MEXICO RAISES NEW ISSUES IN JENKINS CASE

Feeling in Washington is That Two Nations Are Very Near Open Rupture and War

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The charge of the Mexican government that Consul Agent William D. Jenkins had signed contradictory statements, raises new issues, according to Secretary of State Lansing today, and owing to the gravity of the situation, this must be fully investigated before any further step in the matter is taken by the United States government.

The delay which this investigation now causes is due solely to the American government's feeling that the situation is one of such gravity that nothing, however trivial it appears, should be left undone to arrive at the rock bottom truth.

The American government will make a preliminary report on Mexico for all the papers in the Jenkins case and will make an exhaustive study of them, preliminary to the granting of the visa agents, as was learned at the state department this afternoon.

The next step after investigation is to make a preliminary report on Mexico for all the papers in the Jenkins case and will make an exhaustive study of them, preliminary to the granting of the visa agents, as was learned at the state department this afternoon.

What the situation is grave is not concealed there by a government official. There is still a chance, they feel, that Mexico may come through this crisis without a change of attitude, but everything strong pressure is being put upon Mexico to force her to give up there is a possibility of serious deterioration in the relations of the two nations.

COAL COMPANY NEGLECTS TO FILE REPORTS

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—U. S. District Attorney Clyde Tolson filed suit today against the Illinois Coal Company for failing to file a $5,000,000 report showing the cost of production of coal in the state.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The federal government has appointed a commission to investigate the cause of the recent coal shortage in the United States.

LACK OF COAL IN MIDDLE WEST SERIOUS MENACE

Zero Weather and Winding Fuel Supply Certain to Result in Great Suffering

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—With near zero weather gripping the western states, reserve coal supplies becoming rapidly exhausted, several cities report not only a day's supply of coal on hand, the coal situation throughout the central and western states, as viewed with alarm.

In Kansas the situation is said to be most serious. In several cities the public schools have been ordered closed because of lack of fuel, and homes are being heated to the utmost degree until the shortage is relieved. In order to protect the citizens of Kansas from "unpredictable" weather Governor Allen has ordered state coal diggers by volunteers probably Tuesday. Already several hundred persons have offered their services, including two hundred members of the American Legion.

Governor Allen said he expects 5,000 men to volunteer to dig coal. Thomas C. Hardy, secretary of the United Mine Workers in Kansas, said these volunteer coal diggers would be classed as strike breakers. Governor Allen after declaring the volunteers are in no sense strike breakers, but "men ready to serve the state in a crisis," said the state has brought to the point of using its power to protect the people whose suffering will be unexampled unless relief is afforded.

In Missouri, schools, theaters and all other places of amusement will be closed under an order issued by the state fuel administrator and effective next Sunday. The state is in the grip of a cold wave with sleet and snow storms general throughout the state.

Governor Gardner of Missouri is today working on plans for a meeting of the governors of all the coal producing states to consider means of getting coal mined. It is the intention to have a meeting at the meeting in St. Louis, Chicago or Indianapolis.

From Colorado and Wyoming come reports of an ever increasing coal shortage although to date there has been no actual suffering reported in either state.

Colorado faces a serious problem in the transportation of available coal. Snow storms which began yesterday and have been general in this state are continuing today with the result that rail transportation is being seriously interfered with. Passenger trains are running hours behind schedule and the weather bureau promises continued snow. Colorado and Wyoming also face great loss in cattle herds on the open plains.

In Illinois the coal situation is described as "serious." The shutting down of a majority of the large manufacturing plants in the state and the further curtailment of train service appears inevitable.

M. J. Gormley, assistant director of the northwest region today declared he would "not lend a kerosene to the effect of a leased production."

Several large industrial plants in Chicago with but a few days' coal supply on hand are expected to close down within a week, while plants in the rural districts which have felt the pinch of the shortage acutely may be forced to close immediately, it was said.

William Delany Couldn't Leave House in Months

"Not in years have I enjoyed such good health or felt so well generally. I do since taking Tania," said William Delany, a well known member of the city street department, and who lives at 427 Fairview Ave. N. E., Seattle, Wash., while talking to a Tania representative the other day.

"Yes, Mr. Tania will do the work all right," continued Mr. Delany, "and it is the only medicine I have ever run across that will do just what they say it will do. I was in bed for half a year when I commenced taking it. In fact, I had been confined to my house for about four months, and Tania put me on my feet, and to where I can put in full time at my work every day in the week. I had some trouble and irritation in the stomach and in the bowels. I am disagreed with the gas would form after meals, and I would have the worst sort of cramps, but Tania put me on my feet, and I had gotten in the main, where I dreaded to eat at all, and I never thought of such a thing as taking meals or anything like that. In addition to the stomach trouble, I had rheumatism all over my body. This was worse in my arms and legs than anywhere else, and I finally got to where I was hardly able to get about at all. Then my nerves went back on me and I never got a good night's sleep."

"Then I heard about Tania, and as it seemed to be helping so many people who suffered as I did I thought I would give it a trial. Well, here it just seemed that this medicine was made especially for my case for I commenced to improve right away, and now my troubles are all gone and I am enjoying my life more than I have in years. I have a fine appetite and can eat just anything I want and as much as I want, and I never suffer a particle afterwards, and am not bothered at all with gas forming on my stomach after meals. I have gained in weight, and I sleep like a log every night. The rheumatism has left me, too, and I can get about as well as I ever could, and put in full time at my work. In fact, I feel like a different man in every way, and I give Tania credit for it all."

Tania is now sold in Twin Falls by C. B. Pharmacy, in Burroughs by Hartman's Drug Co. in Elletts by A. B. Wood, in Bull by C. D. Boring Drug Co. and in Kimberly by W. A. L. Stone—Adv.

MAKING PLANS TO SELL RED CROSS SEALS

Field Secretary Here to Mature Arrangements for Coming Campaign

The drive for Red Cross seals will be started soon according to M. S. Parker, field secretary for the Idaho anti-tuberculosis association, who is in the city for the purpose of starting the Christmas seal campaign.

While here he will arrange for seal-sellers who will canvass every district in the city and county to raise money to combat the disease.

Mr. Parker states that tuberculosis while being held in check somewhat, is still too prevalent and if a large amount is raised through the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals a big step will be taken in holding out the plague.

Mr. Parker stated that the army regulations on account of ineffectual or advanced tuberculosis should be a warning to the people not to let the disease get more widely spread than at present.

This battered the minimum temperature mark of Wednesday night, five below, and was the coldest temperature recorded. Under the circumstances the cool situation is seeming more and more important in the scheme of things for the plain people.
