SEE WEIRD EFFECTS IN ART

Democratized Paintings are Splashes of Color That Outline the Work of Clubs—Newspapers and Books are Scarce.

London.—"Proletarianizing Russian culture" is one of the tasks assigned to the bolshevik government in Russia and Turkey. What this process consists of is told by the Copenhagen correspondent of the London Morning Post. He says:

"If the bolshevik system, as seems likely, is to be a permanent one, Bolshevism during the present summer, a certain experiment in 'culture' thereby will be brought to an end. Beyond that, Bolshevism is to be a permanent common matter and plunder—the bolshevik dictator, Zinovieff, in a speech, Oct. 4, admitted that 'three-quarters of the 10,000 artists, officials and workers only for their own pockets, but the other fifth is honest functionaries with the ordinary foundation of education. 'One delusion is that there can be a specific, proletarian culture.' Last month the Moscow provincial soviet (in the intervals of the war) ordered and boys whose names of service are refused to fight set about organizing the arts and professions in the villages, 'at which,' says the Krasnaya Gazeta, 'in addition to the ordinary, plentiful and abundant, we are providing real proletarian education, art, sciences, philosophy, history. It is culture, the proletarian, irreducible, proletarian mark. This 'proletarian' culture, a word concocted by Zinovieff, is the kind name of a state department with headquarters in the Catherine street, Petrograd, and in the Moscow Moscow palace. The projected word was not unknown. The Council of People's Commissaries, Glavkhar' (for chief sugar monopoly), Sovkhar, and other institutions, neologisms which, with bolshevism, have enriched the language of 'Culturalism' and Tolstoy.

"The democratization of education, over which Lunacharsky presides, spent in 1918 2,000,000,000 roubles (about $42,000,000,000) and estimates of its expenditure for the year of 1919 alone amount to 4,607,000,000 roubles, nominally about 100 per cent more than the total amount expended before the war. Of the first named sum over 250,000,000 roubles, or 2.5 per cent, was spent on the encouragement of literature, the arts, that is, of the specific artistic and literary forms which are classified as 'proletarian' and 'proletarian literature' are violently democratized.

"During the whole of last winter, in the Moscow palace were held weekly competitive sprints, which M. Lunacharsky and even 'our ally' Ilietich (Leningrad) did not spare from attending, though the ordeal for Lenin, who is a cultivated man, must have been severe. Bolshevist poets read aloud their verses, and bolshevik painters showed how hopelessly they had left behind impressionism, cubism and expressionism behind. Two of the best painters shown to me at Stockholm were mere splashes of color, framed in signs of common sense.

"The report of the commissariat of education for 1918 states that in seventeen provinces availed by the soviets at the end of last year, only 20 per cent more elementary schools than 20 per cent more elementary schools than under the autocracy. This largely accounts for the failure of the bolsheviks. Higher education has been democratized on paper by admitting students according to their merit.

"Many papers and magazines, which have grown markedly worse during the last few months, mainly owing to lack of paper. In Petrograd, instead of nine newspapers, there have been only six since April 1 only five. The bolshevik propaganda is still turning out many of the best political pamphlets I have seen; but book publishing has almost entirely ceased; and the best known Russian writers, Andrejev, Korpin and Bereznevsky, are beginning the publication of their writings with Bonnier of Stockholm. The inability to produce books of any value certainly continues for years."

BRITISH CLERGYMEN THEATRES TO STRIKE

LONDON, Oct. 9.—England, having survived strike after strike, has now to face disaster from another quarter. Clergy are threatening to "go out."

"They are agitating for a 'trade' union of their own and are determined to get it. If they do not, an unthinkable will happen. A coal miner earns more in a week than some clergymen earn in a month. It is proposed that all churches should be pooled and that unutilized clergy should have an minimum wage of £120 yearly.

NAVAL PROGRAM REDUCED

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The French naval construction program for 1920 will for only 17 ships—six light cruisers and six destroyers. It was learned today that the program will be reduced from 4,000 to 5,000 tons and will be of modern type. The dreadnaughts, whose keels were laid down before the war, will not be completed.

BRITISH FOOD MINISTRY OUTLINES THE WORLD FOOD SITUATION

LONDON, Oct. 9.—"The truth is, there is at present complete uncertainty as to the course of the world's markets will take during the next twelve months."

