FROM THE PRESS BOX JUG

A keen spirit of rivalry that developed at the first meeting of the two clubs in this city will turn the Twin Falls fighter battle next Saturday into the most bitter struggle of the league season to date.

The Rupert team came to Twin Falls several weeks ago and the club leader who is now winning most of his games with the Seattle club, pitched eleven innings and was beaten 1 to 3, by the local slugger. That game, which will be long remembered here, struck hard in the cravat of the Rupert outfit and they are preparing to be strangled at Rupert at Sunday. The Rupert park will be full of teeth and elbows. Like the little tool box, they are laying for you.

The indications of something out of the ordinary have attracted the attention of local fans to such a degree that a special train will carry a load of them along with the team. Your baseball fan is a sort of carnivorous person, anyway. The Twin Falls food in particular, we have noticed, are a raw meat, over the top lady of individuality who want action from afar. We are inclined to believe that our sport friends will consider them a hard boiled lot.

Negotiations that have been conducted with the Portland club in an effort to arrange a game in this city Friday have been dropped. The Portland team being unable to make the trip. Friday will be a big day for the sport fans who are taking in large crowds of spectators. The ball game was intended as a little special feature.

REFEREE NOT SETTLED UPON

Looks New Like Richard With a Couple of Judges to Help Him Reach Decision

(By Frank G. Menke) FRIDAY, June 25. It looks very much at this writing as if Tex Rickard will be referee of the big fight on the Fourth of July and that there will be two judges seated alongside of the ring to help him make the decision if such a thing is necessary.

Jack Kearns talked along this line yesterday afternoon and dropped the remark among other things that he thought that Willard would almost insist on Rickard's being the third man in the ring. There was a well-defined rumor that Willard would name a referee and two judges at the same party. Rickard's offer of the same party as a referee and two judges and this for the important part, and as yet nothing on the part of the referee, supported by a couple of old timers, that would make the decision a much more sure thing than it is now.

Others thought that Rickard already had been selected and that he was willing to act as referee, judge, and third man at the same time. If there was anything out of the way, or if it was a close thing, might not fall entirely on him.

The persons who say they are representing the army, navy and civilian board of boxing control do not appear to know exactly where the referee and are merely guessing at the thing in a trivial manner. It is certainly that, when the time comes for making the main official for the bout—and that should have been done a long time ago—the man the fighters stand will be selected and that one's long eye will have a chance to spot about it.

Many names have been mentioned for the important part, and as yet one of them has been strong enough to stand up and overcome all of the reports that come out. Rickard's name is the most prominent of these, and the news comes direct from Dempsey's camp that he is to be the man.

Rickard's only experience was in the Reno fight between Jeffries and Hirsch and in that fight, which probably decided the matter, he acted as time-keeper but that is not the case because of the exigencies of the situation at that time called for a man who knew the game perfectly, which Rickard did not at that time, no matter who he may have learned something of.

This story of Willard's insisting on being started his team mates after Ayns who was humiliated for three times in the boxing, giving the first Sox the game 5 to 2.

Score: R. H. E. Washington 2 7 2 Boston 2 10 0 Robertson, Ayres and Gharrett; Caldwell and Malley.

NEW YORK, June 24—The Athletics were outclassed at every stage today and New York won 7 to 0. Score: R. H. E. Philadelphia 0 4 0 New York 7 0 0 Kings, Schold and McAvoy; Quinn and Hunsch.

CHICAGO, June 24—Curt Hinkle and Williams, both former Coast League players, engaged in a doubleheader today with the Cubs having a double header of it. The White Sox were shut out 2 to 0. Score: R. H. E. Cleveland 0 0 1 Chicago 2 0 1 Coshwack and O'Neil; Williams and Schalk.

Games Today Philadelphia at New York, 2 p.m. Detroit at Boston, two games, 8:15 and 2:30. Cleveland at Chicago, clear 3, 8:15 and Detroit, rain 3.

