ANNOUNCEMENT STIRS UP BITTER FIGHT ON ISSUE

British Will Make Statement to Strengthen Assault on League of Nations—Pro-League Senators Prepared to Meet Issue—President Will Make Nationwide Tour in Support of Covenant

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Infinite announcement by Secretary Tumulty in New York that President Wilson would appear in person today at the senate, Thursday, acted as a spur to the leaders of the pro-league and anti-league parties in the upper house. Although the launching of the covenant campaign is still more than four days distant, there was a noticeable hurrying of final plans for the fight against the society of nations, which proves to become one of the most bitter contests in the history of the senate.

First Twin-Falls Round-up Over Last Night; Champion Riders Selected by Judges

Judges of the Round Up were busy last evening with the task of deciding the champion all around cowboy among those who competed in the three-day round-up.

The number of events, and the variety, as well as the position in each event are figured for each day and then added into the grand total.

The rider with the best record for the three days is declared the champion all around cowboy of the world. However, the title of the best rider at the Round Up is not necessarily believed last night to be among the leaders. No division was expected last night.

The champion will receive a $250 saddle.

Hugh Strickland of Gard City, Kansas, three times champion bucking horse rider of the world, won the first prize at the Twin Falls Round Up, when he was judged the winner in the final of the local contest. Strickland rode Big Timber into first place and received a beautiful $250 saddle and $125 in cash as the prize.

Kittie Canutt captured first honors in the ladies' contest, thus demonstrating her all around horseback ability as a rider. She won the bulk of the racing events she entered. Her award was a prize saddle and $75 in cash.

Four riders qualified for the finals in the men's contest. Strickland on Big Timber was the first, followed by Tex Smith on Who Thought of It. Houston on Tanager and Earl Squary on Heron. Strickland and Smith had not appeared before today and it was necessary for him to ride two horses to qualify for the finals. This he had three rides, and finally took over, at all, making Hi Power and Tom McKey have to strike the finals.

The judges' decision ranked Strickland first with 92 per cent; Tex Smith second with 82 per cent; Johnson third, with 80 per cent and Houston fourth, with 76 per cent.

Kittie Canutt rode Old Johnson and had her without getting a buck out of either of them. Given a third trial on an unnamed local horse she secured first decision with 91 per cent. Louise Thompson on Star won second with 84 per cent and Carroll third with 80 per cent.

For the whole three days the Round Up crowds have watched two particular daily sport shows (those between Chester Parsons and Jimmy Taylor in the men's racing events, and between Bertie Parsons and Kittie Canutt in the ladies' events). The company races, the relay races, the relay and the Roman race. On the second day Taylor managed to take the Roman race away from his rival and yesterday he cleaned Parsons in both the Roman race and the relay, making an even break of the day's contests. On the second day, Mr. Hancock succeeded in winning the Roman race and yesterday he did it again. Kittie Canutt winning the relay. Both of them were defeated by Little Bertie Parsons yesterday in the company race, Kittie Canutt finishing second and Mr. Hancock third.

Time was when Bertie Hancock had no equal in the relay races. That was when saddle changing was part of the sport, as it still is with the men. It was there that for a while he outdistanced the adequate rivals might obtain through their lighter weight or faster mounts. Nowadays, with that feature eliminated, she had a harder road to travel. At the final Round Up she has been able to cope with the heavy horses and the marvelous agility of Little Kittie Canutt in changing mounts.

There have been many a horse belonging to Kittie Canutt by her own personality and skill equestrian in the saddle. She appears more in the role and costume of a girl jockey than a Wild West rider. Bertie Hancock is an opposite type. She is the cowboy, pure and simple—the stern self-reliant woman of frontier days. Her mastery of her horse is only equalled by her amazing nerve and daring in the saddle. The pick-up of a rearing, plunging horse or some sudden dangerous looking foot founder at her hip.

There was plenty of action with the best steers yesterday. Buffalo Vernon's mark of 43 seconds on the first day, remained unbroken, however by the "roper," Vernon himself making the best time with 1:37. In the bull dogging, Lucius, the Indian boy, made the best mark of the Round Up, downing his steer in 2:12 seconds. It was necessary for him to tug another one to get in on the prize money and that time he was followed by the steer him partner to qualify. The steer in the immediate neighborhood set up a big argument howling that the Indian hadn't had a fair deal. The appearance of the steers in the field that he had been allowed a hard fought effort of something to that effect. Jimmy Taylor's mark of 33:12 seconds stood as the best official time for the day—for the three days in fact.

The Round Up closed with the usual hub-bub, a lot of wild horses and clineing riders, stamping and bucking here and there over the track and field.

Besides the contests, exhibitions in trick and fancy riding were given by Buffalo Vernon and Hugh Strickland; there was trick riding by Kittie Canutt, Chester Parsons, Tommy Douglas, Jimmie Taylor, Plunkie Gist and Lucien Williams. Hugh Strickland rode a bucking steer and Tommy Douglas, Lucien Williams and Hugh on a bucking horse. In an exhibition, Chester Parsons, Dal Parsons, was trained by son, Chester.

Yesterday's crowd was in the neighborhood of nine thousand, filling the stands considerably more than on the opening day, although by no means parking the park as on the fourth.

Last night the first annual Kite Round Up came to a close at the track and show the riders gathered for their final evening of work and rested. The usual big crowd covered every available seat and roamed on nearby roofs.

THE RESULTS

Cowboy's company race—Chester Parsons, A. Nevan, H. Thompson; Time, 4 seconds.

