the mothers of this nation the right of suffrage is inconsistent with the professions of equality set forth in our national declaration of democratic principles and that a government in which the question of sex determines the right of participation is not a government in which the fundamentals of human liberty are dominant.

9. One man's operation of street cars in any city is dangerous to public safety. 10. An eight-hour day with a minimum rest of one week for women and girl workers. 11. Amendment of the alien law giving collection of wages preferred over all other claims. 12. Protection of American farmers from Asiatic competition by restricting hours for opening and closing of all harbor shops.

13. Compulsory state fund insurance under the workman's compensation law, with a larger minimum weekly payments. 14. Demand of congress that it accede to the request of the president and grant authority for regulating the prices of farm products and other commodities in which there is excessive profit-taking.

15. Control of Markets. Petition the federal government to abate its plans that it will not relinquish control of the grain market after the war but keep them open and free from the excessive practices of monopoly. 16. Before the taking over by the federal government of the railroads and suggest: Government seizure and operation of all war supplies factories where excessive profit making takes place.

17. Government seizure and operation of all factories in which industrial disputes do not yield to mediation. 18. Government operation of all mines and all shalyans on government work. Direct contracts between government and all workers on government supplies and work, through their organizations.

19. Short-time loans to the farmers by the government on crop security, whether owner or rented land. 20. Government control of the prices of commodities necessary for the farmer in the time of war. 21. Imposition of penalties in the shape of late taxes for the holding of land out of use.

METAL GOULDS ROB GRAVES OF GERMAN EMPIRE

SHORTAGE OF ALL SORTS METALLIC SUBSTANCES AMOUNTS TO FAMINE

Demoralization Marks Retreat of Hun

Meanwhile American Soldiers Under Fire Calmly Organize Swimming Resort and Duck When Shells Are Falling.

Herz Ford (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) WITH THE BRITISH ARMY ON THE PICARDY FRONT, Aug. 17.—"Metal ghoulies have become common here and there in the form of precious metals. Lead is stripped from coffins. Jewelry is ripped from bodies. American soldiers here find man metal shortage has brought about precious purchases."

The shortage of metal is shown by the conditions in the villages recaptured by the British in Belgium. Officers report that vaults in cemeteries are now being broken into and the lead stripped from the coffins.

Prisoners admit taking jewelry from the bodies. At Calix, a dump general hospital, the extent was found of material, including lead stripped from the houses. The Germans have nearly bombed this dump in an attempt to destroy the material which they were forced to abandon in their hasty retreat.

The demoralization marking the retreat of the German armies is forcefully shown in the chaos they leave behind. Everywhere there are signs of hasty flight. The Germans are abandoned. Maps, charts and important papers are scattered here and there. Ever-bombs and other personal effects are abandoned in the wild woods.

There is plenty of evidence that the Germans will retreat all the way back to the Hindenburg line. Wednesday's capture of the village of Huesbiers at Beaumont Hamel, near Puleux and Guynes strengthened this belief. The German withdrawal covers a front of more than 100 yards, a depth of more than 1000 yards. The British forces are pushing on and keeping up their fire with vigor. Considerable ground has been gained in the vicinity of these villages. The ground given up by the Germans is located between Albert and Arras.

North of the Oureq river, some of the lines of fighting in the war took place. The British losses were heavy in that region. The enemy's swift, silent retreat for the purpose of taking up stronger positions in the rear, caused some surprise. Recently the Germans also evacuated their positions in the Hebuterne sector. Amidst the crash of big German shells, which have over and over again been detonated, nearby American soldiers who helped the British on the northern sector of the Picardy front, organized a swimming resort on the Somme near the scene of their victory and went in bathing by the water.

Duck fellows, here comes another one of wild war dignities. It would roar overhead and burst near by tearing up the road. But this would go under the water, but the boys continued to defy the German artillery. The Americans save the Germans a lot of time by fighting in the struggle west of Arras.

The rapid concentration of the American military victory was one of the most surprising features of the American victory. The Yankees went forward without the aid of machine guns depending entirely upon their rifles—performance that won the approbation of the French and British. German machine gun nests were encircled and the gunners were picked off by the sharp shooting dog boys. Many used only their automatic pistols, shooting the Boches through the head on the run. There were a number of westerners in the fight.

It is a matter of course that the Americans have become accustomed to the enemy artillery fire despite the fact that they received their first baptism of fire when they were in the line.

Young Thompson was the son of Alvah O. Thompson, president of the Thomas family, who was killed in the war. His father is expected here today to take the body home.