DEMPESEY WANTS ONE REFEREE

No New-Fangled "Judges" for Him—Submits Names of Ten Satisfactory Men

(By Frank G. Menke) TOLSON, June 25—Jack Dempsey, manager of Jack Dempsey, announced today: "I am unalterably opposed to any plan for the Willard-Kearney fight that provides for any other ring official than a referee. Operating with a referee and two judges is an experiment that is not one of the things other heavyweight champions have been successful solely by a referee and starts the way with this one."

Kearns' statement was made prior to a confab on the "third man" question which involved Jess Willard, Tex Rickard and W. A. Davis and Adam English, members of the national boxing commission. At the session Willard was asked to submit a list of names of men suitable to him for the refereeing job. He also looked over the list that Kearns had submitted on last night's conference. The Kearns list contained the following: Jack Welsh and Jim Griffin of San Francisco; Jack Skelley of Yonkers, N. Y.; Walter C. Kelly of Buffalo; Ed Smith of Chicago; Dave Fitzgerald of New Haven, Conn.; Olin Peveral of Toledo; Bill Brown, Kid McFarland, and Tully Roche, all of New York. "Any of that crowd suits me," said Kearns. "However, I feel that Frank and Welsh stuck up as the strongest."

FULFILLMENT IS IMPOSSIBLE

German Boy Terms Cannot Be Met, Even Though Capacity Stretched to Utmost

PARIS, June 24.—In the notes received from the German government last night and to which the allies immediately dispatched separate replies, the German government "consents to fulfill the conditions of peace, but only in order to meet the requirements of a mere man in necessity."

For the first time a woman has been appointed president-elect of a trade union, and a later election will elect the National Abolished Union of Shop Assistants, Warehousemen and Clerks.

Miss M. A. Talbot has become better acquainted with the leadership of the "Irish" labor movement in Ireland. She has held executive positions both in her own branch and in the national union for several years. The great increase in the number of women members, owing to the war, accounts for a considerable proportion of the fact that she has been elected. In addition, a great many of the men thought it desirable that a union including so many women should have a woman president.

REPUBLICANS ARE AFRAID OF INVESTIGATION

Editors of O. O. P. Newspapers Deprecate Inquiries Into Conduct of the War

WASHINGTON, June 25.—As has been stated by the Republican press in this office, the investigation into the conduct of the war, which is being conducted by the House of Representatives, is being deprecated by the Republican press. The editors of O. O. P. newspapers have issued a statement in which they deplore the investigation.

The Republican press has been attacking the investigation since it was first announced. They have called it a "witch hunt" and a "political persecution." They have accused the House of Representatives of "oversteering" and "interfering" with the executive branch of the government.

The investigation into the conduct of the war is being conducted by the House of Representatives. It is a part of the war investigation committee's work. The committee is looking into the conduct of the war in general, and into the conduct of the war in particular.

DROVE 18 MILES ON RIM TO GET A BARNEY OLDFIELD TIRE, ILLINOIS MAN DRIVING THROUGH COUNTRY OVER ALL KINDS OF BAD ROADS SAYS THAT THE BARNEY OLDFIELD WAS THE ONLY TIRE THAT GAVE NO TROUBLE.

HE PUT BARNEY OLDFIELD'S ON ALL FOUR WHEELS BEFORE LEAVING CITY.

READ WHAT HE SAYS ABOUT THE OLDFIELD TIRE.

Twin Falls Vul. Co.
Twin Falls, Idaho.
Gentlemen:

"I want to hand you a written statement, to confirm my conversation with you Tuesday morning.

"I believe that I think of my car as my own, and I use all the precaution possible to hold down upkeep expense. (I however I live on my figure on the yearly expense.) My home in Doron, Ill. was driving through the country. I have run a car for myself for many years, and I have had good and bad tires on the different cars. Seeing your ad in the Daily Times where you sell Barney Oldfield tires, I drove for 18 miles and purchased the tires from you, and went through two towns, and I was running on the rim all the time, but I think to buy tires that have a layer of cushioning between each layer of rubber, I want a tire with life and that will last. I know that a grip of a tire is a living tire on the track, but when you have your tires that are made of rubber, you know you are going to go where you know of, if any tire will make the trip it will; you would not have any trouble in convincing every tire user to have nothing but a Barney Oldfield if they had used, and had the grip I have had on my car.