Cowgirl's company race—Daisy Douglas, Kittie Canutt, Bertie Hancock, Indian pony race—Adolph Perrell, A. Nevan; Time, 46 seconds.

Cowboy's relay race—Chester Parsons, Jimmy Taylor; Time, 2:06 1/2.

Ladies' relay race—Kittie Canutt, Bertha Blawett; Time, 2 minutes.

Indian bucking relay—A. Nevan, Adolph Perrell; Time, 2:05.

Bony express race—Jimmie Taylor, Chester Parsons.

Cowboy's Roman race—Jimmie Taylor, Chester Parsons; Time, 10:12 seconds.

Cowgirl's Roman race—Bertha Blawett, Kittie Canutt; Time, 49 seconds.

Men's bucking contest—Chester Parsons, Hugh Strickland, Tex Smith, Earl Johnson, Heuben Hogg.

Ladies' bucking contest—Kittie Canutt, Louise Thompson, Bonnie McCarroll.

Wild horse race—Howard Tuttle, first.

SHOTTEN IS SUNDAY MANAGER

Outfielder Obtained by Cardinals From Washington Club Suffering Riskey on Sabbath.

Bert Shotten, the outfielder obtained from the Washington Senators, has been appointed Sunday manager of the Cardinals by the president and manager, Branch Rickey. Riskey is one of the few players who never played ball on Sunday. Matty was another, but Rickey had him on the bench when he was manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

DEMPESEY GENTLE TODAY IS BIG BLOW-OFF IN S. I. L. AS LITTLE LAMB SCHEDULE—BURLEY AND TWIN FALLS BATTLE HERE FOR MIDSEASON TITLE

Delightful, Good Natured, Good Hearted, Lover of Children and—Oh, Piffle

(By H. C. Hamilton.)

THE LITTLE LAMB is in for a long stretch of joyful hours in a king of heavy weights unlike any other the world ever before saw.

Jack Dempsey's position has gained, here, where he means good natured, gentle at every one, loyal to his friends, a gentleman at all times and a lover of children. If he doesn't devote himself with a flood of good nature and useful advice then most of those who have become acquainted with the new champion are disappointed.

In Willard we had a champion of little class as a boxer or a fighter. He never showed any good nature and, therefore, we never knew what he could do against men of class. He became champion because he caught Jack Johnson when that worthy could not help himself. He never liked to fight, and he obliged publicly. Attention was given him. He liked to appear in the ring on a downtown street because the crowd stared at him.

At the same time Willard was a delightful fellow, good natured and good hearted. He was born to be a family man and stick close to a first wife. It never was in him to be a fighter.

In Dempsey we have found a man who, however he made out because it brings him new friends, but because he is a fighter, he has a different attitude. He became champion because he was a fighter, yesterday. He has had medicine for his fingers and tried to hold him through an act that he thought that thing itself into a ring after the victory, he launched "Aw, let 'em alone," he launched (he failed to every one around him and his hand clutched every eye that was directed toward him. He is enduring himself and more to Toland's longer he stays. He will endure himself to please every one, because that is his nature.

Dempsey will probably fight again within a year. He has always wanted a battle with George (Fighting) and there he will make him a will and defeated by the champion's master. There is money for the champion in these lines, and he never has shown any intention to save on money.

While Dempsey was figuring on what had happened to him to make him a champion, the future of the fighting king was sending his way into obscurity. It would come back to the littlest punch for Willard won't let it. He wants to go home, hold the kiddies on his face, and sell and talk about the ropes and Mrs. Willard wants him to do just that very thing. She's glad her husband has earned to be a champion, even though she did sit at the ring-side and see the huge man whom some she almost battered in a couple of a smaller and younger antagonist. It was not a real fight the two men put up here because it was too one-sided. Willard never had a chance from the opening round.

It was not lack of condition. It was just a case of his having not his partner. It is a man who could have beaten had had any man but Dempsey.

WEARS INSIGNIA OF THE REVERSED RIVET

Joe Jackson, with the insignia of the reversed rivet on his chest, is the only man in the world who has the ball in odd size for the White Sox. If he could play all his games on the road he would have a clean bill of health. He is a club for the championship, as he is. He will have to listen to the crowd in Chicago for half the season.

Where They Play
Burley at Twin Falls
Paler at Piler

Willard, it's a case of best with our business interest club. The fortunes of war having departed, their deadly rivals, the league leading Burley, for their door this afternoon.

The Twin Falls outfit to take the opportunity and win their own pennant, as the saying is: To-day's game settles the location of the pennant for the first half of the season. Somebody must stop the Burley club today or they catch the pennant. Under the circumstances it will be the Twin Falls to elect to do the stopping.

The home fans and team would trust somebody else in the league to do the job.

As mentioned on previous occasions a victory today will leave Burley and Piler at the top of the league, while Burley a third party to the argument. If successful in stopping the Piler crowd, the Twin Falls outfit is not nearly so far behind as they appear to be.

Manager Metz will give Burley a shot of what Burley got last Sunday. The Piler crowd is not nearly so far behind as they appear to be.

Alexander, the slick right hander, recently imported from Seattle, Alex has had medicine for his fingers and tried to hold him through an act that he thought that thing itself into a ring after the victory, he launched "Aw, let 'em alone," he launched (he failed to every one around him and his hand clutched every eye that was directed toward him. He is enduring himself and more to Toland's longer he stays. He will endure himself to please every one, because that is his nature.