"The world's situation is a matter of grave concern to the food ministry in answer to the International News Service. 'If the problem were purely an economic one,' the statement continued, 'it would be possible to make a reasonable forecast. But so long as the political situation remains unsettled, there are no firm grounds on which to base conclusions.'

"The war has stimulated the production of corn, wheat and most of all the great producing countries, and if the world's demand for the production of these crops were greater than before the war, the surplus in sight would be abundant. The world's effective demand for the immediate future, however, is entirely unknown. It is possible, though, under present circumstances, extremely difficult, to estimate the world's present requirements. But effective demand is often very different from needs."

"It may be remembered that, immediately after the armistice, the world's demand for the immediate future, however, is entirely unknown. It is possible, though, under present circumstances, extremely difficult, to estimate the world's present requirements. But effective demand is often very different from needs."

DOOMED TO DIE OF STARVATION

Food Supplies Available for People of Petrograd Entirely Inadequate for Demand

There are now in Petrograd seven million people under the heel of 600 Communist, and unless the city falls before the winter many of these people are doomed to certain death by starvation. These hundred British tons, including 20 women and children, have been made for a voyage during the coming winter months will be allowed to land here. They are now in the harbor and are forbidden to leave until the weather improves and the temperature is down to zero.

Under almost every condition, a pound of wheat is worth more than a pound of potatoes. The only grain available is worse than what other people with sufficient money to buy food must do so clandestinely, as the sale of food is forbidden by Soviet law. One of the saddest sights in the market is that of the market, where starving inhabitants will lie on the ground to get bread and eat together.

At present Germany has drawn a bigger stake into Bolshevist Russia than any other power. There is actually a German colony in Moscow with 20,000 members. They desire more important administrative positions and are actively preparing the way for expropriation of Russia.

A large tract of land in Volynia Province has been appropriated to a group of German Communists who expect to have the land in the near future. New York is going to be a very hot city in the future, either because of the prohibition of liquor or because of the prohibition of liquor.

Capital punishment is reserved in Missouri. After having been abolished for practically two years, death punishment is again to be used in Missouri, effective today. At the last session of the legislature a bill restoring capital punishment for murder was passed. The bill was passed by a vote of 100 to 90. The bill is now in the hands of the governor.

Teachers granted salary raise to avoid strike. Springfield, Mo., Oct. 9.—Through the Chamber of Commerce the matter of salaries for teachers in the Springfield public schools has been settled. A blanket raise of 20 per cent has been granted and a minimum of $250 has been fixed for teachers receiving less than that sum. The increase came to prevent a strike.

Reed Ford of Cantaleroes. Rocky Ford, Colo., Oct. 8.—One of the largest crops of Heavy Dew melons and cantaloupes in the history of the Rocky Ford valley is being harvested this season. It is expected over 2500 carloads of cantaloupes will be shipped out. The crop is far above the average in quality.

Occult Power Basis of Suit for Big Sum. Indiana Woman Makes Millaire Oil Operator Defendant in Novel Suit. Bruce Bennett, millionaire oil operator of Terre Haute, who owns and operates big oil holdings in Pike county, Ind., and west of Petersburg, Ind., was made defendant in a novel suit filed in the Pike circuit court by Mrs. Althea Herndon, of Petersburg, Ind. She claims to have had an occult power and asks judgment against Bennett in the sum of $77,000, a sixteenth part of what he received for a half interest in some oil property which he sold to the Central Indiana company several months ago. She also asks for the return of the property which she sold to the Central Indiana company several months ago. MACHINISTS' PRESENT NEW WORK CONTRACT. The machinists of Twin Falls have perfected a wage scale and working agreement, which has been formulated into a contract and the same has been presented to the employers for acceptance. The wages are the same as have been in effect for some time, but in the new scale the hours are decreased from nine to eight and a half working day. This change is asked simply as a matter of fairness and justice—eight hours now being the basic working day in practically all lines of labor and is recognized by the government as being right and just to both employer and employee. Moreover, the machinists here are of the opinion that the eight-hour day would enable them to be given, in many instances, to returned soldiers and other citizens who are in dire need of the employment thus afforded by cutting the regular nine-hour day to eight hours. This is a strong argument in the machinists' favor; it is patriotic, and in keeping with the spirit of the times. Just in all special privilege to none. Accepted employees have already signed the new contract, and at a regular meeting of Victory Lodge No. 1307, International Association of Machinists, held last Tuesday evening, it was unanimously voted to cause work in a body if all employees concerned do not sign up by ten o'clock tomorrow (Friday) morning. The new contract has been approved by the Grand Lodge, I. A. M., as well as by the Twin Falls Building Trades Council and the Central Labor Union. A meeting of the machinists is called at the Labor hall for 11 o'clock tomorrow in case employers refuse to accept the new agreement. Following is a copy of the contract under discussion, and is given this publicity in order that all may be informed as to its specifications, with the view of a fair and impartial consideration being given by the public.

