HANSEN SHOWS FINE TIME TO GREAT CROWDS

Governor Davis Chief Speaker at Celebration and Wins Much Appreciation

The people of Hansen and vicinity may well take pride in the manner in which they entertained the large crowd from all parts of the Twin Falls north and south side tracks in the opening of the Hansen bridge across Snake river yesterday. After the formal opening at the bridge, the immense crowd went to Hansen for refreshments, after which a good program was rendered in the village square.

After prayer by the Rev. P. M. Manning, pastor of the M. E. church of Hansen, Hon. C. D. Thomas of Twin Falls in a few well chosen words commended the visiting representatives of the north side tract. Mr. Thomas stated that upon his arrival in Twin Falls in 1901 the north side tract was a stream and the north side unthorough. By common consent the boundary line between Hansen and the north side was the proposed new county line. It was, afterwards county recorder, was elected representative to the legislature, and in 1907 introduced a bill appropriating $250,000 to build a bridge over Snake river at Hansen. The bill passed of both houses but was vetoed by the governor for the reason there were no funds on hand for the purpose to cause the necessary.

The goal then set so long ago was not lost sight of and the event of the day was an monument to the intelligence, good and ambition of the people of both sides. Mr. Thompson both regretted that the north side built good roads from Eden to Dietrich. Senator Shultz in response answered the south side the heavy cooperation of the north side in matters of public interest and expressed the belief that the great bridge would be built to join together in bonds of mutual friendship.

Gov. D. W. Davis, the principal speaker, was then introduced and after a few complimentary remarks there spoke platitudes and in his fine address set right down to business affairs of the state as he would be complimentary to the business you have a right to ask about, the business you ought to interest yourself in and know about. After all the affairs of the state is only a large business and should be so viewed and handled, he said.

The big, pressing problem of Idaho today is the reclamation of more lands - which means the building of many large impounding reservoirs that will conserve the $500,000 acre feet of water which waste over Shoshone falls alone during the winter and early spring months. This would mean more homes, more taxable wealth.

In this connection, the governor stated he would leave next Saturday for New York and Washington to attend a national conference on reclamation, the most important ever held in this country and would do all in his power to further Idaho reclamation. He will be accompanied by a large delegation of the newly organized state government, it was pointed out that it is unique in that there is no other such plan in force and that other states are watching Idaho.

When I assumed the duties of the office of governor I found the business of the state in a very bad way. I wanted to classify. Most met at the library Friday and Saturday and made a list of vegetables. D. K. Voss.

WANTED - Job running threshing machine, experienced with tractor. Care, Minneapolis. R. M. Swope, Box 132, Jarldridge, Nev.

ness of the state transacted by forty-eight boards and bureaus. There have been reduced to nine with a commissioner over each with full authority to act and required to make a full report every month. Illustrating the efficiency thus gained the work of the commissioners of public improvement was cited. This department takes care of the loaning of state money, which at present totals $9,391,000. While it has been the habit of Idaho that not a dollar of state money has been loaned by loans, it was found that the state held $760,000 paid down paper of which $400,000 might be converted into cash. Foreclosure are being instituted and receivers appointed in instances necessary to protect the state from loss.

This experiment, the governor assured, is practical and will not be a failure and the centralization of authority and power will insure that the people's business is "elect good men" to the control of their affairs.

An eloquent appeal was made for the people to give their active interest in politics and to register their opinions on all public questions or to accept whenever opportunity presented. This was well received by the city as an American citizen is the duty of the one that afflicts the American people.

The city was thanked at the conclusion of the address when a string appeal was made that this country remain free of any entangling alliances.

The governor and party left immediately for Shoshone Falls. R. M. Murray, the man who built the bridge, delivered a few remarks commending the work of the city and greatly interested his hearers. He stated that the bridge was the highest suspension structure in the north-west, its total length is 688 feet, including the 30 foot approach span on the north side. The north tower is 117 feet high and the south tower 71 feet.

The entire bridge was built without an accident, he stated. Construction was completed in five months but was discontinued during winter months. The Midland Bridge company were the contractors, with C. W. Dolbe as superintendent.

Mr. Murray presented some figures to show the capacity of the bridge in other than technical terms. A safe load is 500 pounds to the linear foot or one ton to every four feet. A concentrated load is one ton to every 36 feet.

Mr. Stevenson also spoke. Following the afternoon program the evening was occupied with further festivities, including dancing, and a musical quartet time was spent by the big crowd.
