WHEELS OF GOVERNMENT TURN RAPIDLY IN EFFORT TO ALLAY VAST SUFFERING TO FOLLOW DEVELOPMENTS IN COAL STRIKE

The principals in the threatened national coal strike—operators, miners and the government—apparently have given up all hopes of averting the strike and are now bending every energy toward preparation for the calamity which will come on Saturday.

The cabinet meet today to consider the situation and decided to restore the maximum price as one measure to protect the consumer.

The director general of railroads has virtually taken over the powers which the fuel administration exercised during the war.

Coal in transit has been ordered seized in order to conserve the available supply for essential industries and public utilities.

The director general of railroads issues a "priority" list of consignees for coal, giving preference to (1) railroads and transport; (2) hotels, hospitals and asylums; (3) army and navy, and (4) public utilities.

Secretary of War Baker announced that the "army is ready" for any emergency.

Union officials warn that 150,000 hard coal miners will join the 500,000 soft-coal miners if any prosecution of officials of the United Mine Workers of America is attempted.

John L. Lewis, acting head of the United Mine Workers, charges that President Wilson and his cabinet have made an amicable settlement impossible by "standing by the mine owners in attempting to crush labor."

CATASTROPHE OF STRIKE IS IMMEASURABLE

More Serious Menace to Nation Than World War—Would Deprive Unnumbered Thousands of Power to Earn a Living.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The effects of the coal strike on the nation are being estimated today to be as serious as any that have ever befallen the country since the great soft coal strike of 1914. It is estimated that the coal strike will deprive the people of the United States of the world war, the government is said to stand ready in every way to face the issue to clearly laid down by the coal miners in session at Indianapolis.

The miners declared: "The issue has been made, and it must be settled upon the field of industrial battle, the responsibility rests fairly and squarely upon the government and the coal owners." The federal government, through Attorney General Palmer, declares the miners' leaders last September ordered the strike not only without consulting the mass of miners themselves, but without first giving the operators a chance to grant the minimum wage or to negotiate.

The position of the government remains that the strike under existing circumstances is unlawful and that it is the duty of the government to suppress it. The position of the coal owners is that the strike is a justifiable action of the miners to secure a living wage and other benefits.

It is estimated that there is a chance, therefore, that after the without compromise, but it is not certain that these great fuel deposits soon will be opened up.

At the office of the Oregon Short Line in this city it was stated today that the matter would be called to the attention of the company's officials in the city. It was also stated that the building of the spur is expedited.

COLORADO GUARD PREPARING FOR FUEL SHORTAGE IS ORDERED OUT DURING STRIKE

Apprehension Felt in Coal Fields That Masters of Ludlow May Be Repeated

DENVER, Oct. 30.—To-day's suspension of the Colorado national guard—was mobilizing today and will be in camp here industrial tonight in order to move at once to any part of the state where outbreaks may occur as a result of the threatened strike of soft coal miners. The Colorado guard consists of about 1,200 men and was ordered mobilized by Governor Shoup after national requests for troops had been received from mining camps.

The governor declared that he would be tolerated if the strike order goes into effect. He will confer today with local officials and legislation in an effort to secure the assistance of former army men in case of serious trouble. "The fact of our being of men to cause their employment must be acknowledged," Governor Shoup said in his call for troops. "If the same labor that ordered us to work when, where and for whom he pleases may be required, I shall see that the laws of the nation and state are maintained." Citizens to support him in the grave crisis confronting Colorado.

Word reached here today that the Colorado national guard has been ordered to move at once to any part of the state where outbreaks may occur as a result of the threatened strike of soft coal miners.

STEEL STRIKE IT PARTLY OFF

Men Ordered Back in Independent Plants—Trust Mills Are Not Affected by Order

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—The strike at steel and iron works in the Calumet district was called off today in so far as the independent plants and the workers, according to word received here from Gary, Ind.

Notice was received here today that the strikers' national committee had ordered the men to their independent plants to return to work. The battle between the steel operators and the workers nationally narrowed down to a fight in the United States where there is no sugar in the action of the strike committee.

GRAFT RESULTS FROM COST PLUS

Honest Contractors Deprived Government in Its Drive Demand During Wartime

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 30.—Sensational charges of defrauding the government under the cost plus system of contracting for war supplies are being made in a sworn testimony of witnesses before the congressional investigation committee today.

Carl M. Wain, former foreman, testified that from five hundred and six hundred items were used to do up a contract for the government in which men were kept on the payroll because of the benefit of the percentage to the contractors.

Wain told the probers that he was instructed that he was to flow up in his work and that the only requirement was that he should keep the "big boys" "keep all men on the payroll."

