WHITE SOX AND REDS CONCEDED WIN PENNANTS

Chicago and Cincinnati Teams Go Far Ahead Only Total. Chicago Will Defeat Them

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. The major league pennant races are all over but the shouting. The White Sox have a lead of eight games over the second place Indians in the American league, and the Reds by virtue of their victory over the Giants are now nine games ahead. It is only a question of time now until the pennant races will be over, for nothing short of an earthquake can stop the pace making teams.

As the teams stand today, the Sox must win four of their eleven remaining games to win the flag. Cleveland should win twelve straight. Should the Sox lose eleven straight games the Indians would have to win three out of twelve to win themselves out.

The marathon in the National League is still further advanced because the Reds have won more games than the Sox. Should the Giants win all twelve of their remaining games Pat Moran's boys would have to win three of the nine they now play to finish a race ahead of New York. The Sox have already secured the pennant in the field.

If the world's series is in commencement September 30, which is reasonable along the local baseball ratios, the Sox will have but one day to rise up for their battle against the Reds. The Giants have already secured the pennant which opens at the Polo grounds in New York.

Grand Finale and Season Review Will Be Final Offering at the Park at 2 p. m.—Any Piece Desired Will Be Played.

The Twin Falls band concert season will close Sunday afternoon at the city park, with a grand finale and season's review. The program of the closing concert on Thursday evening at the auditorium was well received by the audience. It was felt that the afternoon hour would be preferable for that reason.

In its review of the season's music the band will play any piece on request. Names of selections desired should be handed to the conductor, which appear at the Polo grounds in New York.

RUPERT AND BURLEY WILL MEET AT PAUL

First Game of Play Off Slated for Today on Neutral Field—Paul Plays Winner

Setting of the pennant race for the first half of the season will be in the hands of the work between Burley and Paul, who finished in a dead heat.

In drawing lots, Burley and Rupert were matched in the first game of elimination. This will be played today at Paul. Next Friday, the winner will be matched against Paul on the home's grounds. Following the present series, a second series between the winner and Burley, winner of the first half, will be arranged.

Victory for Burley in the present series would, of course, eliminate any further play.

A number of Twin Falls fans will attend the game tomorrow at Paul and a good local delegation is expected to see the final game Friday. Both teams are running high in the trial runs over today's battle. With their chances blackened by injury to Jack Stearns, after pitcher who broke his collar bone when he fell out of a ballman's belt while the Rupert team was at bat, recently, Rupert today playing a surprise in the person of a local hero, left handed from the Seattle coast league club, who will hunt to-day's game against Burley. Schorr pitched for the Paul club in the first game this season and gave a brilliant exhibition although losing a 11-inning struggle. He has been pitching center half in the coast league since then.

McVey, another former coast leaguer, will oppose him on the mound for Burley and a tight game is in sight. Marshall will bat for Burley and Pettum will do the reeveing and for Burley.

COURT FIXES DUTY ON WATER

Decision in Salmoh Tract Suit at Boise Indefinitely Delayed. Water Company Cannot Collect on Water Not Supplied.

When the duty on water for the Salmoh Tract, Judge Holbeck, in the federal district court at Boise last week, handed down a decision which the Salmoh settlers regard as favorable to their contention that the water company can not collect on water rights where the water is not supplied according to contract.

In its decision the court placed the duty at 2 1/2 acre feet for the tract, delivered under former head-gate. It fixed the average yearly supply to be 56,000 acre feet, which at the rate of 2 1/2 feet to the acre, thus a supply sufficient to irrigate only about 21,000 acres.

The court held that it was unable to accept any of the several ground-tones submitted as to how to reduce the tract to an acreage that could be successfully irrigated. Contractors are out-bidding for 60,100 acres. The land board and federal government previously decided that 55,000 acres could be admitted to patent. This plan was advocated by the settlers, who contended that the defendants are required to renounce the action left outside of the segregation when it should be reduced. The court regarded this as merely an economic term before which numerous legal difficulties stand in the way.

