GRAND JURY WILL PROBE ACCIDENT

State's Attorney Promises Indictments if Evidence Warrants—Death List May Be Increased to Fourteen, Say Physicians.

CHICAGO, July 23—Owners of the dirigible "Enterprise," which exploded above the central district of Chicago Monday and fell through the roof of the Illinois Trust & Savings bank, killing seven people and injuring more than a score, were cleared of blame for the disaster today by Colonel Joseph C. Morrow.

None of the 450 prisoners who struck yesterday at the United States army disciplinary barracks had anything to say in the last 24 hours. It is understood their refusal to leave their cells or do any work of any kind will be met with only passive handling by Colonel Sedgewick Rice, commandant of the prison, until he receives instructions from the War Department.

The colonel has forwarded to the War Department the demand of the prisoners that they be released at once. The strikers complain they are mistreated and that they are crowded and that they are mistreated in other ways, but a committee of 100 prisoners has been named to handle the matter. The prisoners are refused to take medicine. The articles blamed upon I. W. W. leaders and agitators among the soldiers who have been here for military offenses.

MARION, Ky., July 23—Fire starting at an early hour this morning, destroyed the business section of this town, with a loss of $100,000. Lack of water allowed the fire to rage practically unchecked. The town is about a similar misfortune 12 years ago.

WOMEN SOUGHT AS SLAYER SUSPECTS

Two Men Found Dead on Ranch in Utah, Shot Through Head

SALT LAKE CITY, July 23—Police left today to join other posse that set out from Wendover, Utah, late yesterday to search for Mrs. Harris and the man who shot her. The woman is wanted in connection with the slaying of Jesse Kane, a deputy sheriff, and Joseph Kuhn, a wealthy ranchman, in 1912. Mrs. Harris had a long stage career of 16 years. She has been making his home here. He survives by his wife and a brother, Alfred Phillips.

EDDIE CIGOTTE, WHITE SOX PITCHER, DISPLAYS HIS SUPERSTITIOUS STREAK

EDDIE CIGOTTE, Pitcher of White Sox

Superstition is a great little institution, especially as applied to baseball players. One could not make a comparison of the average player from his belief in the efficacy of any of the things that could argue him, however out of a love life. There is the case of Eddie Cicotte, for instance.

After what has happened to the White Sox this year, it is hardly fair to say that the pitcher will be more securely established in the belief that away their fortunes and influence the action of their manager. Cicotte writes George S. Robbins in Chicago News.

Cicotte is Superstitious. "Eddie, I want you to pitch the first game of the year," said Kid Gleason, addressing Cicotte.

"I'd rather not," replied Cicotte. "Why not? What is the argument against the first?"

"Then this faded fellow unfolded the most amazing story that the kid had heard in many a day. Gleason, who doesn't believe in superstition, just had to laugh at Eddie.

"You are kid, when I've pitched an opener I've had a bad season," replied the Gey. Cicotte, "I appreciate the honor of being asked to lead the first game all that, but I don't care for the honor—I want to win. When I've not pitched the opener I've won."

Grants his Request. Gleason was reluctant to accede to this amazing request. The first impulse of the straggly leader would have been to give a ball player a little crack, resulting in his painfulness of his insouciance. Cicotte, however, stands side by side with the kid and

FROM THE PRESS BOX JUG

In an ill advised moment of inspiration we got out of bed, stumbled over our Remington and Remond, while writing up the Round Up, that Hugh Strickland was a Kansas man. Hugh Strickland, the dashing cowboy who drew another rivet in his crown as champ bucking horse rider of the world, we said came from Garden City, Kansas.

Hot Springs, Idaho, July 21.
Dear Sir:
Use in The Times where the world's champion rider Hugh Strickland, is from Kansas. I wish to correct that as he was born and raised here in Mountain Valley. Don't want Kansas to have the credit as we are proud of him ourselves.
From a Subscriber.