HOPE OF RESCUE IS ABANDONED WILL RESTORE PRICE CONTROL

Twenty Nine Miners Entrapped in Ohio Mine Doomed When Rescuers Forced to Quit

AMSTERDAM, Ohio, Oct. 30.—All hope of rescue of the twenty-nine men entrapped in a mine No. 2 of the Yonkers a Ohio company here was abandoned today when rescuers have been ordered out of the mine. The rescue attempt was abandoned after the rescuers had been working in shafts of 800 feet below the ground for 48 hours.

Officials were forced to throw a "blanket" over the top of the mine shaft to save away members of the number of the men entrapped. "All night long, they kept going, but that kind of work is not safe. The men were working in shafts of 800 feet below the ground for 48 hours and were exhausted.

President Will Be Asked to Reconsider Order Canceling Suspension of Restrictions—Getfield Will Go Back on Fuel Job.

LEWISTON WILL HAVE LITE SHOW

LEWISTON, Oct. 30.—A "lite" show will be given at the Lewiston high school today.

...in excellent trim for battle, the Twin Falls boys are preparing to turn Lambda into a warm bed for the purpose of sending a few stars to their reputation. It remains to be seen what the Lambda boys will consent to if they...

The fine opposite hand of Coach Deane Daman, the locals are running into trouble...

stretch of their schedule they are determined to have another fine victory over every team that has seemed a tall order them. Naturally they will keep them busy inasmuch as their record to date has been a record of hard troubles. As a starter they intend to give the boys of the Lambda Report. So confident are they that the old warriors will start tomorrow that the boys are making money out of them. The boys are confident of themselves by promising the late arrival after they have won a game. The barbers are also under the ban, which appears to be consistent, since the first thing an athlete does is to get his hair cut. It is said that a son did stand on the top of his house and look down at the boys that were his father's pupils. He said as the boys were coming out of the house that he didn't matter much, it will soon be his own hair cut. It is said that he can then take affairs into their own hands. But about the boys' business—well, we think that because the boys are away from home and the month's separation from the family. The school managers and the parents would be glad to see the boys. The boys' parents would be a regular treat.

But the boys say they are going to make a record for themselves in the months on the father's business card. It is said that the boys are full of confidence and anxious to go. Kibbles and bits have been taken care of and no bills covered, having passed the bill on a regular basis. The boys' son's swollen jaw is back where it should be. The boys are going to the ground again. Watson, Evans, Kasper and other boys are going to hold down the fort for the boys' school. The boys are going to the Denton grounds, Bailey and Lamb, looking for a good fight. The boys are going to the end.

THOUGHT FOR THE MORROW

Too many people in this land have thought in the past that they could not save anything. They have reasoned that because it takes the next time they get a raise, of course they will save the raise. When the raise comes, however, they do not save it. The habit of living up to the edge of the pay envelope, is too strong.

The war, with its necessary conscription, taught people that they could live on less than before. Thirdly a family but found it spending the old clothes in another few months, could take off the spending a bit here and there for bonds or saving stamps.

It is perfectly natural that the reaction from forced economies of money, of materials, of pleasure, should result for a little while in riotous indulgence. It is the swing of the pendulum. By the time the year is up on Armistice Day practically every American will have indulged in his little fling. Whether it is a limousine or an extended tour, a little old rebuilt fiver, a fur coat, a new porch, a set of books no one will ever read, or that object of antiquarian interest, an all- linen table cloth, every one will have bought or done something of unprecedented extravagance just out of the half-conscious spirit of celebrating done this, would it not be a good plan to mark Armistice Day the beginning of a period of prosperity by regular trips to the savings bank? We all know that we can, if necessary, live on less than we earn. We have proved it by doing it.

Anxiety is the most crippling force in the world. The possession of a not a little bank book with rows of neat little figures, the ore sure cure for anxiety. In the place of that corroding disease it puts confidence, security, the courage for new ventures and the self-control to carry them through.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

As the first step in an educational campaign concerning the high cost of living, the United States Council of National Defense has issued an appeal to the people "to return to the unity that won the war," and to work and save as the only solution of the problem. As a result of its investigation the council found that the nation's productive powers have not been fully utilized since the armistice, and that even some of these goods have been withheld from the market, and therefore from the people; that the high cost of living is due in part to unavoidable war-waste and increase of money and credit; that there has been and is considerable profiteering, intentional and unintentional.

The council believes that the remedies for the situation are: to produce more goods, and to produce them in proportion to the needs of the people; to stamp out profiteering and stop unnecessary hoarding; to enforce vigorously present laws, and promptly to enact and further laws as are necessary to prevent and punish profiteering and needless hoarding; to bring about better cooperation and methods in distributing and marketing goods; to keep both producer and consumer fully informed as to what goods are needed and as to what supplies are available, so that production may anticipate the country's demands.

