BUSINESS ON WAY TO NORMAL BASIS

Commerce Department Sees Income Balance With Expenditures

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23 (AP)—Calling the development one of "paramount significance," the commerce department said today that business and industry in the aggregate probably would be "out of the red" this year for the first time since 1929.

Estimating a national income of at least $60,000,000,000 this year, the department said in its annual report that it "appears probable" that income produced might equal income paid out.

Whether industry as a whole operates at a profit or loss is determined by the relationship between national income produced and national income paid out. When the latter exceeds the former, it means the total expenditures of industry are more than the aggregate value of its products.

Draw on Reserves

At $12,000,000 less, year national income paid out exceeded income produced by $23,000,000, causing industry to borrow or draw upon reserves to make up this sum.

The gap between the two types of income closed in 1932 and reached almost $2,000,000,000 in 1933, but has been narrowing since.

Marketing economic conditions during the first year ended July 1, the report cited "marked improvement." It added:

"Economic recovery broadened this year with acceleration of activity in the durable goods industries and in construction lines, the latter plus in farm income, the increase in the number of persons employed and the expansion of industrial payrolls."

"The upward recovery was especially noteworthy in the late months of the last year."

Unemployment Census

Ascertaining an unemployment census is needed to give an accurate check of the jobs, the department said, "the desirability of decreasing federal expenditures to relieve unemployment and at the same time protecting those who would be without work if government assistance were withdrawn is recognized by all who are interested in this subject."

The report described nine new trade agreements concluded during the last fiscal year as "a major step toward the recovery of our foreign trade on a definite and equitable basis."

The department said American business had come to realize "the importance of the trade agreements program in restoring channels of trade formerly closed or severely limited by official restrictions."

Skaters Find Ice Too Thin On Park Pool

With hundreds of local children and adults waiting for a chance to try out ice skates received for Christmas and purchased recently, weather here has failed to put anything but a thin coat of ice on water in the city swimming pool at Harman park, an inspection revealed Monday.

With the pool approximately half full of water ice appeared only around the edges. In the center the water was open.

No little disturbance has been caused park workers by children who persist on throwing stones into the pool. In some instances the rocks have lodged on the thin ice and an additional covering of water will have to be resorted to to cover them when the ice does form.

For six past several days workers have been busy filling in holes throughout the parking area surrounding the pool. Later it is planned to grade the area and cover it with gravel.

Several men also are busy constructing flower beds which will abut the sides of the canal crossing the park in front of the Old Rescue's outdoor fireplace.

BUHL TWIN FALLS BURLEY GOODING

CLAUD PRATT SALES CO. 5311 on the road to the Hospital.

Hundreds of people all over this part of Southern Idaho have all ready told Claud Pratt that he is selling the motor and tractors all that they have ever used... there are even service stations men that are also believing that Claud Pratt sells a wonderful oil and several of them are already having the oil here and reselling it. Mr. Gray of the Gray Service Station in Buhl told Claud Pratt that he would try and sell some of the Pratt oil to his Buhl trade, but Mr. Gray went on to say "I am going to give the public their choice... I will also handle other oils such as the pure Pennsylvanians that I know all over the United States and I will also handle whatever brand of oil that has been verified to the sky... this later oil that I speak of must have some kind of a bug in it that has claws like a cat as they claim it will hang onto a bearing like a blind bull dog on to the end of a white faced critter!" Pratt said "O.K. Mr. Gray, just give me oil a chance with the other oil and let the consumer be his own judge. Well, the story goes on... he has already moved about 2 cartloads of our oil and he is only half started... he sells his lines very much better than any other kind. Claud Pratt could so on and tell you many other true stories about the results of this Arkansas oil... the oil it was friendly to your motors as an Arkansas neighbor is to you... Arkansas neighbors wear, refrigerators so does the oil that comes from Arkansas... keep your eyes open Pratt's going to land into the three business all spraddled out... he is going to kick tires and take his every direction... we are going to chance our slogan to "SERVICE WITH A SMILE" instead of Service with a Smile. "No Sunday Business"

He also plays a violin and turns handorgans. Besides, we have other troubles too numerous to mention.

