HUTCHISON TO AID COACHING AT U. OF IDAHO

Great Princeton Quarterback Will Take Charge of Football and Track Men

MOSCOW, July 24.—The appointment of Halp F. Hutchison, former Princeton star and now an assistant coach for the University of Idaho, is the first step in starting the university team on another championship series, according to W. C. Hiram, physical director of the university. Hutchison will begin work with the university squad here September 15, when the fall quarter begins.

Hutchison, well known to easterners as one of the greatest quarterbacks in Princeton's football history, who has a wide experience in coaching, has been located at Washington and Jefferson college during the last year.

BASEBALL STORIES

Grever Lowdermilk, catcher of the Browns, may make good with the Sox.

Arthur Sullivan has been sent by the Detroit Tigers to the Red Sox.

Orrin Shalston seems to be having trouble as a combing with Birmingham.

It wasn't for Pitcher Sam Chewes, Birmingham used to be up against it in the Southern league race.

Third Baseman Billy Wells of the Birmingham team is out of the game with a dislocated knee.

"Go out and get 'em early," that's the dope of the slugs and watchful Gleason, who never sleeps on his job.

Brooklyn critics are complaining Ernie Kruger on his good work in handling the pitchers for Robinson's team.

Nick Atkinson, who is a good old scout, has gone out scouting for the Washington club for pitching material.

C. L. Beebe, who is playing center field for the Cincinnati Nationals, is a very promising newcomer to major league circles.

When Tony Fosh pitches the Milwaukee fans can generally count on a star pitcher, but one pitcher does not make a ball team.

DECISION BY BYRON

Here's a decision by Umpire J. H. Byron in a Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game reported by a correspondent: "I was on first and third and Cravath on second and first, making the second out, and then stepped on first before Baker could touch the bag. In the meantime Menzel had crossed the plate. Some cases Byron is supposed to be the press box that Menzel can count on. At least, so says the detail of the game, which is the first time in starting the game, an explanation from the stinging umpire."

GREAT RECORD MADE BY ADRIAN C. ANSON

Played for Twenty-Two Years With the Same Team.

Was Manager of Chicago Club for Longer Period Than Any Other Leader—Was an Active Player While Acting as Head.

There are records and yet more records in baseball—how many players will ever duplicate the records, both held by the same man—the honors held by Adrian C. Anson? They point mainly to the batting marks that have made the way for him in the history of the game—the two most notable features of Anson's great career.

He stayed longer in the service of one club than any other player in the history of the game, and he was manager of the same club for a longer stretch of time than any other manager ever managed a ball club before or since.

Anson played continuously with the Chicago team from the spring of 1897 to the fall of 1919—22 years under one manager. He has any other man not approximately that length of service, but of all without at least one change of position.

THORPE BATTED FOR KAUFF

Indian Sent Up to Bat for Center Fielder in Recent Game—Quite Unusual Happening.

In the game of April 30 between the Glads and Braves a pinch hitter was sent in for Frank Kauff. This was the second time in the franchise history of B. Kauff such a thing has happened. Last season Kauff batted for Jim Thorne in a game against Chicago. Jim Thorne was the substitute that time and he kept Kauff.

FROM THE PRESS BOX JIB

Possibly there should be a law against the guy who forecasts and predicts, and such like. We know there should be one against the mitt who struts in afterword with a "just as I said" or "as we anticipated" and similar hollow talk—both before the fact and after the fact. For the man who'd like to slip over a little prophecy of our own.

Listen, folks. The next time the Giants and Red get together they are going to play the longest game in the annals of a baseball. By then, while we are predicting we might as well have our job of it.

This longest game will be the second game they play during the coming series in Cincinnati.

Yes, the Reds and Giants are having a fierce time with each other, a protracted struggle into extra innings. But how many dopests would have the nerve to stand right up and say absolutely that at such a such a time—not about such and such a date but at just that date—two certain ball clubs will play—not one of 'em, but THE longest game on a press box, having among 'em "the longest game" on the left lapel, if you please, sir.

