ROOSEVELT WORKS ON FINAL SPEECHES

Wine Addresses to Be Crowded Into Seven Days Before Election

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt denied himself to all save one caller today and buckled down to the job of writing the final speeches of his re-election campaign.

He dictated rough drafts of the major addresses he will deliver in Pennsylvania and New York next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

He also worked on what are described as "non-political" talks to be given Monday by declining a courtesy department at Howard university, Negro schools here, and to New York harbor Wednesday afternoon at ceremonies celebrating the 150th birthday of the status of liberty.

His speeches will be crowded into the last seven week days before the balloting.

Mayor Calls

The president interrupted his dictating today morning to receive Dr. David Wilson, Republican mayor of Philadelphia.

Wilson, who headed the Pennsylvania independent committee for Roosevelt in 1928, issued a formal statement in which he expressed gratitude for the president's unemployment policies.

Mr. Roosevelt will attend church services tomorrow. Tuesday night he will leave for Havana, N. Y., to board a federal vessel for Dodge Island in New York harbor, where the status of liberty ceremonies will be held Wednesday afternoon.

The final political speeches of the week will be in the Brooklyn Academy of Music Friday night and Madison Square Garden, New York, Saturday night.

Returning to his Dutchess county home on the Hudson, Mr. Roosevelt will attend church services next Sunday and the following day, also attend a federal vessel for Dodge Island in New York harbor, where the status of liberty ceremonies will be held Wednesday afternoon.

After voting Tuesday at Hyde Park he will return to his home and await news of the counting.

warnings, and the Clarified, in bold type asserted "an onslaught on Madrid is imminent."

Facist warplanes — the dread "blackbirds of death" — might soon attempt to bomb Madrid into submission if surrender offers continue to be spurred by the city's defenders, it was learned.

This insurgent captured Zarzalejo, just three miles from the objective, El Escorial, 30 miles west the prison.

Crowd Files Audition

Smith spoke in Duquesne Garden before a crowd which filled all the auditorium's 11,000 seats. Persons who could not find seats jammed the aisles.

As in his New York and Chicago orations of Madrid, Tugwell was pushed forward appreciably.

One column was reading "Madrid, 15 miles southwest of Madrid, is another war at Ilseaca, 13 miles south of the capital, while the third was driving on El Escorial."

With El Escorial taken, the insurgent high command said, the attack could be welded together by cavalry units, and the final assault would then begin.

There was no confirmation of radio reports the insurgents, already had occupied Ilseaca, virtually a suburb of the capital.

DWORSHAK CHARGES IDAHO NEGLECTED

Congress Nominee Blames New Deal for Short Appropriations.

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Oct. 24 (AP)—Henry Dworshak of Butte, Republican nominee for congress, declared in an address here tonight that the "Snake river valley and Idaho in general have been severely neglected by the mass of appropriations during the past three years."

Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes announced October 8, Dworshak said, that contracts during the past three years totaled $11,800,000 had been awarded for reclamation.

"Of that amount Idaho was able to secure only $2,454,000 — or less than 24 per cent of the vast allotment for western reclamation development," he declared.

"With the new deal administration completely controlling our federal government, little justification for the neglect was given to Idaho, and there appears little justification for the neglect now being severely reposed Idaho congressional candidates to Idaho to secure funds for reclamation projects in the next congress."

The records disclose that during the past three years Idaho's reclamation development has been almost completely forgotten by the new dealers.

Dworshak is opposed by Congressman D. Worth Clark, Pocatello Democrat.

speeches, the former New York governor urged the election of Governor Alfred M. Landon, the Republican presidential candidate.

He mentioned the Republican assertion that a "small handful" was opposing the masses of people and said:

"If he knows any small group of men in the United States today who are trying to grind down the plain people, then I'm with him to go after them."

"The man who who they are because he's talked enough about them."

said: "I like to live in danger." Il Duce today deliberately went through the clearly packed crowd to reach the plaza.

From the rostrum he told the cheering thousands he was holding aloft "a great olive branch" at the end of the fourteenth year of Fascism and the beginning of the fifteenth.

This branch, he cried, grows from an immense forest of 8,000,000 bayonets, well-sharpened and striped by lightning with lightning bolts.

ing without a permit, Kelly, with resisting arrest.

Struck by Policeman

Kelly was struck by a policeman as he tried to pull forward. Lasser led the march to the White House. Arresting them they were told the executive officers were closed for the day, and they were not permitted to enter the grounds.

After a half hour of parading along the White House grounds near the entrance to the executive offices, they headed for WPA headquarters, three blocks away, and continued an endless line before the entrance.

Disregarding police warnings to disband, Lasser asserted he would exercise his right to "walk on the sidewalk unless arrested. Shortly afterward police seized him and the other leaders and carried them across the street in front of emergency hospital.

