BANK CASHIER BADLY WANTED

He Took Everything but Vault Door and Jambos When He Took to His Heels

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—A country-wide search is on today for Guy W. Kracke, cashier of the Illinois State bank of Crete, Ill., postmaster, police magistrate, notary public, insurance agent, and a prominent church worker, who disappeared along with $100,000 of the bank funds.

Bank Examiner Peterson and Edgerly recovered the shortage yesterday. When they entered the bank Kracke asked to be examined, explaining that he wanted to "step across the street a minute." Kracke failed to appear and when the examiners started to leave the bank they found he had locked them in.

A duplicate bank book traced the shortage. When they entered the bank Kracke asked to be examined, explaining that he wanted to "step across the street a minute." Kracke failed to appear and when the examiners started to leave the bank they found he had locked them in.

NEWEST AMERICAN GUN MOUNT A SUCCESS

The newest gun mount of the United States military forces was completed after the prototype was signed and has just passed its official test with flying colors. It is a railroad mount, designed by the army department for the navy's 14-inch gun, which was used so effectively on land mounts in France.

Ex-soldier Gives Explanation Why He Was in Court

Believing that his case had not been clearly or fairly understood through a bald newspaper report of the trial, Robert A. Carr, ex-soldier ordered to join the army for drunkenness, gave a statement to The Times yesterday in explanation. It reads as follows:

I, an ex-soldier, pleaded guilty in the John Stimpick's court on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. I wasn't very badly "let up" as I talked to the court with the offer of the fine. But the judge told me he was giving me the limit, that being $100. I didn't have the money of course. He gave me an order to go to jail. I was passed three times while in real action in the horrible Arizona forest, doing my best to "get some more" to help home, save and glorify our dear old nation and people. I was not my duty. But the third day I got left on a stretcher and was taken to a field, sending my prayers to my dear old mother on her little dry farm in the Twin Falls vicinity.

Thanksgiving Calls For New Clothes and We Are Ready with Many Styles

There are Men's Suits of all kinds on the market, good, bad and indifferent, but this year, as in former years, there is only one kind to be found here.

It is the kind made of standard all-wool fabrics, hand tailored with particular care and fashioned and finished to perfection.

These are the essentials of character, quality, style, service and value for the money.

No matter how much a man may be willing to pay and no matter where he tries, he cannot find better ready-to-wear suits than these. The man who is willing to pay less, in the belief that he is getting as good, is going to be badly disappointed.

Our men's suits are $30.00 to $55.00 and the variety embraces styles and patterns and shades for men of all ages and tastes, from youths getting into their first long trousers upward.

Men's Winter Overcoats $25 to $50.00.

In Society

The young people of the Christian church under the leadership of Mr. Simons had a very interesting party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bowles on Seventh avenue east Friday night. A musical program was given by Mrs. Patrick, Miss Corlison, Miss Varney and also violin and cornet numbers. Afterwards the crowd enjoyed all kinds of guessing games, and chorus singing, and dainty refreshments were served to forty guests.

The Wednesday Bridge club gave a luncheon at the Perrine Hotel for Mrs. B. A. Hamilton who is leaving soon for California. After the luncheon the guests adjourned to the home of Mrs. E. T. Stevens and played bridge. Each of the guests gave Mrs. Hamilton a beautiful handkerchief. The guests were Mrs. B. A. Hamilton, Mrs. H. L. Larned, Mrs. Senior, Lavering, Wright, Burton, Spafford, Greenough and Miss Cora Greenough.

A delightful party was given by Mrs. Harry Sawyer at her home on Second west Thursday night. Two tables of bridge were enjoyed, Mrs. Brown winning the prize, a beautiful Madras handkerchief. About twenty in the evening delicious refreshments were served to bloodsuckers by Mrs. J. D. White, Parsons, Heinicks, C. J. Costello, Brown, Ernest, White.

