DEMPSEY CAMP TURNED INTO CUSSING BOUT

Manager Kearns Gets on His Ear and Delivers Himself of Large Language

(By Edward Smith.)
TOLSON, June 11.—Jack Dempsey only will fight on the afternoon of the fourth of July the way that Jack Kearns, his manager, cussed yesterday afternoon when the day's work was done at the camp, there will be a new champion of the world. It's a cuss that Jack Dempsey never could keep care in a fistfight way with Kearns in a camp way. Perhaps Kearns can, perhaps not.

It was a bad day for everybody in the contender's place at the Olympic club out on the shore. Trainer Fort came in to get his share of the roasting and then everybody else felt the abuse of Kearns' language. There was not a little polly about that Kearns offered and it all came about because of the straight manager. In all things have been taken at the camp.

Kearns had a hangover, not in the sense that you might think, but a hangover of anger. When the fighter received a hot but over the eye the day before and as such had had a bad cold, he was not in the best of health. He was not in the best of health. He was not in the best of health.

Kearns decided that Byrne should stay in the camp for a while. He hasn't been in the camp for several days and he said to be written for a phone call.

CHANGES HIS NAME TO WED A WOMAN OF HIS

WARRICK, Ill., June 11.—Would you change your name to marry a woman 42 years of age if you were a rather young fellow? Claude Bates of this city, did. He became a sailor for the land, Mrs. Charles Robertson, of Warrick, Ill., whose husband recently died. But Mrs. Robertson said she would not change her name in memory of her husband, as Bates went to Warrick and had his name changed to Hester and married the woman.

THREE-NETH-OF-TWIN-9-YEARS
SHELLEVILLE, Ind., June 11.—Three sets of twins in nine years is the record of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Helms, of this city. The latest twins, a boy and a girl, each weighed eight pounds at birth. Mrs. Helms is thirty years old and her husband forty-three.

WEDDING LICENSE ISSUED TO MITEA VIA FINGERS
WAUKESHA, Wis., June 11.—Herman Bernsten, Salt Lake City, and Charles M. Taylor, Chicago, deaf and dumb couple, were married here. When they applied for a marriage license at the county court the clerk cavorted with his fingers until some of the "bliss" trickled to the bride's delight in eliciting the usual questions and answers. He finally got the information that Bernsten was 35 years of age and Mrs. Taylor 31. Then, under the kindly eye of a constable, they traveled to a justice of the peace, who, with the aid of his fingers, issued the license.

ADVERTISING That Pays in a Hurry

Advertising is worth while only when it reaches people who are buyers and who are reasonably able to have what they want.

The Times is read daily by over 10,000 people in this vicinity who are buyers of the things advertised in its columns.

They are watching every day to see what is offered. If you have anything to sell at a fair price, The Times can sell it for you.

If you want good help it will get it for you.

If you want a job it will put you in touch with somebody who is looking for you.

These are only a few of the uses of Times Want Ads.

Three or four lines for a few days or a week will probably accomplish what you have been unable to accomplish in any other way.

Don't delay, but bring, phone or mail your ad today. The Times want ads are as near as your telephone.

PROGRESS AND OTHER THINGS OF THE PEACE CONFERENCE

We wonder at times if the president's patience is not more sorely tried at the developments in the peace conference. He must see that there is constant effort, not to promote harmony and world justice, but to further the national interests of certain groups of world diplomats. That he clings tenaciously to the job and equally as tenaciously to the covenant of the league of nations must be accepted as representing his strong belief that relief from secret diplomacy and further world wars lies in some international tribunal that will really work out to the common benefit of mankind.

Nine members of the American peace party are reported to have resigned in protest against the peace terms as they have been worked out at the conference. News reports declare that the sentiments of the nine are shared with more or less intensity by others of the commission, who are dissatisfied from resigning only by a great hope that something better than the world has heretofore had will result. One of those who resigned sums up his indignation by declaring that the peace treaty is a "treacherous river and a lousy bill." He is convinced of the way every congress since his mind ran into to the contrary very doubtful international improvements have been authorized as a means of evening up political scores and keeping the political machines well oiled. Truly no more discouraging report of the peace conference could be given.