KNITTERS ATTENTION

Only one week remains in which to furnish the large knitting equipment given the Twin Falls County Fair by division headquarters. Murtaugh branch is the first to report all yarn given. The branch taken an extra two pounds of yarn and that means eight pairs of socks over and above their quota. This branch is also making twelve extra awnings. While this is true that many are very busy particularly those living in the country, it is also true that by a little extra effort the remaining yarn can be knitted and turned in to the different branches by September 10. This will make up two weeks late in completing the work.

The yarn that has already been given out is to be returned on an August 25, but the time will be extended to September 10. This yarn is still on hand. Some have been knitted and plenty of sock yarn, and everyone who knits is asked to help fill this quota as soon as possible. There is a knitting chairman in every branch, and someone on duty each afternoon. Write to the branch to give any assistance that may be needed.

BRINGING UP FATHER :: :: By George McManus

and child should be changed in the real work of this war; every honest worker should be organized to do their part, real service in some way that will be productive; every community should be organized to the end that every resource be fully utilized to get the best possible results, economy of time, a spirit of co-operation; there should be no idlers.

As I see it, it is time now to enter an educational campaign as to how each of us can serve our country best in the production of some of the material things that go to sustain life. Everything we have and with which we have to do in the product of labor, announces energy and toil has produced it; few things, if any, come into the world of usefulness unaided in some way. Labor is the power that sustains the world, our success as individuals, communities such as a nation depend upon our industry (labor) well directed, each of us with the same ambition to work and do our part at home as our boys who go to the front and fight in the face of death.

We at home are in need of training that we may know best how to do our part, as are the boys at the front. We must answer to every call with the same promptness and spirit as do they. Could we but realize the importance of the part we are to take in this great war, I feel sure we would be glad to get in line and respond to every opportunity to do our part faithfully to the very end of this great struggle.

The labor service is now entering upon an interesting campaign and the same plan will be followed in this, as has been followed in all the former war activities as Liberty Loan drive, Red Cross, etc. I can say great favor for the service when the people come to know what it means.

The United States employment service in the clearing house for industry those who need help should turn their application and those who can render service and are seeking employment should do the same; the job for the man or woman and they will be glad to be put in line and respond to every opportunity to do our part faithfully to the very end of this great struggle.

I feel it my duty, as state director of labor, to call the attention of the people of the state, and particularly those who are engaged in war activities, to a few things that I think ought to have their consideration.

I have known from the beginning of this service the greater work to be accomplished, and that it would be a difficult thing to get the people to understand its purpose and to cooperate in making it a success. I have observed a lack of interest even on the part of those who have charge of war activities; and up to this time there has been but little effort made to bring this matter before the people.

In all my travels through the state, and in the many meetings that I have attended, I do not recall a single instance where any mention was made of the United States employment service, arising from a few meetings where I was called upon personally to speak, and the meetings that have been held under my direction. The whole thought, as I see it, has been financial, largely and to confuse the people with the spirit of the war. I appreciate the importance of this; but to my mind we now should, in every way possible as to how they can best exercise the spirit of labor that in the performing of some labor that will give rest to the country.

It is not enough for the people to be enthused and shout for the flag and our country but every man, woman and child should be changed in the real work of this war; every honest worker should be organized to do their part, real service in some way that will be productive; every community should be organized to the end that every resource be fully utilized to get the best possible results, economy of time, a spirit of co-operation; there should be no idlers.

EXPLOSION KILLS TWO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Two men were killed and another injured at St. Julian's creek, near Norfolk, Va., today, when a quantity of explosive D blew up in the loading of a 6-inch shell, the navy department announced this afternoon. This is the first time this explosive has caused any damage in the six or seven years the navy has been using it and a board of inquiry has been appointed to investigate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Twenty-eight production managers have been appointed by the fuel administration, one for each producing district to handle the appeal up campaign in the different coal mines, the administration announced today. The manager will head the committee of six, three representatives of the workers, three of the employers and will investigate those mines where output has fallen below maximum and will have all the committee fix the responsibility.