The D. A. R. entertained at a silver tea on Friday afternoon in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church. A very fine musical program was given by Mrs. W. H. Parks, Mrs. Lloyd Bailey, Mrs. E. S. Byers and Mrs. O. P. Durall. After the program the ladies enjoyed a social time and delicious refreshments.

The Catholic Women's club met with Mrs. Cochran on ninth north, the hostess being Mrs. Campbell, Cooney and Cox. A musical program was given by Mrs. French, Mrs. Heagan, Miss Carlson and Mrs. Hart.

Miss Cora Greenough entertained the Wednesday Bridge club at her home on Eighth west north. At one o'clock a two course luncheon was served after which the guests enjoyed cards. Mrs. R. B. Spafford won first prize and Mrs. C. H. second, both dainty handkerchiefs. The ladies present were Mrs. B. A. Hamilton, Miss Cio, Larned, Morse, Senior, Lavering, Wright, Burton, Spafford and Greenough.

The Penelope club was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Geo. Davidson at her home on Seventh avenue east. Five hundred was the name of the afternoon, the lady at each table having high score was presented with a lovely pink muslin. Mrs. Frank Rudolph, Frank Massi, and A. H. Corbett were guests of the club.

The Winona club was entertained at the country home of Mrs. J. M. Spackman Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in sewing and dainty refreshments were served to the following ladies: Madeline H. Jo Youngs, Warner, Babcock, Beauchamp, Mann, Breckenridge, Mackintosh, Scott, Mrs. C. A. Ostrander and Mrs. J. P. McClure were guests of the club.

Mrs. W. H. Dwight and Mrs. M. J.

Sweetley were entertained in Plover at a luncheon Wednesday night for Mrs. T. E. Covert. Covers were laid for twelve. After the luncheon Mrs. Sweetley spoke before the Woman's club and Mrs. Dwight sang.

Mrs. Willet Hance, Sr., entertained the M. C. B. club Wednesday afternoon at her home on Seventh avenue north. Bride was the name of the afternoon. Mrs. Ericson won the first prize. Dainty refreshments were served to Mrs. Ericson, Fred Hartney, Mary Kelly, Paul Johnson, J. Costello, Shiraz and Reed.

Chapter D. P. E. O. met at the home of Mrs. Ernest White Tuesday evening with Mrs. White and Mrs. Ostrum as hostesses. A short program was given on the life and writings of Ella Wheeler Wilcox and Frances Hodgson Burnett. A discussion of the work during the winter was followed by delicious refreshments to the fifteen members present.

Mrs. Kellough Wednesday afternoon. A short program was given under the leadership of Mrs. O. D. Weaver after which refreshments were served. Mrs. Christ and Mrs. Combs were voted in as new members of the club.

The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church held their monthly meeting Thursday night at the church parlors. An interesting program on Islam was given and about thirty ladies enjoyed the light refreshments served.

Mrs. Herman Deiss and Mrs. A. B. Colwell entertained at bridge Tuesday afternoon at the country home. Delicious refreshments were served to the following guests: Mrs. Leonard Smith, Booth, Buick, Durall, Hain, Heinecke, Leslie, Easley, Hance, DeSatty, H. A. Reed, Hoop, Matweli, Spafford, Wiles, Ostrander, Greenough, H. MOTHERS GO TO SCHOOL TO LEARN DRESSMAKING

A surprisingly large number of women in Philadelphia, as in other big cities, do not know how to make dresses or trim hats. One of the activities which Community Service has started in the Philadelphia metropolis is a series of night classes where women can learn these things together with other domestic arts.

The women meet in a public school at six o'clock and receive pupils and study the blackboard a great help in the study of patterns.

Simple garments for the children form the first objects of study for the beginners. With a little girl as model, with the blackboard pattern, a tape measure and an efficient teacher, the class making progress.

So far the way to cut out a "shoulder" shaped bodice in relief when the first demonstration ended, never could make "em come together right under the arm."

"And that's a button-hole, is it?" said another. "Well, it isn't ever better no again, for sure."

