Spain Calls Reserves In Attempt To Stem Advance On Madrid

Military Dragnet Rounds Up Every Man Able To Carry A Gun Or Help Build Defenses Against Rebels

(Copyright, 1936, by The Associated Press.) MADRID, Sept. 22.—The Spanish government broadcast an urgent call tonight to "every man able to carry a gun or help build defenses" in an effort to stem the fascist advance toward the capital.

The government announced all of its forces, volunteers included, had submitted martial law "as regards all questions of discipline and law."

Enlistment crews began visiting cafes and asking every able-bodied citizen "why are you not in the front?"

The city's main thoroughfares were deluged with pamphlets calling upon "youthful workers" to enlist in a new battalion of trench diggers and builders of barbed wire entanglements.

Battle Through Night A terrific battle raged on unabated into the night, about the strategic juncture of highways leading to Madrid and Toledo.

During the long struggle the government said its planes had inflicted severe casualties on the columns of fascist attackers.

On military fronts the government proclaimed a "clear advantage" in its operations.

1. An aerial bombardment, week-long in ruins half of the northern city of Oviedo. Bombers were aimed in a desperate attempt to capture the city.

2. In the Guadarrama sector, 22 cities were killed and over 200 wounded in a repulse of their advance.

3. Shelling of Cordoba and Granada was begun again, and in the Aragon sector, the government forces took Otero sanatorium, which had been used as a fascist garrison.

4. Numerous casualties were reported both between government forces and an enemy column at Barbastro in the Huesca sector.

"They are being killed during the American advance in Madrid could be used as a refuge. All American heroism will be on their side," the Spanish minister said.

He said 14 Americans including 4 Puerto Ricans and 11 Filipinos had been killed.

LIGHTS and SHADOWS In Day's Events

Parting Shot—SEKARAKA, Ark. Safecracker who ridded a motor company office said the proverbial insult to the traditional injury.

They broke into the safe, removed the contents and fled in a car with fear gas into their faces, shot 420, and left this note on the looted structure: "Who's a monkey now?"

Well Tried Tools—NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Jimmy Dealy, 20, represents the third generation of his family to use the device which he is employing in the study of civil engineering at Vanderbilt university.

The tools, made in Germany, were brought to the United States in 1858 by W. A. Dealy, Sr., Jimmy's grandfather. His father, W. A. Dealy, Jr., was a member of the firm while he studied at Vanderbilt.

Surgery Gives Youngster Chance Against Death From Starvation

CHICAGO, Sept. 22 (AP)—An operation surrounded by dramatic circumstances saved five-day-old Julian Trefel, Jr., from death from starvation today.

Breaking down the father's insistence that "nature take its course," the infant was placed on the operating table. The surgeons believe over him. An incision was opened in the baby's side about an inch from the navel.

"The malformation that had doomed the blue-eyed child—was brought out through this opening," said Dr. Lewis K. Eastman, head of the Danish-American hospital.

"The infant is scheduled to be placed in a second operation. He might live or he might die," the doctor announced. "But the chances are good now."

Labor Group Pickets Capitol

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Governor Hjalmar Peterson tonight ordered mobilization of the Minnesota national guard in preparation for any emergency arising out of the city's milling strike as violence flared again at a linseed-plant.

The governor called a conference of strike leaders for 8 a. m. tomorrow in a final effort to bring order without the aid of troops.

Simultaneous a picket identified as Elton Larson was severely beaten about the head tonight by five unidentified men and dumped from an automobile a block from Alexander-Daniels-Midland, a company where a large crowd of striking elevator writers and smiths had assembled.

As fellow pickets tried to bring a victim to a hospital, the crowd became unruly. Then a barrage of rocks drummed on the already broken windows and buildings of the linseed products plant where one man was shot in the eye during a disorder yesterday.

GOVERNOR ORDERS MOBILIZATION OF MINNESOTA GUARD Landon Pledges Federal Assistance To Agriculture, American Price For Crops

REPUBLICAN FARM PROGRAM EMBRACES CASH BENEFIT AND DROUGHT RELIEF PAYMENTS, CONSERVATION, SURPLUS STORAGE PLAN

KANSAS HITS 'CONTROL AT WASHINGTON'

DEB MOINES, Ia., Sept. 22.—Pledging farmers cash benefit and conservation payments, Governor Alf M. Landon presented to agriculture tonight a farm program he said would bring "the production of the same type farm."

"It offers a practical means of attaining what we have been seeking—a free and independent agriculture—the present identical nominee said, as he assailed any system which "penalizes plenty and rewards scarcity," or means a "permanent control" from Washington.

Before the Kansas, as he delivered his first major farm address from a brilliantly lighted speakers' stand at the side of the fair grounds race track, was a big black grandstand, jammed with thousands of farmers.