Among the managers named are: J. J. Roby, Eastern and Central Ohio; William H. Wallace, Michigan; James H. Pritchard, Southern Ohio; H. F. Price, Big Sandy and Elkhorst; A. L. Alkins, Indiana; J. W. Dawson, High Volatile fields of Southern West Virginia; E. E. White, New River and Winding Gulf; R. D. Patterson, Dug River and Pocahton; G. D. Kirk-

AMERICAN FLYER IS REPORTED AS MISSING

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 16.—Lieutenant Henry MacIaur of Massachusetts, a member of the American flying corps, is reported missing. He disappeared on July 16. On that day MacIaur with three other aviators was protecting our photographic planes on the Toul front. The planes passed through a bank of clouds. When the three others emerged, MacIaur was missing. As there had been no anti-aircraft fire it is believed MacIaur met with an accident in his machine and was forced to land behind the enemy lines.

The TIMES is an independent Democratic newspaper that shows no political opposition to the most called, and vigorous prosecution of the war that is possible. Therefore, it is AGAINST any man who would say, caught throwing hardware into the machinery—either with his hands or with his mouth. If he be "hardy," make the most of it!

GOODING PLAYS UP

The president of the United States takes a very natural interest in having men in the senate with whom he can cooperate. This fact being understandable to people of ordinary intelligence. Some of the men whom he desires to keep in the senate are Republicans like Senator Nelson of Minnesota, and some are Democrats. If you were in the place, that Woodrow Wilson occupies you would want men who would stand by you, and really help in the main things. Some time ago John P. Nugent was appointed to the position of secretary of Idaho. He has filled his office well. The president who is supposed to be some judge of men, at least in dealing with them to always wish, wanted to keep Nugent where he is. Can you blame him? Friends of Governor Hawley declared that they did not believe that the president cared a straw which of them went to the senate. Perhaps this was true, provided that each one had an equal show to go. Anyhow, after the statement was challenged, the thing was proven. Forthwith the cry went up that there was interference.

Now, it was inconceivable to raise this cry after proof had been invited, but whatever excuse there was for such objection from the Hawley forces there was so far as the surface showed none at all for the winner went up by our good friend, former Governor Gooding. This fact however, he was really the one hurt worst of all, for whatever chance he would have had of beating Hawley, he will have none at all of beating Nugent, and he knows it. Hence, this "interference" stung him and he lost his judgment and temper both at the same time. At Spokane he gave out an interview to the Spokesman-Review, which was absurd and inconsistent. After telling about the president, he said that Governor Hawley, Justice Albright and himself, he proceeded:

"Let us now look at the record of Mr. Nugent. What has he done to create a record that would entitle him to the active support of the president at this time? When he was a candidate against Governor Hawley in the primaries, which meant a test of the opinion of the people of Idaho, he was badly beaten. He holds his present office not by the will of the people, but by virtue of a political party of a Democratic governor. He has not performed any great acts of statesmanship since he has been in the senate so far as an individual. He has never been recognized by the chair so far as I know. He has no record of conduct in the senate, but he has been pushed ahead by a Democratic controlled senate and given a place on the finance committee."

"He never made a particular mark as an attorney in Idaho, and the only legal work that brought him into public notice was his appearance as attorney for Hayward and Pettibone, who were charged with the assassination of former Governor Frank Steunenberg."

"I have often written in my heart that politics was a good thing, but the only thought and consideration of all the people was the winning of the war. The president is the only man who can administer justice. From what I have seen of the executive's actions in states where there was an election where a politician is not adjoined as far as the Democratic party is concerned."

Naturally, Democracy, and people generally for next matter will be much impressed and "stung." Gooding has the Republican slush in hand. His machine is beautifully oiled. He can afford to be kind to Albright, whom he has "beaten a fraction." Albright has unfortunately for himself, the backing of a man formerly identified with the power interests. The Times believes that this would not at all affect his attitude should he be elected but it hampers his campaign among the voters. Gooding plays the up and down on the honesty of purpose both. He stands for the "phony" position of the Republican platform. Wilson and Attorney General Gregory supposed to have been inspired by Nugent, which insures public development of adequate power enterprises and "protects" the people by alleged competition, such as the people of Twin Falls are familiar with. Probably, he is honest in this. Anyhow, it makes some camouflage for those who are color blind and have not yet learned the futility of such "competition" among natural monopolies.

Hence, though Albright is the abhor man and quite good, the stars are fighting against him, and he must lose. So Gooding, hitting into the Democratic arena and making the content of others his own, "stands up" for the supposedly outraged Albright. In all this he displays the real animus of the thing by an attack on Nugent. The assumption that Nugent was put on the committee of ways and means because of politics is ridiculous. Other senators in the Democratic party would be glad to get the place. The same objection was made to appointment of Bryan on the committee of ways and means in the lower house during his first term, but the Nebraska made good there, and the event proved that he had the ability claimed for him.