Just a moment! Just a moment! Give us a chance to explain, would you? Never mind the verbiage and kindly omit the verbiage, and only the checking figures. We leave our own job of it away with anything in this town. Our old friends Barrett and McRazzer would harp upon us a minute. So hold your words and otherwise retain your apparel until we get through.

When the Reds and Giants meet in this longest game, following the first game of their next series, they may play only three innings. The score will be 2 to 0 in favor of the Reds when they start. Rather odd, yes. The reason it will be the longest game on record is because

WORLD IS MADE SAFE FOR BASEBALL GAME

At Least 100,000 More Players Because of Late War.

Grever Cleveland Alexander and Rabbit Maranville Come Over Recently and Given Warm Reception—Dignity War.

The war has made the world safe for baseball.

There are twice as many ball players as there were before World War I.

It is safe to say, from a national standpoint, there are 70 per cent more players this spring than there were three years ago.

And only a part of our soldiers have come back from France. Nearly all of them played ball in the army. The ones who didn't found a unit for years went back to play when they were sent to camp.

Others who never played baseball. The ones who always played kept on playing. They will always play.

It is more conservative to say, you know there are at least 100,000 more ball players as a result of the war. They're pouring back from overseas.

Grever Cleveland Alexander.

Grever Cleveland Alexander and Rabbit Maranville came in a few days ago. They were heralded with much noise. In fact, they came with other players—some who weren't players when they went in the army.

PETAINE AS BASEBALL FAN

Marshal of France Forgets His Duty and Watches Exciting Game.

How Marshal Petain of the French army shared the time clock to witness a ball game is the story brought back to this country by W. C. Mullen, former manager of the Pittsburgh team in the Three-I league, who has returned after spending six months as a C. S. secretary with the Thirty-eighth division overseas.

The game was between company teams of the Fifty-sixth engineers at St. Sarnar. Marshal Petain was present with the ball with fellow officers. He knows the American game, and stayed to watch it for a few moments. The game was exciting. The marshal remained. He only was forgotten at the game went on into extra innings. 10,000 men were roaring applauding. The game ended with a 6-5 score, and Marshal Petain, enthusiastic, came forth, cupping the game and congratulated the ball in play at the finish. Then the marshal telegraphed, and duly punched the headquarters of the time clock for him.

BATTLE OVER GOLF TITLE GROWS WARM

Field Rapidly Narrowing Down and Today's Play Will Bring Show Down

CLEVELAND, July 24.—The real fight for the western open golf championship was to come to the close of today's play when the field through elimination will be reduced to 64 who will finish out the 72 holes.

James Barnes of St. Louis, present champion, who led the field of 134 starters, at the close of play last evening with a score of 62, had the edge today, although Tom McManis, former champion, had a score of 70 and five turned in scores of 73. They included Walter Hagen, Detroit, national champion; Lew Hight, Detroit; Frank McLeod, Washington; Willie Kidd, St. Louis, and Charles D. Thom, of St. Louis.

McManis was also started this morning that a score of 160 or better will be required to remain in the 64 who will play tonight, more than 60 having turned in scores below 60 in yesterday's play.

There are twice as many ball players as there were before World War I.

WILL TAKE NO HASTY ACTION

Congress to Follow State Department in Mexican Matters

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Congress will take no early action with respect to the Mexican situation. While sentiment seemed to be crystallizing for decisive measures to end outrages against American citizens in Mexico and many members were denouncing use of the armed forces of the United States in a general cleanup, the leaders in congress have decided to follow for a while longer the lead of the state department.

ances were attributed to Ford by the witness. Upon cross-examination Lee stated that Ford, in speaking of sentiment had always declared that it should be done away with in the entire world, never specifying any one country. Lee motioned vigorously when Attorney Murphy, Ford counsel, shut out: "Didn't Mr. Ford stop all commercial work, put his firm on a liquidated per cent basis and progress with all speed?" "Was there anything anarchistic about his actions?" Murphy continued. "I can't say as to that," Lee replied.

FORD BOUGHT ALL LIBERTY LOAN ISSUES

"Did you subscribe to all the liberty loan issues?" was one of the first questions asked by Attorney Lucking today. "Yes," Ford said. "Any you in favor of women receiving the same pay as men in your factory?" "Yes," was Ford's answer.

