

DR. WU THINKS CHINA WAS SOLD OUT TO JAPAN

Shantung Settlement, He Asserts; Robs People of Right of Self-Determination.

CHINA DESERVES FAIR TREATMENT

Was One of Allies and Entitled to Same Consideration as Other Nations Which Had Suffered Disembowelment by Mailed Fiat.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The only thing for China to do now is to put her house in order so that she can better defend herself against the attacks of international evildoers. This is the opinion of Dr. Wu.

Dr. Wu, Chinese member of the Chinese delegation to the Versailles peace conference, made this comment today on the Shantung settlement.

China had hoped for justice and the return of the Paris conference, and she does not think that she received it there, continued Dr. Wu.

China does not think it justice that property taken away from her by the Germans should be given to some one else. China was one of the allies; she stood always ready and willing to do her full share for the winning of the war, and she naturally thought that she would be regarded as an ally when it came to the final settlement.

JAPAN RESISTS QUESTIONINGS OF GOOD FAITH

Promise Already Given to Restore Rights in Shantung Is Sufficient, Declares Delegate.

JAPAN WILL DO WHAT SHE SAYS. Agreement for Restoration Is in Existence, So There's No Need for Further Written Instrument, Is Good-Faith Argument.

PARIS, July 17.—The statement made in an exclusive interview with the International News Service last night that Japan was ready to restore full territorial rights in Shantung to China within six months, and to open all railway lines, the men are proceeding with plans for the taking of a strike vote.

The Japanese delegate told the International News Service that French assertions that Baron Makino had promised the four a secret written undertaking to restore Kiau Chiao to China were untrue.

"It is true that verbal reassurances were given to the treaty and in respect that no formal secret written instrument was presented. This would have been entirely superfluous in view of our existing formal undertakings."