Gooding harkens back to the old primary contest between Hawley, Senator Nugent, but he has more gall than ever. Fred Flood, forerunner of Flood, claimed that this showed Hawley more popular among Democrats at one time. Gooding claims that it meant a test of the opinion of THE PEOPLE OF IDAHO. If Gooding means this (and The Times has too much respect for his intelligence to believe that by does mean it), but if he does, he has not been enough to be considered at the time of Gooding. If he does not believe this himself, which is the way The Times views it, he saved the expectation on his intelligence to some extent, though he may suffer from a moral point of view. The reflection he casts in that case is on the people of Idaho, and he does not show a very high order of discernment or discrimination to cast such reflection on them. The fallacy of the least consistent reasoning of Flood on this question has been shown up too often in the columns to need to be repeated. As a matter of fact, Gooding really thought that this was a fair test of the voters of Idaho today, he would not protest against anything that would help get the nomination for Nugent, since he would want him to win over Hawley, so he could defeat him at the next election.

In reference to Nugent getting the office, every person who knows anything about congress knows that the fellows who are the most effective workers do not address the chair except on rare occasions. They are too busy.

It is fair to assume that should the former governor go there he will for the sake of notoriety but into everything, he will be hattered into this Democratic contest in Idaho.

Probably if appointed to draft a tentative bill for some committee he will give his draft to the press as the report of the committee without submitting it to them: anyhow, that would be one way of getting notoriety and "supporting the president," which a consistent self-advertiser would not overlook.

When the Democrats of Idaho want the advice of the former Governor Gooding in regard to the man they shall pick to run against the said Gooding, they will ask him for it knowing that it will be just as fair and disinterested as was the Spokane interview.

WILLIE VOUBLES OVER TO OTHER SIDE AGAIN

As suggested in The Times a few days ago, when the International News Service recorded in response to an inquiry the fact that North was "strong for government ownership," from which he wiggled when the telephone and telegraph bill was under consideration, that gentleman had heard from Idaho, and finding how the bill was hatched to get back to a position formerly occupied.

Today he introduced a bill said to be the principles of the federal trade commission report relative to packing houses. As pointed out, North's attitude, if consistent with his telegraph vote, would prevent his taking this action, but as also pointed out, consistency was not the most conspicuous gem on the crown of the senator. In this case he adopted his usual unfair tactics and introduced some sort of legislation which was a reflection on the good faith of others, to his own advantage. The federal trade commission has shown itself to be the most producer and consumers to the fullest extent, and has employed of the most distinguished counsel in the country to give legal advice. Yet that this would not at all affect his recommendation and which he introduced is not needed at all. This is a reflection on the honesty of purpose both. He stands for the "phony" position of the Republican platform. Wilson and Attorney General Gregory supposed to have been inspired by Nugent, which insures public development of adequate power enterprises and "protects" the people by alleged competition, such as the people of Twin Falls are familiar with. Probably, he is honest in this. Anyhow, it makes some camouflage for those who are color blind and have not yet learned the futility of such "competition" among natural monopolies.

FOREGONE CONCLUSION OF UNWIRE ACTION

The decision of the supreme court of Idaho relative to the filing of the name of one endorsed by the Nonpartisan convention, was a foregone conclusion from the start, as those who considered the law and the facts in an unbiased way must have known. The action was foolish inasmuch as it opened the way for the old criticism that it was an attempt to prevent by technicality what could not be stopped in a fair fight. The Times insisted that the way for the Democrats to do so was to go into the convention, taking into consideration endorsement of men by the Nonpartisan league in connection with all other facts, but still not raising such endorsement to a place of paramount importance. If a man in a good Democratic stand, on the Democratic platform, the fact that he can get some extra thousands of votes should sell that much in his favor, so long as he sacrifices no principle in order to get them.

The action of the court, had it been favorable to those bringing the case, would have been futile. In that event the league members would have qualified as Democrats and would have written in the names of the men they were supporting, so that beyond a little annoyance for them it would have had no effect, except that it would have given apparent proof to the talk about technical obstruction tactics referred to.

The Times again calls attention to the fact that the courts do not, at times assumed, invariably decide against those who start reform movements, or what they believe to be such. The law and the facts were with the league and the several courts, but which the question was raised, unanimously so decided.