Utterly absorbed, we left the garden of Hot Springs and the Mountain Valley. We congratulate them on Hugh Strickland and other products of the Byram. We hope that the Ladies' Press back East will come with his scheme of forming the Snake River through their front yard. Now are we square?

George Washington shaved himself

ON occasion. One of these occasions was when his faithful servant allowed his hand to slip—whereupon the General arose in his wrath and finished the job himself; for the Father of our Country was very properly fond of a good, clean shave.

And in his simple shaving kit may still be seen his equally simple razors. While their models may be many hundred years old, they have never been bettered in left, or shearing width, or right shaving angle on the face.

At such times when his old servant failed him, Washington would have appreciated the guarded, two edged blade of the Durham-Duplex because he would have found it nothing more than his own well-loved model made over.

Were you ever disappointed with your Home-made Preserves?

Even the best recipe can't make allowances for the way sugar will harden into candy—or for the failure of a jelly to "jell".

Thousands of women are finding the ideal preserving syrup is a blend of  $\frac{1}{4}$  Karo (Red Label) with  $\frac{3}{4}$  sugar—instead of all sugar. Preserving done this way is always uniform—jelly that really "jells"—jam that is neither too syrupy nor too thick.

It gives you preserves with the natural fresh fruit flavor.

This fine, clear Karo Syrup has a natural affinity for the juices of the fruit. It blends the fruit with the sugar—makes your syrup rich and heavy, and holds jams and jellies firm and mellow, with not the slightest tendency to "candy" in the glass.

For Cooking, Baking and Canning Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

HIGH OFFICIALS ENDORSE LEGION

WASHINGTON, July 22—There had been registered in Europe 6,919 graves of American soldiers on June 30 last, the war department announced this afternoon.

NEW YORK, July 21—Secretary of War, Newton D. Baker, Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels, General Peyton C. March, chief of staff; General John J. Pershing, Major General George Barnett, commanding the United States marine corps, and Admiral William B. Smiss, endorse the American Legion as the national organization of American veterans of the Great War, by cable, telegraph and letter to national headquarters.

"The efforts which are being made to bind together the men who served the country in the great war," says Secretary Daniels, "is a noble and commendable one, and the American Legion is the organization which is best equipped to carry out this purpose."

"The continued mobilization for patriotic purposes of the Americans who served their country in the grim days of war," declares Secretary Daniels, "is a noble and commendable one, and the American Legion is the organization which is best equipped to carry out this purpose."

General March says: "The aims of the American Legion are of such a high character as to make certain its success and its real value to the country at large."

Admiral Smiss states in his message: "I hope that the American army and navy have fought for and so the army and navy have upheld the highest traditions, so may the American Legion serve to assist us in upholding those traditions."

General Pershing says in a cable to the Legion: "I hope that the American Legion will be the organization which will be best equipped to carry out this purpose."

Major General Barnett says: "I am proud of my membership in the American Legion, and as the representative organization of American veterans of the great war, it is before it that I see a future which promises to be a most useful service to the American people."

REQUEST IS TURNED DOWN

Committee Decides America Needs No Member of International Reparations Commission

WASHINGTON, July 22—By a vote of 8 to 7, President Wilson's request for authority to appoint provisionally an American representative on the so-called reparations commission, before the ratification of the treaty, was refused today by the senate foreign relations committee.

The committee is rejecting the president's proposal, adopted a resolution sponsored by Senator Knox, Republican of Pennsylvania, an outspoken opponent of the acceptance of the peace treaty in its present form, which was as follows:

"It is the judgment of this committee that until the proposed treaty is ratified in accordance with its terms no power exists to execute any of its provisions, either provisionally, or otherwise."

The committee met behind closed doors, newspaper correspondents being excluded, on the floor of the senate chamber, which was presided over by the Republican and Democratic members of the committee and in which the session was held privately.