After a few routine questions Attorney Lucking said, "That's all," and turned the witness over to Stevenson. Attorney Stevenson went into the famous Dodge-Ford suit in which the supreme court compelled Ford to disburse $10,000,000 to the stockholders instead of using the money in business expansions.

"You advertised that you were going to manufacture a better car, referring to the supreme court decision as unfair, in an interview," Stevenson said, "yet you bought the holdings of minor stockholders."

Stevenson tried to bring out that the stock had been advanced for Ford's announcement that he intended to withdraw from the company and manufacture a cheaper car and was valued to him more than the $10,000,000. Ford denied he had ever referred to the supreme court decision as unfair.

A few moments were spent today going into the reasons why Edsel Ford avoided military service. Ford took all the blame for his son's failure to join the army.

"Edsel wanted to join the army," he said. "He wanted to be a decorated officer," he was offered several commissions but would not accept them. I didn't want any compromise. I did not want him to sit around in a uniform when he was at work in the plant."

THE SHANTUNG QUESTION

In view of the present controversy over Shantung, it is well to get the facts straight.

Germany acquired the Shantung peninsula, including many business franchises as well as political control, in 1898, extorting these valuable concessions as a penalty for the killing of some German missionaries by a Chinese mob. China, under compulsion, signed a document leasing the peninsula to Germany for 99 years. Subsequently Germany formally declared a "protectorate" over Shantung, built the great stronghold of Kiaochow and the harbor adjoining it and proceeded to develop mines, railways and other enterprises.

Japan, entered the war in 1914, announced that her chief purpose was to right this wrong by ousting the Germans and restoring the province to China. She repeated that announcement in 1915. But in 1917, before the United States entered the war, Japan obtained written agreement from Great Britain and France permitting Japan to retain the rights and privileges she had wrested from Germany. The Chinese government signed a treaty with Japan agreeing to this, and later declared that she had been coerced.

This was the situation when the peace conference met. Japan stood pat. The American delegation is said to have made a protracted fight to get Japan to yield up Shantung immediately to China, according to her promise as understood by the world in general. Japan seems to have yielded to the extent of declaring informally that she would voluntarily return Shantung to China. But she has not made an explicit statement to that effect in the treaty, or to set the date of surrender.

The Shantung affair is handled in Articles 156, 157 and 158 of the peace treaty. The first article begins: "Germany renounces, in favor of Japan, all her rights, title and privileges—particularly those concerning the territory of Kiaochow, railways, mines and submarine cables—which she acquired in virtue of the treaty concluded by her with China on March 6, 1898, and of all other arrangements relative to the province of Shantung." There follow various details, disposing of valuable properties and business concessions. Article 158 provides that within three months of the time the present treaty becomes effective, Germany shall hand over to Japan all the legal documents of every kind connected with the political and business administration of the territory of Kiaochow.

It is evident from all this that the peace conference has not taken anything away from China and given it to Japan. The conference has simply recognized formally the transfer of existing German rights to Japan, with the important understanding that Japan, after she gets full possession of Shantung, is to restore it to China.

The important question underlying all this is, when will Japan accomplish the restoration, relinquishing political control and merely keeping the business properties taken from Germany? That question can be disposed of quickly and easily by the Japanese government, if it is sincere in the matter. All it has to do is to name the day. The Shantung row in Washington will then come to an end, and the treaty will have a good chance of ratification.

TRADE SCOUTS

The supercargo used to be a passenger on every trip of the ancient merchantman. He was a trusted, dignified individual who recognized the shippers and whose duty was the supervision of the cargoes sent and land.

Then for a time this service was considered unnecessary, and the supercargo vanished along with other institutions and traditions of old sailing days.

Now the office has been revived by the United States shipping board. A corps of carefully selected men has been chosen whose duty it is not only to supervise the cargo on shipboard, but to report on harbor and dock facilities in whatever port they make. The costumes of the people, their habits of life and their commercial desires are also carefully noted and reported, so that American exporters may have the advantage of all this information.