FIVE DOLLARS A DAY
Labor leaders representing forty-two steel plants and the bulk of the American steel industry, meeting at Pittsburgh the other day, called for a national convention of the workers to be held for a minimum wage of five dollars a day. That would mean a considerable advance over present rates, especially if workers in the higher brackets were raised proportionately.

THEY would doubtless greet the news with a smile. He established the five dollar minimum wage in his plants a year back in nineteen hundred fourteen, before the World War. He expected that the workmen would be glad to accept the advance and that it would be good business to increase his employees' buying power. The result apparently justified him. Today economists who were dubious then are saying that the result has done for the whole industrial system depends on making consumers' buying power as high as possible.

KINDNESS TO PARENTS
Dean Nicholson of Smith College advised students departing for the holidays at home to be kind to their parents during the festive season. She was moved to make this appeal by a pathetic letter she received after the Christmas vacation a year ago. A parent had written:

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Robert Newby cracks the lid of political life. "They shall not laugh," by roaring when his funny bone is tickled at a certain time there are times when he almost goes over the wall.

There is no doubt but restaurants are suffering from the flood of brightly lit, well equipped food and counter places that descended upon New York on the first of the year.

Nothing makes a fellow feel so happy as to arrive at a hotel in the middle of the night and find a room in a rooming house.

Still another collapsing entertainment flake along Broadway is the dim Chinese restaurant.

It is significant that this criticism—prevalent behind the banking scene—is not uttered publicly for fear of the banks and the wise to go along with the administration.

SCORNE. Certain financial leaders have been consulted by Treasury and Federal Reserve officials about the best way to counteract the inflationary effects of the gold from abroad.

SOCIETY and CLUBS

Dancing in a "winter wonderland," nearly two hundred couples enjoyed the MeC Club's annual Christmas ball at Radioland last evening. An aurora borealis, cleverly constructed of colored streamers and lights, standing behind large lighted cellophane letters forming the club name, marked one corner of the ball while in the opposite was an igloo with miniature penguins guarding the entrance. Around the hall were white streamers, and large drawings of Eskimos. Over the orchestra stand the club members.

WOMAN RELIES ON SELF-DEFENSE PLEA

Mrs. Luella Yates Goes to Trial at Jerome on Murder Charge

Jerome, Dec. 23 (AP)—Mrs. Luella Yates, 50, accused of last week's murder in connection with the fatal shooting of LeRoy Draper, a neighbor, last November 16, will rely upon a self-defense plea. It was indicated when she went on trial in the district court here today.

In questioning of prospective jurors, her attorneys, J. R. Rothwell and Harry Povey of Twin Falls, exhibited keen interest in the attitude of each candidate for the jury with respect to evidence tending to show self-defense.

The regular jury list containing 21 names was exhausted at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and District Judge J. Lee Oberholser directed to Sheriff James Davis an order for a special venire calling for 20 additional jurors to be in attendance at the court when proceedings in the trial are resumed at noon tomorrow.

Peremptory Challenges

With 10 peremptory challenges allotted to each side, the jury selected by Prosecuting Attorney Frank Hettie, had exercised three, and the defense, two, when the jury list was exhausted today.

The murder-charged woman was accompanied by her husband, Charles Yates, in the court room today. The complaining witness, Mrs. M. Draper, widow of the slain man, sat near the prosecutor. Mrs. Yates is alleged to have shot Draper in the leg when the latter came to the Yates residence in retaliation an argument over a missing hog. Gascones developed in the leg caused Draper's death at the Wendell hospital two days later, the prosecutor's information charges.

MARKETS RISE TO NEW HIGH LEVELS

Potato Price in Twin Falls Leaps to $1.85 to Join Other Products

The upward surge of market prices on agricultural products was culminated yesterday when the potato price leaped 20 cents a hundred to set a new high level—the highest price paid on potatoes in Twin Falls since 1929, according to local dealers.

Toppling the market yesterday, number one Idaho Russets advanced from $1.60 to $1.85 as a bulk price to growers while number two grade brought from $1.25 to $1.40. Eastern Idaho prices here were from $1.50 to $1.60 on number ones and from $1 to $1.05 on number twos.

The unusual advance in prices, however, is not alone in affecting the potato market, for other of the district's leading crops have also been witnessing great price increases during the past few weeks.