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT Between the Automobile Dealers and Firms and Members of Victory Lodge No. 1307, I. A. of M. This agreement effective October 20th, 1919, and upon its acceptance to remain in force until either party desires a change, when thirty (30 days) written notice shall be given the other party. ARTICLE I. This agreement carries all employees of the company under the following classification: Mechanic, specialists and apprentices, as per charter of International Association of Machinists. ARTICLE II. A day's work shall be eight hours, and forty-eight hours shall constitute a week, making schedule to be as follows: 8:00 A. M. to 12:30 noon; from 1:00 P. M. to 5:00 P. M., from Monday to Saturday, inclusive. ARTICLE III. Scale of wages as follows: Journeymen machinists to receive eighty-five cents ($.85) per hour. Apprentices: 1st Year (1st 4 Mo., 35c per hour; 2nd 4 Mo., 40c per hour; 3rd 4 Mo., 45c per hour); 2nd Year (1st 3 Mo., 50c per hour; 2nd 3 Mo., 55c per hour; 3rd 3 Mo., 60c per hour); 3rd Year (1st 3 Mo., 70c per hour; 2nd 3 Mo., 75c per hour); 4th Year (12 Mo., 80c per hour). ARTICLE IV. All time worked after the regular working schedule shall be paid for at the rate of time and one-half for first three hours, and for all over three hours and Sundays and holidays double time. ARTICLE V. Holidays to be observed, as proclaimed by the State or Nation. If a holiday falls on Sunday or the following day is observed, time shall be paid as per Article IV. ARTICLE VI. In hiring new help, members of I. A. of M. shall be given preference; in case of depression in work there shall be a reduction in working hours before there is any reduction in wages. In case of further reduction in working hours, men with dependents shall have the preference. ARTICLE VII. In case of a grievance arising this

HOME CANNING FOR THE WORLD

The good, old-fashioned American housewife is going to conquer the world. Some parts of her household economy may not find acceptance abroad, but at least one thing her activity seems destined to win its way everywhere. That is, her canning.

It is the kitchen canning of fruits and vegetables that has created the great American canning industry, whose benefits the war proved to other nations, and which foreigners try many lands are now eager to imitate.

American experts have been giving the French lessons in canning, and its twin process—drying. Americans have prepared canning bulletins for the French government. With all their thrift, the French somehow had strongly overdone these modes of food preservation. From France the world is radiating to other countries of Europe, and even of Africa and Asia.

At a recent course of instruction in canning and drying demonstration given by Americans at Grignon, France, the students included, along with many French men and women, representatives from Algeria, Syria and Egypt. The latter plan to introduce the work in those countries, and also in America.

It may surprise many Americans to learn that this is the only country on earth where the typical home has a "fruit closet" filled every autumn, with a provision board of bottles, jars and glasses with their fruits, jellies, jams, vegetables, pickles and miscellaneous delicacies for the winter. Yet such is the case. How other nations have ever got along without canning is a mystery. From present indications, however, they are not to remain in their dietary darkness.

Learning this art may have a wholesome effect, too, in unexpected ways. For instance, can you imagine a nation of people with plenty of canned fruit and jam in the cellar starting out on a war of conquest? Or yielding to bolshevism? Perhaps the fruit closet is a specific for social unrest.

Trace social agitators to their lairs, and you will find their wives canning fruit in the kitchen? You will not. You will find them paragonizing the delicatessen store.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

There seems to have been some idea floating around at the meeting Tuesday evening for the organization of the chamber of commerce of Twin Falls that there really was something in a name. Major Reynolds told the assemblage that the name "commercial club" had been thoroughly discarded, and he recommended the name "chamber of commerce."