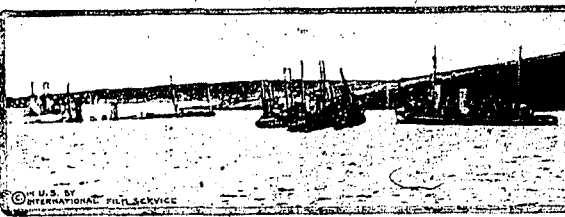

If the United States wants to build up a great foreign trade, she must send abroad what foreign customers want, and the supercargo is invaluable as a barometer of trade possibilities.

Some 350 trained men are now working in this field, and as foreign trade opens up, there will be openings for more. That private enterprise will follow the steps of the Shipping Board there is little question, and the trade scout may become as famous in his modern way as were the pathfinders and scouts of pioneer days.

What's the use of working for a living, when it is possible to get $150,000 for being pounded for nine months in a prize ring? None whatever. And Jew Willard doesn't intend to work any more. He's down on the farm again.

As for that French treaty, it seems to boil down to the question whether we'll merely give France a gentleman's word to fight for her again, if she needs it, or write it down in black and white.

JOSEPH BURNS GIVES FIGURES AND VIEWS ON POWER CHARGES

Editor Twin Falls Times:

I have been watching with interest the fight Mayor Engstrom of Boise and his supporters are making in their efforts to save the city from being held up in connection with the renewal of the contract for city lighting. The same thing occurred in Sweatvale two years ago when the mayor and city council surrendered to the power interests by entering into a street lighting contract at rates double those offered by a new company which desired to enter the city. But happily the people did not forget and the result of the election last spring when the entire city was held over from year to year was before Boise was largely due to the efforts of those who are interested in cheap electricity for Boise and its inhabitants will refer to page 2 of the last issue of the Twin Falls Times. Information they will obtain more valuable information. It is true there was that Canadian man, doing as they please, Ritcher, Boise, a city the size of Boise, is being furnished electric energy from the government-owned plant with nearly per kilowatt hour cost of 1.5¢, which is a fraction more than 1¢ per kilowatt hour now which is the rate the city is being asked to pay under the offer of the Idaho Power company to furnish street lighting for $10 per kilowatt per year. While it is doubtful now that even this is much lower than the actual rates, what the distinguished public utility expert of the city of Boise cannot be furnished with electric energy at the rate of less than $10 per kilowatt hour, which is being offered to Boise for $10 per kilowatt hour, whose welfare the Idaho Power company is apparently more interested than it is in that of the general public.

Under its proposed contract the Idaho Power company is asking the city of Boise to pay $127,740 per year for 77 kilowatts for the 310 street lights to be operated on a 12 hour basis. The same amount of electric energy is furnished in Ketchikan on a 24 hour basis for $100 per year. It supplied for but 12 hours as is proposed in Boise the cost would be but half of this amount or $58, as against $127 under the proposed contract of the Idaho Power company. Is it any wonder that municipal ownership is recommended by the Idaho Power company and its followers? And this may also account for the attitude of former Chairman Graham of the public utility commission in the Twin Falls case, who with municipally owned plants. An interesting statement of A. P. McLean of the Twin Falls Light and Heat works, which is true, is made by the same interviewee as the Idaho Power company is receiving but $28 per kilowatt per year at Logan, Utah, and this is admitted to be a fair price for such energy. If the Idaho Power company would make the same rate to the city of Boise, the cost of the street lamps would be but $12 per year per lamp instead of $11 per year which the Idaho Power company is trying to induce the city to pay. But this is another of those unfair comparisons objected to by the Power company and its friend Mr. Graham, as one of those slandersous and untrue attacks on the Light and Heat and the power trust to be completed with it. The people of Logan realize that its municipal plant has saved the city and its citizens hundreds of thousands of dollars, and if put to a vote at least 99 per cent of the citizens of that city would object to its being disposed of in any way. And if the people of Idaho can only be brought to understand the real situation it will not be long until they will arise in their might and take advantage of the possibility of installing their own plant instead of remaining at the mercy of one of the biggest trusts in the west.