It looks as though any number of Philadelphia children were going to be dressed more inexpensively and more prettily—and more easily—than ever before.

Mrs. Beatrice Ostrander was hostess to an after theatre party Wednesday night for several of the younger set. After dancing a delicious dinner was served.

The Wednesday Bridge club was entertained by Mrs. Harry A. Jacobs at her home in the Rex Arms apartment. Bride was enjoyed all afternoon and later a lively lunch was served to the following guests: Mrs. Wain, Sellman, Groom, White, Roid, Hagan, Marshall, Chapman, Passer, and McAvier.

Mrs. Larson was very pleasantly surprised at her home on Thursday afternoon by the ladies of the Penelope club, who brought delicious refreshments with them and a very enjoyable time was spent socially all afternoon. The members present were Mrs. Bowles, Patrick, Dickerson, Fair, Asbury, Harvey and Larson.

Mrs. Barger entertained the Hoover Bridge club Wednesday at a one o'clock luncheon, after which cards were played during the afternoon.

DAVIS URGES ALERT WATCH ON THE REDS

Letter to Prosecuting Attorney Stephan Asmussen Support of Legal Moves

Calling for prosecution of all cases falling under the original radicalism law and assuring of his hearty support, Governor D. W. Davis in a letter to Prosecuting Attorney Stephan Asmussen yesterday urged a vigorous dealing with the issue wherever found.

In his letter the governor pointed out the necessity for a stern and unflinching attack upon the menace throughout the state also called attention to the means provided for fighting the situation. He emphasized the necessity and backing to any such attack opponents to law and order.

THE PUBLIC DEMANDS FAIR PLAY

Some of the miners' representatives have said lately, with truth, satisfaction, that public sentiment seemed to be turning in their favor. This is not exactly true. What has happened is this:

The public was so offended and resentful at the incident of the miners, when they learned of their strike in defiance of public welfare, that it was united to demand any justice whatever in their claims. When the union officials yielded to national opinion and a court order, and called off the strike as a preliminary to some negotiation, the public naturally turned its hostility and set about to give serious consideration to the miners' side. At the same time the public looked to the mine operators to take fair with the miners, to attempt some plan whereby the mines would be operated and coal supplied to the people.

The righteousness or wrongness of the demands of the miners and the granting or refusal of those demands by the operators are not questions for discussion now, and the government has not been asked to intervene in the matter. These matters can and will be settled when the miners are working, whether under control of the operators or under the control of the army of the United States. Anything that prevents the production of coal at this critical time is not good faith, and it will not get very far with the general public. If the miners and the coal operators want fair play, they must play fair now.

It should be said that the behavior of the miners since the technical revoking of the strike order has not been such as to win them any great amount of public good will or confidence. Most of the miners have refused to go back to work, and still refuse. The order calling off the strike is placed a dead letter. For practical purposes, the miners are still on strike, defying the government, the courts and the nation. The coal supply is dwindling. The situation is ominous. The miners appear to be persevering in the aim they had when they walked out—to club the country into submission, and get what they want by force. And that is bad faith. It will not work.

THAT DULL, HARD WORK

The father of Theodore Roosevelt, says Daniel Sullivan in Good Health, took him, when he was nine years old, into a room which had been turned into a gymnasium, and told him he had brains, but that he would find brains comparatively useless without a body.

"You have got to make your body," he said, "and if you see you to make it, it's dull, hard work, but you can do it."

This dull, hard work the boy carried on faithfully day by day, practically recreating his body. He changed himself from the weak, puny, asthmatic lad of his early years into the vigorous, powerful man familiar to all Americans.

He took daily exercise, with or without a teacher. He held whatever kind of exercise was possible to the life he was living at the time, whether he liked that kind or not. He never became expert in sports, but he kept at them and made them yield him both health and enjoyment.

There is hope here not only for the wounded soldier who must train his body to new ways in this "dull, hard work," but for those who have come to adult years feebler than their fellows. Grit, determination, perseverance and the ability to stand being laughed at are all part of the necessary equipment. Given them, there is no one who cannot add strength to his body and zest to his existence.