Another plan offered was to eliminate the contracts dated after those which would use up all of the available water supply. Settlers who were to admit up to 21,000 acres in order of date of the beginning of reclamation work. The last two plans were advocated by the defendant, as leaving them not liable to reclamation of settlers left out.

In rejecting the several plans the court held that the water supply should be prorated among all contract holders, giving them all about 10 per cent of their contract supply. It happened all on an equal basis. It pointed out that the contract holders would have the right of bringing action for damages in the failure of the water company to furnish the water supply contracted.

In effect, it is pointed out by the plaintiff's attorney, Judge Holbeck, that the holding means that the water company is to admit up to 21,000 acres at the cost of the settler $16 instead of $40 which the defendant attempts to collect under contract. The water company's stand that it can collect on the full amount of contract in spite of failure to deliver the full amount, is opposed by the court's decision. Judge Holbeck unofficially remarked.

The court unofficially remarked in handing down its decision that it may develop that some of the later contract holders who have made no improvements on their land nor put their water supply to any use, might be admitted as parties to the suit and their claims adjudicated, thus increasing the supply needed by the other contract holders.

The court strongly advised negotiations between the settlers and the water company for adjusting the distribution of water supply over as compact a tract as possible, rather than attempting to reach the unsecured districts. This plan was advocated as economical and to the best interest of both sides.

WHY SOLDIERS ARE IN RUSSIA

Secretary Baker Explains to Committee—Has Tilt With Doubting Member

Washington, Sept. 15.—There is still actual danger from armed Germans and Austrians, former Russian war prisoners, in Siberia, Secretary Baker today explained in explaining to the House military affairs committee why American soldiers, as well as soldiers of the allies, and of Japan, were kept there.

"Would not the withdrawal of American troops give aid to the bolsheviks," asked Anthony of Kansas. "The secretary felt the withdrawal of the assistance we are giving the Kobiak forces might assist the bolsheviks," replied Baker. "The secretary felt the committee that American and allied troops have been sent originally into Siberia to guard and keep open the Siberian railroad and to help out that country's heavy hand of Czechs who had fought their way across Russia to the Trans mountains and there been held by the release German and Austrian war prisoners.

Among other things Hyman stole a watch and two rings from the McNeill. The jelly he took to his home, but the watch he took to a Larimer street loan office, where he obtained $9.00 in advance to provide reasonably for the future years in which there may be insufficient earnings.

TAFT ANSWERS CRITICS

By Ex-President WM. H. TAFT

"Of course we cannot hope to make one another against attack from students outside their own boundaries, but upon neither. Although this agreement (Article X of the Covenant) is that to any arrangement which seeks to prevent war, it has been attacked on the ground that it would allow the United States to have in various parts of the world and in force to send our boys to fight in quarrels which did not concern us. We should remember, however, that the main purpose of Article X is to frighten nations tempted to wars of conquest from yielding to the temptation, by the certainty that they will be compelled if they begin such a war by a universal boycott and a union of forces of the world against them. If a big war breaks out again, the United States will be forced to take part in it whether we have a League of Nations or not. We tried hard enough to keep out of the war with Germany, but found we could not."

Said a Member of the Coal Trust to the Manager of This Yard---

"We have our meetings, and we'll call you up when we have our next one. Since we've had our meetings, and all charge the same price we are all making more money than ever before. You want to get in. You'll make a lot more money by it."

No one who has watched the price of coal climb during the past few months will deny that, since they have had their meetings they are making more money than ever before. It is a simple matter to make no money when competition is eliminated by dealers both in setting the price—their price—all the same; it was useless for a person to go to some other dealer to purchase coal at the same price as the dealer who was in front of him with the same quotation. It was a case of pay the price or go without.