Others in the audience sat on benches in the paddock. Police Capt. F. W. Simmons estimated the attendance at from 15,000 to 11,000.

New Deal Critics Speaking into microphones which broadcast his vote throughout the state, Governor Landon declared that after four years, the new deal was "right back where it started."

"What is the farm policy of this administration?" Landon declared, pointing to look up at the audience as King tilted gleamed down on him.

"In my opinion it has none," the candidate answered his own question.

Landon wore a blue, pin-striped suit and appeared rested, from a day's campaigning in St. Louis and a few hours' relaxation. From a day's campaigning in St. Louis and a few hours' relaxation.

"When you leave the former—depart from its principles—any inevitably start toward the latter and naturally arrive with calamity and speed."

"All the different names and shades of government have the fundamental distinction: They either trust of distrust, they believe or distrust, in the popular will."

"Two Great Camps" "That it which has made the cleavage between government and people is the issue, involved—An issue which is being fought out in our midst and in the popular will."

Burns urged personal examination of the federal constitution, asserting: "We will find that, before the centralization of government can be established, the constitution will have to be destroyed; that before human liberty, free speech and religious freedom can perish on this continent, the constitution must be destroyed; that before the voice of the people in government can be silenced, the constitution must be torn in shreds."

"You will discover from its terms and conditions this one great design, and that is to protect human rights, to guarantee human liberty; 1789 was the realization of the dream."

F. D. R. SUMMONS POLITICAL AIDES President Invites Democratic Strategists to Conference

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—A week in advance of his first speech before a campaign here, President Roosevelt has invited Democratic strategists to a political conference Thursday.

Whether the discussions would center on a campaign of party pro-tection at the November polls or his own plans to jump actively into the October-at-large drive for his re-election, Mr. Roosevelt did not say.

Senators Robinson of Arizona, senate majority floor leader, and Guffey of Oregon, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee and Chairman James A. Parker have been invited.

Following his attention again on farm problems during the day, the president will carry out his plan from Edward A. Dooley, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. "Farm council" be established to coordinate farm relief operations.

Wallace Present Secretary Wallace also sat in on the talk.

By co-ordinating such activities as conservation, extension of farm credits and construction of rural roads, "program" asserted, "and, accordingly, the farm council could be established."

Questioned as to his views, Wallace said private insurance companies had not shown an all-risk crop insurance feasible.

FEDERATION RESOLUTION DEMANDS POLICIES OF W. R. HEARST

LEWISTON, Idaho, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Idaho State Federation of Labor today passed a resolution demanding that the United Farm Workers and the Seattle chapter of the American Newspaper Guild in a resolution demand that the federal government take immediate action in session here today.

The federation charged that the policies of Hearst and the Seattle Post-Intelligencer were in violation of labor's right to organize and bargain collectively, unjustly laid the burden of responsibility on organized labor for closing the P-I plant and placed "a false conception of freedom of the press upon the right of labor to strike in order to maintain fair standards."

Three separate resolutions, all protesting the "unfair" action of Hearst's union of the American Newspaper Guild, were introduced by the American Federation of Labor, will be discussed tomorrow, officers said.

Speaks for New Deal James Taylor, Seattle, president of the American Newspaper Guild, called upon the Idaho group to band itself solidly behind the new deal and President Roosevelt in this effort this afternoon.

Resolutions were introduced urging the Idaho Federation to stand behind the reelection of President Roosevelt and Senator William E. Borah.

The officers' committee approved the annual report of President B. V. Anderson, local secretary of the declared Senator Borah, who said the Idaho labor vote said that his opposition, Governor C. Ross Igo, had proved a "disappointment" to labor.

Barzilla Clark, Democratic nominee for friendly, and Frank Stephan, Republican candidate for governor, were called as "friends" by Lund.

GORILLA MAN'S STORY QUESTIONED

PAROLED INMATE OF MENTAL INSTITUTION CONFESSES LUST SLAYING

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 22 (AP)—A paroled inmate of a mental institution confessed to a murder today, the slaying of Ruth Muir, social worker, at suburban La Jolla August 31.

The confession was made to the police station Superintendent Eugene M. Webster of the state insane hospital.

The inmate, a 32-year-old "gorilla man," Donald J. Hartzel, 30, had nothing to do with the killing.

"Hazel is insane and would say anything," Webster said when told of the reported confession.

Hartzel, who weighs 225 pounds, was taken into custody while a coroner's inquest into the Muir death was being held. The suspect was wandering in a nearby street muttering unintelligible questions.

Officers Guey Suspect Police Sheriff Wallace Black and deputy officer Ed Stotter, who escorted Hartzel to the station, said the man told them he sometimes had people spells "come over me and make me do things."