FOUR STUDENTS HURT IN WRECK NEAR BLISS

As the leaders headed for jail, reporting those left to continue their demonstration, a committee of 21 students was admitted to the office of Mrs. Anderson, in charge of WPA labor relations. The bulk of the demonstrators continued their parade.

The committee of 20 voted to continue in session until "our leaders join us" and settled down to await for Lasser and his companions. Admission to bail for the left averted possibility of an all-night or longer "sit-down" protest.

HOUSE RANSACKED

A. D. Bellamy, 115 Pierce street, last night reported to police that his house had been ransacked and that a 17 jewel Elgin gold watch had been stolen.

MRS. DELLA CRIST DIES AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. Della Crist, 69, died at Twin Falls county hospital at 11:30 o'clock last night. She had been a patient at the hospital since October 12.

Mr. Crist resided with her son, Elmer Crist, 644 Third Avenue east. The body rests at the Twin Falls mortuary pending funeral arrangements.

Recalling the achievements of Fascism in the ten years since the last "valley of Dolgna," he declared: "People such as the Italian people, heirs to an ancient and magnificent civilization, have certain rights on the surface of this earth."

"The nations which formerly knew us only in literary sense now are amazed at our economic and military achievements."

He declared that at the European peace talks, "new alliances have been formed, new alliances under the cloud of uncertainty, Italy offers the world an admirable spectacle of calm and discipline. The Roman city virtues are the last."

Medicos Report Dreaded Yellow Fever Returning

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 24 (AP) - The complete elimination of the fatal yellow fever virus has not been completed, as the medical profession had believed for years, according to the American Public Health association here.

Yellow fever, a disease apparently the same as the dreaded "yellowjack" in the new epidemic in the United States, is this supposedly extinct plague. It is widespread in South America. It also threatens North America. The yellow fever is transmitted in the laboratory by the same mosquito which spreads "yellowjack." But the jungle disease has dangers - the other form does not possess because its form of transmission is unknown.

These facts came from the cooperative yellow fever services of the governments of Brazil, Bolivia, Paraguay, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia, and Venezuela, and the international health division of the Rockefeller foundation. They are reported by Fred L. Soper, M. D., of the Rockefeller foundation, in charge of the investigation. Until this investigation it has been considered impossible for yellow fever to spread in any way except from man to man through the bite of a mosquito, aedes aegypti.

WANTED—AN EXPLANATION: The charge of Communist leanings on the part of New Deal leadership will not down. Nobody pretends to believe that President Roosevelt selected or sought the men who are now in the White House.

But a second note along similar lines, and a far more serious one, is introduced into the situation through the selection of Democratic Presidential Electors in New York State.

David Dubinsky resides in New York. He may or may not be a Communist but he boasts of having collected thousands of dollars in New York to aid the cause of the Spanish Communists against the Fascist revolutionaries.

role, that is all any government can properly assert and try to get for them. Even if all-round equality at birth were true, it would not be a good thing, because men learn and progress as a result of their differences and the conflicts thereby set up. It would be dumb and dull to set it up if we were all alike.

LIBERALISM

In times like this all sorts of thought, and all sorts of opinion about other people's thoughts, are tossed into the air and into the public mind. It is a good thing, made by a man who usually takes the liberal side. He may be presenting a great truth, or merely "rationalizing" his own mental operations to justify himself.

It's doing it almost alone, that New Deal speaker is only a moderate help when they are blundering. In dealing with the masses, President Roosevelt handles the audience himself. The enemy pays him a handsome tribute when it makes his forces against him.

SUCCESS. By remaining silent as to his plan if elected President Roosevelt kept the opposition guessing. Some of his advisers think it is too late to do it. The "free wave" set in motion by G.O.P. speakers who picture the president as scheming for too much power.

But the president seemingly doesn't agree with their support. The president seemingly doesn't agree with their support. The president seemingly doesn't agree with their support.

HOPE. The depth of gold-line Democratic indignation over Mr. Roosevelt's flirtations with Progressives and Farther-leftists is being expressed in a few of them that can find no voice to express their anger at what they regard as betrayal of their party.

Another factor is relied upon by the president's enemies. He believes that the contents of his address will be interpreted as a tacit approval of the "free wave" set in motion by G.O.P. speakers who picture the president as scheming for too much power.

CRITICS. From all that can be learned in inquiries among Jeffersonians, there will not be a wholesale swing to London as a refuge to Roosevelt. The average Jeffersonian is a hard-boiled individual who detests the O.P.C. Cartel Class as a typical Jeffersonian.

Apparently the Jeffersonian idea is to "take hold" of the main portion of the South. The stage director has the dinner hostess of a culinary artist in his dishes. The stage director has the dinner hostess of a culinary artist in his dishes.