The Canadian government owned plants are supplying over 200 towns and cities some of which are located 250 miles from the generating stations. With but few exceptions the rates are not over 5 mills per kilowatt hour while the city of Boise is asked to pay 12 cents per kilowatt hour. And this in the face of the fact that the average cost of installing the plants in Canada is about $1000 a kilowatt while here it is about $1250 here.

According to Mr. Wallace, former general manager of the Idaho Power company, it costs his company over 50 cents per kilowatt hour to put the present up to the consumer's meter, without any allowance for interest or depreciation. It is to be noted that this is four times as much as it costs Canadian cities from the government owned plants which cost from two to three times as much to install as do the power company's plants in Idaho. The figures of Mr. Wallace are correct, and the Idaho Power company's $120.55 per year to produce one kilowatt of electric energy continues for that period. This amount will pay 6 per cent interest on $1975. The Canadian government sells the same amount of energy after deducting 30 mills per year which is just sufficient to pay 6 per cent interest on $300 per year. Sir Adam Beck, head of the government owned plants in Canada, states that the rate charged for the same depreciable, depreciation and sinking fund. Mr. Wallace says that the rates he gives are the rates in his company include neither depreciation nor sinking fund. If $120.55 per year per kilowatt is the cost to the Idaho Power company of producing electric energy with depreciation, depreciation, sinking fund and with a plant installation cost of less than half what it is in Canada, what is it that goes in to make the Idaho Power company's rates so excessive? It is not plain that this must be due to over capitalization, the purchasing of plants by holding companies composed of a favored few, and turning them over to the trust at many times their value, and to exorbitant salaries and other manipulations of the company's affairs.

If the Canadian government can pay three times as much for installing a plant as it costs in Idaho, deliver electric energy there at 10 per cent less than we pay here, and it is a profit after allowing for interest depreciation and sinking fund, at a rate less than that which we pay here, what is the Idaho Power company under its proposed contract with Boise, does it not believe that city to go slow about making any kind of contract?

The people of Twin Falls county have organized a mutual company which will enable them to get away from this extortion and to be again in the world with the citizens of other sections of the state should not do likewise. And they will just see soon as they realize.

JOSEPH BURNS.

LOOKING FOR STAR WITNESS

Tribune Attorneys Want to Cross Examine Connors, but Can't Find Him Anywhere

MOHNTS-LEMENS, Mich., July 23.—James Connors of Detroit, trial star in the fight for the rights of the Ford Triforce $100,000 life raft, is missing, according to attorneys for the Tribune today. "The lawyers said that a warrant search had been made for Connors and his home has been watched but without results. 'We want to know,' said one of the attorneys, 'whether or not he has run away.'"

During the presentation of the plaintiff's case Connors testified that he had been told by an executive of the Ford plant that dependents of men in the Ford employ had been made a national guard would be provided for and their positions given them when they returned. "This is a direct contradiction of one of the allegations of the Tribune's editorial."

Tribune lawyers desire to call him to the stand to give testimony.

UNION MEN OUT ELECTRIC SHOP

Discharge of Employee Results in Walkout at Citizen's Electric—Matter Will Be Taken Up When Building Trades Council Meets

The refusal of the Citizens' Electric Supply company to re-employ a discharged union workman, caused a walkout of the entire force of six employees yesterday in order of the building trades union.

Business Agent George Bowen of the Building Trades Council this morning threatened the walkout as a matter of present between the affected shop and the electrical workers union.

Mr. Bowen said the misunderstanding of the walkout was that discharging of the workman was replaced, and the discharge left in the trade council, the union will probably be settled only if the trade council meets.

James Mann, president of the electrical workers union, was the employer of the discharged workman, and was claimed by the union that several contractors were said to have refused to do the work because of Mann's activity in behalf of unions.

RECOGNIZE ALL LABOR'S RIGHTS

Declarations of National Chamber of Commerce Are Highly Significant

APPROVAL WILL BE GENERAL

Action Shows First Organized Business Has Come to Recognize That Humanity and Justice Must Do Factors in the Labor Problem.