Oldfield on one wheel and with all the bad roads, not once did I have to fix the casing on the tube. With best wishes and saying you that I now feel unimpaired, free, trouble, since being equipped with Oldfield tires I am yours truly,

JOHN S. THURMOND.

LODGE AND HAMILTON

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge is an able historian and biographer. His writings are a biography of Alexander Hamilton. The founder of the Federalist party held about the same relationship toward the adoption of the constitution of the United States that Mr. Lodge holds toward the constitution of the nation.

There were three things about the constitution that Hamilton did not like; just as some of the articles of the covenant of the nation do not mesh with Senator Lodge's approval. But Hamilton was big enough and patriotic enough to give his support to the constitution's adoption, and for that he is praised by Mr. Lodge in his writings.

Hamilton's confidence in his own theory deepened and his faith in the existing constitution declined. But when the work was complete at Philadelphia, when he had put his name to the compromise which he had anticipated, and in which he rejoiced, he gave his adherence to the new constitution and the new system. "Wrote Mr. Lodge.

"It had been an visionary, or a sentimentalist of muddy morals and high principles, as a politician and a statesman, he would have stood up and howled against this constitution, which was not what he wanted, and which fell so short of his own standard. As he was none of these things, but a patriotic man of clear and practical mind, he knew that the first rule of successful and beneficial statesmanship was not to sulk because one cannot have just what he wants, but to take the best thing obtainable, and sustain it to the utmost."

Senator Lodge upon occasion has declared for a league of nations. He doubtless realizes that its covenant cannot be perfect in all things when first drafted, but that amendments will become necessary from time to time, as it became necessary from time to time to amend the constitution.

Senator Lodge now seems to forget that the first rule of successful statesmanship is "not to sulk because one cannot have just what he wants," but to take the best thing obtainable.

CONFUSION OF ADVICES

The strike news of the day includes the city employers of Chicago and the inmates of the lunatic asylum at Voralberg, Austria. The story of violence includes agitators in Italy and tornadoes in Minnesota. The acceptance of the peace terms was the motive behind a big jamboree in Paris, described in the dignities as "merry-making," and the suicide of many Germans as a protest against the infamy heaped upon the German people by the government in accepting the dreadful terms. Then there is the story of the co-opting of the president of Ireland by hydroplane and the frontal lobe of anything that ever looked like an outrage committed against the Irish by their English overlords. Germany signed the peace terms under protest, without reservations, however, thus giving to the world one more scrap of paper for tearing to bits at such future convenient time. Scheidemann, equitable spokesman of the social democrats in the German national assembly, later premier of the republic, is looking for a soft place to alight, fearful that his name is among those on the list of the allies slated for trial by the Allies during the war, and the Kaiser is shaking in his boots and waving wool at Amerigo.

So the confusion of advice upon which an unhappy world depends for its daily food, leads to that perfect sanity of thought, which is the first guarantee that everything is all right, here, now, henceforth and forever.

HEAT AND SLEEP

"Too hot to sleep. Housies!" It is perfectly natural and human that the first hot spell should make one think so, but it is not true. Take a cool bath, loosen the strings of your mind, reflect that sleep doesn't matter anyhow—if you rest quietly it will do you just as much good. And behold, it will be nothing.

The one fundamental requirement of getting through hot weather comfortably is enough sleep. People can stand anything, no matter how hard, no matter how enervating, if only they sleep enough to be well rested. The temptation to stay out an extra hour or two to cool off is great, but the regular bedtime is the good old standby. That's what will help you about four o'clock the next afternoon.