Everyone will recall that a short time ago the County called for bids on coal. Eight bids were received, and each quoted exactly the same figure. The county rejected those bids because they were too high. At the time these bids were being put in the "Trust" stated that it was a strange coincidence that every bid was the same and the price was so high. A haul went up from the coal trust, and some of them wanted the editor retract what he had said.

But they know now that we know they are guilty and they dare not say anything. They have made a few threats of what they are going to do to us but they haven't amounted to anything, and we are still selling, and will continue to sell coal at a fair margin of profit.

A Post-War Maxwell Gets Many a Longing Look

PASSERS-BY, upon seeing a Post-War Maxwell parked at the curb, often stop and look it over. They are struck by the "atmosphere" of the car, its clean, polished, refined look, its rare symmetry of line, and the evident sincerity in its construction. Thousands who have the rare fortune of possessing a Post-War Maxwell have been profited time and again by the silent approval of the man on the curb. But they have a double satisfaction; they know they have not only a good looking car but a remarkably good acting car.

For there have been a score or more of rather revolutionary improvements in the Maxwell. They can tell a volume about it in any customer's effect in steering which a new type of axle gives, or that perfectly happy and easy feeling that is experienced when the emergency brake is applied (it is on the transmission shaft), or how the car hugs the road 55° above the level of the ground, or that it reads 55° above the level of the ground, or that it reads 55° above the level of the ground, or that it reads 55° above the level of the ground.

THE SECOND POSTULATE

In the discussion in Saturday's Times of the highway commission report to the committee of farmers which waited upon Mr. Johnson...

Now, the commission sent Mr. Johnson away to learn something of value to the commission, so the commission might profit by the experience of people who had been confronted with problems similar to our own.

On the other hand, if physical conditions and the character of the rock here are not at all similar to those where the 60 cent cost obtains...

And if there is nothing upon which to base an estimate of cost approximating 60 cents a cubic yard, why should Mr. Johnson have wasted his time and money investigating this dissimilar condition?

Yet the commission proceeds with its predetermined preparation for road building on the two assumptions, neither of which has any satisfactory thing upon which to predicate it.

CANNED SERMONS

Only the other day it was announced that the political campaign this fall would be characterized by "canned speeches" delivered into the throbbing ears of phonographic records in Washington...

Hardly is the word recalled to that innuendo that a most startling use of the same device is proposed. It is "canned sermons."

A Presbyterian conference at Lake Geneva, Wis., reports that 3000 out of 10,000 seats are vacant. It is impossible to fill these pulpits, for the present at least.

Anybody can see that if prices can be lowered while wages remain stationary, that boats raising wages and prices in upward-trend competition.

According to the packers they are the only true mild recreationists.

Two letters came in the same mail Saturday, one with a bouquet and one with a brickbat. The opinion only to be expressed is that besides the city administration and the highway commission have signed out about them.

Please stop the Sunday Times as we have to economize; let the Daily Times come to Grace Eden until her time expires, then send to M. E. Eden as long as I live if you continue to publish the update, fearless, progressive paper the Daily Times is at this time.

Public Forum

Editor of The Twin Falls Times: I have read your issue of the Times concerning my stand on the meter question and I think it best to state that, in refusing to allow a meter installed in my study, I acted entirely upon my own responsibility and I am in no way representing any other person or group in the community.

COMMENTS

There is a significant fact that comes to me over and over in certain ways through some streets of Twin Falls. Almost every house in certain localities has an African water bag hanging up on the front porch to cool.

A startling thought came to me the other day and left its chilly with a number of my very warm friends upon the water supply and I directly upon the fair name of Twin Falls.

What is a qualification for probable appointment in a city office? One may wish a marked talent for answering titles says this answer file all specifications: "Get in debt to the right number again."

Up to date we have not heard of the water being turned off in the building. The citizen who is fringed to allow it, but every day the amount of water used is a great deal more food than we think it is, the water will not be turned off.

Which feels as to the point? Well, I do not think the city should be allowed to get into court on its meter question. We wonder why.