The 12 paragraphs defining the attitude of the national chamber of commerce on the labor problem takes a body of doctrine which will be accepted almost in its entirety by labor. The right to organize is fully recognized, the right to a union which shall be more than a living declaration, and the principle that there should be no restriction on wages, with the possibility of reducing costs in all other directions has been exhausted, it laid down.

The facts and figures which are made by organized business is not, in this day, surprising, but no many years ago, the same proposition in opinion between capital and labor would have been possible.

Many employers cling obstinately to the belief that the workers do not want their rights when they insist upon collective bargaining, while relatively few realize that labor is a commodity which can be hammered down in price by any method that was suitable for hammering down the price of pig-iron.

The attitude of the chamber, therefore, represents a very significant progress in the thinking of business men. More and more they have been considering humanity and justice, as factors in the labor problem.

There is, of course, much room for further progress, and upon such progress will depend the future of the country.—New York World.

Vanderlip Warns Capital. Frank A. Vanderlip says in the "United States" right here in the "United States" if capitalists do not improve their conditions, they will lose the property of labor's claim for a larger voice in industrial affairs and see to it that the workers should have such relations to his job that he will work honestly and sympathetically.

At present, the workers are losing interest in their jobs and are literally refusing production. A ship built before war which took 20,000 hours of labor now takes 400,000 hours.

"So labor's demands for shorter hours, shop committees and representation are just so far as they relate to the conditions surrounding the workmen," he declared. "The thing that labor wants is a voice in determining industrial policies."

Labor Intensely Patriotic. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, made the following statement at the close of the recent convention, at which he was re-elected: "Just ahead is the most critical trial for labor. Labor in America has demonstrated during the last two years that it has the patriotic zeal that is needed to win a great victory for the government in this war. This has not been suggested by any kind of patriotism. It comes up as a fair result of the confidence of employers with respect to it."

Increase Affects Many. An increase in pay for veterinarians and naval inspectors employed by the department of agriculture at the Chicago stock yards was granted by the agricultural appropriation bill.

The bill provides an increase of $120 a year for the first class of the 12 and 2 and an increase of $240 a year for 11 veterinarians. There are 2,650 employees in great numbers engaged in the eradication of tuberculosis, scabies and hog cholera. About 800 of these are employed in the Chicago stock yards and the remainder at other cities.

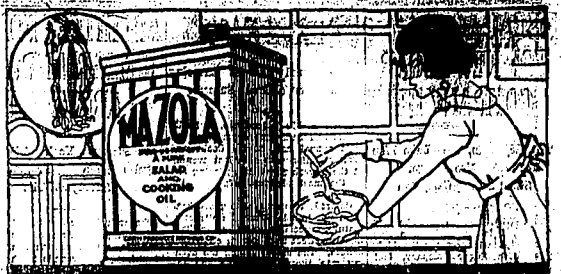

Girls Low Jobs. Girl messengers in the British post-office are being released from duty and their places given to boys because the girls were so inefficient, but because the authorities do not regard the work suited for females.

Britisher Has Odd Hobby. An English engineer has developed a new form of rotary motor having four cylinders that rotate inside the blades of the propeller. The propeller blades are made of metal and the exhaust leaves from the ends of the blades.

CHINESE WILL SIGN TREATY

Paris Temps Says Powers Have Made Sufficient Promises

PARIS, July 23.—The Temps this afternoon stated that the Chinese are about to sign the proposed treaty as a result of promises made by the powers to act in their behalf concerning the Shantung controversy. The Temps understands that the Chinese will sign because the allies have promised to induce Japan to declare formally her intention to restore Kiao-Chiao within a stipulated period, not exceeding one year.

The Chinese delegate refused to sign the peace treaty because of the clause relating to the Shantung problem. The Temps, which is authority for the above report, is considered to be one of the best informed and most reliable of French newspapers.

PARK A PLACE OF WONDERS

Yellowstone Has Many Marvels Which Will Draw All Times Furnish Attraction for Tourists.