The Knox resolution was adopted by a vote of 11 to 7, and was introduced by Senator John Sharp Williams, Democrat of Mississippi, and was the precedent to appoint an American representative on the reparations commission.

The vote by which the president's proposal was rejected was 8 to 7, and the members of the committee who voted against it were as follows:

Yeas—Lodge, Massachusetts; Brandegee, Connecticut; Park, New Mexico; Knox, Pennsylvania; Harding, Ohio; Johnson, California; New, Indiana; Moses, New Hampshire, all Republicans.

Nays—Hatchcock, Vermont; Williams, Maine, Mississippi; Swann, Virginia; Pomerehne, Ohio; Walsh, Arizona; Pittman, Nevada—all Democrats, and McCumber, North Dakota, Republican.

Senator Hatchcock's amendment that the "provisional" action be taken necessary action to have the United States temporarily represented on any commission of reparations set up by the common action of the nations to act provisionally during the period required to reach a final settlement, also was defeated, the vote being 9 to 6, which stood:

For—Hatchcock, Williams, Swann, Pomerehne, Smith, West, Pittman, all Democrats.

Against—Lodge, McCumber, Brandegee, Knox, Park, Harding, Johnson, Johnson, California, New, Indiana, Moses, New Hampshire, all Republicans.

Having turned down the president's request after a hot debate, the committee resumed the reading of the peace treaty, which it hopes to complete this week.

LET TO DISBURSEMENT BEING PRINCE TO FILE

BERLIN, July 22—Discovery of a plot to assassinate King, led Prince Max of Baden, former chancellor of Germany, to flee hurriedly into Switzerland, accompanied by his family, and a hurried dispatch to the Kaiser at Aachen, Prussia. The family crossed Lake Constance in a swift motor boat taking with them only such money and valuables as they could carry. The identity of the plotters was not given but they are believed to be followers of the Hohenzollerns who helped Max for the emperor's flight into Holland.

HINDENBURG ON "HONOR"

Hindenburg was the seventh to offer himself as the sacrifice lamb in place of the Kaiser. (Hollow head) than the five younger sons of the war lord lined up, and then Hitler. In his letter to Eick uppeing for his aid in saving Wilhelm, he makes this pleasing statement:

"The war, despite the hardships necessary in conducting it, has shown by examples on both sides that high morale, solidly thinking and feeling and a big sense of honor common to all cultured nations are not dead."

It is one more evidence of the Germans' inability to see themselves as they are, and it would be fitting if the head did not swell so with righteous indignation at the presumption of it.

Honor, morale, solidly feeling, "on both sides." Hindenburg is the grand marshal of the German army, one of those directly responsible for the conduct of the war. How well he has learned his lesson, when he still can speak like this in spite of Belgium, of France, of the late of the world?

Nothing could show more plainly that personal punishment is needed. There must be no recession from the stand taken by the peace conference. The guilty must be brought to justice, master who ordered and man who obeyed. Nothing else will ever "stab their spirit broad awake."

MISREPRESENTATION OF ARTICLE TEN

It does not seem possible that even could read into article ten of the covenant of the league of nations the meaning which opponents of the president prefer to find in it. Article ten says:

"The Members of the League undertake to respect and preserve against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all Members of the League. In case of any such aggression or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression the Council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled."

Hiram Johnson in his bitter and intemperate attack on the president a few days ago at Fitch Hill, Boston, declared that article ten was written by an Englishman, that it binds "your sons and your son's sons to maintain the integrity of the entire world," and that the article commits "the United States of America to aid in suppressing rebellion in any part of the vast British empire."

Rebellion in any part of the vast British empire would be an "internal" affair, whereas article ten distinctly sets forth that it is against "external aggression" which the members of the league are bound to resist.

The fight against the league ought to be made intelligently, else the people will lose faith in the president's antagonists.

THE RED STAR

Dr. Stillman, who was director general of the Red Star Animal Relief in the war, has some interesting things to tell about the work of saving injured horses and mules.