CITY FRUIT TREES

The National Forestry association has endorsed a plan for starting city orchards. Its program is to plant and care for five fruit trees at public expense.

The city vacant lot came to the front during the war as a very helpful source of food. War gardens full of green stuff and whole some vegetables sprouted on many a corner lot formerly devoted to weeds and rubbish. Why should not the fruit trees thrive just as beneficially to all concerned along public thoroughfares and in the city parks?

Many a European town derives a little income from its public fruit trees. Everyone looks in waiting for the trees during the war. The fruit is then sold at public auction.

A well cared for fruit tree is very ornamental. In blossom time it is indeed a thing of beauty and joy. As the season advances the tree is still beautiful in all its varying development. And it is as useful as it is beautiful.

Aside from yielding the community a small income, such gain as it would also prove instructive to city children who know only too little about the growth of the fruits that appear in the city's windows. Also they might stimulate the planting of fruit trees in private back yards which are smaller than the parks and clubs and apples but well adapted to the smaller fruit tree with its wide shade in midsummer and its three welcome crop of fresh fruit.

More than 50,000 women and girls participated in the sewing and knitting of the American Red Cross during the war. Many of these women will be active in clothing members for the Red Cross for 1926 during the ten days until Armistice Day when it is estimated that the women and girls in two years time produced more than 100,000,000 worth of garments. It is estimated that the industry made more than $100,000,000 worth of garments, the fact that they are in a position to be a practical assistance that universal membership will be achieved.

Your Last Chance to Make Millions in Oil Leases is Here

The subscriptions for oil leases near where J. A. Noggle is drilling for oil, have been coming in so fast that we will soon have to withdraw our lease propositions from the market. We have been flooded for leases and at the rate that they have been coming in we will soon have everything taken up around where oil is being drilled.

Do Not Delay but Sign This Application Today and Join the Ranks of the Independently Rich

Remember the conditions of this leasing are—

That your lease will be within one mile of the well that J. A. Noggle is now drilling.

That you get your money back should you not get the lease before November 20th, 1919.

That the lease carries with it an abstract showing the title to be good in the grantor.

For those of you who may not know about Mr. J. O. Noggle this information is given:

Mr. Noggle has many years of active experience in oil fields and knows good oil land better than most farmers know good stock. He was sent by this syndicate to California and Wyoming to pass on propositions and each time turned them down because he thought they were no good. His judgment saved these men many thousands of dollars and proved his honesty. Today they are drilling in a field in Oklahoma that eventually will be the richest oil field in the world. So you see that by buying one of these leases you are bound to jump right into the millionaire class and can retire.

Read What This Experienced Oil Man Says on Buying Leases.

Money Made Easy in Oil Fields

Says a Drug Store Clerk, If a Person Has Some Money, a Little Nerve and a Chance to Buy a Lease Near a Well Actually Drilling

"Only one way of investing in the development of oil, that will insure a chance," says the Oklahoma Investor, in an interview with Oswald Howard, a man who has stepped from a drug clerk in a drug store to a half-millionaire, asking him how he did it. He said:

"I did not take me long to find out that Oklahoma had the oil, but how could I get a part of it was the problem I wished to solve. I had a very limited amount of money and a little nerve. I knew if I bought some land that was supposed to have oil under it, I could not drill a well as it took several thousand dollars to drill. In fact many thousands of boys even the coming after the well had been drilled, so I decided that my life was passing on and I must act or lose. Feeling that if I did not attempt to better my condition it would not be helped, so I decided to buy 40 acres of oil lease near to where some responsible fellows were going to drill. I purchased 40 acres at $200 per acre. The lease was a five-year lease. The well was drilled to the depth of 2800 feet and oil was found. My lease was worth $2000 per acre. I sold half of it and retained the other part. Then I bought some more leases where wells were being drilled, and it was not long until I was very independent."

"When asked if he bought stock in any of the oil companies, he said yes, he did until experience taught him that the sure way to win was to own what you own, and play the game as safe as possible. You will find people in the oil fields buy leases and they must be reasonably close to the well that is drilling."

"What do you mean by 'reasonably close'?"

"I mean within two miles."

"Then the main thing is to know that the concern that you are near will drill."

"Yes, that is it, exactly. You will notice in Oklahoma, shoe-shiners, barbers and bankers alike make millions when they play the game consistently, by buying leases. Oklahoma is as rich as any oil state as Ohio is in farming state, and farming is not a serious gamble in Ohio, is it?"

The reason is that the farmer in Ohio takes the lease amount of chance possible in farming, and the men who win in Oklahoma do the same on oil, so they lose.

"Why is it that many people in Oklahoma have lost money by playing the oil game?" was asked.

"Well, tell me this, why has Oklahoma passed a line sky law," was the answer.

"Because so many companies were operating that had no capital, I suppose," was the answer.