Yet there is really little in a name. The organization will function as well under any name as another. If the members get together and mind on making the organization function, therein lies the future failure or success of the organization. Get the several bureaus to doing things—that is, get the men enthusiastic in doing things, no matter somebody else tell about their duties, and nothing can prevent success of the new organization, be it known as commercial club or chamber of commerce.

But let it degenerate into a so-called "hoisting" organization, in which each fellow tries to outdo the other in talking about doing things, and works so hard in the telling that the time is left for work and—well, it will fall into the category of which has buried so many follies which Major Reynolds told about.

What Twin Falls needs is a "do" organization, and from the spirit of the meeting at which the organization was launched Tuesday evening, that's the kind the city is due to have.

TREATY RATIFICATION AND BOOZE

That is an inspiring piece of news from Washington that Bob Penrose, one of the Republican leaders of the senate, member of the finance committee, gives out that the peace treaty will be ratified before the end of October, in order to bring peace and the automatic ending of the war-time prohibition.

So old King Booze has more approval to the leaders of national thought, more influence in directing the path of civilization's progress, than the merits of the peace treaty. When Booze talks, senators drop their conversations and come out strong for ratification.

It is inspirational to find something that will make the Republican senators move, but isn't it discouraging to find that Booze is more potent than right thinking?

CAPTURE OF THE DESPERADOES

Did Springs showed the kind of efficiency the public demands when his dragnet was set for the capture of the two desperadoes who broke jail and made their way to Vale, Ore., before capturing Coyne might say that the sheriff ought to have prevented their escape, but they go away, and it required prompt and efficient work to bring the prisoners back. It is the kind of work the public wants, and seldom gets, from its servants.

Fortunately it will be possible to entertain the new British ambassador in the style to which he is accustomed without breaking any laws. Grey never touches a drop.

Wood for Aircraft Propeller Blades Adds to Our Forestry Problem

By C. L. PACK, American Forestry Association

We have just seen four sets of propeller blades take the giant dirigible BZ-4 across the ocean and back. These eight blades are made of wood. The experts have found nothing to take the place of wood in those blades.

Those blades are but seven feet long, but much more wood than that is used in turning them and finding what will stand the terrific tests.

A propeller makes about 1,500 revolutions a minute. The whir of propeller blades will soon be multiplied by a million, and they carry a message to the business world that must be answered.

With over a million transportation demonstrated the major burden placed upon the forests of this country will be the call upon them due to their own industry, and not one of the biggest reconstruction problems before the country today is a national forest policy.

The late state now import lumber from other sections of the country. Experts estimate the supply of southern pine will be exhausted within the next fifteen years. Now England no longer produces enough lumber for her own needs. The center of the lumber industry is rapidly moving toward the Pacific coast.

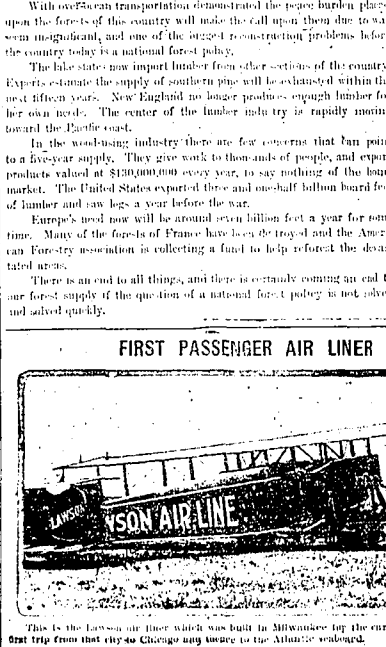

In the wood-using industry there are few concerns that can point to a five-year supply. They give work to thousands of people, and export products valued at $100,000,000 every year, say nothing of the home market. The United States exports three and one-half billion board feet of lumber and saw logs a year before the war.

Europe's need now will be around seven billion feet a year for some time. Many of the forests of France have been destroyed and the American Forestry association is collecting a fund to help reforest the devastated areas.

There is an end to all things, and there is certainly coming an end to our forest supply if the question of a national forest policy is not solved and solved quickly.

This is the Lawson air liner which was built in Milwaukee for the carrying of passengers and which made its first trip from this city to Chicago only three days before the war.

