Shipyard Strike is Temporarily Averted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The nation wide strike at shipyard workers threatened today has been averted at least temporarily. The conference yesterday between representatives of the fifteen international unions in the industry and officials of the navy department and the emergency fleet corporation of the shipping board, resulted in three important steps: 1.—Agreement by the government to remove the restrictions against granting the shipyard workers a working week of less than 48 hours. This was one of the demands of the workers, and the concession by the government applies to all ship workers. 2.—The government representatives urged that the wage demands of the ship workers be held in abeyance until after President Wilson's industrial conference. James O'Connell, president of the Metal Trades department of the American Federation of Labor said today that he thought that the workers would abide by the government's wish.

When the Leaves Begin to Fall It's Time to Get Ready for Winter

Because so many of us are apt to overlook provision for the common comforts of life until actual necessity compels attention, we issue this reminder.

It is now high time that the heating apparatus of the home be carefully inspected to see if any repairs are necessary. When the first chilly weather demands a heater fire it will not be soon enough to find that the grate needs fixing or the smoke pipe must be renewed. Heavy demands then on the plumber and heater men are sure to cause delay and inconvenience, if not discomfort and illness. Likewise, if the bins have not been stocked with winter's coal, now is the opportune time, before the rush begins. Not coal, but the very best, quite a saving this fall. For the range it is ideal fuel, and for the heater, and furnace when used with the lamp, it banks the fire so that the lumps last much longer than when completely exposed to the flame. Place your order now, as it will be delivered direct from the car, saving you $1.00 per ton. It will bear repeating that the City Coal company refused to join the coal combine when invited to do so, resulting in the lowering of the price of coal at this yard.

As was expected, our stand in this matter has brought upon us the wrath of the combined coal interests, and a bitter fight is now being made on this company. Let the gods of might arbitrate right, and we know that right will triumph. Should any member of the coal combine tell you we are selling a cheaper coal, or not giving full weight, or give any other reason to justify them in charging a higher price—get the facts before you pass judgment. You can have your coal weighed over the city scales at our expense, and you are always welcome to look over our views from the coal company with whom we deal, make comparisons with others, you will find we pay as much for lump and egg coal at the mines as anyone else, and you will also find that we pay 20 cents per ton at the mine for Ketchumner not any other coal sold in the city. Our business is conducted open and above board. We have nothing to hide or keep under cover. We will consider it a great privilege to give you a free sample of our King or Ketchumner coal, and have you try them in competition with any other. You to be the judge and jury in deciding which is the best.

City Coal Company's Fair Prices

Table with 2 columns: Lump, Egg, Nut. Rows: Yard Price, Price From. Values range from $9.75 to $8.35.

A further reduction of 50c. per ton will be given on coal in 5 ton lots.

"KING ALBERT—THE PERFECT KNIGHT." BELGIANS WORSHIP THEIR DEMOCRATIC MONARCH

BUT, IF YOU PLEASE, HE IS "KING OF THE BELGIANS" NOT "THE KING OF BELGIUM," AS MOST PEOPLE THINK

By ROBERT J. DREW, (International News Service Staff Correspondent)

Editor's note.—As manager of the Paris bureau of the International News Service, Robert J. Drew, had a simple opportunity to study Belgium's King and the high regard in which he is held by his people. Mr. Drew has just returned to the United States and prepared this article because of the interest it will hold for every American in view of Albert's visit to this country.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—King Albert—the "perfect knight"—was hurried over the roads of Belgium at a breakneck pace. The haughty monarch of the whole Belgium tour was inspired by the king's love of swift action. Whenever he has to travel any distance from Brussels he goes by air. He has several times journeyed in this way to London and Paris and back again to his capital. Often the queen goes with him, for, too often she has to be rapid transit in the unswerving air. It is worthy of note that America's royal visitor is not the "King of Belgium" but the King of the Belgians. There is no King of Belgium, Albert inherits the title of his father, Prince Leopold of Saxe-Coburg, who has since become historic. The prince, in fact, is a complete and accurate biography in itself, for it is his unshakable stand against Von Klock in August, 1914, his kindly solicitude for the honor of the gallant little country over which he reigned, which ranks Albert in history with Darius, the emperor without fear without respect. "That the king is a fine, upstanding man with a kindly smile, that he is possessed of indomitable courage, that he is a wise and shrewd ruler, are things belonging to the common stock of knowledge of Belgium's monarch, but Europe will always know him as a "warrior knight" because of the gallant little country over which he reigned, which ranks Albert in history with Darius, the emperor without fear without respect.