MAY PROTEST COUNCIL PLAN OF ASSESSING

Corporation Let Bears Whole Cost of Lateral Paving and Many Fall to Approve

That protest against the city council's plan of assessing for the paving of lateral streets is impending is indicated by the activity of attorneys in investigating the proposition, which is shortly to be filed by the city clerk. Objections to the plan, which places the entire cost of such paving on the abutting corner lots, favor the method of grading the streets to the center of the block. The statute governing the situation, it is felt, provides that the assessment shall be so distributed, but it further provides that the council shall judge as to the benefits derived by the property affected and shall plan the assessment accordingly. There is a possibility that the council, in favoring the provision that the assessment be distributed to the corner lots, is in violation of the statute, which provides that the corner lot should pay all the assessment. The ambiguity of the statute, which is apparently interpreted by the council as merely referring to the provision for distribution of assessment, that such benefits be distributed, and the legal judgment as to what degree they are distributed to the council, in furnishing the opportunity for contention in the matter.

It is expected that the assessment rolls, which are now awaiting approval of the council's street and alley committee, will be filed by Wednesday evening and published Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Ten days from the last named date are then allowed for filing protests, which bring the last day of grace to October 1.

START FILTER PLANT TODAY

With Larger and Straighter Intake Pipe Into Low Line Canal, City Expects no Further Trouble in Water Purification.

The new city filtration plant was placed in operation this afternoon, according to an announcement made by the city water department. The new intake pipe expediting the plant with the low line canal having been completed several days ago and the concrete construction set to stand the pouring of water.

With today's move the city of Twin Falls again enjoys filtered water and it is expected by the city water department that the difficulties with water purification will be at an end. The straightening and enlargement of the intake pipe from 16 to 24 inches, said to be the solution of the plant's inability to supply the city, is put to rest and should soon prove or disprove the theory. When the filter plant is completed, one filter was found that it could not supply the six million or more gallons consumed daily by the city and operation was abandoned after ten days of experimenting. Since then the 16 inch intake pipe has been discarded, and two turns in the line eliminated, and a 24 inch pipe extends straight from the plant to the canal.

Use of the storage reservoir is also eliminated with the return of the filter plant to operation. The water is taken directly from the canal into the filter.

PROUD BROWN PIGS.

"Grand, grand," said Mrs. Brown Pig, "these pink pigs are always putting on airs. They're bragging about being fat. Do you see them, Mrs. Brown Pig, over yonder in that barnyard?"

"Why do they think they're so fat?" asked Mrs. Brown Pig.

"They don't know what they're doing," said Mrs. Brown Pig. "They think no creature is as fat as they are."

"And they're quite wrong," said Mrs. Brown Pig.

Now the black pigs and the brown pigs were in two yards adjoining each other. They were owned by two different farmers, who were neighbors.

Even Autos Are Found by Times Classified Ads

The latest and the most interesting proof of the far-reaching effects and unlimited scope of Times Want Ads comes to light in the finding and return of a Ford automobile owned by Mr. Fred E. Moore of 359 Fifth avenue east, Twin Falls.

On Tuesday of last week, Mr. Moore drove up to the I. D. Store to make a small errand, although he was gone only five minutes, upon his return his machine was nowhere to be seen.

Unable to find any trace of his car, Mr. Moore on Thursday made known his loss through a Times Want Ad. Thursday Mr. C. D. Grove, living four miles south and two miles east of Kimberly notified Mr. Moore that he had a Ford automobile standing in his barn, brought from his home. The owner went at once to identify his car and although the top had been torn off the car and the license number removed, Mr. Moore's ownership was established through the motor number.

Nothing was to be seen of the top and now Mr. Moore is running a classified ad for its recovery. And he has every confidence that it will be found.

You may not have lost an automobile, but you may lose it, but there will come a time when you will want the assistance of a powerful little Times Classified Ad to recover some lost or stolen article; or perhaps to rent or sell something; or—but the range of work done by Times Ads is unlimited.