Some political observers already suspect that Democrats throughout the country who oppose the New Deal are not so much as they are thought. They describe her as a woman of keen intellect and a woman of high character.

GRAYE. The foreign diplomatic corps in Washington is a network with ends reaching every capital in the world. A queer angle to the network is the fact that many of the diplomats are intimately acquainted with foreign persons and their backgrounds.

Beats' Pursuit
His requests were complied with and he purchased some prepared food which he made fast to his saddle. The deputy who was accompanying him said he would not bother him anything to eat as he was sure he would find some along the road where he could procure some meals.

George instructed him to take food, as he intended looking for horse thieves and not a place to eat. George and the deputy traveled east over the stage road and at some distance out of Boise met the three men he had met at Indian Creek. They made their horses fast to the horses that had not left Boise over an eastern route.

George did not speak a word to a soul about finding the trail. The deputy on hearing the report of the three men, expressed his opinion that they were in the wrong direction, but still George said nothing.

When they had traveled some distance George said, "Let us leave the stage road and get a little south and I think we will strike their trail." And sure enough, it was only a short distance until they intercepted the trail and George and the deputy stopped only to give their horses a drink and get some food. The deputy found where the thieves had stopped for rest and water. George felt sure that he had located some of them, but his horse was beginning to show the effects of the hard ride.

A few hours' ride up the river brought them to a cattle ranch owned by Mr. Shaddy, where they procured fresh horses. The thieves had avoided the ranch and had not been seen.

Chase Begins Close
With their fresh horses, George and his deputy rode to Star's Ferry, just below the mouth of Goose Creek, where they found the thieves had crossed the river. Mr. Star informed George that there were three men, pretty tough looking characters with the outfit. Mr. Star was sure they had headed for Salt Lake.

They had asked about the trail to Albion and they were only seven or eight hours ahead of George. George felt sure that the thieves had headed for Salt Lake and he decided to follow the trail. He left his man at the salt being made a chicle to the east, and sure enough, found that the thieves had doubled back down the river on the south side.

George went back to the ferry, his man and went west on the thieves' trail. He knew they would overtake them in a few hours and he decided to follow the trail. He thought they were headed for the salt but would stop at the Rock Creek store, some twenty-five miles west, where the thieves would feel secure.

George had some acquaintance with Mr. Stricker, the merchant,

Defunct crossings contending. Albion was as the old man years afterwards against Oakley, finally to lose, after forty years possession, to Burlington.

Although there were large herds of cattle there was but little real estate and not much permanent property. The first settlement was only $100,000 and from scrien to silver dollars was the lot for those days. These items did not increase very fast for the first few years. With the creation of the county, however, land filing began. The settlers were all squatters, with the exception of perhaps two or three cattlemen. I remember only two, Charles Trotter of Rock Creek and James Terson of Goldwood. In due time final proof and some form of law and order began to appear.

The territory was under the jurisdiction of three United States district judges, acting separately in defined counties. One in every county, and meeting collectively at the territorial capital, as a supreme court. At this time, John T. Morgan, then of Oxford, Oregon county, was chief justice, and as district judge held the first Cassia county court in 1860. James B. Hayes succeeded Judge Morgan in 1883. Under these judges water litigation started and the end is near.

Old-timers will remember how seasons of the court were held in various places throughout Albion with all dignity and prestige until about 1886, when the county purchased the new unimproved hotel building, which was used for the county court house for thirty odd years. The infant court from all over the county who would stay, filled the hotel and camp for weeks. The lawyers, many of them of great ability, furnished unsurpassed and intelligent diversion and delight until it came time to pay the bills.

Silver City Two District
While the county seat was Silver City, two hundred and fifty miles distant, the infant court from all over the county were held in various places throughout Albion with all dignity and prestige until about 1886, when the county purchased the new unimproved hotel building, which was used for the county court house for thirty odd years.

WANNER BAXTER, who blew game with his bare hands in one of his movies, came back to Los Angeles from a big game hunt in Colorado in a wheel chair and carrying crutches. His foot caught in a crevice and he fractured. "I got a 300-pound elk anyway," Baxter said.

much older communities. With the completion of the Union Pacific and in charge of the County Recorder contains transcripts of that portion of Owyhee County appertaining to the new county, with some of our own made since, including divorce or two given by the territorial legislature, which at that time had the authority, and other miscellaneous matters. In the early days Owyhee County associations would come and assess-eren, the possessor land claims, but their methods were crude and did not accomplish their purpose. The legislature up to that time was a rough and ready affair, perhaps the least efficient of any territorial legislature, which at that time had the authority, and other miscellaneous matters. The number of votes cast was about two hundred, Albion and Goose