"Yes, you guessed about right, and if the company did not have the money what became of the stock holder? He just had the pleasure of believing that he had something for a short time, that's all, and if the investor had owned a lease he yet would have had something, because the well will be completed by some other people. Oil investments are the best if you win, and the best chance to win is by buying oil leases, in an oil country, and Oklahoma is sure an oil country."

In common tea the tannin hardly starts before the tannin comes along and smother's it. Tannin, the rank harsh injurious—what people use to tan leather with.

Farmer and Labor Get Together Meeting

In this epochal crisis in industrial history, when the common people of this and every other country upon the face of earth are crying out for relief from the most deplorable and indelible economic conditions ever known in the history of mankind, it behooves us, one and all, to THINK deeply—to get together, exchange ideas, present our side of the question and bear the other fellow's side, with the view in mind that a peaceful and permanent settlement may be determined and put in operation.

The "wise" statesmen (?) of these days, days fraught with gravest concern and alarm, have signally and miserably failed in their mission as representatives of the popular will of the people, but there MUST be some way out of the dilemma—a peaceful and practical solution of the vexing problems so vitally concerning every man, woman and child of our country. The issue is square cut. There is no middle ground or neutral participation. You stand either for progress or decadence.

Therefore, with a view of presenting labor's side, there will be a rousing meeting of farmers and laborers in the LAVERING THEATRE Sunday, November 2 At 2 O'Clock P. M.

Let's make this the most memorable mass meeting ever held in southern Idaho—a living, breathing PROTEST against the foolish, frivolous and futile efforts of the "wise" statesmen (?) to make a hungry man "well fed, well clothed and well housed" by enacting a silly law that he is in that happy condition.

Hon. Ray McKaig

of the Nonpartisan League of Idaho, will address the meeting along constructive lines and it will be well worth your time to hear him. Women specially invited

We beg to inform you as to the activities in the Quicksilver mining section, which is located 70 miles northeast of Cascade, Valley County, Idaho.

A company has been formed and incorporated for $1,000,000 under the laws of the State of Idaho.

A local Boise organization consisting of most of the prominent business men who have up to this date invested over $50,000 for developing the same property under the name of The FERN QUICKSILVER MINING COMPANY. The company owns 7 claims in area aggregating 140 acres, on which there are three tunnels.

The Buckshed tunnel is about 130 feet in length, showing an 18-foot vein of ore.

The second and upper tunnel of 125 feet showing very good grade of cinnabar ore varying in width for a distance of 70 feet with a vein from 2 to 6 feet of very High Grade Ore.

The third and lower tunnel of 118 feet in length in which is expected to open up another large body of High Grade Ore, within the next 50 feet.

An open cut has been made on the surface showing ledge to be 28 feet. It is safe to say that this is one of the best and largest discoveries that has ever been known in quality and quantity in the Mercury line.

It is a known fact that the quicksilver production in the United States has been declining ever since 1877

We have taken every effort to interest Idahoans in this great undertaking and to prove that any enterprise can be successfully conducted by the people of Idaho and keep the money at home. We should be proud that Idaho will prove in the very near future as being the world's leader in the production of Mercury.

Much interest is being shown in the FERN property in this locality as well as in other sections of the state. We have shown our good will and protection to prospective investors of this city who were ready to turn their hard earnings over into the Treasury of the FERN QUICKSILVER MINING CO.

However, a representative, (Paul G. Savic) of the Corporation would not accept their investment until they had made a personal inspection of the property which is without doubt one of the best and safest methods.

Mr. Theodore Duerig, well known citizen of this city who became very much interested with his friends in The FERN QUICKSILVER property has without delay induced Mr. Wm. Peterson, who has had wide experience in Mining, being familiar with quicksilver, to inspect the property. Before leaving for the inspection of the property great numbers of Mr. Duerig's relatives and friends have intrusted upon him finances, in case of finding things as represented, to invest and to bring certificates in return. Upon Mr. Peterson's return from the mine, Mr. Duerig has become one of the heaviest investors in this section.

To anyone who may be interested, Messrs. Duerig and Peterson will be glad to explain in detail the opportunity for a prospective investor and their experience at the mine.

There were several Government experts to inspect the property and have taken very much interest in the discovery stating that the property will make a great mining camp.

We have had several large corporations look at the property with the intention of buying it, but they have not succeeded because the property was not for sale. The company is placing the remaining treasury stock on the market in this section and anyone who wishes to join and co-operate with us in this great undertaking must act at once because the stock will not remain in the market very much longer.

In tomorrow's issue we will give you an idea of quicksilver production in the United States in 1899 and also the production in the second quarter of 1919. You will note that the production of quicksilver in the year 1899, in the United States, was greater than the world's production in 1917.