CONGRATULATE FARM BUREAU

In advising the organization of farm laborers to deal in an organized way with the agriculturists in the fixing of wages next year, the Twin Falls County Farm Bureau has adopted a course persistently urged by The Times for more than a year and a half. Anyone called on to deal with the labor problem learns that organization leads to stability. The old idea that the employers should be organized and the laborers should not, so the employers could give "what was right" to the workers, which was a mistaken idea of benevolence in many cases, was abandoned long ago. The failure of unaffiliated labor to organize in legitimate societies led to its organization in the I. W. O. Men were often led into that disreputable society because they had nowhere else to go and were misled as to its purposes.

SHOULD GO SLOW

Congress should go slow in the matter of disregarding the warning of President Samuel Gompers with reference to the proposed strike clause in the new draft bill. True, with the endorsement in hand of President Wilson and Secretary of Labor Wilson there will be no danger of oppression, and Gompers does not assume that there will be. What he does assume, and what is a real danger is that such drastic provision as is proposed may be misapplied to ignorant workmen as having the object of dealing unfairly with them. No handle should be given to the program agitators.

Jeffersonian Club Busy in Idaho

Sends Out Appeal to Democratic Markers, Recommendations Relative to Candidates and Party Efforts.

NOISE—The State Jeffersonian club has issued the following circular to the Democrats of Idaho:

The Democrats of Idaho are confronted by an unusual and serious condition in that the Nonpartisan League is attempting to capture our party organization and to place their candidates for state office on our ticket. If they succeed the League organization will be substituted for our party organization and our party in this state will be made to subscribe the interests of the League.

Circumstances which the State Democratic central committee sought to control, but without success, have given us two candidates for governor, Frank Martin and E. E. Dicklin. In order to prevent the capture of our party organization by the League and the success of its candidates for governor at the primary election, it is necessary for Democrats to throw their strength to one candidate for that position.

Prudence dictates that we center that vote on the strongest candidate. We have carefully investigated to ascertain the merits of Mr. Martin and Mr. Van Sicklin, and after such investigation, we firmly believe that Mr. Van Sicklin cannot defeat Mr. Samuels, the League candidate, but that Mr. Martin can defeat him.

For these reasons we earnestly urge Democrats to register and to vote at the primary election for Mr. Martin and thus save our party. A vote for Mr. Van Sicklin will be a vote for Mr. Samuels.

Sunday Closing Is Attacked in L. A.

Violations of the Ordinance on the Subject.

LOS ANGELES—Violations of the Sunday closing ordinance were reported to the police department today by officers in all sections of the city, with the probability that a number of arrests may be made today.

That, some establishments opened yesterday in order to test the new ordinance, is stated, one groceryman in Van Ness street, making a sale to a uniformed officer, thus courted arrest.

Chief of Police Butler issued instructions to his men to note all apparent violations of the ordinance and these cases will be taken before City Prosecutor Whitney today. If evidence is sufficient, complaints will be issued for all persons who opened establishments contrary to the ordinance.

According to Captain Murray of the Police Department all classes of establishments were open, including barber shops, fruit stands, grocery stores and tailor shops.

Packers' Costs and Profits

How long do you think it costs—

1. To dress beef, cure hides, and prepare all the numerous by-products?
2. To cool the meat for two or three days before shipment?
3. To freight it to all parts of the country in special refrigerator cars, iced daily?
4. To carry it in hundreds of branch houses, each with its refrigerating plant?
5. And to deliver it to the retailer—sweet and fresh—in less than two weeks after dressing?

Swift & Company did all this for you in 1917 at an expense of less than 2 1/2 cents per pound of beef sold, including an average profit of 1/4 of a cent a pound.

Judge Resumes Work—Judge O. P. Davall and family has returned from a short vacation spent north of Ketchikan.

Enter Naval Service—Zack North and A. J. Meyers have received their orders to report for active service in the United States navy at Bremerton, Washington. Both expect to leave this week.

Marriage Licenses—Only one marriage license has been issued during the past week. It was H. E. Luton, of Bohi, secured a license to marry Miss Marie Cook, of Dover, Missouri, last Wednesday.

Meeting at Poplar Grove—A meeting of the ladies of the Poplar Grove community will be held in the school house this evening to discuss union meals. The subject of hot lunches for school children will be taken up. Miss Denekke and others interested in Twin Falls, expect to attend.

Music at the Union Service—The music on Sunday evening in the park will be furnished by the choir of the First Presbyterian church. The numbers will be: "Angel Voices Ever Singing" (Weidinger), and "Savior When Night Envelops The Skies" (Whitely); soloist, Miss Miriam Sanderson. Service begins at 8:00 o'clock.