Days of Old
Standing where tracks and rivers meet, flanked with pasture and meadow and promise of further greatness, many will still refer to the days of old when trappers and hunters, both red and white, wrote the vivid colors upon the sage brush. It was greater than a governor or a United States senator; when the cattle barons mostly residing in California and Texas and great men in their day, occupied large regions of country with immense herds, when a few scattered settlers on small streams, with a few cows and horses, cutting winter slices of grain and making trips in the fall to the nearest trading post for trawls supplies of flour, sugar, coffee, and other necessities, but still hardy and determined, but still living in a rude comfort. They engaged in free-hunting companionship of their neighbors, who were some miles away and were happy about the same number in the streams and deer in the hills and in the knowledge that nature's bounty was always open. Fish in the streams and deer in the hills and in the knowledge that nature's bounty was always open. The early settlers of Marsh Basin, Cassia County, Goose Creek, the Salt River country, Dry Creek, Rock Creek, and other sections of the West, and have done their part toward the development of the organization of the county there about a dozen settlers on Rock Creek, and a few on Willow, in the Owyhee and Trapper Creek. Some of them were hunters. There were some who were cattlemen and some who were farmers. There were some who were hunters and some who were farmers. Dream of Greater Future
The greater portion of this country was included in the Great American Desert. Those persons who preceded a greater future were regarded as dreamers and not practical. Some preliminary surveys and locations were made for irrigation enterprises, but it was not until the opening of the twentieth century that the United States government and those promoting and financing the carrying out projects of water transformation and much of the great desert became a wonder of the world.

Burison in 1817 moved over to the present site of the Albion Mercantile establishment, and soon sold out to the famous firm of Bascom and Robinson, flourishing in the early days of the country.

In the late 80's a Methodist church was erected at Albion, followed later by the Mormon church.

BOISE, Oct. 27.—Of State Auditor Harry C. Parsons reported today to Governor C. Ben Ross that the commonwealth's records indicate a return of prosperity at the close of 1936...

He called attention to elimination of a $227,000 deficit that was shown on the state's books in 1932, and estimated the general surplus at the close of 1936 will be $1,353,500.

Lewis county has paid its 1936 charges in full. It has paid 100 per cent and Power 37 1/2 per cent. During the 21 months ending October 1—1935 87 1/2 per cent of the items claimed were collected.

BELOW ZERO

The Real Test of your Heating Plant

During those months when the thermometer falls below 60°, each descending degree brings a more complete realization of how important to comfort, health and happiness, is the selection of a proper home heating plant. Zero weather is the real test of furnace efficiency.

The steel construction and the unusually large radiating surface of the Torrill Zone provide a heating capacity capable of filling the rooms of your home with the glorious warmth of summer regardless of outside temperatures. This installation drowns cold air off the floors and out of the corners replacing it with clean, sterilized, warm air to which all lost moisture has been restored.

No heating the same air in a room over and over again—no waiting for radiators to warm—no pounding of pipes—just a steady silent flow of clean, pure, moist, warm air from the Torrill Zone to every room in the house.

The new Torrill Zone furnaces are here. Come in and see them.

Saves Coal
The EVEN-HEAT STOKER, by proper combustion, obtains more heat units from the fuel; handles smaller sizes and cheaper grades efficiently; and by keeping temperature even, saves much fuel which would otherwise be wasted in the form of gases and smoke up the chimney.

Saves Labor
Being completely automatic in operation, it requires a minimum of attention. Five-minute-once-a-day will enable you to keep your home comfortable in any weather. What a contrast to hand firing.

No Smoking Nuisance
You'll have no more black coal smoke or smudge after installing this efficient machine. That's because the principle of forced underdusting insures almost perfect combustion and maximum efficiency in heating.

No Ashes to Carry
This stoker burns every ounce of fuel so completely that there is no flaky, powdery ash to remove. We furnish a clinker tong for lifting off the clinker ring that forms on the fire with certain types of fuel.

Even Temperature
No form of heating gives a more evenly regulated, accurately controlled supply of warmth than this stoker. It provides heat continuously as wanted, or as called for by the room thermostat, keeping an even room temperature at all times.

Are the Democratic Promises of Four Years Ago

AND HERE

Is How They Were NOT KEPT

Promise—

"We favor... effective control of crop surpluses so that our farmers may have the full benefit of the domestic market.

"We condemn... the unsound policy of restricting agricultural products to the demands of domestic markets."

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM, 1932

Performance—

Competition for the American domestic market has increased as a result of rising imports. FROM 1932 TO 1935 THE VOLUME OF IMPORTS OF CRUDE FOODSTUFFS INCREASED 41% AND OF MANUFACTURED FOODSTUFFS INCREASED 49%.