Soon after the war began it was found that the automobile could not entirely take the place of the horse and mules, and thousands of them were brought into active service. Since much of the tire labor consisted in hauling ammunition, they came in for a good share of shell fire, tramping and all the woes of the horse of the war—1,500,000 horses and mules were saved. There are 25,000 still under treatment.

Whether the horse who is a little the worse for war is being taught new lines of work the doctor did not say, but he did say that the results in treating the damaged animals are so good that it requires all the skill of the assistant of the undertaking. It is not only one of money but one of great financial value.

That the work should be continued in times of peace the doctor is persuaded. He especially recommends the support of the Red Star as such a work as will enable it to give efficient aid in animal relief in time of disaster such as the explosion at Halifax, when such a service could have prevented great loss of animal life.

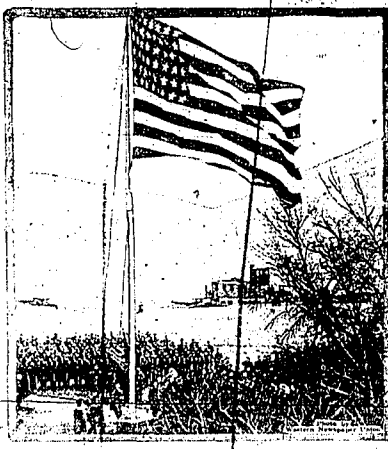

All grateful souls and all horse-lovers should be enthusiastic supporters of the movement.

From the fiver to the blimp is quite a hop. Still, the little old fiver will come in pretty handy for some time yet, for various purposes. Frinstance, fivers everybody flying down town to work in an airship as big as the Hansen biplane. Or taking your girl riding in one.

Treaties are made with the "advice and consent" of the senate. The present senate is perfectly willing to go that way. It is they who are strong with the advice.

"Super-blimp" is certainly what Shakespeare would have called the phrase, a "supra-blimp" phrase.

FORD'S DIRECT EXAMINATION IS COMPLETED

Asked If He Ever Broke Any Law, Acknowledges Having Driven Another Make Car

ALBANY, N.Y., July 22.—Henry Ford is through with the grueling examination he has undergone for eight days in the trial of his $10,000 fine suit against the Chicago Tribune. After a grueling eight days of testimony, Ford closed his direct examination of Ford at 4:30 today.

It is expected Ford will testify on the stand for at least another day, answering questions his own attorney will put to him in an attempt to cast doubt on Ford's story.

Reverting to Mr. Ford's attitude toward the French and British loans, Stevenson asked:

"Your influence was against the granting of those loans, wasn't it?" "Well, Ford said, there was quite a debate about it. I understand they brought no resolution."

"They were offering the obligation to the British and French governments," Stevenson asked.

"I did not know that," said Ford. "I understood it was a committee of bankers that came over here without consulting me. There was a great debate on it. I was just on one side; there was a good many again on it."

"You were opposed to financing the obligation to the British and the French," Stevenson asked.

"I was opposed to everything but making to the war," was Ford's reply. "I was not in the office to that the loan," Stevenson asked.

He later stated he did not recall when he said he would withdraw his deposits from any bank participating in the allied loan. After a question from Stevenson, Ford made a statement:

"I understood it was a committee of bankers that came over here without consulting me. There was a great debate on it. I was just on one side; there was a good many again on it."

OGEON, July 15. Two important factors entered into Ogeon's production of a market order for livestock during the past week. First, the Ogeon market for hogs took a heavy toll with $2.75 per hundred and the price for first class finished animals, and the Ogeon livestock market was the only one of its kind in the Ogeon area. The market for hogs was the only one of its kind in the Ogeon area. The market for hogs was the only one of its kind in the Ogeon area.