An easing down on the fats and proteins helps some, but sudden changes of diet always help. More milk and less meat, more green vegetables and less sugar, will help the stomach up with an indigestible mess of truck under the impression that it is cooling in its good old self. Heat, just plain heat with uncomfortable cooling in its good old self. Heat, just plain heat with uncomfortable cooling in its good old self. Heat, just plain heat with uncomfortable cooling in its good old self.

THEY LOSE THEIR JOBS UNDER PROHIBITION

Much agony and many tears were spilled by those whose sympathies went out to the workers in the breweries and saloons when prohibition stalked over the nation swallowing up one state after another and finally opening wide its capacious maw to take the whole nation in one gulp. In this spiraling of lachrymatory sympathy, deserving as may be the recipients, another class of worthy citizens who will lose their jobs has been overlooked, and they are as much as lilled in tears of the harp and luteary work of the nation. This class is none other than that large class of wise guys who make careful analyses of the psychology of drunkenness and the down deep into human nature to see before a startled world the physiological, anatomical, mental and spiritual phenomena accompanying the great American joy.

In this circle of supermen whose penetrating minds delve deep into hidden motives behind the evil tendencies of the human race are saloon workers, churchmen, prohibition officers, teachers of psychology, and abettors whose other job is to give testimony concerning mental conditions, at so much per opinion, in trials of murder cases. These will lose their jobs, too. Thus the far-reaching effects of prohibition, intended primarily for the uplift of the laboring man, will penetrate into the higher realms of society and make more difficult than ever the labor of supplying the body with nourishment that the masses need to maintain their physical vigor. This is the same class being away back, hidden from the gaze of superficial observers, and dragged out from their hiding places only after long hours of exact observation of "patients" and ponderous cogitations leading to correct conclusions from effect back to cause. Let them be included in the fearful demonstration for those others in commoner walks of life who lose their jobs by the advent of prohibition.

Add to these the sardine fishermen of Maine, whose industry has been ruined by the advent of prohibition, and there is further cause for tears and lamentations. Truly prohibition is a far-reaching innovation. Where it will all end no man can tell.

DRUG PROHIBITION

A nation that prohibits the drinking of alcohol is surely inconsistent if it does not also prohibit the use of habit-forming drugs.

For most of the deadly drugs belonging in this class there are recognized and legitimate medical uses. Morphine, the most common of the narcotics, is properly used, by a physician, in multitudes of cases to deaden incipient pain. Cocaine, whose consumption in the United States is second in the list, also has its proper uses, particularly in medical and dental surgery.

Third in volume of sales is heroin, a derivative of opium, closely related to morphine, which is said by experts to be the most dangerous drug in the whole list. It is the most common "dope" used by victims who do not use cocaine or morphine. It seems to be especially attractive and especially devastating to boys and girls.

A committee of experts, after a thorough investigation of the drug traffic throughout the United States made at the instance of the United States treasury department, reports that in its opinion the medical need of heroin is negligible compared with the evil effects of its non-medical use. The committee therefore suggests "absolutely prohibiting the manufacture, sale, distribution or administration of this most dangerous drug."

This recommendation surely deserves serious consideration by the present congress. The drug evil has been diminishing of late, according to the committee's findings; increase of drug addiction was reported in only 14 cities and counties, with a decrease in 627. The Harrison anti-drug act, as amended, is expected to have a wholesome effect in restricting the traffic to legitimate needs. There is general belief, however, that alcoholic prohibition will result in a greater demand than ever for narcotic drugs, and a corresponding stimulation of the underground traffic. If heroin can be dispensed with in legitimate medical practice, as the committee says, it would undoubtedly be a blessing to prohibit it altogether.

JOIN THE SCOUTS

Everyone knows how the Boy Scouts stand the test of war. They turned their five principles to practice, and showed their loyalty and value in a thousand ways. Their organization had been thought of previously as meant only for the pleasure and improvement of the boys themselves. It took war to show how the character and skill gained in their scouting could be turned to valuable public service.