The officers quoted Hartzel as saying he approached Ruth Muir as she stood "behind a bench" where they often played tennis. He was dragged into a nearby ravine.

Hartzel was paroled from a mental institution at the time of his arrest, police said, and was taken to the state hospital for confinement instead of jail.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES: FREDERICK KENNEDY AND FRANKLIN NEW YORK, Chicago, San Francisco.

SAME OLD QUESTION: A federal court decision in Kansas City again brings to public notice the question as to whether or not a contract with payment to be made in gold can be paid off at face value with present day currency.

It will be remembered that something over a year ago the Supreme Court of the United States rendered a decision involving the same question in all of its details and while few people understood the decision, the effect was to legalize payment in money as it exists today, and without reference to changing values as a result of increased gold valuations by government order.

In the present case a really company has leased a building in eighteen hundred ninety, the lease calling for payment in gold coin or its equivalent, the amount due quarterly being equivalent to a fixed number of grains of pure gold. The lessee asked in court that the right to the building be returned, standing upon the abrogation of the right to collect in gold by Congressional resolution to nineteen hundred thirty-three.

The decision has the effect of compelling payment of rental upon the gold basis as it was at the time of the lease, and as to the status of "gold clause" contracts entered into prior to the passage of the resolution.

In time the case will probably reach the Supreme Court. Whether the decision is a step toward the right of the last on the subject supplies an interesting field for speculation.

A CANNING FACTORY: With the exception of a single ill advised effort to establish a "dehydration" plant here some fifteen years ago, Twin Falls has never given serious attention to the canning of fruit and vegetables and profitable canning industry in this section.

A possible opportunity to aid in the establishment of a canning factory in Twin Falls is now presented.

It would seem that Twin Falls is ideally located for the canning of fruit and vegetables as growth in abundance now and yields could be materially increased on short notice any time. Excellent roads bisect the farm lands of the county and a dependable source of labor can always be counted upon.

County, Idaho, as well as other counties that State have prospered amazingly as a result of such institutions, and, all in all there appears to be no good reason why the canning industry should not be just as profitable in all communities in this section as in any other anywhere.

An increased market and possibly increased prices for farm and truck garden products as well as substantial payrolls would probably follow such an installation.

Nobody appears to be quite clear as to just what Twin Falls would have to do to secure the proposed canning factory but apparently if Twin Falls is ready to contribute in part to its establishment there is a very good chance of its establishment.

The proposition is well worth looking into.

CAN DEMOCRACY SURVIVE: Hamner has been quoted as giving a negative answer to this question. Whether the principles of democracy, as expressed in the government of the United States, can endure, Mussolini considers democracy with unceasing scorn and says there can be no government without force.

It is impossible to contemplate the swiftly changing scene in Europe, with its steadily rising curve of war probabilities, its dictatorship-bait, growing stronger and lighter, without realizing that democracy as we know it and like it in our Bill of Rights is dead, and we are facing formidable enemies. So far

As Europe is concerned, Il Duce's ghoulish phrase, "the carcass of democracy," soon will be expressive of a reality. And what is the expression of the coming debacle of liberalism and the growing power of the dictator? The causes vary with the countries. In Russia it was the tyranny of the Romanoff dynasty; in German the oppressive tactics of conquerors; in Italy medievalism and imperialism; Spain the inherent evils of Bourbonism.

How can democracy be preserved in one of its last great strongholds and to future generations of Americans? Only through unremitting vigilance all along the line, from Washington on to the teeming city and on the remote frontier.

AND STILL WE WALK: Fears that the mechanical cotton picker will displace manual workers, that synthetic rubber will ruin an industry and that we soon shall be with our motor vehicles may have led to a better foundation than one expressed several years ago that increased use of the motor car would result in loss of tone by muscles of the foot and make us a race of cripples. So many variations are there in the world of mechanical devices that it is difficult to predict their effect on the human body.

It is not surprising. The average person; it was asserted, takes eight thousand ninety-eight steps a day, or seven and one-half miles. Those taken by a housewife in a year of tasks would carry her from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It is not surprising that the farmer plowing is stepping off more than twenty-five miles daily. A letter carrier often covers two miles, and a policeman eighteen in his daily rounds. To a child five miles a day, and an athlete one and one-half miles a day, and she is the one most likely to suffer from fallen arches.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG (NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS)

WASHINGTON BY Ray Decker: HERITANTS, Harry Hopkins' training to stump the country for President Roosevelt won't be fulfilled if the Democratic financial czar and his directors don't get a place in the official sun on his next retreat everywhere.

Mr. Hopkins prides himself on his sharp, clear and logical political shrewdness but his appearance before a Senate subcommittee last week was a splendid example of his own shrewdness and logic.