"So, sire, you have lost all," said the kaiser of 1914, tauntingly, to the slaying young ruler. "Yes, all save honor," was Albert's proud and crushing reply. Next briefly also characterized Lot's description when I asked him about Queen Elizabeth, "an ethereal vision in blue," said the academician. And everyone who has had the honor of meeting Albert's consort will agree that nothing could better sound the dominant note of the Queen. Frail, slender and winsome, she has intensely blue eyes—the "true blue" of open frankness and endurance. Her hair is also her favorite color, most of her gowns being blue. "The king has for long been looking forward to his visit to his American visit. It is no exaggeration to say that he knows more about the United States than any monarch of this or any other day. The king has always interested him, intensely, and no American has called upon him in the past five years without leaving behind some extra for the king, the edge of American life and conditions which King Albert has stowed away in his well-ordered mind. "I was in the United States in 1911, and I was presented to him in his study at the palace, and they left me to the king's study in which the king was versed in American conditions. It was not the general knowledge of tourist or newspaper reader, but accurate, detailed information on the staple trades of each particular state which Albert was able to refer to in his talk with the astonished correspondent. He knew as much about the mines of Wyoming as about the orange groves of southern California or the wheat of Virginia. "Speed is the king's particular craze, and it would be surprising if he returned home from the United States without having at least some parts of the country from an airplane. When he flew to meet President Wilson on the French frontier last June he was all day having the president accompany him on an aerial tour of Holland. "Automobiles are fast enough for me," the president said with some emphasis. "And yet there is nothing like the aeroplane," the king replied. "You get speed all the time. Having an aeroplane is like having a gun."

PHIEMEN'S FAILURE TO APPOINT ONE WHOAN CAUSES COMMENT NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Prominent New York suffragists and welfare workers are decidedly "puzzled" because President Wilson did not appoint one woman to the committee, here called by Washington to represent the interests of the people at the labor conference in the capital. "Labor problems in the United States and in the world at large cannot be properly adjusted until the men and women get together on them," declared Miss Mary Garrett, the former president of the New York Federation of Women's clubs. Others shared this opinion.

As the senate committee on agriculture is expending a brief report, but will soon be in full swing, members of the committee further consideration of the treaty of peace and the balance of nations is out of the way. When the hearings are resumed the additional testimony will be continued into two weeks, one-half the time being allotted to the packing and the remainder to the producing and consuming public.

DEMOCRATIC FROTHERS THREW HOW QUICKLY WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Although the Republicans are active in suppressing democratic activities, the republican press and publicity representatives William L. Igoe of Missouri some eight weeks ago introduced a resolution calling for an investigation of the methods of the career politicians with a view to legislating some of their ill-gotten gains out of them. The House committee on rules, Republican controlled, of course, declines to pass it to the House, and there it remains. Presumably it is being held up because it is a Democratic proposal.

POOR FELLOWS NEED A REST WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The House majority of the league of representatives is getting tired again. Having been in session for nearly a week longer than they intended because of the insistence of President Wilson, they are considering "another adjournment while the senate is discussing the league of nations."

BANKERS AND THE FEDERATION OF LABOR

The American Bankers' association, in convention at St. Louis had to listen to a lot of devil talk about the awful labor unions, and the unappreciation shown by the workers for the all but ideal conditions under which they live and breathe, and have their being. The bankers, according to the address of the president of the association "cannot fail to consider the labor question, when we see the branches of the union spreading to the clerks, salesmen, school teachers, and even the actors. Apply this condition must give the bankers pause. It indicates something wrong with the present conditions of life of the whole laboring body."

THE LABOR CONFERENCE

No doubt the conference of representatives of the agricultural laboring and financial interests to be held next week in Washington will bring about a better understanding among these more or less antagonistic interests, and with that better understanding doubtless will develop some appreciation of the difficulties which beset the other in the struggle each represents.

But it is not reasonable to expect that this conference will solve the great economic problems which are older than the nation itself, as old, almost, as civilization. Nobody is wise enough, no body at men is sufficiently capable to lay down a set of hard and fast rules for the guidance of mankind, for mankind's aspirations, and dreams are as diverse as humanity is numerous.