In writing of the Yellowstone park, John Stuart has said: "In some of the spring basins the waters though still warm, are perfectly saline, and when boiled in a soil of overlying grass and flowers, as if they were thoroughly cooked at last, and set aside to settle and cool. Others are boiling over as if rapidly to waste, thousands of tons of the precious quartz being thrown into the air, to fall in scalding sheets on the central floor of the establishment, keeping onlookers at a distance, instead of holding them fast in green or orange water, other pits and crevices are filled with scalding mud, which is stirred up from three to four feet to thirty feet in sticky, non-smoking masses, with gasping, boiling, thundering sounds, plastering the branches of neighboring trees; every least effort, hot spring and geyser has something special in it, no two being the same in temperature, color, or composition."

SUGGESTS BORDER AIRPLANE PATROL

Texas Governor Says Conditions Same for Two Years

AUSTIN, Tex., July 23.—Conditions on the Texas border are no worse than they have been for the past two years, but there is still need for more "equal" divisions of American officers and property, according to a statement made here today by Governor W. P. Hobby of Texas. Governor Hobby declared he had nothing further to add to the representations he made to the federal government some time ago regarding the conditions along the Rio Grande. At that time he offered the services of the Texas national guard for border protection, and this offer, the governor said, will hold good. Governor Hobby added he does not contemplate any action unless the situation becomes more serious. "United States troops," said Governor Hobby, "are scattered along the entire length of the river from El Paso to Brownsville and they must be given credit for keeping raids of Mexican bandits to a minimum. Additional protection would give better security, however." Governor Hobby believes that with the establishment of an airplane patrol along the border by the war department still better service in the matter of protection will be afforded.

A Hot Spot Chalmers Lures You

PICTURE in your mind the things that you would like to own that piece of rare jewelry, that very fetching motor boat, possibly an airplane—that delightful old house on the hill.

Money would have meant little could you have procured them.

Here's one more and quite possibly you've never discovered it. Most good things, you know, you've got to discover.

Its looks may charm you, its specifications may attract, its comforting economy you may enjoy, but there's one thing about it that'll lure you beyond words.

That is the engine. Not so much by what it is, because so many look alike. But by what it does, what it gives.

If "pulverizes" gas before the spark plugs touch of the fuel and you have a throatless, jetless, silky sort of action from underneath the bonnet.

It gives you the feeling of fineness, without the excessiveness of power, although you can punctuate the speedometer dial with speed probably as quick as in any car built today, and make a hill country look like a plain—if you want. But you don't have to use it, and when you do enjoy it like giving a banquet. Remember this about a Hot Spot Chalmers.

No; look for an abundance of fine rich delicious flavor—the taste that really belongs to tea.

Polishing Diamonds

Before the polishing of a diamond is begun the rough stone must be held firmly. This is accomplished by building a solder mold for it. The mold is first roughly shaped by hand and heated. It is then reshaped as often as necessary to fit the stone perfectly. When it is exactly right, it is heated again and the stone dropped in. Heated firmly by the snug solder mold, the stone can then be handled easily.

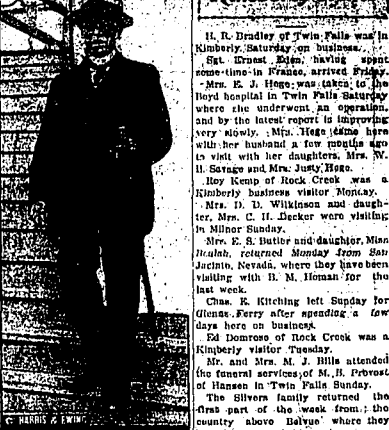

America's Largest Industry

The United States' largest manufacturing industry is iron and steel. The U. S. iron recovered in smelting from ore amounts to about 25 per cent of the raw materials. The equivalent of about 74 per cent is derived by by-product in the making of the steel. In the process of smelting a further 40 per cent escapes in gas, fumes and dust, and the remaining 21 per cent represents the slag.

New Things in Costume Jewelry

The charm of novelty brings in "costume jewelry" which is chosen for the sake of color or because it accentuates a style in dress, or merely because it is smart and fashionable. However fine and beautiful real jewelry may be their owners they are always wearing the same pieces and take to passing fads with such rapidity as if they were lawless. Just now there is a vogue for necklaces and beads of all kinds, with Chinese and East Indian designs featuring among numberless others, including old Venetian and American Indian ideas.