Mr. Hopkins is particularly close to President and Mrs. Roosevelt, who appreciate his social instinct and talent for getting things done in a hurry. But even the White House seems to realize that WPA's activities cost too much, and that Mr. Hopkins' "person" on a political party would be an enormous waste of money.

ALIENS: Now that all the primaries except Rhode Island's have been held, G.O.P. strategists must both on and off the campaign trail, in the face of a bill. To a less degree the same applies to Rex Turrell, though he may be allowed to remain in office, where he has brought out drought relief and rural rehabilitation.

With a few weeks plenty of money, better morale among local organizations and a more aggressive campaign by Candidate Tandon, the G.O.P. here think they can corral slightly more than the necessary 25 electoral votes. Here are the states where Mr. Hamilton will miss his shock troops: New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Ohio, Maryland, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana. It is the section where the New Deal is supposed to be least popular.

These states will furnish 23 electoral votes. Chairman Hamilton expects to pick up the balance in Kansas, Wyoming, South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Texas. He figures in the circles, it is the East against the West, with California apparently more popular to alien treachery than on his home ground.

EASIER: Despite Republican cheer-leader Governor Landon can win only by the narrowest of political squeaks. Even his confidence in the President is not enough to overcome in campaign organization.

A close analysis of these G.O.P. expectations over five half states reveals a number of mistakes in campaign organization. Ohio, Maryland, Michigan, and Illinois are the states where Mr. Hamilton will miss his shock troops: New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Ohio, Maryland, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana. It is the section where the New Deal is supposed to be least popular.

Although preliminary polls place all five states in Roosevelt's hands, the Democrats have an easier job out for them. By carrying only one of these commonwealths, F.D.R. may squeak through by a nose. His side can't hold on to all five states. It is a hard job to carry all five states where they fight the hardest. All the polls swing open.

NOTE: The G.O.P. had a committee on political warfare report on the Democrats' loss of the coast road of Deer Isle, Maine. It is inhumanly hard being "old" in both Republican and Democratic circles. It is a hard job to carry all five states where they fight the hardest. All the polls swing open.

THE NEW LODGE HAT ARRIVES.

Guiding Your Child

By ALICE CLARISSE RICHMOND

"Mother, are you right happy?" "I'm reading the home paper. What do you think that pale low-headed kid is doing? He's got the votes in the West for the prettiest girl in Gull-oo-pee!"

More than likely after collecting money for the prettiest girl in Gull-oo-pee, he'll be in town. Anyway it was something that as far back as that O. Henry knew the town's correct proportion.

It has struck me frequently that one of Manhattan's most polite and best-dressed streets is Madison Drive. And what a pretty name! There is a hush and the scent of flowers in the air.

While a residence in there, overlooking the Hudson, is a thing to be desired, it is not the only thing to be desired. And what a pretty name! There is a hush and the scent of flowers in the air.

CHICKEN STEALING CHARGE ON TRIAL

District Court Nears Wind-up of Criminal Cases For Term

Accused of theft of six Plymouth cars in a felony under Idaho law, Louis Stevens went to trial in the district court here yesterday and at the close of the day, when the state rested its case, it was prepared to present his own defense when proceedings are resumed this morning. That makes the wind-up of criminal case trials for the current court term.

Hancock, identified Stevens as a man who had stolen the chicken-quarter cars from six and three-quarter miles southeast of Buhl about 3 o'clock the morning of July 3. A search of the files of the district court revealed that Stevens is the alleged-alias name of a man who had been arrested on charges of stealing chickens at the side of the road. Other witnesses were Edwin Hancock, a neighbor of the Hancocks, and Van Low, Buhl, night police officer. Stevens is held in the city jail following the alleged theft. The case for the state was presented by Prosecuting Attorney Frank Babcock, the chief-charge was made up represented by H. B. Barzen, Twin Falls attorney who was appointed by the court to represent his defense.

YOUNG TERRORISTS LEAVE DAMAGE AND INJURIES IN WAKE

When a gang of boys of high school age, speeding in a car through residential districts and pelting other motorists and cars with rotten eggs causes injury to persons and damage to property as was done in Twin Falls Monday evening, it is time for the police to take a hand. Chief of Police Howard G. Little said last evening.

One woman motorist, an unfortunate object of the gang's attention, he said, was struck in the back by an egg and narrowly escaped collision with a utility pole while the gangsters sped on shouting in wild glee.

Bad eggs were slung into another woman's car, the police chief said, and she discovered them the next morning. It was questionable whether the damage could be repaired with a thorough cleaning, or whether new upholstery would be required.

There were a number of other similar instances of terrorism attributed to the same gangsters.

Police are following up cities and prosecutions are in prospect.