The following table gives the volume of imports in 1932 and 1935 for important agricultural products:

COMMODITY	1932	1935
Wheat	3,000 bu.	27,439,000 bu.
Corn	348,000 bu.	43,242,000 bu.
Oats	60,000 bu.	10,107,000 bu.
Barley	None	4,840,000 bu.
Rye	None	9,843,000 bu.
Rice	19,074,000 lb.	53,487,000 lb.
Barley malt	62,683,000 lb.	820,625,000 lb.
Hay	13,868 tons	67,171 tons

How Many Times Must We Be Fooled?

Promise—

"AN ACT to relieve the existing National economic emergency by increasing agricultural purchasing power, to raise revenue for extraordinary expenses incurred by reason of such emergency, to provide emergency relief with respect to agricultural indebtedness, to provide for the orderly liquidation of joint stock land banks, and for other purposes."

Preamble of Agricultural Adjustment Act, 1933

Performance—

"It NEVER was the idea of the man who framed the Act, of those in Congress who revised it, nor of Henry Wallace or Chester Davis that the Agricultural Adjustment Administration should be either a MERE EMERGENCY operation or a static agency."

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT,
Statement, October 25, 1935

It's Time For Another Change!

Promise—

"We advocate strengthening and impartial enforcement of the anti-trust laws to prevent monopoly and unfair trade practices, and revision thereof for the better protection of labor and the small producer and distributor."

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM, 1932

"The fundamental principles of the anti-trust laws should be more adequately applied. Monopolies and private price fixing within industries must not be allowed nor condoned. 'No monopoly should be private.'

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT,
Message advocating the extension of the NRA, February 20, 1935

Performance—

"The National Industrial Recovery Act provided that 'While this title is in effect... and for sixty days thereafter, any code, agreement or license approved... under this title... shall be exempt from the provisions of the anti-trust laws of the United States.'" (Title I, Section 5.)

"The Anti-trust Acts prohibit combinations in restraint of trade. But NRA specifically permits such combinations with government sanction and supervision. THERE IS NOT ONE SINGLE CODE THAT IS NOT A COMBINATION IN RESTRAINT OF TRADE, and, if codes are not permitted so to restrain trade, then NRA ought to be repealed tomorrow."

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

SYNOPSIS: At least the excitement of the last few hours has convinced Terence Mahony that Lee-Dawson, Bath, Frazer's partner, is the killer. Andrew Lawson's widow says, Bath, in trying to help Terence fight Lawson, has not helped in bad with the police; Terence himself is suspected of a murder he did not commit. Now he has arranged with Fatty Bassett to administer drugged champagne to the waitress of the notorious Anderson Centipede club—for a reason he does not explain to Fatty.

Chapter 24
DINNER WITH ELSA.
It was soon after six when Mahony, the Bassetts and return to Clarkford. There he interviewed an assistant, obtained a few tips about the location of the apartment and brought the materials necessary for a disguise. After that he returned to his dressing room and changed into his evening clothes for his dinner appointment with Elsa Little.

At half past seven he rang the front door-bell and Elsa Little came to the door. She was wearing a white semi-evening frock of a soft, silky material that had the effect of enhancing her fair complexion. She smiled in a friendly manner at Mahony and held out her hand.

"You are glad you could be here," she said. "I was afraid you might be too busy. You'd like a cocktail, wouldn't you?"

Before dinner, and during dinner, they chatted on ordinary topics, and never once did she refer to the murder of the events which followed the murder. With all the skill of a consummate actress playing a difficult part, she was able to bring out to please him and make him like her and trust her.

Mahony was no fool. He did not even occur to him that her change of attitude might be mere pretense. She was so sure of herself, so confident, so sure of her innocence of her uncle's murder, it did not strike him as unnatural that she should have come to believe in his innocence.

Elsa, an actress conscious of the position of her audience, was aware that Mahony was responding to her artificial pretense. That pleased her, and in a way, disarmed her. Every now and then she felt that it was rather hateful to be pretending like this, making up to a man with the idea of luring him on to his own destruction.

After dinner they returned to the drawing-room for coffee, and there Elsa made her first reference to the murder.

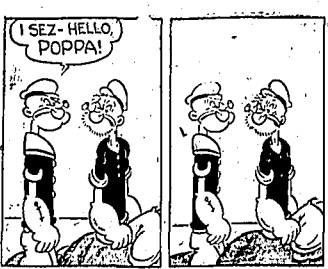

"It's funny I should have thought it was your voice I heard in the room that night," she said. "That awful night when my uncle was killed, you see, he had just committed the murder. I think you were right when you said that you're not the kind of man who would stay anybody in the back."

"Mahony could hold out no longer. He had always asked himself how and how he was impaled to tell her the truth about his own over-mastering force.