WAR HOSPITAL WORK TOO TAME FOR MISS SEDGWICK

Being in a Legion war hospital was altogether too tame for pretty Miss Adelaide Sedgwick of New York, so the young lady transferred her activities to France, where she ran a canteen for British soldiers near Calais. Here Miss Sedgwick left behind a name to live in history, for the German aviators bombed the vicinity lately. Miss Sedgwick's canteen served 600 soldiers a day. She has been commended by the British government for her work.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"The two horses." "Lion horses," said Jerry Hoose. "Jerry and I have been with 'em." "The horses were in a stable and they were nothing and chatting." "Yes," said Jerry Hoose. "We have in it a very, very good horse." "Dear me," said another horse, "you two horses are a great addition to the stable. To think that you have such lion horses and that you consider them a foolish thing." "One would think that to be famous would be everything in the world. He being in history for example, like being a George Washington or some great creature." "There, then," said one of the horses, "that is going rather far. You best be thinking things and then you know the more and more. One day we were making love so hard that you almost believed yourself you had had the horse who had been ridden by Paul Revere." "That was," said the horse who had been speaking, "well, that was always very wonderful to me." "You have been famous for having been always in the one stable. That is quite unusual in the days of setting horses and riding motor cars," said another horse. "I have," said the horse who thought fame was so fine. "Those were many horses in the stable for the master's horse horses and so did they have more and more. One day they wouldn't have given up their horses for anything, as they enjoyed riding and setting." "What were you going to tell me?" one of the horses asked Jerry Hoose. "I was the new stable horse who had just arrived." "Oh yes, I was going to tell you how famous Jerry and I have been." "That is," said Jerry, "nothing the other new horse said." "Oh yes," said the horses, "you did the head of Jerry." "You would tell it for better," said Jerry. "You would tell it for better," said Jerry. "You would tell it for better," said Jerry. "You would tell it for better," said Jerry.

IS LOVE BLIND? This Indiana Burglar Will Surprise. These are becoming so valuable that it is dangerous for a merchant to leave them in a window display over night, as one shows when a thief used a club to break a plate glass window in Hartford City, Ind., in an effort to get several pairs of women's shoes. He worked near a street light and was prevented from succeeding in his venture only by the fact that newly-weds were honeymooning on the porch of the Snyder home, just across the street from the shoe shop. The shopkeeper, Mr. and Mrs. William Finmore, who were married in the afternoon, shouted at the robber, who ran without obtaining any booty. Patrolmen took hold of the crash of glass from the broken window and was on the scene within a few minutes, but the thief had escaped.

PLANS MATURING FOR INSTITUTE

Faculty Dinner and Grid Game to Feature Teachers Meet Here Next Week

Great preparations are being made for the joint teachers institute, which will take place in this city next week. Indications point to a large attendance and it is difficult to find boarding places for the crowd.

This is the initial annual meeting of the south central district. There will be eight counties represented—Canna, Idaho, Jerome, Gooding, Cassia, Minidoka, Lincoln and Twin Falls.

Several functions have been planned for the teachers who will be present. Hal G. Blue, conductor of the institute, will give a faculty dinner, which will be served by the women of the Presbyterian church, while a reception for the teachers will be staged at the Lawing hall by the business community.

A football game will be played on Wednesday between the Twin Falls and Gooding teams. A parade in the game will be headed by the high school band and several hundred students will march in the line. The victors will be shown the wonders of Shoshone falls on Thursday afternoon.

Why don't they call common tea "tannin-brew" or something like that? People would then know it for what it is, and would steer clear of it.

Now, really, when fine tea actually costs less per cup than common tea, what's the use of drinking the common tea?

Don't you believe it? Try a package of Schilling Tea, and get your money back if you don't think we're right.

There are four flavors of Schilling Tea—Japan, Ceylon, India, Oolong, English Breakfast. All are packed in jachman-lined moisture-proof packages. All grown everywhere.

LABOR GROUP HAS PLANS

(Continued from Page 1) The labor group has a number of proposals to be considered by the committee, containing all of the more radical platforms and demands.

The labor group broke out on the floor of the assembly, and Secretary of the committee, who said that the committee would not work on the usual resolutions.

The labor group and its critics of the assembly in which the business of the day was to be conducted, and declared that the labor group would not be admitted to the floor.

President Clark expressed strong opposition to the labor group, and declared that the labor group would not be admitted to the floor.

There is a conflict already. We will have to make a new start of the conference in being held only two days before the general election.