Yesterday the reports were that the negotiations were delayed by the Italians, who now set up the position of "no compromise" at the treaty table. There are strong intimations of political influences at work in Italy to stiffen up the backbone of the Italians in their demands. Continual reports come out of Germany that the present delegates, representing the German government, will not sign, but that they will be succeeded by independent socialists, who will attach their signatures in the name of the German people. Notwithstanding repeated assertions of the press correspondents that the president insists on speedy returns from commissions and speedy reports from all sources, the conference is dragging on, and it is now nearly five months since the conference officially convened. There is some report, pretty well substantiated, that special big interests in New York are sending copies of the treaty, and now giving consideration to the provisions of the reports, despite the inference that whatever peace is concluded will be dictated and sanctioned by those interests, leaving the common people, who had hoped so much, deeper in the mire of hopelessness than they were when active warfare was tearing Europe to pieces to satisfy the imperialistic dreams of the masters of Germany.

It may be set down that the peace terms will be imperialistic in their effect, that the league of nations, born out of a great ideal, will be created and turned to better use in the defense of imperialism, business and nations, and that real revolution will stalk over the face of the earth even as Job's vision was stalked over the empire of Russia. It may be yet occurred to the shrewd and cunning that these men pay the price for that shrewdness and cunning are growing weary of playing man and receiving nothing. The turning in the road will soon be reached. Whether it shall be reached by peaceful means may depend somewhat upon the results of the peace conference and the interpretation to be placed upon the provisions of that document by the big interests that make and unmake nations through economic pressure.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED IN SAWTOOTH FOREST

Recognizing the countless recreational features of the Sawtooth national forest, the forest service has inaugurated a program for the development of improvements of this region that will appeal to every tourist and camper who contemplates a trip into these famous mountains.

Clinton M. Mangum, deputy forest supervisor, has been assigned to the Sawtooth to be in direct charge of recreational activities. He is now in Hailey and will make his headquarters there. At present he has few perfecting plans for the season's work.

Mr. Mangum will advise prospective ramblers of attractive camps, sites, of trails that are available for the construction of summer houses; in fact, will give help and information to everyone interested in the recreational use of the Sawtooth forest, and will be pleased to have suggestions along this line.

The construction of the new grade over Galena Summit will be started in a few days, and the contractor expects to finish it this season. Mr. Mangum anticipates that this will mean a large increase in the use of the Red Fish and Alturas lake region, and will make a special study this summer of the recreational developments needed there.

Plans as now outlined include the construction of camp trails to be placed at all important camp grounds along Wood River and around Alturas and Red Fish lakes, the erection of sanitary collection stations at the important camping places, the construction of all important places of telephone booths that will give the public free communication over the forest service lines with the system at Hailey, the erection of all-weather bus stops at Hailey and Springs that will be open to free use by the public, the erection of storm shelters at Alturas and Red Fish lakes, the building of trails around both these lakes and to lookout points having special scenic importance, and the general improvement of the various camp grounds with a view of making them more comfortable and attractive to the public.

It is said that one of the most flourishing businesses in Canada now is selling insurance against riot dangers. And Canada will do just as well as any, according to a report from the United States for its luxuries indulgences.

Few Jews Will Emigrate to Palestine From America and Great Britain

By OSCAR S. STRAUSS, New York Dealer

I am not a Zionist, but I am in hearty sympathy with Zionism's idealistic enterprise. Nevertheless I am convinced that the number of Jews who will emigrate to Palestine from, let us say, Great Britain or the United States is infinitesimal.

Jews in Britain and America have become prominent and patriotic citizens and in numerous cases prominent figures in the life of those countries. Millions of them, though Jewish by faith and ancestry, are native-born citizens and feel themselves, as they are entitled to do, full-fledged Britons or Americans, as the case may be. I think events of the past four years amply demonstrated that their claims in this respect are justified. The Jewish war record in the United States, I am proud to say, was a splendid one. I am sure it was equally creditable in Great Britain.