"I was in the room when your uncle was killed," he said quietly. "I said Elsa in a hurried tone, she shook her head slightly from him. She had been hoping for that admission, planning for it, and now she had it. It came to her with all the force of a sudden striking shock.

"This is how it happened," she said. "I heard his voice, quite by accident, that there was likely to be a plan to kidnap you as Albert Hart said that night. I decided to interfere. With either of these alien philosophies. We believe in government by the people and for the people. To be able as a neutral to exert an influence for peace we must have a government by the people at home and abroad. We must mind our own business. As Theodore Roosevelt said, we must not become a middlemen's party.

Support Our Rights "Without arrogancy we must support our own rights. We must take no action that would injure others. In seeking our own prosperity we must seek also the prosperity of other nations. Prosperity throughout the world means larger happiness and that strengthens the forces against war."

"We are determined in this rest- less world to keep our own nation on a basis of peace. We want this western hemisphere to be a lesson to all mankind that men and races can live together in harmony."

"We have always been ready to limit and reduce our naval forces to the absolute minimum. "We should extend, "as far as wisdom allows, the fraying of rules and principles governing the international relations of peace."

ROSS LOOKS AHEAD TO SENATE CAREER

Governor Tells Jerome Audience His Plans as Toga Wearer

JEROME, Oct. 24—Governor C. Ross introduced into his campaign for Senator William E. Borah's seat in the United States Senate here tonight a verbal program that he will carry to Twin Falls, Republican candidate for governor.

"After giving figures to show that he had saved the state money during his term as chief executive, Governor Ross said a verbal program that he will carry to Twin Falls, Republican candidate for governor."

"The governor said: "I know even in 1920 what I would do when I became governor. At the present time I know what I'll do in the senate. Along with the other 93 senators I will study international questions. From then on I will be for Idaho, and for Idaho alone."

"In regard to the reciprocal tariff treaty the Kansas said: "What can we do to stay out? " In this modern world no nation can be isolated. Neutrality can not be an absolute guarantee of peace. Neutrality is a belief it holds out one of the great hopes."

"The decline of neutral rights has been one of slow growth. As international trade developed, nations began to lean on the interests of neutrals as against the interests of belligerents. Thus they sought to isolate not only the axes, but also indirect effects upon trade and commerce."

"This was and is the way of progress. Thus there grew up a set of rules and principles for governing the conduct of neutrals. These have nothing to do with the sympathies which a nation may have. They have nothing to do with the much talked of war guilt. They aim simply at stopping the warring nations from interfering with the neutrals from being drawn into the conflict."

"Specific pledges not to go to war under any condition that encourage neutrality to attempt aggression which would, in fact, precipitate it into war. In view of our enormous political strength, demonstrated in 1917 and 1918, I believe hereafter nations will be reluctant to violate any neutral rights which we insist on."

Landon expressing "complete sympathy with the general objects of the conduct of neutrals. These have nothing to do with the sympathies which a nation may have. They have nothing to do with the much talked of war guilt. They aim simply at stopping the warring nations from interfering with the neutrals from being drawn into the conflict."

"We should extend, "as far as wisdom allows, the fraying of rules and principles governing the international relations of peace."

"In behalf of arbitration for settling international disputes where mediation fails, Landon said "we should make this machinery more nearly perfect and seek to bring other nations to the same view."

controversy, he said that "imported products will be shut out when they will be too great for American consumption" and praised the New Deal farm program by saying that "it is in the history of the United States that a national administration does anything constructive for agriculture until President Roosevelt started his soil conservation program. This plan is not complete but if Roosevelt returns to the White House in a few years it will be a part of the basis and farmers will know when they plant approximately what price will be paid when they harvest their products."

Paris Martin, Boise attorney, predicted that Roosevelt will carry Idaho by 60,000 votes.

The meeting, attended by approximately 400 persons in Jerome high school auditorium, was presided over by S. Iren Robinson, county Democratic chairman, who introduced county candidates, Mrs. Alice Hill of Twin Falls gave two readings and music was furnished by the Jerome high school band.

OUR HOME TOWN HALLOWEEN

Strange things can happen on Halloween—strange things—impossible things. I have seen a crabbled old man, with a white beard, his eyes into disconcerting outwards at the sight of another ancient, grown grinning by a sudden stroke which two young lumps had stretched, ahn-high, across the blue walk. And there was old-age, magically transmuted into youth again.

Yes, strange things happen on Halloween. Not such ordinary things as ghosts and goblins and witches on broomsticks but the really rare and magical and impossible things in our own nature which the spirit of pure mischief, free from melody can effect.