ANCIENT PROFITEERING

Any age is prone to fancy that its own problems are new. Take profiteering, for example, and the "middleman" problem. One might suppose, from most current discussions, that such evils had never been heard of before.

Well, when the Great Wall of China now fallen to decay was new, its builder, Ching-shan, was complaining: "Intermediate agents are exacting from the people a greater share for their non-productive occupation than the producer is given for his labor, more than the title of the priest, and still more than the All-High One ever demanded as payment for eternal life."

The Jewish prophets were always roasting profiteers.

The old Roman emperors tried fixing the price of wheat. The Old Testament laws how Elishah, with an order from the Lord, set the price of flour.

Thousands of years ago, as the Talmud tells, the Hebrew authorities forbade any merchant to make a profit of more than one-third of the cost price.

Nothing new under the sun!

"Automobiles are vehicles of interstate commerce," remarks the New York World, praising the new federal law against automobile theft. Quite so! And when will the Interstate Commerce Commission begin regulating them?

I contacted her. I-I wouldn't have it. She was acting in good faith whatever she did. Perhaps he had convinced her that the diamonds were...

I addressed this to Billy at his office, found a receipt paper for a check delivery, and didn't know how to mail it. I found it ready when George sprang forward to help me.

I was obliged to spin some sort of a plausible yarn to save appearances, and when I handed him my letter with the dime and begged him to mail it for me I knew it was saved. But I never got a letter from him again.

It was not long after ten and there was nothing for me to do but wait until the postman came. I was obliged to spin some sort of a plausible yarn to save appearances, and when I handed him my letter with the dime and begged him to mail it for me I knew it was saved.

Many Men Are Thinking of Fall Overcoats

We have been thinking of them for six months. The first of them are here and ready to wear away. They are very smart and men of fashion will be glad to come in and to see the new sweep of their lines. Mostly in soft mixtures, with prices going from $30.00 to $60.00.

After All It Is Best To Have a 1919 Soft Hat

A soft hat is mighty comfortable and highly stylish these nice Fall days. You should see the new Velours we are showing as something extra nice. Colors are light tan, brown and black. Prices are $10.00 and $12.50.

Men's Furnishings That Men Like

For Thanksgiving you will want an extra shirt, tie, or perhaps gloves. The ones we show as correct are leaders in their fields. Shirts that are built, not "slung" together, making them set just right. The new colorings from Emery are here. Ties that are distinctive in pattern and style and that will knot right are our own makes. Then when we mention gloves everybody knows that they are correct and will wear.

Women Who Delight in Things Fashionable Will Revel in This Showing of Evening Gowns.

DRESSES of this type are usually found only in the most exclusive shops and at considerably higher prices. They were made by one of the finest dressmakers in this country, a man who is not only a maker of dresses, but a maker of modes. The materials, the workmanship, the great care used in the draping and in the small details of finishing, all mark these as dresses of high caste.

They are of the popular materials including charmeuse, chiffon, taffeta, silk net, mo-line—all-over lace drapes, silver bandings being used and beadings. One in particular is a black charmeuse trimmed with wide silver banding and fetchingly made in a style that is sure to be approved. A very pretty dress. Colors in this lot include pale pink, blue, yellow, old rose, purple, green and black. They are evening dresses of dignity and beauty and are shown here knowing that the women of this community will realize that they are unusual and will appreciate this effort to give to them something that is really out of the ordinary in style and beauty. The Thanksgiving events will call for something new and different to be worn, and this group of gowns comes at an opportune time to enable you to dress becomingly yet with a modest expenditure of money. These gowns will be on display beginning tomorrow, in our ready to wear department and a few will be shown in our large front window. Prices are very moderate for this merchandise, ranging from

A Tip-Toe for Gayety
$8.50 to $11.00

For the coming dance and party events, smart, stylish, easy fitting and good slippers will be wanted. That this store is well prepared to supply your needs in this line is evidence by the number of women who are being fitted each day in good shoes. Slippers in patent leather, of soft kid, in black and white. All styles that are new and shapely and in lasts that are comfortable yet stylish. Our advice is to shop early so that you can receive careful attention.