Jews are domiciled in large numbers in the two great English-speaking countries and become integral parts of them because of the opportunities for spiritual freedom which they have so long offered. Why should Jews desert such an environment? I cannot conceive any circumstances under which considerable numbers of Jews will ever leave British or American shores.

I am told that anti-Zionists frequently suggest that, with the establishment of a special Jewish state, Jewish citizens of other countries might some day find themselves political outcasts and be told to "go back to your own country."

Nonsense! Stuff and nonsense! To suggest such a thing to erect a ridiculous bogey. To carry out such a suggestion would be to lock the wheels of liberty which the war we have fought and won have set so far ahead.

We rejoice in New Palestine's foundation. We believe in its legitimization. We are confident that sooner or later its mission will be accomplished. It is a comfortable, happy, prosperous, national home for the approved Jews of all lands. It is located in British and American Jews are not opposed Jews that they will not go to Palestine.

THE HORSESHOE NAIL

"For want of a nail the shoe was lost,
For want of a shoe the horse was lost;
For want of a horse the rider was lost;
For want of a knight the battle was lost;
For loss of the battle the kingdom was lost;

And all for the want of a horseshoe nail!"

So says the old nursery chant. One wonders if the soldiers who will not go back to work because their old jobs seem too small for them have ever heard it.

"The American soldier has caught the spirit of self-sacrifice, of usefulness, of helpfulness. He has rushed off most of the shrapnel of life and a lot of hypocrisy. He has seen through things that may have deceived him before. He has no patience with selfishness and self-seeking. He desires smaller and the small size of life."

THIS is the statement of Lieut. Col. Arthur Wood, now in the government work of re-establishing soldiers and sailors in civil work. It is the bright side of the picture. The dark side is that in the soldier's contempt of smallness he does not see the small job as part of the big whole. His part in the great war was small; one; yet it helped to win. The typical error is a small thing—yet it wrought havoc in the Spanish war. Feeling potatoes may be a small job—yet where would the army have been without its potato-peelers?

There are no jobs in the world which are small in themselves. They are only small and stay small to men who are small and stay small. To a big man the small job, the distasteful job, is only a step to the larger one. If a man knew there was a job of gold lying across a muddy road, would he look back by a natural aversion to wading through the mud?

All jobs hang together in the organization of society, and the large hang on the small as the kingdom of oil on the horseshoe nail. If the training soldier will keep his feet straight, but will view the job at hand as merely the next step in his progress, the unemployment difficulty will be over.

THE DANGERS OF SUGAR

The substitution of candy for alcohol is very useful. If one must be over-stimulated, the effects of doing it with sugar are far less harmful. But there is a tendency at present to think that because candy is a valuable food, its unlimited use cannot hurt anyone.

This is far from the truth. Sugar is a useful food. So is lettuce. But a diet consisting chiefly of lettuce could hardly be called well balanced.

The danger in candy is the same as the danger in alcohol, namely, the temptation to consume too much and to let it destroy the appetite for regular meals. Candy after meals never hurt anybody. A reasonable amount of candy in the middle of the afternoon. Too hours of candy before dinner is a harmful and even, so-called "vice." But the constant and unrestrained nibbling of chocolates, or the introduction into the system of quantities of mixed candies of assorted compositions and flavors, is likely to do far more harm than good. The same holds true of ice cream.

For one thing, sugar does stimulate just as quickly and vigorously as alcohol. Too much sugar on one day will be followed with irritability and jangled nerves the next day. The children who eat too much candy are the "cross," fretful, unhappy children.

The nervousness of which so many Americans complain can be overcome almost wholly by plenty of air, exercise and wholesome diet containing plenty of green stuff. Candy works in two ways toward nervousness. It increases the sensitiveness of the nervous system, with a consequent tendency to irritability, and it takes away the appetite for the other foods which should accompany it.

Candy is good food. Use it freely and comfortably. But don't abuse it.