AGRICULTURAL OFFICIALS ON

Farm Bureau Work and Crop Improvement Among Topics Taken Up by Local Conference

The second of a series of agricultural conferences being conducted at various points in the state opens in this city yesterday with prominent officials of the state department of agriculture and southern county farm bureau in attendance. Crop improvement, pest control, poultry and bureau organization are cited among the topics under discussion. The conference continues through today.

At the initial meeting yesterday, County Agent Charles H. Bohrer of Twin Falls was selected as chairman and Mrs. Nina H. Hoyck, home demonstration agent of Blainville county, as secretary. The chairman outlined various committees to work out and report to the main conference the projects under the heads mentioned—those of farm-bureau organization, pest control, poultry and crop improvement.

This morning was spent in committee work and the preparation of reports. The final conference was scheduled for this afternoon at the fourth bureau.

A similar conference was held in Boise July 16 and 17 for the territory adjacent to the main conference. The Twin Falls conference officers will be held at McCallum and Idaho Falls.

Among those in attendance at the Twin Falls conference are the following:

W. F. Alworth, of Twin Falls, president of the state farm bureau; F. L. Williams, state leader of county agents; H. H. Meyer, assistant county leader of county agents; H. K. Kinross, assistant state leader of county agents; J. O. Stewart, assistant state leader of county agents; Mrs. Amy Ketter, state leader of home demonstration agents; Miss Ada Ewing, assistant state leader of home demonstration agents; H. P. Shoben, state field agronomist; Paul Weaver, assistant field agronomist; W. E. Meyer, agricultural instructor; E. E. Chester, county agent, Cassia county; Grover Barnett, county agent, Blainville county; Nina H. Hoyck, home demonstration agent, Blainville county; A. N. Smith, county agent, Gooding county; Ivan L. Holt, field leader, Gooding county; George H. Maroney, county agent, Lincoln county; Edna M. Ladwig, home demonstration agent, Twin Falls county.

GOOD MARKET FOR PRODUCE HERE, IS SAID

Public Market Booths Will Handle Dairy Products for Local Farmers

That there is a ready market for eggs, spring chicken, chicken cheese, and other products at the public market in this city at the municipal market in Twin Falls is the statement of Ed Vance, one of the organizers of the public market.

"Any of the booth proprietors would gladly handle such produce for the farmers who have it to sell," Mr. Vance states. "There is a strong demand for it right along and no supply. Mr. Vance believes that the attention should be taken advantage of by the mutual benefit of producer and consumer.

A permanent arrangement is being given the public market by the erection of booths by farmers and truck gardeners who are supplying the market.

BE MADE STAKE HEADQUARTERS

L. D. S. Church Plans Move Which Will Boost City's Development—Met Sat. Sun.

Establishment of stake headquarters in the city of Twin Falls will be effected at a series of meetings in the L. D. S. church here Saturday and Sunday, according to announcement made today.

The move is one of high importance in church circles here and will result in the erection of the eventual building of tabernacle, academy and other church buildings, being made in the city. A regular quarterly congregational body of hundreds of students people.

Meetings Saturday at 10 a. m. and Sunday at 10 a. m. The meetings will be held to take up the business for which the gatherings are called. The Saturday meetings will be held in the church and the Sunday meetings in the evening theatre. Visitors from Oakley and Turley and special representatives from Salt Lake will be in attendance. Brother Clawson, acting president of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles and Melvin J. Ballard, a member of the quorum, will preside at the meetings. A report given in the church makes their visit especially significant. Several hundred people from all parts of the lower Snake River valley are expected to attend the meetings Sunday.

In addition to the speaking there will be special programs of music and general public interest in the meetings. Mr. Clawson and Mr. Ballard are both men of prominence throughout the western states, and their presence holds promise of unusual interest.

The Twin Falls territory is at present included in the stake of which the stake is to be organized.

It is this purpose to make Twin Falls the headquarters of a new stake, the erection of which has been publicly outlined. The plan is declared to mean much to the development of the city, both in the matter of buildings and because of the quarterly conferences which will draw visitors from many outside points, not only within the Twin Falls stake but from other stakes in the territory.