TRAINED CREDIT MEN COMING

Wiley's famous graduates, who will get you, if you don't watch out, will have nothing on the rising generation of credit men, if a training school for this department of business turns out as well as is hoped.

Various Y. M. C. A.'s of this country are adding an institute of credit to their business courses. At these institutes instruction is to be given the embryo credit man in detecting "dead beats" without single glance, in turning slow pay customers into prompt pay patrons, in refusing credit to the undesirable so tactfully that they will gladly return to purchase for cash what they came to have charged on.

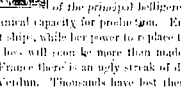

Why shouldn't the third party, the General Public, alias Innocent bystander, go on strike, to teach a lesson in warping capital and labor?

Europe Is Not Wrecked and Ruined by the Greatest War of History

Europe has not been crushed by the war and her outlook is not a gloomy one. When a continent or a country is ruined it does not lie in wait for the victor. In the United States the war caused a labor shortage which had been neglected and presented to us at the conclusion of the war an industrial and agricultural equipment far superior to the one we possessed before.

Germany is well equipped for the age of her merchant marine. Her industrial plants are intact, and the peace conference has conferred upon her a unique advantage in the power to man them by abolishing the military establishment in that country.

What the world produces in food it consumes every year, no matter whether there is peace or war. There is a land which in some places at present, but the crops now being harvested will take us over the peak of privation.

The world will need five years to rest and recuperate and ten more to see another great conflict can be started. Enduring peace will remain a phantom until the instruments for making war are taken away from private governments and intrusted entirely to a society of nations.

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL QUENNS-EIGHTH ANNUAL CONGRESS YESTERDAY

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 1.—"We have fought to make the world safe for democracy, let us now work to make industry and the home safe for humanity."

With this as its slogan the eighth annual congress of the National Safety Council opened here today with 2,000 safety engineers and plant executives representing every state in the Union in attendance.

While the Congress is primarily interested in accident prevention, a large share of work in its session this year will be given to improving industrial relations.

The annual business meeting of the Congress at which officers will be elected for the coming year, the balance of the opening day will be devoted to consideration of industrial relations.

"Employees' representation" will be the chief topic considered, and representatives of both labor and capital will speak.

Tomorrow morning sectional conferences will open. Thursday afternoon "Amateurism" will be discussed by the entire Congress.

The Congress has determined to branch out into another field this year. Its efforts towards insuring greater safety in factories have been crowned with remarkable success.

Now the safety experts are determined to achieve the same success in insuring a campaign against the most common accidents that occur in the households throughout the country.

A quick method, and a surer one, is to keep the stained part in a solution of bleaching liquor. To prepare the bleaching liquor, mix half a pound of chlorinated lime into a basin and pour half a gallon of boiling water over it.

Place the material on the stain in the solution and keep it there. Renew the treatment each day until the stain disappears.

ADDRESS OF JUDGE F. S. DIETRICH BEFORE BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION

Perhaps no meeting since the or- ganization of our church has had such a large attendance as this one. It has been a success in all respects. The two years we have been thinking in terms of this year.

There is a definite trend of opinion in the world which we are not aware of. It is a trend which is not only a trend of opinion but a trend of action. It is a trend which is not only a trend of opinion but a trend of action.

Propaganda War Is on in Pittsburgh, Oct. 1.—There is a very little war of propaganda going on as a by-product of the steel strike.

The operators of the steel mills in Pittsburgh are not only fighting the steel workers but they are also fighting the American people. They are doing this by means of a propaganda war.

MEGRU GETS QUOTE SENTENCE. CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 1. (Special.)—Megrue, who was arrested yesterday for attacking Mrs. Mary Megrue, a white woman, at the trial of the case, was sentenced to a year in prison.

WILL CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 2. The steelworkers of this city are celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the union.

It is perhaps early to appraise the influence which the war has had upon the relations of the church to the world. In some respects at least we may speak with a measure of confidence.

Some people try to cover up the pucky taste of common tea with sugar and milk. The user of fine tea doesn't have to use sugar and milk unless he likes it better that way—the full delicious flavor of the tea is good enough for anybody. Anyway, why waste good sugar and milk on common tea?

Shilling Tea is the fine practical tea for the economical American housewife.

There are four flavors of Shilling Tea: Orange, English Breakfast, All Day Oolong, and Peach-Flavored.