George Sylvester Viereck, the well-known literary friend of the Hings speaks of "our sister city of Germany." Maybe a republic, George, but no sister of Uncle Sam's!

It's rather curious that the senators who are insisting that Mr. Wilson ought to return are the ones who last wanted to have him around.

RATIFICATION OF RESOLUTION WOULD CONCLUDE PEACE, BUT LEAVE LEAGUE QUESTION OPEN

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The ratification of the peace treaty by the senate, under the leadership of Senator Hurst, Republican of Pennsylvania, and referred to the senate for ratification, is a step toward the conclusion of the peace conference. The resolution is a step toward the conclusion of the peace conference. The resolution is a step toward the conclusion of the peace conference. The resolution is a step toward the conclusion of the peace conference.

This resolution indicates that notice of the limits of the present obligations against the United States is now prepared to act upon by consenting to the ratification of a treaty embodying peace conditions that may be found either acceptable to its judgment, and that the adoption by the peace conference of the foregoing resolutions and positions will facilitate the early acceptance of the treaty of peace by the senate of the United States. It is no wise later than the league of nations as between these countries prepared to ratify the treaty without further consideration and will afford a manifestation of real respect for the wishes of a great people so can not fail more fully to cement the friendship already existing between ourselves and our co-belligerents.

The resolution will not necessarily be a step toward the conclusion of the peace conference. The resolution is a step toward the conclusion of the peace conference. The resolution is a step toward the conclusion of the peace conference. The resolution is a step toward the conclusion of the peace conference.

That the senate advise in accordance with its constitutional duty, and that the great paramount interest is quickly to bring all the belligerents to a full and complete peace; that to this end, the treaty shall be so drawn as to permit any party to reserve without prejudice to itself for future acceptance and full consideration by all people the substance of any league of nations, that neither such an article nor the exercise of the rights reserved thereunder, whether at the time of signature, the time of ratification, or at any other time, shall affect the substance of the obligations of Germany and its co-belligerents under the treaty, and that ratification on its part, and ratification on their behalf; and that any independent participation by the United States in the league covenant, if the league covenant shall, pending the entry of the United States into the league, be introduced through diplomatic negotiations which shall be created with full power in the premises.

A bill passed at the Times' all says brings a large number of all pleases.

GREAT BRITAIN'S LOW PHYSICAL STANDARD PARTIALLY DUE TO LACK OF FRUITS—HIGH PRICES PREVAIL

LONDON, May 25 (By mail).—A certain slight settling of prices is visible in England since the armistice, but many articles that are necessary to an average American and that must be a luxury to the millions there are English fairly "easy" at a price that would startle even a New York housewife.

These articles have never been produced, and, compared to American prices, they have never been cheap. Hence England does without them.

Lack of fruit has been declared by some investigators partially responsible for the fact that the draft reserves of many thousands of men are dropping in season, 25,000 in cotton battalions in Florida, 10,000 in Italy, 10,000 in France. These are not American battalions, but impossible to achieve outside the West End in London. More common still in the American family: Grapefruit, 25 and 30 cents; bananas, 2 and 10 cents each; canned fruit, 25 cents to $1.25 a "tin." Small oranges sell at 8 and 10 cents each, which possibly is nearer an American price. Apples, 10 cents a bushel at 25 cents a pound, regardless of quality. At times they might well have been two or three shillings each had not the food controller ruled otherwise.

Growing children, the experts claim, in England are stunted. The physical standard found in Britain that millions in England cannot have fruit has been a dominating factor. It is claimed in the abnormal low physical standard found in Britain.

Turn to the good old American illustration, the great salad. A small clover of lettuce, the equivalent price of a sixth of an American head lettuce, and for 8 cents a pound, or 25 cents a pound and cucumbers, 25 cents each. England, of necessity, substitutes bottled cabbage, pickles and watercress has become the classic "green."

Ernie Cobb has written in characteristic style the features of English cooking. Cobb, he doubt, stopped at the Barony, and certainly he ate at Simpson's. Just as certainly he had ample funds and could buy what was for sale, regardless.