Members of the L. D. S. church will attend the celebration of "Emigrant Day" at Oakley tomorrow. A brilliant program is planned for the occasion.

CHANCE TO LEARN TRADE WITH PAY

Motor Transport Training School Offers Real Opportunity

The Motor Transport Corps Training School is offering exceptional opportunities to young men desiring to learn a trade. Men with ability and ambition are being prepared from the ranks to one of these four training schools. After completing the six to nine months elementary course, the student enters a post graduate course. The best of the post graduates will be given one year university training on soldier pay.

If you are in the government is actually paying young men to receive an education that has heretofore cost the young man a hard fortune. His expenses are paid and at the same time he is receiving a substantial amount of money—soldier pay—12 months in the United States, could see this opportunity to get a good education and it there would be less unskilled labor in this country, consequently less idleness.

Judge Coming Home—District Judge W. A. Hallock is expected home from court to spend the last of this week. The day before his departure he will be in court being adjourned until the latter part of October.

Is Visitor Here—Miss Mary Ruth Fisher, lecturer and demonstrator for Pennsylvania State College, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Pocatello and Idaho Falls, will arrive this evening to spend the rest of the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fisher, 1021 Blue Lake Boulevard.

Friendly Visit—The board of county commissioners and county clerk Jerome county were expected in Twin Falls today to pay a neighborly visit to the local commissioners and clerk. Commissioners C. O. Holter, Luther Anderson and A. W. Atwood, with County Clerk Hill make up the official party.

Director Sells—Two more decrees were filed in district court yesterday. Edlie J. McMillan makes a decree from Harry B. McMillan, and Lawrence J. McMillan, divorce from Mollie E. Ward. The McMillans were married May 19, 1916, and the divorce was granted July 19, 1918. Support in the grounds set forth in the McMillan case and desertion in the Ward suit.

Body Exhumed Here—The body of George Green, who drowned near Heart Lake, at Sacramento, Calif., Monday, the day of his death in that city, is being shipped to Twin Falls for burial, according to word received at the local office. Green was identified here by his father and the pin bearing the Twin Falls number, 1183. The Elks are making charge of funeral arrangements.

Funeral Today—Funeral services for W. O. Stepp, formerly of Twin Falls, who died Saturday at Boulder, Colorado, July 16, and was shipped to this city for interment, will be held at 3 p. m. today in the DeWitt Chapel. Mr. Stepp was residing in Alberta, Canada, until removed to Colorado for his health. He leaves a wife and daughter, Mrs. Turndispeer of Three Creek.

TELEPHONE STRIKE IS OFF

STRIKE TO BE RELEASED SOLDIERS

LONDON, July 23—Serious rioting broke out at Bilston, in Stafford county today, when a mob stormed the police station and attempted to burn several soldiers. The mob poured petrol on the station and attempted to set it afire. Police reserves finally dispersed the rioters.

Public Needs and Public Obligations

THE ability of a public utility to serve the public depends upon the attitude of the community toward the utility.

The initial appearance of a needed utility in a community is always cordially welcomed. It is recognized not only as filling a decided want but also as an evidence of the growth and development and prosperity of the community. So long as appreciation of the utility finds expression in the public's willingness to grant to the enterprise revenues adequate to meet its honest requirements under efficient management, so long will the utility be able to serve the public satisfactorily.

But there must be mutual understanding and mutual confidence. Neither a public nor a private enterprise can build permanent success upon revenues derived from a public that has no faith in nor respect for the institution.

The utility's obligation is to serve; the public's obligation is to create such conditions as will make it possible for the utility to serve.

The Telephone Company is subject to the same economic laws and principles as those governing other industries. The permanency and adequacy of telephone service depend upon the same factors as are involved in the security and permanency of every other established industry.

Mutual understanding of each other's needs and mutual willingness to supply such needs will insure adequate and efficient service to the public and financial security to the Company.