Read District Board Selected—The board for the new independent road district has been selected and consists of C. B. Channell, of Twin Falls; J. M. Steelsmith, of Kimberly; and A. E. Larson, of Hollister. Mrs. Channell was formerly state engineer of Nebraska, and is now on the city council of Twin Falls, where he is head of the committee having to do with the installation of the new waterworks system. His qualifications for the position, mentioned in the Times last week, were not suggested, are subjects of much favorable comment. J. M. Steelsmith of Kimberly, is president of the First National Bank here, and a large farmer who has been strongly recommended by the people of his community and the east end of the county. Mr. Larson lives near Hollister and is one of the heaviest taxpayers on the Salmon tract. The appointments seem to give several advantages, so far as can be ascertained from interviews with people in this city and other parts of the district.

World Series Games Certain This Year

Announcement Made Today Which Seems to Settle Matters in Favor of the Contest.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Information received today from Harry Hermann, boss of the National commission, is to the fact that a world's series will be played without fail. The commission is now waiting for the pennant winners to be announced before completing arrangements. "The series will be played on scheduled time," Hermann is quoted as saying. "The competing teams are uncertain as yet. We may have to wait for a double schedule with tentative games in Boston and Cleveland if the American league leaders continue their race tight. We never make arrangements until the winners in both leagues are decided, and we have not done so to date for this reason. This work or fight order had nothing to do with the delay."

MOTOR TRUCK TO SOLVE QUESTION OF U. S. MAIL

In setting the postal-tube plan, President Wilson referred to the motor-truck as the best means of solving the problem of prompt delivery of mail matter. And undoubtedly, whatever other expedients may be applied, whether underground, aerial, home-made, or any other methods of delivery, the motor truck will forge steadily ahead as the chief instrument of future improvement in postal service.

While the use of government-owned trucks for carrying mails has been tried out only the larger cities, it is merely a matter of time when a service of the same kind will be installed in all cities where the volume of mail to be dispatched is sufficient to warrant the use of a fleet of machines.

Long and exhaustive tests in many of the most important mail centers of the country have pointed to the motor truck as the only facility which is flexible enough to meet every requirement and to enable broad extensions of the mail service.

Postoffice men in all sections where government-owned trucks have been used are unqualifiedly that trucks are the fastest, safest, and surest way of transporting mail between postoffices, stations, and railway terminals. The degree of reliability which has been obtained is shown by the records of the Chicago postoffice. During an entire year the fleet of Chicago mail trucks made only one failure to deliver

2,500 trips—a performance which has never been approached by any other form of mail transportation. This record is regarded as highly significant, because for years it was contended that trucks could not operate efficiently in Chicago's loop district on account of the severe congestion of traffic. Actual experience, however, proved that the trucks were more economical and more reliable than any other method of service to this district.

During the heavy snowfalls in Chicago in January, when a total fall of 40 inches of snow was officially registered, the postoffice depended upon its motor trucks and did not fail to make any deliveries of mail because of the deep snow.

DON'T THROW OLD TIRE AWAY, SAYS GOODYEAR EXPERT

"Don't throw that old tire away," is the injunction of T. B. Treat, branch manager for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company at Salt Lake City. "Few tires are completely worn out when thrown away. Most of them are capable of considerable extra-mileage if given a little help. A rim-cut patch or an inside tire protector will often add hundreds of miles to the life of a tire."

"A rim-cut patch is designed for application on the inside of the tire and is constructed with flaps which fit underneath the head of the tire on both sides to hold the patch in place. It floats and endures and any applied is out of sight and mind. Tires which seem to be instantly run cut are given a new lease of life being reinforced by a good rim cut patch.

It is here that the inside tire protector which is designed to provide complete reinforcement for worn and weakened casings. Its use often adds to the tire's life. The life time that appears to be about ended. It is applied on the inside of the tire as its low cost, many miles that otherwise would be lost.

"Anything that will give a tire longer life will keep road, less wear and tear on the car owner's pocket and will put off the day when the purchase of a new tire would otherwise be necessary. We are not recommending it goes to the extent of scrimping, but we believe that if the millions of tires available in this country are run to their full and conservative principles observed in their use, there will be tires enough for everybody."

"The accessories also make an ideal and profitable investment at any time, but right now they are especially timely, economical and useful. For instance, the tire saver kit which is obtainable from Goodyear service stations is just what the name implies. If it contains just accessories that permit a motorist to put into practice the fashionable principles of tire conservation."