Oats, barley, rye and wheat yesterday jumped from $1.50 to $1.70 a hundred, a new high since 1929, to join the wheat price, which is also at its highest point since that time. For several days soft wheat has averaged $1 a hundred, but yesterday dropped down to 99 cents on the local market.

The seed price locally was yesterday reported to be at its top point on the past eight years when $31 was offered for red clover, $23 for blue leg grama alfalfa and $23 for common alfalfa.

Another crop to hold to a premium is the market on beans. For several weeks now a general price of $3.90 a hundred has been offered on U.S. great northern number ones with 20 cents less being the general price on the number two grade. Prices are reported as high as $4.50 while $4.15 is being offered for number one small reds. These prices are the highest to be paid for beans here since August, 1935.

Beets Look Good To complete the advance in prices of southern Idaho's major agricultural products, R. H. Tallman, Idaho manager for the Amalgamated Beet Growers' association, last night said that "all indications are that the price paid this year on beets will be between $2.50 and $3." If this is the case the beet price this year will also reach a new high since 1930 when a price of $2.50 was paid.

To date a price of $3.50 has been paid and with additional payment of $1 to $1.50 a ton, the price would top all years since 1930 which registered growers as follows: 1931, $4.00; 1932, $3.75; 1933, $3.45; 1934, $4.25; 1935, $4.15.

VALUE OF SILVER FOX INVOLVED IN LAWSUIT

A six-man jury was impaneled in district court here yesterday to try a dispute over an employment contract in which three different judgments were entered in the probate court.

Plaintiff is C. H. Hayes and his mother, Mrs. Beatrice Beccala, suing H. G. Hayes of Twin Falls for a share of the net value of eight young silver foxes raised while mother and son were in charge of operations at Hayes' five-acre poultry farm on one-half mile north of Twin Falls. They contend the young foxes are worth $2,400, and that their share of the net value, under terms of the contract, would be $1,150.

The case was brought to trial in the district court on appeal by the employer from the probate court where three judgments were entered, one for $175 and another for $80, by default, and a third for a jury's award of $200 plus costs which by the amount amounted to $420.

The claimants, represented by J. H. Barner, Twin Falls attorney, introduced at the trial evidence of the testimony of four witnesses, C. H. Barne, C. M. Brannon, P. W. Bahner, and Frank Parnes.

Defendants' attorneys are Chapman and Chapman of Twin Falls. Members of the jury are Ed Hartman, George Drake, O. G. Taylor, Carl Ridgeway, W. K. Lantz and W. M. Fuller.

Mrs. Elizabeth L. McInnis, 63, wife of W. C. McInnis died Sunday at the family home. She had been ill for the past several months. Mrs. McInnis was born July 2, 1873, in Bates county, Mo. She was a member of the Golden Rule Community church.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the Christian church with Rev. J. H. Barner of the Christian church and Rev. L. D. Smith of the Church of the Nazarene officiating. Interment is to be in Twin Falls cemetery under direction of the White mortuary.

Mrs. McInnis is survived by her husband, three children, Emerson and John McInnis and Mrs. Alfred Heron, all of Twin Falls; two brothers, J. W. Thomas and George Thomas, both of Butler, Missouri; and three sisters, Mrs. R. T. Longstrech, Mrs. H. H. Edinger and Mrs. George Daniels, all of Gooding. Four grandchildren are left. A sister, Mrs. Vincent Burt of Gooding, preceded her in death.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE STAFF MAKES REPORT

Members of the staff of the local office of the United States Employment service are completing an occupational labor inventory which was initiated in Boise by December 30. Ray D. Butler, local manager, said Monday.

The offices were closed to the public from noon on December 24 until Monday morning but Christmas day was the only holiday observed by the employees.

On the inventory of all the more than 5,000 workers, registered are classified into three main groups consisting of men, women and veterans. These classifications are further broken down into three subdivisions consisting of unemployed, those employed but retaining registration for possible advancement to a better position, and those certified as relief persons. Each person registered must also be classified in primary and secondary occupational groups, Mr. Butler said.

In the actual report made to the Idaho office names are not used but each person is classified according to an occupational code developed by the standards and research division of the United States department of labor. Each classification has a code number, Mr. Butler said.

The employment offices will be closed starting at noon, December 31 and will not reopen until 10 o'clock the morning of January 4.