An Epoch in Dentistry

The Largest Dental Organization in the World Opens
Offices in This City

All Advantages of the Widely-Known E. R. Parker
System Now at Your Door

Finest Dental Work Done at Prices Which the Average
Person Can Afford to Pay

DR. PARKER
Founder and Executive Head of the
E. R. Parker System

The E. R. Parker System is the largest dental organization in the world and the opening of an office in this city marks a distinct event, for every modern method in dentistry is now at your door.

The dominating idea of the E. R. Parker System is fine dental work at prices which the average person can afford to pay.

There is only one way to get fine dentistry, and that is to have it done by skilled dentists.

There is only one way to make moderate prices, and that is to do much work, and to employ every known method of cutting out needless waste and conserving precious time.

When you pay a dentist's bill, you should pay for but two things—materials and time.

Often you pay for a name, but not in the E. R. Parker System. The less material cost, and the less time there is wasted in doing the work, the lower your dental bill should be.

And so many supplies used in E. R. Parker System offices are manufactured and distributed through a central depot.

Other supplies are purchased in wholesale quantities, and the saving thus effected is very great.

Dental offices using the System extend clear across the continent, each office, like the one just opening here, being a complete institution in itself.

The cost of supplies for all its branches is far less than the ordinary dentist has to pay who buys his supplies piecemeal.

What the System saves in materials is taken off the bill you pay when you have work done by dentists using the Parker System.

There are six separate and distinct branches in dentistry, known as (1) Filling and Inlaying, (2) Crown and Bridge Work, (3) Medication, (4) Extracting and Surgery, (5) Artificial Teeth, (6) Orthodontia or Regulating.

No dentist ever lived who could skillfully perform all the widely-differing work in these six branches by himself.

As well might a man, in building a house, try to be a carpenter, plasterer, bricklayer, stone mason, stair-builder, tin-roofer, plumber, painter and electrician, all in one.

The E. R. Parker System is therefore based upon the idea that no single dentist can possibly do all dental work as well or as quickly as a staff of dentists, each a specialist and all working together.

So dentists using the E. R. Parker System specialize in that kind of dental work in which they are most skilled.

Work done under the System effects a wonderful saving of time, for the man who is trained in one branch of dentistry does that kind of work not only better, but quicker.

He economizes the minutes, and this saving is a saving to you.

It shows in the bills which you pay—in the prices which are quoted when you come in for a free examination of your teeth.

The System idea and the Specialist idea mean more, perhaps to the average person than money. They mean comfort in the dental chair—the practical doing away with pain.

Through employing every generally known method in dentistry, combined with methods exclusively belonging to the organization itself, a point has been reached where much of the work, such as extracting and filling, is performed with no discomfort to the patient.

So far as painlessness in dentistry is possible, this System has gone as far as science has shown the way.

Every dentist using the E. R. Parker System is not only skilled, but he is licensed by the State.

He is further trained in all the methods and economies of the Parker System, and no higher recommendation can be given a dentist than to say he measures up to the full Parker standard.

The E. R. Parker System has applied the same common sense business principles to dentistry as bankers have applied to banking, as chemists have applied to chemistry, as steel and oil men have applied to the steel and oil industries, and as leaders in nearly all lines of human endeavor have adopted in their various branches.

The System has a useful, beneficial and highly necessary service to render the public—a service that combats disease, encourages health and has a profound influence upon the public welfare.

Every community needs this service.

It is needed here, and it IS here.

Everybody is interested in good teeth, or ought to be, and everybody is invited to call and see what a modern dental institution has been brought to this city—how completely equipped it is with the latest device and mechanism required to do fine dentistry—how its staff of operators, mechanics and nurses are fully qualified to serve you economically, quickly and with the least of pain possible.

All examinations, consultation and advice are free.

Come in and find out what ought to be done with your teeth and how little the price will be for having it done.