The Call of Parties and Dances Is Here and Suitable Wraps Are Needed

To go with that pretty and new evening gown, these new wraps will meet with instant approval. Wraps that you can wear gracefully and with a sense of being well dressed are shown in this progressive store. These wraps are usually shown in larger places, but in keeping with the policy of getting the newest first, we have ordered these from our New York buyer. You will like the new styles that have come in recently.

DRESS FORM WORK PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Country Women Finish 500 Dress Forms During the Past Year

Two hundred dress forms have been made in Twin Falls county during the last year according to the annual report of the home demonstration agent of the farm bureau. At the price which dress forms are today this has saved the women at least $2,000. Besides these forms can be used with greater accuracy than the commercial ones for a time is fitted to each woman which is afterwards stuffed.

This work is being carried into the program of work in every county of the farm bureau. It is the aim in this that every woman shall have the opportunity to make one; if interested and that the sewing problem should be materially lightened by eliminating the "taking off and trying on" problem. Since farm bureau work is free everyone the busy cost of these forms of the two and one-half yards of ticking and a little satin lining which it takes to make them. Reports are constantly coming in of the value of these forms to the dressmakers. From Marion they tell us they are using the dress forms even to make their own kitchen aprons and find that the use of them saves time and labor.

Ludendorff Bemoans Lack of Statesmen

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A plea for statesmen like those of France and Great Britain to lead Germany out of her troubles was made by General Ludendorff in an interview with Fred O. Roberts which was described in the Daily Express today. Mr. Roberts was a war prisoner at Halberstadt for 15 years and the tale which Ludendorff was obtained at Charlottenberg.

"There will be no future for Germany if Matthias Erzberger and his clique are allowed to mislead the country much longer," said Ludendorff. "Of the two evils—the Spartacists and the moderates—it is hard to say which is the lesser. Personally, I respect the Spartacists for they are fighting for an ideal, while the moderates are a bunch of job hunting opportunists."

"All Germany has done since the armistice was signed has been to make concessions to labor and sign the peace document which was an abominable document as ever was penned. If we had statesmen like Lloyd George or Clemenceau things certainly would look brighter for Germany."

If you don't want what you have or haven't what you want, use a little time and get it.

Failure to Ratify Is Called Backward Step

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—A step, backward in human progress was the way Maximilian Harden, famous German editor, today described the failure of the American senate to ratify the peace treaty.

"The defeat of the peace treaty means defeat of the league of nations for Europe would be impossible without it," declared Herr Harden. "Many Germans may falsely jump to the conclusion that rejection of the treaty by the United States will be favorable to Germany. I can assure you that America will firmly stand on the side of the allies. It would be very difficult to secure a separate peace between Germany and the United States."

"The thing that stands out is that Germany's action is a faithful debt to President Wilson. I cannot understand how President Wilson involved himself in this estimate of the American people's view."

Women Threaten to Revive Militancy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The militant suffragists threaten to picket Chairman Will H. Hays of the Republican national committee, and Chairman Homer S. Cummings of the Democratic national committee, if ratification of the suffrage amendment is not hastened. Plans for such campaigns were being laid here today.

State governors who have been delinquent in calling legislatures into special session to pass on the amendment also will have pickets after them unless they get busy at once. It was announced today at the headquarters of the National Woman's party.

The organization, it was stated, may be compelled to revive militant methods that obtained the passage of the amendment to secure its ratification.

VALUE OF OUR RE-EXPORTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—If exports of foreign merchandise, that is, the re-exports from the United States, continue in the end of 1919 at the rate shown for the first eight months, the total for the calendar year of 1919 will be $3,000,000,000 more than four times their value in 1914.