Pittsburgh Back In Running For Rose Bowl Nomination

77,224 Spectators See Notre Dame Suffer Humiliating Defeat

Seven Mighty Grid Teams Taste First Defeats Of Season

Panthers Rout Notre Dame And Gophers Of Minnesota Swamp Purdue With Tricky Lateral-Passing Attack

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—Pitt's infuriated Panthers handed Notre Dame its worst defeat in 22 years today as six other major teams were wiped off the undefeated list and Minnesota's Gophers, turning loose the power for the first time this year, rolled up its 21st consecutive victory.

Upset by Duquesne in shocking fashion a week ago, Pitt gained double consolation this week. First Duquesne, unbeaten, untied and unscored upon, was knocked off by West Virginia Wesleyan last night.

Then the Panthers routed Notre Dame, 26-0, before a crowd of 70,000 to put themselves right back in the running for a possible Rose Bowl nomination.

Meanwhile, 80,000 watched Minnesota roll over Purdue, practically unscathed, with tricky lateral-passing offense, 33 to 0. The Bears put up a great fight for the first time but lost to Minnesota's superior reserve strength in the end.

Johnnie Notre Dame and Purdue in the best list for the first time were St. Mary's of California, Michigan, Wake Forest, North Carolina and Catholic University.

St. Mary's had a grueling 7-6 defeat in its previous game. The school will take a perfect record into the battle with Pitt next Saturday.

Michigan's unbeaten record was broken by Wake Forest, 17-0, and Catholic was bowled over by Mississippi, 14-0.

Duke which had looked like one of the country's finest, bowed to Tennessee's fighting volunteers in a 30-0 rout at Durham, N.C., 11-13, while North Carolina was no match for Tulane's undefeated Green Wave and surrendered, 21-0.

While Pitt and Purdue were upholding eastern intercollegiate football's unbeaten record, the upset decisions to face from other sections, Manhattan was beaten by Detroit and Syracuse by Maryland, both by 20-0 counts.

Records Unblemished Holy Cross, Villanova, Army, Yale and Princeton all entered the season with undefeated claims although the last named was tied by New York University, 7-7. Duke rolled in the first period to stop Duke's 14-0, 7-0. Army rolled over Boston College, 34-0. Villanova stopped Springfield, 24-0. Holy Cross and Yale trounced Rutgers, 29-0.

The eastern program otherwise was marked by Princeton's 7-0 triumph over Navy before 10,000; Dartmouth's 25-7 rout of Harvard; Penn's impressive 48-6 parade through Brown; a 4-0 victory for Colgate.

Kid Cannon-Stan Birrell Bout Opens Fight Season

Fort-Douglas-Boxer Slight Favorite In Headliner

Opening Twin Falls winter fight season with battles slated to be held every two or three days, the first will be for Tuesday night's attraction at Legion Memorial hall when Kid Cannon, the Twin Falls Amateur Legion, Douglas, tangles with his arch rival, Stan Birrell of Ogden, Utah. Kid Cannon is the top on the program, the first of which will start at 8 p.m. This week's class will serve as a prelude for Ted Primesa as promoter for Twin Falls Amateur Legion. Primesa has promised that the first card will be a "bang up" affair and that the event will be a tremendous ring talent during the winter months.

DENVER, Oct. 24 (AP)—Utah State, co-champion last season, grabbed the Rocky Mountain football conference lead by defeating Washington State, 12-0, today.

GRID GRIST

DISCIPLINE—Disciplinary measures are taken daily in every branch of sports. Discipline is a key word in all athletic achievement. But at times the general public has cause to wonder if the definition of the word is not stretched a little, even to a point where the major achievement of athletes, sportsmanship, is sometimes forgotten.

For instance take the case of Jerome high school of athletic conference last week. Suspended Jerome from further participation in athletics during the current semester because the North Side school had an ineligible player in the first two games of the football season.

Long before the board action was taken the player under question, Leary Erickson, was dropped from the lineup. Jerome school officials believed him to be eligible when he did play. There is little doubt in the mind of anyone that Jerome would have had any trouble in winning those two opening games without Erickson's services. And yet the whole school was forced to take the rap at the time when Jerome, for the first time in years, had produced one of the strongest football teams in South central Idaho.

The state league is not to be condemned to too great an extent, for rules are rules—whether good, bad or indifferent. But it is a sportsmanlike action to allow such a case to come before the board after it had apparently been cleared up.

HARD LUCK—Hard luck team of the Big Ten grid conference this year seems to be the Twin Falls Bruins. At the opening of the term Coach Hank Powers predicted little or nothing for his prospects. As things turned out, however, the team has done well in conference championship, injuries, however, intervened. In the Burley game, Mike Suter, veteran fullback, and Bill Slater, powerhouse tackle, were the only ones to see the field.

OPPORTUNITY—And again Coach De Bierna scores a triumph after some of the big shots of the game predicted a Purdue victory. Minnesota must have unscathed for the first time this year for 31 to 0 is terrific.