It is only a slight recasting of what the boys did during the past two years to help them now in their campaign for larger effectiveness. And in helping them, the nation really helps itself, because any gain in their resources will become an additional national asset. The Scouts, now numbering more than half a million, want more boys to join them, and boys are coming in at the rate of 1,000 or more a day. More than that, they want adults to join as associate members—a round million of them, helping a little with their membership, and still more with their intelligent interest and support.

There ought to be an equation of getting the millipede. Nobody objects to the Boy Scouts any more. Everybody approves them. The movement is endorsed alike by Christian and Jew, Protestant and Catholic, and just as warmly by those who profess no religion whatsoever. It stands for good health, good morals, good sense and good citizenship.

THE DEPARTING LINER

Each day sees some return to former conditions, some resumption of activity suspended because of the war. The other day in New York a great crowd of people stood on the docks and watched the great ship Mauretania set sail for Liverpool.

The Mauretania showed a passenger list of 561, most of these being persons bound abroad on business. Another indication that normal times are on the way.

Encouragement is given thus far for the more alert newspaper journalists, but anyone giving a legitimate reason for going can procure his passport without difficulty.

It may seem like a long way from the docks at New York to the small inland towns of the United States; but the public has been drawn and the widening circles will not stop until they reach the edge of the pool. The wise man will be ready.

The allies have started to clean up Turkish cities. They ought to have old man Hercules, who made a record along that line when he cleaned the Augean stables.

Those two scientists who declare they discovered talking monkeys in the African jungle went unnecessarily far from home. We have a lot of them here in America.

English fishermen say they don't learn to swim "because that would prevent the agony of drowning." Most people learn to swim so there won't be any drowning.

It is curious that Senator Borah, who insists that he doesn't want anything to do with Europe, should go to the trouble of making the Paris peace conference to settle the Irish question.

American laborer's stand on the league of nations caused President Wilson the utmost concern, according to a long cable received by Samuel Goetzner tonight.

The president called upon Goetzner to make the league of nations cause his own. Wilson explained fully the result of President Rorden's resolution and the subsequent amendment of labor's bill of rights.

Wilson further related that the labor bill of rights was one of the greatest progressive achievements of the peace conference.

Dad Simply Refused to Believe His Son Dead—He Was Right

NEW YORK, June 21.—There is no use trying to argue with John Hilley, whom John Hilley Jr. has just killed. The hospital authorities and medical officers from North Mountain and Ocean Grove couldn't convince John Hilley of the reality of his son's death, the corpse of his own son. John simply refused to believe it. He said that John was not dead and that he would look for him when he comes back.

For some time Hilley, who lives at North Mountain, had been worried about the health of John Jr., who was a patient in the hospital. Hilley insisted that the hospital was trying to keep the matter quiet and that he would look for his son when he comes back. He refused to believe that his son was dead.

The elder Hilley approached the caretaker for a glimpse at the beloved son. The caretaker refused to admit Hilley to the hospital and Hilley refused to leave. He insisted that his son was not dead and that he would look for him when he comes back.

John Hilley Jr. was killed in a fight with a man named John Hill. The fight took place in a bar in New York. Hilley Jr. was the victor and was killed by a fall from a window.

Hilley was too much pleased to be interested in the matter. He was almost hoarse as he left the hospital after learning that his son was alive. He was almost hoarse as he left the hospital after learning that his son was alive.

It was a pretty determined man in an argument," he remarked proudly.

Senator Fletcher Opposes Bill of Government Ships to Private Owners

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(AP)—The bill which would authorize the sale of government-owned ships to private owners is being opposed by Senator Fletcher of Michigan. Fletcher said today that he would vote against the bill unless it contained certain provisions to protect the interests of the fishing industry.

Fletcher pointed out that the bill would allow the government to sell ships to private owners at a price of 75 percent of their original cost. He said that this would be a great loss to the government, especially if the ships were sold to private owners who would then use them for commercial purposes.

Fletcher also pointed out that the bill would allow the government to sell ships to private owners at a price of 75 percent of their original cost. He said that this would be a great loss to the government, especially if the ships were sold to private owners who would then use them for commercial purposes.