"Take the pressure gauge, which is but one of the items in the kit. It enables the motorist to maintain proper air pressure and to know at all times just how much air his tires contain. Then there's the tire patch which heals wounds and keeps out sand and dirt, which are active tire destroyers. And so on through the list. Hold your tires and save money. A patch is tire-saver king."

SOME ELECTRIC STARTING HISTORY

"Nearly every car owner knows that Mr. T. A. Willard had a great deal to do with the starting battery, says Geo. M. Dow, local Willard expert, but only a few know of the part he took in making electric starting and lighting practical for automobiles.

"Long before electric lighting was seriously considered, Mr. Willard had perfected a battery for lighting railway coaches and was familiar with every detail of the system. This was in the days when all motor cars had 'outlet' and had to be 'wound up'—when acetylene lights were the heat to be had, and the spark came from a set of dry batteries.

"Electricity had one big job on the automobile that it didn't have on the Pullman—that was starting. The starting, even with the most economical motor took considerable current, the battery had to be kept well charged."

"One of Mr. Willard's biggest jobs in automobile starting and lighting was to make a generator drive the battery 'on charge' all the time except when the engine was going very slowly. He developed the extra-current system of regulation which allowed the charging regardless of the engine speed.

"Another important thing Mr. Willard did was to help perfect the small low-voltage lamps that are used for head and tail lights and for light on the Pullman—that was starting. The starting, even with the most economical motor took considerable current, the battery had to be kept well charged."

Latest Information About Yellowstone

Attractive side trips to Little and Big Lost, and Wood river sections, South National park, Salmon River country, Teton Basin, and Jackson Hole, via Jackson's Lake and Johnny's Lake, via Jackson's Lake and Johnny's Lake, and to the south fork of Snake river.

Detailed information concerning highway side trips, etc., given gratis upon inquiry of Secretary at Idaho Falls, Idaho.

BEARING SHOULD BE GIVEN GREAT CARE

One of the best rules for keeping a car out of the repair shop is the proper use of lubricants. The most sensitive parts of the car are the bearings and unless they are given scrupulous care, they are the first to break down.

This bit of advice is given by a repair man who has seen hundreds of cars come and go at the repair shop: "Next to proper adjustment," he says, "a good lubricating system and the right kind of lubricating grease for each bearing are necessary to keep a car in good running order. If an owner has not been careful of these things, I can sense it the minute he drives in the door."

"A good grease, mixed in the right proportion with selected flake graphite, forms the best lubricant for bearings. The Joseph Dixon company puts it up already mixed, a different grade for each purpose. A good car will take care of its own bearings from the repair shop for whole seasons at a time."

REASON FOR FREQUENT FOULING OF PLUGS

When spark plugs habitually become fouled with oil and soot, it is a good plan to investigate, and see whether they may not be projecting too far into the combustion chamber, particularly when they are located in either one or the other of the valve seats. If they are recessed into the valve port caps, the removal of the caps with the plugs in them will be the best way to determine the condition. The points or the outer end of the shell should extend very little beyond the inner faces of the valve seats. Anyway adjustments to the burner or lubricating system should be made to prevent excessive gas or oil feed.

CHATTERING BRAKES

One of the common troubles encountered in the brake assembly is a "chattering" which is the latest name for the "grinding" which is generally caused by a deposit of burnt oil on the hands and it may, generally be caused by applying hot kerosene oil to the parts. If this does not occur, the only remedy is to burn off the deposits by a blow torch. This operation is carried out by removing the lands and working them in gasoline overnight and then applying the torch. (Place the part to be operated in a vise and give a hand tap of the size that will throw a hole in the bushing a few turns in. If a red or hot is now pushed in from the other end, the cap may be driven out without difficulty and the old bushing will come with it.)

BUSHING REMOVAL

The ordinary way of removing old bushings from the spindle arms, etc., is by back saw or punch. There is a simpler method of doing the trick. Place the part to be operated in a vise and give a hand tap of the size that will throw a hole in the bushing a few turns in. If a red or hot is now pushed in from the other end, the cap may be driven out without difficulty and the old bushing will come with it.

COULD HEED CALL OF WILD

Being His Own Boss, This Lucky Man Listened to Appeal and Hid Himself to Happiness.

A flock of geese, northward bound, hopped wildly in their flight. His feet on his desk, his window open to the fresh air, he listened to the call of the wild. For an hour he sat there, conflicting sounds of a great city hurrying about its work. But his thoughts were miles away. His eyes were streaming. The spell of the wild was upon him.