The oak tree Olem Morris, Olympian, decision champion, won at Berlin, has been placed in the Colorado State college greenhouse at Fort Collins and will be planted on the campus next spring.

ROBY—Everything's now for the Trojans of U.S.C. Downgraded during the past few seasons, Coach Howard Jones' proteges have returned to their old glory and are sweeping through the opposition to retain an undefeated record. Another thing that is probably pretty roby about now is the face of Coach Paddock. Remember about a year ago when the famous sprinter demarcate called that U.S.C. look up a new coach?

Utes to Capture Logan Eleven Triumphs Over Indians, 12 to 0, Before Homecoming Crowd; Kent Ryan Leads Attack

LOGAN, Utah, Oct. 24 (AP)—Utah State Agricultural college's study gridders assumed command of the Rocky Mountain conference pen-kick scramble by soundly thrumping the erstwhile unbeaten University of Utah Indians 12 to 0 here today.

A capably homecoming crowd of 12,000 jammed the Farmers' box for the week's intermountain football classic. The Big and White playing Utah in Logan the first time since 1915, the 10,000 two nerve-tugging drives to touchdowns, meanwhile completely bottling up the Indians' presumably iron-clad passing attack.

Ryan Leads Attack Big Kent Ryan, all-conference halfback last year, once more carried the brunt of an attack that netted 12 touchdowns through the air, but moved steadily on the ground.

A first period punt by Ryan set Utah back to the forward line. Captain Newell-Cull kicked to midfield, but Halfback Greener returned 17 yards to Utah's 23. Little "Book" Stangerson, passed to End Neil Duncker for a first down on the 14. Ryan smothered the U, then loomed around his left end to score.

Passes Intercepted Several intercepted passes checked the offensive of both teams in the second and third periods. With the third stanza nearly over, Aggie's march from their own 20 to Utah's 50. Greason and Ryan carrying the ball, Greason kicked his leg end for a first down on Utah's 9, they fumbled a pass and Cull recovered for Utah.

Ryan sprinted 23 yards to Utah's 48 in the final quarter, but Utah held. Misquation intercepted Cull's pass on the 31 and Sublette Macero crashed through to the U. Greener hit the line for a touchdown. The game ended 10 seconds later.

Frank Crawford, Tennessee tackle, played 20 more minutes as a sophomore last season than any other Tennessee gridder.

Average height of gridder at Oregon State college is 5 feet 10 1/2 inches. Average weight is 162 1/2 pounds.

Panthers, Conquered By Little Duquesne, Smother Irish, 26-0

Spectacular Open Field Running By 17-Year-Old Jewish Lad Features Pitt's Smashing Victory

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24 (AP)—Proud Notre Dame, whose football legions have scaled the loftiest heights, suffered its most humiliating defeat in 11 historic years today as the mighty Pittsburgh Panthers, subdued a week ago by little Duquesne, broke loose to crush the fighting Irish, 26 to 0 before a wild crowd of 70,224 spectators.

Marshall "Biggie" Goldberg, 17-year-old Jewish sophomore from the mountains of West Virginia, solved the great mystery of the Irish, who came to Pittsburgh undefeated and untied.

Slippery and fast, the boy called "Biggie" because he is smaller than other heroes at Pitt, led the famous, victorious attack. The defeat was the worst suffered by Notre Dame since World War I. The Irish 26 to 0 in 1922.

Halfback Goldberg, weighing 175 pounds and standing five feet nine, scored but one of the four Pitt touchdowns but his spectacular open-field running was directly responsible for two others as the Panthers rushed over one touchdown in each the first and third periods and then roared over two more to make it a rout in the final.

Notre Dame, was as badly outclassed as the score indicated. The Irish didn't make a first down until the ending minutes of the third period and only made a total of four as against 15 for Pitt. In yardage gained, they were outdistanced 215 yards to 72. Notre Dame's only threat, made in the final period, was halted by the Panther where a passing attack failed miserably.

U.C.L.A. Bruins Conquer Beavers

Los Angeles Eleven Downs Battling Oregon State Team, 22 to 13

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 24 (AP)—The Bruins of the University of California at Los Angeles, aided by the line-smashing, place-kicking ability of fullback Billy Bob Williams, captured a coast conference football victory today over Oregon State, 22 to 13.

With 30,000 fans in the stands Williams broke a 13 to 13 deadlock midway in the final period with a 25-yard place kick.

The book broke the Bruins' lethargy and the fighting spirit of the battling Beavers, and U.C.L.A. romped off with another touchdown-moment later.

Howard Payne college, the small Texas school that held the T.C.U. record for a 6-0 score in 1937, opened game this year, lost to T.C.U. 41 to 1925.