Do not mind one more or less article (to wit: English cooking generally is flat and tasteless and without inspiration because the things we call inspiration in a great cook, high. The women of England who must "ration" their expenditures have fruit as an ally. They have school children families never to miss the flavor which a "water" soup or "broth" boiling from a tomato can may give. It is a palatable stew, because the tin can of soup available around the corner in America at 12 cents costs off the shelf at 25 cents in London and the most casual "tin" of tomatoes exchanged for half a crown, which amounts up to sixty cents at the current rate of exchange. And, of course, better, though only 10 cents a pound, is in fact a sack of "one" pepper, more or less. Little flavoring of that sort can be done. "Water" milk, very much watered and "condensed" at least to get extra stands on the doorstep at 25 cents a quart, and cream, only recently available at all, is dipped into rubber containers, and a teaspoon—12 cents—purchases almost three tablespoons of cream, whereas a dollop of the cooked food pay the piper, and those who cannot do without. Hence the boiled cabbage and boiled potatoes and flat water boiled stew. These various items being necessary, and not "exotic" to Americans, Americans in London pay the price that broad expanse of these islands which is unable to pay the cost of 40 cents a pound, and quantities of bread and cabbage, both of which are

SMITH SENDS WORD OF MEN'S HOME COMING

Twin Falls Boys in the 146th F. A. Bem Sore of Being Home Before July 1

Major William H. Eldridge yesterday received a telegram from Congressman ADAM T. SMITH, announcing that local men in the 146th field artillery should reach Twin Falls by June 25. The message was in reply to a wire sent by the city council asking the cooperation in securing the release of all men at once and that by the first of July. Congressman Smith's reply was as follows: "146th boys will arrive on the 25th in New York. Should be ready to embark for Ft. Russell, Wyoming, in four or five days and will not need to be there for more than four or five days for demobilization. They should reach Twin Falls by the twenty-fifth. I will keep in touch with the matter." It is expected now that the local contingent will be home some time between the 25th and July 1, the latter date probably being announced in due time. Mr. Smith's plans are getting further a development of local citizens to cheerfully welcome the troops on their arrival at Fort Russell, and also for a big county wide celebration when they reach Twin Falls, not only to men of the 146th but to all service men.

RED DICTATOR OF HUNGARY MAY BE PEACE DELEGATE

VIENNA, June 11.—Lola Kun, the red dictator of Hungary, may head the Hungarian peace delegation to Paris now that the Hungarians have agreed to the allied demand for a cessation of hostilities against the Czechs, according to word from Budapest today. The Hungarian government has agreed to the condition that the Czechs do likewise.

Allied Rejoinder Handed Over Friday

PARIS, June 11.—The complete rejoinder of the allies to the German counter-proposal will be handed to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, on Friday.

The "big four" this morning practically completed the economic conference and "material" progress toward completing the clauses relating to the price of wheat and the east-bank of the Rhine. It is planned to allow the German delegation to proceed to Weimar and present the amended treaty for consideration by the German national assembly. Germany will then be required to signify within a week whether she accepts or rejects the treaty.

Circumstances and Lloyd George are generally accepted. President Wilson's suggestions in dealing with the German counter-claims. The president has sharply rebuked the prevalent attitude of both delegations. "Unless there is the slightest agreement immediately, it is useless to continue. Hubertson will triumph over law and order." His declaration was followed by immediate concession, making possible an early agreement.

DEFECTIVE STUMBLER AND ACCIDENTALLY KILLED MAN

DENVER, June 11.—Jerry Corbita, 21, died at a hospital here last night the result of a bullet wound inflicted while he was in the line of duty. He was a member of the police department "beat leg squad" during a raid on the salaried bar of Corbita Brothers, Monday afternoon. District Attorney William E. Foley Wednesday morning filed a direct information charging Corbita with murder and the officer was arrested. Foley recommended that Klein be held without bond.

Klein asserts the shooting was accidental that he "blinded" with a flash-light and accidentally pulled the trigger of his revolver.