He wandered in fertile fields awaiting to renewed life. He beheld the meadows lush with grass. He met the wide flowing rivers and they brooks whose waters rushed in foamy splendor from hilly heights above. He wandered to wood slopes, with trees and wild flowers peeping from beneath dead leaves. A noise was his which seldom came in his workaday existence in the land of pavement and beehive whistles. He dreamed on.

He closed his desk. Another hour found him gazing in the recesses of the attic. By moon, clad in heartily frock coat and cap, he slipped on his hand and a fishing net carefully incased in a waterproof cover under his name, he was at the railroad station. A half hour later he was on his way to the mountains, where he had not been in months. His happiness had been his for a while.

Lucky man! He was his own boss—Mittewater Journal.

SANDBAGS SAVE MANY LIVES

Italian Authorities Must Be Given Credit for Resourcefulness in Modern Warfare.

No belligerent has shown more resourcefulness than the Italians in devising new means of offense and defense in their warfare in World War I. The Italian army was the only one to enter the war with a trench helmet and a steel chest-protector, and it is now provided with a more efficient type of the soldiers carried on the backs of sand in front of them, and the present body shield has been an outgrowth of that idea.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS WORKING FOR VICTORY IN THE GREAT WAR

(By James Arthur Beavy in the New York Times for June 9, 1918.)
Onward, Christian Soldiers! Why, bless your hearts, do you not march for months, and in the last few weeks, they've been going onward "over the top" by camp and company and regiments. They are the vanguard of the army of Christian Scientists who are going to help Pershing make the world safe for democracy.

And as every good American soldier is without reproach, so these Christian Science soldiers are without fear. For every one of them knows and proclaims as truth—practical, undoubted, (harder to believe than the words of the Ninety-first Psalm):
"Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day; nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness, nor for the destruction that wasteth at noon-day.

When the national anthem was tossed into the ring, the Christian Scientists went in after it. They hustled into their fighting clothes, and they never going to let them know and proclaim as truth—practical, undoubted, (harder to believe than the words of the Ninety-first Psalm):

BORAH BRINGS IN THE PACKING HOUSE MEASURE

SENATOR INTRODUCES MEASURE RECOMMENDED BY TRADE COMMISSION

Would Apply Until After War

Favors Taking Over the Entire Packing Business After War Is Over but Thinks Bill Is Sufficient for Present.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—A bill carrying out the federal trade commission's recommendations that the packing industry be supervised for the period of the war by the United States government will be introduced by Senator Borah of Idaho, soon after the session reconvenes.

Senator Borah announced today that the bill is now in preparation by the federal trade commission. He believed its passage was certain and that it would have the active support of the industrial forces in both houses. The bill will give the government power to supervise the transportation of meats and to control the stock yards, but would not federalize the entire packing business and the manufacture of by-products.

Willard STORAGE BATTERY Willard SERVICE STATION

Why Worry About Insulation?

There's only one time that you ought ever to think about insulation—that's when you buy your battery. Right then is the time to remember that Threaded Rubber Insulation is the most important battery improvement in years—and the greatest trouble-saver.

Remember that it can be had only in the Still Better Willard Battery.

You'll know the Still Better Willard by the Mark that stands for Threaded Rubber Insulation.

Come in and ask about this battery; and get a copy of the booklet "A Mark with a Meaning for You."

PORTLAND, ORE., Aug. 17.—Thousands of people are crowding over hotel and lodging houses in Portland today, and hundreds are pouring in by every train for the fifty-second annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which opens here tomorrow and continues until August 24, with every one of its days crowded with the greatest hospitality and pleasure for the veterans of '61-'65.

Kid Tells How Wilson Plays on Golf Links

Gives Expert Opinion and Freely Criticizes the Chief Executive of the Nation.

MAGNOLIA, MASS., Aug. 16.—Joe Dineen, aged 11, caddy to President Wilson at the Myopia Hunt club, today gave the chief executive personal but is critical of his ability as a golfer. In an interview today he said:

"President Wilson is a fair golfer. He's got a three quarter swing. He would play better if his swing was a little flatter. He should not come in so fast on the back swing. He should bring his wrists a little higher on the back swing. He puts quite a lot of force on the ball. He is a good golfer. His ball would improve his game a whole lot. His direction of drive is good. He is a little better than me. He would like to take to the links more often."
